Peterborough Man Dies From Injuries In Fight

M. Frank Heffernan's Body Found In Car, Condon Charged With Manslaughter

By JIM ENGLISH

An old grudge was said today to blame for the fight at midnight that ended in the death of 37-year-old Michael Frank Heffernan, 207 Stewart St. Charged with manslaughter is Leonard Condon, 22, of R.R. 4, Peterborough, one of five men who was present when the fight occurred. Details of a statement Condon made to police today have not been released. Heffernan, who has a wife and two daughters, would have celebrated his 10th wedding anniversary on Wednesday. He had gone to the McGillis Hotel alone, his wife said, just to have a couple of beers. What happened between 8.30 p.m. Monday, when Heffernan left the house, until midnight when the fight took place, is not known.

Although nothing in the statement has been made public, Police Chief John Thompson described the fight as "a drunken brawl."

Gordon H. T. Farquharson, retained to defend Condon, said he expected the accused man would be released on bail, but did not know what the amount of bail would be. Condon was scheduled to appear in court at 3:30 p.m.

Police received a telephone call from the Churchill restaurant at 12.30 a.m. saying there was an injured man in a car. Patrol Sgt. Gordon Trennum and Constables Dennis Traynor and Jack Wilson responded and near the restaurant saw three men standing by a car.

MEN IDENTIFIED

These men were identified as Condon, Frank Moher and Charles Condon, the latter two of R. R. 4, Lakefield.

One of the men said: "He is in the back seat."

Constable Traynor said he looked in the back seat and saw a man lying there with blood all over his clothes. The officer felt the man's pulse and could detect none. He shone his flashlight in the man's eyes and saw no reaction.

FOUND BODY

On the way to Civic Hospital, the three told the officers they found Heffernan's body at the rear of the hotel. They put it in the car and tried unsuccessfully to find a doctor. None of them knew Heffernan, the men told Constable Traynor.

Dr. Herbert N. Young, coroner, was called to the hospital. He examined Heffernan and said the man had been dead some time before he was brought to the Civic.

The two Condons and Moher were taken to police headquarters from the hospital. Det.-Sgt. W. E. Clarke and Det. Douglas Farthing questioned them. Charles Condon and Moher were later released.

RESULTS NOT RELEASED

An autopsy was conducted this morning by Dr. C. B. Waite, district provincial pathologist. Results of it will not be released until the preliminary hearing. It is believed, however, that no weapon

Girl Drowns At Marmora Over Holiday

Police Believe Lois Bedore Died Victim of Fit

MARMORA —(ENS)— Believed to have been the victim of an epileptic fit, 19-year-old Lois Bedore of Marmora drowned Sunday night while swimming in Crowe River, a quarter of a mile south of the village.

Coroner Dr. Samuel Eagleson of Marmora said today there will be no inquest. A Marmora man was taken into custody for temporary questioning but Chief Constable Bertram Lounsbury said it was only routine and the man was released shortly afterwards.

The body was recovered at 10.05 p.m. Monday some 27 hours after dragging first began. Volunteers under the direction of Chief Lounsbury and O.P.P. Corporal Jack Hatch manned boats and probed the river with grappling hooks to find the body.

When darkness came Sunday night lights were used so the dragging could resume. Operations discontinued late at night but resumed at daybreak Monday. Rough water caused the search to again be discontinued Monday afternoon but it was started again at night.

BODY ON ROCK LEDGE

A boat occupied by three volunteers—Jack Hickey, Joseph Darrah and Lorne Gawley—about 10.05 p.m. located the body on a flat ledge of rock in 10 feet of water.

An airplane also assisted in the search.

Lois was said to be an unusually good swimmer and coached a number of young children in that sport. Though of strong physique she was subject to epileptic seizures and one of them is believed to have caused the fatal accident.

Her death is the third fatality since spring in the family. Lois' father, Wilbert Bedore, and her grandfather Thomas E. Potts, a hotel proprietor, died within 12 hours of each other.

Lois was educated at Marmora Public School, Marmora High School, and later attended Madoc High School for a short while. She was a member of St. Andrew's United Church and at one time was a member of the Junior Choir.

Her favorite hobby was swimming.

MICHAEL FRANK HEFFERNAN, 37, Stewart St., died after a fight in the McGillis Hotel Monday night and Leonard Condon, 22, R.R. 4, Peterborough, is being held on a manslaughter charge.

Pursuing Coast Guard Vessel Captures Home-Made Raft Attempting Runaway

MARSEILLE, France, (Reuters)—A pursuing coast guard vessel yesterday captured and towed to port the home-made raft Ken-Tooki on which five young men and a girl were attempting a runaway voyage across the Mediterranean.

The raft was placed under guard at La Ciotat, 15 miles east of here, and the crew members were questioned by maritime police.

The young sailors, defying a ban imposed by Marseille port authorities who last month declared the raft unseaworthy and a menace to shipping, had slipped out to sea under sail shortly after midnight and had a 10-hour start before the coast guard organized pursuit.

Launches sped out from the harbor and shipping was warned to be on the lookout for the clumsy craft, 27 feet long and 14 feet wide and buoyed up by barrels filled with thousands of ping-pong balls.

The capture apparently puts the final damper on the Ken-Tooki venture after a summer of mishaps, delays and discouragements suffered by the skipper, Richard Miller, 28, of Chicago. He had planned a leisurely voyage to Africa "to see how people on a raft get along together."

Storm Wrecks U.S. Air Base

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Carswell air force base was a shambles today after a windstorm last night took a multi-million-dollar swipe at the long-range aerial striking power of the United States. One $3,000,000 B-36 boomber was destroyed, six others received major damage and several others were damaged to an undetermined extent. Two airmen were slightly injured. A civilian, Mrs. W. C. Connor, 44, was killed when her automobile was struck by a signboard blown down by the storm, and 10 other civilians in the vicinity were reported hurt. Maj.-Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, estimated damage to planes at the base at 25 per cent. General Anderson's estimate scaled down a former estimate of 80 per cent.

PLANT DAMAGED

The B-36, which has been called America's "atom bomb carrier," is the air force's largest, longest-ranging bomber in service and was designed to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs on a 10,000-mile mission.

Also damaged by the 90-mile-an-hour winds was the nearby plant of consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, which manufactures the six-engined B-36s.

Aircraft plant officials said power was disrupted and extensive damage done to service docks at which the big planes are serviced.

FLOOD HITS TOWN

Damage estimated at $500,000 resulted from a sudden flood which struck the small town of Ellicott City, Md., outside Baltimore. The town's main street was littered with broken store fronts, wrecked automobiles and water-logged merchandise as Tiber Creek raged through the business and residential sections. Several persons were forced to flee.

Heavy damage was reported yesterday in areas around Baltimore, Washington, and parts of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, all hit by the tail end of the season's first hurricane. The hurricane earlier had battered the Carolina coasts.

Smash Red Spy Network Operating In Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German authorities announced today the smashing of a Communist spy network for East Germany's Red regime with the arrest of three alleged ringleaders, including a Frankfurt city assembly man. Police said the ring had agents in the big industrial centres of the Ruhr and had tried to gain entrance to the federal defence commission here which is making plans for West Germany's rearmament.

ARRESTED AS LEADER

The federal office for defence of the constitution said the Red network had headquarters at Frankfurt in an office whose ostensible purpos was to work for improvd Wst Germany.

Arrested as leader of this office was Ludwig Weisz, an East German Communist described by police as "a brilliant industrial expert of the Russian zone government."

Then police seized Johann Kraus, Communist member of the Frankfurt city assembly, whom they accused of being a middleman between the agents and the east zone government.

Charges Ike Boosts Danger

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP) —President Truman openly accused the Eisenhower command today of increasing the risk of atomic war by "talking loosely about liberating the enslaved peoples of eastern Europe."

He said that John Foster Dulles and other "masterminds" of the Eisenhower campaign are playing "cruel, gutter politics with the lives of countless good men and women behind the Iron Curtain."

"It is not an easy thing for me to see their respected candidate—who knows better—being used as a spokesman for selfish politicians who will say anything they think will help them to power.

"Surely the Republican candidate must know the Iron Curtain and the Kremlin walls will not come tumbling down from a few blasts on a campaign trumpet."

Truman didn't mention Dulles by name in his foreign policy talk to a railroad station crowd at Parkersburg, West. Va., identifying him only as a Republican "who helped in the formulation of foreign policy."

2nd Hurricane Now On Way

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Winds up to 138 miles an hour were reported today by a navy aerologist aboard a plane checking the position of the season's second tropical hurricane.

The plane estimated the centre of the growing tropical disturbance as near latitude 23 north and longitude 63 west and said it was moving northwest at about 15 miles an hour.

"It's a good sized hurricane right now," said Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami weather bureau.

"It may turn out to be a pretty good one."

Norton emphasized that the high winds reported were estimated by an observer in a plane who registered them during brief squalls in the northern quandrant.

The hurricane offered no immediate threat to any land area and was about 1,300 miles east southeast of the Florida coast.

It developed rapidly yesterday and by nightfall had grown into a full-fledged hurricane. Its position was about 200 miles southeast of where the first hurricane was spawned just a week earlier.

The first hurricane which battered the South Carolina coast Saturday night before lashing North Carolina and Virginia with heavy rains, brought a flash flood to Ellicott City, Md., on the outskirts of Baltimore.

No Election Before July

CALGARY (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said yesterday there won't be any Canadian federal election before the coronation of Queen Elizabeth next summer.

The Prime Minister, en route to British Columbia on a speaking tour, said in an interview that an election would have to be held before or after the coronation

He added that before the coronation the government would be "tied up" with parliament.

"There is always the possibility of an election but the probability is another thing," he added "It will have to be within the next two years, unless we get into a war—and I don't think that is likely."

US Death Toll 500 For Holiday Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 500 persons lost their lives in accidents in the United States over the Labor Day holiday, but the toll was far below the record of 658 a year ago.

The death toll for the holiday, the last long weekend of the summer season, was 524.

Accidents on the highways, as usual, took the heaviest toll, with 403 killed in traffic mishaps. Fifty-two persons were drowned and 69 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents.

The traffic total compared with last year's record 461 deaths. It was below the 480 deaths estimated for the three-day holiday by the National Safety Council.

The accident toll covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday (local time).

Charge Office Manager With "Perfect Murder"

BALTIMORE (AP)—Authorities, who claim they have stripped the accident masquerade costume off a brutal killing, Sunday charged a quiet office manager with the "perfect murder" of his Sunday School teacher wife.

The plot that police said led to the death of 33-year-old Dorothy May Grammer, the mother of three, involved a scheme so engineered that the woman appeared to have died in a traffic accident—actually witnessed by two Baltimore policemen.

G. Edward Grammer and the woman he is accused of beating to death seem strangely out of character in the story unfolded on a Baltimore police docket.

She is described by neighbors in the New York apartment community where she lived as a "sweet, nice person."

Grammer, who sometimes served as an usher in the Methodist church they attended, is described as a "quiet man" by his neighbors.

Her body was found in an overturned car Aug. 20 near Towson, Md., where the couple had been living since the recent death of her father.

Two policemen saw the car careen wildly down the hill, the engine roaring at full throttle. The wheels of the car were still spinning when they removed the woman's body.

It appeared to be a routine highway tragedy, brought on by too much speed and poor control.

Yet the woman's battered body didn't seem to match up with the moderately-damaged condition of car in the view of police.

Nazi Spy Escapes While Visiting Dentist

LENZBURG, Switzerland (Reuters)—Swiss authorities launched a country-wide hunt today for a Second World War German spy who leaped to freedom from a dentist's chair.

Newspapers and radio stations circulated a description of life-term prisoner Camille Buchmann, 54, believed headed for the nearby German or French frontier.

The German, trapped as an espionage agent on the Swiss border in 1945, was taken by a guard to a local dentist's office yesterday afternoon.

British Airman Swims Channel

DOVER, England (Reuters)—Philip Mickman, 21-year-old British airman, during the night became the sixth person to swim the English Channel this summer.

His coach reported today that he made the crossing from England to France in 18 hours, 44 minutes. It was his second attempt this season—he was forced to quit within one-half mile of the French coast last month.

Mickman also swam the channel from France to England in 1949.

Though his crossing was made in choppy seas, Mickman was so fresh when he reached the deserted French shore that he went back into the water and swam a quarter of a mile out to board the boat which took him back to England.

Mickman is the 72nd person on record to swim the channel.

Gold - Dollar Reserves Slump Anew In UK

LONDON (AP)—The vital gold and dollar reserves of Britain and its sterling area partners slumped $44,000,000 during August, the treasury announced today.

The decline dropped the reserve to $1,672,000,000, well under the $2,000,000,000 regarded by the treasury as the minimum for safety.

The reserves are the entire capital of the sterling area for trade with countries such as the United States and Canada which requires dollars for payment of goods.

The treasury said the cut in the reserves occurred despite the receipt of $45,000,000 in the form of defence aid from the U.S. during August.

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Seven members of two Peterborough families were taken to London hospitals early today after an accident on No. 2 highway near Wardsville.

Treated at Victoria hospital were Ernest Killingbeck, who suffered a cut right ear, and his son Donald 14, suffering shock. Mrs. Killingbeck and another son, Thomas, three and a half were treated for cuts at St. Joseph's hospital.

The second family was admitted to Victoria for x-rays. They are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kenney and daughter, Edna May 12. Mr. Kenney suffered head injuries, his wife chest and leg injuries and the daughter, head injuries.

Hates School Girl Suicides

WELLAND (CP).—Thirteen-year-old Mildred Little fatally shot herself today because she didn't want to return to school.

Oscar Little, having breakfast at his home in nearby Crowland township, heard a scream from his shed. He kicked open the door and saw his daughter crumpled on the floor. Nearby lay a .22-calibre rifle, used by her brother for hunting.

The girl, bleeding from a chest wound, was dead on arrival at hospital here.

Her father said Mildred had been brooding over having to return to school from her summer holidays. He could ascribe no other motive.

Acting coroner Dr. A. L. Purdon issued a certificate of death by suicide.

Welland—add girl shot x suicide.

Mrs. Little said Mildred failed at school last year and was going back to grade six.

"I think there is more to it than we know about," Mrs. Little added. "She had complained several times about other children teasing her at school."

"She hated school because she wasn't getting along with some of her schoolmates."

Police were trying to locate the girl's stepbrother, Cecil Little, who was married Saturday and is honeymooning in the North Bay area.

UK Trades Union Congress Rejects 2 Resolutions For Cut In Arms Program

MARGATE, England (Reuters)—The Trades Union Congress representing more than 8,000,000 workers, today overwhelmingly rejected two left-wing resolutions calling for a reduction of the country's rearmament program. A move by followers of Aneurin Bevan, rebel leftist leader, to criticize the size of the government's defence program, was also heavily defeated. One of the resolutions, backed by Communist members, called for a five-power meeting, a ban on German and Japanese rearmament and progressive reduction of arms. The other called for arms reduction and prohibition of atomic and germ warfare.

The vote against the first resolution was 6,041,000 to 1,887,000 with each of the 900 delegates voting on behalf of the entire membership of his union.

APPROVE PROGRAM

After the left-wing resolutions had been disposed of, the convention adopted by a 5,587,000 to 1,450,000 vote a report by the T. U. C. general council approving Britain's program.

Leaders of the T. U. C. supported the government program, telling delegates to ignore the leftists and what Secretary-General Sir Vincent Tewson called the "clamor of some politicians."

Opening the congress' debate on rearmament and foreign affairs, he said the T. U. C. should take a definite stand on the subject.

Nothing has happened during the last year, he said, to change full union support of rearmament "along the difficult but resolute trek to peace."

He asked the 930 delegates from 183 unions to back the general council's stand that "the greatest possible measure of rearmament must be carried out within the limits of our power to find the means."

Communists and followers of Aneurin Bevan, Labor left-winger, are opposing the council's views.

ATTACK EISENHOWER

Two of them replied to Tewson obliquely, by attacking Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

An engineering delegate said: "Eisenhower and his like refused general disarmament because they want a counter-revolutionary war against the Soviet Union."

John Horner, leader of the Firemen's Union and a Communist party executive, said Eisenhower had refused to negotiate with Russia till certain countries had been returned to the free world.

"This was a mad, bombastic, suicidal declaration of war," said Horner.

RAPS DEFENCE SPENDING

Jack Stanley, a constructional engineering delegate, said that there was unemployment and hardship in Britain because the country was spending half its income on defence.

The congress earlier made its first united attack on the government by calling for abolition of all new charges in the socialized medical service.

Charges for medical prescriptions and dental and other services were introduced by Prime Minister Churchill's administration earlier this year in a move to economize on the hitherto "free" health services.

Youth Missing On Lake Swim

LONG POINT BEACH (CP)—Virgil Sayer, 24-year-old Olympic swimmer from Erie, Pa., who set out from here yesterday morning in an attempt to cross Lake Erie on a surf board, is missing and the United States Coast Guard has launched a search.

Sayer told spectators at this Lake Erie resort area that he thought lake currents and the wind would carry him to Erie in 12 or 16 hours. He had not been seen or heard from for more than 28 hours after he left.

The surf board, less than 10 feet long, is not powered and Sayer had neither paddles nor a life jacket.

Say Field Marshal Slim Aussie Governor-General

LONDON (AP)—Official sources said today the Queen will name the 61-year-old chief of the imperial general staff, Field Marshal Sir William Slim, as Governor-General of Australia.

The country's top-ranking soldier who commanded Britain's 14th Army in Burma during the Second World War will succeed Sir William McKell as the Queen's personal representative in Australia.

The outspoken Slim will take up his new assignment in the fall. He will be succeeded as chief of the imperial staff by Gen. Sir John Harding, who now commands British armed forces in Germany.

Slim served at Gallipoli, where thousands of Australians and New Zealanders lost their lives in the First World Wwar, and later spent 20 years in the Indian Army.

In the Second World war he was wounded while commanding an infantry brigade against the Italians in Eritrea. Later he led an Indian division into Iran to meet the Russians when the Soviets entered the war.

As commander of the 14th Army he had charge of the desperate retreat from the Japanese in Burma. But he and his famed army returned to push the Japanese back along the 1,000-mile line of retreat into the swamps and jungles of Burma.

Trenton Planes Joining Search

TRENTON (CP)—Two planes will take off from this air force base this afternoon to search for a United States amphibian craft missing between North Bay and London, the R. C. A. F. said.

A Dakota aircraft carrying spotters and a para-rescue group will cover the Collingwood area around Georgian Bay where a resident reported what he thought was a plane in trouble early today.

A Beechcraft Expediter with spotters aboard will search between Collingwood and London along the amphibian's flight plan.

Asked about reports that three Americans were aboard the missing craft, and R.C.A.F. spokesman said they had been informed only the pilot—Richard Hynes of North Olmstead, O.—was aboard.

US Planes Bomb Near Siberia

SEOUL (AP)—The U.S. Navy Monday followed up its massive bombing raids at Siberia's doorstep with smashing blows by air and sea at the big Korean port of Chongjin. The one-two smash, which carried the war to within view of Russian guards on the Siberia-Korean frontier, was by far the biggest all-navy show of the Korean war. Chongjin, largest port in all North Korea, lies 50 miles south of the southern tip of Siberia's maritime province.

Smoke still rose from a burning refinery near the Siberian border and from a frontier iron works farther west — plastered in morning navy strikes—when planes lifted from three U.S. carriers and headed for unsuspecting Chongjin.

Waves of planes from the carriers Princeton, Essex and Boxer roared over the port, unloading their bombs, rockets and bullets on an iron works, an electric plant and factories.

While ruin rained on Chongjin from the skies, the U.S. heavy cruiser Bremerton swung in from the sea and opened up on the port with its eight and five-inch guns.

The pilots who worked over Chongjin had carried out the daring raids in the morning on the synthetic oil refinery at Aoji, just eight miles west of the Siberian border, and on iron mine works and a hydrogen plant at Munsan, near the Manchurian - Korean border about 65 miles southwest of Aoji.

338 SORTIES

The navy said a record 338 sorties were hurled against the three targets, making it the largest navy air show of the war.

Navy dive bombers who set huge fires in the Aoji oil refinery could look down on Russian soil to the east. They reported they saw two MIG jets, possibly from the Soviet Air Force, flying about 10 miles north of the Siberian border.

In turn, Russian border guards could hear the explosions at Aoji clearly and see the great black plumes of oil smoke rising from the stricken refinery.

The Aoji and Munsan targets never had been hit before, although Chongjin has been raided. Vice-Almiral Clark, commander of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, said the Aoji strike was significant because of its proximity to the Siberian border.

Allied planes never had struck so close to Russian soil before. The closest previously was a Superfort raid on Rashin (Najin), 18 miles down the coast from the Siberian border, early in the war.

Abbott, Advisers Attend World Bank Parley Being Held In Mexico City

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott, accompanied by economic and financial advisers, left for Mexico City by air yesterday to represent Canada at new talks on world currency problems. The talks will be held at the 10-day annual meeting of the 53-country international monetary fund and world bank which opens in Mexico's capital Wednesday. As he took off by plane, Mr. Abbott declined to elaborate on Canada's plans for the conference, but stated:

"Canada, as in the past, will continue to support any measures which will increase convertibility of currencies and expand world trade."

In all likelihood, the big issues will be:

1. How to speed up sterling on the road to convertibility with the dollar.

2. Greater use of the fund's $8,000,000,000 capital jackpot in extending loans to countries facing currency scarcities, particularly dollar shortages.

3. Expansion of the fund's executive, with a possible boost of the number of executive directors from 14 to 16 as a result of the entry of Germany, Japan and several other countries to the fund's membership.

In addition to attendance at the fund's talks, Mr. Abbott likely will hold private conversations with Commonwealth finance ministers to help set the stage for the London economic conference next November.

Conciliation Board Named In CPR Dispute

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg has named a conciliation board to deal with a wage dispute between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its dining-car employees, Labor Department officials said today.

H. Carl Goldenberg of Montreal is board chairman. Nominee of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen (A.F.L.) is W. G. Currie, Regina, while that of the company is C.W. Rayfield of Montreal.

The dispute is chiefly over union demands of a 35-per-cent wage increase plus a wage escalator clause hooked to the cost-of-living index. The negotiations have been proceeding separately from those of the larger group of non-operating employees, those who do not work on the trains.

Man Drowns In Gull River

FENELON FALLS (Staff)—A Toronto man drowned in Gull River near Norland, 15 miles north of Fenelon Falls, at noon Monday, when he overbalanced in his boat and fell into the river and was swept over a small falls.

The body of William King, 45, Toronto, was found two hours later wedged under a log in the river.

King, a father of two children, was fishing with a friend, Ray Delaney, Toronto, on a weekend fishing trip. They had been anchored about 200 feet above a three-foot falls and decided to move closer to the falls.

BOAT SWUNG ROUND

They dropped anchor again, but the boat swung around almost on top of the falls and King, half crouching and half standing in the boat, attempted to pull up the anchor again.

The boat capsized, he plunged in and was swept over the falls. Delaney said he saw King swimming in the fairly strong current when he seemed to "stiffen out" and go under.

The body was recovered about 2 p.m. during dragging operations in 12 feet of water.

The two men, lifelong friends, had often holidayed in the district with their families, but this was the first time they had gone on a fishing trip alone.

was used, that a man's fist struck the fatal blow or blows.

The fight is said to have taken place on the parking lot halfway between the rear of the McGillis Hotel and King St. A narrow lane at the very rear of the hotel leads to the parking lot used by a chain store and the hotel.

Police have questioned closely the four men present with Heffernan at the fight. Name of the fourth man has not been revealed.

WANTED A DRINK

Mrs. Heffernan said today that she and her husband spent most of Monday at her mother's home in Douro township. They returned to Peterborough about 4.30 p.m., and about four hours later her husband said he was going to the McGillis to have a couple of beers.

"I told him to be back at 10:30, but 10:30 never came," said Mrs. Heffernan.

When 11 p.m. came, she said she was not too worried, but thought perhaps he has gone into a restaurant for a sandwich. About 1 a.m. two men, who were not police officers, came to the Heffernan's Stewart St. home and told Mrs. Heffernan her husband had been in a fight and was in hospital.

Immediately anxious, Mrs. Heffernan telephoned police, ambulances, and both hospital. Finally, at Civic Hospital, a nurse answered and said: "M. F. Heffernan? Just a moment please."

The Rev. Ray Garvey of St. Peter's Cathedral had been called to the hospital, and he spoke to Mrs. Heffernan, telling her the tragic news.

WORKED AT C.G.E.

Since 1950, Heffernan has been working in the structural steel department of the C.G.E. as a laborer. Previously, he worked in the separator division of the DeLaval Co.

H. Oscar Jameson, of the DeLaval's personnel department said: "I knew Frank quite well while he was here. He seemed like a quiet lad."

Heffernan was born and educated in Norwood, a son of Michael Heffernan and Teresa Garvey, R.R. 3, Norwood. He married the former Lilian O'Brien 10 years ago Wednesday, and they had two children, Marlene, 9, and Joan, 6.

Also surviving are three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Fergus Moher (Mary T.) of Peterborough, Mrs. William Torpey (Veronica) of Indian River, Mrs. Garry Belfry (Imelda) of Peterborough, William of Norwood and T. James of Ajax.

Funeral will be held from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Paul's Church, Norwood, and burial will be in St. Paul's Cemetery. Other arrangements are not yet complete.

Mrs. Arthur Mayne of Apsley received a small cut on her head Monday afternoon when a car driven by her husband ran almost headon into a car driven by Gordon Hulme of Montgomery St., Ottawa. The accident was on the Best-Coe Hill Road, 15 miles east of Apsley.

The Maynes were going east on the development road and were rounding a curve when they collided with the left front end of the westbound car driven by Hulme. Mrs. Mayne was thrown forward against the windshield but she did not require medical treatment.

Hulme's car received an estimated $300 damage and the Mayne car $250. O.P.P. Constable Bert Howden of Apsley investigated.

Moving the resolution, which was unanimously accepted, B. Cardew declared that the charges deterred people from going to the doctor, and he pointed out that 15 per cent fewer prescriptions had been issued in June.

"It is not a coincidence that the biggest drop should be in the county (Lancashire) which has suffered from the depression in the textile industry," he declared.

The main issue to be debated today is rearmament, when a bitter clash is expected between the official leaders, who will call on the congress to endorse the existing arms program, and the left-wing supporters of Labor rebel Aneurin Bevan, who want it cut.

UN Would Like Korean Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie said last night that public opinion in most of the United Nations would enthusiastically welcome a Korean armistice arranged approximately on the basis of present battle lines.

In his annual report to the U.N General Assembly which convenes here Oct. 14, Lie said repeated disappointments in the Korean truce negotiations had "given rise to impatience, resentment and doubt." Most of these reactions would disappear, he added, if the truce talks were successful.

Meanwhile, Ambassador Ernest A. Gross, deputy United States delegate to the U.N. predicted that the Korean conflict and truce negotiations would be one of the topics for discussion at the General Assembly meeting.

Begin Preparing Estimates Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal government departments soon will be asked to start preparing their estimates of expenditures for 1953-54.

The finance department, said an official, will send out a call to all departments "within the next few weeks" to start work on the estimates.

The call will go out earlier than usual because the regular 1953 session is due to start Nov. 20. The early start—sessions normally begin in January or February—was arranged to enable members to conclude the session in time for government members and others to attend the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, next June 2.

The government has yet to decide just when the estimates will be submitted to parliament, but the finance department plans to work on the assumption that the estimates will be wanted somewhat earlier than usual. Ordinarily they are tabled in February or March.

Korean Man Suing Australian Soldier

KURE, Japan (AP)—A Korean sued an Australian soldier and the Australian government for 2,000,000 yen (£5,500) for the death of his child, allegedly run over by the soldier's jeep, Kyodo news agency reported today.

A suit filed with the Kure district court by Ri Sho Sho, 46, also demanded that the court impound the salary of Cpl. Hanley pending court decision.

The suit said Ri's six-year-old son, Shun Ji, was run over and killed by Hanley's jeep July 30. Ri was chairman of the Kure chapter of a Communist Korean organization broken up in 1950 by the occupation because of terroristic activity, Kyodo said.

Eisenhower Calls Government Mess Of Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today cut loose at the Truman administration in earnest for the first time, calling it a mess of corruption and scandal that needs a wholesale clean-up.

"This Washington mess is not a one-agency mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess," the Republican presidential candidate said in an Atlanta, Ga., address opening a southern tour.

He said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches, and too long in power."

The address and the swing through the south emphasized the fact that today the 1952 presidential campaign officially was in full swing.

Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate was back in Springfield, "very well satisfied" with his Labor Day sweep through industrial centres of Michigan which formally opened his drive.

President Truman, who made his first major campaign speech in Milwaukee yesterday, also indicated he is satisfied with the Illinois governor's program so far. Truman headed for home with plans to make whistle-stop talks in West Virginia.

The vice-presidential candidates campaigned a continent apart—Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic nominee, in southern California and Senator Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican candidate, near the shores of Maine.

Stevenson yesterday delivered four speeches, mainly about labor and foreign policy. Highlight probably was his Detroit address in which he denounced the Taft-Hartley Act as "biased and politically inspired." He said the labor-control statute should be written off the books.

TRUMAN "SWINGING"

Truman began his swinging yesterday in his typical give-'em-hell style. He was interrupted 46 times at a rally in Milwaukee where he described Eisenhower as the "lonely, captive candidate" of Republican "special interests" trying to "hide behind a new face."

Sparkman launched his party's west-coast campaign in Nixon's home-town of Whittier, Calif., yesterday. He blasted at the Taft-Hartley Act as a "subtle attempt to sabotage union organization."

Nixon told a Boston press conference yesterday that Stevenson has "fallen hook, line and sinker for the line" of the C. I. O. leaders. He saw nothing in Stevenson's Labor Day address which C.I.O. bosses could not have approved.

Form Land Observer Corps To Scan Canadian Skies

By MAX McMAHON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. HUBERT, Que. (CP)—The Ground Observer Corps of the R.C.A.F., recruited from civilian volunteers to scan the skies for possible enemy aircraft, is getting ready to function all across Canada.

The corps is a branch of Canada's Air Defence Command which from this airport outside Montreal also controls all Canada's fighter squadrons and radar installations, and directs the use of army anti-aircraft batteries.

The operations of Air Defence Command are co-ordinated with the United States Air Force for the air defence of North America.

A spokesman for the command at St. Hubert said enrolment of volunteers for aircraft spotting is in progress everywhere in Canada.

IMPORTANT TASK

He said:

"We want persons willing to give up a few hours of their spare time to train as aircraft spotters in case of emergency.

"It's simple, interesting and important work. The spotters will look for potential enemy aircraft and report their findings to a regional filter centre where the information will be assessed and fighter planes called out if necessary."

The Ground Observer Corps is broken up into provincial units. Each province in turn is subdivided into regions according to facility of communications.

Each region will have a filter centre with a region commander. Regions are marked into observation areas, each with from three to 10 observation posts.

Only region commanders and their assistants are R.C.A.F. personnel. Observation area supervisors are civilians.

Observation posts will be eight miles apart and situated on a hill or other high point affording visibility of about four miles in clear weather.

An observer spotting an aircraft will check its size, flight direction and altitude on a chart and flash the information to the filter centre by telephone.

ORGANIZED SYSTEM

In filter centres 30 to 35 persons will work at large tables cut to the shape of the region.

When an aircraft-sighting flash comes from an observation post, a small model aircraft is set on the table and moved across as reports come in from other posts.

This information goes to the nearest radar station and when the aircraft is picked up on the radar screen, the air force takes over.

The Ground Observer Corps supplements radar and is particularly effective for spotting low-flying aircraft, difficult to detect with radar.

As soon as regions are organized, exercises will be carried out with aircraft from R.C.A.F. stations to give spotters practice.

Summer Theatre Caps Year With Gay, Graceful Comedy

The extra play which the Summer Theatre management has tucked on to the end of its regular ten-week season has in the past been among the best performed and most popular of the season. "O Mistress Mine" similarly caps this season. This Terence Rattigan comedy is gay and graceful, and was certainly popular with Monday night's big audience.

The play cannot pretend to philosophy, mission or immortal art. It is entertainment. But entertainment is the first business of a play, and the effectiveness of it can be judged from what Aristotle calls "katharsis"—the emotional relief it affords, the cleansing from work, worry and humdrum it achieves. So judged, this final week's play is a fine success. It is a real pleasure to see it; one must compliment the select group of the Summer Theatre who perform it, on their graceful, delightful and amusing presentation.

GENTLE URBANITY

"O Mistress Mine" has this plot. An attractive widow is domestically and openly living with a British Cabinet Minister. They are very much in love. He has not been divorced from his wife, though legally separated; it was before the days when a senior Cabinet Minister could get a divorce without raising scandal and losing his Ministry.

Mrs. Brown has a son who has been in the safe haven of Canada since 1939. Five years later the son returns, fortified by his nearly 18 years, left-wing adolescent certitude and Canadian morality. He confronts Sir John and Mrs. Brown his mother with their Sin. The working out of the problems of Teens, Sin and Sufferance is urbane, gently amusing, at times very tender.

LEIGHTON AND HUTT

The weight of the play is borne by Betty Leighton as Mrs. Brown, the Mistress Mine, and William Hutt as Sir John Fletcher, the wealthy Canadian-born businessman brought into the Churchill wartime Cabinet. Miss Leighton plays the Mayfair mother role with charm, polished ease, and an appealing sophistication, catching the reality and warmth behind the part. Mr. Hutt also gives a mature, resourceful and convincing performance. He looks and acts Sir John. It is a well-rounded confident interpretation; right and unstrained in poise, voice and mood.

The cocksure, immaturely adult son Michael Brown, is played by Jerry Campbell. It is not easy to portray an adolescent's adolescence; in this performance the youthfulness and mentality are credible, interesting as well as amusing, the callowness, the brashness, the moral stance, and the basic insecurity of the cocky Michael are made real.

Patricia Moore has only one scene as Lady Fletcher, Sir John's estranged wife. She makes this brilliant and memorable, without overreaching. Ronald Bailey in the part of Sir John's secretary, Mr. Dell, gives a first-rate performance, keeping the role in its neutral place and telling us thereby a great deal about Mr. Dell. Beryl Braithwaite is the elderly parlourmaid Polton, an acceptable performance despite her obvious youthfulness.

Peter Mews sets are not up to his high standard of the season. The second set is indifferently the first, and the first is not really grand.

The play is produced by Michael Sadlier. The stage is managed by Bill Zaharuk.

I recommend the play heartily, and regret that the real world of the theatre at Queen Mary will soon be completely swallowed by the unreal world of school.—T.J.A.

Spent 50 Years Coaching Youth In Woodcraft

TIMAGAMI, Ont. (CP)—At 82, Arthur Cochrane still is coaching youths in swimming, canoeing and woodcraft at the camp he founded near here 50 years ago.

At that time he was a physical education instructor at Upper Canada College in Toronto. One summer he brought a party of students into the area on a three-week canoe trip through the bush from Toronto, nearly 300 miles to the south.

He selected a pine-studded campsite including five islands and founded what is perhaps the oldest private boys' camp in Canada. Only Hudson's Bay company traders had preceded him in the Timagami country.

Nowadays he still goes swimming with the boys, surprising them with his agility in the water.

18-Year-Old Youth 3rd Year Engineer

MONTREAL (CP) — Pierre Franche at 18 is a trumpet player, sports enthusiast, tennis-court cashier and third-year student in engineering at McGill.

It's his university status that rates mention for Franche. McGill authorities won't say that an 18-year-old in third-year engineering is a record, but admit it is unusual.

His trumpet-tooting isn't a fad. He has certificates of proficiency. He likes fishing and hunting. His summer-time job as cashier at city-operated tennis courts brought him into direct contact with the game and he plays it and likes it.

He has also dabbled in oil painting, and speaks English as fluently as his native French.

Lessons Over Television Given To French Villagers

PARIS (CP)—Despite their lowly financial status, villagers of France are showing how rich cultural benefits can be reaped from television.

Television sets in the school hall in 40 old villages are instruments of learnings for parents as well as children, and afford new social meeting places. The development is being watched closely by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization with a view to its introduction elsewhere.

The move started at Nogentel, 60 miles east of Paris, where television was regarded as one of those miracles of science—like atomic bombs or air-conditioning—which belong to a world far removed from the simple peasant life.

Now the villagers gather several times a week to watch television programs in their one-room school.

SIMPLE PLAN

The idea of using TV for entertainment and education in these villages originated among a group who had tried to organize film clubs but found them too expensive.

The clubs saw the possibilities of TV. They are guided mostly by primary school masters, who take an active interest in adult education and spend a good deal of their after-school time bringing cultural activities into the lives of adults.

They worked out an agreement with TV manufacturers by which a set is placed for a limited period in a school and the villagers are invited to come and see the programs.

At first they see the programs free; later a small admission fee is charged. After a few weeks, the teacher inquires whether the villagers will buy the set. In all but one village, the answer was yes.

Soon the villagers get into the habit of calling into the school for entertainment, and also for education and informal discussion. A closer link develops between schoolmaster and community.

Essential conditions of this plan are that the set is made available during day-time for education programs for the children and that it will become school property once it has been fully paid for out of admission fees.

South Africa Faces Famine Soil Erosion Wasted Land

JOHANNESBURG (CP)—With the rainy season approaching, South Africa is beginning to cast an anxious eye at the weather.

A drought might mean famine; even with good rains, food is going to be pretty scarce, according to some forecasts. Such claims are described by the agriculture department as grossly exaggerated, but they are taken seriously by many others.

C.J.J. van Rensburg, a government soil and grass expert, has stumped South Africa for years warning that soil erosion is bringing on the calamity of famine. Today he says: "This is my final warning."

Van Rensburg says bluntly: "We are facing famine. There will soon be shortages of meat, maize, wheat and dairy products. Housewives will queue as they have never done before, and food prices will rise steeply."

STRIPPED HILLS

One major cause of the erosion, root of the whole problem, was the way in which African tribesmen were driven to the hills in the last century by Boers and British alike, leaving the great fertile plains to be divided among white settlers.

On the heights with their primitive husbandry, the Africans have devoured their heritage of land, forest and water. In their tireless search for firewood for instance they have uprooted practically every tree in hundreds of miles of country that was covered with woods or forest not more than a century ago.

In the lands below, the rivers carry off an increasing tonnage of irreplaceable top soil and the biggest irrigation schemes silt up in a few years.

The farmers plow to the river banks and the rivers run faster and faster with the years.

WHITE MAN NO BETTER

On the great fertile plains of the Transvaal and Free State the white man's record has been little better. The soil has been exhausted by continuous crop production, with no rest, and by over-grazing.

South Africa has a state-subsidized organization, called the National Veld Trust which has the job of warning the people against the dangers of soil erosion.

The general manager, T.C. Robertson, tirelessly puts over the point of view that the soil structure is collapsing in the best farming areas—the great "maize triangle" of the Transvaal and Orange Free State provinces.

"A collapse of the soil structure means that South Africa no longer has generations of time to save itself from famine," he says. "It has five years at the most."

South Africa's minister of agriculture, Stephen le Roux, has what he calls a plan for survival. It has three stages. The first is to get the churches, the schools, farmers, traders, workers, to observe every September as "green month"—a "conservation month."

The second stage provides for determined efforts to spread the results of scientific research to the farmers and farm workers.

The third stage is to get all farmers and other people on the land to make a combined effort to save the soil.

Agreement At Last

To provide for uniform taxation throughout Canada of business, industry and private persons, the Canadian Government proposed seven years ago at the first Dominion-Provincial conference that the Provinces get out of personal income and corporation tax fields. In return, the Dominion would compensate the Provinces annually through special grants. This very sensible proposal was eventually accepted by all the provinces except Quebec and Ontario. These, the two largest, were proud of their Provincial prestige and their Premiers were jealous to preserve their own powers. And at the time, too, political personalities clashed bitterly. The late Prime Minister King was at the Ottawa helm, Mr. George Drew was at Queen's Park, and Premier Duplessis in Quebec. Mr. King and Mr. Drew have been removed to what are usually considered higher spheres; only Premier Duplessis remains a deadhead on the smooth waters of Dominion-Provincial affairs. Premier Frost, who has given this Province able, efficient and sensible leadership, has enhanced the quality of his leadership through the tax agreement which he has now signed with Finance Minister Abbott at Ottawa. Never in this century have relations between Ottawa and Toronto been as sensibly based on mutual understanding and interest. Never has the recognition of true confederation been as clear in Ontario government.

* * *

By the taxation agreement Ontario loses not a whit of its provincial rights and gains financially. The good of Ontario and the welfare of the whole country have both been served—and the citizens of this province, and its industry and business, have been assured that for the next five years at least they will not be confronted by the ogre of double taxation. Premier Frost's government has always been loath to impose an extra tax on what is already being taxed. The agreement seals that intention. It is an act of real statemanship.

School Is Open—A Good Thing

Everybody must greet the opening of the new school year with relief and pleasure. Parents cooped up with their children for two months, have now a daily reprieve from them; a relief made doubly pleasurable in their knowledge that their children at school are advancing in understanding, if not in wisdom.

The pupils must be glad that the loose holiday months have ended and that they are back to a well-planned routine. They no longer have to look for other youngsters to play with—by law their fellows are right at hand. They no longer need to wonder what on earth they are going to do each blessed minute of the day; by pedagogical cleverness, that too is taken out of their hands. And they are back to a comfortable, easy and on the whole joyous routine. Children take to routine as ducks to water. Older students have release from summer chores, their parents' critical eyes, and are again thankfully at desks from which they may expect to carve their adulthood, if not fame and fortune.

The teachers, too,—certainly the best teachers—must be glad to resume their professional work. Refurbished in spirit and replenished in mind and strength, they again take up the shiny tools of their craft and the maleable material under their hands: theirs to condition, reform and adjust, a daily challenge to their skill, philosophy and personality.

As for the rest of the populace, the knowledge that the empty schools are again humming is a democratic reassurance that all is pretty good in this country of ours, that again the Canadian world is at work with its own destiny, moulding, creating, fulfilling, achieving. Yes, back to school is a good and healthy thing.

Second Attempt At Everest

There was general sympathy for the Swiss team of climbers who failed to scale Mount Everest by a narrow margin earlier this year. They managed to get within about a thousand feet of the summit but were forced to abandon the final climb. It was not due to the difficulties of the terrain; in fact the last thousand feet presented no extraordinary features to experienced Alpine climbers. It was not the weather, though conditions at those heights are very trying. It was the rarity of the air which defeated them. Every step became an effort and it was necessary to pause for breath between each pace. The oxygen equipment which they carried was heavy and had the additional disadvantage that it could not be used while in motion. The climbers experienced, in the words of one of them "a deceptive sense of well-being" as they became feebler in the rare atmosphere. Added to this their will-power became impaired.

We now hear that the Swiss are to make one more attempt this year. Their permit from the Nepalese Government, which controls the Southern approaches to Everest, runs out at the end of this year, and owing to conditions in that part of the world it is unlikely that permission will be renewed for some time. The Swiss, however, have just acquired new oxygen apparatus, much lighter than what they formerly had. Moreover it can be used while in motion. It is worthy of note that the older more inefficient apparatus was American; the newer is German. It is on this that they pin their main hopes of eventually climbing the mountain that has baffled so many other expeditions and claimed the life of Mallory.

There are of course other factors entering into the picture. The weather will certainly be less favourable owing to the monsoons, which brings snow, and may delay the starting time unduly. Another of these factors is that of acclimatization. There is general agreement that there should be a certain period of acclimatization at 20,000 feet before attempting the summit. If this is not long enough a climber will be more vulnerable to the effects of lack of oxygen. On the other hand, if the acclimatization period is too long a general deterioration in physical condition may set in. Add to that the fact that each individual differs considerably in his reactions to certain conditions. The problem is to find a golden mean between these two extremes that will suit the majority of the party. The question of diet is fraught with difficulties. It must be compact, sustaining and appetizing. The recent experience of the Swiss has led them to many conclusions on this subject, and there is no doubt that they will be better fed on their forthcoming climb.

We wish them the best of luck, for it may be their last chance. The Russians are said to be launching a bid from the Tibetan side, with this difference—if they fail the first time they will have no difficulty in obtaining permission from the Chinese, who are the real masters of Tibet, to make as many attemps as they please.

General Eisenhower Should Explain

We echo the Montreal Star and the Ottawa Citizen in their perturbed criticism of General Eisenhower's speech delivered to the American Legion convention in New York. The General sounded as a President should not sound these days, and as a Presidential candidate should never sound; the speech's only political saving grace was its vagueness. He said that the U.S. would not rest until the Communist-enslaved people of Western Europe and Asia were freed. What did he mean? Is this the basis of his foreign policy? If it is really as bad as it sounds, then General Eisenhower is succeeding in capping the Red description of the U.S. as a warmonger.

There is reason for Allied anxiety about this speech. We quote the Citizen on the subject:

"Since the development of the Truman Doctrine, U.S. foreign policy has sought to prevent expansion of Soviet power either by military or other means. The Marshall Plan, the decision to resist aggression in Korea, the Point Four program of technical aid to underdeveloped countries, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have all been varying facets of the Truman Doctrine. Their aim has been to prevent aggression and war. In agreement with this goal, the Western world has worked in close alliance with the U.S.

"But General Eisenhower said in New York that the U.S. would not rest until the Communist-enslaved people of Western Europe and Asia were freed. Surely, the United States and the rest of the free world are entitled to know precisely what he has in mind. If he contemplates merely a propaganda campaign against the Kremlin, of the kind now being carried on by the radio services of the U.S., Britain and Canada, his proposal represents no great change in foreign policy. If he intends to introduce something more active, America's allies are entitled to know. Active efforts to liberate countries controlled by Moscow could lead to war, and Western nations, which would have much of the fighting, should have some voice in whether a liberation program would be a desirable foreign policy at this time. General Eisenhower should specify what he means by a vigorous new foreign policy. As matters stand, he has either said too much or too little."

NOTES AND COMMENT

A relativist declares that time and space are at war. In that case, no matter which side wins, it's going to be rough on everyone. Either there'll be nowhere to do anything, or no time to do it in.

Festival Miracle At Edinburgh

By IVOR BROWN

THE STANDING MIRACLE of the Edinburgh Festival is the number of seats sold daily and nightly for one entertainment or another. The Castle Rock is packed every evening for the flood-lit Tattoo, in which French and Dutch military bands are for the first time participating; the Hamburg company at the Opera, together with the Sadler's Wells Ballet and New York Ballet, have drawn the usual packed houses. There are at least half a dozen minor dramatic productions in addition to the Festival presentations at the Lyceum Theatre and the Scottish ballad opera, "The Highland Fair," whose fortnight at the huge Assembly Hall has been a triumph. Also a favourite Scottish comedian, Duncan MacRae, has done record business at the Palladium with a boisterous folk-comedy "Bachelors Are Bold," which is a private venture and is not part of the official Festival.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEN THERE ARE the great orchestral concerts at the Usher Hall and morning string-quartette concerts at the Freemason's. It would not be true to say that every seat is sold for everything all the time. But the mystery of where all the people and the money come from remains, since Edinburgh is only half the size of Birmingham and Glasgow and the currency restrictions have limited European visiting. Whatever the explanation, the organisers of the Festival, now in its sixth year, have no reason for complaint. It was feared by many, when the Festival was started, that Edinburgh had bitten off more than it could chew! But the teeth have been consistently in action and the enormous feast has been digested. Prestige, as well as popularity, has been maintained. There seems to be no likelihood of the Festival dwindling away in the near future.

ONE NOVELTY of the year has been the use of the Assembly Hall on the Mound to stage a Scottish musical ensemble, "The Highland Fair." This was originally got up by Joseph Mitchell to meet the Ballad Opera vogue created by "The Beggar's Opera" in the seventeen-twenties. The text has been cleverly reshaped by Robert Kemp, the score arranged by Cedric Thorpe Davie, and the production directed by Tyrone Guthrie. Several English critics were contemptuous, while the Scottish Press gave it "rave" notices. I have rarely known such strong division of opinion and this has made "The Highland Fair" the talking point of the Festival and a source of spirited argument.

The show itself is a glorious panorama of tartan with two combatant clans, quite unhistorically but most strikingly arrayed. They are seen in violent clash of claymores while the English Army of Occupation (Georgian period) endeavours to make the peace.

GUTHRIE'S FLAIR for marshalling turbulent masses and giving brilliance of lighting and surge of movement to such spectacles has never, in my opinion, been better employed. But the story is rather confused at first and inevitably the platform-stage, surrounded on three sides by the spectators, means some masking of the principal players. Those critics who complained were evidently confused by the violent abundance of the battling clansmen and by inability to hear (or interpret) all the words.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE SAME DIFFICULTIES of comprehension by the South British accompanied "Bachelors are Bold," which was spoken in what I should call a Glasgow accent but which a specialist described to me as North Ayrshire. The truth is, of course, that the Scottish speech is now so diversified by district that the West has completely different intonations from the East. Edinburgh can understand Glasgow, but foreigners who can all cope with the clear, high-pitched Edinburgh speech are apt to be baffled by the turbid, lower-pitched utterance and different vocabulary of the industrial West.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE HAS A FEELING that Scottish Nationalism has declined in fervour. One certainly sees fewer men wearing the kilt than one did at previous Festivals. Some may hold that this kind of thing can be left to the young ladies from Iowa who have been piping in the Gardens. There was a strong opinion during the early Festivals that the Scottish contribution was too humble and too small and that the international talent had swamped the native effort. But latterly the balance between National and International has been better poised and the number of Scottish productions on the Festival fringe and of Scottish exhibitions of arts and crafts has made ridiculous the suggestion that Scotland was becoming invisible in its own capital.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS OPEN to any person or any society to make his or its contribution during the Three Weeks. These elements are not officially part of the Festival, but they are listed in the gigantic schedule of attractions. So full of vigour and ambition is the Scotland of today that there tends to be an excess of such opportunities for the visiting spectator. Nobody, even in the twenty-one days, can possibly catch up with everything in the halls, gardens, art galleries and museums as well as in the theatres. The wise tourist selects carefully and does not overwork himself. For the first week he had the encouragement of consistently fine weather.

✧ ✧ ✧

MEANWHILE, Edinburgh remains a Festival of beauty in itself. There is no city in these islands which offers more to the eye. The view on any fine day from the ridge of George Street, southward to the Castle and northward over the blue Firth to the hills of Fife is a superb gratuity to those who are only doing their shopping or going on their way to some play or opera. It costs nothing to explore the Old Town with its deep canyons of grey stone, where linger the last terrors of the Middle Ages amid buildings that seem like fortresses and prisons rather than homes. To pass into the New Town, with its enormously broad streets and serene Georgian terraces, is to move from the Age of Fear into the Age of Confidence and Calm and to see how Scottish life broadened from crowded strife to spacious ease, the arts and philosophy. So the tourist in Edinburgh can see Scottish history laid magnificently before him with no more expenditure than is entailed by a few bus fares and the purchase of a City Guide-Book.

DO YOU HEAR A FAMILIAR RING TO THIS BUSINESS?

'Get Yourself A General'

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE KEEN, searching character of U. S. political debate, plus the suspicions underlying much of it, is shown by questions raised over General MacArthur's $100,000-a-year-job with Remington-Rand.

Business Week, a conservative magazine, started the ball rolling with this:

"More and more generals and admirals are beating their swords into corporate shares. Military men have had no trouble trading their brass hats for high-priced Stetsons.

"It is pretty obvious why a general should want to make such a trade. It is less obvious why industry, traditionally critical of military bureaucracy, seeks to hire them."

Labour, organ of railroad workers and with an enormous circulation, shows that many have been hired. General Joseph T. McNarney has become president of Consolidated Vultee; Admiral Morrell, chairman of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation; General Lucius D. Clay, chairman of Continental Can; General Brehon Sommervell, chairman and president of Koppers Company; General E. R. Quesada, vice-president of Oil Industries, and General Ira Baker, vice-president of Hughes Tool.

Cosmopolitan, a Hearst magazine, is brutal. Thus:

"In business circles the world has gone out: Get yourself a general. What branch of the government spends the most money? The military. Who, even more than a 5-percenter, is an expert on red tape? A general or admiral. So make him chairman of the board."

Tough, rough democratic criticism this. But maybe the U.S., plagued by some sad things lately, has need of it. Or deserves it.

IF CONTRACTORS HAD BUILT BUCKHORN ROAD

Sir: I have read, with interest several letters appearing in your paper regarding the road conditions between Lakefield and Buckhorn. This road has, for some time, been in a deplorable condition with no apparent remedy in sight. Not only are the local residents disgusted and dissatisfied but the situation has now become a serious topic among our tourist friends who have been coming back to this area for years.

Our Canadian Government solicits and welcomes constructive criticism from our friends across the border but it is apparent some of the local brass hats have a system all their own when they say "take it with a grain of salt".

Wouldn't it be gratifying for a community, such as ours, to realize it had elected a Reeve, etc. who had the desire, initiative, and ability to get things done. What a disappointment we are experiencing. What a mistake has been made.

Not so long ago a new causeway was built across Chemong Lake, joining Ennismore and Smith townships. A fine piece of work. Just as important is a paved surfaced road between Lakefield and Buckhorn to carry the ever increasing traffic. However, we are not expecting any immediate change because it has been evident, for some time, that the local powers that be fall far short of the push and aggressiveness shown by those who were responsible for the Causeway.

Had the responsibility for building the Buckhorn road been given to a contractor in the first place, we would have had, before this, a paved road in perfect condition for less money than has already been spent. Money is still being wasted and the same deplorable condition goes on and on with no apparent end in sight.

I would like to know, and I am sure everyone who has to drive their car over this road, would appreciate knowing, just what is going to be done about improving this Buckhorn road.

A TAX-PAYER

THE ACCOMMODATION problem has been solved by calling on private houses to supply bed-and-breakfasts at fixed rates, and this year there have been fewer complaints that all the entertainments have been booked up and that seats are unobtainable. In previous years there has been some excess of visitation by Scots as well as others. But now there seems a right proportion established between the entertainment and the means to entertain. One last point: all strangers are impressed by the general courtesy, good manners, and warmth of welcome. In how many other cities do the taxi-drivers jump out of their seats to open the door for the passenger? Here's Festival behaviour indeed!

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgements which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. (Deut. 5:1.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me: unto him ye shall hearken. (Deut. 18:15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good. (Isa. 7:14, 15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me. . . . The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me. . . . Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.

Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile; Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you. Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man. (John 1:15, 43, 45-51.)

Anonymous From Aloft

(Financial Post)

You can fly from Montreal to Vancouver and, except at intermediate stops, you may not have the foggiest notion where you are during the entire trip. What's that town? What's that lake? Where does that railroad run?

Some of these towns and cities which hope to grow bigger are missing an opportunity. They might have the name of the place laid out on some hill-side where it can be seen and identified a mile or so up. Lacking a suitable hill-side, the centre of the local race track or football field would make an excellent aerial billboard.

Aloft, too, some of the airlines seem to be missing an opportunity, in providing at almost nominal expense, more interest for their passengers. Long ago the railroads learned the value of keeping their passengers informed on the route covered. They labelled their stations, the important lakes and rivers skirted or crossed, canyons, mountains and other points of interest. Folders and detailed maps were available in chaircars and pullmans further identifying and creating interest in these places. At two and three hundred miles an hour, it's not possible to point out every crossroad, but surely that doesn't mean that passengers should be flown completely blind. Plane travel could be made more interesting—much.

Pinocchio Whips Communists In Election

ROME (AP) — Pinocchio the puppet has just helped defeat the Communist Party.

The little fib-telling wooden boy did it in Pescia, his home town.

That was where a penniless newspaperman 70 years ago first wrote the story of the evergreen puppet later made world-famous by Walt Disney's cartoon film.

Christian Democrat Rolando Anzilotti, a college professor with a liking for children, ran for mayor there against strong Communist opposition.

His big campaign promise was: Elect me and I'll see that Pescia gets a big monument to Pinocchio.

Before the Communist opposition was able to find out the official party line on puppets, the campaign was over and Anzilotti was elected overwhelmingly.

The story of the puppet was written here by Carlo Lorenzi, under the name of Collodi. He scrawled it chapter by chapter on the marble top of a coffeehouse table between newspaper assignments.

Mayor Anzilotti calculated a good Pinocchio monument would cost at least 25,000,000 lire ($40,000). Pescia had no funds running into that kind of figure so Anzilotti appealed for contributions from the Italian government and mayors of other towns.

He got 30,000 lire—about $50.

Then he turned to the children. He asked every school child in Italy to send in five lire—less than a cent. The responses began pouring in—not only from Italy but even from the United States. Anzilotti says he is confident he will have enough to start construction by spring.

So now he has asked children to send in sketched suggestions for the monument.

Winners will get a Pinocchio certificate signed by the mayor, entitling them to tell one a week without having their noses grow.

Strike Tunisian Issue Off Meeting Agenda

GENEVA (AP) — The World Federation of U.N. Associations struck the Tunisian question off the agenda of its seventh annual assembly Monday. The French delegation had warned it would walk out of any discussion of this issue.

The Federation comprises private associations promoting interest in the U.N. in some 50 countries.

The assembly also decided without discussion to postpone indefinitely consideration of a New Zealand resolution urging admission of Communist China to the U.N., "as soon as circumstances efface its brand of aggressor."

The South Korean U.N. Association was admitted as a member of the federation without opposition.

Iran's Nasrollah Entezam, assembly president, said in his opening address Monday: "The United Nations has succeeded in one major task at least: It has prevented the cold war from turning into a catastrophe."

F-M Cost May Be $500,000,000 To Infected Lands

By REUTERS NEWS AGENCY

Outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease in the last year have ravaged cattle herds in western Europe and Canada and the economic damage may run as high as $500,000,000.

Now the disease is on the wane in most countries, although a recent government report indicates that Britain's fight against the animal scourge is a losing one while France still faces its worst outbreak in a century.

Britain has had to pay farmers £2,600,000 since last November as compensation for cattle slaughtered. The loss in meat supplies has been drastic. The government reported last week that "the end of the road is not in sight."

In France cases of foot-and-mouth disease have been reported in all but two of the country's 90 departments.

As a result of the recent outbreaks, however, many countries represent a picture of stringent controls aimed at preventing anything similar in the future.

EUROPEAN MEETING

The United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization is considering calling a meeting of European countries to map methods of curbing current and future outbreaks, including possibly a chain of vaccine stockpiles

Mexico, ravaged by the disease for six years, is on the verge of receiving a clean bill of health. Vaccines and strict control keep it to a minimum in Argentina.

Here are reports on the disease from Reuters correspondents at F.A.O. headquarters in Rome and in the various affected countries:

F.A.O. HEADQUARTERS — Experts say the epidemic was caused by the type A virus—most virulent of the three main kinds of foot-and-mouth disease.

They see hope for cheaper control of the infection in a new method of obtaining the vaccine which may reduce costs 90 per cent.

Vaccination now costs about $3 a year for each animal plus veterinary fees.

Ruthless slaughter of infected animals, officials say, would eradicate the disease. But few countries can afford such a drastic policy and vaccination is the only practical answer.

NEW OUTBREAKS

BRITAIN—Some new outbreaks have been reported in recent weeks in Scotland and southeast England after the worst outbreak in memory. Farmers have been warned of the danger of a new invasion of the disease from Europe. Most restrictions on cattle movement, however, have been lifted.

During the summer, more than 548 outbreaks resulted in the forced slaughter of 36,000 cattle, 32,000 sheep, and 11,000 pigs. Compensation to farmers totalled $7,500,00.

FRANCE—The epidemic, which began six months ago, reached the critical stage in July. Some 47,279 farms reported the disease in the first two weeks, bringing the total to 132,900. Cost to French farmers is estimated at about $4,500,000.

HITS EAST GERMANY

GERMANY—In November 44,708 West German farms had cases of the disease. By June the number was down to 1,113.

Refugee reports say the disease hit east Germany in July. Communist "fighting squads" were formed to help veterinarians, but control efforts were hampered by a shortage of vaccine.

ITALY—Absence of widespread bird migration and good drainage keep disease down. At present only 4,000 cattle, or .05 per cent of the total, are infected.

THE NETHERLANDS — Last Fall's outbreak is under control with only 20 farms reporting infected animals now compared with 12,000 at the peak last November.

SCANDINAVIA — Denmark had only two cases reported from July 23 to 28; Sweden has had only five since April and Norway now is entirely free of the disease.

NEW ZEALAND CURBS

NEW EALAND — The biggest food-producing country in the world in relation to its population takes extreme precautions to protect its 5,000,000 cattle and 35,000,000 sheep. Since last March entry of all animals has been barred.

CANADA — The country's first outbreak of the disease, announced last Feb. 26, is ended. All Canadian restrictions and quarantines were lifted Aug. 19.

Although only 2,000 cattle out of a total cattle population of 10,000,000 had to be destroyed, the damage to the Canadian economy may go as high as $100,000,000.

The U.S. banned imports of Canadian cattle. Plans were evolved whereby surplus Canadian beef went to Britain. New Zealand meat, normally sent to Britain, was sold to the U.S.

SEVERE CONTROLS

ARGENTINA — Proud of its beef, Argentina keeps infection to a minimum through vaccines and severe controls.

It feels reimbursements to farmers for slaughter of infected animals "places a premium on carelessness."

Instead, breeders receive no payment for infected animals reaching the slaughterhouse and they may even be fined.

MEXICO — After six years, Mexico has won its six-year fight against the scourge.

Prior to 1947 when the disease hit the country's cattle industry, 500,000 cattle crossed the border into the U.S. yearly.

Fight To Get Annual Wage

WINDSOR (CP) — Walter P. Reuther, international president of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) yesterday pledged his union to fight for a guaranteed annual wage for workers.

He told 10,000 at Windsor's annual Labor Day celebrations that organized labor should shift its wage objective. It should demand an annual wage rather than work toward specific hourly rates.

"Executives of our major automobile companies get paid by the year, eat by the year and their kids live by the year. The workers live by the year but get paid by the hour. We like that idea of a guaranteed annual wage. Our fight in future is to get paid 12 months of the year."

Red Hilde Piles Up East German Scalps

BERLIN (AP)—"Red Hilde" is on the warpath in East Germany and the scalps are piling up.

Almost weekly, some new group of broken men is hailed before the state supreme court, told what the sin was, given virtually no chance of defence, and sent off to long prison terms, up to life, at hard labor.

Defendants are charged principally with plotting against the Communist state, working with and for "Western spies", or "sabotage" of the Soviet zone economic laws.

The commanding officer is a woman, 50-year-old Hilde Benjamin who has long been known among Berliners as "Red Hilde."

Frau Benjamin holds the curious title of "vice-president" of the court. The president, Hans Schumann, never seems to preside. Hilde, faithful to the Kremlin in all respects, is the boss.

Some of the trials are made public. Others are not. There are some estimates that Hilde Benjamin has personally sent upwards of a thousand men to slow death in labor camps under the guise of legal sentencing.

GREAT SUCCESS

Her swarthy face, flashing black eyes and vitriolic tongue have become a dynamic part of the Russian zone scene. It is her job to impose on the East German people law as the Communists view it. She is a whacking success.

Next to party boss Walter Ulbricht, Frau Benjamin is probably the most feared person in the whole East German machinery. She never regards a defendant as a man who might eventually prove his innocence. From the moment he is placed on trial, the man is assailed, ridiculed and tongue-lashed.

ONE NEVER KNOWS

A product of the chaos of Germany after the First World War, she studied at Heidelberg, Hamburg and in her home town of Berlin. Reacting to the unrest, she joined up with the Socialists but later moved further left to team with Communists who had started to get a genuine foothold in the Reichstag.

The arrival of Adolf Hitler's Nazis pushed Frau Benjamin completely to the left. A Communist, a Jewess, and married to a Jewish doctor, Mischa Benjamin, she faced certain destruction and came up fighting. The Nazis seized her husband and allowed him to die later at Mauthausen. Hilde and her son, Michael managed to escape persecution.

The Red armies, arriving in Berlin in 1945, brought with them old Communist friends who quickly set her up in the business of political law. They had on their hands the most violent anti-Fascist of all.

By the time Frau Benjamin reached the supreme court created in 1949 she had become one of the top dozen voices in the whole show. She brought with her a new outlook for a German appellate court judge. To her, an appeal for clemency was ridiculous, a petition for a pardon useless.

If there is ever a gigantic purge trial in the Russian zone, like the other Communist satellites have held it's even money Hilde will run it. Or maybe she will be on trial. One never knows in the lands of Communism.

Athletics Sew Up Series By Beating Petes 16-5 In Second Playdown Fray

The Peterborough Timbermen ran into an unexpected snag in their Eastern Canada playdown hunt when Athletics ditched them 16-5 in St. Catharines last night to sew up the series. Each squad has won one in the best-of-five quarter finals, third one being here Wednesday and the fourth back in St. Kitts this Saturday. It was a pleasant surprise to the St. Catharines' fans as the sixth-place A's turned in a desperation drive to earn their rather one-sided triumph over the O.L.A. senior champions. It was the second time this season the Petes have dropped a decision there, and their first loss in their last 13 starts.

Petes Capture The Opener Over Athletics By 16 to 8

Some 2,200 lacrosse fans here Saturday night saw the Petes' Timbermen trim St. Catharines Athletics 16-8 to open their best-of-five Eastern Canada playdown series. The second game was billed for Monday in St. Catharines and the third back here Wednesday evening. If Peterborough wins this series, the team will take a bye into the Eastern Canada finals, meeting probably either Toronto Yorks or Mimico Mounties.

MISSED THE WHIP — Tall Harry Wipper, a hard shot on the attack and a star defenceman, was missed by the Petes in St. Kitts last night after a fine effort here last start, as the locals lost Monday 16-5. Wipper is studying to pick up a university exam, but may be available for Wednesday.

Rough stuff in the series threatened in this opener and may be conspicuous the rest of the way. Several fights threatened but the aggressors were halted in time and shipped off to serve minor roughing penalties. It was quite scrappy in the final few minutes and threatened to blow up, but nothing serious happened. There were no injuries on either side in this tilt.

The Petes had a 5-4 margin in the close first frame but outran the visitors to make it 10-4 at the half. St. Kitts had a 3-2 scoring margin in the third, but the Thorpe team came back in the fourth for a 4-1 edge and were never in serious danger. They played a sound game from goal out, checked hard but the scoring was well spread around. The visitors battled hard but didn't have quite that extra punch when in scoring position to make it really close.

Two goals each for Peterborough were counted by Don Ashbee, Ike Hinlebrand, Curly Mason, Grant Burns and Lou Nickle — the latter doing some rugged checking, too, in the interesting fray. Single marksmen were Dootch Vitarelli, Al Garbutt, Bill Killingbeck, Harry Wipper, Nit O'Hearn and Russ Slater. On assists, Nit led the way with three, as Ike and Russ got two each; singles going to Bob Thorpe, Burns, Mason, Wipper, Gary Robinson, Ashbee and Vitarelli. For the losers, Moore sniped three, Woolley a pair, and Smith, Don Frick and Bradshaw one each. Corcoran had three assists, Woolley and Al Frick two each, with Dewar getting one. Teams:

St. Catharines — Whitaker; defence, Smith and Uhrynuk; centre, Dewar; wings, Teather and Woolley; rover, McMahon; alternates, D. Frick, Moore, Corcoran, Melville, A. Frick and Bradshaw.

Petes — Goal, Wootton; defence, O'Hearn and Wipper; centre, Mason; wings, Slater and Burns; rover Garbutt; alternates, Killingbeck, Nickle, Thorpe, Vitarelli, Ashbee, Hildebrand and Robinson.

Referees—J. Murphy and M. McDonald.

RICHARDS CRACKS RECORD

TORONTO (CP)—A crowd of 25,000 yesterday jammed the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand and saw Rev. Bob Richards, Olympic pole vault champion, push himself to record heights for the second time in three days.

Saturday he smashed his own Canadian open and C.N.E. meet records with a jump of 15 feet ⅛ inches, and yesterday he bettered both marks by an inch, going 15 feet 1⅛ inches.

BELOW FORM

The Thorpe team didn't play up to their usual form. They were minus Harry Wipper — studying for an exam—and Ross Powless is still out with an injury.. They also felt Referee Joe Murphy and Piper Bain were handing them a lot of cheap penalties. However, these factors weren't enough to account for the locals' loss, and they readily admitted it after the game. They just got a poor game out of their systems. None of the Timbermen stood out in the effort. They were off in passing and shooting, and the young Saints ran and passed them ragged, having a margin in every quarter.

A's led 3-1 in the first quarter, had a 4-1 scoring edge in the second to make it 7-2 at the half, and the homesters led them 3-1 in the third to head into a 6-2 marginal fourth frame for the winners. Only a fair-sized crowd viewed the tilt.

ROUGH ENOUGH

Some rough checking was seen, especially in the first half, as the Athletics showed far more fight on home terrain than in ther last playoff here. They also had ace goaltending in this number from veteran Bill Whitaker, who received good support throughout. Doug Smith and Bev Groves drew match penalties in the second for nearly starting a free-for-all when they tangled with the refs trying to separate Nit O'Hearn, who drew a slashing penalty, and Max Woolley, who got a major, for starting a fight when he jumped on O'Hearn's back as the left was heading for the sin bin. Even Wootton drew a tripping sentence this heat, Grant Burns serving it.

Al Frick and Jim McMahon led the winners at bat with three markers each, two apiece going to Don Moore, Emil Uhrynuk and Don Frick, and singles to Max Woolley, Ted Howe, Bob Melville and Tank Teather. Leading in assists was Al Frick with four—for a seven-point effort — with Smith getting three before being ousted. Two each went to Teather, Bill Bradshaw, Norm Corcoran and McMahon. Singles were garnered by Melville, Moore, Don Frick and Johnny Dewar.

The Petes' slim bag included two goals by Don Ashbee, one each by Bob Thorpe, Grant Burns and Al Garbutt, with two assists for Lou Nickle, and one apiece for Thorpe and Russ Slater. Teams:

Petes — Goal, Wootton; defence, Nickle and Killingbeck; centre, Thorpe; wings, Vitarelli and Ashbee; rover, Hildebrand; alternates, O'Hearn Groves Mason, Slater, Garbutt, Burns and Robinson.

St. Catharines — Goal, Whitaker; defence, Smith and Uhrynuk; centre, Dewar; wings, Teather and Woolley; rover, McMahon; alternates, D. Frick, Moore, Corcoran, Melville, Bradshaw, A. Frick and Howe.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Let's see what happened in sports here o'er the holiday weekend. Baseball? Nothing, just plain nothing; Two important tilts were slated for Riverside Park afternoon and evening, and the weather was ideal —quite a few fans on deck, too—but nothing occurred. Kingston defaulted the O.B.A. junior series, we hear, and sent word to that effect during the morning. Couldn't make it. The senior Monarchs couldn't round up enough players in Kingston and sent word early in the evening that they couldn't make it. So, we imagine it'll go as a default, giving the Petes first place in the C.O.B.L. standing as the schedule ends. And a bye into the loop finals.

* * * * * *

All well and good, you say. Sure, we won 'em both with a minimum of effort. But it's not a bit good, not one darned bit! How does baseball expect to keep up around the top in our local major sports when these things occur? Lots of fans blame us when they go to advertised game and it doesn't take place—but it's not our fault. We take the club's word in good faith that the game is on. Sometimes it's not the club's fault, either, but quite often it is, inasmuch as they don't let us know in time when a game is called off, so we can advertise the public. The junior club did not let us know Saturday morn. Our senior ball and lacrosse teams have been lax at times also in informing the press of a postponement, until too late to get it in the paper. Yet they want pre-game publicity. It burns us to a crisp.

* * * * * *

Not Too Much Trouble

Timbermen hadn't too much trouble knocking off St. Kitts 16-8 here Saturday to start their Eastern Canada senior lacrosse playdowns. After a close first quarter, they racked up a comfy lead at the half and held their own in the third—going on to make it sure in the final. Threatened to be rough at times, especially when balding Tank Teather and scrappy Don Ashbee got checking each other quite closely. They sat it out twice and then cooled off. Ashbee scored one of the better goals of the night and the canny Rusty Slater got another neat one around the net. Scoring was well spread around, but the Thorpe crew looked in command of the situation pretty well all through as some 2,200 fans will agree.

* * * * * *

Things were considerably different last gloaming down in St. Catharines. Coach Joe Cheevers received a gift for being a good coach, and Emil Uhrynuk got Hank Goldup's trophy for being voted most valuable of the A's this year. Such goings-on appeared to fire the Saints, and they ran the Timbermen ragged. Beat 'em 16-5 to square their series at a win each, and the Petes will have to hump here tomorrow and there Saturday or it'll go the limit. Locals played below part in practically all departments, and just couldn't get untracked in any quarter. They missed Harry Wipper, but one player doesn't make a team. They bowed to a better club on the night's play.

* * * * * *

First Loss In 13 Tilts

Well, you can't win 'em all, but you can't lose too many either in a short series. 'Twas their first reverse in the last 13 starts, so they're still heavy favorites to erase the speedy young A's. A bit of over-confidence on Petes' part and a desperation drive by St. Kitts probably had a lot to do with the upset. Al Frick was a standout on the evening with three goals and four assists to make his dad—a former star athlete star here—pretty proud. Don Frick was in on three goals, also. Don Ashbee, Bob Thorpe and Lou Nickle were in on a pair apiece for Peterborough. Bev Groves and Doug Smith drew match penalties in the second for fighting.

An item to hand on harness horse racing: "Hugh Stewart, Hilltop Farm, Peterborough, one of the largest breeders of standard-breds in this country, has added to his breeding ranks the highly bred stallion John Dillard, 2.01¾, son of Dick Reynolds, 1.59¼, who in turn is a son of the world's greatest pacer, Single G., 1.58½. Already John Dillard is the sire of Little Judy, 2.00 2-5, and this year John Dillard has a pair of two-year-olds in 2.10." Sounds like a complicated atmospheric analysis, but no doubt followers of the hay-burners will get the picture.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

It's reasonably simple to understand why great players, in baseball and hockey, don't always make the best coaches, or managers, whatever they happen to be termed.

This was a thought that occured to me after Rogers Hornsby was deposed as pilot of St. Louis Browns baseball team. Hornsby, a great player and grim fighter in his day, lost a lot of managerial jobs, just as other great players have lost them. Just as Ty Cobb failed as a manager of other baseball teams, just at Edouard Neway Lalonde, one of the smartest of all hockey players, failed in the role of hockey manager after many attempts, three of them with major teams.

All three of these had something in common. They had only one idea, to win the games in which their teams played. But they couldn't last, as managers, because all of them were intolterant of players who couldn't measure up to their own standards. The Rajah, less fiery and impatient than Ty. Lalonde, could, and did, handle the assignment better than Ty. Lalonde, a great stylist, one of the very few who scored nine goals in a major professional hockey game, and led scorers in no less than three major leagues at various times—Pacific Coast, National League and National Association—failed as manager of New York Americans, Ottawa Senators and Montreal Canadiens because he was dedicated to winning hockey games, impatient of failure or defeat, Lalonde couldn't understand a professional hockey player wanting to divert from strict routine of training even at Christmas. When he was piloting Americans, a player insisted on going home for Christmas. Stormy words developed, and Lalonde scornfully punched the player in the eye.

Jack Dempsey never made a great fistic manager, though he tried it. I happened to be placed very close to the Baer corner, the night Max the Clown, entering the ring a-tremble, his face ashen, faced Joe Louis, then at his peak. Dempsey was seconding Baer, believed him to be still a great fighter. It quickly became plain Baer wasn't going to take any more punishment than necessary. He was counted out, resting on one knee. Said Dempsey in the amazed tone of one who couldn't understand what he was looking at: "He's quitting—Baer's quitting."

Dempsey walked away from the ringside in a bewildered rage, still muttering angrily: "He quit. Can you imagine that? He quit." The game Mauler, who came back to win after taking a classically-savage beating from Jack Sharkey, just couldn't understand a fighter quitting.

Hornsby, Cobb, Lalonde, Dempsey, they were all cut in the same pattern, cast in the same mould. They couldn't understand anything less than perfection. At least, they expected professional athletes to go all-out, fighting to the bitter end, because that was the only way they understood any one playing the games in which they had shone.

ARKY VAUGHAN DROWNS

EAGLEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Joseph Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, 40, former National League Baseball star, drowned Saturday only 20 feet from the shore of a lake.

A friend, Bill Wimer, 45, a logger, drowned with him when their fishing boat overturned in Lost Lake.

Vaughan began his major league career in 1932 as shortstop for Pittsburgh Pirates, for whom he played 10 years. He was chosen the league's most valuable player in 1935, when he batted .385. Sold to Brooklyn Dodgers in 1942, Vaughan voluntarily retired in 1944 but returned to Brooklyn in 1947-48.

Batting: Clint Courtney, Browns, rookie catcher homered with one on to account for all St. Louis runs in the Browns' 2-1 victory over Cleveland in the abbreviated second game called after five innings because of rain. The Indians took the opener, 9-3.

Pitching: Ray Scarborough, Yankees, veteran righthander, cast adrift by Boston a week ago, turned on his former teammates with a three-hitter as the Yankees defeated the Red Sox, 5-1, in the first night game ever played on Labor Day.

Scarborough Pitches Yanks To 5-1 Triumph Over Former Red Sox Pards

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Jupiter Pluvius may have a hand in deciding the American League pennant this year. Jupiter and Ray Scarborough, the refugee from Boston Red Sox combined to increase the New York margin to 2½ games over Cleveland last night. Scarborough, purchase last week from the Red Sox, handcuffed his former mates with three hits, pitching the New Yorkers to a 5-1 triumph. Mr. J. P., otherwise known as Old Man Rain, helped St. Louis Browns defeat Cleveland, 2-1, in the second game of the doubleheader after the Indians had won the opener, 9-3.

After halting the nightcap for an hour and 12 minutes in the bottom half of the fifth inning with the Brownies ahead 2-1, on rookie Clint Courtney's homer with one aboard, the rain finally let up.

FAILED TO SCORE

St. Louis failed to score in the fifth and the Indians rallied for three runs in the top half of the sixth to take a 4-2 lead. As the Browns prepared to bat in their half of the sixth, another rain storm broke and this time there was no let-up. The three runs were wiped out and the score reverted back to the fifth inning with St. Louis winning 2-1.

Rain washed out Brooklyn's scheduled twin bill in Philadelphia, but the Dodgers retained their nine-game lead in the National League as the second-place New York Giants divided a doubleheader in Boston. The Braves came back to win the second game 5-1, after the Giants had captured the opener 3-1.

YANKS PLAY AT NIGHT

Rain washed out the scheduled twin bill between Detroit Tigers and the White Sox in Chicago, and forced the Yankees and Red Sox to call off their two afternoon games in New York.

The Yankees, however, managed to salvage something by playing one of the games in the evening to mark the first time a Labor Day game was played at night. But for a first-inning home run by Billy Goodman, Scarborough would have had a shutout.

Splits marked all other doubleheaders. Philadelphia's fourth-place Athletes won a 10-inning, 9-5 opener from Washington, but the Senators came back to take the nightcap 4-2.

Cincinnati won the second game 3-2 after St. Louis Cardinals had walked off with a 6-0 opening win. Chicago Cubs thrashed Pittsburgh 6-0, but the Pirates won the second game, 5-4.

18 FOR WYNN

Early Wynn registered his 18th triumph as the Indians backed him with a 14-hit attack against loser Gene Bearden and Tommy Byrne. Satchell Paige went the curtailed distance to register his 10th victory against nine defeats in the nightcap.

Right-hander Ernie Johnson pitched a seven-hitter for the Braves, who knocked out Giants' starter Larry Jansen in the first inning of the nightcap. The Giants took the opener on Max Lanier's four-hit hurling.

Saturday night Harold Brown, obscure righthander for the White Sox, jolted Cleveland for an 11-6 triumph. The Yankees downed Washington 6-4. St. Louis shaded Detroit 2-1 while Boston and Philadelphia were rained out with the Sox ahead 6-0.

4-3 VICTORY

Sal Maglie pitched the Giants to a 4-3 win over Brooklyn Dodgers in the National. St. Louis drubbed Pittsburgh 12-2, Chicago beat Cincinnati 5-3, and Philadelphia captured a twi-nighter from Boston 4-2 and 8-6.

Sunday Eddie Lopat pitched the Yankees to a three-hit, 6-1 triumph over Washington. Cleveland beat Chicago 6-3, Boston and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader, the Sox winning the opener 11-1, and the Athletics the nightcap 2-0.

In the National League, Brooklyn mauled the Giants 9-1, Pittsburgh downed St. Louis 4-2, Philadelphia and Boston split a doubleheader, the Braves winning the first 1-0 and the Phils the second 4-0. Chicago and Cincinnati also split a twin-bill, the Cubs taking the first 4-2 and the Reds the second 6-5.

Millbrook Woman, 60, Dies Runs Into Truck On Bicycle

MILLBROOK (ENS). — Miss Stella Pethick, 60, Millbrook, died in hospital at 8.15 p.m. Saturday about five hours after she had crashed into the side of a loaded dump truck on her bicycle in front of the town hall on the main street.

Eyewitnesses said Miss Pethick's attention seemed to be drawn to a car driven by Linton Bristow, Millbrook, which had run out of gas on the main street and Bristow and others were filling.

The truck, loaded with gravel, was coming toward her going west. Spectators were about to shout to her to warn her of the truck when she appeared to see it and went past the cab, but apparently collided with the side of the truck and was thrown to the ground. The truck was driven by Edison Boyce, R.R. 2, Stouffville. He didn't stop until someone called out to him. He apparently didn't realize there had been an accident. Coroner H. G. Carleton said today there would be an inquest. Provincial police constables Victor Piper and Stan Judson investigated.

Miss Pethick had severe concussion and many other injuries. An ambulance rushed her to the Civic Hospital in Peterborough where she was operated on, but she did not recover.

Until two years ago, Miss Pethick had operated a small grocery store and then sold out. Lately she had been caring for two elderly women in her home. She rode about on her bicycle constantly.

She was born on a farm on the Zion line of Cavan township, daughter of Martin Pethick and the former Emiline Meadows, both deceased. As a small girl she moved to Millbrook with her family and lived there ever since.

She was a member of St. Andrew's United Church and sang in its choir at one time, and was a member of the W.M.S.

One sister, Lila, died 12 years ago. Only cousins survive, including Cecil and Harold Hubbeard and Wesley Brown of Port Hope.

The funeral service will be today at 2 p.m. at the G. T. MacPherson funeral home; the Rev. A. M. Butler of St. Andrew's officiating. Burial will be in Zion cemetery.

Migration Problem For Many Britons

By ROBERT F.S. JONES

LONDON (AP)—To migrate or not to migrate is the question facing thousands of Britons who see a better future gleaming for them on the distant horizons of the Commonwealth, but who are reluctant to uproot themselves from home ties.

So far about 750,000 have migrated since the war.

The question is also being faced on a much higher level—by government, industrialists, and military leaders.

On one side is an unofficial body known as the Migration Council. Its motto could be "Migrate—or Perish" and its avowed aim is to see 10,000,000 lopped off Britain's teeming population of 50,000,000 within the next decade.

On the other side stands the British government, agreeing to migration only as a principle, not as a large-scale organized movement.

In the middle stand the underpopulated, under-developed but potentially rich countries of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the West African cluster of colonies.

WAR DANGER

So far, Canada and Australia have taken most of the Commonwealth migrants since the war's end.

Canada, has a population of just above 14,000,000. Since 1946 she has taken nearly 450,000 immigrants—half of them British, the other half from Europe.

Australia, with a population of only 7,500,000, aims to boost this to 20,000,000 by the end of the century. So far, she has taken just over 600,000 immigrants—again, half of them British—since 1946.

The migration council, born two years ago, has as one of its major objectives to make migration become a high priority issue in the Commonwealth.

The arguments the council uses are economic and strategic. It paints a picture of an unevenly balanced Commonwealth, with most of its industry and population huddled into one corner—the British Isles—while the rest is pathetically under-developed

HIGHLY VULNERABLE

In time of war Britain presents a highly vulnerable and overcrowded target, says the council. In a third world war an atomic assault on Britain ports could rapidly lead to mass starvation of people and factories—and where would the western allies be then?

"Individual migration as at present practiced," says a council manifesto, "is not only insufficient, but is uneconomic since it tends to skim the cream of Britain's population."

Families, and larger economic groups each centered on a factory should be urged to migrate to keep up the flow of British stock to the Commonwealth.

Official government attitude is sympathetic towards migration—but only as a spontaneous, individual and relatively small flow, not liable to denude Britain of workers it badly needs in export trade.

In 1932 an official committee appointed to investigate migration came to the conclusion that large-scale emigration would be economically harmful to Britain as a long-term policy because of the falling birth-rate and changing industrial conditions.

Another body—the economics committee of the royal commission on population—came to a similar conclusion a year ago.

In fact, the committee added, Britain could not supply more than a third of the 226,000 immigrants the Commonwealth wanted each year.

Egypt Can Now Lead Way To Peace In Middle East

OTTAWA (CP).—Yosef Neva, Israel Consul-General of Canada, said Sunday recent revelopments in Egypt could lead to peace in the whole Middle East.

"In Egypt corrupt royalty has been discarded and power has moved to a group of army officers who profess to instigate long overdue reforms in the social character of this greatest of Arab peoples," said Mr. Nevo.

He addressed the third national convention of the Canadian Association for Labor Israel. The convention opened Saturday and concluded Monday.

Called every four years, the convention will plan for the 1952-53 Israel Histadrut campaign, conducted by the C.A.L.I. Funds raised are used to help build up Israel and to provide medical supplies for newcomers to the Jewish state.

A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said Histadrut's influence has produced a transformation in the character of Israel; it was largely to Histadrut's credit that Palestine, and later Israel, became more than "dumping ground and a haven for refugees."

Mr. Mosher added:

Thanks to the work of Histadrut, the citizens of Israel are not merely former German Jews, Romanian Jews or Yemenite Jews. They are Israeli citizens in their own land.

"What is significant about this to a labor leader in Canada is that it has been done by an organization of ordinary working men and women through their idealism, their common sense and plain hard work and perseverance. It is an example to organized labor in Canada and other countries of what workers can do for themselves and their community if they have a mind to do it."

Mr. Nevo said Egypt has the power to provide leadership for the Arab people and may lead the Arab governments to negotiate and sign an armistice with Israel.

He added:

"The Government of Israel is ready to forget the unprovoked attacks of Egypt in 1948 and trusts that the initial reaction to its offer of peace will not exclude further concrete steps.

"It is a declared and urgent aim of the western powers to see peace and stability achieved in the Middle East. In the application of these aims, these powers, especially the United States and Great Britain, may well grasp the opportunity afforded by the development in Egypt to assist through constructive statesmanship in achieving peace between Israel and Egypt and subsequently in the whole troubled region of the Middle East.

"Peace in the Middle East would spell not only uninterrupted progress for the State of Israel, but also a chance for advance in economic and national policies for curity for that most sensitive area the Arab countries and more se- of world conflict."

General Election In '53 Hints Premier

WINNIPEG (CP).—A hint that a Canadian general election may be held in the fall of 1953 was given Saturday by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

In an interview during a brief stopover here en route to British Columbia, the Prime Minister was asked about the election date.

He said one must be held within two years but it is not usual for governments to wait the full period.

Asked if this meant an election next summer, the Prime Minister outlined events scheduled in the next year and smiled "We'll be too busy for the next 10 to 12 months."

Mr. St. Laurent said his journey to the west coast has no connection with any decision about elections.

Elderly Couple Hurt In Head-On Crash

MOUNT FOREST, Ont. (CP)—An elderly couple was seriously injured when their car collided head-on with another auto near here yesterday.

Fred Graham, 72, and his wife, Lavinia, 71, of Conn, 10 miles east of here, were unconscious when admitted to hospital.

Police said the second car was driven by Cyril Tortz, 19, of Elmira. He suffered a hand injury.

Save Paratrooper

TORONTO (CP)—A paratrooper taking part in a mass parachute jump along the Canadian National Exhibition waterfront nearly drowned yesterday when his self-inflating lifebelt failed to work. L.Bdr. J. E. Brow of Glenboro, Man., a non-swimmer, was picked up by a lifeboat and given artificial respiration. He fully recovered within an hour.

Britain Puts Brakes On Jets At Air Show

FARNBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—Britain put the brakes on her supersonic jet fighters at her big air show here yesterday and set a "modest" speed limit of 700 miles an hour.

The reason given out was that local inhabitants objected to the thunderclap caused by planes when they break through the sound barrier—760 miles an hour.

This explosion of sound which precedes the eerie silence of the supersonic world gives a clue to the speed potentialities of the fast-flying planes.

COUNTY TO HELP

Hasting county council Friday expressed willingness to contribute $80,000 of the cost of a new wing to Belleville General Hospital. Total cost is approximately $1,000,000, but federal and provincial grants will reduce that amount to between $750,000 and $800,000.

City firemen used a hand pump to put out a fire in a mattress in the vacant house on the southeast corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie Sts. Saturday about 11.30 p.m. The house is filled with old furniture, but no one lives there. Firemen believe vagrants probably started the fire.

Smith Residents To Protest City Annexation

There'll be a hot time in Smith-township fire hall tonight over the question of annexation by the city of a large block of the township.

That is the word coming from some of the suburban ratepayers since opposition to the city's encroachment has been stirred up in the last month by some of the more active and aggressive residents of that fringe.

From all municipal accounts annexation preliminaries were going along smoothly and in the spirit that it was inevitable before the city's continued expansion into its rural adjuncts.

Perhaps the kindling of friction and heat followed an enquiry by R. S. Meiklejohn at the City Hall regarding his prospective assessment and taxes in the event of his property north of the city, off the Lakefield Road, being absorbed by the city. Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis made a tentative spot assessment which indicated that on the city basis of farm land, of which some considerable acreage remains, the Meikeljohn assessment would be boosted to $14,000.

And his tax payment to the city would be four or five times the present township levy. That is the information which has been circulating recently, as reported to The Examiner.

It also transpires that the suburban community is accusing the township council of "selling them down the river." That rumor bounces off every person who knows Reeve Gordon Fitzgerald and his councillors.

The mildest comment is to the effect that the council has been too acquiescent in its conversations with the city council from the time the two annexations were proposed. One is for the Queen Elizabeth subdivision, nearer the city, and the other is for the more truly rural section which has been purchased for the Land Assembly housing scheme in which the partners are: the federal and provincial governments and the city.

That land reaches out the Chemong Road as far as, and including, the Roy Sanderson farm; and it extends across country to the Otonabee river. By contrast the Meiklejohn farm is fairly close to the city border.

BITING TOO MUCH

Substance of the opposition that has flared up within the last few weeks is mainly that the city is biting off too big a mouthful, that it will be five or 10 years before residential expansion will be moving over the approximate 1,000 acres in the eventual city acquisition.

Another plank of protest points across the canal and asks the question why the city doesn't fill up that property before raiding Smith. Beyond the canal and river there is a wide expanse of farm property, north of Highway 7 and easterly almost to the Mark Burnham farm.

Use Sprayer Buckets Fight Flames

Passing Tourists Awaken Family, Keene Home On Fire

KEENE (Staff).—The whole village of Keene turned out with buckets and weed sprayer early Sunday morning to try to save the home of Jack Barrie, but they were able to save only the furniture. The two-storey frame house owned by Robert Keitel, Otonabee township, and rented by Barrie burned to the ground.

Under the orders of acting mayor Dr. Herbert N. Young one truck with an officer and three men to operate it, went to the village to prevent the flames from spreading to neighboring houses.

Mr. Barrie said he, his wife, and 14-year-old daughter, were sound asleep upstairs when some American tourists passing in a car about 4.15 a.m. Sunday saw flames shooting out of a large rear shed attached to the house. They roused the household and soon well over 200 people in the village turned out to try to help.

Some formed a bucket brigade to try to put out the flames while others went in and carried out almost all the furniture. The Barries even had their clothes saved, but their daughter lost hers.

A 1951 model car kept in the shed was destroyed by the fire. Mr. Barrie said that although the fire seemed at first to be at the back of the shed, he was unable to get inside to drive out his car, kept in about the centre of the shed.

Mr. Barrie said he had no idea what started the fire. He kept nothing in the rear of the shed that was likely to start a fire and that end of the shed was not wired with electricity.

Otonabee township has no fire department, but the pumper used to spray weeds along township roads was brought out and was used to try to keep the walls of a double house on one side wet to prevent it catching. But two or three times it did catch fire and was put out. The roof of the house on the other side caught fire and had to be extinguished. Mr. Barrie said there were five or six houses in immediate danger of catching fire.

When the Peterborough fire truck arrived about 1,900 feet of hose was rolled out to the Indian River and a pump sucked water from the river and shot it on the neighboring houses to end the danger.

Mr. Barrie praised his neighbors for so quickly coming to his aid and saving his family's belongings. The Barries stayed with friends until they could find accommodation.

The house valued at about $5,000 was partly covered by insurance.

Basis Of Merit Should Rule For Top Rate

An arbitration board has handed down a decision on a grievance that concedes something to both the Western Clock Co. and the union, Local 570, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

They ruled:

(a) That an employee, Stanley Downes, be paid at the premium rate (that is the highest rate) in his job classification.

(b) That the top rate is not reached by automatic progression but on the basis of "merit", at the discretion of management.

The board found that if a man was paid at the average rate and he was downgraded to another job classification he should get the top rate in the lower classification. This however only applies if he is doing the same job.

At the same time they found that the top rate must be set by management and should be made on the basis of merit. The union claimed the top rate for any given job should be reached automatically.

19 Safety Cones In Use In City

Nineteen of the 31 safety traffic cones purchased by the Peterborough Automobile Club for city schools were in use today for the opening day of school.

Constable Donald Mackay, in charge of school safety patrols, reported that the cones were proving an excellent traffic control device.

The remainder of the cones will be used as they are needed.

Safety patrols at the three schools, where they are organized, were also on duty today. Constable Mackay hopes to have patrols organized at the remaining schools in the city by January.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

Money collected by the Customs office in customs duties and excise for August, 1952, were $576,475.46, considerably lower than in the same month last year when $693,545.20 was collected.

LABOR DAY DOINGS, despite the muggy weather, made fun for hundreds of district people. The annual fowl supper at St. Joseph's Church, Douro—a Labor Day event held for more than half a century—attracted great numbers of people who ate their way through 40 large turkeys; Chef Cam Allison (upper photo) and two parishioner-waitresses are shown at the carving table. The annual regatta at Curve Lake Indian Reservation, centre photo, attracted water enthusiasts from all over the Kawarthas; power boating was the main feature. Men's amateur single canoe race was won by 70-year-old Dow Taylor (lower photo) against a large field of much younger men.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Ten Harvesters Boost Total To 57 In West

W. H. L. Mellis of national employment service reported today another ten grain harvesters from the district were leaving on the late afternoon C.P.R. train on their way to Winnipeg and the wheat country.

This contingent brings to 57 the number of men despatched from Peterborough to help western farmers take off their record crop.

"We could send another 25 or 30 men by Thursday if we get word that they are wanted," Mr. Mellis said.

Banks Collect Silver Discount

The free and easy policy regarding the discount of United States' silver on Canadian banks is over. Banks are levying an extra two per cent discount on rolled silver over the amount charged for the changing of bills.

Because of this policy—in effect previously but confirmed today—merchants and shopkeepers will probably become increasingly chary about accepting United States' silver at par.

"The free and easy policy is over," said a Peterborough bank manager today. "The trouble is that the country is becoming plugged with American tender and the banks are being caught with it."

This same manager explained that the extra two per cent doesn't actually pay the extra cost of handling and shipping the silver.

He also passed along a tip: a debt paid in this country in United States' money is not deemed legally paid because it is not in legal Canadian tender.

A prediction made by one businessman: there will be a big rush to unload United States' silver in small-change transactions.

TO BAR ASSOCIATION

Mr. T. J. Carley, Q.C., left at the weekend for Vancouver, B.C., to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association. Its sessions continue until next Saturday. One of the events of the week will be the formal opening by Prime Minister St. Laurent of the new law building of the University of British Columbia. Mrs. Carley is accompanying her husband.

Car Plunges Into Ouse 2 Men Escape

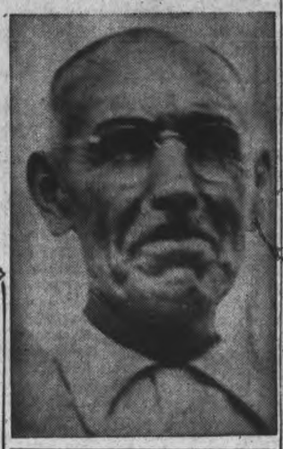
A car hurtled from Highway 7 into the Ouse River east of Peterborough about 1:15 Monday morning while a passenger in the back seat pounded the driver on the back trying to wake him up.

Neither of the two Marmora men in the car were seriously injured but about $150 damage was done to the front of the 1939 model car.

The men, who were travelling home to Marmora from Niagara Falls, said they hadn't had any sleep for two days. John C. McKenzie told provincial constable Tom Armitage that they had had a flat tire near Fraserville and had fixed it. McKenzie had been driving up to that point and then he turned the wheel over to Kenneth Wright.

REMEMBERED NOTHING

Wright said he remembered starting off and changing the car into high gear. The next thing he knew water was coming into the car about 25 miles farther on. He had to drive through the southend of Peterborough but he remembered nothing of it.



McKenzie, who was stretched out on the back seat to sleep. He awoke to see the car edging off the road. He pounded Wright on the back to try to awaken him, but without success.

The car crossed the highway, veered slightly off the road about 99 feet from the bridge and continued along the shoulder, getting nearer and nearer the edge of the ditch. It just missed the abutment on the [illegible] of the bridge and then plunged down a 20-foot embankment through a clump of small trees and into the shallow, swampy Ouse river.

McKenzie was panic-stricken because he thought they had dropped into the deep Crowe river. Wright had been knocked unconscious and McKenzie tried to get him out of the car before the water engulfed them.

But he soon discovered the river was shallow and when Wright came to in a minute, they waded ashore.

Both men had bruises and lacerations, but were not seriously hurt and were not taken to hospital.

Family Court Separate Unit

The Peterborough Children's Aid Society and Family Court are now operating as separate organizations.

A joint committee of the Children's Aid Society and Family Court committee met during the summer to draw up details of the separation.

Previously the probationary services for the Family Court were carried out by the Children's Aid Society staff.

J. R. Twigg, who was formerly a member of the society's staff, has been appointed probationary officer and will carry out these services in a new office located in the city hall.

The separation was believed necessary because of the increase in the volume of work of both the society and the Family Court. The members of the committees of the two organizations felt that the services might be improved by maintaining separate staffs and office facilities.

Unity Assures Security Union Men Are Told At U.E. Labor Day Festival

Constant Vigilance Must Be Kept C. S. Jackson Warns Rally As 6,000 Gather For Annual Outing

An urgent plea for unity in the two Peterborough U.E. locals was made Monday afternoon by C. S. Jackson, president of District Five United Electrical Workers of America. Mr. Jackson was the guest speaker at the U.E. Labor Day Festival held at Riverside Park. Approximately 6,000 union members and their families attended the afternoon and evening festival. "Only through unity in the labor movement can the working man be assured of security," Mr. Jackson said. "Employers in large industries in Peterborough and all through Canada are bringing pressure to bear to persuade the working man to be contented with less take-home pay and consequently increase the profits for their corporations.

"It is only unity with its strength in bargaining power, which cannot be denied by the employer, that will give the working man what he deserves—adequate take-home pay to secure the full benefits of the civilization to which he has been such an important contributor."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The district president gave a summary of what had been accomplished by the labor movement in Canada since the first union was organized in Toronto in 1832.

The first strike was called in 1850 by a group of printers in Toronto for a 13-hour day.

"The labor movement has made tremendous advancement since its beginning in this country," the speaker said. "An advancement in the reduction of hours and increase of take-home pay for the working man that has been well deserved."

The speaker explained that this advancement was justified because of the major contribution of the working people that had made Canada the great industrial nation it is today. Because he contributed so much, the working man should participate in the benefits.

All through his address Mr. Jackson repeatedly warned that constant vigilance must be kept if there is to be continued success in the fight for the betterment of the working man.

DISRUPTION

He said that there were continued attempts by employers to bring disruption and disunity to the ranks of labor. This was particularly true in Peterborough.

"Labor Day is a day for every working man to take stock of what has happened in the past year and make plans for the coming year," Mr. Jackson concluded. "We are better equipped this year than ever before to face the struggle. Let us stand firm in 1953, in wages, conditions and contracts so that the U.E. will be kept out in front in the labor movement in Canada."

Mr. Jackson was introduced by George Wallace, president of U.E. Local 524.

The district president's address was the highlight of the afternoon and evening festival which included sports and carnival booths.

The afternoon was mainly devoted to the children. The program included races, free ice cream, chocolate milk, candy sticks and balloons.

Approximately 2,500 balloons, 800 ice cream cones and 96 gallons of chocolate milk were given to the children free of charge. These gifts were made possible by the generous contributions of local retail establishments and firms in the city.

BALL GAME

The main event of the evening was a ball game between a Toronto All-Star Negro team and an All-Star U.E. team. Carnival booths were also open in the evening.

Leonard Velleman was convener of the festival committee which included Mr. Wallace, president of U.E. Local 524; and John Whalen, president of Local 527.

The following men were in charge of the sports: Art Hunter, Tom Walton, Howie Dalton, Jack Chamberlain, Jack White.

The race results were as follows:

Girls and boys under five—1, Barbara Varga and Jimmie Rankin; girls, six and seven—1, Marie Gardiner; 2, Carol Spinks; 3, Mary Powers. Fears Tension In Middle East May Spark War

OTTAWA (CP)—David Croll, Liberal member of parliament for Toronto Spadina, said yesterday a third world war could easily have its origin in the tensions and fears which now grip the Middle East.

In a speech to the closing session of the third national convention of the Canadian Association of Labor Israel, he urged more support for the state of Israel and said the western powers should stop "propping up" feudal reactionary regimes that are bound to fall eventually.

Mr. Croll said that while Canada lost no honor in supporting Israel emergence, Britain won no worthwhile Arab friendship by "its anti-Israel attitude."

SEEK $2,000,000

A two-year goal of $1,200,000 in donations for Israel's Histadrut campaign was approved at the meeting.

The Histadrut organization is devoted to the economic development of Israel and the provision of medical services to newcomers to the Jewish state.

Dr. Samuel B. Hurwich of Toronto was re-elected national chairman.

Police Probe Four Crashes

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—Approximately $745 damage was the result of four accidents in the Campbellford district during the holiday weekend.

NO ONE WAS INJURED

A blowout in the right front tire caused the car driven by William Partridge, 26, 41 Bridge St., Campbellford to go out of control Saturday. Partridge was travelling along the Trent Drive when the accident occurred. The car crashed through the wooden bridge near No. 9 Power House. Damage to the front of the car amounted to $125 and to the fence $20.

BLADE STRUCK CAR

The blade of a road grader damaged the right fender of the car owned by Gerald Joseph O'Connor of Rochester, New York, Saturday.

O'Connor was driving east out of Hastings on the township road and attempted to pass a grader working on the road. George Vansiclen, operator of the grader, didn't see the car and swung the blade of the grader around into the right fender of the car.

Philip Harold Bieth, 35, of Front St., Campbellford was travelling east from Hastings on the River Road Saturday when he struck some loose gravel. The car dropped off into the ditch and when he tried to regain control, the car turned over on its top in the ditch.

Damage to the side and top of the car was estimated at $400.

A new model car driven by Gene M. McCauley, 23, of Ottawa skidded off the pavement and crashed into a telephone pole early Monday morning.

McCauley is believed to have fallen asleep while driving west on Highway 7. After hitting the pole at the north side of the road, the car rolled over on its side. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

All four accidents were investigated by Provincial Constable Archie Eady.

Drag Rideau Canal

OTTAWA (CP)—Police yesterday dragged the Rideau Canal in downtown Ottawa following the finding of a man's clothes in a cardboard box hidden beside the canal. The name of R. Marshall was found in the clothing and police said a man by that name stayed at a mission here last Friday night.

Paymaster Vanishes

MADRID (AP)—Spanish police said yesterday the chief paymaster of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's war ministry is missing with at least 4,000,000 pesetas (about $360,000). They issued an international alarm for his arrest. The missing man is Capt. Julian Rodrigues Pastrana.

Coal Production Resumes In US

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The end of another United Mine Workers' memorial holiday cleared the way today for resumed production in United States coal fields.

The 10-day memorial period, called by U. M. W. President John L. Lewis to honor victims of mine disasters, ended at midnight after keeping the union's 475,000 miners out of the pits since Aug. 23.

Most of the coal producers predicted operations will be back in full production by late afternoon.

The holiday cut the U.S. coal pile down about 10,000,000 tons. And it came at a time when Lewis is bargaining with both the soft and hard (anthracite) coal operators for new contracts.

The mine workers chief served notice several weeks ago that contracts will expire Sept. 30. Lewis paved the way for a strike by notifying the federal government that a dispute exists in the coal talks. He has not spelled out his demands but most sources expect him to ask for a substantial pay boost and possibly an increase in royalties for the U. M. W. pension and welfare fund. Miners in the soft-coal pits now average about $16.35 a day. Anthracite miners get slightly more.

Make New Ears From Knees Surgeons Told

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP)—New ears made from knees were described today to the International College of Surgeons.

The ear is fashioned around a piece of cartilage shaped like a half-moon taken from a joint in the knee. It supplies a natural half-moon shape for the ear.

The knee cartilage is obtained from knees lost through amputations, or taken during surgery to fix "trick" knees.

QUICK-FROZEN

The cartilage is quick-frozen and kept in a bone bank until the plastic surgeon needs it to build a new ear to replace one lost by accident, or to give ears to children born without them.

Skin is grafted around the cartilage to form the artificial ear.

The knee cartilage supplies a soft, flexible, normal-feeling ear, said Dr. Leslie H. Backus, University of Buffalo medical school.

New ears also can be made from rib cartilage, or from things such as ivory, rubber, or plastics. They don't affect hearing, which depends upon the inner ear.

Germany Gets Control of Visas

BONN (Reuters)—An Interior ministry official said Monday the allied blacklist—12,000 persons who should be refused travel permits or visas—lost its effectiveness when West Germany took over control of its frontier.

He said, however, that West Germany would follow the list pretty well, except that "in certain cases, we might think allied requests went too far."

The blacklist was handed over to the Bonn Government Monday, following cession to most of the control over travel in the country the allies have held since the Second World War.

The spokesman said West Germany would continue the strict ban on movement of persons high on the blacklist, contents of which has never been revealed.

Otto Strasser, for instance, one-time friend of Adolph Hitler now living in Paradise, N.S., and trying to return here to form a new political party, would be treated as an undesirable foreigner and be refused an entry visa.

The allies still have control over entry and departure of allied nationals and persons prejudicial to the security of allied forces.

Sports, Exhibitions Attract Holidayers Across Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadians celebrated Labor Day week-end, the last holiday of the summer, in generally fine weather with sports and exhibitions among main attractions.

Large crowds of holidayers were reported at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver and the Fredericton Exhibition at Fredericton, N.B., as well as at labor parades, regattas, horse racing, baseball, football, boxing and other events.

Festivities were marred by the violent death of 70 persons across Canada. Four others were reported missing. There were 37 traffic deaths, 19 drownings and 14 deaths from other causes.

Last year, the total was 53 deaths of which 31 were traffic and 14 drowning.

272,000 AT C.N.E.

Some 272,000 flocked to the C.N.E. where a five-mile procession of 6,000 members of the A.F.L. and C.C.L. paraded with bands and heard speeches by union leaders. In Hull, Catholic Labor Syndicates held a week-end festival of games and field events, capped by pontifical high mass solemnized by Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa. Labor Minister Gregg, who opened the Fredericton Exhibition, sent out his annual message, while a parade for miners and steelworkers in Sydney climaxed celebrations in Nova Scotia.

Weather ranged from frost in parts of Alberta to cold and wet in Winnipeg where the 46th annual Highland Games were held. Vancouver had perfect weather, but most of Ontario had showers. Rivers, Man., had six inches of rain Saturday and North Bay was lashed with heavy rains and winds of hurricane force.

Delegates Criticize Power Of Suburban Road Groups

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's Nationalists are considering the proclamation of a republic or the packing of the senate as alternate means of overcoming constitutional obstacles to their race segregation policies.

Prominent Nationalist circles said there appears to be nothing in the present constitution, the 42-year-old Africa Act of Britain's parliament, to prevent Malan from packing the senate with additional members of his party.

By packing the senate the Nationalists would be able to pass controversial measures by a two-thirds majority. Opposition leaders were doubtful whether such a move could be restrained by the courts.

The present senate of 44 is evenly divided between Nationalists and the opposition, with eight nominated by the governor-general.

The crux of South Africa's constitutional crisis is the colored voters act by which the Nationalists, on a bare majority in parliament, removed about 50,000 voters of mixed blood from the white voters' list.

The appeals court, South Africa's highest tribunal, last spring threw out the law as unconstitutional. It ruled colored voters' rights were protected by an "entrenched" clause in the constitution that required a two-thirds majority in parliament to change their status.

Say Malan May Proclaim South Africa Republic

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Practical results such as getting the disputing parties together can be achieved by applying moral re-armament principles to labor-management policy, M.R.A. delegates were told here in Labor Day week-end sessions.

Representatives of management and of A.F.L. and C.I.O. unions told of accomplishments in the airlines and electric power industries of the United States and Canada.

M.R.A. principles as applied to labor problems were described to the 400 delegates from 15 countries as including:

1. Complete honesty in order to establish trust between sides.
2. Starting with one's own side before demanding action from the other.
3. Putting the welfare of people before every other consideration.
4. Making decisions based on what is right as measured by moral standards.

Speakers included John Dibbles, manager of personnel for the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

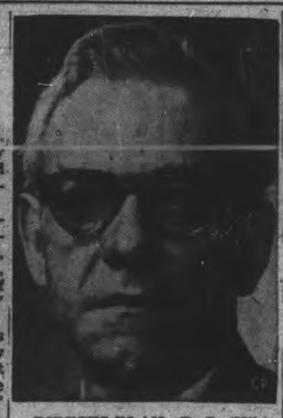
MANILA (AP)—The foreign office yesterday said the Philippines and Cuba will sign a friendship treaty in Washington Tuesday.

Says Moral Rearmament Can Solve Labor Rows

BIGWIN INN, Ont. (CP)—The authority of suburban roads commissions was criticized yesterday by urban delegates to the Ontario Municipal Association who claimed decisions regarding adoption of a county road as a suburban road were generally weighted in favor of rural sections.



Urban representatives, during a discussion to have the decisions of commissions subject to appeal to a county judge, implied Highways Minister Doucett favored rural areas.

Reg Cooper, London city clerk, said disputes are referred to the minister of highways who represents Lanark riding which is rural.

During another meeting of the convention, which attracted a registration of nearly 500 delegates, Deputy Municipal Affairs Minister William Orr's statement that he doubted there had been any increase in municipal taxes to the average home owner was greeted with skepticism.

"I don't believe it," said Reeve Ann Shipley of Teck township, president of the O.M.A.

Mr. Orr based his remark on the five-fold increase in government subsidies compared with a two-fold increase in municipal taxes.

Mr. Cavell, 58, came to Canada 18 years ago after a career as an Indian cavalryman, South African sheep herder and journalist.

Expect Canal Record

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—Marine bureau officials said Saturday they expect August tonnage figures to set a record for ships passing through the Sault canal. The current record of 17,613,000 tons was set in August, 1948. They said the addition of larger and faster ships will boost the tonnage to an estimated 18,000,000 tons.

Photograph Of Rescued Man Lands Him In Jail For Forgery

TOBONTO (CP)—A newspaper photograph of a Toronto man being rescued from the Niagara River Saturday landed him in jail here yesterday on a charge of forgery.

Thomas Peacock, 57, who said he fell into the river while trying to wash his face, was recognized by Detective John Mullen as a man wanted by Toronto police. After getting in touch with police in Niagara Falls, N. Y., where Peacock was being held on a public nuisance charge, Detectives Mullen and John Ross arrested him on two charges of forgery. He is accused of forging two cheques in July under the name of a Toronto businessman.

Peacock, explaining why he did not grasp a life line thrown to him many times while he clung to a rock in the river, said he thought the police were shooting at him. The police were using a gun to shoot out the line.

"It was a relief to get in and see people nearby—even to see the police," he said.

Peacock's thrilling rescue climaxed a strange day for a North Tonawanda citizen, Jesse Kunes. Earlier in the day he saw a man wade into the upper rapids and shoot himself with a rifle. His body was swept over the American Falls. Fifteen minutes later he pulled a man from a railing at Luna Island. All three incidents were reported to police by Kunes.

Thousands of sightseers witnessed Peacock's plight and eventual rescue. Kunes was on Goat Island when he first spotted him clinging to the rock, about 80 feet from shore.

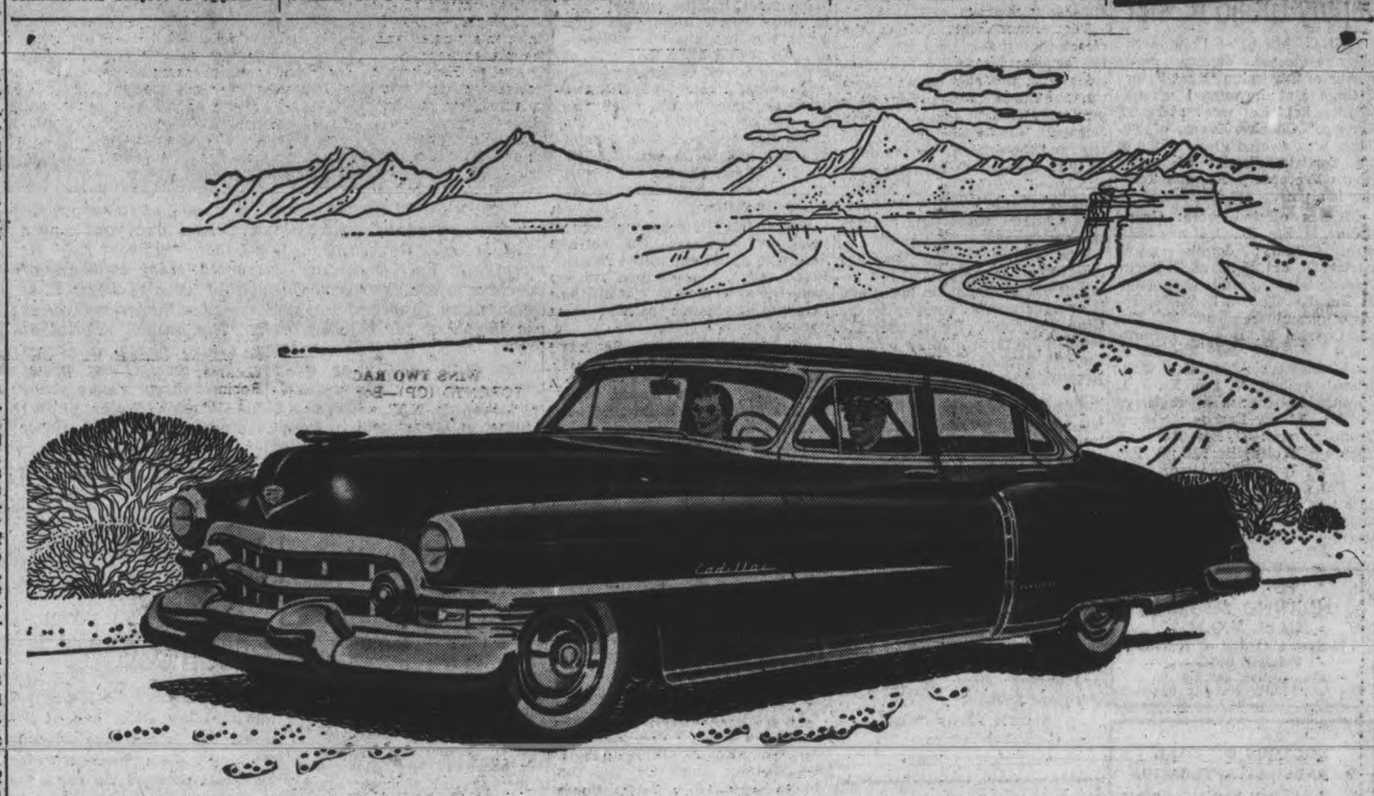
More than 40 city police and firemen, New York State reservation police and coast guardsmen teamed up in the rescue attempts.

The coast guardsmen shot lines to him repeatedly but Peacock refused to release his grip on the slippery rock. The rescuers tried to float a light boat to the rock or below it. But those on shore who held the boat's lines were unable to control it.

MADE 200 CASTS

Patrolman Dominic Conti, of the reservation police, made about 200 unsuccessful casts toward Peacock with a weighted line. Finally he grabbed a light line. A half-inch rope was attached to the line. Police on shore shouted to Peacock to wind the rope around his body. They tried to get a still heavier line to the Toronto man.

Capt. John Dietz of the city police, slipped into the water while trying to get a two-inch-thick line to Peacock. As he fell, he grabbed the lighter line. The sudden tug yanked Peacock from the rock.



Both men were at the mercy of the waters until the lines were pulled taut.

Dietz was uninjured but Peacock had to be revived with oxygen. He was treated at St. Mary's Hospital for cuts and bruises before being released to the police.

For Normal Driving—It Loafs!

In a Golden Anniversary Cadillac, fifty miles an hour is just a leisurely saunter. As you relax behind the wheel, you can leave highway dramatics to the drivers of other, lesser cars. Because you know—and they know—that you don't have to prove anything. Under every conceivable driving condition, in any company whatever, your Cadillac is in a class beyond compare.

Down under its hood is the most powerful engine ever used in a standard passenger car. There's more power there than you'll ever need—except for emergency.

But don't think that power doesn't work for you—even when you're not unleashing it to its full limit.

It works for your safety . . . because a great reserve of power is a wonderful safeguard in most of the driving emergencies that present themselves.

It works for your comfort . . . because no car rides so well or handles so superbly, as when it "coasts along", with a great percentage of its power still under the accelerator.

And it works for your peace of mind . . . for it is unbelievably comforting to know that you have tremendous acceleration, should the necessity for it arise.

Of course, power has to be harnessed and handled in order to be your friend and servant. So the Golden Anniversary Cadillac has superb new brakes—larger and more efficient—and designed and built to double the span of their endurance.

And those who want the ultimate in easy handling may order at extra cost Cadillac's new power steering that eliminates as much as 75% of normal steering effort.

It would take a volume to tell you all the things that have been done to make this a "car among cars." For this, as you probably know, is a "year among years" in Cadillac's wonderful history—its Golden Anniversary.

But it will take but a mile or a minute for you to sense what it means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction.

It means something wonderful . . . too wonderful, in fact, to miss!

Better come in today—for a look—and a ride—and a revelation.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Prime Minister Aly Maher has told army officers that the United States promised sizable point-four aid for the industrialization of the country and reclamation of the desert, Cairo newspapers reported today.

Toronto Divides Twin Bill With Buffalo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With less than a week to go on the regular International League schedule, a bitter battle still rages for fourth place, the last spot in the Shaughnessy Cup playoffs.

Fourth-place Toronto and Buffalo's Bisons, 3½ games back in fifth, split a doubleheader yesterday. The Bisons copped the first game, 5-4, and the Leafs the abbreviated nightcap, 5-2.

Buffalo scored the deciding run in the first contest when Bill Tuttle tripled in the fourth inning and scooted home on a fly ball. Babe Birrer gained his eighth victory and Johnny Hetki suffered his seventh setback.

In the second game, the Leafs went ahead 1-0 in the third and added two more runs in both the fourth and fifth as Wilmer (The Great) Fields slashed a double and single to drive in two runs. Hal Hudson scattered five hits for his 10th triumph.

CHIEFS CLINCH SECOND

Syracuse Chiefs, following Montreal's example, clinched second place by sweeping a doubleheader from the third-place Rochester Red Wings, 7-3 in 14 innings, and 4-3. The Royals sewed up their second straight flag Sunday.

The Chiefs, currently the hottest team in the loop with a nine game winning streak, had Arnie Landeck stagger to his 10th victory in the marathon opener. Landeck gave up 16 hits, walked two and fanned one. Syracuse pounced on Fred Martin, fourth Red Wing hurler, for four runs in the 14th on four hits and a walk to win.

Bobo Holloman yielded nine hits in posting his 15th victory in the afterpiece. The Chiefs won out with two in the eighth on a walk, a sacrifice, Carden Gillenwater's single and Fenton Mole's double.

Rain washed out doubleheaders between Montreal and Ottawa and Baltimore and Springfield.

Sunday the Royals swept a doubleheader from Baltimore, 6-5 and 8-4. Toronto came from behind twice to down Rochester 5-2 and 2-1. Syracuse took Springfield 4-3 and 3-2. Buffalo whipped Ottawa 8-2.

Millbrook Enters Finals With Win

MILLBROOK (ENS) —In a game played before the biggest baseball crowd in twenty-five years in Millbrook the locals grabbed a 3-2 win after seven innings that never had a dull moment. The victory moves Millbrook into the North Durham League finals.

In the first innings Bethany's lone error of the evening, a walk, a fielders' choice and an infield out put Armstrong and Brackenridge across the plate with Millbrook counters. Bethany matched these in the second on markers by Reg. Edmunds and Reynolds.

In Millbrook's half of the second successive hits by Dawson, G. Lord and Armstrong lowered the boom and only one Millbrook player reached first base—Armstrong on a scratchy single in the fifth.

Magill, on the Millbrook mound was also doing a masterful job in nursing along his one run margin and although Bethany got six on base during the remainder of the game they failed to get the equalizer across the plate. Bethany still looked good in defeat for their players and fans were first across the field to congratulate the victors.

Bethany—3 hits, 2 runs, 1 error.
Millbrook—4 hits, 3 runs, 2 errors.

Here and There In Sport

BOUCHEY WINS AMATEUR

VANCOUVER (CP)—Big, brash Larry Bouchey of California Saturday won the Canadian Amateur golf championship with a smashing comeback victory over West Virginian Bill Campbell on the 37th hole.

It was one of the most dramatic finishes in the history of the tournament and a popular win with the gallery of 3,500 on the sun-scorched Capilano course in West Vancouver.

Campbell, U. S. Walker Cup player from Huntington, W. Va., apparently had the match sewn up on the 36th hole when he and the 220-pound Bouchey both took one-over-par fours, leaving Bouchey two down.

But Campbell conceded himself an 18-inch putt on that hole and Bouchey immediately called him. The officials awarded the hole to Bouchey. But he was still one down with two to play. He took the 35th, canning a 15-foot putt for a birdie three to square the match.

They halved the 36th and on the 37th, Bouchey got down in two putts for a five and the match. Campbell took a six.

FERGUS GIRL BEATEN

TORONTO (CP)—Gladys Priestley, 14-year-old Olympic swimmer from Montreal, yesterday won the girl's 100-yard free style race at the Canadian National Exhibition Labor Day championships.

Miss Priestley defeated Joan Campbell of Fergus, Ont., sister of the recent winner of the women's professional swim, by only a small margin. The winner was clocked in one-minute, 3.2 seconds.

The Fergus girls team won the 400-yard club relay in 4:58.4, beating Detroit in the most exciting event of the day.

In the men's 400-yard club relay Woodstock Y.M.C.A. placed third behind Patterson, N.J., and Hamilton Aquatic Club. Winning time was 4:24.4.

RAIN DELAYS TENNIS

WATERLOO (CP) — Finalists were declared yesterday in two events but no championships were settled in the third day of play in the Waterloo Tennis Club's invitation tournament. Rain made it impossible to finish. Championships in the women's singles and doubles will be played next Sunday. Finals in men's singles and doubles will be played Sept. 9.

Old House 'Crazy'

TOKYO — (AP) — "Crazy, but not exactly haunted," is how Fujisaburo Takata describes his new home—a suburban mansion that stood vacant for nearly 40 years, although it was rent-free. The 32-year-old artist told the newspaper Tokyo Shimbun today his alarm clock had rung at 2:40 a.m. daily since he moved into the house last week, although he never sets it for that time. He bought a new clock. It went "crazy" also, he said, and rang without fail at 2:40 a.m. each day. Even a watchmaker couldn't stop it. "I felt a chill in my spine the first three or four days, but I don't mind it now," Takata said resignedly.

Argonauts Whip Tiger-Cats 33-13

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The football season, hardly past the warming up stage, has already provided ample evidence that no team in the West and East is going to make their league race any walkaway.

Calgary Stampeders, who trailed in the Western Union the last two seasons, got off to a great start this year with three straight wins but Edmonton Eskimos took them down a peg last night, coming from behind in the final quarter to hand the Stamps their first defeat, 17-10.

The Eskimos' triumph gave them a split in the two week-end games against the Stamps. Saturday night Calgary won its home opener 14-7 over Edmonton, still without playing coach Frank Filchock because of a pre-season injury.

TWO WINS SURPRISE

The Edmonton victory was as surprising as Toronto Argonauts 33-13 trouncing of Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the eastern Big Four at Hamilton yesterday. The Tiger-Cats, picked as the team to beat in the East, played dismally before a home crowd of 16,000 who were amazed to see a high-powered Argonaut team directed by Quarterback Nobby Wirkowski manhandle the home side.

In other Labor Day action Winnipeg Blue Bombers came from behind to beat Saskatchewan Roughriders 16-8 at Regina and Sarnia Imperials walloped Toronto Beaches 46-0 in the Ontario Rugby Football Union at Sarnia.

The week-end wasn't a total loss for Beaches for on Saturday night in Brantford they whipped that city's new O.R.F.U. entry 17-11. The Windsor-Brantford game scheduled for Monday night in Brantford was postponed because of rain.

CALGARY STILL LEADS

Calgary's split with Edmonton left them still on top of the western league with three wins and one defeat. The Blue Bombers, off to a bad start with a loss and a tie in the first two games after being rated the team to beat in the west, are in second place one point behind.

Their two victories and a tie gives them a two-point edge over Edmonton which has one win and a tie against two losses. Saskatchewan is in last place with only one win in four games.

Argos are tied for first place with the Grey Cup champion Ottawa Rough Riders, who won their Big Four opener 32-28 against Montreal Alouettes last Wednesday night.

Beaches and Sarnia are tied for the top in the O.R.F.U. with one win each.

A holiday Calgary crowd of more than 13,000 saw the Eskimos wipe out a 10-3 lead by the Stampeders in the final quarter. A Claude Arnold-to-Joe Aguirre forward passing combination gave Edmonton two converted touchdowns and Aguirre picked up two more points on kicks.

Calgary scored all its points in the third quarter after Edmonton led 3-0 at the half.

Winnipeg overcame an 8-6 lead to beat the Glenn Dobbs' Saskatchewan team. Gerry Palmer and Mel Embree scored touchdowns for Winnipeg. Bud Korchak booted a field goal and two converts. Jack Jacobs, whose fine passing stood out, kicked a single. Doug Beldern, the Riders' quarterback, scored their only touchdown while Butch Avinger booted two singles and Joe Masnaghette kicked one.

Paul Salata caught a touchdown pass from Stan Heath in Calgary's Saturday night win over Edmonton. Sugarfoot Anderson pounced on a bounding ball behind the Edmonton goal-line after Rollie Miles touched it to score the Stamps' other major score. Miles got the Eskimo's lone touchdown, running 95 yards after taking a kick-off at his own 15.

WIRKOWSKI SHINES

Wirkowski's passing was the big factor in Argo's win over Hamilton. All the Argos' touchdowns were set up or came on passes by the sharp-firing quarterback who got lots of help from a hard-charging line, halfbacks Ulysses Curtis, Doug Smylie, Doug Pyzer and outside Al Bruno. They and Wirkowski each scored touchdowns. Bob Heck kicked five converts and added three points on a field goal.

Hal Waggoner counted both Hamilton touchdowns, one on an 85-yard run following a kick-off.

Archie McAffer tallied four touchdowns in Sarnia's win over Balmy Beach. One of the Imps' other majors was picked up by Al Farris who finished off a 106-yard drive as he skirted the end from 11 yards out.

A 71-yard run by Ken Wagner and a 40-yard pass gave Beaches their win over Brantford Saturday night. The pass was tossed by playing coach Gerry Tuttle who hit Bob Settle with the payoff pitch.

Your children are in the habit of saying "Yeah" and "No" to adults.

WRONG: Let them go ahead, telling yourself modern children all talk that way to grownups.

RIGHT: Teach your children to say "No, Sir" to men and "Yes, Mrs. Jones" to women.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman Posing As Friend Trying To Wreck Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: Until two years ago my husband and I had been separated six years, due to my illness. There was never any question of divorce. During my absence, my husband, Ray, maintained our apartment in the city. He was in constant company of a couple who have been very good friends of ours, let's call them Marge and Bill. He was a guest at their home many times, and Carol, a friend of Marge's, was also present on many occasions.

Since my return, we have, of course, maintained our friendship with Marge and Bill, and here is my gripe. Whenever Marge calls on us, she goes out of her way to bring Carol into the conversation, recalling pleasant times they all had together, etc. I resent this, feeling that Marge is lacking in good taste, and am told that I am unduly sensitive. Now Marge has asked us to a dinner party which is to include Carol. I happen to have a legitimate excuse for not going, but other similar occasions will arise. My husband will probably never see Carol again, if Marge doesn't go out of her way to arrange these get-togethers. RITA K.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: To suggest that Marge is lacking in good taste is to be charitable. Her actions suggest a veritable snake in the grass who is out to make trouble. Whether she is deliberately trying to create a romance between Ray and Carol is open to question, but she certainly is taking considerable delight in harrassing you with her insinuations and reminiescences.

TRY DIRECT ASSAULT

Her friendship can be tested with a direct assault. Tell her that you feel Carol has no place in your husband's present life, and that you would feel much more at ease if Marge helped keep her in the background. A true friend would most willingly co-operate.

Since people who are themselves unhappy love to make others share their misery, I suspect a rift in the lute of Marge and Bill's marital bliss. Marge possibly suspects Bill of succumbing to Carol's charms and, in her own devious way, is trying to divert attention. If it is at all possible to eliminate Marge from your circle of friends. Don't make too much of an issue of the matter with Ray, however. Men can, contrariwise, head for the very thing you are trying to have them avoid.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 15 years old and a sophomore in high school. I'm a very lonely girl. When I'm out with a group of girls I can't seem to join in the conversation, though I try hard. Worst of all, I haven't even had my first date with a boy. Boys just don't notice me. If I go on like this I'll be the most downhearted girl in the world. ANN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Don't consider yourself a failure, Ann, because at 15 you haven't had a date with a boy. Lots of girls who have become very popular waited longer than that. You should be able to get along with other girls, though. Study their conversation, see what topics they like to discuss (besides boys, of course), and learn something about these subjects. You'll probably find they are interested movies, radio, records and the makers of same. If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I can send you a leaflet of mine with some helpful hints on popularity, also a list of books that will help you to be more sociable.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 12 years old and have quite a problem. Sometimes friends of mine go to nearby amusement parks and, although there is usually an older person with them, my mother will not let me go. PHYLLIS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As usual, mom is right. You are much to young to go to amusement parks such as you mention with companions your own age. If there is an older person present who will guarantee to look after you, your mother might let you go, but unchaperoned—never!

Marlene Dietrich Choson Most Glamorous Granny

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (CP)—The world's most glamorous grandmother is chosen by one of New York's top dress designers as the current ideal of feminine chic flavored with just the right dash of allure.

The grandmother is Marlene Dietrich and the designer is Adele Simpson, diminutive dynamo who has achieved star billing in the United States fashion business in the last few years. Mrs. Simpson says:

"In every decade one or two women stand out as the pace-setters, the ones everyone else tries to look like. These are the women who anticipate the feeling of fashion, who influence the appearance and manners of their contemporaries, who leave their stamp upon an era."

She picks Marlene Dietrich as representing the spirit of the 1950s because—

"She embodies the look of mature sophistication that seems to represent the spirit of our times. Though she is a grandmother, she manages to combine great style sense with the sexiness that must be a part of flattering feminine fashions."

THROUGH THE AGES

In the 1940s, says Mrs. Simpson, the two women exerting the greatest influence on feminine modes were Lana Turner, who made the "sweater girl" the ideal of millions of teen agers, and the Duchess of Windsor, who represented sophisticated glamor and good taste to well-dressed women all over the world.

In the 1930s, it was again Dietrich who was imitated by millions of movie-struck youngsters, in the opinion of Mrs. Simpson. Her famous legs were the envy of women of all ages, ushering in the era of sheer nylons and short skirts.

During the same period, opposite in type but equal in popularity, was Greta Garbo, whose slouch hat and bob were imitated by millions.

In the 1920s, Clara Bow was the ideal of sex-appeal—the "It-Girl" the spirit of the jazz age. Her wind-blown bob and her cloche hat were a signature of the times.

Some Speedy Lunches For Two

If all of us could inject the enthusiasm into our jobs that Marie Fraser does life would be a lark. She is a home economist and has original ideas to broadcast right and left to all who know good nutrition and good cooking when it is placed under their noses.

She invited me to have lunch with her last week and while we were talking she gave me some ideas that will be gobbled up by you girls who have to get lunch ready in nothing flat for yourself and husband and be back to work on the stroke of one.

The late Franklin Rosevelt is said to have eaten scrambled eggs for breakfast every morning. These were prepared with cheese on special occasions when he had breakfast visitors. It is that best of all ways to serve eggs and which I will call—

CANADIAN CHEESE OMELETTE (not puffy)

That I think you should learn to perfection. With care and attention to detail this may be a chef's masterpiece. With carelessness and inattention it will be a scorched flop.

So on your toes, dearies.

Since this is your main hot dish for lunch use 4 eggs and break them into a bowl. For each egg you add 2 tablespoons milk and 1 tablespoon cheese grated —so for this you use ½ cup milk and 4 tablespoons grated cheese. If you are using a fork beat hard for 2 minutes; if rotary or electric beater, 1 minute will do. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and if and when you have time 1 teaspoon either grated onion or chopped chives. Have frying pan moderately hot with 2 tablespoons butter melted in it. The butter should just be threatening to turn golden. Quickly pour in egg mixture. It should sizzle. At once turn heat to low. In 2 minutes, push the cooked portion to back of pan, allowing the still-liquid portion to flow around. In two minutes do this again. This gives it 5 minutes in all—do not overcook. Finished omelette should be soft—not one bit leathery—and lightly tinged with gold on bottom all over. Fold over and transfer to hot platter. Garnish generously with the ripe tomato wedges that are a natural with this at this time of year. If I just had Oscar of the Waldorf to wait on me I'd eat this every morning for breakfast —in bed!

LAMB CURRY

Other meats besides lamb could be used for this—but lamb cooks comparatively quickly. You prepare this the night before, for lunch the following day—that is if you are an office working wife who is reading it for the purpose I intended—and then quickly reheat it when you rush through the door at noon. Serve on toast, or if and when you have time, fluffy boiled rice.

Roll in salted and peppered flour and brown in hot fat 1 pound of shoulder lamb cut into 1-inch pieces (or veal or chicken) until it is browned on all sides. Add 4 cups boiling water, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 cups diced celery. Simmer 1 hour. Stir together in a small bowl 4 tablespoons flour, ½ or 1 teaspoon curry (depending on how Indian you are) and ¼ cup water. Stir this into the meat until thick, then let it cook about 10 minutes. This is intended to serve on rice, but toast or mashed potatoes or spaghetti are good bases too.

PRODUCTION LOWER

Milk production in Canada was lower in 1951 than in any year since 1940.

Born In Cavan Mayor In Sask. Citizen Of Week

A former Cavan township man, T. G. (Tom) Dainard has been selected "citizen of the week" by a radio station in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

Mr. Dainard is mayor of Nipawin, a small Saskatchewan town of 3,500 people, and altogether he has served 14 years in village and town work.

He was born on a Cavan farm and attended public school in Bethany, and in 1914 he obatined his entrance to Normal at Lindsay Collegiate. A year later he was elected president of the Ontario Educational Association at Toronto. For the next four years he taught school in Ontario.

He also taught school in Ida for some time.

A brother Wesley Dainard lives at 337 London St. and he has a sister, Mrs. Charles Healey, who lives at 245 Princess St. Two other sisters, Mrs. Ethel Wadby and Mrs. Georgina Rose, live in Toronto.

Mr. Dainard took a year in medicine at the University of Western Ontario, London, but went west after a year because of his health. He became principal of Jansen public school in 1920 and remained there for four years.

In 1924 Mr. Dainard entered Nipiawin on the first train into the village. He had a carload of groceries and, liking the place, he opened a store there in the same year.

His municipal services include nine years as overseer in the village, two years as town councillor, and in 1944 and 1945 he was elected mayor. Last year he was re-elected to that office.

He has been president of the Nipawin Baseball club and prominent in dog derbies, snow plane racing, harness racing and husky racing. In 1931 he raced in the last 200-mile non-stop derby at The Pas.

In 1945 he had the town surveyed for waterworks which were later installed.

"This, I believe, is a record for the province," he said "and I am proud to have helped in any small way."

Superliner Detours To Save Queen's Face

NEW YORK (AP)—A 16-mile detour at sea was made by the superliner, United States, which docked today—and all for the sake of international graciousness.

On its return voyage from Europe, the swift ship overtook Britain's liner Queen Elizabeth. But rather than embarrass the Cunard Line's queen by passing her in full view of passengers and crew, Capt. John Anderson gallantly veered the United States eight miles off course through a haze.

"I'm sure any Cunard captain in the same position would do the same thing," Anderson said.

The Queen was due in later today.

Ask Gov't. Double Family Allowance

QUEBEC (CP)—Delegates to the 14th annual convention of Union des Electeurs decided during the week-end to start a campaign to get the federal government to double the amount of family allowances and make them available to dependents up to the age of 21.

The union, a Quebec province organization which adheres to Social Credit principles, will send telegrams to Health Minister Martin seeking the changes.

At present, family allowances range from $5 to $8 a month, depending on the age of the child, and are payable up to the age of 16.

Newspaper Parley To Be Held Sept. 11

ROUYN, Que. (CP)—The annual convention of the association of French-language weekly newspapers of Canada will be held Sept. 11-14 in Quebec's Abitibi region.

Business sessions will be held in this northwestern Quebec mining centre, but a reception tendered delegates by the cities of Val d'Or, Malartic and Amos will be held in Val d'Or.

Lucien Fontaine, managing editor of the Echo Abitibien, will receive the 150 delegates.

Plans For Space Ships Pooled By Scientists

STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—Two hundred scientists from 12 countries met in the third International Astronautical Congress Monday to pool their plans for sending space ships to other planets.

They talked hopefully of realizing this dream of man within the lifetime of this generation.

All expressed hope that the fruit of their researhers will not be taken over for war.

Most of the scientists agreed that rockets offer the chief hope of transporting man to other planets. Most of the exhibits and many of the scientific reports to be made during the six-day congress deal with the development of rockets.

Some of the scientists attending the congress will discuss the possibility of hanging a man-sized satelite 1,000 miles out in space to serve as a way station for rockets bound for Mars or the Moon.

Soviet Press Backing Ho

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press today voiced strong support of the veteran Indo-Chinese Communist leader, Ho Chi-Minh, and his anti-French Vietminh forces.

Editorials in every important Moscow paper praised the Vietminh's "stubborn struggle against the French interventionist armies" and predicted the Communist-led troops will win final victory.

The editorials were published in observance of the seventh anniversary of the proclamation of Ho's "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam," which the Soviet Union has recognized.

(Most major western powers do do not recognize Ho's fugitive government, but have established diplomatic relations with the French-sponsored Republic of Viet Nam headed by former Emperor Bao Dai.

(The United States also is supplying arms and military advisors to French and Viet Nam forces in Indo-China.)

U.K. Welder Makes 365-Mile Walk

LONDON (AP)—George Dixon, 39-year-old welder, completed a 365-mile non-stop walk from Berwick-on-Tweed to St. Paul's cathedral today in 93 hours 42 minutes.

Unshaven, heavy-lidded, footsore and hungry, Dixon plumped down on the cathedral steps and said: "I am here. Thank the Lord."

Asked by newspaper men what inspired his sleepless tramp from the Scottish border town, Dixon replied:

"I just wanted to see if I could."

Hold Kingston Man In Safe Cracking

BROCKVILLE (CP) — James Budd, 34, of Kingston, was held today for questioning in connection with an abortive attempt to open a safe Saturday night at the warehouse of Weston Bakeries Limited.

The safe contained more than $1,500 which would-be burglars left in their haste to escape police.

Obituary

MRS. EMMA EDWARDS

Mrs. Emma Edwards of 502 Park St. N., died on Monday at her residence following a prolonged illness. She was born in Fenelon Falls 88 years ago and has lived in Peterborough for the past 36 years. Prior to that she resided in Lindsay, Lakefield and Trenton. Her husband, James Edwards, predeceased her in 1950.

Mrs. Edwards leaves one brother, Fred Brown, of this city. She was an active worker at St. John's Anglican Church before her health failed several years ago.

Admiral's Father Dies

HALIFAX (CP)—Harry G. DeWolf, 76, president of the T. A. S. DeWolf and Sons Ltd. shipping company and father of Rear-Admiral H.G. DeWolf, vice chief of the naval staff, died here early today. He was associated with the British merchant navy in two wars. His other son is Paul DeWolf, managing director of the family shipping company.

MONEY TO FIGHT

A suburban assembly at the Smithtown firehall last week decided to get busy with plans for opposing the annexation project when it comes before the Ontario Municipal Board here next Monday afternoon. Action involved some expense, and the hat was passed, or something like that, with five-spots as the minimum. Estimate is that the suburban neighbours have between $500 and $1,000 with which to fight their case.

Ralph Standish has been engaged to represent them before the Municipal Board.

Meanwhile the friends of Reeve Gordon Fitzgerald are laughing among themselves at the rumored charges of the suburban group that he and his council "sold them down the river."

The city with the federal and Ontario governments are jointly interested in the annexation. They fixed the bounds and proceeded with the purchases of township land. It was understood, generally, that the merits of the case would be fully discussed by the Ontario Municipal Board, and that any opposition would be given full opportunity of being heard.

It is said that Smith council has had nothing to do with the buying of properties for the Landy Assembly Scheme, that its scope was a matter resting with the two governments and the city council.

Motor Boat Upsets Fisherman Drowns

JACKFISH (CP) — Lawrence Roony of Port Arthur was drowned yesterday when his outboard motorboat capsized near this northwestern Ontario village.

An entrant in a trout derby, he and his brother Herbert were fishing off Devil's Point, a dangerous shallows, when the motor quit and the boat was thrown on jagged rocks and capsized. Herbert was able to swim ashore.

Indians Filing Game Protest

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians said today they were filing a five-point protest with the American League over the weather-jumbled second game of yesterday's double-header with St. Louis.

They blamed the Browns' field equipment, the St. Louis ground crew, the umpires and St. Louis prexy, Bill Veeck, for their troubles.

After Cleveland won the first game 9-3, they were behind 2-1 in the nightcap when the rains came. The game was delayed 72 minutes after the Indians had batted in the fifth, enough to make it an official game.

After play was resumed, the fifth inning was finished and the Indians scored three times in the top of the sixth to go ahead 4-2. But the rain started again. Even though the shower let up, the field was in such poor condition the game was called after 29 minutes. The score reverted to the fifth inning and the Browns won, 2-1. The loss dropped the Tribe another half game behind first place New York, making the gap 2½ games.

Woman Dies From Injuries

VERNER (CP)—Mrs. Mejoric Brouillette, 72, of Verner, died in hospital at Sturgeon Falls last night from injuries suffered in a traffic accident a few hours earlier.

Mrs. Brouillette was riding on the rear of a tractor on No. 17 highway when the vehicle was hit by a car. The auto was driven by John Taylor of Hamilton, who was knocked unconscious.

He recovered consciousness this morning in Sturgeon Falls hospital.

Driver of the tractor, Jeannette Lebeau, 16, Verner, suffered cuts and bruises.

Verner is 40 miles west of North Bay.

Detroit Father, Son Burned In Crash

ST. THOMAS (CP)—En route home from a trip to the London district, a Detroit father and son were killed Sunday when their automobile caught fire after a rear-end collision.

The body of William Wagner, 86, was found burned almost to a crisp beside the car by a passing motorist. His son Wilfred, 64, walking along a highway near here with his clothes ablaze, was taken to hospital where he died.

Their bodies have been forwarded to Detroit for burial tomorrow.

John Gordon, 23, of Windsor was reported driving the car which smashed into the Wagner car. With him was Leo Connoy, 21, also of Windsor. Both were taken to hospital here but soon released.

Conservation Helps Keep Oil Supply Up

BANFF, Alta. (AP)—Oscar Chapman, United States secretary of the interior, sent word here today that conservation of American oil resources has made a major contribution toward assuring adequate supplies for every mobilization need.

"We must maintain our petroleum reserves for defence or forfeit all security," Chapman said.

Chapman's statements were in a prepared address for the Interstate Oil Compact Commission from the United States, now in session here. It was arranged for J. Ed Warren, U.S. deputy petroleum administrator for defence, to read the speech in Chapman's absence. Chapman is defence petroleum administrator.

PREVENT WASTE

The commission, an American organization founded 17 years ago, operates primarily for interstate co-operation to prevent avoidable waste of oil and gas production.

The meetings at Banff, which will conclude tomorrow, are being held for the first time in Canada, at the invitation of the Alberta government and the Western Canada Petroleum Association.

The significance of the meeting here was noted by many of the Canadians among the 260 delegates. They said it is indicative of Canada's growing importance among oil-producing nations.

Heading the list of official Canadian observers are Mines Minister N.E. Tanner of Alberta and Resources Minister J.H. Brockelbank of Saskatchewan.

"COOL CONTROL"

THE STANCE

1—Square Stance
Balance and control are 'musts.' There are three basic stances — first, the Square Stance, as above. This stance requires both feet to be placed square to the intended line of flight.

2—Open Stance
All stances require the club to be soled directly back of the ball so that the bottom of the club sits evenly on the turf. If toe of club sticks up, you are too far away. If toe is down, you are too close. In Open Stance, left foot is drawn back from line of flight, and body is turned slightly toward left. Use when slice or fade is desired.

3—Closed Stance
Opposite from Open Stance. Draw right foot back from line of flight. Use when hook from right to left is required. Recommended for driving because of overspin imparted to ball when hit.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

French And Reds Often Free POW's

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Prisoners of war are being exchanged by the French union forces and the Communist-led Vietminh in Indo-China although there never has been any negotiation or agreement between them for releasing captives.

From time to time—with no hint of regularity—the Vietminh release numbers of French union soldiers and officers who struggle back into the French-held Red River delta.

The French, too, liberate many Vietminh, often as a special order in connection with state ceremonies or events.

For instance, on France's independence day—July 14—High Commissioner Jean Leutourneau ordered 700 enemy prisoners of war liberated. A few days earlier, 159 French union prisoners of the Vietminh reached Hanoi.

The Vietminh prisoners of the French, well-treated and well-fed, are turned back to their own territory in good health.

NOT ENOUGH FOOD

On the other side of the picture, French union soldiers freed by the Vietminh report generally that while they were not inhumanely or badly treated by their Vietminh captors, they suffered much because of insufficient food and medicines. The Vietminh long have been reported extremely short on both.

French planes, flying over northern Indo-China close to the Chinese frontier where most of the Vietminh prisoners of war camps seem to be located, several times have dropped tons of food and medicines for French union captives.

NO RED CROSS AID

It seems to be a long trek to freedom for these prisoners even when they are liberated by the Vietminh. The freed captives must walk anywhere from 100 to 150 miles before their escorts disappear and they continue on into Hanoi.

The Vietminh were reported to have freed 240 men early in July, but only 159 reached Hanoi. Apparently, the others died on the way.

The Vietminh are estimated to have around 4,000 French union prisoners of war. Over 50,000 Vietminh are held by the French, but the majority of these are believed to be civilian internees, with possibly 10,000 or so from Vietminh fighting units.

There has been no attempt by either side to arrange a big exchange of prisoners in the bitter six-year war.

No representatives of the International Red Cross have been able to get into Vietminh camps to check up on conditions. The French Red Cross has organized agencies to radio messages from families to Vietminh-held captives, and tries to arrange deliveries of letters and parcels.

272,000 Attend Exhibition During Labor Day Holiday

By RON EVANS

TORONTO (CP)—World affairs commanded attention at the Canadian National Exhibition today with observance of International Day.

In keeping with the theme, guest speaker at the daily directors' luncheon was External Affairs Minister Pearson.

The Labor Day holiday brought some 272,000 persons to the grounds yesterday. Some 6,000 C.I.O. and A.F.L. union members marched into the fair in their annual holiday parades.

DEFENDS STRUGGLE

Leslie Wismer, public relations director for the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, defended the struggle of trade unions for higher wages and improved conditions at a luncheon. He denied suggestions that higher wages lead to inflation and in turn open the door to Communism.

"I can't accept any argument," he said, "that the only way to maintain democracy is to accept substandard living conditions."

Winner of the annual baby contest was Heather Elizabeth Murray, nine-months-old daughter of a Toronto clergyman.

1,000 Experts To Give Taxation A Going Over

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Taxation will get a four-day going over by 1,000 tax experts when the National Tax Association holds its annual conference in Toronto Sept. 9-12.

The association is primarily an American organization, but it has a considerable Canadian membership. Its executive council includes A. Kenneth Eaton, Canadian assistant deputy minister of finance, and Philip T. Clark, Ontario controller of revenue.

A number of Canadian speakers will take part in the conference discussions. Among the topics are:

How high can taxes go? Who pays the taxes? The Canadian tax structure and the economy. Comparative treatment of selected tax problems in Canada and the United States.

Alleged "tax scandals" in the United States, now under congressional and grand jury examination, will also be discussed, including a suggestion for reorganization of the U.S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Sessions are open to the public, which is invited to take part in the discussions that follow the formal papers, to the extent that time permits and in accordance with conference rules.

The organization's purpose is to give scientific study to taxation and finance. Membership includes federal, state or provincial, and local tax officials; legislators; tax representatives of business; professors, accountants and lawyers.

INSURANCE MEETING

Another organization with major American membership—the life Insurance Advertisers Association—will meet in Montreal Sept. 29-Oct. 1. The association met once before in Canada—in Quebec in 1947.

Theme of the gathering will be "meeting today's challenge." Eighteen classifications of exhibit material will be entered by the advertising, public relations and sales-promotion departments of the 220 member companies.

Morgan S. Crockford of Toronto, secretary, Excelsior Life Insurance Company, will be general chairman of the meeting.

Falls 160 Feet, Lives

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Lloyd Christenson of Edmonton fell 160 feet over the upper falls at Johnson's Canyon, 16 miles west of Banff, Sunday and lived to tell the tale. A member of the Lutheran churches of Edmonton spending the holiday week-end at Banff, he landed feet first in a pool of water. At hospital he was treated for shock and slight concussion.

Left Baby To See Fair

TORONTO (CP)—A three-month-old baby girl was left for almost three hours yesterday on the seat of a pickup truck while its teenage parents toured the Canadian National Exhibition. Charge for baby-sitting at the C.N.E. creche is 10 cents an hour. A policeman found the baby about noon. About 2½ hours later the parents, a Beamsville, Ont., couple, turned up. No charges were laid.

Red Negotiators Protest POW Incidents

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist truce negotiators again today quickly followed a United Nations announcement of a prisoner-of-war incident with a protest.

It was the third such note in four days—a strong indication that the Reds closely monitor allied news broadcasts during the current recess in armistice talks.

The U.N. said yesterday that 16 captured Reds on Koje Island were injured by guards quelling a demonstration Saturday. Another prisoner was found hanged—an apparent suicide—the U.N. added.

CHARGES BUTCHERY

Today, Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator, said in a note sent to Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U.N. delegate:

"On Aug. 30 your side again killed one and wounded 16 of our captured personnel. I hereby lodge a serious protest with you regarding this incident. Your side must bear the responsibility for all consequences arising from your barbarous butchering of our captured personnel."

The truce talks—deadlocked over prisoner exchange—are scheduled to resume Thursday.

Fire Chiefs Meet At Saint John

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP)—The 44th annual conference of the Dominion Fire Chiefs' Association, the first to be held in New Brunswick and the second in the Maritime Provinces since 1932, was officially opened here yesterday.

A memorial service was conducted for four members who died since the last convention—Fire Chief William Howe, Perth, Ont.; ex-fire chief J. Parke, Glencoe, Ont.; Mrs. Alex Sutherland, St. Thomas, Ont., and Mrs. Roland Irwin, Barrie, Ont.

The association president, Chief Secord Robinson of Kapuskasing, Ont., is presiding at the meeting.

The ladies' auxiliary of the association held its annual session with Mrs. W. H. Short, Lethbridge, Alta. presiding. Secretary is Mrs. J. Hartley, Brockville, Ont. Mrs. L. Arthur Burch, St. Catharines, was elected assistant to Mrs. Hartley.

Siam's Royal Couple Fishes In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—Prince Chumloth of Bangkok and his wife were introduced to trout fishing in the Laurentides Park after attending the International Red Cross conference at Toronto this summer.

The royal couple enjoyed good fishing for a week, and a Fish and Game Department official said Prince Chumloth had inquired about possibilities of flying Quebec speckled trout to Thailand, where they would be placed in rivers and streams.

The official said trout eggs near the hatching stage could be shipped in ice to Thailand as salmon eggs were flown to France some months ago.

Typhoon Kills 103

MANILA (AP)—An erratic typhoon that whip-sawed the southern and northern Philippines and unleashed disastrous floods Saturday claimed at least 103 dead. The toll is expected to climb higher as communications are restored. (End BFNR)

Communists Push Reform Of Spelling

VIENNA (Reuters)—George Bernard Shaw's dream of a reform in spelling to make it simpler and easier is coming true in the Communist satellite countries of southeastern Europe—but according to a blueprint supplied by J. V. Stalin.

On orders from the Kremlin the theories of Stalin's "Marxism and the Problems of Linguistics" are to be applied first in Romania, then in Hungary and later probably in Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia.

In June this year, the order went forth that Stalin's brainchild must be reviewed in the satellite press. Now in Romania and Hungary, the linguistic theories of Stalin's pamphlet are being put into force.

The main principle is that while the old national language has much in it which was useful, it has to be revised by the Communists to make it a better medium for conveying the ideas of Marxism and the orders of the Communist hierarchy.

The old system of spelling based on historical and etymological roots it was asserted, must be modified to make it more simple for semi-illiterates to learn. Cosmopolitanism—meaning the use of western words—must be eliminated.

A new scientific council was set up in Romania by the academy to prepare this reform which was deliberately modelled on Russian spelling reforms since 1918.

MANY CONTRADICTIONS

Romanian spelling is a welter of contradictions. The language was in the main Latin by origin, but it had absorbed so many Slav and Magyar words that it was often difficult for educated persons, who had learned the literary Romanian language, to understand the peasants.

A reform of Hungarian spelling on the same lines is foreshadowed in an article "On Hungarian Linguistics" which appeared in the Soviet publication "Problems of Linguistics" and was translated and published in Hungary.

The article said bourgeois linguistics, as employed by the Hungarian philologists, have failed to satisfy "the progressive science building socialism."

Will Rogers Jr. Continues Making Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Yep, I'm doing it again. And darned if I don't like it."

This was Will Rogers, Jr., talking. The same fellow who said a few months ago that his job portraying his father would be strictly a one-shot affair in films. He claimed he didn't have the talent, desire or energy to be an actor.

But he's back before the cameras, starring with Marguerite Chapman in "Life, Liberty and Orrin Dooley," a television film being made for the Ford Theatre. He plays an ex-soldier.

LOTS OF PRACTICE

"It does take a lot of acting," said Rogers in a drawl, that is a combination of Oklahoma and Beverly Hills. "But fortunately, the studio had me studying with a drama coach for a couple of days. I'm not like an experienced actor, who could pick up any part and read it right off."

Does he intend doing any more acting?

"Well, I don't know," he said. "I won't do any more portrayals of my father, except in the Eddie Cantor biography, to which I'm already committed. I might do other things on television. But primarily I'm in the newspaper business."

He operates the Beverly Hills Citizen.

What was his reaction to the film about his father.

"I thought it turned out all right," he said. "The main thing I was worried about was what the rest of the family and our friends in Oklahoma would think about it. They thought it was fine.

"As for my own performance, I can't say. I did whatever Michael Curtiz, the director, told me to do. Whatever credit or blame there is belongs to him."

Thirty-seven German U-boats were destroyed in the month of May, 1943.

World Bank Members Review Post-War Efforts

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The world's post-war efforts to pull itself out of a financial hole came under review this week in the meetings here of the directors of the world bank and the International Monetary Fund.

The bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, was set up to help repair the material damage of the war. It has virtually finished the reconstruction phase of its work.

The fund has had some success in one of its two functions. This was the stabilization of currency through a sort of mutual insurance system. Member countries contributed to a pool of currencies. These were then available for lending to countries for brief periods to buttress their own money against foreign exchange drains.

The fund was not able to withstand all devaluation forces after the war. However, it has reduced quick, wide fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. Provision was made for general devaluation by permitting this with the approval of the fund.

LONG WAY OFF

The second aspect of the fund's work seems just as far off as ever—lifting exchange restrictions. But the founders now seem to have been unduly hopeful. The question is on the agenda, and it will be discussed informally as well.

These restrictions affect wage earners in every part of the world. Colombia may sell its coffee to Britain. Britain pays for it in pounds which can be spent only in the sterling area. This means that a machete maker in New England cannot sell his product in Colombia, because that market lacks dollars.

The machete maker in Sheffield, England, however, is assured a market and the Colombian coffee grower must use British machetes even though the price is higher than for the United States product.

Meanwhile, Sheffield is putting into machetes steel which might otherwise go into pocket-knives for sale—for dollars—in the U.S.

The meeting runs from Sept. 3-12. About 300 persons will attend. These will include the highest financial authorities of 53 or more countries.

Most international organizations in the non-Communist world will have observers among the 122 accredited so far. Communist-orbit Czechoslovakia is expected to make regular demand for the expulsion of Nationalist China, with the usual defeat for her motion. Russia is not a member.

The international economic status of Germany and Japan will probably be defined during the meetings. Both have just been admitted to the fund and bank.

From September, 1949, to March, 1952, a total of 85,525 television sets were sold in Canada.

Retired Miner Grows 7,000 Gladioli

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP)—All during the 45 years that John Gallagher worked in coal mines in England and Alberta he never lost his love of flowers.

Now freed from underground work, the 63-year-old retired miner is concentrating on his first love. This year he grew 7,000 gladioli—for the fun of it. Next year he plans to raise more.

In his native Blyth, Northumberland, he used to raise roses when he wasn't down a mine pit. He and his wife, Martha, moved to the Drumheller valley in 1930. Six years ago they bought a 24-acre plot five miles west of this central Alberta coal centre for a garden.

Even before his retirment, Gallagher and his wife worked in their garden every evening, every Sunday and holiday. Every year he added more gladioli bulbs until today he has a collection of nearly 50 varieties.

His wife is dead now, and Gallagher gets his main comfort in life from the acres of blooms. The occasional customer gets a dozen or so, at less than cost.

"Martha and I always loved flowers," the grizzled miner says. "We hoped to raise many together. Now she is gone. The flowers help."

Allow Mexican Livestock In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mexican livestock and fresh, frozen and chilled meats were permitted to enter the United States yesterday after a ban of nearly six years.

The U. S. border was closed to these imports in December, 1946, because an outbreak of the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico posed a threat to the multi-million dollar American meat and dairy industry.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan said the disease has been eradicated south of the border.

The Canadian border remains closed to the importation of livestock or fresh, frozen or chilled meats into the U. S. The Canadian government says the outbreak, which forced the clamp-down early this year, has been eradicated. The U.S. embargo may be lifted after this year if no new outbreak is reported.

Police Chief Fired Will Run For Mayor

LA SALLE, Ont. (CP)—C. G. Spink, who was dismissed July 9 as police chief of this Windsor suburb, said yesterday he will run for mayor of the town in the December elections.

Mayor Herbert Runstedler said he will seek re-election for his third term.

Town council fired Mr. Spink when Councillor Ted Clarke charged he failed to spend sufficient time on the part-time job. Mr. Spink said he was fired because of "council politics."

Mr. Spink's dismissal was followed by the resignations of the town's two-part time policemen.

Henri Bourassa, Nationalist Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP). — Henri Bourassa, 84, founder of Le Devoir in 1910 and well known throughout French Canada, died suddenly at his home here Sunday.

Mr. Bourassa was an outstanding political figure in Quebec during the last 50 years.

He was elected Liberal Member of Parliament for Labelle in 1896 but broke with Sir Wilfrid Laurier over the sending of Canadian troops to the South African War, and became an Independent.

FRENCH-CANADIAN RIGHTS

He was later re-elected by acclamation.

Mr. Bourassa, a politician, journalist and fighter for French-Canadian rights, came by his militant spirit naturally. His grandfather was Louis Joseph Papineau, who led Quebec's armed rebellion for self-government in 1837.

He took up where his grandfather left off and carried on the fight for what he considered Quebec's rights and his Province's grievances on the floor of the Commons and through Le Devoir.

He gained reput early in life as an impassioned orator who never missed a chance to denounce imperialism.

Equally fluent in French and English, the volume of his voice was so great that it startled listeners who heard it for the first time. Smallish in stature, his voice could boom to the very fringe of the greatest political gatherings.

Writing of the Imperial Conference of 1926, he declared "the peril, the permanent menace, is the recognition of the principle of solidarity in Imperial obligations. Until we have broken with that false and iniquitous doctrine, it is idle to talk about national emancipation."

STORMY SCENES

Throughout the First World War, there were stormy scenes at meetings addressed by Bourassa. In 1917 at Ottawa, a hostile crowd hooted, jeered, called him a traitor and pelted him with eggs and vegetables.

He stood his ground and called newspapermen to the orchestra pit, where they squatted as he made his speech to them so that it might be reported.

He would shout his criticism in the Commons and his laugh was one of the loudest in parliament.

During the First World War there were always stormy scenes at Bourassa's meetings. A week after Sir Wilfrid Laurier appealed for recruits at a public meeting in Montreal in December, 1915, Bourassa took the same platform and attacked England as the despoiler of small nations.

Bleached Cornflakes Make Fine Snow For TV Work

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — In the strange world called television bleached cornflakes make the snow and milk is a grade-a rain.

All sorts of weird and wonderful problems come to the various networks' special effects departments.

One broadcasting company buys make-believe snow in hundred-pound sacks of specially prepared cornflakes while another company is partial to plastic snow sprayed from a cylinder under air pressure.

Television's preoccupation with cops and corpses make proper administration of gore something for high echelon contemplation. James Glenn, head of NBC's special effects department has dreamed up a special little gun which can shoot thin gelatin capsules of liquid lipstick which break on contact to produce realistically and required tell-tale stain.

Special effects men shudder when they recall the awful TV occasion not too long back when a villain got his just deserts. The camera, however, moved a little too fast, and millions of viewers were treated to a brief glimpse of an assistant cooly splashing a dark stain on the shirt-front of the evil character who had just been shot.

Miniatures play a very important part in television's existence. Recently, in a play where it was necessary to burn a barn, special effects constructed a table-top-size barn which, with the aid of strategically placed chemicals, was burned in view of the cameras.

When it was necessary to show human activity during the barn burning, the camera was turned on a full-size set showing a portion of the barn, and actors rushed around in front of it.

Some TV scenes depend on magician's stock in trade. A recent show about William Tell showed the apple being knocked off the son's head. This was done by stringing a piano wire from William's bow through the apple, and shooting a hollow arrow along the invisible wire.

In another show concerning Daniel Boone, the hero had to miss a thrown tomahawk by inches. The camera first showed the Indian tossing the hatchet. The next scene showed the hatchet flipping into a tree. Actually the hatchet was concealed inside the tree trunk and poised with a spring attachment. It flipped in the wrong direction so fast that the illusion was perfect.

One of the toughest problems of television has been the production of smoke, smog, fog and such atmospheric details. NBC has a miniature smoke chamber, which looks like a glass fishbowl and into which they pour various types of smoke as required. Cameras shoot the foggy or smoky scene through the smoke chamber.

It's possible to put together on one picture the products of as many cameras as you have available.

CGS is particularly proud of its use of "matting," which is a camera trick. That's how it can show a girl on a flying carpet over a city, and how it had a pint-sized but real announcer running madly all over a normal-sized refrigerator.

Ice-box and announcer were filmed on separate cameras but they came out in one picture on your screen.

Union Leaders Urge Members Cast Their Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top United States union leaders, in Labor Day speeches, appealed to their members to take an active interest in electing a sympathetic congress in November.

Several union officials said it was equally important from organized labor's standpoint to elect a labor-minded congress as it was to install in the White House a labor-minded president.

Most Labor Day speakers from union ranks concentrated their workingman's holiday talks on politics and the coming national elections.

EXPECT MORE VOTES

A.F.L. President William Green said he was confident that with a large voter turnout in November "a great election victory will be scored for the cause of peace, the cause of human freedom and the cause of economic and social progress."

C.I.O. President Philip Murray urged a big worker turnout in the coming elections. He said American workers are independent and can cast ballots as they choose, but it was more likely they would listen to political advice from their unions than from business organizations.

Nazis Invaded Poland Twice At Start Of '39 War

By DANIEL DeLUCE

MARBURG, Germany (AP)—Nazi Germany twice invaded Poland 13 years ago. The first time was a false start.

Hitler countermanded his order after mounted patrols had crossed on to Polish territory and the massed forces of three German army groups were on the march.

That was the night of Aug. 25-26, 1939. The patrols were hurriedly withdrawn without fighting and frantic messages halted the armies on the frontier before dawn.

Sept. 1 the real blitzkrieg struck.

This is part of the intimate story of Gerd von Rundstedt, 76, senior former field marshal of Germany, told by his wartime chief of staff, Guenther Blumentritt, in a book to be published in England Sept. 9. "Von Rundstedt, the Soldier and the Man" is the ex-field marshal's first authorized biography.

EXPECTED DIPLOMACY

Von Rundstedt, commanding the German southern army group with Lwow, the Polish Galician capital as objective, thought the countermanded order of Aug. 25-26 meant that Hitler would defeat Poland by diplomatic means instead of war.

The biography is filled with sharp reports on Von Rundstedt's military differences with Hitler but makes no attempt to deliver critical judgments on the conduct of the war by Russia and the western allies.

It includes these points:

The German's western front campaign in 1940 amazed Hitler and everybody else by its quick success. Von Rundstedt's panzers reached the Dover Strait in 14 days but were forbidden by Hitler from an attack in force on Dunkerque. The fuehrer apparently counted on Britain suing for peace.

Hitler's British invasion plan was largely a bluff. Hitler himself told the field marshal: "There's no bridge across the sea. On land I am a hero. On the water I am a coward."

Von Rundstedt opposed the invasion of Russia in 1941. He wanted peace negotiated in the west first.

Three Die In Toronto Fire After Night Drinking Party

Smith Ratepayers Protesting City's Annexation

About 120 Smith township ratepayers went to the Bellevue St. firehall Tuesday night to organize a protest against the city's proposed annexation of 1,000 acres in Smith. Ralph Standish, counsel for the protesting ratepayers, described the the city's scheme for outright annexation of the 1,000 acres as "premature, ill-considered, not digested or thought out." "They should annex when they need the land, not 20 years before they need it," he said. "There is a case for a small annexation but when it comes to 1,000 acres (equal to a quarter or a third of all Peterborough) the Smith ratepayer wants to make sure, before his taxes are doubled or trebled, that he gets some benefits during his lifetime."

CONDEMN COUNCILS

Ratepayers condemned both the Smith township council and the city council for the proposed move. And Mr. Standish said he was surprised that Peterborough ratepayers hadn't raised a fuss when they realized the cost—not only of annexing a piece of land nearly a third the size of the present city but also the extensive services such as schools, police and fire protection, roads, sewage, water, light, etc. that would have to be supplied.

Mrs. W. A. Young said she liked the peace and quiet of living in a township and didn't want to become a city resident. "Besides," she added, "the way they're spending the people's money in Peterborough is shocking."

None of the township council was present at the protest meeting which was lively though orderly at all times.

MEETING ON FRIDAY

R. S. Meiklejohn, chairman of the group, said that the city and township councils were arranging to meet Friday to iron out any misunderstandings. And Saturday night the full council would meet with representatives of the group in the Peterborough county courthouse.

Monday afternoon the protesting group intend to take their case to the Ontario Municipal Board which is sitting here for that purpose.

Mr. Standish said he was "astonished" to find that city and township councils were not aware of the full implications of the annexation. Smith council have had no assurance when the whole 1,000-acre area will be developed or when the city services can be installed to compensate the ratepayers for their higher taxes.

LONG TERM PLANNING

"Common sense says that 4,000 houses can't be built immediately on 1,000 acres," said Mr. Standish. "City officials say they want the land for long term planning. But why should anybody whose land won't be wanted for 10-20 maybe 50 years pay two or three times the taxes in case they do want it."

The lowest estimate from any city official for building and installation of services is 10 years, said Mr. Standish.

Don't Expect Much Change In Cost Index

OTTAWA (CP) — Living costs have reached a new high in the United States, but they are keeping to lower levels in Canada.

The U. S. consumer's price index, reflecting the cost of food, clothing, shelter and other consumer items as of July 15, moved to a peak of 190.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

That's 1.12 points higher than the June index and five per cent higher than the January, 1951, level when American price and wage controls took effect.

In Canada, where there are no direct price or wage controls, the cost-of-living index during June stood at 188.0, still 3.5 points below the peak of 191.5 established last December. The Canadian index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100.

EXPECT LITTLE CHANGE

Tomorrow, the July index likely will be published, and although no one wants to go out on a limb to forecast which way it will point, it appears likely there will be only a tiny change from the June level.

For one thing, the July index likely will not include a survey of rents, and although food prices have been a big factor in recent index increases, the heavier flow of foodstuffs to market during the summer months tends to keep prices from jumping excessively.

However, eggs have been an exception. With most hens cutting production during the hot weather, prices climbed sharply during June providing the main spark for an increase of seven-tenths of a point in the index. This followed an increase of six-tenths of a point during May, reversing the downtrend in the previous four months.

Egg prices are not expected to decline until cooler weather returns. During June there also were small increases in the price of beef, lamb and pork.

With the exception of food, there was little change in the prices of other family budget items during June. Clothing was down slightly, along with some home furnishings, but the fuel and light and miscellaneous columns remained unchanged. Rents were not surveyed and this column remained at the peak of 147.9.

Important Find At Wilberforce

TORONTO (CP)—Barbara Shaw, a second-year student of anthropology at the University of Toronto was credited today with having made possibly the most important archaeological find in Canada.

The Toronto girl identified an ancient Indian ax on the shore of Farquhar Lake near Wilberforce, as dating back to the Old Copper Culture.

The discovery was made last fall, Professor J. Norman Emerson of the university's department of anthropology said yesterday. However, excavating began only last week because of high water.

Miss Shaw was shown what appeared to be a lump of black and bent copper, which she recognized as an Indian ax of what is known as the Old Copper Culture. Hunting for the cache from which the ax may have come, she discovered other copper articles and flint arrow-heads.

Professor Emerson said the copper items were made of native copper which probably came from Isle Royale in Lake Superior where the Indians were known to have mined copper.

Believe Farouk Has Millions Abroad,

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The pro-Wafdist newspaper Al Misri quoted custodians of former King Farouk's holdings today as saying the exiled Egyptian monarch owns about £9,000,000 worth of property abroad and needs no financial aid from Egypt.

The amount of cash Farouk may have on deposit outside Egypt is not known, but it has been estimated as high as £1,000,000.

Farouk told reporters after he arrived on the Isle of Capri to begin his exile last July that he was a comparatively poor man. He said he had not taken a fortune out of Egypt and had no fortune stored up outside his native land.

The exiled King's vast holdings in Egypt—estimates of their value have run as high as £2,000,000,000—were ordered impounded last month by the reform government that kicked him off his throne.

Duchess Of Kent, Son Visit Southeast Asia

LONDON — (Reuters). — The Duchess of Kent and her son, the 16-year-old Duke of Kent, will make a flying 35-day tour of Southeast Asia starting September 27, it was announced Tuesday.

It will mark the first visit by an immediate member of the Royal Family to Malaya since the jungle warfare against Communist guerrillas opened up 4 years ago. The widowed Duchess is the Queen's aunt.

In Malaya, the Duchess will visit the 1st Battalion Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regiment, of which she is the colonel-in-chief. Her itinerary calls for visits to Singapore, Hong Kong, Sarawak, and North Borneo.

First British Pilot Breaks Sonic Barrier At Air Show

FARNBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—Britain's twin-jet de Havilland 110 broke through the sound barrier at the big air show here yesterday.

The all-weather fighter was flown by test pilot John Derry, first Briton ever to break the sonic barrier. But the crowds were too far away to hear the thunderclap which marks a plane's acceleration to supersonic speed—760 miles an hour at sea level, 600 miles an hour at 30,000 feet.

In Britain's first public demonstration of faster-than-sound flight, the DH-110 went into a dive eight miles above the earth. Only the vapor trail could be seen.

After snaking down from the skies in his dive, Derry levelled his screaming jet fighter out only a few feet above the runway and flashed past the stands at more than 700 miles an hour.

Another sensation for the crowds at the annual British aircraft makers' display was the first public demonstration of the British Avro A698, the world's first four-engined "flying triangle" jet bomber. The new bomber, which had her maiden flight only last Saturday, was prevented by a mechanical fault from showing up Monday.

Another craft on its maiden public appearance was the 10-engined 140-ton Princess flying boat, which can carry 200 troops at 380 miles an hour.

The DH-110's supersonic flight was made yesterday after a ban on barrier-cracking "bangs" had been lifted. The ban was imposed Monday after local protests that shockwaves as planes burst through the sound barrier might damage ground property. Test pilots had pleaded for a chance to fly "flat out."

Cars Collide One Killed, Two Injured

Blame Heavy Rain For Accident On Bancroft Curve

BANCROFT (ENS)—A Toronto man, 25-year-old Gordon S. O'Brien, died Tuesday of injuries received in a head-on crash 19 miles north of here.

His passenger, 55-year-old John Shevlin, 303 Frederick Ave., Peterborough, is in Peterborough Civic Hospital in serious condition. Shevlin suffered abrasions to his left arm, face and left knee. Suffering from shock, he is not yet fully conscious. Driver of the other car, Clarence Thompson, 57, St. Ola, suffered only slight injuries.

The cars met head-on on a sharp curve at the top of a hill three-and-a-half miles north of Maynooth on the road to Lake St. Peter. It was raining heavily at the time and police believe the weather conditions were to blame for the crash.

INQUEST EXPECTED

It is not expected that any charges will be laid, but an inquest will probably be held soon.

Both O'Brien and Shevlin were taken to Bancroft Red Cross Hospital, then to Civic Hospital. O'Brien was pronounced dead on arrival at the Peterborough hospital. He had suffered a possible fractured skull and internal injuries.

Dr. O. W. Anderson of Bancroft was at the scene of the accident and treated the three injured men.

The car O'Brien was driving was rented from a Toronto auto rental firm. O.P.P. Corporal Archie Grayling and Constables John Hutchinson and George Lloyd are investigating. Both cars are almost total wrecks.

Austrian Communists Begin Party Purge

VIENNA, Austria (Reuters)—The Austrian Communist party has started a purge of party officials and leading members, usually well-informed sources said today.

The sources said the purge had begun with about 15 persons, including Otto Brichacek, former chairman of the Communist Youth Federation and until now a member of the party central committee.

He has been deprived of all offices and a committee has been appointed to consider whether he should be expelled from the party, the sources said.

Communication Lines Disrupted By Storm

BROCKVILLE (CP)—A storm which swept through this area last night tore down communication lines and tied up highway traffic for several hours. Prescott, 12 miles east of here, was isolated when telephone communication was cut off until 6 a.m.

Hydro both west and east of Brockville was off until one o'clock this morning. Five miles east of here two large trees felled by the storm, tore down 100 pairs of trunk cables and 50 long-distance lines between Montreal and Toronto.

THEIR FIRST SCHOOL DAY—Youngsters toddled into classrooms in city schools Tuesday for their first taste of school. Practically every kindergarten had at least one or two five-year-olds who burst into tears, but on the whole the children seemed quite happy. Mrs. C. Brickman who is supplying at King Edward school's kindergarten started school off with Jack and the Beanstalk. This way the children like the story and school too.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Army Production To Level Off After July '53

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary Robert A. Lovett says military production will begin levelling off after next July and the U.S. armed forces may cut their requests for money in the coming fiscal year.

Lovett said yesterday that by fiscal 1954 — the 12 months beginning next July 1 — the armed services will have enough of certain items, and their production would be cut to a sustaining, or replacement, level.

He did not say what these items might be but said their continued manufacture would be adequate to keep production lines operating in factories, however.

REQUESTS DOWN

Lovett said he expects total money requests for next year to be below the $46,590,605,482 plus $2,250,000,000 for public works that was voted for the defence effort this fiscal year.

Lovett indirectly answered congressional criticism that military buying was lagging by reporting that by last June 30, spending for military equipment and construction was 6.6 times more than at the start of the Korean War.

Lanza, Studio Have New Crisis

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—M-G-M's quarrel with singer Mario Lanza reached a new crisis today with the studio announcing abandonment of his new film, "The Student Prince."

The studio said more than $700,000 already has been invested in the movie. A spokesman for Lanza said the singer expects the picture still will be completed.

"Most of the technical obstacles have been taken care of," the spokesman said, "but there are some artistic issues still to be settled. Lanza feels that possibly the picture will be delayed for a few weeks but that eventually it will be made and he is most anxious to star in it under the right auspices."

Reports circulated that the actor does not see eye to eye with those in charge of making the movie.

Skunk Delays Work

TORONTO (CP)—A baby skunk yesterday kept 200 workmen at bay for some hours and delayed construction of a suburban New Toronto pumping station. The animal was discovered wandering along the floor of a five-foot sewer excavation which surrounds the station.

Trade Unions Ask Malan Be Halted

MARGATE, England (CP)—Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress demanded today that Prime Minister Churchill intercede in South Africa to gain the release of labor leaders and end racial discrimination there. By a unanimous vote, the 900 delegates who represent 8,000,000 British workers passed a resolution condemning the policies of South Africa's Prime Minister, Daniel F. Malan. The resolution called upon the general council, executive body of the T.U.C., to "make the strongest possible protest to Dr. Malan, and also to our own government, with a view to obtaining the release of our colleagues, and an end to all racial discrimination."

RAP MALAN'S POLICIES

Malan's apartheid (racial-segregation) policies, the resolution said, are "a complete denial of the declaration of human rights adopted by the United Nations to which the British government were signatories."

Malan, a sworn enemy of the British Labor party, has repeatedly threatened to break away from the Commonwealth and seek a South African republic if British criticism of his regime does not abate.

The T.U.C., backbone of the Labor party, is mapping its policies in the annual convention this week. Decisions here will serve as a basis for the Labor party's platform for returning to power when the party meets in its annual convention later this month.

Percy Belcher of the Tobacco Workers' Union, who moved the resolution, said that its approval "is bound to have a big influence on future events inside Africa."

In another resolution, the T.U.C. unanimously condemned the government for proposing to sell about 40,000 state-operated haulage trucks to private buyers.

Denationalization of road haulage would be fought by every legitimate means, the resolution said. The delegations welcomed a previous Labor-party statement that a future Socialist government would restore road haulage to public ownership without paying compensation.

Asks Mossadegh To Reconsider

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson publicly appealed today for Iranian Premier Mossadegh to reconsider his rejection of proposals made by Britain and the United States for settlement of the Iranian oil crisis.

Acheson called the proposals "fair and reasonable." He told a press conference that the three-point settlement plan accepts nationalization of the British-owned oil industry in Iran "as a fact" and concerns itself with the problem of working out compensation.

The plan was put forward by President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill Saturday.

Mossadegh turned it down within a few hours after it was presented to him at Tehran. He has called a parliamentary session for Sept. 10 to consider a formal reply.

Mao, Stalin Emphasizing Chinese-Russian Unity

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist China's Mao Tze-tung and Prime Minister Stalin of Russia emphasized Russian-Chinese unity in the face of "threats of new aggression in the Far East" as they exchanged greetings on the seventh anniversary of the Second-World-War victory over Japan.

The lengthy telegrams sent by the leaders of the two huge Communist nations were published on the front page of the Communist party newspaper Pravda today. Both Stalin and Mao stressed that Soviet-Chinese friendship is "uncrushable."

In his message to Stalin, Mao declared:

"Now, when again Japanese militarism is being revived, when the aggressive forces of Japan again are lifting their heads, the uncrushable friendship and alliance between China and the Soviet Union are a firm guarantee of the prevention of a repetition of aggression from the side of Japan or any other state which should unite with Japan in acts of aggression, a firm guarantee of the maintenance of peace in the east and in the whole world."

Stalin said in reply:

"The great friendship between the Soviet Union and the Chinese Peoples' Republic is a reliable guarantee against the threat of new aggression, a powerful pillar of peace in the Far East and the whole world."

Blaze Going Hour Before Roomers Notice Any Smoke

TORONTO (CP)—Two young men and a girl lost their lives early today in a fire in a $3-a-night room they had been using for a drinking party. Firemen found Connie Challis, about 20, dead on a bed in a rooming house on Dundas St. east in central Toronto. The body of Ernest Tomlinson, 20, lay on the floor beside the bed. James Cassidy, 22, badly burned, was found sprawled near the door and died later in hospital. Platoon Chief Percy Taylor, who answered the alarm at 5:59 a.m., said he believed Cassidy was sleeping in a chair when the fire broke out.

Chief Taylor said the fire apparently started from a cigaret butt dropped in the upholstery of the chair.

His men saw two empty liquor bottles in the room.

HEARD WOMAN SCREAM

Mrs. Hilda Crosken, who lives on the second floor, said she heard a woman scream.

"I rushed upstairs but heard nothing more. Just before the scream, I heard a lot of noise. It must have been when they tried to get out. They had been having a party most of the night."

Firemen said the fire almost burned itself out from lack of oxygen. They estimate it started at least an hour before other occupants of the 35-room house smelled smoke. The firefighters, who confined the blaze to the one room, estimated damage at $500.

About 70 persons were in the house at the time of the outbreak.

Charles Quan, proprietor of the roominghouse, said the two men and the girl asked him late last night to rent them a room. At first he refused but, after the girl pleaded with him, he let them in. He said the trio spent the next several hours drinking wine.

Firemen said they believe Cassidy fell asleep in the chair. When he awoke and found the room filled with smoke, he tried to open the door but apparently collapsed before he could do so.

TRIED TO BREAK DOOR

Owen Wilson, a roomer, tried vainly to force the door open after seeing smoke seeping from the room.

Reg. Lepine, 57, another roomer, smashed a panel of the door with a fire extinguisher.

Firemen who forced their way into the room found the girl on the bed and Tomlinson lying on the floor beside the bed.

Police, Residents Play Tag With Light

BARRIE (CP)—Provincial Police and residents of the northeast end of Lake Simcoe played tag last night and early today with a red light.

The light, first reported late in the evening, was said to have appeared at many points around the lake. Police checked each report but the cause of the light has not been determined.

Child Locks Himself In House Before Fire

BARRIE (CP) — Four-year-old Paul Carr locked himself in his parents' 12-room farm-home today shortly before it burst into flames.

His mother, Mrs. Lillian Carr, 32, was outside at the time. She screamed at him to "kick the door," but only after she left to break in a window did he unlock it.

The house was razed. Damage has been estimated at $20,000. The fire was believed cause by an overheated woodstove.

Doesn't Believe Russians Have A-Bomb

CHICAGO (AP)—"I don't believe Russia has one single atom bomb," Carlton S. Proctor, prominent New York engineer who has worked in Russia, said today.

"I think every one of the atomic explosions in Russia was just a premature explosion in an effort to produce a bomb."

Proctor is president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, one of 64 engineering societies celebrating a Centennial of Engineering opening today.

He gave his views on Russia during an interview telling of U.S. engineers' vast accomplishments in the last 100 years.

Proctor said it takes teamwork and co-operation to make an A-bomb work, and that Russians don't trust each other.

CO-OPERATION IMPOSSIBLE

Such co-operation, he said, "is essentially impossible in Russia or any other totalitarian state. There is no possibility of one man trusting another and integrating his efforts with any other man."

In 1930, Proctor worked on building Russia's second-largest dam at Svirstroy, east of Leningrad. In the First World War he was an army engineer, building the Persian corridor road from the Indian Ocean to funnel supplies to Russia.

"The Russians have no confidence in their own engineers," he said, "and I have never met a Russian engineer who was a Communist who was any good."

Soviet jet planes are good, "but the Russians got the practical end of how to build them from Germans whom they took over."

"The Russians have brilliant physicists and mathematicians, brilliant purely in theory. In jet propulsion, they are probably ahead of us in theory. But theory alone doesn't produce an A-bomb, or an army, or morale."

Find Paddler Adrift On Lake

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A former athlete who tried to paddle 35 miles across storm-lashed Lake Erie on a surf board was rescued yesterday about eight miles short of his goal. He had been reported missing since Monday night.

The sandsucker S. S. Scobel reported to the Erie U. S. Coast Guard station that it had found Virgil Sayre, 25, of Meadville, clinging to his surf board northwest of the Erie Coast Guard station.

An air-water-land search for the former collegiate varsity swimmer had been under way.

Sayre, captain of the Allegheny College swimming team for two years before his graduation in 1950, set out from Port Royal, Ont., at 9:45 a. m. Monday. He expected to paddle across the lake in 12 hours with only his hands as motive power. He was dressed in shorts and a shirt and for food took along some candy bars and honey.

Two Trains Collide 22 People Injured

CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty - two persons were injured, none seriously, in the collision last night of two elevated trains operating at ground level in suburban Cicero. Chicago transit authority officials said a four - coach westbound train was making a crossover from the north to the south track when its second car was struck by an empty six-car wooden train.

The front of the eastbound train was splintered and the second car of the westbound train was knocked off its tracks. Most of the injured passengers were released from hospitals after being treated for cuts and bruises.

Annexation Policies Widen Rift

Believe Rural Areas Losing Out On All Urban Deals

BIGWIN INN (CP)—The annexation policies of the Department of Planning and Development are widening the rift between rural and urban areas, Ewart Biggar, clerk-treasurer of Brantford, told the Ontario Municipal Association convention yesterday.

Mr. Biggar said the department doesn't like the rural areas to retain any land on which there is industrial assessment. It was the loss of this assessment that aggravated the financial problems of the rural areas and was contributing to the break-up of the county system.

Speaking at the rural section meeting, Mr. Biggar quoted one department official as telling Hamilton city council to go out and annex their fringe areas where there was industrial growth because if the county ever got industrial taxes it would never let go of them. He warned:

WARNS OF DOMINATION

"If the county system of government ever breaks down the towns and villages will be dominated by the big cities. As it is now the big cities want to build a wall round themselves."

To re-establish the county system, they must find ways and means of drawing the cities back into it "so they'll pay their share towards roads and conservation of lands which they have helped to desecrate."

R. P. Barrick, clerk-treasurer of Welland county, said if larger towns seceded from the county they would have to set up their own administration.

"This talk of secession is a good vote catcher, but the towns that do it might find themselves on the wrong side of the fence," he added.

ROAD COSTS PIVOT

William Manning, clerk-treasurer of Ontario county, said agitation for separation seemed to revolve round road costs. The county hadn't the industrial assessment to maintain the roads and he thought the Highways Department might have to revise its grant system.

A. F. Stewart, clerk-treasurer of Wentworth county, said there had not been a change in the Road Subsidies Act since 1925, except in respect to bridges, and he agreed that cities should be brought back into the county system.

SEES HOUSING MISTAKES

At a meeting of the urban section, Dr. A. C. Curtis, mayor of Kingston, warned that municipalities are making a mistake by getting into house building. Responsibility should rest with the senior governments with their wider taxing powers.

Dr. Curtis was replying to a statement by Mayor Currah of St. Thomas that industrial growth in his city made it obligatory on local authorities to provide housing.

The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution asking that all municipalities within the county system be placed on the same basis as cities with regard to county levies and the schedule of grants be adjusted accordingly.

Yesterday the convention voted to back Britain's rearmament drive to the hilt.

But the convention turned against its leaders and narrowly approved a left-wing resolution condemning germ warfare and urging its abolition by the United Nations.

The anti-germ-warfare resolution, proposed by Dr. P. W. Brian of the Association of Scientific Workers, slipped through by a vote of 3,797,000 to 3,528,000. The convention's 900 delegates voted on behalf of their rank-and-file fellow union members.

Sir iVncent Tewson, general secretary of the T.U.C., opposed the anti-germ warfare resolution on the grounds it reflected Communist propaganda and inferred that there actually had been germ warfare.

Jet Speedboat Hits 100 MPH

LOCH NESS, Scotland (Reuters)—John Cobb's jet-propelled speedboat reached speeds of about 100 miles an hour on its first trial runs today.

But Cobb, British holder of the world land speed record, decided not to try today to smash the water speed record of 178.4 miles an hour held by Stanley Sayres of Seattle, Wash.

His jet boat "Crusader" made several runs across the lake and first reports were that everything was satisfactory. The craft has a potential speed of 200 m.p.h.

It is an unconventional tricycle-like affair skating across the water on small runners under the thrust of an airplane jet engine flaming out its stern.

Missing Plane Found On Island

PENETANGUISHENE (CP)—Three Americans aboard an amphibian aircraft forced down on Christian Island Monday were found unharmed yesterday and brought to this Georgian Bay port.

Indians on Christian Island reported discovery of the plane and Ontario provincial police went by boat to pick up the owner-pilot, Richard Hynes, 35, of North Olmstead, O.; Clarence Foster, 38, of Barnsville, and his son, Thomas 13. They were hungry but safe.

The plane left North Bay Monday for London. A squall and heavy electrical storm forced Hynes to land on the southern tip of the island and after making the plane secure they spent the night there.

Three Men Killed In Freighter Fire

The fire raged for almost two hours before being brought under control. Its cause was not determined.

The 440-foot, 5,320-ton vessel arrived at the Norfolk and Western Railway cargo pier yesterday.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Gusts of wind estimated at 140 miles-per-hour were reported today in the severe Atlantic hurricane swirling northwestward in open ocean 800 miles east of Miami.

The noon, EDT advisory said the tropical disturbance probably would continue the present course for the next 12 hours, "with possible intensification."

Forward speed was estimated at 12 to 14 miles per hour.

All shipping in the path of the hurricane—the second of the season—was told to get out of the way in a hurry.

Prices Turn Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices turned mixed in early afternoon stock market trading today as western oils and industrials improved.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,330,000 shares.

All sections of the gold list weakened but prospects showed most strength as speculative interest centred on a few low-priced issues. Gunnar gained a penny in a turnover of about 63,000 shares. Guayana, a junior producer, also made a small gain on a turnover of more than 60,000 shares.

Strength in papers, utilities, steel and banks buoyed the industrials. Price changes were generally fractional but Asbestos, a construction issue, dropped $1.25.

Base metals leaders held firm but other issues slipped, Barvue, Silver Miller and Head of Lake weakened.

Sapphire and West Homesteads lead the western oils list in active trading.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials up .85 at 329.89, golds down 1.00 at 92.95, base metals up .01 at 196.77 and western oils up .46 at 138.37.

Jailed 10 Days Drunk Driving Car Confiscated

J. Leo (Red) Feeley of Lake St., was today found guilty of driving a car on the River Road last August 13 while drunk. He was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

On two other charges he pleaded guilty and was sentenced:

For operating a motor vehicle when his licence was suspended he was fined $50 and costs or 15 days. The car was confiscated.

And for illegal possession of liquor—a part bottle of wine and eight pints of beer—the sentence was the minimum of $10 and costs.

David Peters of Armour Road, a passenger in the car allegedly driven by Feeley, said that as the result of an accident he received a spinal injury and an injury to his head.

Though dozing from the effects of some beer and "nerve pills" Peters was under the impression that Feeley was driving. But he admitted he wasn't sure.

O.P.P. Constable Wallace Mohns said that when he came across the ditched car north of the Nassau turn on the River Road nobody was there. Then Feeley came up and admitted he had been driving.

"He was in a drunken condition, staggered and smelled strongly of alcohol," said Constable Mohns. "There was part of a bottle of wine and eight pints of beer in the car."

O.P.P. Constable Jack Ricard confirmed Constable Mohn's opinion that Feeley was drunk. He added that the radiator of the car was warm and that Feeley said he had been there about 20 minutes.

James Dunn, defence counsel, said there was not sufficient evidence that Feeley was driving the car to warrant a conviction. Nobody saw him driving and what's more nobody saw him driving in a drunken condition.

Mr. Dunn contended there was no evidence on when the accident happened and the fact the radiator was warm wasn't significant.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter, however, found that the evidence of the two officers was sufficient for a conviction.

MORE ABOUT—

Smith Ratepayers

"Some land in the south end of the city was annexed five or six years ago but the residents still haven't got all the services," he said. "And I don't think city officials think the 1,000 acres will be digested for 20 years. Dr. Faludi, the man who drew up the plan for the expansion of Peterborough never recommended such a large annexation."

Geddes Harper said "a couple of township councillors told me they just wanted to get rid of the whole area."

Several ratepayers interrupted at this point to say they had received similar intimations. One councillor had excused the state of a road saying that Peterborough would soon be looking after it in any case.

Gerald Haig asked: "What about the undeveloped land already in the city? I understand there is about 350 acres in the Downer's Corners area."

Mr. Standish said he couldn't see why this couldn't be developed.

SUGGEST POLICE VILLAGE

Another speaker suggested forming Smith into a police village so they could permanently resist the encroachment of the city. But Mr. Standish said that the immediate issue was annexation and preparing a case for the Municipal Board on Monday.

The prime example of increased taxation was the farm of Mr. Meiklejohn. A tentative assessment made by Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis showed that Mr. Meiklejohn's taxes, judged on a city basis, would go up from $400 a year to $900 or more.

"Neither the township council nor the city really want the land but he (Mr. Meiklejohn) would be expected to pay these increased taxes just in case they do," said Mr. Standish.

Representatives who will meet the Smith council Saturday night to make known their opposition to annexation are Robert J. Groombridge, Gerald Gordon, Jack Baldwin, Roy Hancock, Mrs. Young, Don Reid and Mr. Meiklejohn. A substantial number of spectators is also expected.

To prove they are in earnest in their opposition the ratepayers are circulating a petition and they claim the signatures of about 98 per cent of those in the affected area. They assured The Examiner Tuesday night that a sizeable fund is being built up for the expenses of fighting the annexation.

4,000 Miners Stage Walkout

PITTSBURGH (AP)—About 4,000 western Pennsylvania coal miners refused to work again today, two days after the end of the country-wide 10-day memorial holiday.

Closed are three mines of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., the only pits owned by the steel company in Pennsylvania.

A company official said a month-old grievance over dismissals prompted the walkouts.

Elsewhere in the U.S., local issues were blamed for the refusal of miners to report at several Utah mines. There has been no immediate explanation for the idleness of thousands of other diggers in southeastern Kentucky and northeastern Tennessee.

Storm Stalls Action In Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A storm today grounded United Nations planes and lashed infantrymen on the Korean battle front with up to 3½ inches of rain.

Allied fighter-bombers yesterday bombed an airfield near Sinanju which the Fifth Air Force said the Communists were rebuilding. The Sinanju field lies about 155 miles north of the western front.

A U.S. Eighth Army staff officer said Communist probes and patrols have increased across the front in the last two days. None developed into more than brief skirmishes.

The Eighth Army reported it inflicted 10,052 casualties on the Communists in August, about 1,000 more than in July. The total includes 5,028 killed, 4,974 wounded and 50 captured.

Chief Justice Robertson Has Retired

OTTAWA (CP)—A Justice Department source today confirmed that Hon. Robert Spelman Robertson has retired as chief justice of Ontario. However, no successor has been named.

Chief Justice Robertson, 81, who has held the post since 1938, tendered his resignation to the government and it was accepted, the source said. It became effective Sept. 1.

An appointment to fill the vacancy is not expected to be made immediately because both Prime Minister St. Laurent and Justice Minister Garson are in Vancouver to attend the Canadian Bar Association convention and are not expected to return until late next week.

Speculation regarding his successor has included Hon. James C. McRuer, 62, Chief justice of the Ontario High Court, F.P. Varcoe, deputy justice minister, and others.

Giants Sign Durocher Again

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Giants gave Manager Leo durocher a vote of confidence by signing him to manage the club again in 1953.

Terms were not announced but it is believed Durocher will receive about $65,000, the same as he is reported to have received this year following the Giants' pennant triumph in 1951.

Durocher succeeded Mel Ott at the helm in July of 1948.

Despite injuries and losses of key players, Durocher kept the Giants close on the heels of the league-leading Dodgers until mid-August.

Today the Giants trail the Brooks by eight games. A year ago, the fast moving New Yorkers were six games behind the Dodgers.

Britain Lifts Secrecy On Radio Aids

FARNBOROUGH, England (Reuters) — Britain today partially lifted the cloak around its hush-hush technical advances in the field of radio aids for military and civilian

In a giant indoor radio exhibition at the aircraft industry's annual air show here, crowds got a look at formerly top secret weapons ranging from a high speed pilotless target plane to equipment enabling a pilot to exactly pinpoint his distance from an airfield.

Every movement of the target plane, which is capable of speeds over 200 miles an hour, can be controlled by radio. Radio also controls the release of a parachute which insures that the plane lands safely.

TESTED LABOOR

The ultimate range of the distance measuring equipment will be tested later this week. During the Second World War such a device worked at ranges of only a few miles, but the one on display here can operate from over 100 miles away.

The purpose of this navigational aid is to tell a pilot the right moment to start his descent without wasting fuel.

Other displays include a pilot-to-ground radio telephone with a range of 3,000 miles and a new altimeter which measures the height of a plane within two feet.

Another Bishop Dies Under Reds

HONG KONG (AP) — Roman Catholic Sister Joan Marie Ryan today said that Maryknoll Bishop Francis X. Ford, a native of Brooklyn, died Feb. 21 in a Chinese Communist prison hospital.

Sister Ryan, also of Brooklyn and formerly Bishop Ford's secretary, brought the word of his death on her arrival from Red Canton. She herself was in serious condition.

Sister Ryan said the Reds told her Ford died of natural causes and old age and forced her to sign the death certificate.

Ford, 60, was the third Roman Catholic bishop reported to have died under Communist arrest. The others were Bishop Cyril Jarra, a German, and Bishop Leon Desmedt a Belgian.

Ford was bishop of the Kaying diocese in Kwangtung province and was in charge of the Maryknoll mission at Meihsien, 210 miles northeast of Canton. He and Sister Ryan were expelled in 1950 and jailed in Canton, both charged with spying.

WORK IN SALVAGING the partially-sunken dredge at Cobourg is proceeding slowly due to the fact that the window openings of the dredge all have to be covered up before the job of pumping out the water commences. The dredge is listing at a sharp angle and pumping equipment on the slanting top deck had to be lashed securely to keep it from sliding off. A diver has been engaged for several days battening up the window openings under water. When it is tight, the pumps will start. The above picture shows the sunken dredge and another dredge which was brought down from Hamilton to help in the salvage work.—(Murray Smith Photo).

Forced To Revise School Boundaries

ST. THOMAS.—Enrollment in some of the public schools of St. Thomas was so heavy Tuesday that the Public School Board had to meet to revise the school boundaries in the south section of the city, where residential growth has been pronounced.

The schools most seriously affected by heavy enrollments of beginners are Wellington Street School, one of the oldest in the city; and Homedale School, the city's newest school, which was only enlarged by six classrooms last spring. The boundaries of these two schools had to be reduced and children transferred to Myrtle and Elmdale Schools.

The enrollment of Grade 9 students at the Collegiate Institute was so heavy today that six classes had to be set up. Last year the Grade 9 classes had to be increased from four to five. The St. Thomas and Central Elgin District High School Board is meeting this week to study the problem of providing increased accommodation with a new high school proposed.

City Council decided to run the airport itself after it was informed the Federal Government would give no more than $900,000 for it.

The city, which has been trying to sell the airport to the Federal Government for years, set a "final" price of $1,287,000 recently.

Transport Minister Chevrier write City Council: "I do not see my way clear to recommend acceptance of the proposal."

U.N. Will Consider Japanese Application

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) —The UN Security Council, despite Soviet objections, decided Tuesday to consider Japan's application for membership along with other applications. The vote was 10 to 0 with Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik abstaining.

Malik raised his objection as the Security Council opened a debate on all pending applications. He merely said discussion of Japan's bid was not timely at present.

He made the same point with regard to the three Indo-Chinese governments of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam.

The Power Of Paint

The pleasantest change to come over the face of Peterborough in several years has been brought about by the skillful decoration of the outside of the Public Library. Nothing has happened to it save that it has been painted. But instead of haphazard painting the new decoration has been done according to a careful plan which accentuates the good points of the building and minimizes its bad ones, and as a result the Library looks better than it has ever looked before. It is an honest and durable building, with pleasant proportions and good windows, but it has hitherto presented a somewhat dingy face to the public. Thanks are due to the committee which worked out the present scheme of decoration which has virtually given Peterborough a new and fine building, so much has it been changed. And it has all been done with paint, as has the beautiful transformation of the fine old home which has now become the Masonic temple. Paint did it. Paint—and good taste.

* * *

The Library is now so handsome outside that we eagerly await a comparable transformation inside. The space is not used to best advantage, and the decoration and lighting have grown old-fashioned without acquiring any of that charm which sometimes beautifies old things. An architect could double the convenience of the present building, and the same committee which dealt so cleverly with the outside could be relied upon to do an equally good job in restoring the inside. In the Public Library we have a building which has become the centre of some of the most interesting work in Peterborough; that work would certainly be encouraged and furthered by a reform in its interior structure and appearance. The excellent new City Hall, the redecorated Library and Confederation Square now give the city the nucleus of a handsome civic centre. If, when redecoration becomes necessary, the older part of P.C.V.S. and the Y.M.C.A. building could be treated with similar skill, a fine effect could be achieved without undertaking any work which was not absolutely necessary.

Plugged With American Tender

This country, said a Peterborough bank manager yesterday, is becoming plugged with American tender. He spoke no less than the truth, as every handful of change in a Canadian pocket and every shop till shows. Where else in the world is foreign coinage accepted and in such common usage, as American is in Canada? Yet American coins are no more legal tender here than buttons and brass farthings. Do Americans at home, and American shops deal freely in Canadian coins? Not at all; a New York taxi-driver will not even accept a Canadian quarter as a tip. Two days ago we had a brief news item about a Peterborough girl stranded in Alabama until her father wired her some funds; Alabamans would not take her Canadian bills, at par or even at a discount.

Canadians have always liked American money; they still have a real fondness for it (otherwise why do they make so much effort to attract American tourists?). Not so many months ago, Canadians horded American silver as if it were precious gold. A year ago it was almost as rare as gold, because the law did not allow Canadians to retain American bills in their possession; but coins could be hoarded (not quite legally) against the next holiday or shopping spree in the States. It is droll how quickly that attitude and the availability of American coinage has changed.

We do not blame the tourists completely for the flood of U.S. silver, although they undoubtedly now like to pass it off as if it were Canadian whereas formerly they were very quick to spot and conserve every American dime or quarter that came up from their pocket. Part of the deluge now results from the stocking hoards and fruit-dish pile on the top pantry shelf that thousands of Canadian homes, restaurants and tourist resorts kept.

Canadian banks are fed up, as well as plugged up, with American tender. Hence, in addition to the now usual discount being charged on American money, they are requiring an extra two per cent. on rolled silver. The free and easy policy, they say, is over. Well, why not? If Canadians go to the States, they are expected to have and offer American money, not Canadian. If Americans go to Britain or France they take with them pounds and shilling and francs, or change their American money at the port of entry, the handiest bank or Cook's. A great deal of bother and embarrassment would be avoided if American travellers coming to Canada came with our money, or changed theirs at the border, in the usual fashion of tourists elsewhere.

How Masterly Must A Masterpiece Be?

We find that we are slightly nettled by an editorial in which the Ottawa Citizen comments upon the 80th birthday of Sir Max Beerbohm. "No one would describe either his written works . . . or his caricatures, as ranking with the masterpieces of English literature or art," pontificates the Ottawa paper. Just a minute, friend! We are quite prepared to describe Beerbohm's caricatures as masterpieces; in doing so we have with us Arthur Bartlett Maurice, as able a judge in such matters as exists today, who has written illuminatingly about the influence of Beerbohm and Aubrey Beardsley on 20th century drawing. If Beerbohm is not a master of caricature, will the Citizen name one? If a man sets out to be a caricaturist, and becomes one of the greatest in the history of that branch of art, is he to be denied greatness? Or does the Citizen think that it is easy to draw caricatures?

As for his books, they achieve perfection in the realm chosen by their writer; Zuleika Dobson is a book without a rival in English literature in its own realm of Baroque fun; Max was not as funny as Dickens, but then, on the other hand, Dickens could not have begun to be as funny as Max. Beerbohm demands to be judged on the standards which he set for himself—standards which no other writer has translated into realities with equal success.

The Citizen appears to have been deceived by Beerbohm's modest references to himself, in which he speaks of his "charming little reputation." It is the modesty of the carver of jade, who smiles a secret smile as he watches some inflated contemporary making a mess of a large piece of marble.

Korean Punches

The talks between Chou En-lai and Stalin, or Stalin's deputies in Moscow, are being thoroughly punctuated by the American air force and navy in North Korea. If peace is to be achieved through strength and force is the language the Reds understand best, then a truce may result. But this is an explosive way to get it. The repercussions of the bombs and shells on the North Korean-Siberian border could be world-wide. The Reds have had nearly two years in order to make their peace with the Americans in Korea and have not done so. Now the terms are becoming stiffer. As U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said on Sunday, the disappointments in the Korean truce negotiations have "given rise to impatience, resentment and doubt." And to bombs and shells heavily pounding in the very face of the two largest armies in the world, the Russian and the Chinese.

A Shocking Italian Revelation

Now that the Germans and Italians are free from dictatorship, and, on this continent, the generals and politicians are free from military dictation imposed by the alleged necessities of secrecy, some surprising and disconcerting things are being said and written in memoirs, pricking the reputations of the past. One of the most unsettling was made the other day by Signor Malvestiti in the Italian weekly Europeo.

What made Mussolini bearable to most English and American travellers on the continent (if they were sufficiently tolerant of Fascism to travel and spend money in Italy then) was that the "trains run on time." That was their apologia for Mussolini's reign: Il Duce was so great a dictator that he could make the Italian trains run on time. In dolce far niente Italy, if any man could accomplish this, all other wonders of achievement could he his; he must be good and great. Now the present Italian Minister of Transport, Signor Malvestiti, has revealed the naked, the undermining, the devastating truth about Mussolini's trains. He said: "In the Fascist era there existed really only one train which always ran exactly according to the time-table. This was train No. 1039 from Leghorn to Rome which carried to the capital Count Ciano's newspaper, the Telegrafo.". It happened that it also carried most of the tourists who went to Rome. Hence the legend.

The Minister explained that the train was always carefully supervised by the railway people; they considered Count Ciano's position and father-in-law, Mussolini. To avoid failure, a special reserve engine was kept under steam at the intermediate station of Civitavecchia to make sure that No. 1039 and its precious cargo, the Telegrafo and the tourists, should reach Rome at the precise minute scheduled. Thus the Romans could be enlightened by the Telegrafo and the tourists impressed to bring home with them their highest praise of Mussolini: he makes the trains run on time. Well, he may have made one do it, but he should also have given heed to other means of getting along his way, for, when all is said and done, Mussolini did miss the bus.

The American Scene:

Singing Convict Makes A Break

By KENNETH HARRIS

IN MARCH, 1949, tall, curly-haired George De Atley, who had a very good tenor voice, was sent to gaol for fifteen years for burglary. Once he had settled down in gaol the artist in De Atley came to the surface: sponsored by the prison chaplain, he organised and trained a vocal quartet.

Known as the "Chapel Chimers", his quartet achieved great fame among his fellow-prisoners; later, after a successful broadcast over the local town radio, performances by the Chimers came into great demand with churches, universities, high school and civic organisations. And as a result, the Governor of the prison very kindly let the Chimers "out" so that they could give concerts.

BY SEPTEMBER 16, 1951, in fact, the apparently contrite quartet had made one hundred and thirty appearances "outside"; and when on that date they ascended the stage of the Beutchel Baptist Church, in the State of Kentucky, their prison guard (by this time known by the more polite title of "chaperon") was sitting in the audience as usual, prepared to enjoy an uplifting evening.

While he sat there, however, his eyes filling with tears at the sounds of "My Old Kentucky Home", his principal charge, George De Atley, was—in between numbers —telephoning a local taxi-cab firm to ask them to have a cab waiting at the church in thirty minutes, and was contacting the local airport to book reservations on a plane, leaving the local airport an hour later, for himself, the bass, and the baritone.

THE CONCERT ENDED on an appropriate note with the quartet singing "Going Home". While the applause of the Baptists was at its height, De Atley, his bass, and his baritone, deserted the second tenor and, ignoring the curtain calls, took to their taxi-cab.

They flew three hundred miles by plane, the tickets having been purchased with money which they had surreptitiously acquired at their public performances. They then split up, but the bass and the baritone were captured and subsequently restored to the second tenor within a matter of a few weeks.

The leading tenor, however, was more elusive. He got to New York, where he secured a job as a commercial advertising artist—though his gift for not advertising his own identity far outdid his gift for broadcasting that of his employers. He also got married, and was well established with a young lady who knew nothing of his past, or of his artistic accomplishments.

But a few days ago he was at last arrested, and is now on his way back to prison, the chaplain, and the quartet—with a much bigger batch of "chaperons" than he ever had before.

THOSE WHO, like myself, listened to the speech that General Eisenhower made in New York to about fifteen thousand members of the American Legion (an association for ex-servicemen) felt rather uncomfortable as the General's delivery became more and more jerky and the sense of his speech less and less connected. The longer he spoke the flatter became his phrases, and the grimmer (so my friends tell me, for I was not in New York, and only heard him speak on the radio) became the expression on his face.

These sad happenings, which marred the General's first major campaign speech, were apparently due to the unfortunate behaviour of the teleprompter—a machine that stands a few feet from the speaker and carries over a rotating drum a much enlarged text of his speech, so that from the point of view of the huge audience looking in through the television camera, the speaker appears not to be reading his speech but to be looking straight out into the audience.

THE GENERAL began to read from the cunningly concealed teleprompter, but within a few sentences of the beginning he interpolated twenty or thirty words that he had only just thought of. When he had finished his interpolation and looked back to the teleprompter, he found that the man who was operating this fiendish machine from underneath the platform had apparently not heard the interpolation and had wound the text several words ahead of the point at which the General's thoughts were located. From there on it was a race, with the General running second nearly all the way, through no fault of his own—unless it is wrong for a speech-maker to interpolate spontaneously.

✧ ✧ ✧

IF THIS TELEPROMPTER is going to become fashionable—it was used extensively at both the Republican and the Democratic Conventions in July—it is going to afford a wonderful opportunity for the opposition to queer a speaker's pitch. If, for instance, the Democrats could somehow get control of the teleprompter-engineer, by secretly insinuating a beautiful blonde beneath the stage, or by promising him the Vice-Presidential nomination in 1956, they could make a prize ass of any Republican candidate by speeding up the drum so that he could never catch up with what he had prepared himself to say. They could, possibly, drive him into a mental breakdown by speeding the drum, then by slowing it, then, as the poor devil got within a comma or two of where he ought to be, by gently speeding it up again. They could go even further, and substitute for his own text a text that would begin as his did, and then gradually turn into a speech which would give the Democratic point of view instead of the Republican. The poor speaker, of course, would not realise the difference until it was too late. Having heard several major Democratic and Republican speeches, I doubt whether his audience would ever realise the difference either.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE AMERICAN PRESS has given considerable publicity to the claims of Swedish newspapers that Miss Margaret Truman's armed bodyguard "pushed around" Swedish photographers and newsmen. The American press, on the whole, has been noticeably good-humoured and impartial about the business. Only Fletcher Knebel, the Washington wit, has been a little caustic. "Lord Beaverbrook's 'Evening Standard' of London," he writes, "says America has bigger and tougher bodyguards than any other nation. The English want no part of America except our more modest features — notably the shrinking dollar."

✧ ✧ ✧

WITH STEEL UP five dollars or so a ton, as a result of the shortage of steel following the recently ended steel strike, motor cars here are expected to go up in price this winter. Even so, the Government's Department of Commerce says there will be fifty-six millions cars and trucks on the road this autumn—one for every three people in the United States.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHETHER THEY DESERVE it or not, it is the Democrats who will gain most political capital out of the recently released Government report on the international monopoly of the free world's oil, which is held by five American and two British-controlled firms. It was a Democratic Senator who first pressed President Truman into making the document public; and though the President has decided to do this as soon as the State Deparatment withdrew its advice that the report be withheld in view of the Iranian situation, the credit for having secured its release goes to Senator Sparkman, the Democrat's Vice-Presidential condidate. He had seen the report as Chairman of the Senate Small Businessman's Committee, a body which tries to protect the small trader from unfair monopoly on the part of the big firms. It is the Republicans who are popularly thought to be the controllers and constructors of monopolies and cartels; and by the time of the elections on November 4, General Eisenhower may be up to his neck, if not in oil, at least in questions about it.

HIS FAVOURITE CHEF

Make The Tractor Safer

(EDMONTON JOURNAL)

THE ALBERTA SAFETY COUNCIL'S campaign for safer tractor operations is well-timed and commendable, and it is equally gratifying that an inquiry having the same objective is being carried out at the University of Alberta.

The need has been apparent for years and has often been commented upon in these columns. Its seriousness is shown clearly by the figures on tractor accidents and fatalities which the Safety Council has carefully compiled.

The council reports that during the past 38 months there have been 67 deaths in tractor accidents in the province. That is a shameful, as well as tragic, toll, considering all the circumstances. Even in this agricultural province, tractors are not legion like passenger cars and trucks. Nor do they travel at high speeds along the highways and streets crowded with traffic. Though it is true they travel over much hilly and uneven ground, so do many trucks on construction projects.

The death rate in tractor accidents is frightfully high. The council reports that, in the 31-month period ended December last, 46 out of 76 accident victims died. That was a fatality rate of about 61 per cent. In the first seven months of this year, there have been 21 additional deaths—nearly half as many as in the earlier period which was four times as long.

Having enlisted the services of a provincial agriculturist, Graham Anderson of Calgary, the Safety Council is trying to bring home to farmers two main points:

1. That children should not be allowed on or near operating machinery.
2. That the weight distribution of tractors —their ability to balance on an incline—must be kept in mind in all operations.

The fact is that farm tractors, as is generally known, have a high centre of gravity. Most deaths result from overturning, when the driver has great difficulty in avoiding being caught and crushed under the machine. Thirty of the 46 deaths in the 31-month period to the end of last December came about in this way, either on highways or in fields.

This establishes the importance of the studies being conducted by B. T. Stephanson, associate professor of agriculture at the university. He is seeking means for increasing the stability of the tractors. This is a basic approach. It has often been recommended, and one would think that a more stable machine should not be beyond the ingenuity of engineers and manufacturers in this mechanical age.

Have Birthday Calendars

(Brandon Sun)

The Dutch celebrate birthdays with great fervour, no matter if the birthday girl is in her fifties. Everyone manages to remember birthdays easily by their "Birthday Calendar," a vital household article. This has no year marked on it and each day has a good large space, with ample room in which to write the names of all friends and relations whose birthday falls on that date. In nine homes out of ten the birthday calendar hangs where the family cannot miss seeing it, inside the lavatory door. There is much commonsense as well as kindliness in this Dutch custom. After all, anything that brings families and friends together must be a sound idea. It's a poor heart indeed that won't celebrate a birthday.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass, when the Lord would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Elisha from Gilgal. And Elijah said unto Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Beth-el. And Elisha said unto him, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Beth-el. And the sons of the prophets that were at Beth-el came forth to Elisha, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Lord will take away thy master from thy head today? And he said, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.

And Elijah said unto him, Elisha, tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. And he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho . . . . And Elijah said unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here; for the Lord hath sent me to Jordan. And he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on . . . .

And Elijah took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, so that they two went over on dry ground. And it came to pass, when they were gone over, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a double portion of thy spirit be upon me. And he said, Thou hast asked a hard thing: nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so. And it came to pass as they still went on, and talked, that, behold, here appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven.

And Elisha saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof. And he saw him no more: and he took hold of his own clothes, and rent them in two pieces. . . . And he took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Elijah? and when he also had smitten the waters, they parted hither and thither: and Elisha went over. (II Kings 2:1-4, 6, 8-12, 14.)

Letter To The Editor

BUCKHORN ROAD TRAIL

Sir: . . . I have hunted in all parts of Ontario for many years and have helped to haul deer as far as three miles to our camp over much better roads in places than this road. We called them trails, so why on earth call "this", a road?

If my memory serves me correctly, Mr. Kean said that this so called road would cost around two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to build, not saying anything about the countless thousands being spent to maintain. Many others, including myself say that it is worse than ever it was.

No wonder our ratepayers complain bitterly when they see the way their money is spent.

MARGATE OLYMPICS

Steel Demand, Supply, Balance in '53

NEW YORK (AP)—A reasonably satisfactory balance of steel supply and demand by the end of the first quarter of 1953 was foreseen today by the Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly.

The publication said this was the consensus of steel executives and government planners whose opinions it surveyed.

From the second quarter on, it added, "the nation's fast-sprouting steel production capacity will act as formidable interference in pushing shortages aside."

CAPACITY INCREASED

Current capacity was placed at more than 112,000,000 ingot-tons annually, against 108,500,000 last Jan. 1.

The Iron Age said "few in the industry doubt that mills, besieged by rush orders today, will be looking for customers on most of their products by the end of the second quarter."

Reporting that auto producers are "having a field day of optimism over future steel supply," the trade weekly commented:

"Many of them believe that the shortage will evaporate by the early weeks of 1953 and that supply will ease steadily this year. Steel producers, regarding large defence set-asides (especially in bars and plates), can't see eye to eye with Detroit."

Steelmaking operations this week were placed at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity, up one point from last week.

FACE ON THE BARRED-ROOM FLOOR—Robert Miller, 23, of Cassopolis, Mich., finds it isn't so easy to escape from jail. Miller, who attempted to squeeze under his cell door, was pinned to the floor for over twelve hours. Sheriff R. Edgar Frobst, of Cassopolis, left, and Fire Chief Donald Rhoades, right, finally had to cut the imprisoning bars with an acetylene torch to free Miller so they could put him back in jail.

Buchenwald's Red Witch Dreams Of Becoming Great German Poet

By DON DOANE

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Ilse Koch, "the red witch of Buchenwald," is writing poetry in Aichach prison while serving her life sentence for barbaric cruelties to concentration camp prisoners.

It's pretty bad poetry, on the basis of a sample published in yesterday's issue of the German weekly news magazine, Der Spiegel (The Mirror).

And its theme of "evening peace" and "crickets singing" sounds odd, coming from the red-haired woman whose previous artistic expression included making lamp shades from the skin of slaughtered prisoners.

FFrau Koch recently wrote her mother that she was convinced, after eight years in prison, she is gifted with poetic power, and certain she will reach her goal of becoming a poet.

She was convicted of repeated cruelties at Buchenwald concentration camp where her husband was commander until the Nazis executed him for alleged embezzlement.

Two years after his death, Frau Koch bore a prison-conceived son, her third child.

Here is a translation of Frau Koch's poem which Der Spiegel printed:

To evening's peace I listen
Above my window sill.
The brooklet keeps on flowing
Because it can't be still.

Again to their cozy nests
The birds in flocks are winging.
The night moths play in the wind,
And crickets are singing.

The darkness of the forest
Offsets the light-hued corn.
Back from the mountains echoes
The sound of a forest horn.

He who on peaceful thoughts
His mind can ever keep
Will find his worries vanish
In calm and hopeful sleep.

Federal Jury Investigates Oil Monopoly

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury seeking evidence of an alleged international oil monopoly assembled today to start sifting through the records of major petroleum operators.

The grand jury inquiry was organized at the request of Attorney-General James P. McGranery, who said a Justice Department investigation indicated that seven large companies dominated the world oil market.

The government has subpoenaed the records of 21 large oil companies for grand jury examination.

GIVEN DATA

Most have responded with the requested data. Some, including Standard Oil of California, have obtained extensions of time.

Others, led by Standard Oil of New Jersey, are resisting the subpoenas. Their motion of withdrawal is set for Sept. 10.

The Federal Trade Commission in a report recently made public by a Senate committee, said seven companies had collaborated to divide world markets and fix prices.

NATO Requires Support Critics Can Weaken It Pearson Tells CNE Audience

TORONTO (CP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with its unity and growing strength, is the strongest shield against aggression and may soon represent sufficient authority to compel Red countries to negotiate differences, External Affairs Minister Pearson declared yesterday.

But, insisted Mr. Pearson, the present is no time to falter in supporting NATO or to weaken it by criticizing it, either as failing in some of its objectives or as demanding too much from its member countries. No demands have been made which are not being met, and establishment of military might must transcend other objectives such as economic and political cooperation of members.

Mr. Pearson spoke yesterday at the luncheon of the Exhibition directors on International and Health Day when the guests were chiefly representatives of foreign powers and educational leaders. He was introduced by President J. A. Northey as one of Canada's best-known statesmen and following his address Education Minister Dunlop of Ontario, a former colleague on the faculty of the University of Toronto, thanked him as a forthright speaker whose knowledge of international conditions justified his demand for support of NATO.

It was perhaps fitting, Mr. Pearson said, that he speak on the special day at the exhibition because the relationship between health and poverty was recognized and the relationship between poverty and vulnerability to political unrest was proven.

BETTERING CONDITIONS

The various organizations of U.N., he said, were doing much to better conditions which laid some nations open to the debasing and sordid doctrines of the Cominform. Yet one basic truth must be recognized as it had been presented by Israel's delegate to the council: The betterment of health and welfare must not merely save people for the slaughter of warfare; every thought and effort should be devoted to ensuring peace. Thus, said Mr. Pearson, the thought of peace transcends the thought of free peoples.

How, then, he asked, was this being sought? No change in the nature or urgency of the threat against freedom had occurred. In fact, the threat was as close as ever it had been in history; though Western Europe felt less tension, Asia felt more. The menace of communism, with its party agents in every country, including Canada, was constant. The cruellest and best organized conspiracy in history faced freedom.

Against this had been created a force which could not be formed under the convention of the United Nations. In fact, Mr. Pearson recalled, in 1947 he had at the same table suggested that within the covenant of the UN, which was unable to organize against threats, free nations could unite and plan. Since then this had been done. Today NATO existed.

"War may or may not erupt," said Mr. Pearson, adding that only the minds of men in Moscow could decide. "Our duty is to convince those minds that if they make the decision for war they will face a free world in which they will have no chance of success."

TENDENCY TO CRITICIZE

There was a tendency, he said, to criticize NATO, to say that agreements reached at Lisbon as to the contributions by members were insufficient or too great, that economic chaos would result from the demands on some members, that too little progress was being made in the fields of economic, social and political co-operation.

Europe could give a far better The Lisbon decision, he said, had been reached in agreement; every member nation was honestly and seriously trying to meet its obligations and by the end of 1952, military commitments would be closer to realization. And only after they were reached, he felt, could the greater problems of trade agreements for mutual benefit and political co-operation be pressed further. True, he said, NATO members must let down economic barriers, yet they must not in turn form a trade union against other free nations. But this must come after military strength.

Today, he said, if war were forced on the world, Western account of itself than even a year ago. A supreme command had been created, strength and equipment were being mobilized. Lines of communication and transport were being quickly created. Lisbon was being seen reflected in strength and authority against aggression's threat. And before the year's end the NATO members would again meet to plan the needs and obligations of future years, with a feeling of accomplishment.

"We must not deceive ourselves that the crisis is past," he said. "We will find it harder as the bills come in and are reflected in taxes. Some will still say we are putting crushing burdens on nations unable to bear them; others will say we are falling short of needs.

"Yet NATO by its resolve, its unity and its growing power alone now is the strongest shield we have against an aggressive attack. Before too long it will provide the protection which may make possible the negotiations, with some chance of success, of the differences that now so dangerously divide the world.

"This, then, is no time to falter or hesitate, but it is one for determined and intelligent effort to finish the job ahead of us. Then, but only then, can we look forward to a peace that is more than the absence of declared war and to a progress that means more than better bombs and bigger guns."

Will Remove Gut Dam When Power Plan Approved

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Canadian government told the International Joint Commission today it would remove Gut Dam in the St. Lawrence River as soon as the commission approved Canada's St. Lawrence power project.

The dam has been blamed for high water that has caused property damage along Lake Ontario.

The Canadian government's plan was outlined by David Mundell of Ottawa, a member of the Canadian Department of Justice, at a hearing of the commission here.

STATEMENT "GRATIFYING"

Former U.S. Senator A.O. Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the American delegation on the six-member commission, said that Mundell's statement would be "very gratifying to property owners on both sides" of Lake Ontario.

James L. Kunen of Washington, counsel for the U.S. government at today's hearing, said that Mundell's statement was "very significant."

He noted that the dam had evoked a controversy in both the United States and Canada for many years.

The chief speaker at the hearing today was John E. Burton, chairman of the New York State Power authority. The authority, backed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, has been fighting for several years to get permission from the U.S. government to join with Ontario to build a huge hydro-electric power plant in the St. Lawrence River.

ONLY AUTHORIZED AGENCY

Burton told the commission in a prepared statement that the power authority was the only public agency authorized to construct the project with I.J.C. and Federal Power Commission approval.

The proposal to build a 2,200,000-horsepower plant has been stymied by the federal government. The Federal Power Commission refused in 1950 to grant the state a licence to build its half of the project. The commission has agreed to reconsider.

BARRIERS REMOVED

Barriers to the licensing were removed in Washington earlier this year after President Truman lost another attempt to win congressional approval for federal participation with Canada in the St. Lawrence seaway project. Canada has announced she will build the seaway alone.

Dewey and the State Power Authority have argued that, because of congressional opposition to the seaway, New York and Ontario should be allowed to construct jointly the power project.

President Truman indicated June 18 that he would not oppose New York's effort to develop the power project in the river's International Rapids. On Aug. 12, a U.S. Court of Appeals returned to the Federal Power Commission for further consideration the New York proposal, which the F.P.C. had rejected previously. The F.P.C. joined the state in asking for the court action.

The U.S. government also supports Canada's plan to handle the seaway construction without American aid.

Today's I.J.C. hearing is one in a new series to help the commission collect more information on both the Canadian seaway plan and the New York-Ontario project. Further meetings will be held in Montreal.

Three preliminary hearings were held by the International Commission in July in Toronto, Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Cornwall.

Top Red Rebel Dies In Ambush

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Security forces battling Communist-led guerrillas today announced the death of one of the top Red rebel leaders in a police jungle ambush.

The announcement identified him as Cheung Kit Min, Communist state committee member for Malacca and one of the Malayan Communist party's general staff directing guerrilla activities in Malacca state.

Cheung, 33, was killed in an ambush in Alor Gajah, only eight miles north of the town of Malacca. One of his aides also was wounded in the ambush but escaped.

The Malayan government had offered a reward of 75,000 straits dollars ($24,675) for Cheung alive and 35,000 ($11,515) for him dead.

Plan Sectional Rally For WMS At Warsaw

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — "Along African Trails'" by Dr. David Gallagher, was the new study book introduced by Mrs. W. W. Leonard, when the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church held the opening meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Earl G. Orr, on Tuesday afternoon. Following the resume of the first chapter, Mrs. J. McKerchar read a poem on Africa.

Mrs. G. S. Tanner was in charge of the devotional period. The Bible readings were taken by Mrs. Ed. Dunford, Mrs. E. J. Millage, Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Herbert Kemp, and Mrs. W. J. Charlton led in prayer.

Mrs. Tanner also gave some highlights from the Leadership Training school held this summer at Ontario Ladies College, Whitby, at which she was a delegate.

The president, Mrs. P. H. Darling was in charge of the business and announced the sectional rally of the Women's Missionary Society to be held in Warsaw United Church in October. An invitation will be extended to the members of the Missionary and Service Club to attend.

It was decided that the Society would co-operate with the Service Club in purchasing nine books on Africa to be used for study purposes.

Mrs. McKerchar moved a vote of appreciation to the hostess and Mrs. P. H. Darling assisted in serving refreshments.

24 Craft In Northland Vary Excursion Boats To Canoes

NORTH BAY (CP)—A provincially-owned railroad is sailing its own freight and passenger fleet through a scenic lakeland area of northern Ontario. Its 24 craft range from a 247-ton diesel excursion boat on Lake Nipissing near here to eight canoes on James Bay up north.

The Ontario Northern Boatlines was organized in 1944 as a subsidiary of the province's Ontario Northland Railway.

At Timagami, 65 miles north of here, 14 boats provide twice-daily service for 5,000 residents plus thousands of summer visitors. These craft include two army-type landing barges ferrying supplies to summer resorts.

The 101-foot Chief Commanda, pride of the fleet, plies Lake Nipissing and the French River on sight-seeing tours carrying about 210 passengers.

Six freight canoes and two portage canoes make up the fleet on James Bay. Four of the freight canoes work from the O. N. R. goose-hunting camp at Hannah Bay and the others link Moose River, Moosonee and Moose Factory Island.

The line has on its staff such expert inland water men as Captain Ted Guffy at Lake Timagami, with 33 years experience, Captain Bill Rowe of the Chief Commanda, on Lake Nipissing for 24 years, and two full-blooded Indian brothers who hold their captain's papers, Laurence and Walter Dokis.

ARGOS WIN—Doug Smylie (87), backfield ace for Toronto Argonauts, churns off yardage on an end-run as the Argos defeated Hamilton Tiger-Cats 33-13 in the teams' first Big Four league game. Scribe George Carver puts it right to the point with this item: "Cripes, what a world to live in. One day you're a champ and the next a chump. The other day a doting mother burned the wires to this office. Her son had been the hero of a softball game somewhere or other. The team had won and Joe was the family Frank Merriwell. Okay, we missed it. Momma gave us the verbal works. The next day Joe was in trouble with the cops. He did something or other, it didn't matter much. Again the phone wires sizzled. It was Momma again. But what a change in presentation! We were the white-haired bozo — and all that stuff. Somebody said once 'What they want in the newspaper is advertising and what they want kept out is news.' How true."

Speaking of ball, it'll be Kingston vs. Belleville this week in the best-of-five C.O.B.L. semi-finals. When the K's forfeited a fixture to the Petes, it left Joe Stewart's squad certain of first place at schedule's end with 14 wins to 10 defeats, Redmen having 13 and 11, as Kingston won but nine and dropped 15. Jack Legris had planned to have his annual trophy for the Petes' most valuable player presented last week, but it'll likely be given out in the first of the Central League finals. Dit Clapper has been trying to line up an exhibition for the Petes here this week with Turk Broda's N. H. L. ball-playing all-stars. We may hear more on it sometime today.

About a Guy Named Joe

Final batting averages for the Petes during their C.O.B.L. schedule of 24 games sees Joe Lowrey leading the club with a respectable .319 mark. First time the popular Joe, over here for some years now from Connecticut — and intending to remain here — has led the squad in hitting, though he's always well up. Also a fine centre gardener and speedy base-runner. Bill Edger, converted to a first-sacker this season, is next with .304 in a neat showing, and Al Menzies made the charmed circle once more with .302. Pitching honors for the Petes were divided between Bill Dadson (a .294 hitter himself) and Phil Clancy with six wins and three losses each. The list is in elsewhere tonight.

President Bob Pierson of the Petes' Timbermen remarked after the locals' loss in St. Kitts the other night: "We've got to dig in there and take the next two. You can't take anything for granted in playoffs, and St. Catharines were certainly playing lacrosse in this game." So, there should be fur flying here tonight and again in St. Kitts on Saturday when these clubs clash again in the third and fourth frays of the best-of-five Eastern Canada playdown series. It is all square now at a win apiece, but the Timbermen should take the tilt tonight, weather permitting. Not without a real scrap, though, we expect. Joe Cheevers has his fast young charges hustling now to stave off elimination. The series is by no means over yet. Fans shouldn't pass up any of these sizzling playoff encounters.

The Peculiar P.W.S.U.

Burtol's got the business last night at the P.W.S.U. protest meeting, Phil Macks' local squad being ousted from further provincial playdowns. The in-and-out series with Oshawa was finally awarded to the Motor City maidens, when the powers-that-be ruled a defaulted game was the same as a game played when qualifying players for the P.W.S.U. playdowns. They blandly ignored their own written rules in this respect, and the local league might well be advised in future to blandly ignore P.W.S.U. affiliation. No association is any good if it doesn't abide by its own rule book. So, that winds up girls' softball in these parts till next spring.

* * * * * *

Some more diamond dust piles up on the desk, so let's whisk it off. Broda's team can't come here for an exhibition this week, so that's out for this season as puck practices start shortly. Kingston, after defaulting a game here last week to the Petes, is blamed entirely by loop officials and must pay for local expenses incurred. K's and Belleville will clean up their semi-finals this week, the winner to play here either Saturday or Monday in finals. In O.B.A. junior play, Young Petes lost 11-0 in Oshawa, and there's some dispute over date of the second game. It might be staged here on the morrow, though that's not official. Oh, yes, Vern Goyer replaces Ralph McCabe as manager of Belleville Reds.

Fisher Returns To Balmy Beach

TORONTO (CP)—Oattem Fisher, big negro lineman who played standout football with Toronto Balmy Beach in the Ontario Rugby football Union two seasons ago, has rejoined the team for the 1952 season.

Fisher played so effectively at middle wing when the Beaches won the 1950 O.R.F.U. title that Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four took him over last season. But an attempt to convert him into an outside wing failed and he sat out most of the season.

Sam Shefsky, Beach president, said yesterday Argos had released Fisher to the Beaches and that he would be used at middle wing.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The next big event is scheduled for Saturday, September 13. It's the last open tournament for this season — men's trebles for the Empress Hotel Shield. It's not too early to gather a rink together and give your entry to the committee.

Tonight — Ladies' rinks play men's rinks. Draw from the board.

Down in Port Hope on the holiday Mrs. P. Bartley and P. Bartley were a three-game winner and Mrs. J. Cullen and C. Williamson a one-game winner.

Aaron Black, Roy Hutchinson, Reg Dyer, and I. Cipin took in the men's tournament up at Elora on Labor Day. They said it was a lovely trip.

Friday night: Mixed doubles. Choose your partner, $1.00 per—at 7 o'clock.

Last night's games that were rained out will be played next Monday night.

Entries for the Review Trophy annual trebles tournament will be received by the committee up till next Tuesday evening, September 9—play to begin on Thursday, September 11. The fee is $1.00 per man. There will be three competitions—the primary, consolation, and hard luck—all on the elimination system. Now get up a rink and enjoy the last bowling of the season. It will take several nights to play this series off—so we're in for lots of bowling.

Campbellford Duo Wins Bowling Cup

BELLEVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ballantyne of Campbellford won the Stroud Trophy in the mixed doubles tourney at the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club on Monday with a high-three score of 44 plus 11. A complete doubles draw of 64 teams from Hamilton, Peterborough, Brockville, Campbellford, Brighton, Trenton, Stirling, Madoc, Kingston and Belleville competed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elliott of Stirling claimed the second high three with a score of 44 plus 3, while Mr. and Mrs. Percy Locke of Madoc were third high three with 43 plus 6.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Price of Belleville were the two-game high winners with a score of 44 plus 2. D. Grant and Mrs. Edgar of Belleville claimed the high one-game honors with 38 plus 5, while J. Lee and Mrs. Scott of Belleville were the high no-game winners with a score of 29.

McMartin Keeps Swim Laurels

COBOURG — A championship string of three years' standing was broken here Monday when 19-year-old Roy Hempstead defeated Darch Campbell in the half-mile swim, feature event of the Labor Day program.

Campbell, hockey and baseball star, as well as a member of the Galloping Ghosts football team, was regarded as a prohibitive favorite, but Hempstead raced to an early lead and Campbell, in a driving finish, failed to catch the younger swimmer. In third place was Mike Markle, fourth went to Gilbert Lake and fifth to Duncan Allen.

In the junior swim, Greg McBride led a field of five home for his first year win with Pat Dawe second.

Malcolm McMartin, of Peterborough, was the only champion to retain his laurels, coming through in the two-mile road race for the third successive year. Ken Lonsberry became a double winner, with the 100 and 440 as his trophies.

League Charges Kingston With Expenses

The C.O.B.L. has assessed the Kingston Monarchs the Petes' out-of-pocket expenses incurred last Saturday when Monarchs failed to appear in Peterborough for the final game of the schedule. The game was taken by the Petes by default to give them first place in the standing. Kingston failed to notify the Petes' club in time that they could not field a team. It was not the Peterborough club's fault that the public was not advised in time.

Monarchs have been ordered to play Belleville in best-of-five league semi-finals to be completed this week, playing every night if necessary. If the series is cleaned up quickly, the winner will be in Peterborough this Saturday to open finals. If not, then the finals will commence here for sure on Monday. Neutral umpires from Peterborough will handle the semi-final series. Meantime, the Redmen have relieved Ralph McCabe of his duties as manager of the Quinte club, and replaced him with Vern Goyer as playing manager.

Fastball Playoffs

Final playoffs in the Industrial Fastball League commence tonight at Quaker Park, according to Don Isaac. Raybestos and the Outboard Marines are in the final series.

The second game will go there on Monday, if the diamond is available and the third game, if necessary, next Wednesday. It is expected all playoff finals will be held on the same grounds. The league draws will be made at the third game.

ONLY CANADIAN ENTRIES over the weekend in the U.S. National A.A.U. championships in synchronized swimming were Beverly Rumary (left) and Isabel Crary (right), representing Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club in solos and duets. The club team placed fourth in the team competitions on Sunday which was considered "wonderful" in the stiff competition. Newsreels and television cameras spent a great deal of time on the Peterborough swimmers.

Peterborough Swimmers Take Spotlight In Florida

Peterborough's Ornamental Swimming Club will be shown to theatregoers and TV fans during the next couple of months across the United States and Canada. During their recent trip to the National A.A.U. synchronized swimming meet in Florida the girls were almost always before a camera.

Television cameras were focused constantly on the Peterborough club, the only Canadian entry, while in newsreel shots for theatres, cameramen spent time on the whole Peterborough performance, then did spot pictures. The only other club photographed for theatres was the second-place California entry.

Michigan's St. Clair club just edged California's team by .23 points for first place, followed by Texas in third and Peterborough fourth. In large fields in both duets and solos the Peterborough girls were out of the running.

Peterborough's "B" team was scratched before the competitions due to the illness of one performer.

Coach Pansy Forbes said, "A girl from Florida fainted in the water and had to be pulled out. I didn't want that to happen, I'd rather scratch the entry rather than let that happen."

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE

Peterborough also shared the limelight Saturday night during a special performance evening. The duet of Betty Welsh and June Storey performed a special show, representing Canada for the night.

In all opening performances the Union Jack was displayed by the Peterborough club, each girl taking a turn carrying the flag.

Mrs. Forbes described the team's showing as "wonderful."

She explained that some clubs had girls wearing expensive suits, costing as high as $200 each, which went a long way in the final showing for points.

Mrs. Forbes added that most of the American teams and swimmers practised throughout the year about three hours a day as compared with the Peterborough club's one hour a week, caused by the lack of swimming pool facilities.

"Our girls lost on precision," said Mrs. Forbes, "due to lack of practice."

Playoff Series Set For Civic Softball

Civic Softball League semi-finals resume this evening, weather permitting, according to loop president Jones. There will be a double-header at the East City Bowl, Kesco v. Bell Telephone at seven, followed by Foresters v. Salvation Army. In the best-of-three, Kesco and Bell are tied at a game each, while Foresters have a game lead over Salvation Army in their best-of-three set.

Play will continue at the Bowl on Friday. If Salvation Army wins tonight, they will meet Foresters in the first game Friday to settle that series, the winner then going against the other series winner to start finals. If Foresters win tonight, they will go in a double-header in finals against the Kesco-Bell victor on Friday.

Burtol Lasses Ruled Out By Provincial Union And Oshawa Given Series

Word was received this morning to the effect that the Provincial Women's Softball Union has definitely awarded the protested Burtol-Oshawa girls' softball series to Oshawa. The Union previously awarded the series to Peterborough, but then reversed itself, causing Burtol's to protest the matter. This protest was dealt with last night, and Oshawa got the series. Oshawa had been awarded the first game—which Burtol's had won—on the grounds the local team had used two ineligible players. Burtol's won the second game, but lost the third to apparently lose the series. Then Burtol's protested Oshawa also used two ineligible players throughout. The P.W.S.U. checked and awarded the series to Peterborough.

WON BY DEFAULT

However, the Oshawa club complained bitterly about this and reported that the two Oshawa girls in question had qualified, inasmuch as they had played two games previously to the playdown series, and their team had won another by default. Despite the fact that the P.W.S.U. rules call for qualifying players to take part in at least "three games played prior to entering provincial playdowns," the Union upheld the Oshawa claim and ordered another game staged between Oshawa and Burtol's.

Manager Phil Macks and Mabel Gillen—whose firm sponsors the local team—declined to do this on the grounds that they had been awarded the series, and they lodged a protest to clear the matter up.

SKIPPED RULES

At last night's meeting, Union officials adroitly side-stepped the printed rules, and wound up by phoning the Oshawa league president and asking him if he regarded a game won by default as a game played. Naturally, he said yes, and his opinion decided the protest committee to give the Oshawa girls the series over the Burtol team of Peterborough.

Officials of the league and the winning senior club here expressed indignation today at the P.W.S.U. ruling, feeling that the Ontario constitution was not being followed by its own officials in this case, but they have no other recourse and must accept the decision and drop out of further competition this year.

Young Petes Defeated By Oshawa In Opener

OSHAWA — (Special). — The local Transporters downed the Young Petes 11-0 here to open their best-of-three O.B.A. Junior A playdown series, Peterborough winning the first round by default over Kingston. Durston threw three-hit ball till he retired in the seventh, Kellar allowing one blow the rest of the way. Frizzelle on the other mound was nicked for 13 hits and he received poor support.

Kellar, Mroczek, and Copeland led the Oshawa attack with three hits each in four tries, as Varga and Jozkoski got two each. Bigford belted two for three to lead the losers, and Kearns got a double.

All-Stars Take Win

The Toronto Negro All-Stars took a 5-3 exhibition men's softball win over U.E.W. in connection with the Labor Day "do" at the Bowl, a large holiday crowd taking it in. It was an even tussle most of the way, with the winners showing a bit more timely hitting for the narrow margin, Buck Legrow's side leaving 11 stranded.

Leether, Wade, White and Dalton shone for U.E.; with Gorman, Braithwaite, Ford and Wright best for the visitors.

Joe Lowrey Tops The Petes With A .319 Batting Mark

Speedy centre-fielder Joe Lowrey led the Petes in C.O.B.L. batting during the schedule with .319 in the 18 games he played. The club took part in 23 games and won another by default over Kingston to finish in first place. Lowrey, a smart fielder and top base-runner showed the way in the clouting department with a fair margin over teammate Bill Edger, who wound up in second spot with a .304 average. The third member of the Petes to make the charmed circle was Al Menzies with .302, Bill Dadson being just out of it a bit with .294.

In pitching during league games, Bill Dadson and Phil Clancy were tied with six wins each and three losses, Ed Whitehill having a victory and two defeats, and Bill Edger two lo[illegible].

Following are the players' batting averages for the 1952 season:

	P.	AB.	H.	Av.
Lowrey	18	69	22	.319
Edger	20	69	21	.304
Menzies	21	86	26	.302

LEADS HITTERS—Joe Lowrey led the Petes' hitters during the C.O.B.L. schedule with a neat .319 average. He also turned in a starry fielding effort in centre for them and was one of their best base-stealers during the 1952 campaign.

Yanks Get Quick Dividend On Blackwell

Club Boston In Twin Bill

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York Yankees received a quick dividend on their $40,000 investment in Ewell The Whip Blackwell. Five days following the purchase of the former National League star from Cincinnati Reds, the Yankees last night sent Blackwell to the mound against Boston Red Sox. And the long, lean righthander responded with a scoreless five-inning performance to rack up his first American League victory. Blackie was not the overpowering pitcher he had been in his palmy days with the Reds, but he looked quite capable before bowing out for a pinch hitter. He permitted four singles, fanned four and walked three before retiring because of weariness and the humidity as the Yanks went on to win 4-0. Earlier, rookie Tommy Gorman had hurled an eight-hit, 5-0 shutout in the afternoon portion of the day-night doubleheader.

The two wins ran the Yankees' streak to five and increased their first-place margin over the idle Cleveland Indians to 3½ games. The slump-ridden Red Sox, who now have dropped seven of their last eight, all on the road, fell 8½ lengths behind the American League pace-setters. They have scored one run in the last 36 innings.

DROP PAIR

Brooklyn Dodgers, the National League leaders, dropped a pair to Philadelphia Phillies, 8-2 and 9-3, and were lucky to get out of the City of Brotherly Love in one piece. Two dozen Philadelphia hits plus splendid pitching by righthanders Robin Roberts and Karl Drews cut the Dodgers' first-place lead over the idle New York Giants to eight games.

Chicago's White Sox climbed into fourth place in the American League, vanquishing Detroit Tigers twice, 6-5 and 7-4. Rocco Krsnich's two-run triple in the ninth won the opener. Marv Grissom won his 11th in the nightcap.

NATS DUMP A'S

Washington's Senators, although held to three hits in each game, won a twi-night twin bill from Philadelphia, 3-2 in 10 innings and 5-0, to dump the Athletics into fifth place, only a half-game in front of the Nats.

Mike Fornieles, Washington's 20-year-old Cuban righthander, pitched a one-hit shutout in his major league debut. A second-inning single by catcher Joe Astroth prevented the youngster from becoming the first pitcher in modern times to hurl a no-hitter in his first big league game.

NHL TO MEET SEPT. 11

MONTREAL (CP)—The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Governors of the National Hockey League will be held in Chicago Sept. 11, it was announced yesterday.

Western Riders Plagued By Injury Jinx

REGINA (CP)—Glenn Dobbs, coach and inspirational playing leader for Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Football Conference, is suffering from a swollen right knee.

The Dobber's predicament is typical of the woes that have hit the team that last year won the western championship and this season are in the league cellar with one win in four games.

Dobbs injured his knee in preseason practice. It was still badly swollen when he went into Monday's game against Winnipeg in a vain effort to help his team.

Riders have eight other men on the injured list, including end Jack Russell, outstanding last year in catching passes from Dobbs

Rider fans believe there is nothing wrong with the team that time and medical attention won't cure but in the short football season, the clock may be against last year's champions.

Russell injured a knee last season and an operation last winter failed to bring it around.

Other injured Riders are:

Tackle Toar Springstein—knee injury.

End Harry Lampman, from Queen's University—broken thumb.

Guard Chuck Radley, a veteran injured in the season's opener against Edmonton.

Guard Art McEwan, another veteran hurt in the Edmonton game.

Fullback Nellie Greene, injured at Winnipeg.

Centre Jim Beasley, also out of uniform Monday because of Winnipeg injuries.

Batting: Rocco Krsnich, White Sox—Smashed a ninth-inning triple that scored two runs and gave Chicago White Sox a 6-5 first-game victory over Detroit Tigers. The White Sox also won the second game, 7-4.

Pitching: Mike Fornieles, Senators—The 20-year-old Cuban righthander hurled a one-hitter in his major league debut as the Washington Senators shut out Philadelphia Athletics 5-0 in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader. The Nats also won the opener, 3-2, in 10 innings.

Smythe Talking Trades At Meet

TORONTO (CP) — Managing Director Conn Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs will be talking trades at the semi-annual meeting of the National Hockey League's Board of Governors in Chicago Sept. 11.

Smythe said yesterday he wants to replace some players and rumors say Chicago goalie Harry Lumley is one he'd like to get. But, he added, if satisfactory deals can't be made, three or four unnamed players will be sent to farm teams.

Meanwhile 28 players, including eight with Pittsburgh Hornets, Leafs' American Hockey League farm team last season, have been invited to the Leaf training camp at St. Catharines, opening Sept. 16.

Captain Ted Kennedy became one of the few players to sign with the Leafs so far this year when he came to terms yesterday. At 26, he will be starting his ninth season with Toronto.

Aureole Outstanding In Queen's Stables

LONDON (AP)—A stoutly-bred racehorse, currently learning his lessons in the Newmarket stables of Capt. Cecil Boyd-Rochfort, may round out Queen Elizabeth's 1953 coronation week by winning the Epsom Derby for her.

The chestnut colt, Aureole, winner of a six-furlong race at York a week ago, impressed British racing critics as likely to develop into an outstanding three-year-old with a chance to take the 1½-mile derby.

Aureole, a son of Hyperion, was bred on the royal farms at Sandringham. Hyperion was winner of the 1933 derby. The colt's mother, Angelola, won some good races for King George VI and was one of his favorites.

Capt. Charles Moore, manager of the Queen's racehorse, says he believes that Aureole is the best colt bred at Sandringham.

Lionettes Score Second Straight Win

TORONTO (CP)—The Lionettes, defending women's world softball champions from Orange, Calif., last night scored their second straight win in the Canadian National Exhibition tournament for the world title.

The champions defeated Peoria, Ill., 3-1 in the first game of yesterday's round.

Toronto Nortowns trounced Minneapolis 14-0.

Leafs Sweep Doubleheader From Buffalo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs appear a cinch to make the International League playoffs for the first time in seven years.

The Leafs, in fourth place, moved closer to their goal yesterday by taking a doubleheader from their nearest rival, Buffalo Bisons, 5-0 and 11-3. The magic number now is four. Any number of Toronto wins or Buffalo defeats adding up to four will put the Leafs in the playoffs. The season ends Sunday.

Handsome Russ Bauers, 37-year-old former big leaguer, hurled a one-hitter in the opener. Only Bubba Phillips' infield single and Larry Cieslelski's base on balls spoiled his bid for a perfect game.

Billy Demars triple after a walk and a single in the second inning gave Toronto its first two runs. Lew Morton clouted his 17th home run in the next frame and the Leafs completed the scoring with two more in the sixth.

In the nightcap, Toronto helped Duke Markell to his 12th triumph behind a 13-hit barrage climaxed by a seven-run eighth inning. Demars collected three hits, including a double and homer, to drive in three runs.

CHIEFS LOSE

Bob Keegan, Syracuse Chief righthander in quest of his 20th victory, was defeated by Rochester Red Wings 6-3. For the Red Wings it halted their losing streak at six and it also marked the first loss for the Chiefs in nine games.

Keegan gave up a dozen hits, including a homer and triple by Harry Walker. Jack Faszholz, who needed help from Freddie Hahn to retired the last Syracuse hitter, picked up his 15th win. The loss was Keegan's 11th.

Baltimore Orioles divided a twin-bill with Springfield Cubs, taking the first 5-1 and dropping the nightcap 5-3.

The Ottawa-Montreal doubleheader was postponed.

Mimico And Yorkers Eye Semi-Finals

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Mimico Mountaineers and Toronto Yorkers have a chance tonight to move into the semi-finals of the Ontario Lacrosse Association series.

Mounties, who meet Owen Sound Crescents, and Yorkers, who take on Hamilton Tigers, hold 2-0 leads in the best-of-five quarter-final series.

Should both teams win, they may be opponents in the semi-finals as Peterborough Timbermen and St. Catharines Athletics are tied 1-1 in the other quarter-final set.

Salmon Fleet Heads For Port, In Price Row

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's big salmon seiner fleet was heading for port today amid rumbles of trouble over prices.

A United Fishermen and Allied Workers (T.L.C.) spokesman said yesterday that meetings of fishermen in B. C. ports during the holiday weekend voted to tie up the fleet to back up a dispute with canneries on the price of chum salmon.

The spokesman said the tie-up was not a strike.

15,000 AFFECTED

The tie-up affects about 15,000 fishermen and allied workers.

The fleet has been fishing for sockeye and chums. The chum contract, which paid fishermen 5½ cents a pound, expired Monday.

A union official said the meetings indicated the men want last year's price of eight to 11 cents a pound for chums.

Fisheries Association officials say the outlook for the chum market is poor. Many upcoast canneries have closed and canneries in the Vancouver area may close in a week.

About 6,000 fishermen struck for higher prices in July.

Present quarters are on Rogers St. The new building, 24 rooms and a large chapel, will be completed in nine months. SAINT JOHN (CP)—The Ontario Fire Chiefs' Association was formed here yesterday at a special session in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs.

The organization, similar to those in other provinces, wil have a membership of about 550 fire chiefs and will be affiliated with the Dominion and international associations.

Chief Kenneth R. Putnam, Kitchener, is first president of the new association. Other officers: Vice-presidents, Gordon E. Huff, Brantford, Gerald Vance, Belleville, G.R. Thomas, North Bay, Daniel Hazell, Hamilton Beach, Michael Hayes, Garson Mines, and Frank Kreason, Preston. Mr. Thomas also is secretary.

Chief Putnam was formerly president of the Provincial Federation of Ontario Firefighters.

Put Discount On U.S. Silver

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian banks, burdened by a flood of United States coins from tourists seeking to get around the Canadian discount on U.S. bills, are imposing a discount on American silver.

Until now, a Bank of Toronto official said yesterday, U. S coins have been accepted at par. Lots up to $1 will continue discount-free, he added, but a two-per-cent discount will be charged on amounts over that figure.

The official said some tourists have been changing their U. S. bills for silver at home, thus circumventing the discount.

Bus Driver Impaired

TORONTO (CP)—A Toronto Transportation Commission bus driver, who should have driven a group of schoolgirls home after their Canadian National Exhibition grandstand performance Monday night, was prevented from doing so because he had been drinking, trustee Stewart Bell told a Board of education meeting yesterday. The girls, all from Malvern Collegiate, gave a display of precision marching.

Iron Ore Carriers Have Greatest Tonnage

CLEVELAND (AP)—Great Lakes iron ore carriers hauled the greatest monthly tonnage in their history last month—14,367,627 tons.

The former record is 13,976,770 tons set in August of 1943, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association said.

In the race to build up ore stocks before winter and catch up on tonnages lost in June and July during the steel strike, the giant vessels brought down 3,336,033 tons for the week ended yesterday. This also was a record, exceeding the previous weekly high—set two weeks ago—by 55,939 tons.

So far this year the iron ore haul amounts to 37,899,648 tons, compared with 58,986,424 tons in the same period last year.

Denied Right To Fire Chief

PICKERING (CP)—Judge F. J. McRae, chairman of Pickering township police commission, yesterday told township council it has no authority to dismiss Police Chief Lockhart Trinnell or disband the three-man commission.

Councillor William Newman earlier sponsored a resolution, which council passed, demanding the dismissal of Chief Trinnell and elimination of the commission.

Mr. Newman said dissension exists in the department and Chief Trinnell is not enforcing some township bylaws.

Judge McRae has invited council to meet with the commission in Whitby tomorrow.

Pickering is 10 miles west of Oshawa.

"COOL CONTROL"
OVERHEAD BAIT CASTING

1 Control is all-important. Index finger of right hand grips trigger of rod firmly. Thumb rests lightly on spool. Other fingers press handle of rod into palm. Thumb should be relaxed, rest of grip firm but not rigid.

2 Control comes with experience. Practise moving rod back for cast, applying thumb pressure to allow weight of bait to carry tip of rod back, for extra casting power. Relax thumb pressure when rod begins forward movement; apply again just before bait hits water.

3 Keep arm close to body. Movement comes from wrist and forearm. Fingers on handle open as rod moves back, close as rod comes forward. Concentrate on wrist movement for accuracy. Aim; come back fast; forward twice as fast. Remember — only experience gives perfect control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Hide-and-Seek Ends As Farmer Caught

STRATFORD (CP)—A game of hide-and-seek ended in Magistrate A. F. Cook's court yesterday when George Hubbucks, Atwood farmer, lost his 1951 automobile to the crown and was fined $25 and costs.

Some months ago Hubbucks had his right to drive suspended and his permit to operate a car taken from him. Constable Clare Outingdyke testified that Hubbucks had since driven the car without plates, permit or licence but police couldn't catch him.

Finally, it happened. Saturday, said Constable Outingdyke, he was driving past Hubbucks farm when the latter drove out of his driveway and almost hit the patrol car.

Jack Thirnbeck, 89 Still Enjoys Life To Full

Although he isn't able to get around as much as he used to, Jack Thirnbeck is still getting a kick out of life at 89.

A former city foreman, who retired in 1948 after 50 years of service with the city board of works, Mr. Thirnbeck celebrated his 89th birthday on Labor Day.

When he was a youth in England, Jack Thirnbeck burned up the tracks in the Old Country and he recalls his greatest triumph nearly 70 years ago when he won the all-England handicap 100-yard dash from a field of 80 competitors.

Shortly after coming to Peterborough before the turn of the century, he surprised local athletes who had been accustomed to winning the sports events at the Dominion Day picnic in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital. He won every one of the track and field events that afternoon.

BEAT ILLNESS

His early athletic training probably helped him make his comeback a couple of years ago from a long bout with illness. He regained his health and his only complaint is that he hasn't the strength to get out around the city and particularly see as many hockey games as he would like to.

For many years he was manager of the Brock Arena when it was a hockey and skating rink. At the mention of hockey, Jack Thirnbeck's eyes light up and he launches into reminiscing about the good old days when the Peterborough Colts were winning provincial hockey laurels. "That was the best hockey team that ever played in the Brock Arena," he insists. "Of course I'm prejudiced," he adds with a mischievous smile that is one of his trade marks.

When Bill Crowley, Bill Cavanaugh, Ernie Wasson, Rollie Glover, Fred Whitcroft and Harry Morgan were in their prime and winning intermediate hockey titles for Peterborough, Jack Thirnbeck was their most loyal supporter.

All the Peterborough stars of the city's golden era of hockey in the early years were his personal friends. He would work all night to make sure they had good ice and when they went out of town, he went along to cheer them to victory and he was always in on their celebrations.

HELPED YOUNGSTERS

He was interested in promoting hockey among youngsters too and coached a group of young players —the Chieftains—who developed into a crack team that provided hockey talent for senior teams in later years.

"I've had a lot of fun," he reflects and agrees that he still has a capacity for enjoying himself.

His wife, the former Agnes Middleton, died a few years ago, and since then his son, Robert Thirnbeck and Mrs. Thirnbeck have been living with him at his home, 525 McDonnel St.

Since May, he has been living with a daughter Mrs. Robert Merrett, 501 Cross St., where he celebrated his birthday.

Seven of his ten children are living and he has 10 grand children and two great-grandchildren.

Highway 7 Splits Hunting Season

Early September brings a new flood of official hunting dates each year and in most classes of game the Kawarthas find themselves lying in two zones divided by the east-west C.P.R., or closely parallel to it, by Highway 7.

The partridge season is: North, September 20 to November 15, and South, October 4 to November 15.

For ducks, geese, rails, gallinules etc.: North, September 20 to November 15, and South, October 4 to November 29.

Hungarian partridge: Both North and South zones, and all of Ontario except Thunder Bay district, from September 20 to October 13.

Deer in the northern section from November 3 to November 15 and in the southern part from November 3 to November 6. Bows and arrows and shotguns only may be used during this latter season in the townships of Brighton, Murray and Seymour in Northumberland County.

Closing dates in the various fish classes are as follows: Speckled, Rainbow, Brown and Kamloops trout, September 15; lunge, October 2; black and green bass and pickerel, October 15. Lake trout fishing closes October 6, and, except for Haliburton district, reopens on November 5; in Haliburton the lake trout are closed off until May 1, 1953.

Report Many Bodies Washed Into Lake

OAKVILLE (CP)—Many of the bodies buried in nearby Bronte's 122-year-old cemetery have been washed into Lake Ontario, Trafalgar township council was told last night.

Tales have been common among residents during the last few years about bones and pieces of caskets being found on the lake shore after erosion had uncovered some of the old graves.

Reeve Joseph Wickson said the township is willing to let Bronte look after the cemetery. He told a Bronte delegation:

"We pay $75 a year to have it looked after. It must be in good shape, because we hear of people having picnics among the gravestones."

Decision Likely On Pipeline By Mid-October

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—A decision by the United States Federal Power Commission on Westcoast Transmission Company's application for a natural gas pipeline from Alberta's Peace River area to Pacific northwest states is expected by mid-October, Dale E. Doty, a member of the five-man commission, said yesterday.

Mr. Doty is attending the three-day meeting here of the interstate oil compact commission. He also is consulting with Premier E.C. Manning and Mines Minister N.E. Tanner of Alberta at the sessions.

At the same time, Federal Mines Minister George Prudham reported that a survey of gas reserves in the Peace River area being made by Dr. G. Hume of Ottawa will be completed and presented to the Board of Transport Commissioners within a week.

Mr. Prudham said that Dr. Hume's findings will not be released until the board makes a decision on whether to endorse the Westcoast application before the U.S. body gives its ruling. The board has granted the application on condition Peace River gas reserves are found adequate.

Condon Freed One Week Bail $3,000

Faces Manslaughter After Death Of Frank Heffernan

Leonard Condon, 22, charged with manslaughter in the death of Frank Heffernan in a brawl outside the McGillis Hotel Monday at midnight, was remanded to next Tuesday on $3,000 bail when he appeared in police court Tuesday.

Condon, whose shirt bore several dark red stains, seemed shocked. His face was deeply flushed, and he was slightly nervous in the prisoner's box.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, K.C., asked for a week's remand on the charge. Gordon H. T. Farquharson, representing Condon, agreed to the remand.

DIED BEHIND HOTEL

Heffernan died of injuries suffered in a fight in a parking lot behind the hotel. The fight, it was said, arose from an old grudge between Heffernan and Condon that flared out again Monday night.

First report of Heffernan's death came to police half an hour after midnight when a man telephoned from the Churchill restaurant to say there was a badly injured man in a car near there.

Police went to the restaurant and found three men standing outside a car with Heffernan's body in it. Condon was one of the three. Heffernan's body was taken to hospital, where coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young declared him dead.

Condon and the other two men —Charles Condon and Frank Moher, both of R.R. 4, Lakefield — were questioned at police headquarters. Charles Condon and Moher were released later.

Heffernan, who had worked at the C.G.E. since 1950, was married and the father of two girls, aged 9 and 6.

City Fishing

Two fish were caught in the city Monday. A former Peterborough resident, Mrs. William McConnell, Toronto, visiting Mrs. Percy Loomis, 85 Lock St., fishing from the T wharf in Little Lake, caught a muskie just nicely over the legal limit. Trolling in the Otonabee river, Frank Livings, 525 Edison Ave., caught an 18-pound muskie near Crawford's Grove in the south end of the city.

Mayor Approves Help To Keene

Both Mayor Waddell and Ald. A. B. Burrows, chairman of the fire, water and light committee, were inclined this morning to approve the decision of Ald. H. N. Young, as acting Mayor, in authorizing the fire department to respond to an appeal from Keene on Sunday.

Although city council decided some time ago not to assume any responsibility in helping to fight fires beyond the Peterborough borders, except where arrangements have been made for mutual aid, as with Lakefield, it was felt that Ald. Young had been impressed by the report of serious threat to the community of Keene.

The two storey house occupied by John Barrie was destroyed in the Sunday fire, but the Peterborough pumper, it was reported, had protected adjoining houses after laying a 1,900 feet of hose to the Indian River.

Ald. Young had to make a quick decision, and was evidently guided by a spirit of co-operation with the Otonabee hamlet.

Ald. Burrows said today that he expected a report from Acting Fire Chief Stewart Foster who is in charge of the department. Chief George Smith has been in hospital since Sunday with recurrence, it was said, of a slight heart attack, and may be confined to bed for several weeks.

Girl 15 Killed In Car Crash

BRACEBRIDGE (CP)—Joan Wallis, 15, of Toronto was killed and six other persons injured yesterday when two automobiles collided on No. 11 highway five miles north of here.

Injured: Mrs. John Harris of Toronto, who suffered a broken arm and leg; Mrs. Alice Wallis, 52, of Toronto, broken leg; Sam Miceli of Sault Ste. Marie, a broken thigh; John Truss, Sault Ste. Marie shoulder and face cuts; Sam Hendy of Toronto, a black eye and John Harris, a shaking up.

Police said the Wallis girl was in the front seat of a car driven by Harris at the time of the crash. Officers reported a car driven by Sam Miceli skidded on wet pavement and hit the Harris vehicle.

Taking Ways

LONDON (CP)—British Overseas Airways Corporation reports a gross of new silver spoons vanished in three days from public eating places at London airport. In future, plastic spoons will be used.

STAINS SPATTERING his light-colored shirt, 22-year-old Leonard Condon, charged with manslaughter, walks up the stairs from police cells Tuesday to hear the charge read to him in court. The charge arose out of the death Monday midnight of Michael Frank Heffernan, 37, after a fight behind the McGillis Hotel. Condon was remanded a week on $3,000 bail.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Start Drive To Have 100% Of Industry In TB Survey

Protection for employees of Peterborough industries and the city's consumers is the idea behind a project of the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association, which has been operating successfully in the city for more than a year. This project is a pre-employment X-ray program. At present 95 per cent of the city's industries have agreed to make an X-ray a prerequisite of employment.

This month, the association is trying to bring the industries 100 per cent behind the project so as to fall in line with the mass survey which will be taking place in the city and county this fall.

In addition, a drive is being made to bring retail and business establishments into the scheme.

RECEIVE BENEFITS

"Both employees and consumers receive benefits from this project," J. M. Heffernan, president of the association said today. "The benefits to the consumers is obvious in that this project will help to stop the spread of germs on manufactured goods.

"However we feel that the protection to the employees of the industries and business establishments is equally important. In an industry, where this program is carried out, employees need not fear contact with the disease when new employees are hired."

The present drive for support of the program has been quite successful. One example of the success is the bottling industries in the city. All but one of these industries have agreed to follow the program.

When contacted today, the managers all said that they were pleased to adopt the scheme. One manager called it "an excellent safeguard for employees. We feel that it was such a good idea that we had our summer help X-rayed as well."

If the present plans of the association are successful, they will have signed up all the industries and retail business establishments in the city when the mass X-ray starts in November. The survey will begin in the county in September.

During the one year it has been in operation, the pre-employment X-ray program has already proved its benefits. Several active and suspicious cases have been discovered. There have also been some cases where the X-rays have uncovered other diseases of the chest and heart.

Man Talks Self Into Reformatory

Harold Brady, 50, of no fixed address, talked himself into a reformatory term today in an exchange of words with Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Brady pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle, valued at more than $25, from Michael Stock on August 31. He was arrested and previously pleaded guilty to the charge. Today he came up for sentence in police court and Magistrate Baxter asked him if he had anything to say.

"What?" said the magistrate ingrin, "I'm sorry I told them (nodding toward the police) where I hid the bicycle."

"What'? said the magistrate incredulously.

"I said I'm sorry I showed them the hiding place," persisted Brady. "It's their job to find it."

"Oh, so it's sort of a game with you is it?" queried Magistrate Baxter. "You steal the bicycle and then let them find it. Is that it?"

"Uh-huh," said Brady.

"Well you just talked yourself into an extra three months," snapped Magistrate Baxter. "Six months definite and three months indefinite in reformatory. I was going to let you off with a jail sentence."

Farmers Ready To Sell Land

Some Cavan farmers, living in the vicinty of Millbrook, are reported willing to sell their properties to the Ontario government for the site of the proposed penitentiary.

No definite information, following the announcement of the government plans, has come to the village and the rural neighborhood as to what location may be chosen.

From realty sources it has been said that farmers know that land is to be bought in the township, and they say it might as well be theirs.

"It is just like the Highways Department," one man remarked. "They send surveyors to lay out the new road, and there are negotiations as to price of the land, and then you are not likely to hear anything about the course until the statement is made by the minister of the department."

15 Casualties On Army List

OTTAWA (CP)—The army today issued its 131st casualty list of the Korean War, reporting 13 men wounded and two injured in action. The last previous list was issued Aug. 27.

This brought to 976 the number of casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korean action, including 173 dead, 724 wounded, 69 injured, nine missing and one captured.

Wounded in action included:

7,537 City Students Crowd Into Schools First Day All Have Higher Enrolment

Kenner Collegiate Will Add 350 Pupils Plus One Grade 8 Class Monday To Swell Total To New Record High

All city schools had larger enrolments Tuesday than for the first day of the school year in 1951. City public schools showed the biggest increase. Altogether 4,803 children enrolled Tuesday while the corresponding figure for last year was 4,543. As an indication of the crowded accommodation two public school Grave VIII classes have had to be shifted. A class from King George in Ashburnham was transferred to Central School, and another Grade VIII class from Confederation will be in Kenner Collegiate when it opens next Monday.

C. S. Browne, principal of P.C.-V.S., said school officials were expecting a registration of about 1,050 students. Instead there were 1,061. Last year the first-day figures were 1,235.

Kenner Collegiate, however, is expected to absorb about 350 students so the total of the two secondary schools should be up 165 over last year. More registrations must still be made but about 30 of the present ones will be going to Kenner instead. So Mr. Browne anticipates the P.C.V.S. enrolment will settle at about 1,050.

First day attendance at the public schools is as follows: Central 492, Confederation 539, King Edward 492, King George 650, Prince of Wales 887, Queen Alexandra 387, Queen Mary 724, Grove 291, May's 170, Parkhill Road 171. Total 4,803. Last year's enrolment was 4,543.

St. Peter's High School has an increase of 42 over 1951. A total of 362 registered Tuesday.

In the separate school roster St. Peter's has 246, about the same as last year; St. Mary's 224, about the same; Sacred Heart 227, 12 more; St. John's 245, 12 more; Immaculate Conception 219, 24 more than last year; St. Anne's 180, plus 70 in the kindergarten.

Last year St. Anne's had 199 including kindergarten children.

A combination of lack of accommodation and children just under the right age caused separate school officials to turn back 50 children in Grade I.

Lowest Bid On Federal Bldg. Recommended

OTTAWA —(Staff) — Federal government architects have recommended acceptance of the lowest tender made for construction of Peterborough's new federal building.

In announcing this, Robert Fourtier, executive assistant to Public Works Minister Alhponse Fournier, said that the recommendation now awaits an order-in-council.

Mr. Fourtier said it would probably be a week before an order-in-clouncil issued accepting the tender. "Things are proceeding normally," he said.

Lowest tender on the building was $1,344,447, made by A. M. Sullivan and Sons Ltd. of Arnprior. Second lowest was $1,347,000 but the name of the firm was not disclosed.

The new building, which will include a training school for postal department employees, customs and other federal departments will be built on the south side of Charlotte St., at the east corner of Louis St.

STRANDED — When 57 - year - old Thomas Peacock decided to wash his face in Niagara waters over the weekend, he didn't figure on the sequence of events that were to follow. To begin with, he lost his balance while washing and fell into the swift waters. Clinging to a rock (above) less than 100 feet from the Canadian Horseshoe Falls at Niagara, he was rescued by Tonawanda, N.Y., firemen. This led to his detention on a nuisance charge and publication of his picture in newspapers. Toronto detectives spotted the picture and recognized Peacock as a man they wanted on forgery charges. He was promptly rearrested.

South Giving Eisenhower Big Reception

By DON WHITEHEAD

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's sweep across Dixie is booming in such spectacular fashion that it poses the question of just how solid the Democratic south will be in the November election.

The Republican Presidential nominee is drawing huge crowds at every stop along his campaign route. But none can say whether it is due to personal charm or political appeal.

About 150,000 persons turned out to greet Eisenhower yesterday in Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., and here in Miami. There were prospects of more big turnouts today in Tampa, Fla., Birmingham, Ala., and Little Rock, Ark., the last stops on his two-day journey into the south.

HITS CORRUPTION

The thousands who heard Eisenhower speak cheered when he accused the Truman administration of trying to cover up a "mess" of crime and corruption. The harder he whiplashed the Democratic leadership in Washington, the better his listeners seemed to like it.

Eisenhower made it clear he crossed the Mason-Dixon line with hopes the south would support him in November.

He took an indirect slap at the Democratic Presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, by saying:

"No man, however honest, can clean up this mess if he is elected as the nominee of the administration which created the mess.

Sees Canada Aiding Other Lands

PENTICTON, B. C. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said yesterday that although Canada has a small population "we can help people of other countries help themselves."

The Prime Minister spoke to a public gathering at Gyro Park here during a two hour stop-over on his tour of British Columbia.

Referring to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization he said:

"We cannot isolate ourselves from the rest of the world and although our population is only 14,000,000 we can help people of other countries help themselves.

"Given peace, I can predict for the younger generation a very happy life in a very happy land."

Quebec Judge Denies Legal Betting Good

MONTREAL (CP)—Mr. Justice Francois Caron, presiding at Montreal's vice inquiry, said yesterday he never has suggested that legal bettings would be "a good thing."

"As a matter of fact, I do not believe that it would be," he added in a statement objecting to a Canadian Press dispatch last Thursday which reported him as saying an amendment to the Criminal Code legalizing gambling and betting would have saved Montreal from suffering "the cancer eating at it."

The dispatch, which came to CP in the course of its usual news gathering, also said Mr. Justice Caron had not said whether he favored such legislation.

Canada Coming Into Her Own As Petroleum Product Producer

By BRUCE PHILLIPS

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Canada is coming into her own as a major producer of petroleum products.

At the convention here of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission a U. S. conservation group meeting for the first time in Canada, speakers have stressed Canada's growing petroleum industry as a pillar of western hemisphere defence.

The fact that the commission is meeting in Canada has been pointed out as an indication of the place Canada is taking in the petroleum world.

The U. S. Secretary of the Interior, Oscar L. Chapman, said in an address yesterday that "Canadian oil and gas production is of tremendous importance."

Mr. Chapman was unable to attend the meeting. His talk was read by J. E. Warren, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defence.

PRAIRIE OIL 'FRUITFUL'

"Canada has been confirmed as a major source of oil for the free nations of the world," Mr. Chapman said. "It is clear that Canada's prairie development can be a fruitful one."

Governor Sid McMath of Arkansas, chairman of the Compact, echoed Mr. Chapman's comments. He said: "The new and large developments that have been taking place in Canada are just as important in our (the United States) national defence scheme as the development of oil and gas resources in the United States."

The resolutions committee met yesterday to draft motions which will be put before the convention floor today. It is understood two of these will be of particular interest to the Canadian petroleum industry.

Today Saskatchewan's natural resources minister J. H. Brockelbank and federal Mines Minister George Prudham will address the convention. A business meeting in the afternoon will wind up the conference.

The Communists today protested another Red prisoner death—the fourth protest in a week.

The protest, delivered at Panmunjom, was over the death Monday of a civilian the United Nations said was killed in a blasting operation.

Harrison offered no comment.

Gave Up Practising Medicine To Grow Wheat In Alberta

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—After obtaining a college degree and practising medicine for six years, Dr. John T. Tenney realized he would never be happy at anything except good old-fashioned dirt farming.

Even while studying at a medical college in Chicago his love of the soil was dominant. So it's no wonder that Dr. Tenney is known in the Lethbridge district not only as a doctor but as a first-class grain grower.

In 1906 Dr. Tenney, practising in his home state of Minnesota, first heard of the fabulous grain crops being reaped in Alberta. Hard spring wheat was yielding up to 40 bushels an acre, they said. That was enough for him.

BUYS HOMESTEAD

After several trips, he and his brother — another doctor—purchased a homestead in the promised land.

Dr. Tenney came to Alberta as a wheat farmer and has remained one all his life. However, his ability as a medical man became known far and wide in the days when doctors were scarce in the west.

He was called in on many emergency cases, giving generously of his time on errands of mercy. He never refused to go and seldom thought of reimbursement.

He won praise of government officials for his work during the 'flu epidemic of 1918, and over the years he has brought some 400 babies into the world.

Hundreds of ribboned animals filed into the huge judging ring before newspaper, movie and television camera men to mark Agricultural and Livestock Parade Day at the fair. Some $125,000 is awarded to exhibitors of prize cattle, sheep, swine, goats, grain, fruit and vegetables during the two-week show.

JUNIIOR FARMERS

Special agricultural day attractions include junior farmer competitions and the annual junior farmer parade. The young farmers compete as judges, showmen and agricultural mechanics.

Guest speaker at the daily luncheon is Dr. J. D. MacLachlan, president of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

Livestock judging winds up today with classes for fat cattle.

Rain and high winds yesterday trimmed exhibition crowds to 123,000, down 18,500 from the same day last year.

Say Korean War U.S. Matter

TOKYO (AP)—A United States congressman said today he considers the Korean War "an American matter."

Representative Overton Brooks (Dem. La.), member of the House of Representatives armed services committee, told a press conference that basic military decisions in Korea are made by the U.S. and "I prefer to think of this as an American matter." Brooks implied he thought other United Nations members should be playing a heavier role.

Asked if his comments on the extent of U.N. participation in the Korean fighting implied criticism of Allied countries Brooks said they did, but added he was speaking personally.

Brooks is chairman of an appropriations sub-committee touring U.S. Far Eastern bases.

Beautiful Girls Parade On Boardwalk

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss America pageant beauties yesterday filed along the boardwalk, waving and throwing kisses to spectators who jammed the three-mile parade route.

Their colorful procession gave pageant fans their first chance to get a good look at the 52 rivals for the title of Miss America.

Marilyn Reddick, 18, of Toronto, represents Canada.

At head of the procession this year was movie star Marilyn Monroe who served as the parade grand marshal. The shapely blond rode in a convertible flanked by a heavy police guard to discourage enthusiastic fans from mobbing the car.

Pageant officials might have raised eyebrows at her low neckline that plunged in a narrow "V" to the waist, but the crowds cheered.

The reigning Miss America, Colleen Kay Hutchins of Utah, will turn her crown over to a new Miss America at the end of the pageant Saturday night.

Zookeeper Saves Cub From Mauling

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Glen Oak Park zookeeper Dick Houlihan risked his life to rescue a pair of 4-day-old lion cubs Monday. However, one of the cubs was so seriously mauled by an adult lion that it died a few hours later.

The remaining cub is being nursed at Houlihan's home. He and his wife already have raised 11 lion cubs. When the most recent pair were born at the zoo Friday to lioness Ruthie, Houlihan hoped he could get the animal to do the mothering chores.

But Monday, youngsters saw one of three adult lions in the cage flinging around one of the cubs. Houlihan went into the cage armed with a blank cartridge pistol, a loaded .38-calibre revolver and an iron bar.

Ruthie approached him menacingly. Houlihan frightened her off with a shot from the blank gun, then scooped up the cubs and got out.

Eisenhower Pushes Drive Against Gov't Corruption

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Warmly welcomed on the first day of his political drive into the south, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday ripped into corruption in public office and called for "woodshed honesty" in government.

At mid-day in Atlanta, before an outdoor throng estimated at 40,000, the Republican Presidential nominee made a general attack on what he called a "top-to-bottom mess" in Washington and called on southerners to help him clean it out.

Then, in a speech in Bay Front Park here last night, he singled out Boston, St. Louis and San Francisco Internal Revenue Bureau scandals as examples of corruption for which the administration must accept blame.

Never before has a Republican Presidential nominee put on such intense, personal drive to break the traditional, Democratic solidarity of Dixie. It underscores high Republican hopes in this section. Eisenhower himself said he isn't conceding a precinct in the south, or anywhere else.

"No man, however honest," Eisenhower said in his Miami address, "can clean up this mess if he is elected as the nominee of the administration which created this mess."

At Atlanta he said the Washington situation is an inevitable result of an administration by "too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches and too long in power."

The church was decorated with yellow gladioli and 'mums and the music was played by Mrs. Robert Neale. "O Perfect Love" was sung during the signing of the register by L. Gedge and B. Dunford.

The bride's gown had a bodice of lace and the long pointed sleeves, gathered skirt and train were of white satin. Her veil was chapel length, caught to a tiny, satin and lace cap, and she carried red gladioli with stephanotis.

Attendants Misses Dorothy McLeod and Marion Dibben were in green and rust bouffant gowns and wore hats of tinted green and rust feathers. They carried bouquets of yellow gladioli.

Groomsman was Alexander Mcleod and ushers were Ken Sharpe and Malcolm Van Allen.

The reception was held at the bride's home, 580 Downie St. Her mother received in a gown of teal blue faille and matching hat of pan velvet and she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

For a motor trip to northern Ontario the bride wore a black and red checked suit and black accessories.

Shirley Minnie Becomes Bride Of Donald McIndoo

In Fairmount United Church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. A. E. Larke performed the marriage of Shirley Jeanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Minnie, of Fairmount, to Donald Frederick McIndoo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. McIndoo, of Ida.

White gladioli and ferns decorated for the occasion. Mrs. William Garden played wedding music and Mrs. Melvin Myers sang "For You Alone" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, styled with Queen Anne collar and sweetheart neckline and with a full silhouette skirt. Her veil of sheer illusion net of fingertip length was made in four layers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white shasta 'mums.

Miss Angela Garden was her maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Betty McIndoo, sister of the groom, and Miss Joan Minnie, sister of the bride. Their yellow, blue and pink ankle-length frocks had bodices, capes and mittens of imported lace and full net skirts over nylon. They wore matching picture hats and carried baskets of 'mums tinted in the shades of the dresses.

Groomsman was Robert Cullen, and the ushers were John Beatty, of Kitchener, and William Minnie, of Fairmount.

Reception of guests following the ceremony was in the Empress Hotel, Peterborough. The bride's mother received in a navy crepe gown and wore a navy and pink velvet hat and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses. The groom's mother chose a gown in cinnamon crepe with lace inserts and a hat of matching velour. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

On a wedding trip to the Eastern States, the bride is travelling in a navy crepe two-piece dress and wearing navy and pink accessories.

The couple will live at Fairmount on their return.

BRIDGENORTH (ENS) — The Women's Association of Bridgenorth United Church opened the fall season Tuesday evening with a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Hardill. Presiding in the absence of the president was Mrs. W. G. Ray who extended welcome to 23 members. Mrs. J. Pettersone, in charge of devotions, took the theme "Christian Moral Witness." Mrs. Don Jopling gave a reading "The Every Day Creed," which was followed by scripture read by Mrs. J. Smith. Mrs. L. The Rev. D. P. Morris outlined several passages in the Bible and the corresponding passages that will appear soon in the revised standard version. He explained that the new version is in the language of present day while the Bible now in use gives that of 1611.

After repetition in unison of the W.A. creed, Mr. Morris led in prayer. Acting secretary Mrs. Hardill read several letters of thanks and Mrs. J. Smith reported on finances. Money - making events reported were the lilac tea by Mrs. L. Hale and strawberry social by Mrs. D. Mackay. Decoration day service was reported by Mrs. Ray.

Suggestion that the members of Selwyn and Fairview W.A.'s be invited to the October meeting was in favor and the meeting is to be in the church basement which has been recently remodelled.

Three boats have been donated to the W.A. for re-sale with proceeds to go to the furnace fund, it was announced. A fowl supper is to be held early in November and Mrs. Earl Blewett was appointed convener.

Peaches, Honey Combine As Perfect Complements

There is no harvest season as glorious as the peach harvest, when the tawny gold fruit ripens in the sun. It is a fortunate twist of nature that brings peaches to their peak at the same time honey bees offer their golden honey to humanity.

For peaches and honey are a natural combination. Peaches in themselves are mellow and succulent; honey is a pure, unrefined sweet that acts as their perfect complement.

For the lucky homemaker with a freezer, try preserving the freshness of the peaches for the bleak winter months by freezing them with honey. Honey acts as the preservative and can be used sparingly.

Peach coffee cakes, peach-apple crisps, peach pie, peach shortcake, baked peaches—all are improved with honey. Peach pie can be made when you have available time, then stored in your freezer until ready for use. Peaches baked with honey make a delightful, simple, unusual dessert. Try these recipes now while both peaches and honey are plentiful in the market place and economical to buy.

HONEY BAKED PEACHES

8 peach halves
¼ cup lemon juice
½ cup honey
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter

Arrange peaches in shallow buttered baking dish. Pour over the lemon juice and honey. Sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven at 350 deg. F. Serve hot with cream as dessert.

PEACH HONEY CRISP

4 cups sliced peaches
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup honey
½ cup flour
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
¼ cup walnuts (if desired)

Spread sliced peaches in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice and pour honey over all. In a bowl mix flour, brown sugar, and salt, and work in the butter as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread these crumbs evenly over the peaches and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until peaches are tender and crust crisply browned. Serve warm with plain cream, or whipped cream topped with a dash of powdered cinnamon.

PEACH PIE

peaches
1 tablespoon quick cooking tapioca
½ cup honey

Line pie pan with pastry. Fill with sliced fresh peaches. Sprinkle with tapioca. Pour honey over peaches. Cover with strips of pastry. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 40 minutes.

CANNED PEACHES

3 cups water
½ cup sugar
½ cup honey
12 peaches

Prepare syrup by boiling water and sugar for 5 minutes. Add honey. Scald peaches in boiling water to loosen skins; peel, cut in halves and remove stones. Cook fruit in syrup. Allow 1 peach stone to 6 peaches. Cook from 5 to 10 minutes. Test by piercing with silver fork. Arrange peaches when done with cut side down in jar. Fill to overflowing with hot syrup and remove air bubbles with sterilized knife. Cover with lid just taken from boiling water.

HONEY ON SLICED PEACHES

Drizzle honey on sliced peaches for a delicious dessert. Honey also helps prevent fruit from discoloring. Serve with cream if desired.

New Buttons Are Attention Getters

NEW YORK—When it comes to details—buttons not only hold a college girl together, but rivet attention, too. Take those delightful little buttons made to illustrate tiny spools of thread—each a different color; or buttons that look like butterflies—"painted ladies" to fit up and down cashmere cardigans; there are tiny glowing fruits, ladybugs and turtles—each an introduction to a lively conversation when the need arises. On the colossal side, you'll see a Black Watch polo coat finished with smoke pearl buttons as brave as you please.

BERET GIVEN NEW TURNS

PARIS —The beret reigns supreme again but is given new turns. Since true brims are out of style for the moment, most hats finish with rolled edges which literally form part of the crown. There are many little bonnet-brims with beret crowns pulled down to the right side, or straight back.

Maud et Nano treat the beret in two over-lapping saucer effects of contrasting colors such as tobacco-brown and black or elephant-gray and banana yellow. There are some true bonnet shapes in this collection and occasional flower-pot crowns which are rather individual to the house, but not typical of general trends.

An official estimate in 1951 showed 27 nurses for every 100 patients in public hospitals in Canada.

College Girls To Look To Linings In Dresses

NEW YORK — As with the clothes in high fashion with their mothers, college girls are also going to look to their linings. A slim beige jersey dress cut on tubular lines and cinched in with a five-inch elastic belt of 24-carat gold mesh is lined throughout with a fine thin silk crepe. Delicious to slide into.

Another lining of note is seen in a full-length coat in clipped alpaca lined with a 100 percent wool Black Watch tartan—a fabric which matches its strictly man-tailored tartan suit.

TWEEDS HAVE COMEBACK

PARIS—It is many years since rough homespun tweeds in almost classic colors — grey, black and white, or snuff-colored — have been so popular in the haute couture. All the best designs feature speckled boucle effects, sometimes with a kind of herringbone in the background.

Dior favors gingery - brown tweed. Balenciaga prefers natural beige homespun. And Jean Patou shows a fuchsia and black speckled Otterburn tweed in a tailormade with a long scarf to match.

Mirrors were known in the early Iron Age, being mostly thin plates of polished metal.

Undemonstrative Husband Cause Of Worry To Wife

DEAR MISS DIX' I could love my husband very much if he gave me a chance, but he holds himself aloof and acts as if it were ridiculous to show a little affection toward me. I try to discuss this situation with him, but it seems to make him irritable. I know there is no one else in the picture. I keep up my personable appearance, do all my household duties, and try to be cheerful even if things go wrong. I don't expect him to be an ardent lover and I don't have a lot of silly romantic notions. I do feel, though, that there should be a little happiness aside from the routine, everyday things.

Before we were married he was quite different; then he did act as though he cared for me. We have been married two years. He is 55, and I am 30. I have four children by a former marriage and they keep me occupied but I still would like more attention from my husband.—D. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I like the way you added the real reason for the difficulty almost as an afterthought—he is 55, you are 30. A difference of 25 years in age is a considerable span to bridge, and you cannot expect a man old enough to be your father to be as attentive and demonstrative as you are. Your husband seems, in all other ways, to be a fine person and the fact that he has undertaken the care of your four children and is being a good stepfather to them is more important than gazing soulfully into your eyes.

Count Your Blessings

It is a wonderful thing when a husband continues his courtship attentions into marriage, but when you have a man who is faithful, sober, good-tempered and congenial in every way, you can figure the extra attentiveness as the frosting on the cake; if you get it—fine; if you don't learn to be contented with the many marital blessings you have. You may not realize it, but unless your husband has previously been accustomed to children, your four lively youngsters may be quite a strain on his nerves. Older folk who have grown past the age of close association with small children are apt to find them quite a nerve-wracking experience. If, on top of this unaccustomed activity, he has to contend with your nagging for special attention—well, the man must be a paragon of males to stay put so genially. Certainly, you could have no greater proof of love than even a passive acceptance of this matrimonial merry-go-round.

Young husbands show their love with constant endearments, demonstrative gestures, loving attention; older husbands can be even more convincing by being merely contented in the bosoms of their families. When your husband comes home every night and it quite satisfied to spend a quiet—or reasonably quiet—evening with you and your children, you may rest assured he loves you. Be willing to skip the frosting!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm 18 and have been seeing a young man for three years. He wants to give me an engagement ring but my mother says no. Since she married at 18, I don't know what her objection can be.

—EDIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Mom is right; you are much too young to be engaged. Perhaps the fact that your mother married young herself makes her especially aware of the disadvantage of too-early marriage. Why not concentrate on school for the next two years and then think about the engagement?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going steady with a boy for three months and, while he is all I have ever wanted in a boy—considerate, fun loving, easy to get along with—sometimes I get so fed up I could scream at him. I see him six days a week. Do you think I should see him less often?

—PATSY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Perhaps your friend is too perfect and you are simply bored with him. You have been seeing him too frequently for such a short acquaintance. Why not taper off the dating and take a breathing spell, to meet and go with other young men? The change will give you a better perspective on your own feelings.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A dear friend of mine has been going with a girl for some time. Since he is a law student, and marriage is quite far off in the future, they have not become formally engaged. However, some of his pals would like to give a party in their honor, similar to an engagement party. We would like it to be a surprise. How shall we conduct it?

—A GROUP OF FRIENDS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: To give an engagement party, regardless of what you call it, to a couple not formally engaged, would be in quite poor taste. If you feel impelled to show your friendship with a party, why not wait until one of the pair has a birthday?

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Ox Was Roasted To Mark The Founding Of Guelph

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—The jubilant celebrations and hard work surrounding the founding of this city in 1827 are described in a 75-year-old booklet that has just come to light.

Author Robert Thompson says in the booklet he was a 10-year-old resident of Galt, about 12 miles south of here, when on April 22, 1827, a party which included John Galt headed here.

Wagons were loaded with pork flour, whisky and other "necessary supplies."

Galt at that time was a "place of about 70 or 80 inhabitants, with one store, a tavern, grist and saw mill, a distillery and 10 houses."

The trip to Guelph took nine hours. Here the party slept in a log shanty, erected earlier by surveyors, and under wagons and wigwams.

"CONVIVIAL CHEER"

"They had grand jollification that night. What was lacking in domestic comfort was more than made up by convivial cheer."

The following day a giant maple was felled and surveyor John McDonald placed his compass on the stump and declared it the centre of the proposed city.

The King's birthday July 12 was cause for great celebration and about "500 strangers" from surrounding districts joined the fun. An ox was roasted on a windless and this, along with potatoes, was served with "plenty of bread, hemlock tea and whisky."

Later the cornerstone of Guelph's first stone building was laid followed by a ball for notables, "some of whom consumed too much grog and started to fight."

Constable Thomas Brown was injured while trying to restore order. Later, his daughter, Letitia Brown, first white child born here, was presented with a house and lot.

Next occasion for celebration was the city's first fair. It, too, ended in a fight which started in Charles McTague's saloon, between the Irish and the Yankees.

"The Irish, since there were more of them, won. The only real casualty was John Galt's horse. Its tail was cut off."

A barrel of whisky was bought to celebrate the King's birthday the next year.

"A popular vote chose this method of celebrating in preference to roasting another ox."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Special September Menu For Young Folk's Party

The top of a volcano is peaceful compared to our household at this moment . . .

. . . for out in our garden right under my open window are six teen-agers of assorted sexes and one of them has just dropped his kabob—steak-on-a-stick—into the barbecue fire. Girls are squealing and Pete is saying "Be calm, be calm—stand aside—I'll get it out."

The trouble is the guests arrived two hours ahead of time! Now in some households—maybe yours—this wouldn't jar the hostess—she might be ready—but two minutes ahead of time is all I can absorb. Two hours before a party in our house is the difference between not being ready at all (except for the groceries being on hand) and being ready. I work on a tight schedule and today I just have to finish this column for the newspaper.

They have quieted down for the moment so I can give you this menu which I think is well worth trying. We had it on Labor Day and our crowd drooled over the lamb and cream puffs.

SEPTEMBER DINNER MENU
Lime and Grape Juice Drink
Roast Lamb
Roast Shredded Potatoes
Corn Relish
Mixed Butter Beans, Carrot Rings and Green Pepper (hot and buttered)
Salad Tray: Whole Small Peeled Tomatoes, Celery Hearts, Watercress, Peach Cream Puffs
Coffee

DIRECTIONS: The first course beverage may be made of fresh lime juice and bottled grape juice but we used the bottled lime juice because it was quicker.

CORN RELISH

Cut this quantity in halves or quarters if you do not want to have a lot to put away for next winter. Cut kernels from 1½ dozen ears of corn. Force 1 small cabbage through food chopper; chop 1 bunch celery rather finely; cut 4 peeled medium-sized onions into thin slices; Wash 2 green peppers, remove seeds and ribs and chop. Put all these vegetables in preserving kettle, pour over 1 quart vinegar. Bring to boiling point. While it is heating through mix together dry 2 cups sugar, 1 cup flour, ½ cup salt, ½ teaspoon each mustard and tumeric, ¼ teaspoon cayenne, and when well mixed stir in 2 cups vinegar. Stir this into the hot vegetable mixture until thick then simmer 30 minutes, stirring almost constantly. Pour into jars and seal.

ROAST SHREDDED POTATOES

Wash, pare and shred enough potatoes to make 5 well-packed cups. Soak in cold water 5 minutes, then drain and dry. Put in roasting pan around the lamb, sprikle with salt and pepper. Roast basting occasionally with fat in pan. They require about 35 minutes at 325 deg. Fahr. which is the temperature at which I roast lamb. Lift with a fork 2 or 3 times so they will become uniformly brown. Serve on platter in piles with roast.

PEACH CREAM PUFFS

Cream Puff Mixture: Put ½ cup butter and 1 cup boiling water in saucepan and bring to boiling point; add 1 cup unsifted bread flour all at once and stir vigorously until mixed. Remove from heat and add 4 unbeaten eggs, 1 at a time, stirring until each egg is mixed in before adding the next one. Drop by dessertspoonfuls on buttered baking sheet 2 inches apart, shaping with wet spoon into high piles. Bake at 475 deg. Fahr. (very hot oven) for 10 minutes to make them puff very high, then reduce heat to 400 deg. Fahr. to bake them through—giving them 30 minutes. Then test one by taking it from oven. If it does not collapse or shrink they are baked through. Cool on cake rack.

CREAM-PEACH FILLING

Whip 1 cup cream until stiff, beat in 4 tablespoons icing sugar and a few drops of almond extract. Fold in 4 peeled and sliced peaches which have been sprinkled with 2 tablespoons sugar. Slit cream puffs at side and fill them with the cream - peach mixture. Sprinkle tops of puffs with icing sugar.

Shaw Refused Order Of Merit

LONDON (Reuters)—George Bernard Shaw, the late Irish dramatist and socialist, was "more than once" offered one of Britain's highest distinctions—the Order of Merit—but refused it each time, his former secretary said today.

"I need no publicity. . .either I shall be remembered as a playwright as long as Aristophanes and rank with Shakespeare and Moliere, or I shall be a forgotten clown before the end of the century," Miss Blanche Patch quoted him as once remarking.

The order is limited to a living membership of 24 Britons, plus "honorary members" of foreign countries.

Describes Camouflage Like Lady's Wardrobe

CHICAGO (AP) — Camouflage, says a military engineer, has three fundamental objectives, like a lady's wardrobe:

"Like a corset, camouflage is used to make an object look different from what it is.

"Like falsies, camouflage is employed to create the impression that something exists which really isn't there at all."

Col. E.R. Heiberg, professor of mechanics at West Point, used the illustration in describing the history of military engineering at the centennial of engineering today.

English Line Victors

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—The high-flying English Line softball team made it three in a row over their Rylsotne rivals at the high school diamond here Saturday, when they took the third game of a best-of-seven series, 10 to 7.

Saturday's encounter was not as decisive as the previous games, and Rylstone led three times during the nine innings, but English Line piled up four runs in their half of the sixth to clinch the game.

Rylstone sent in Denton Meiklejohn to pitch for brother Gordon Meiklejohn in the sixth inning after Gordon walked three men in a row and walked the fourth man home. Gordon went to first base. Harold Linn and Murray Heath hit home runs for Rylstone, while English Line had failed to make any round trippers.

Cape Breton Enjoying Prosperity Despite Labor Disputes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

All is not peaceful between Cape Breton industry and its workers, but labor disputes are being worked out against a background of the greatest prosperity since the peak days of the Second World War.

National Employment Service figures tell a story of rising employment sparked by commercial and industrial expansion. The number of registered jobless in the island is 1,660, or 500 fewer than at the same time last year.

Ideal summer weather and a broad-scale program of major construction have contributed to what is almost certain to be a record industrial year.

One thing which could upset the trend would be an eruption of the contract battle between the Sydney local of the United Steel Workers of America and the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, operators of the giant Sydney plants.

TALKS NOT HOPELESS

As things stand, the negotiations are critical but not hopeless. At odds over wage demands, the company and the 4,700-member union have asked a conciliation board to delay its report while they explore other possible avenues of agreement.

Operations at the plant have continued to run at a brisk pace in spite of the labor differences. A modernization program is in full swing and a multi-million-dollar expansion job is under way at the coke ovens.

Job openings have soared so quickly that skilled labor is at a premium. A bricklayer working at the coke ovens can earn as high as $2.50 an hour.

Other big construction jobs are taking their share of skilled tradesmen and keeping employment at a record height. These include two hospitals, two junior high schools and group housing projects.

Many workers soon will be absorbed by construction of the Strait of Canso causeway, a three-year job which will see a mountain pushed into a deep, wide trough of angry tidal waters.

AGUIRRE COMES BACK

EDMONTON (CP)—A year ago Winnipeg Blue Bombers apparently figured that old Joe (The Toe) Aguirre was all washed up. But no one can convince Edmonton Football fans that the one-time Los Angeles Dons player belongs on the bench.

Catching on as line coach with Eskimos of the Western Canada conference this season, Aguirre went into action when injuries knocked out two first-string middles. His "comeback" has been sensational.

Rollin Prather from Kansas was moved from his end position to middle and Aguirre took over Prather's big boots.

Monday night the Esks were trailing the unbeaten Calgary Stampeders 10-3 going into the last quarter. Then Aguirre started to click with help from the nifty passing arm of quarterback Claude Arnold.

Arnold, who last played in 1950 with the University of Oklahoma, threw two touchdown passes to Aguirre. Joe converted both. Edmonton got two more fourth-quarter points when Stampeders were rouged after booming Aguirre kicks.

Aguirre had kicked Edmonton's first point and had caught a forward that paved the way for Esks' other two first-half points.

During the game he caught eight passes from Arnold for an aggregate gain of 204 yards.

It was a nice night's work for a "washed up" guy.

FLYERS JOB TO FORBES

ST. LOUIS (AP)—John Forbes, aggressive defenceman and successful Pacific Coast League pilot, has only to sign a contract to become the new manager of St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League. Emory Jones, Flyers' president, said last night: "Forbes knows we want him. The job is his if he wants it." Forbes, 27, led New Westminster to the P.C.L. title last season.

NEW COMMISSIONER—Attorney-General C. Rhodes Smith of Manitoba has been appointed chairman of the federal government's new restrictive trade practices commission.

Julie Sampson New Tennis Star

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—It isn't likely that anyone is going to beat Maureen Connolly in this year's United States tennis championships—at least not before the finals. But a few of the fans scattered at the West Side Tennis Club already have had a look at the next Connolly.

She is Julie Sampson, 18, of San Marino, Calif., the newly-crowned national girls' champion, who caused some eye-popping and tongue-wagging yesterday by the way she disposed of Japan's women's champion, Sachiko Kamo.

Julie is a tall, thin, reddish-haired girl who appears to be at about the same stage of tennis development as Miss Connolly was a year or so ago.

"Little Mo" went right on through to win the United States and Wimbledon championships. She's favored to repeat this year.

Miss Sampson didn't get started until yesterday because she was busy winning the girls' title last week. She beat Miss Kamo, 12-10, 6-4, in a first-round match played before only a few spectators.

Afterwards a tennis official remarked that Julie already plays well enough to be ranked in the first 10 and should have been seeded for this tournament. Miss Kamo figured to reach the quarter-finals if she hadn't bumped into Julie yesterday.

Gilliam Rated Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP)—James (Junior) Gilliam, Montreal's switch-hitting second baseman, yesterday was named the International Baseball League's most valuable player of 1952.

He won the honor two years after being dropped by Springfield in spring training as not good enough for the International League.

Gilliam, 23, was named on 19 of the 28 ballots cast by newspaper men. He received 175 points with Roy Weatherly, veteran Baltimore outfielder, second with 138. Harry Walker, Rochester's manager-outfielder, was third with 112.

Gilliam, owned by Brooklyn Dodgers, is the third Montreal player to receive the award. Jim Bloodworth was the first, in 1948, and Bob Morgan the second in 1949.

Archie Wilson, Buffalo outfielder who won in 1951, now is with Boston Red Sox.

Gilliam, a rare speedster, is batting .312 and tied for league leadership in two-base hits with 37. He is runner-up in runs scored, 100, and in stolen bases, 17. He also is credited with seven triples and nine home runs.

Signed by the Royals in 1951, he batted .287 in 152 games, drew 117 walks, scored as many runs and was elected to the All-Star team.

On June 17, 1951, in a doubleheader at Buffalo, Gilliam collected eight hits, three walks and a sacrifice in 12 plate appearances, winding up the feat with a grand-slam home run.

Last June, in a twin bill at Syracuse, he banged out seven hits, including two home runs.

English Cricket Winds Up Season

LONDON (Reuters)—English first-class cricket yesterday wound up its 1952 season almost unnoticed in the flurry of excitement accompanying the opening games of the soccer season.

The championship was decided weeks ago by Surrey, which finished on top of the standings with a record 256 points.

Spearheaded by the bowling of Alec Bedser, Jim Laker and Tony Lock, and the batting of P.B.H. May, Eric Bedser, Dave Fletcher and Laurie Fishlock, Surrey compiled a record of 20 wins and three losses in 28 games.

Second in the tables, 32 points behind the champions, was Yorkshire. A bad third was Lancashire, with 188 points.

Surrey closed the season yesterday with a draw with Leicestershire. Leicestershire was short 192 in its first innings and to follow on, but a second-inning batting revival forced the draw.

P-W Ends Schedule

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club has concluded its schedule and its playing season.

The listed exhibition with Port Hope turned into just a friendly pickup match when Port Hope could only field half a team.

The local club finished its council schedule earlier, having six wins, five losses and a draw. A report of all matches, including the county game, and some exhibitions will be made shortly, with players' averages. It is just possible another friendly match or two may be staged by the P-W club before fall is finished.

West Confers With Gen. Clark

TOKYO (AP)—Maj.-Gen. M.M. Alston-Roberts-West, new commander of the 1st Commonwealth Division in Korea, conferred today with the united nations commander Gen. Mark Clark.

West goes to Korea tomorrow to replace Maj. A.J.H. Cassels, who has commanded the Commonwealth unit since its formation 15 months ago. Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade is part of the division.

West said at a press conference he was "astounded" by the complete co-operation he had observed here between representatives of various services and units under the U.N. command.

West has been British military commander in Austria for two years.

He travelled through Canada on his way here and visited Canadian troops in training.

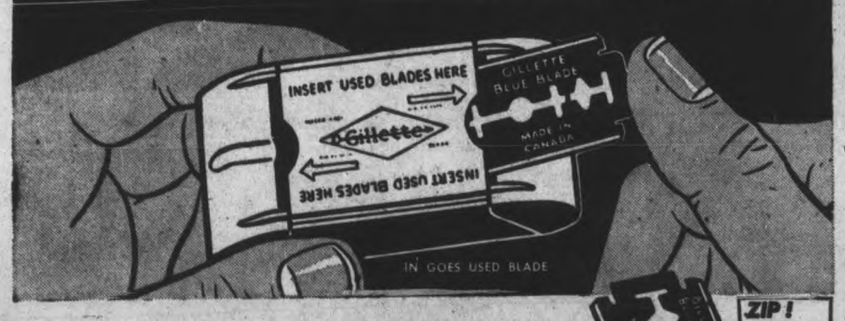
Snollygoster Latest In Politics

ABOARD THE TRUMAN TRAIN (AP)—President Truman yesterday accused the Eisenhower camp of increasing the risk of an atomic war with Russia by playing "cruel, gutter politics" with foreign policy.

Whistle-stopping his way back to Washington from Milwaukee on a campaign trip for Adlai Stevenson, Truman let loose at what he termed "Republican snollygosters" and "masterminds" he accused of trying to teach Dwight D. Eisenhower how to be a hypocrite in a few easy lessons.

Later Truman explained he heard the word "snollygoster" from his father and understood it meant "political shyster."

Truman indicated he and Stevenson, in their campaign speeches will divide up the material available, with the Illinois governor looking toward the future and Truman telling the people what he and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt accomplished in their administrations.



Vienna Employee Kidnapped By Reds

VIENNA, Austria (Reuters)—A Vienna city employee was reported to have been kidnapped today by six armed Russians and whisked off to the Russian zone in a car.

Eye-witnesses said the Austrian, Alter Bittner, was waiting for a streetcar with several friends when two Russian soldiers and an officer suddenly drew their pistols and seized him.

Three other Russians in civilian clothes jumped out of a parked car nearby and forced him into the vehicle.

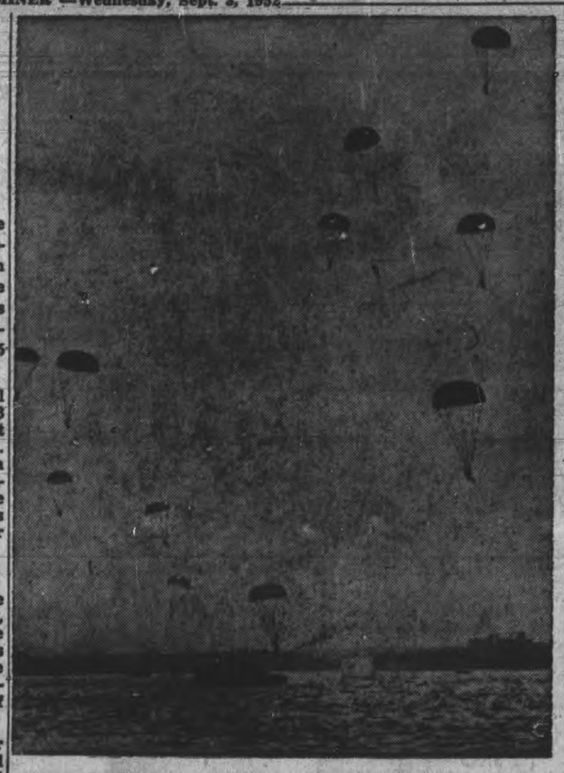
Delegates Visit Big Sawmill At Braeside

OTTAWA (CP)—Delegates to the sixth British Commonwealth forestry conference took time out from their discussion today to visit one of the biggest sawmill operations in Canada, the Gillies Brothers establishment at Braeside, Ont., 35 miles west of here.



It is the only diversion they will have between now and Sept. 13 when the conference closes. But such tours are not new to them. They have just returned from a 3,000-mile trip through the woodlands of Ontario and Quebec where they witnessed the scientific steps Canada is taking to preserve her forests.

ROLE OF STATE

One of the main themes of the conference is the role of the state, communities and private enterprise in national forestry policy. This theme came up yesterday when the delegates resumed their deliberations in the Senate chamber of Canada's parliament.

Dr. D. A. Macdonald, director of the federal forestry branch and chairman of the conference, told the delegates that sustained yield from the forests is Canada's ultimate goal.

The recent launching of a Canada wide forest inventory and reforestation program on a federal-provincial share-the-cost basis "is the latest step toward providing a solid foundation on which to plan for long-term utilization of our important forest resources," he said.

A WET DROP—The 27 paratroopers of the Royal Canadian Artillery (Light Battery) end their mass parachute drop in Lake Ontario at the waterfront of the Canadian National Exhibition. All three armed services took part in the drop with the R.C.A.F. providing troop transport planes and the R.C.N. the rescue craft to pick up the men who landed in the water. Capt. Wilfred Snell, of Paris, in charge of the drop, made the first jump to test the wind. Before landing in the water the paratroopers pull a cartridge which inflates their lifebelts before touching.

Take U.N. Vote On Debate Delay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—United Nations officials began polling the world organization's 60 members yesterday to see if they want to postpone important policy debates in the General Assembly until after the U.S. elections in November. The Assembly opens Oct. 14.

Early returns indicated most of them do not, and Canada was reported to be leading a no-delay-for-American - elections campaign which was reported to be swinging more members over.

In Ottawa, a top official of the External Affairs Department said it was "far too strong" to say that Canada is leading a campaign against delaying the debates.

He said the report "represents our views, but doesn't represent the situation."

T.T.C. Head Retires

TORONTO (CP)—Retirement of H. C. Patten, general manager of the Toronto Transportation Commission, and appointment of W. E. P. Duncan to succeed him were announced yesterday. Mr. Patton, 66, had been associated with the T.T.C. for 42 years and has been general manager for 14 years. Mr. Duncan was operating manager since 1949.

Bow Tie-Plucker Fined

OTTAWA (CP)—George D. Bourgon, 21, paid a $15 fine in police court yesterday for a week-end tie-plucking expedition. Police said he stood outside a restaurant grabbing at passers-by wearing bow ties. He wanted to see if they were fastened with elastic, but apparently few were.

Blacksmithed for 56 Years Charles R. McBrien Retires

NANTON, Alberta.—After more than a half-century, 56 years to be exact, of work at his trade as a blacksmith, Charles R. McBrien has leased his shop at Nanton and has retired.

During his time the primitive hand-operated leather bellows has disappeared; its successor, the hand blower, has been succeeded by the electric blower; power operated drills, emery wheels and trip hammers do most of the work formerly done by hand, and modern electric and acetylene welding equipment is a necessity in today's shop.

With the near-disappearance of the horse for farm power, the principal jobs undertaken a half-century ago, are seldom, if ever required today. Much of the work of a blacksmith, when Mr. McBrien first worked at his trade, was in shoeing horses, and repairing wagons, sleighs and cutters. This work has practically disappeared.

MADE HORSE SHOES

A blacksmith was required to make the horse shoes he was to fit to the horse, and Mr. McBrien shaped many in his early years at the trade, and on rare occasions in recent years. He still retains the tools used for this purpose. He is saving the last "bar" horse shoe which he made as a keepsake. This was made at request of the owner of a horse, competing at one of Nanton's stampedes and race meets, a number of years ago. It was never called for, and had hung unclaimed on the rafters of the shop until Mr. McBrien lifted it from its nail, to be put away as a souvenir.

His work week for many years was 60 hours—seven o'clock in the morning to six o'clock in the evening, Monday to Saturday inclusive. Today, many trades work 40 hours a week, less holidays and annual vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. McBrien were early residents of the town of Nanton, coming here in 1908, but there was a break of 24 years in residence, which they spent at Rosebud.

STARTED AT CENTREVILLE

Mr. McBrien was born at Cannington, Ontario, near Peterborough. On May 26, 1986, he apprenticed as a blacksmith with J. Isbister, at Centreville. After serving his three years' apprenticeship, he worked as journeyman blacksmith in and around Peterborough, until coming to the west.

Believes Fundy Town Indian Camp Site

MARGARETSVILLE, N.S. (CP)—A collector here believes this Bay of Fundy town was once the site of a large Micmac Indian encampment.

J. L. Cleveland backs up his claim with a collection of Indian relics picked up in this locality over the years. Many came from underneath the Margaretsville Point lighthouse, wrecked by lightning.

A prize article in his private museum is a stone ax which he has been told is the biggest Indian stone ax in the province.

Building Boom

REGINA (CP)—City building inspector H. A. Jones predicts 1952 will be Regina's biggest construction year since 1929. He expects total value of building permits will reach $7,000,000 by the year's end, up $1,000,000 from last year but still below 1929's record of $10,000,000.

Marlon Brando Taking Diction Lessons

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here's bad news for imitators of Marlon Brando: He's taking diction lessons.

The young actor's odd manner of talk has been the butt of many a jibe. His free-speaking performance in "A Streetcar Named Desire" brought TV imitations second in number only to Johnny (Sob) Ray.

Brando isn't at all sensitive about his manner of reading lines. (Why should he be? It earns him $100,000 a picture and upwards.) But he's taking diction lessons anyway. The reason for this is that he's playing the second Shakespearean role of his career.

Eight years ago when Brando was 20 and playing in a small-time summer theatre he had a small role in "Richard III." He says that he wore dyed long underwear for tights.

BIGGER THINGS

His current Shakespeare is on a slightly larger scale. This time it's a film version of "Julius Caesar" and the cast includes Greer Garson, Louis Calhern, James Mason, John Gielgud, Deborah Kerr and Edmond O'Brien. Faced with this formidable array, Brando enlisted the aid of a Shakespearean teacher and a diction coach. He explained his reasons:

"I think Shakespeare requires a kind of diction which can be called stage English.

"I talk American English.

"I accepted this role because I thought it would be good experience for me, and good discipline, too. My kind of acting has always been very free. I always like to be easy and uninhibited in the characterizations I do. But it's a different matter when you do Shakespeare. You immediately have certain bounds and limits beyond which you cannot go."

Shakespeare or no, Brando will again get a chance to display his muscular frame in "Julius Caesar." Dressed in nothing more than a pair of track shorts, Roman style, he participates in a running race in the colosseum for the picture.

"There is some justification for it," he explained. "Mark Antony was supposed to have been quite an athlete."

GETS APOLOGY — Photographer William Tetlow, of Toronto, received a letter of apology from the police chief of Edmunston, N.B., for what the town's mayor called a "most regrettable" affair. Tetlow was seized as he tried to take pictures of the international bridge at Edmunston for a Toronto publication and then was grilled for half an hour at the police station. The mayor explained: "First a woman got excited. Then the arresting constable got excited. The chief was excited, too. Most regrettable." The chief said as police officers at a border point they wanted to make sure no skullduggery was afoot.

U.S. Will Oppose Gold Price Change

MEXICO CITY (AP)—John Snyder, United States Treasury Secretary, told a press conference yesterday the U. S. not only opposes changing the price of gold but has no intention of permitting private ownership of coined gold.

The secretary, here for meetings of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, reiterated that the U. S. will maintain the present price of $35 an ounce for gold.

Rat Spied In Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—When a rat is seen in an Alberta city, it's news. H. Williams reported to police that he saw a rat crossing a street in Edmonton's outskirts early yesterday. Alberta was North America's only rat-free area until about a year ago.

UK Couple Plan To Visit Vets They Entertained

MONTREAL (CP)—The shoe was on the other foot today, as far as hospitality was concerned, for Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Gill of Moor Farm, Ouseburn, near York, England.

During the Second World War, the Gills' 200-acre farm was home to 50 Canadian, Australian and New Zealand airmen. Now, he Gills are on a six-week trip to see some of the boys with whom they have kept in touch.

"We kept in touch with the boys by letter," said Mr. Gill in an interview yesterday as they arrived here aboard the liner Empress of Scotland. "They kept on saying how nice it would be if we could come and visit them so we finally decided, about a year ago, to make the trip."

The Gills will spend about a week in Montreal renewing acquaintances and then head for Brookes, Alta., where Mr. Gill has an uncle. Later they will visit some of "the boys" in Toronto and Hamilton before going to New York to sail for England Oct. 15.

Break Up Gathering

ST. NAZAIRE, France (Reuters) Police last night charged about 600 persons who refused to disperse after a scheduled open-air performance here of a Communist play was banned. Three persons were seriously injured.

B.C. Paint Strike Ends

VANCOUVER (CP)—Some 500 Vancouver painters, on strike since June 13, return to work today. The 81-day strike ended yesterday when contractors agreed to proposed settlement terms. The Painters and Decorators Union (T.L.C.) approved the terms Sunday. Basic rate will be increased 20 cents an hour to $1.90 with an additional 10 cents to be paid starting Jan. 1.

Dean of St. Paul's Here

MONTREAL (CP)—Very Rev. Dr. W. R. Matthews, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, arrived here yesterday aboard the Empress of Scotland on a lecture tour of Canada and the United States. He will preach before the general Synod of the Church of England at London, Ont., tomorrow.

Mexican Publicity Gives Wrong Idea

TORONTO (CP)—If Mrs. Francisco Manzano had her way, the travel agencies would tear up their exotic Mexican posters—pronto.

"Everyone in Canada seems to think there is nothing in Mexico but Indians in serapes eating tamales," she said on a visit here. "It's simply not so."

"Most people in Mexico now are of European ancestry and they dress just as well, or better, than Americans and Canadians," she asserted.

"A Mexican man wouldn't think of going downtown without his suit-coat, and our girls never wear shorts or slacks on the streets."

Havelock Wets Win On Liquor And Beer After 40 Years Dry

HAVELOCK (ENS)—A 40-year dry spell was voted out of existence by a narrow margin Wednesday in Havelock when a record number of citizens ballotted in favor of a liquor store and a brewery warehouse. Eighty-two percent of the 770 names on the list supplemented by a few who were sworn in at the polls cast ballots on the two questions. There were 35 spoiled ballots. In all polls, the advance polls and the two polls in the East and West wards the wets had a majority.

The two questions on which the village was voting were:

1. Are you in favor of the establishment of a government store for sale of liquor?
2. Are you in favor of the establishment of a government store for the sale of beer only for residence consumption?

60 PER CENT

On the first, 393 voted yes and 240 voted no. On the second 395 voted yes and 231 voted no. A "yes" vote of 60 per cent is needed to have the stores established. The margin was narrow. Three hundred and eighty votes were needed for the 60 per cent.

Here are the results by poll:

Neighbors Rally To Save Otonabee Barn

Neighbors and friends with a hose and pumper, buckets and a bulldozer helped Melford A. Steenburgh wielding a 400-foot garden hose put out a fire that sprang up out of a dump on his property in Otonabee township about a mile south-west of Downer's Corners and leaped 100 feet into the area at noon today.

Mr. Steenburgh saved his barn, about 100 feet away, and eight brood sows inside.

SPREADING SAWDUST

He said the only explanation he had for the fire was that it was ignited by spontaneous combustion. He had been spreading sawdust from Charles V. Woods' saw mill on Otonabee St. (Highway 7) on top of a dump to level it off.

He came out of his house about 12:30 p.m. "It was really going high in the air about 100 feet. Luck happened that I have 400 feet of garden hose and I think that was the only thing that saved the barn."

His son Wallace drove to Woods' sawmill and brought back the sawmill's pumper and hose. A large pond about 400 away supplied all the water that was needed.

"Thank God, it's there," Mr. Steenburgh said.

Someone else phoned a family friend, T. F. Doughty, on Monaghan Rd., who had a bulldozer loaded on his truck. He brought the bulldozer down and it shoved mounds of earth on the fire to help smother it.

About 30 neighbors turned out and they helped man the hose and pumper and carried buckets of water to throw on the fire.

All that was lost in the fire were 18 used tires and an old wrecked car that was burned out.

In about an hour and a quarter the fire was out.

Troops Alerted Following Riot

BOMBAY, India (AP) Indian Army troops stood at the alert today in riot-torn Hyderabad city after new fighting broke out in the capital of the South Indian state.

Heavy patrols also moved through the twin city of Secunderabad and a dusk-to-dawn curfew was ordered for the more than 1,000,000 persons of the two centres whose state has been a major centre of Communist agitation.

Police opened fire twice last night and once again today on Communist sparked rioters agitating against the employment in the state government of non-Hyderabadi Indians, a long-standing issue in the state.

Casualties so far stood at one dead and 15 wounded, five of them critically. The rioters today tried to charge Hyderabad's largest hospital, demanding the body of the man killed in the firing last night.

Start Shooting War Against Smugglers

DACCA, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistani troops were ordered to India's West Bengal border yesterday for a shooting war against smugglers. An illegal traffic in raw jute to India is of special concern.

Jute is the golden fibre of which gunny sacks, linoleum backing and many other products are made. Pakistan grows a lot of it—about 6,000,000 bales a year.

Before the partition of India in 1947, most of this jute went to Calcutta mills for processing. Since the division of the sub-continent, India has begun growing some jute of her own for the Calcutta mills and Pakistan has been shipping much of her output elsewhere, meantime threatening to build her own mills.

Control of jute ranks not far behind the future of disputed Kashmir as a cause of tension between India and Pakistan.

Decide Phone Call Caused Man's Death

OTTAWA (CP)—A coroner's jury has decided a phone call may have caused the death Aug. 25 of a workman engaged in construction of a three-storey addition to the downtown Bell Telephone Building.

The jury reached this conclusion after questioning Emile Clouthier, operator of a hoist which caused the death of Joseph Robichaud who fell 100 feet.

Clouthier said he heard a two-bell signal from Robichaud which indicated he should lower the hoist. Witnesses testified that Robichaud, who fell because the hoist was lowered, couldn't have rung the signal because he was not in position.

The jury concluded Clouthier must have been confused by a telephone ringing in a floor below.

Say Children Heard Explosion

Flames Destroy Two Cottages; Set Damage $75,000

WASAGA BEACH (CP) — Two 40-room hotels and two cottages were destroyed by fire at Oakview Beach west of here last night. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

The fire, of unknown origin, started in the Bayview Manor, one of the oldest buildings in the area. A group of children passing were said to have heard an explosion, then smoke began pouring out.

The flames, fanned by a strong wind, spread quickly to the Bluenose inn nearby, despite efforts of firemen from Wasaga Beach, Elmvale and Collingwood to control them. Sparks carried to buildings adjoining the inn. Two cabins were razed and a number damaged before firemen brought the flames under control.

All the buildings were empty when fire broke out. The Bluenose Inn had been closed yesterday after the Labor Day week-end. George Robinson, owner of the Bayview Manor, was attending a Chamber of Commerce banquet with a number of lodge guests.

Wasaga Beach is on Georgian Bay 90 miles north of Toronto.

Working between the hotels and the lake, firemen were forced to cut down a hydro pole and throw about four miles of Wasaga Beach into darkness. The pole carried high tension wires.

PREVENTS SPREAD

A fireman said the surrounding area was damp from rain earlier this week. Otherwise, the fire might have spread farther, he said.

George Robinson, owner of the Bayview Manor, had left for the annual Wasaga Beach Chamber of Commerce banquet just 15 minutes before the fire.

"When I heard the fire whistle, I didn't think anything of it at first, thinking it might have been just a little cottage fire.

"Then we got to a place where we could see the lake and we could see it was a pretty bad blaze. I still didn't think of my building, but we turned around and when we got back the place was all in flames."

Ed Wilson, proprietor of cabins next to the Bluenose Inn, turned in the alarm. He and his wife smelled smoke while painting a cabin.

"I saw the whole front of the Bayview Manor in flames," Mrs. Wilson said. "While I was watching, there was a loud explosion. Then the roof caught fire.

"My husband and I ran down to Wheelers' store and called the firemen. I thought sure our place would go up too because of the wind. There were sparks everywhere."

The two-storey Bayview Manor was built 20 years ago as a dance hall.

There is little need for Peter to guard this mammoth vegetable, because no one is going to walk off with it; it weighs approximately 125 pounds. Mr. Wilson has four of them in his garden and last year grew two squash that weighed 127 pounds each. They were exhibited at various district rural fairs.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Urges Gold Standard Return

MEXICO CITY (Reuters)—Nicholas Havenga, South African finance minister, claimed today that unless the world returns to the gold standard business men must accept exchange and international trade restrictions as permanent features of commerce. He was speaking at the seventh meeting of the 54-country International Monetary Fund, set up in 1944 to promote world trade by stabilizing exchange rates and eliminating all currency restrictions. The session opened yesterday. Havenga made an appeal he has often made before: he pressed for a world-wide increase in the price of gold.

"If gold is not correctly priced it will wreck any monetary mechanism," he declared.

A return to the gold standard and a higher price for gold would benefit South Africa—the world's biggest gold-producing country—because there would be a greater demand for gold for the settlement of international debts and because her income from gold exports would increase.

OPPOSED BY U.S.

The United States has consistently objected to a higher gold price because it would amount to a devaluation of the dollar.

Havenga declared:

"It would seem to me that if the world is not prepared to return to the gold standard and if no other external check can be introduced to prevent the subordination of the monetary system to political considerations, we may have to accept exchange restrictions and discrimination in international trade as permanent features of our modern world."

Large China Shipping Firm Joint State, Private Co.

HONG KONG (Reuters)—China's second-largest shipping company, which includes several Canadian-built vessels not yet paid for, has been reorganized into a joint state and private enterprise, the New China Communist news agency reported today. The company was formerly known as the Ming Sung Industrial Company. Reorganization took place Sept. 1, the agency said.

Its fleet numbers about 40 ships. Nine of them are ultra-modern vessels built in Canada under a scheme negotiated by the Canadian government and the Chinese Nationalist government before the Communists ousted the Nationalists from the mainland.

The vessels fell into the hands of the Communists and Canada has not been paid for them.

There are three 3,000-ton and six 900-ton steamers built in Canada on which $1,248,174 is still owing.

Seven of these modern vessels slipped out of Hong Kong harbor and berthed at Canton just before the first capital repayment of $86,000 became due to the Canadian government on June 30 last year.

The Canadian government had acted as joint guarantors with the Chinese Nationalist government for the building of the ships.

Two another Canadian-built vessels fell into the hands of the Chinese Communists earlier on the Yangtse River.

VILLAGE BURNED

HANOI, Indo-China (AP) — The French Air Force burned a fortified village held by the Vietminh off the map today.

12 Die, 32 Hurt In Plant Blast

MARSEILLES, France (Reuters) —Rescue squads searched today for bodies believed buried in the smouldering ruins of a soap factory which exploded and burned overnight.

Twelve dead have already been recovered, and 32 persons were taken to hospital with injuries.

The explosion last night was believed to have been in a tank of benzine. It was followed by a big fire which blazed for hours.

Houses over a radius of 100 yards from the factory were damaged. Streets were littered with broken glass, shutters and twisted steel girders torn from the factory.

Four hundred naval firemen, assisted by army units and police, were still fighting fires among the ruins 13 hours after the blast.

Begin Hearing

TORONTO (CP)—The preliminary hearing of a manslaughter charge against William Fleming, a chauffeur, started today at suburban Cooksville.

The charge arose from the traffic deaths June 28 of William Green and Anne Vanderheul, both 16, struck down as they walked along a road a few miles west of Toronto on their way home from a movie.

47 Beach Operators Face Financial Ruin If Plebiscite Goes Against Sunday Sport

BURLINGTON (CP).—Forty-seven concession operators on the five mile beach strip between here and Hamilton said today they face financial ruin if an Oct. 1 plebiscite goes against Sunday sports.

The operators have been remanded until Oct. 29 on charges of operating amusement rides and bingo games on Sunday. A petition bearing 50 names has asked for the October vote.

Walter Chapman, operator of a service station on the strip, said he will be forced out of business if the amusement area is forced to close.

"Ninety per cent of my business is on Sunday," he said. "I wouldn't be able to operate if no one came here that day."

Find Student's Body In Debris After Fire At OAC

GUELPH (CP)—A body identified as that of Erica Szemo, a post graduate student, was found today in debris left by a fire which swept the upper floor of the two-storey animal nutrition building at the Ontario Agricultural College. The blaze early today caused damage estimated at $25,000. Residents of the area reported hearing an explosion about 2 a.m. However, the fire was not noticed until 5 a.m. The girl, who had been working on a post-graduate project at the college, did not return to her roominghouse last night. The authorities, when told of this and of the explosion, ordered a search of the fire-swept floor.

FIND BODY

Dr. Hugh D. Branion, head of the department at the college, and Lieut. Leon Millie of the Guelph fire department found the body some time after the fire had been put out.

Guelph firemen subdued the blaze with the aid of the college volunteer brigade.

The building, one of the oldest at the college, housed valuable laboratory equipment, much of which was destroyed together with records. Dr. Branion, head of the department, said much of the equipment will be hard to replace.

WORKING ON EXPERIMENT

It was learned that the 26-year-old girl had been working on an experiment in the laboratory last night. College officials said they presumed she may have dropped off to sleep prior to an explosion which was heard three hours before the fire was discovered.

The girl came to Canada from Hungary and had lived at Corunna, Ont., before coming to Guelph to do post-graduate work. She was a graduate of the Swiss Federation Institute of Technology at Zurich.

Workmen had to clear one of the rooms of considerable wreckage before the charred body was found near a desk.

Jailed Nine Years For Armed Robbery

TORONTO (CP)—Walter Astless, 27, today was sentenced to nine years in penitentiary for the $2,800 armed robbery of a downtown Yonge street shoe store last November. His partner, Albert Cole, earlier received a life sentence.

Astless pleaded guilty to the robbery charge last week. He was arrested in British Columbia Aug. 18 and returned to Toronto for trial.

Police said he and Cole ordered the manager and three employees of the store to the basement and forced the manager to open a vault.

Woman Offered $150 For $4 Canadian Bill

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Mrs. Evelyn Miller, attendant at a service station here, has been offered up to $150 for a $4 Canadian bill given her some time ago by a United States citizen.

The bill—dated July 2, 1900, and twice the size of present currency—was tendered for gasoline. Canadian banks withdrew the bills from circulation 20 years ago.

Though Mrs. Miller has had calls about the bill from as far as Barrie 110 miles away, she has turned down all bids.

Port Colborne is 15 miles southwest of Niagara Falls.

Turn Pupils Away In Suburbs

TORONTO (CP)—Crowded conditions in suburban schools have resulted in staggered hours for some students. In other schools classes are being held in cafeterias.

In some areas five-year-olds attending school for the first time were sent home this week by principals who could not find space for them.

In Etobicoke 2,000 more students were enrolled this year than in 1951. Even with an additional 52 classrooms available staggered hours have been scheduled.

Fifty additional students at Oakville-Trafalgar high school have caused such overcrowding that Principal David Wilson said the school's cafeteria will be used part time as a classroom.

Officials of South Peel board of education met last night at Port Credit and were told that kindergarten pupils had been sent home because o fthe overcrowded conditions. The children were turned away from Lakeview central school where Principal Neil Matheson said 48 had been put on a "waiting list."

Justice Minister Quits In Belgium

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Justice Minister Joseph Pholien resigned last night, easing the public and political storm caused by his commutation of war criminals' sentences.

Reprieves have been granted to a convicted Belgian war criminal and a major wartime enemy collaborator. The Socialist opposition has deplored the clemency orders.

Earlier, wartime resistance fighters had marched into an Houtte's office and demanded that Pholien resign because of the soft policy toward war criminals, it was learned. They said that unless Pholien quit "the whole government will be held responsible for the crisis."

The delegation called itself the Committee of Appeal to the Nation and claimed to represent 500,000 ex-servicemen and underground fighters.

Jet Speedboat Hits 140 MPH In Tests

LOCH NESS, Scotland (Reuters) —John Cobb's jet-propelled speedboat Crusader today reached a speed of 140 miles an hour in a test run on Loch Ness.

Cobb, who hopes to beat the American-held world water speed of 178.4 m. p. h., made one run of about five miles up the lake, turned and sped back. A spokesman said there will be no further trials until Saturday.

Reaping Huge Profits

Smuggle Canadian Cattle Across Border Into U.S.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (CP)—The Providence Journal-Bulletin reports today that unscrupulous men are reaping huge profits by smuggling Canadian cattle over the border into Vermont and New Hampshire in violation of a ban to prevent the spread of foot-and-mouth disease to United States herds.

Reporters Leonard O. Warner and Stuart O. Hale said the ban has created "a perfect situation for the cattle-smuggler; buy low and sell high."

Although Canada recently officially declared Canadian herds free of the disease, the U.S. has not lifted the import embargo slapped on when the epidemic broke out.

"These days in Canada you can buy a young milk cow for from $160 to $225—the price promises to drop even lower—and you can sell her here in southern New England for from $400 to $450," Warner and Hale report.

CRISSCROSSED BORDER

"No one questions your movements along the Canadian border," Warner and Hale reported. They tell how they "drove three days on both sides of the border in northern New England and Quebec, repeatedly crisscrossed the line at regular customs stations. . ."

"At no time," the Journal study says, "were they stopped, questioned or even followed. They saw no border guards or patrols except at the regular customs stations. . .

"Paul Lawrence, customs agent in charge of investigations for the Vermont-New Hampshire border, told journal reporters that the smuggling of banned Canadian cattle 'is widespread.'

"Forged animal health charts and ear tags obtained from slaughter houses and other sources enable the smugglers to sell their illegal stock masked as U.S. animals "of good health," the Journal says.

The Journal reports that since the ban was imposed last February U. S. authorities have prosecuted only one smuggling case, resulting in a $1,000 fine for a Newport, Vt., cattle dealer. Cattle allegedly were brought from Ontario to Quebec and thence to a barn straddling the border near North Troy Vt.

In Fredericton, Supt. E H. Perlson, R.C.M.P. chief in New Brunswick, said today there was no indication of cattle smuggling across the New Brunswick-Maine border.

Wants To Try Luck

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A young swimmer who failed in an attempt to paddle across Lake Erie on a surfboard is anxious to try his luck swimming the English Channel.

Virgil Sayre, 26-year-old food salesman from Meadville, Pa., said today:

"I'm ready to try the English Channel now. I know I could make it."

He set out to cross the 45 miles of water from Port Royal, Ont., Monday morning. About 24 hours later Sayre was rescued by the crew of a steamer eight miles from Erie.

New Agreement Saves $300,000

TORONTO (CP)—The federal-provincial tax rental agreements should save Ontario taxpayers about $300,000 in civil service salaries alone, Premier Frost said yesterday.

Through the agreement there will be a reduction in the staff of the Corporation Tax Department as a result of the federal government taking over the field on a rental basis.

Mr. Frost emphasized that this does not mean a reduction in the civil service or that the corporation tax staff would lose their jobs. Rather, he said, they would be transferred to such growing tax departments as liquor, gasoline and succession duties.

Nylon Armor Vests Proving Satisfactory

WITH COMMONWEALTH TROOPS IN KOREA (Reuters)—The few dozen American nylon "armor" vests issued to British Commonwealth troops in Korea have now all received hits from bullets or shrapnel.

A red mark is painted over each hole so that new hits can be noted, according to a Commonwealth spokesman.

The vests have been passed around from battalion to battalion for use by fighting patrols. All infantry battalions in action with the Commonwealth Division, including Canadians and Australians, have now experimented with them.

The spokesman said they had saved men's lives and reports from the battalions were generally favorable.

The only disadvantage is that they are hot in warm weather.

The vests weigh eight pounds and are made of a nylon base with plastic plates. They cover the body from the shoulders to just below the waist.

Denies He Did It

Accuse Boy 11 Of Burning Two Children To Death

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who repeatedly said "I didn't do it, I didn't do it" was accused by police today of the torch deaths of two children.

Police said the Latin-American boy set an eight-year-old boy and his 12-year-old sister afire yesterday and let them burn to death, trapped and screaming, in the attic of their home.

An 11-year-old sister of the children was critically burned trying to save them. A frail, physically-handicapped older sister fought with the slight Latin-American boy but couldn't stop his attempts to harm the children.

SISTER BURNED

Dead were Lindsey, 8, and Mary Louise, 12. Esther, 11, was in a critical condition with severe burns. All were children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cunningham, who were both at work when the tragedy occurred.

The older sister, Ruth, 22, said she wrestled with the boy but he mounted a chair out of her reach and threw kerosene on Lindsey and Mary Louise as they sorted clothing in the attic. Then he lit a paper torch and threw it into the attic.

Mrs. Maude Wharton, a neighbor, tried to cut through ventilators in the attic with an ax when she heard the children screaming "save us, Maude, save us." An unidentified man grabbed the ax when she failed to cut through to the trapped pair, but he failed, too.

District Fire Chief Fred Roth told the Associated Press that the boy, arrested by juvenile authorities, kept repeating, "I didn't do it, I didn't do it."

Juvenile authorities would not permit questioning of the boy last night.

Pearson To Visit 3 Capitals For Defence Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson left yesterday for another round of talks at western capitals where new decisions may soon be shaping up on the west's defensive military buildup in Europe. Mr. Pearson will visit Washington, London and Paris for conferences with his opposite members in those capitals. The talks will mainly concern matters to come before the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris in December.

But it may also touch on the United Nations where Russia has served notice of new veto blockages of countries, such as Japan, seeking admission.

While abroad Mr. Pearson will formally give up the chairmanship of the N. A. T. O. Council which he has held for a year. The chairmanship will go to Foreign Minister Kraft of Denmark, the next country alphabetically in line.

This would leave Mr. Pearson free to take on other tasks outside his cabinet work, such as the presidency of the General Assembly of the U. N. for which he has been mentioned. The minister has indicated he would be willing to take on this job.

TO SEE ACHESON

Mr. Pearson will take off by air from Toronto for Washington where he will confer with the U. S. Secretary of State, Dean Acheson. Then, after a weekend return to Ottawa, he leaves Tuesday for London and Paris to see British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

It is seen as significant that his departure comes only a few days after a Toronto speech in which he said N. A. T. O. was "still far from perfect" and stressed that its defence objective must be given first priority to meet the Soviet "conspiracy."

UN Jets Score Against Reds

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The United States Fifth Air Force said U.S. Sabre jet pilots today rolled up a near-record score for one day against Communist MIG jets—12 shot down and two or three crippled.

The best single-day performance by the fast Sabres was last July 4, when they destroyed 13 Russian-built jets, damaged seven and probably destroyed one.

A big force of Sabres swept across North Korea and destroyed the MIGs in a series of blazing dogfights. They flew cover for swarms of fighter bombers which struck Communist front-line positions. Allied losses, if any, will be reported in a weekly summary.

The intensified air action followed Wednesday night's strike by Superfortresses against the Changjin hydro-electric plant in North Korea—newly-repaired from previous bombings.

U.S. fliers knocked out Changjin's plant No. 1—last night's target—late in 1950. Repaired, it was bombed in a big air attack last June.

Family Of Nine Sleeps In Car

KITCHENER (CP)—A Mennonite family of nine, wending its way from Manitoba to Waterloo county in an old jalopy, spent last night with all its belongings in its 1928-model car near Wallenstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Loewen and seven children slept in their car parked in the driving shed of Angus Bauman.

Able to speak only Spanish and an old German dialect, members of the family had difficulty finding someone to understand them. However, they were taken to the home of Mr. Bauman who knows the dialect.

The family, originally from Mexico, expects to find work at Tillsonburg.

A graduate of University of Western Ontario Mr. Little had been doing research at Washington State College in Pullman, Wash., where he was an associate professor.

Golds, Base Metals Weaken On Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices mixed in early afternoon stock market trading today as golds and base metals weakened.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,628,000 shares. Tower, a western oil, was the heaviest trade, gaining pennies in a three-hour turnover of 157,000 shares.

Junior gold producers attracted interest. Chimo and Heath made small advances in turnovers of about 50,000 shares but Gunnar and Bidgood weakened. Senior golds improved slightly over a weak opening but failed to gain much support.

East Rim traded heavily in the base metal list for a penny loss and Falconbridge, United Keno and Noranda also slipped. American Yellowknife gained fractionally in active trading.

A few western oils traded actively for small gains, led by Devon Leduc with a 30-cent gain on a turnover of 27,000 shares.

Industrials improved steadily, led by papers, banks and retail stores while utilities, steels, liquors and manufacturing companies slipped.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indice showed industrials up .71 at 330.73, golds down .38 at 92.81, base metals down .25 at 196.92 and western oils up .20 at 138.71.

Says Hostility Dying To Trade Unions

MARGATE, England (Reuters)—Canadian labor leader Ken Green told British unionists today that hostility to the trade union movement in Canada is "slowly but surely giving way to enlightened understanding."

Addressing the British Trades Union Congress as a fraternal delegate from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, he said Canadian unionists completely dissociated themselves from views expressed by some people in Canada about the British welfare state.

"It may be that they fear we will take advantage of these social security measures," he said.

Green, who is secretary of the Halifax affiliated Trades and Labor Unions Council, warned that Communists have "no respect or true freedom and in many cases would like to use unions in the interests of the fatherland."

Adrift 16 Hours In Cruiser, Couple Rescued

BEAVERTON (CP)—After drifting across Lake Simcoe for 16 hours, Mr. and Mrs. Errull Arnoldi of Toronto were rescued yesterday from their disabled cabin cruiser by two men who spotted their distress signals and went to the rescue in a motor boat.

Winds of 30 m.p.h. and more buffeted the craft while the two people aboard wondered when they would eat their next meal. They had taken enough food for only one meal.

The couple stepped from the rescue boat of Tony Hyttinen at Point of Mara Beach shortly after noon Wednesday. They were slightly tired and hungry, but quite unruffled by their experience.

Mr. Arnoldi, a veteran sailing man, said with a smile: "It was only inconvenient. I've been in many tougher spots than this in a lifetime of sailing. How often I wished for a sail during our long drift. I never realized before just how helpless you can feel with a conked motor."

The Arnoldi's left Atherley in their cruiser at noon Tuesday. They intended to have lunch aboard the craft and return ashore for the evening meal. But after four hours on Lake Simcoe their motor failed. Mr. Arnoldi tried to repair it, but did not succeed.

The couple agreed that without Mr. Hyttinen's help their cruiser would almost certainly have been lost. Hyttinen brought them two extra anchors, and the craft was finally beached with its own two anchors and two additional anchors holding it down. But even then the choppy waves caused the cruiser to drag on all four anchors.

143 Arrested Defying Laws

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (Reuters)—A total of 143 Africans—73 women and 70 men—were arrested for defying segregation laws during the night at railway stations here and in nearby New Brighton.

The natives, continuing a country-wide passive resistance campaign against racial segregation laws, kept police busy all night.

They split up in seven batches and systematically proceeded to get themselves arrested from 1 a.m. to 5:45 a.m.

In Fort Beaufort, Cape Province, 23 passive resisters were fined £2 or three weeks in jail for deliberately breaking curfew regulations. Some had their fines paid by demonstrators who passed the hat outside the courthouse.

Urges Gold

Short of a substantial increase in gold production—which could be ruled out under present price relationships—reserves could only be built up to adequate levels either by raising the price of gold or by deflation, he contended.

"It would surely spell major disaster if the nations are to rely on deflationary action. . .

TIME OPPORTUNE

"We have reached a stage where certain currencies are again under heavy pressure and the time seems to be opportune for a world-wide increase in the price of gold which should help substantially to reduce the necessity or extent of further individual adjustments and to facilitate the removal or reduction of exchange restrictions."

The 54-country Fund last night appealed to the United States to lower its tariff barriers as a means of restoring a balanced world economy.

Finance Minister Abbott is representing Canada.

In its annual report the Fund said: "Obstacles placed by the surplus countries on imports, whether in the form of increased tariffs, import quotas, or in any other way, may frustrate even the most strenuous efforts of the deficit countries to achieve international balance without resorting to restrictions."

The report blamed many dollar-short countries of trying to do more by way of "consumption, investment and government expenditure than could be managed with the resources available to them."

If these countries employ restrictive trade practices instead of living within their income, the present weakened structure of international payments may deteriorate further, the report warned.

Pyramid 4,650 Years Old Uncovered In Egypt Desert

WASHINGTON.—A heretofore unknown pyramid has been discovered at Saqqara on the edge of Egypt's Western Desert, 50 miles from Cairo.

It is a step pyramid like the nearby Pyramid of Zoser, the earliest known building in the world made entirely of stone. The step pyramids were built in ascending stages, each smaller than the last, as contrasted with the smooth outline of the later type pyramids.

Scientists think the new pyramid probably was built for King Zoser's successor about 2700 B.C.

Discovery was made by archeologists sinking trial pits in late 1951. They found a vast terrace, 1,803 feet long and 558 feet wide, surrounded by remains of an enclosing wall, one section of which was perfectly preserved.

RUINED TEMPLES

Within the enclosure were piles of broken stone and masonry suggesting the temples, shrines, and secondary tombs which make up a pyramid complex. A pit dug in the exact centre of the terrace uncovered three parallel leaning walls, about 30 feet high, in characteristic step pyramid construction.

The scorching heat of the Egyptian spring stopped work for a time, and the dimensions of the central structure have not yet been ascertained. When digging begins again this fall, efforts will be concentrated on a search for the well hidden burial chamber.

Egyptian officials say legendary curses will not stop the excavators. The most blistering curses inscribed on many tombs were directed more against violators of endowments than against grave robbers. Set up in lands and revenues, endowments insured proper religious services for the care of the departed soul.

They were protected by such curses as Penno engraved on his rock tomb in Ibrim: "As for anyone who shall disregard it, Amon King of the Gods shall be after him, Mut shall be after his wife, Khonsu shall be after his children. He shall hunger! He shall thirst! He shall faint! He shall sicken!"

DESERT QUARRIES

But dynasties rose and fell. Burial chambers were entered and robbed despite thousands of tons of stone blocking the passageways. Chief damage was done by lime burners and builders who used the pyramids as convenient quarries. Thus, many pyramids disappeared, and others lie still undiscovered in the desert sands.

Superstitions and tales as tall as the pyramids grew up and are believed even today. Inquiries come in regularly from people who believe that the interior angles and dimensions of the Great Pyramid of Cheops record history and foretell the future. This is a comparatively recent invention.

The idea that the inner passages were oriented for observing the stars is hardly more likely, since the builders blocked the passages with hundreds of tons of stone. Some ancients thought the pyramids were the granaries of Joseph, others that they were built by wise men to escape Noah's flood.

The Roman author, Pliny, writing in the 1st century B.C., dismissed the pyramids as "idle and foolish exhibitions of royal wealth." But Cheops' Great Pyramid remains the oldest and only surviving wonder of the seven ancient wonders of the world.

Storm Keeps Navy Guessing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The question of whether the severe Atlantic hurricane will continue its course toward the United States mainland or die over open water remained unanswered today.

Two navy hurricane-hunting planes developed mechanical trouble and were unable to check the position of the tropical twister. Ships were keeping so far away their reports contained no useful information.

The noon advisory estimated the storm's centre to be 620 miles east of Dayton Beach, Fla., near latitude 29.5 north and longitude 71.0 west.

Highest winds were 110 miles per hour near the centre. Hurricane force winds—75 miles per hour or more—extended outward 75 miles north and east of the centre.

During the 65-minute preliminary hearing, the youth sat with his face cupped in his hands. When Magistrate Johnstone Roberts asked him if he wished to make a statement, he shook his head.

Dr. Colin Brown testified that Mrs. Bell died of suffocation after a sharp instrument pierced a blood vessel and caused her lungs to be filled with blood.

US Navy Reports Contacting Subs In Alaska Area

WASHINGTON (AP). — The United States said Wednesday it has investigated reports of the recent presence of unidentified submarines off Alaska.

In response to a question about west coast rumors that submersibles had been seen in the Nome area last Thursday night, a navy spokesman said:

"There was a reported contact in the Alaskan area. An investigation revealed that no conclusions are practicable. No further action is contemplated."

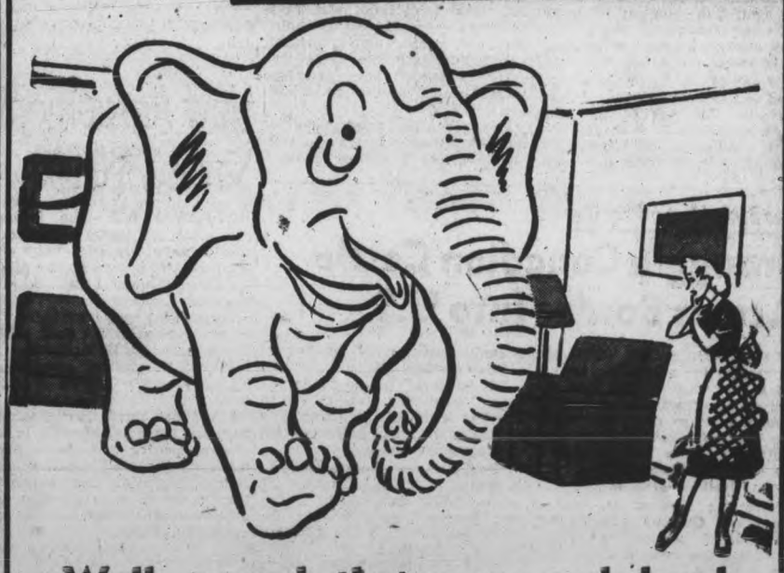
He declined to say exactly when the incident occurred or where.

The navy distinguishes between "sighting" and "contact" in describing submarine operations. Thus the use of the word contact indicated that no visual sighting of a strange submersible was made but that something was picked up by underwater detection gear or by radar.

CAN'T INTERPRET

The navy apparently wasn't able to interpret the contact signal to its own satisfaction and couldn't come up with anything definite in the investigation which may have included a close search of the area.

The reply given Wednesday was similar to answers given in other instances during recent years when reports came in of strange submarines in various places along the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.



Possibility that Soviet submarines might be scouting the Alaskan coast in routine patrols is not ruled out.

Nome is at the westernmost tip of the Alaskan mainland, within easy cruising range of Russian submarines which base at ports on the Kamchatka Peninsula, Dairen at the top of the Yellow Sea, and at harbors along the Siberian coast.

Homeowners Try To Block Apartment Bldg.

COBOURG (ENS) —Petition by residents in the east end of the town against erection of an apartment house there by Charles Jackson, Cobourg contractor, was before the council meeting on Tuesday night. The matter hinges on whether a recent bylaw which permits apartment dwellings in that area over-rules the contention of the petitioners that when the sub-division lots were purchased it was with the understanding that only single-dwelling houses could be erected. Council deferred the matter in order to consult with the town solicitor and the Municipal Board.

Council tabled a request for a taxi license by George Turpin, Jr. Two taxi owners opposed the granting of the license, for the time being at least, until the effect of the new bus service upon taxi business has been assessed. The matter was accordingly laid over until the next meeting.

Fred Gruber, who has been town foreman here for the past few years, tendered his resignation to the town council and it was accepted. No explanation for ther esignation was given. Council granted the Bell Telephone Co. permission to erect three more outside phone booths on town property.

First instalment on the $10,000 floor donated by the Kinsmen Club to the rink, was handed over to council in the amount of $3,080. The town advanced the money to pay for the new floor and the Kinsemen Club is paying it back.

First and second readings were given to a bylaw to set up restricted areas in the north west an dsouth east corners of the town, in order to establish these areas as residential sections. The matter of more housing will be discussed by council at an early date, the necessary statistics having been gathered by the town clerk. Mayor Jack Burnet warmly praised the Allied Labour Council for its work in staging the successful Labor Day weekend, and complimented the police department for its good work in handling the heavy traffic of that day.

Councillor Alan Field expressed resentment over the publicity given to a report that the town hall basement was littlered with empty wine bottles. He said that it was a foul blow at the caretaker, and that his own inspection of the town hall had not revealed the wine bottles that were supposed to be in evidence. Mayor Jack Burnet said that the wine bottles were there all right and he invited the council to see for themselves.

No Strings Tied To Oil Offer

WASHINGTON (CP)—U.S. State Secretary Acheson assured Prime Minister Mossadegh of Iran Wednesday that there are no booby traps hidden in the recent British-American offer to settle the Iranian oil deadlock.

In a statement, he appealed to Mossadegh to reconsider his quick rejection of the joint proposal made by President Truman and Britain's Prime Minister Churchill last week.

"I sincerely believe that the proposals meet the outstanding issues in the oil dispute and deserve careful consideration as a basis for negotiation to end the unhappy dispute between two good friends of the United States," he said.

The flow of oil from Iran to the west has been blocked for the past six months by a bitter quarrel between the Iranian and British Governments over Iran's determination to nationalize the British-owned oil properties.

The Truman - Churchill offer promised to recognize Iran's right to nationalize and pledged $10,00,000 from the U.S. immediately to keep Iran from going bankrupt.

SUBMIT TO ARBITRATION

Iran was asked to submit to international arbitration the key argument over how much should be paid Britain for the oil installations, which are reported valued in the neighborhood of a billiion and a half dollars.

Britain also promised to buy some 2,000,000 tons of oil now stored in huge tanks along the Persian Gulf to provide Iran's treasury with a quick profit of from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Talking to reporters today Acheson labeled the British-American offer fair and reasonable and one with no strings attached.

Informed officials said his public plea was designed to allay Mossadegh's fears that the British-American proposal looked so good there must be a trap hidden somewhere.

Acheson, in a move to clarify one point in the proposal, assured Mossadegh that Iran would be free after nationalization to sell oil to western countries besides Britain. But, he noted, Iran's nationalization law itself gives the British priority of purchase.

Charge 4 Schoolboys Beat Elderly Man

SUDBURY (CP)—Provincial police said today they will lay charges against four schoolboys in connection with the beating of Taunto Alanko, 79.

They say the boys, aged eight to 11, forced their way into Alanko's one-room dwelling at Garson, 10 miles east of here, by chopping a hole in the door.

They also say the boys knocked Alanko to the floor, held him down and beat him with his cane. Then they poured sugar, oatmeal and other food over him while holding him on the floor and also smashed windows in the house.

Council Halts Funds For New Collegiate

COOKSVILLE — South Peel Board of Education has refused to halt construction of the $650,000 Cooksville High School at the request of Toronto Township Council. Chairman Leslie Hughes told the township council Wednesday that unless the board received a signed order workmen would not be called off the job.

Reeve Sidney Smith said that council had been instructed by the Royal Bank to stop all construction in the municipality uhtil $20,000,000 worth of debentures have been sold.

Council, in turn, refused to sanction payment of an $18,000 architects fee and a $67,000 bill from the school contractor. The foundation of the high school is finished.

The Cooksville branch of the Royal Bank has been ordered not to issue any more cheques against the high school or the $165,000 addition to the town hall, said Mr. Smith.

The accommodation in some schools in south part of Peel is grim, said Mr. Hughes.

"We have been forced to instigate staggered hours for classes in schools in Clarkson and Lakeview," said the chairman. Deputy Reeve Llyod Herridge said the only other secondary school in the county, at Port Credit, was overcrowded.

"The Municipal Act forces the municipality to provide education facilites," said the deputy reeve. Mr. Smith suggested that the province should accept all costs of education.

The South Peel board is not going to sign any further contracts for school construction until the financial muddle is straightened out, said Mr. Hughes.

Deuty Reeve James McCarthy said he felt that council had not put sufficient effort into trying to sell the bond issue.

A Toronto bond corporation which agreed to sell the bonds last July withdrew its offer in August after residents raised a storm of protest over increased assessment and tax rates which had risen as much as 200 per cent.

Veteran Fought With Roberts

TORONTO— (CP)— Benjamin Mansell of Springhill, N. S., at 94 years of age, is probably the last of his kind. He served in the Afghanistan War of 1878-80, marched himself footweary in General Roberts' famous march from Kabul to Kandahar, 313 miles in 22 days and later took part in the occupation of Alexandria in 1882. That should make him the senior British war veteran of Canada, possibly of the whole British Commonwealth.

Mr. Mansell, who retains some of the snap that made him a sergeant, is more than a little proud of his distinction, but he is a bit lonesome, too. He'd like to meet another Afghanistan veteran and talk over old times. He has spent quite a bit of time and postage writing to authorities in England and Canada in his search for other men who served under "Bobs" — so far without success.

He was born in Shrewsbury, England, in 1828, and enlisted at 18 years of age. He served in India and Afghanistan with the 63rd Regiment, went to Alexandria in 1882, and thence home to England. He was given on honorable discharge in 1883, Twenty-six years late, he came to Canada.

At present he is visiting his son Gilbert, in Toronto, and using a part of his time in his search for other Afghanistan veterans. As senior member of the Springhill branch of the Canadian Legion, he was presented to Queen Elizabeth when she passed through Springhill last fall.

His service goes back almost, but not quite, to the days of Kipling's "thin red line." His recollections of the Afghan war are of a great deal of marching and open-order skirmishing, a few hand-to-hand engagements, but little fighting in formation. And he wore haki— white Indian summer uniforms dyed to make the British soldier a less conspicuous target for the scouting, sharp-shooting Afghans.

Neilson Heirs Challenge Trust's Charges

TORONTO—The National Trust Company, which charged $147,824 for handling the $4,000,000 estate of chocolate magnate F H. Morden Neilson for four years, claimed Wednesday that it's profit for the transaction amounted to only about $2,700 a year.

Mr. Neilson's two sons and two daughters have objected to the size of the bill submitted by the executor firm.

As the first passing of the estate accounts opened before Judge Barton, David Walker, counsel for the trust company, told the beneficiaries that the trust company, by careful disposal of the estate, had actually saved them $1,115,001.

Unusual Duties

Mr. Walker said the trust company had undertaken unusual and extraordinary duties on behalf of the estate, including sale of Mr. Neilson's shares in the William Neilson Ltd., for $1,750,000 and the winding up of his personal corporation, Raymar Securities, valued at $3,500,000.

The hearing will continue today and may carry over to Friday.

Mr. Neilson died in 1947 leaving a will that provided a fund for his widow and equal division of his holdings among his four children, Harley and Graham Neilson, Mrs. Audrey Shields and Mrs. Shirley Pellowe.

Total value of the estate was $4,383,609.

Nelles Starr, counsel for the sons and daughters, indicated in his cross examination of Mr. Walker's witnesses that their contention will be that the trust company didn't do all that it might have done, particularly with regard to the sale of the chocolate company to Garfield Weston.

In his opening submission to Judge Barton, Mr. Walker noted that executors' fees, unlike other charges, had not risen with the cost of living. They had remained unchanged for more than 25 years.

In 1951, he said, National Trust received fees in the trust department of its Toronto office totalling $1,118,421, and the net profit, after taxes, was $81,496.

"Applying this formula to the compensation of $147,000 asked in this estate," he went on, "the net profit after taxes exigible in 1951 would be about $10,771, or approximately $2,700 per annum for the responsibility of administering a $4,000,000 estate."

UK Wheat Crop World Record

LONDON (CP)—A wheat crop of 131 bushels to the acre, believed to be a world record, has been claimed by John Turrell, a farmer in the Wiggenhall St. Mary district of Norfolk.

The yield was harvested from a strip of land of approximately nine acres, formerly an orchard and seeded to wheat for the first time this year.

The huge crop represents more than three times the average acreage yield in Britain. The previous highest known yield was 114 bushels, reported from The Netherlands last year.

Colonel C. A. Debenham of King's Lynn, who provided the seed, said the strain sown was known as hybrid 46, a lower-quality grain used mainly for biscuits. He ascribed the phenomenal yield to the rich ness of the soil and first-class farming.

Republican Senator Praises Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican Senator William Langer of North Dakota described President Truman yesterday as a great statesman who "couldn't be bribed, couldn't be bought and couldn't be bull-dozed."

In a speech before the National Association of Letter Carriers, Langer said:

"In the Senate, I have seen things that have made me very proud of Harry Truman. . .

"He led the fight for the common people of the United States as only a great statesman could lead it."

The Republican senator often votes with the Democrats.

Expect Fewer Registrations In Canadian Universities

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Students at most Canadian universities will have more working room this fall than in recent years. Many veterans graduated in June and with fewer registrations for classes it is expected living accommodation will be easier to obtain.

With the exception of the University of Western Ontario, most large Canadian colleges report drops of from three to four per cent in registrations from last year, a Canadian Press survey shows. The University of Manitoba reports a drop of five to seven per cent.

HIGHER AT WESTERN

But interest in higher education is still high. The University of Western Ontario at London expects registrations to be slightly higher as applications from high school students are heavier than in 1951.

Bigger-than-last-year enrolments also are reported from most Nova Scotia colleges and Mount Allison University in New Brunswick. The Calgary branch of the University of Alberta expects boosted enrolment over low 1951 figures.

Students are expected to find shelter easier to get but in many centres the problem is still acute. Married students in Montreal and Toronto are having difficulty. Edmonton is building new residences and Newfoundland's Memorial University at St. John's plans new accommodation.

In the west, arts and science courses are most popular while at Montreal engineering and medicine get the nod. Medical and dental faculties at Montreal, Toronto and other points are overrun with applications months in advance and many would-be doctors are turned away.

DRAWS EASTERNERS

Vancouver draws students from the east with its courses on lumbering and commercial fishing. The University of Toronto has introduced an extension course on forest conservation, a pressing problem in Ontario.

At Carleton College in Ottawa, a graduate course in public administration—reflecting the interests of Ottawa's 28,000 civil servants—is being offered this year. And the University of New Brunswick's forestry course draws students from across the country.

The University of Montreal has dropped Greek as a compulsory subject for a B. A. degree and McGill University has introduced a study of Islam.

Canadian universities this year will attract a good number of students from other lands. Vancouver and Toronto report many students enrolling from countries outside Canada and the United States.

Man Fined $107 After Stealing Pickle

CHICAGO (AP)—George Terik, 63, was in a pickle for picking a pickle out of a pickle barrel—and not paying for it.

Terik yesterday admitted stealing the pickle—valued at 25 cents—from Carson A. Gallagher's delicatessen.

But the justice of the peace reduced the charge to disorderly conduct and fined Terik $107—to be worked out at the Cook county jail at the rate of $2.50 a day.

Terik had a pleasant surprise last night. Police at the station chipped in and presented him a gift—one dozen dill pickles.

The Mysterious Henri Bourassa

It is interesting to read the divergent estimates of the late Henri Bourassa which have been appearing in the principal Canadian papers since his death on Monday. All are agreed that he was a man of great abilities, scholarly and possessed of the distinction which might be expected in a French-Canadian aristocrat and a grandson of Louis Joseph Papineau. But there agreement ends. In the eyes of some of our contemporaries he was a man who opposed "imperialism," while remaining friendly toward Britain and the Crown; to these writers Bourassa was a man who was misunderstood even by his followers, who perverted his great vision of a strong and independent Canada to the ends of a narrow Quebec nationalism. To those who see him in this pleasing light his two resignations from the House of Commons were evidence that he was ever ready to sacrifice personal advantage to principle.

* * *

Those who regard him more cooly interpret the facts differently. His opposition to imperialism, they point out, led him to oppose Canadian participation in both World Wars, and friendship toward Britain and its Crown found little expression in Le Devoir, the newspaper which he founded and directed, and which was the untiring voice of Quebec nationalism. His resignations from Parliament they interpret as the actions of a man who could brook no discipline. And if Mr. Bourassa yearned for a united Canada, what moved him to declare in 1915 that French-Canadians in Ontario were treated worse than the people of Alsace-Lorraine were treated by Germany?

* * *

We must allow that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though not an unbiased witness, knew Bourassa better than anyone now living. This is what he wrote about him to General Louis Botha in 1916:

"You ask me about Henri Bourassa, his attitude and his influence. Bourassa is a man of great ability, but his ability is negative and destructive. He will never accomplish anything constructive or of benefit to any cause which he may espouse. He was at one time a great friend of mine, but we separated. His aim was to isolate the French population from the rest of the community and make them a separate body, to move exclusively together either against one or the other of the parties."

There is an old saying (which is not examined as closely as it should be) that nothing but good should be spoken of the dead. But to speak well of Henri Bourassa need not involve a wholesale whitewashing of a man who, whatever his motives, was destructive and divisive to the country which he professed to love. To speak well of him is by no means difficult: he was sincere, brilliant, richly and generously emotional, a great orator and a fearless man. His desire for a great and united Canada was noble. But his ways of seeking that end were mistaken and caused great trouble to men who, seeking the same result, were wiser than he.

* * *

We think that he must have died a happy man, for he lived to see Canada well advanced on the road to greatness. It was not the same road that he had chosen, but he was a man of fine spirit who was said to have mellowed with the years, and perhaps he saw that there were ways other than his own of making a country great.

Talking His Way Into Reformatory

A fifty-year-old bum appeared in Peterborough police court yesterday and pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle. Before sentencing him, the magistrate asked if he had anything to say. The bum did. He said he was sorry he had told the police where he had hidden the bicycle. What! said the magistrate who was just about to give the fellow a couple of weeks on the local hill. "I said I'm sorry I showed them the hiding place," the bum repeated. "It's their job to find it." The magistrate gave him six months definite and three months indefinite in reformatory, instead of the jail sentence.

Several questions arise from this exchange with the bench. Is justice firm which can be moved so easily into adding three months to a sentence? Yes, we think this instance was not one of temperamental justice; the prisoner revealed what sort of game he played (as the magistrate said when changing his mind). This cannot always be determined in the usual speedy proceedings on the first court day of the week.

Another question: Is it the police's job to find stolen bicycles, as the fellow said? Yes, we think it is—but it is not the business of a thief in court to say so. He does not pay the taxes which keep the city provided with police to look for stolen bicycles. Let him be silent about the spending of our money.

Our final question: was the fellow as stupid as he sounded? We guess that he was as cunning as his words. It was a chilly morning, foretaste of cold, hungry days in the harsh world outside. A few weeks in the local jail would not get him beyond Indian Summer. Now he is sure of beds and meals in not uncomfortable quarters for the next six months—in fact, until Spring comes round again—and at the taxpayers' expense. Drat it, that confounded bicycle thief has his wily hand in the public pocket, however we turn him on the spit. He rattles more than the magistrate's court.

Disappointing Niagara Peaches

Doubtless the peach growers of Niagara have explanations as to why the fruit this year is disappointing, but we do not suppose that the most obvious reason will be among them: the fruit is picked and shipped too green. The retailers of fruit cannot do anything about it; they must buy and re-sell what the growers offer. And what the growers are offering, in too many cases, is fruit which has been picked several days too early.

Perhaps what is called "efficiency" is at the root of the trouble. If all the fruit is picked green, none is lost by perishing, and the grower gets rid of all his crop. That is efficient—for the grower. But housewives and lovers of fruit who find the peaches unpalatable, and who have to keep them for several days before they are soft enough to eat will find another name for it. And as time wears on they will stop buying Niagara peaches, and will occasionally buy peaches from the U.S.A., which seem to arrive in better condition.

Public agitation finally forced fruitgrowers to take the deceptive red netting off the baskets in which peaches were shipped. Public agitation can continue its good work to force the fruitgrowers to leave their fruit on the trees until it is reasonably ripe.

Getting "Tougher" Against Combines?

The legislation enacted at the last session of Parliament to remodel the procedure in dealing with alleged monopolistic business combines has now been given its instruments. A three-man Commission has been appointed. Its duty will be to sift the evidence presented by the Combines Investigator (now to be called "director of investigation and research") and decide whether to make public his findings and to recommend prosecution. Formerly this officer presided over the investigation, collected the evidence against the alleged combine, and presented his report to the Cabinet Parliament, which was printed, according to law. The Minister of Justice then decided whether to prosecute or not. Now the whole process will be secret, until and if the Commission decides that it should be public and that the evidence warrants prosecution.

The new arrangement is fairer to businesses being investigated. Formerly the very publication of the investigators' findings was enough to besmirch a firm and individuals in it, even before they were brought to trial. But we hesitate to call the new procedure a "tougher" one than the former.

Under the old system, even though the investigators' evidence was made public, few prosecutions were launched. The evidence was somehow usually considered insufficient, or the whole thing was hushed up. The new procedure will provide a greater opportunity to keep an affair quiet, within the inner circle of Ottawa and the chief businessmen concerned. The new Commission is not a judicial commission; it is not bound by law but by what it happens to think best. No publicity need result, no prosecutions need be made.

There were few prosecutions under the old system; how many shall we see under the new? But perhaps, everything being now in secret, firms and combines will be so wooed by the new code that they will never do anything requiring investigation.

Hope In Foolishness

We find ourself oddly elated by the news that a young American from Chicago, accompanied by four other young people—one of them a girl—have been restrained by the French police in an attempt to sail on an unseaworthy raft called the Ken-Tooki from Marseilles to Africa. The raft was 27 feet by 14, and was sustained by barrels filled with ping-pong balls. The voyage was undertaken "to see how people on a raft get along together." The name, Ken-Tooki, was chosen to resemble that of the famous Kon-Tiki, for publicity purposes. The voyage had no real purpose and was utterly ill-considered and scatterbrained. Why, therefore, do we take pleasure in hearing about it?

Because it seems so long since young people did foolish things, just to see what would happen. War and economic upsets have made too many young people sober-sided and old before their time. When five young people set out on a voyage like this of the Ken-Tooki it may be the first patch of blue in the sky—the first sign that the world is returning to its old, idiotic, lovable self.

Peking Wells Of 400 B.C.

By O. M. GREEN

THE COMMUNISTS' ZEAL in rooting out all vestiges of the ancient civilization of China contrasts markedly with their energy in bringing to light the trappings that surround it.

Concurrently with their discovery, as recently reported, of more relics of the million-years-old Peking Man, they have been excavating inside the city and have now published an interesting report of finds which take the history of Peking back nearly five centuries B.C. and throw light on the shadowy people who ruled in it.

✧ ✧ ✧

PERHAPS NO CITY has had so many masters and different names as Peking in the past two thousand four hundred years—in all, ten of each. The explanation lies in its position close to the northern borders of the Middle Kingdom (that is, China south of the Great Wall), where it was alternately the prey of, and stronghold against, the warlike Tartar invaders from Mongolia.

It is first heard of about 486 B.C. as Ch'i, capital of the Yen State, in the age of the warring Kingdoms under the Chou dynasty. The "Napoleon of China", Shih Hwang Ti, wiped it out when he unified all China and built the Great Wall (which runs from the sea one thousand five hundred miles inland) to keep out the northern invaders. (He did a great deal else, such as slaughtering the Confucian scholars and burning their books in order to facilitate the establishment of a totalitarian State, much as the Communists are doing now.)

✧ ✧ ✧

IT WOULD BE TEDIOUS to detail the alternation after Shih Hwang Ti's death of Tartar conquests and Chinese reconquests. There was a new name with each new set of masters—Yen, Yuchow, Nanching, Yenching (the name of the fine Anglo-American University in modern times, which the Communists have abolished), Chungtu, Khanbalig, (City of the Great Khan, corrupted in English into Cambaluc) the superb capital of the mighty Mongol conqueror Kublai Khan. The Ming Emperors in the 15th Century first used the name Peking, meaning Northern capital, in distinction from Nanking, their southern capital. The Nationalists, when they made their capital at Nanking in 1928, renamed Peking "Peiping", meaning Northern Peace—as inappropriate a name on the city's record, as well could be. No, as the Communist capital, it is again Peking.

There is no lack of knowledge of Peking, since at least its days as Cambaluc: Marco Polo, the Venetian traveller gives ample description of its magnificence which almost overwhelmed him. The areas most recently excavated in the south part of Peking go back 1,800 years before that.

✧ ✧ ✧

SEVERAL WELLS, built in a series of earthen rings, have been uncovered, containing hair ornaments and pottery which shows remarkable skill by the potters, all undoubtedly dating from the Warring States. The number and closeness of the wells shows that Ch'i, as the city was then called, must have been densely populated.

From Nanching of the Lias Dynasty (founded by the Khitan Tartars) and Chungtu, capital of the Chins, the so-called Tartans of the Golden Horde (the 10th to the 13th century), there are clay figurines of horses and lions which doubtless ornamented the ridge poles of houses; two finely carved figures of human beings with birds' wings; a bronze official seal engraved with four characters, and bronze sacrificial vessels.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE ARE WINE vessels, household pottery, coins, a lacquer dressing cabinet and some bronze spearheads from the Han Dynasty (possibly 2,000 years old), skeletons, and stone cannon balls of the 'Sung' dynasty—contemporaries of the Normans in England. Nothing of later date than the Sungs appears to have been found, and much of earlier times. All the relics are of fine craftsmanship and indicate that the Tartars were by no means only barbarians.

The report from Peking says that the relics are being checked and classified (there is plenty of comparative information from less agitated regions, by which their dates can be verified) and will shortly be put on exhibition in the museum of the Winter Palace.

Foreigners who have known and loved Peking will regret that they will probably never get a chance to see them.

Births and Immigration

(LeDroit, Ottawa)

Will what happened in the first half of the Twentieth Century repeat itself in the second half? This situation is no longer comparable. Canada has entered an incredible period of industrial and commercial expansion. As it grows, this development will be such as to fix here, in increasing numbers, immigrants and people of older stock. During the first part of the Twentieth Century, emigration from Canada to the United States was greater than immigration to Canada from the United States; it seems likely that the second half will see the reverse of the case. In these circumstances French Canada will be unable to maintain its present numerical proportion, unless it can draw to it the greatest possible share of this immigration.

(Ireland Bulletin)

Ireland, within three years, will be a 'brown trout angler's paradise', if plans sponsored by the Irish Government's newly-established Inland Fisheries Trust bear fruit.

It seeks to do for Ireland what the Wild Life Service has done for American rivers; but with this important difference: in the United States, large funds are available for improvement and preservation of rivers, from anglers' licences, but in Ireland only the salmon and sea-trout anglers pay tax.

The new Irish fishing authority, which defines as its purpose 'not to take brown trout fishing away from the ordinary fisherman, but to assure that he will always have it', will depend on an annual Government grant of five thousand pounds sterling, (approximately 14,300 dollars) and the annual overall subscription of five shillings (70 cents approx.) it asks from members.

An official of the Trust recently said that already they had 650 members, but were out to prove to 20,000 Irish anglers that, for the trifling sum of five shillings a year, they could have a trout fisher's paradise. (I.N.A.)

Letter To The Editor

FIRE PROTECTION IN SUBURBAN OTONABEE

Sir: I would like The Examiner to publish the following in connection with a report of a fire at Mr. Elko's in this township, published at some length in your issue of Monday August 25th last, in fairness to all concerned and for the information of all township of Otonabee property owners.

In 1948 Peterborough city advised Otonabee township that they expected to find it necessary in the near future, to discontinue with any fire fighting assistance outside the city limits. When this became known, a number of property owners in the township asked the 1948 Council headed by Reeve W. W. Dawson about the possibilities of fire equipment being purchased by the township.

Council advertised and held an open meeting and for the benefit of the property owners, arranged that the Peterborough City Fire Chief and a representative from the Provincial Fire Marshal's department, of broad experience in rural fire fighting, attend the meeting. Unfortunately not more than a dozen people attended that meeting; however it was still felt by Mr. Dawson that all possible assistance should be given and the following day Reeve Dawson, Peterborough Fire Chief and the department representative made a complete survey of the township, designated fire areas, and information was obtained re., costs etc., and Council was then prepared to go ahead to meet the wishes of the property owners.

A petition was circulated through the township and of those owners contacted approximately 75 per cent OBJECTED to the extra costs for fire equipment. The 1948 Council therefore, did not desire to purchase any fire equipment unless at the ratepayers own request direct to Council and every subsequent Council has felt the same way.

The city of Peterborough eventually did discontinue all or any fire fighting assistance, effective January 1st, 1950, to all townships surrounding the city. Since then two fire areas have been formed one at Bridgenorth and the other at suburban Smith, both in Smith township and this was made possible at the request of and a cost to the ratepayers in those two areas. The balance of Smith township as well as Otonabee, Douro and North Monaghan do not receive any fire protection from the City of Peterborough, contrary to your published report mentioned above.

This is not meant to be any criticism of the Peterborough city Council as it has acted on the advice of its Fire Chief, who incidentally has always given this township every co-operation on fire matters when possible.

The Chief is of the opinion that he cannot spare the manpower or equipment without reducing the protection to the city that he deems advisable and necessary.

In connection with your publication of remarks that "Otonabee knows how to raise taxes enough," would only point out that townships are classed as rural municipalities because they are deemed to cater to the needs of rural people. Rural people, except those who have retired and live in rural villages derive their living from the land while urban people derive theirs from industry, professions etc., and as a result, both by choice and from necessity occupy comparatively small areas of land therefore density of occupancy is much higher and Municipal services, sufficient for the rural dwellers are not satisfactory to urban residents. The costs of the present municipal services such as relief and welfare and schools is greatly increased as well.

If the boundaries of the cities moved with the people these Municipal services would be where they rightly belong and would not be a rather unfair responsibility of the rural municipality on the city's border. As a result of the lack of early township planning by rural townships the methods of urban expansion were pretty well set by the subdividers of property with little or no regard to situation in relation to other sub-divisions; where this has happened, tax bills are higher than in those townships remaining wholly rural.

It is pretty well agreed in any Municipal circles that the majority who build in a rural area are attracted mainly because land is cheaper and because there is a chance to escape their proper and fair share of taxation by the Municipality in which they earn their living.

School costs, both elementary and high, are mainly responsible for any increase in taxes in this township during the past two or three years. School Boards require and demand these monies and township Councils have little or no choice in the matter but to collect from the ratepayers. It is amazing how few ratepayers even know who the Members of their School Boards are when one considers that these School Boards have to dispense far more money each year than their township Council does. The Otonabee Council, like every other Municipal Council in Ontario, is caught in a web of economic circumstances not of their own choosing and until greater relief is given by our Provincial and Dominion governments there isn't a great deal can be done to relieve the terrific tax on real estate.

The Otonabee Council wishes to express its sincere regrets to both Mr. Elko and the Fitzgerald brothers who lost their homes as a result of fire and I have been asked by Dick Stewart, Reeve of the townsihp, to advise that the next meeting of Otonabee Council is at 2:00 p.m. Monday September 8th in Keene at the township hall and if required, for the benefit of ratepayers who work in the city and wish to attend this meeting, Council will sit on into the evening to discuss any and all matters pertaining to fire protection.

Yours very truly,
JAMES McCARTHY
Township Clerk

Ed Note: Our August 25th news account of the Elko fire stated that "the Peterborough Fire Department is NOT permitted to go outside the city limits". The account quoted a bystander's opinion that "Otonabee knows how to raise taxes enough"; this was not an Examiner expression of opinion. Mr. McCarthy's letter makes clear that the Otonabee Council is deeply concerned about fire protection in the township, but that its hands are tied until the ratepayers themselves authorize and approve provisions for fire protection.)

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Mark 2:16, 17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And he spake this parable unto them, saying, What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. (Luke 15:3-7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (John 3:17.)

The New Tax Agreement

(Brantford Expositor)

Mr. Frost has made it clear that he does not regard the set-up as perfect by any means. Indeed he speaks of it as being, at best, a stop-gap pending the working out of a more satisfactory allocation of sources of revenue.

This is true. The present tax system is outmoded. As Mr. Frost himself puts it, "the rapid growth of industry and population in Ontario has created enormous demands for provincial and municipal public services", while the tax structure "has remained immobile and out of balance with the requirements of the provinces and municipalities."

What has been accomplished, therefore, should be regarded only as an emergency move pending a comprehensive realignment of the entire tax and revenue fabric. Nevertheless, it offers businesslike and realistic advantages and it will be surprising if the Legislative Assembly does not give it a stamp of approval.

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Board of Control yesterday decided to ignore until 1953 an amendment to the assessment act which requires that all church property used for recreational purposes be assessed for both general and school taxes.

LED THE PETES' ATTACK—Ike Hildebrand, left, Nit O'Hearn in centre, and Bob Thorpe at right, led the Petes' attack with four-point efforts here last night as the local lacrossers beat St. Catharines 12-9 in a rugged playoff fray. The win put Peterborough up 2-1 in their best-of-five Eastern Canada quarter-final series, the fourth game being in the Garden City on Saturday.

Juvenile Petes Victorious In O.L.A. Joust

Opening their home-and-home O.L.A. playdown series in Brampton last evening, the Peterborough juveniles defeated the B's by a 14-9 score. They will bring a five-goal lead into the return match at Miller Bowl this Friday night.

It was a speedy, open struggle, a bit rough in spots, with the Petes battling hard to stave off a late drive by Brampton. The winners all went well from the goalie out, Simmons, Allan and Curtis being outstanding. The visitors' scoring was pretty well spread around in this tilt. Allan had four goals and two assists for the victors, with Curtis sniping four and aiding on one. Bloom got two and one, Delahaye a goal and an assist, Sutherland, Hunt and Hobart a goal apiece, and Batley an assist. Teams:

Petes: Simmons, Delahaye, Sutherland, Allan, Curtis, Bloom, Batley, Hunt, Hobart.

Brampton: Armstrong, Robinson, Johnson, Gallagher, Finnegan, Morris, Reid, Ireland.

LACROSSERS MEASURE EACH OTHER—A bit of lacrosse playoff action in last night's game here is shown above as Al Garbutt, of the Petes' Timbermen, and Goalie Bill Whitaker of St. Catharines measure each other just before Al blazed away with his shot. In the hard-hitting fray, the Thorpe team emerged victorious by a 12-9 count to take a two to one lead in their best-of-seven Eastern Canada senior playdown series. The fourth game will be in St. Kitts this Saturday and fifth, if necessary, here Monday.—(Examiner Photo).

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Word out of Oshawa is that the grid Raiders of our group—who open the schedule Saturday against Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts—have become a farm club of the senior Edmonton Eskimos. Hm, they've gone far afield, but it might pay off in a year or two. The group champs of last year in the O.R.F.U. intermediate setup of Central Ontario have a lot of last year's players working out. Also quite a few newcomers, several from Toronto. Latter are husky young linemen to supplement gees like Burbhart, Lorenz, Khinisky, Freeman, Luke, Beston, Krawec and others. With all clubs bolstering, it should make for a strong football loop this autumn.

* * * * * *

Feel saddened today because of the death of Bill Walsh. We knocked around with him over Ashburnham way as a kid and teamed up with him in various juvenile sports. He was an excellent swimmer, strong distance runner and promising southpaw pitcher ere giving up athletics some years ago. A good fellow. There used to be quite a few over across the bridge at that time who played ball and hockey just for the love of the game—paying for their balls and bats, persuading someone's dad to act as manager, skipping supper after work in order to get down to the southend for a six p.m. game, and so on. Did it for years, too. Bill was one of that bunch.

Lacrosse Exec. At Work

Taking aim on the Mann Cup target again, the Timbermen know they have to erase two eastern clubs first ere they get a crack at the westerners. Meantime, their strong executive is making tentative plans to cover all contingencies. Transportation, tickets, etc. This 1952 executive consists of: President, Bob Peirson; vice-president, Paul Irwin; secretary, Mick Magee; treasurer, Howard McLean; committee members, Dr. Herb. Young, Jack Gainey, Ken Kingston, Bob Curtin, Red Creighton, Bev Goulding, Ernie Braund, Gord Dobbin and Barney Dundas. A lot of keen workers in that list, eh?

* * * * * *

Playoff lacrosse is rugged stuff as was shown here last eve. The Timbermen took the A's 12-9 but really had to hustle for it. No fooling, the speedy St. Kitts' crew are digging to stay in the hunt and the Thorpe men realize this. Latter had to come from back of a 6-1 count early in the second to finally sew it up, and then they had to fight every inch of the way till the final gong to stay in front. Bob Thorpe's two smart solo thrusts late in the fourth made fans breathe much easier as 'twas too close for comfort till then. Petes will have to really battle down in the Garden City this Saturday, or there'll be a fifth fray here Monday to settle it.

* * * * * *

They Don't Spare the Rod

Yes, it was plenty rugged as the rival laid on the wood hard. Referees let more go in playoffs, but at that the Timbermen drew seven of the 10 penalties. Each side got a match—for fighting after one mixup had been halted—and the visitors had a major when Don Ashbee was cut on the face. Corcoran was bruised later, and a lot of the players were nursing sore spots when it came time to shower. There may be blood on the moon yet ere the set is completed. Ike Hildebrand, Bob Thorpe, Nit O'Hearn, and Curly Mason were best on the Petes' attack, whilst Max Woolley was a one-man St. Kitts' gang with four goals and three assists. Plus a lot of elbows and slashes! He's quite a player.

O. B. A. convener Ab Walker of Oshawa says there'll be no junior ball playoff here Saturday. Seems he's perturbed because the Young Petes protested Oshawa's first win on the grounds that they used Copeland, who signed for Lindsay intermediates, played for them, and still hasn't been released by them. What goes on in Oshawa? Mrs. Edith Frizzelle lodged an official protest with the O.B.A. and is determined to have the matter cleared up properly as there's been too much of this hit-and-miss stuff with the rules altogether. As for Kingston, who forfeited their series to Peterborough, they must pay out-of-pocket expenses, according to the O.B.A. They didn't advise the local club in time to have the press inform the public.

Redmen Defeat Kingston 7-6

BELLEVILLE.—Belleville Redmen took a one-game lead in their Central Ontario Baseball League best-of-five semi-final series by edging Kingston Monarchs 7-6 in the first game here.

In the eighth inning, the visitors refused to take the field after Gabby White had been ejected from the game for using abusive language. Umpire Pat Calladine of Peterborough pulled the watch on them, and after a short delay, they took the field.

Art Wright, who has been the Kingston nemesis all season, started for the Redmen but needed help from Johnny Mowatt with one out in the ninth. Wright yielded 11 hits, struck out seven and walked three to gain credit for the win.

Babe Stinson and Al Lenard shared the pitching chore for Monarchs. Between them, they were nicked for 10 hits. Lenard was tagged with the loss.

Dick Fitzpatrick, Mouse Bush, Huck Reeves and Art Wright each claimed a pair of hits for the winners, while Pat Gilmour and Red Carson also hit safely. Eric Rank and Clarke Carnegie each helped themselves to a pair of hits for Monarchs, while Joe Levendoski, Stan Scrutton, Lorne Ferguson, Gabby White, Jerry McCormick, Buddy Allen and Al Lenard also hit safely.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

We were looking through one of our scrap books last evening, and ran across an item that might be of interest to readers. It is dated Aug. 27, 1936. Here is one paragraph:

"It was not until three o'clock this morning that Harold Freeman and John D. Fitzpatrick were declared winners of the men's open doubles held on the Peterborough greens on Wednesday afternoon. Fifty-four from this city and the surrounding district made up the largest doubles tournament ever held in this part of the province."

Our purpose in re-writing this article is to show how times have changed. First, they played till three o'clock in the morning; nowadays we must be home by dark. Second: 54 pairs was considered a big entry; now it's 96 pairs, with a long waiting list — all in 16 years.

In a day or two we'll have some more history of the club.

The ladies have changed their open trebles tournament from Friday, Sept. 19, to Tuesday, Sept. 9.

There was a small crowd out last evening for the mid-week tournament. The weather was just a little on the cool side for lawn bowling.

Tonight, regular schedule games.

Tournament winners at Cannington: Mrs. R. Dyer and R. Dyer, 1st, 3 wins; Mrs. W. Hepburn and J. Cullen, 2nd, 3 wins; Mrs. C. Renaud and C. Renaud, high two wins; Mrs. J. Cullen and C. Williamson, high one win.

Foresters Win

Foresters beat Salvation Army 13-7 last night to take the Civic Softball League semi-final series. As Bell beat Kesco 7-1 to take their set, it will be Foresters vs. Bell in a double-header Friday night in the Bowl to open the best-of-five finals.

Foresters finished strong last evening with seven runs in the eighth to win after one each in the first and third, and two apiece in the second and sixth innings. S. Army got four in the first two in the sixth and one in the eighth. Walling, Maloney and Tyndal clouted homers for the winners. Teams:

S. Army: Parnell, Brown, C. Braund, Slaughter, R. Jones, Craig, Ede, Parsons, H. Jones, Pagett.

Foresters: Doughty, Walling, Parnell, Maloney, Smith, Tyndall, Downer, Murray, Holland.

Petes Beat St. Catharines In Rugged 12-9 Game To Go One Up In Playoffs

Two quickies by Bob Thorpe in the late stages of the fourth quarter here last night clinched matters for the Petes' Timbermen and they trotted off the floor with a 12-9 triumph over St. Catharines Athletics. Some 1,800 fans thrilled to a rugged, close playoff scrap with the Petes' win giving them a 2-1 edge in their best-of-five Eastern Canada senior lacrosse playdown series. Fourth fray is in St. Kitts on Saturday, and the fifth if necessary back here next Monday night.

The Timbermen had to really dig for the victory, coming from behind a 6-1 deficit early in the second quarter to finally forge ahead. But it was nip-and-tuck from then on till the Petes, with a narrow 10-9 margin and pressed hard by the scrappy A's, got the two insurance markers on solo efforts by their playing coach. Time then ran out on the Cheevers' crew, though they fought bitterly to the final bell.

PLAYOFF LACROSSE

Play was hard and fast most of the way, with some stiff checking seen in every quarter. It was playoff lacrosse and the refs let a lot of slashing and other rough stuff go. At that, the Thorpe squad drew seven of the 10 penalties. The sin list included match penalties to Harry Wipper and Emil Uhrynuk in the third for starting a fight after a roughing session, which included Goalie Bill Whitaker, had been broken up by the officials. Norm Corcoran earlier drew a major for cutting Don Ashbee on the face.

The Saints struck fast to pile up an early lead, and they were still runinng strong at the finish of the fixture. However, the Timbermen started to roll in the second stanza, after trailing 5-1 in the first, to sew it up at 6-all at the half. The locals eked out a 3-2 margin in the rugged third canto to make it read 9-8 in their favor, and they wrapped up the win neatly in the lively last period.

GOALIES GOOD

Both goalies made many brilliant saves in an open tussle, and the checking was solid on both sides. All forwards hustled to keep the rival netters on the jump, and the opposing players were plenty tired at the windup. The fans made plenty of racket all through and they rode the arbiters hard as one Peterborough player after another was waved to the penance pew. Whitaker and the southend crowd had a noisy feud all through the fourth heat.

Leading marksmen for Peterborough were Ike Hildebrand with three goals and an assist, Bob Thorpe with two and two, and Nit O'Hearn with a marker and three assists. Curly Mason was close behind with three goals, while Harry Wipper and Russ Slater each counted one and aided on another. Al Garbutt clicked for a goal, and Dootch Vitarelli assisted on one. Roger Smith of the juniors stepped up for this game.

Max Woolley shone for the losers with four goals and three assists, besides checking in stiff style. Single goals went to Doug Smith, Bob Melville, Johnny Dewar, Don Moore and Don Frick. Two assists were marked to Norm Corcoran, and one each to Tank Teather and Bill Bradshaw. Teams:

St. Catharines — Goal, Whitaker; defence, Smith and Uhrynuk; centre, Dewar; wings, Teather and Woolley; rover, McMahon; alternates D. Frick, Moore, Corcoran, Melville, Bradshaw, A. Frick and Howe.

Petes — Goal, Woottton; defence, Killingbeck and Nickle; centre, Thorpe; wings, Vitarelli and Ashbee; rover, Hildebrand; alternates, O'Hearn, Smith, Mason, Slater, Garbutt, Wipper and Burns.

Referees—P. Bain and L. Vipond.

Tigers Down West Yorks As Crescents Edge Mimico

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hamilton Tigers and Owen Sound Crescents kept semifinal playoff hopes alive last night as Tigers defeated Toronto West Yorks 9-6 and Crescents edged Mimico Mountaineers 14-13.

Yorkers now lead Tigers 2-1 in the best-of-five quarter-final series while the Mounties lead Crescents by the same margin. In the other quarter-final series Peterborough Timbermen lead St. Catharines Athletics 2-1.

Tigers were held to a 2-2 tie in the first period, but moved to a 3-2 lead by half time and a 5-3 margin by the end of the third quarter. Defenceman Merv McKenzie and George Masters each tallied twice for Hamilton while none of the Yorkers beat goalie Doug Favell more than once.

A secondquarter penalty to Chuck Simpson of Mimico paved the way for Owen Sound's victory as Crescents scored twice to take an 11-8 lead while Mimico was short.

Yorkers and Tigers are scheduled to meet again in Hamilton Friday and again in Toronto next Monday if necessary. Mounties will play Crescents again in Owen Sound Saturday with their deciding game, if necessary, in Mimico next Monday.

CALL OFF WORLD TOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers have abandoned plans for a world tour following the current baseball season. Club president Walter O'Malley said yesterday the economic problems involved were too complex to be straightened out in such a short time.

JOE'S BIG NIGHT—Joe the Toe Aguirre was picked up by Edmonton Eskimos after being released by Winnipeg of Western Football Conference. The veteran Aguirre was hired as a line coach but when injuries hit Eskimos, Joe was called on for emergency duty. All he did was catch two touchdown passes, convert both, kick for another three points and make the play that led to another two as Eskimos defeated the league-leading Calgary Stampeders 17-10 for Edmonton's first win in four 1952 league starts. Here Aguirre is about to catch a forward with several Stampeders closing in on him including Pete Dennett (31) and Brian Mulhern (10).

O.H.A. Lifts Suspensions On All Of Eagles' Players

Frank Buckland advises that the O.H.A., at a meeting last night in Toronto, lifted suspensions on all Peterborough Eagles' players. The whole club had been suspended last spring for failure to play a game in Kingston. The suspensions have been lifted because association officials decided the local players were not directly to blame for forfeiting the game in Kingston. "It was also decided," Mr. Buckland added, "that when the Eagles pay Kingston $75 for expenses incurred over that game in question, the club officials may apply to the O.H.A. for re-instatement. The officials are presently under suspension yet."

GROUP MEETING

Kingston had applied for permission to play next season in a group in the Ottawa district, but agreed to sit in at a suggested meeting with Stu McTavish in Oshawa this Sunday with representatives from Orillia, Stouffville, Oshawa, Kingston and Peterborough. This meeting will be called to deal with a possible six-club senior "B" grouping. Eagles' representatives may sit in, but their club officials are still under suspension. Horace Guppy and Keith Montgomery of the Eagles attended the O.H.A. conclave.

Junior Milne applied for permission to play in Scotland this winter, and permission was granted by the O.H.A.

Pro Golfers Winners In Trophy Play

LONDON (CP) — The Hulbert Trophy Competition, annual tilt between 20 professional golfers and 20 amateurs, went to the pros yesterday at London's Hunt Club. Only once, in 1950, have the amateurs won.

The pros scored a decisive win with a total of 53½ points compared to the amateurs' 36½ points. The pros also took the best ball foursome 17-13½ and the singles 36½-20½.

But the pros didn't have it all their own way. In the morning round, amateurs Gerry Kesselring and Nick Weslock carded a 2-and-1 victory over Al Balding and Bob Gray while Tommy Woodall and Herb Epstein upset Lloyd Tucker and Gord Delaat. Amateurs Jack Nash and Doug McKeller downed pros Bob Lamb and H. Butler.

DOWNS KESSELRING

Al Balding, Toronto Islington pro, downed Gerry Kesselring with a three-under-par 67. Two amateur veterans, Jack Nash of London and Phil Farley, of Toronto gained a split with Bob Lamb and defeated Lou Cummings of Toronto.

Walter Cunningham, Hunt Club pro, turned in a morning round of 69 while Murray Tucker, diminutive pro from London Sunningdale, came in a two-to-one point winner over J. Amell.

Nick Weslock of Windsor, who paired with Kesselring in the best-ball foursome, blanked Bob Gray of Toronto Scarborough 3-0.

SOCCER SERIES TIED

WINNIPEG (CP)—Montreal Stelcos last night defeated New Westminster Royals 3-1 to tie their best-of-three series for the Canadian soccer championship at one game each. New Westminster took the opener Monday 4-2. Final game will be played tonight.

Indians Bite Dust Again As Tigers Polish Off Victims 11-8

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

There's a growing fear in the hearts of Cleveland baseball fans today that history is about to repeat. Last year Cleveland won 17 games and lost only five to Detroit's fifth-place Tigers—but three of those defeats came in late September and knocked the Indians out of pennant contention. The Tigers are worse off this year. They appear a cinch to finish last for the first time in American League history but when the Indians furnish the opposition the Tigers act ferocious.

LOSE AGAIN

The Indians bit the dust again last night, 11-8, blowing a chance to cut New York Yankees' 3½-game lead. The Yanks were stymied 3-0 by the one-hit pitching of Philadelphia's Harry Byrd. In other games, Washington smeared the reeling Boston Red Sox 9-2 and Chicago edged St. Louis 1-0.

Brooklyn kept its eight-game National League edge over New York Giants, nipping Boston 6-5, while New York nosed out Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings. St. Louis brushed by Chicago 6-1 and Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh 1-0.

Don Kolloway, 34-year-old utility infielder, ruined the Indians last night. He whacked a pinch-hit, grand-slam home run off Lou Brissie in the sixth inning to wipe out an 8-6 Cleveland lead. The blow was Kolloway's second pinch-homer of the season.

At Philadelphia, Byrd walked two and fanned four in hanging up his 14th victory for the A's. Irv Noren spoiled his no-hit bid with a bloop double in the second inning. The A's scored all of their runs in the sixth against Vic Raschi on four hits, a wild pitch and error. Raschi entered the game boasting a lifetime 24-2 record over the A's.

The Senators shoved six runs across the plate in the second inning and beat Dizzy Trout and the Red Sox with ease. Randy Gumpert checked his former mates on seven hits.

Lefty Dick Littlefield held Chicago to two hits but one of them was Sam Mele's 13th homer in the seventh inning and it cost him the game.

The Dodgers overcame a 5-0 deficit in beating the Braves for the 14th time without a loss. The Brooks tied the score with five runs in a fourth-inning rally that was climaxed by Gil Hodges' 29th homer and won out in the eighth when Duke Snider squeezed Jackie Robinson home.

Bobby Thomson tripled home pinch-runner Dusty Rhodes from first base in the 10th to beat the Phils.

Veteran Ken Raffensberger recorded his sixth shutout, high for the majors, in outpitching Pittsburgh's young Ron Necciai. The Reds scored the game's lone run in the sixth on four singles.

Chicago tagged Gerry Staley for 12 hits but the Cardinal right-hander coasted to his 16th victory as his mates supplied him with a 6-1 bulge in two innings.

Ambition is a combination of drive, enthusiasm, vitality and desire. You can expect to find these forceful qualities in the handwriting of an ambitious person.

In the above handwriting there is drive, energy and enthusiasm in the heavy pressure, right slant and speed of this script. Note the creativeness of the letter formations and the force with which the t crossings are made.

The quick, heavy t bars show this person's impatience and stubbornness; but he has the intelligence to know when the other person is right.

Ottawa Trips Royals In Doubleheader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mario Fricano, Ottawa's ace right-hander, is causing a lot of red faces in the Brooklyn Dodger organization.

Last season, Fricano chalked up a mediocre 10-9 mark with St. Paul in the American Association, a Dodger farm club. Brooklyn scouts gave up on the 28-year-old hurler early in the year and sold him to Ottawa. Now, toiling for a seventh-place club, he has compiled a 17-8 record, making him the second-winningest pitcher in the International League.

Fricano turned in a neat six-hitter last night in downing the pennant-winning Montreal Royals, 8-2, after the Athletics had captured the first contest 4-0.

The opener was a scoreless pitching duel between the Royals' Bob Alexander and Joe Coleman of Ottawa, until Coleman pulled a muscle in the seventh inning and was relieved by Bill George. It was George who broke up the shutout by singling in the ninth with the bases loaded to score two. Ottawa then picked up two more runs to complete the count.

LEAFS, BISONS SPLIT

Toronto's Maple Leafs divided a twin-bill with Buffalo Bisons, winning the opener 9-8 in 12 innings and dropping the second game 6-2. Leafs now need any combination of wins or Buffalo defeats adding up to two to clinch a berth in the playoffs.

In the opener, Toronto fought from behind to tie the game 7-7 in the eighth inning and Mike Goliat's lead-off homer in the 12th—his eighth of the season—finally won the game for the Leafs. Frank Carswell, the Bisons' slugging outfielder, walloped two homers and a double to knock in five runs.

In the nightcap, a single, Harvey Zernia's triple and Larry Ciesielski's homer in the seventh tallied three runs and sewed up the tilt for Buffalo.

Springfield Cubs and Baltimore Orioles split a pair of overtime contests, with Springfield winning the first 4-3 in eight innings and the Orioles the afterpiece, 5-4, in 10 innings.

Turner Fights His Own Way

NEW YORK (P)—Gil Turner is going to fight his own way tomorrow night against power-punching Bobby Dykes in Madison Square Garden.

That means the perpetual-motion fighter from Philadelphia is going to throw punches from the opening bell and keep tossing leather as long as he can stand. It also means that the 21-year-old Negro is going to be wide open for one of the fastest and hardest hitters in the welterweight division.

The bookmakers have made him a 9-to-5 favorite to whip the string-bean six-footer from Texas.

"Gil is not alibiing his knockout loss to Kid Gavilan last July," said Turner's manager, George Katz. "He lost, and that's that.

"Against Gavilan, we told him to pace himself. . . You know what happened. Gavilan nailed him."

This time Turner asked Katz' permission to fight his own way. "I'm sure if I kept throwing all the way against Gavilan I would have beaten him."

SPRINT CHAMPION—Royal Serenade, owned by Max Bell, of Calgary, clinched Britain's unofficial sprint championship with a half-length victory in the five-furlong Nunthorpe Stakes at York, England. It was the 10th victory in 18 starts for the four-year-old colt. He has been unplaced only three times in his career. Royal Serenade will be shipped this fall to the United States to race against some of the top sprinters on this side.

Yvon Robert, "reformed" Montreal wrestler, won his first professional boxing match at Montreal 12 years ago tonight and then retired in disgust to return to wrestling. Robert's opponent, Natie Brown of Washington, was counted out in the second round as he knelt in apparent agony claiming a foul. The judges were not convinced and Brown's purse was withheld.

Doctor Orders Durno Retire

HAMILTON (CP)—Don Durno, one of the most-travelled players in Canadian football, last night announced his retirement after being told by doctors it would be foolhardy to play the rest of the season with Hamilton Tiger-Cats and risk a permanent back injury.

The big middle, who played with Toronto Argos, Montreal Alouettes, Toronto Indians, Balmy Beach and the R.C.A.F. Hurricanes in the east and Winnipeg R.C.A.F. and Edmonton Eskimos in the west, said his doctor had strongly advocated giving up football.

Durno, who has been bothered with a recurring back ailment, was part of the two-for-one deal that Argos made with Hamilton this spring. Durno and Ed (Buckets) Hirsch were traded to Hamilton for Jack Carpenter.

Championship Play Down To 11 Teams

TORONTO (CP)—Play for the women's world softball championship at the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday narrowed to 11 teams. Seven teams have suffered two losses and been eliminated.

Toronto Nortowns dropped Hanes Hosiery of Winston Salem, N. C., 11-1 to pick up their third victory without defeat, while Kansas City eliminated Minneapolis 2-0. In another game Kansas City also bowed out on a 2-1 loss to Buena Park, Calif.

3 Boats Sink In Trophy Race

TORONTO (CP)—One driver was injured and three powerboats sunk last night in the wind-whipped waters of the Canadian National Exhibition's five-mile regatta course while competing for the Schenley Gold Helmet trophy.

Bob Schroeder of Tonawanda, N.Y., injured his spine in the first of two heats when his .225-class racer My Ambition jolted against a wave. Tommy Turner of Buffalo, N. Y., took over the craft to win the second heat.

Bearded Dave Norton of Toronto had his craft Gas-Hopper sink under him in the first heat of the .225 class. Bill Belfie of Gananoque, and Dr. Eric Toy of Toronto also were fished out when their .135-class craft capsized. Both Norton and Belfie said they thought they hit driftwood.

The Gold Helmet trophy, awarded on the basis of points gathered over the full regatta season, went to Cliff McDonell of Cornwall.

ICE READY FOR HAWKS

Schmidt Signs 14th Bruin Contract

BOSTON (AP)—Milt Schmidt, one of the National hockey League's all-time great centres, today signed his 14th contract for Boston Bruins.

Now 34, Schmidt, who missed three seasons while serving with the R. C. A. F., told General Manager Art Ross and Coach Lynn Patrick: "I'm looking forward to playing on another Stanley Cup-winning Bruins team before I hang up my skates."

"And this could easily be the team," the native of Kitchener, Ont., continued. "We have real good kids to play with real good veterans."

Schmidt will pivot for youngsters Real Chevrefils and Lee Labine on one of the Bruins' forward lines during the coming campaign.

"I'll have young legs playing with me," the popular veteran said. "Chevrefils and Labine will dig that puck out for me just like Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe did for Sid Abel and the Detroit Red Wings. They helped the Wings win the Stanley cup and a similar combination can do it or the Bruins."

With the retirement of Turk Broda, Toronto Maple Leafs' goalie Schmidt will be the league's oldest player in point of service.

Urges National Program Build Tennis Stars

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Bill Talbert, who now qualifies as one of the older and wiser thinkers in tennis, figures the only way the United States can stop the Australians either here or in the Davis Cup is to set up a national development program.

Talbert, awaiting his match yesterday in the national singles championship, was sympathizing with Vic Seixas, who takes on Australia's young Ken Rosewall today.

"Tough one tomorrow, eh?" Bill asked, and Vic just nodded.

"We ought to have a national program to develop young players like they have in Australia," Talbert went on.

"They ought to get fellows like Gar Mulloy, Ted Schroeder, Jack Kramer and myself who are interested in tennis and who know the game and let them look over a bunch of 20 or so young players and help them. They'd learn a lot playing against the better players, too.

"Take an unknown young player coming in here. Nobody recognizes him; he has to introduce himself and they tell him 'your locker is down in the cellar.' It must do something to his confidence. But when a fellow like Rosewall or Lewis Hoad comes in with Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, he gets a big welcome and one of the best lockers. Naturally he feels pretty important right at the start."

Talbert had some evidence to support this theory in the line-up for today's fourth-round matches. Four of the five Australian entries still were in there, including the 17-year-olds, Rosewall and Hoad, and Mervyn Rose. The only one missing was McGregor, who had to default in the first round.

A not-so-young newcomer, Sgt. Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., showed amazing tenacity when he came back after losing the first two sets and beat husky young Jackie Brichant of Belgium. But he'll have to be better and luckier today when he meets Rose.

Art Larsen, the 1950 champ from San Leandro, Calif., tackles Hoad in another of today's features.

Talbert, who eliminated Brendan Macken of Montreal yesterday, also will have his hands full. His assignment? Just Sedgman, Wimbledon titleholder and the defending U.S. champion.

Durocher Hopes To Pull Miracle

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo (The Lip) Durocher, miracle manager of 1951, signed a contract yesterday to pilot New York Giants again next year and is still hopeful of pulling another miracle this season.

Leo insisted the Giants still have a chance to overhaul the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers despite the Brooks' fat eight-game lead.

Leo thinks the next five days will tell the story of the pennant race.

"What we need is a few good victories under our belt. Maybe we'll get them now that we open a long home stand.

"Just let's win us five in a row and you'll see those guys over on the other side of the bridge tighten up.

"If we should ever pull that miracle again, I think there'd be 100,000 suicides in Brooklyn the next day. And I know who would be the first, too."

Landlocked Harbor Becomes Great Port

HAMILTON (CP)—The port of Hamilton handled some 5,300,000 tons of material last year, the third largest tonnage passing through any port in Canada. It was surpassed only by Montreal and Vancouver.

It is expected that when the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed this landlocked harbor will be of even greater importance.

Shipping has been important to Hamilton since 1823 when a canal was first cut through the Burlington strip. The harbor was at first under the control of the city council and then of the Hamilton Harbor Commission, inaugurated by the federal government in 1912.

Both the Harbor Commission and private industry were ready for the increased traffic when the Welland Ship Canal was opened in 1932 and these agencies are co-operating today to keep abreast of a steadily increasing volume of trade.

HARROW, England (CP)—D. J. Hulbert, bowling for Harrow in the traditional cricket match against Eton, took 12 Eton wickets for only 67 runs. He was presented with the ball as a memento, after it had been engraved with his name and a record of the performance.

Report House Construction Taking Swing Upward

OTTAWA (CP)—House construction, on the downgrade for months, has again swung upward.

Officials of the Crown-owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said yesterday the reversal of trend came in May. Preliminary reports indicate that the increase continued at least through June and July.

The slump in home construction started midway through 1951 and continued to April.

In May, said a corporation report, the number of new housing units started in cities totalled 7,900 compared with 7,500 in the corresponding month of 1951. Figures for later months are not available.

Officials said that because of the slump in the first four months of the year the over-all picture this year may not be changed much from 1951. In that year a total of 81,000 new houses were completed compared with 89,000 in 1950

In the first four months of this year 18,391 houses were completed compared with 25,209 in the corresponding period of 1951.

One C.M.H.C. spokesman said the reversal of trend in May was probably due to several factors—availability of mortgage money, a better understanding of provisions of the National Housing Act and economic conditions.

Say AHL Governors May Hear Objections

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A meeting of the Board of Governors of the American Hockey League may be called soon to thrash out the objections of several league members to recently-adopted regulations.

John Harris, president of Pittsburgh Hornets, in making the announcement yesterday, said the proposed meeting may be held in New York Sept. 15.

Pittsburgh, Hershey and Providence would like to have rescinded the rule which forbids a National Hockey League team from recalling players lent to A.H.L. teams before the end of the season.

Westwood Fetes Softball Champs

WESTWOOD (ENS)—Westwood softball team was feted Monday evening at the Community Park and Hall by a large number of fans. The Westwood team was successful in winning the Stevens Trophy for perpetual competition in the Hastings Softball League.

A large pennant inscribed Westwood Champion, Hastings District Softball was presented to the team by the Community Park committee, and will be displayed in the hall.

The manager, Max Humphries, was chairman for a short program and the pennant was presented by Bruce Graham. Speeches of congratulations were given by some of the prominent men of the village and district. The coaches of the team were Bruce Graham and Harold Fife.

Entertainment included a softball game; community singing, followed by a corn and weiner roast with pop and coffee.

Dancing was enjoyed in the Community Hall, the music supplied by Leslie Cameron, Hugh Neilson and Rex Warr.

JUZDA OUT OF N.H.L.

WINNIPEG (CP) — With 500 games in the National Hockey League and a taste of red tape under his belt, Bill Juzda is ready to trade his hockey stick for a locomotive throttle.

Conn Smythe, managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs, announced in Toronto yesterday the burly Leafs' defenceman had been waived out of the league.

Waivers on Juzda, a battle-scarred veteran at 31, were passed up by all teams in the six-club league at the $7,500 waiver price. Leafs asked the waivers last spring after Juzda had spent most of the season on the bench. He joined the team in 1948.

Last night, Juzda sat in his car at the Canadian Pacific Railway roundhouse in neighboring St. Boniface to talk for a few minutes before taking over the throttle of a yard engine. His 203 pounds have started to spread round the middle but he looked fit and happy.

"I was expecting it in a way when I left Toronto last spring," he said. "I asked then for my release but it was refused.

"What's the use of a club paying $7,500, plus a player's salary, and then have him quit at the end of a year?

"But I think if they give me my release I'll be all set to play another year."

Juzda isn't too sure of the future but he isn't worried about it.

He said Smythe offered him a coaching job before he left Toronto but nothing was settled. Besides, he likes his present job. He's been at it 11 years. Coaching is too insecure.

While playing in the N.H.L., Juzda lost three teeth and picked up about 50 stitches, 23 in one year. He also became known as "Bill (The Beast) Juzda."

Cobourg Kid Gets Strikeout

COBOURG.—Sleep Dawe, kid fastball hurler, fanned 16 Tuesday night as Card Juniors took the opener of the semi-final round in the Cobourg and District Softball League over Port Hope Mathews, 10-3. Dawe gave four hits, two up to the ninth, in setting a playoff strikeout record.

Barney Mills, losing hurler, kept in step with Dawe until the eighth when Buzz Foote, Mathews' shortstop, dropped a fly with two on and two out. The score was 3-2 for Juniors at the time and the error scored two runs. Juniors got four more in the ninth.

Scientists Told Keep Probing Atomic Secret

BELFAST (AP)—British scientists were told last night they must keep on probing the secrets of the atom, even at the risk man may use such knowledge for his own destruction.

A. V. Hill, a physiologist, and Nobel prize winner in 1922 for medical research, made the statement in an address at the opening of the 114th annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Hill, president of the association, thus replied to an issue raised before the association by the Duke of Edinburgh a year ago. The duke, a guest at this year's meeting, had asked in his speech a year ago: "What use is science if man does not survive?"

Hill said it is the scientists' job to seek knowledge, and that it is for mankind as a whole to take the moral and political position which can lead to unprecedented good or unlimited harm.

11 Die In Bus Crash

"DREAM BOAT"—The young woman at left, above, in Berlin, Germany, is lolling comfortably in a real "dream boat." When she wants to, she can take it apart, turn it into a tent, crawl in, go to sleep and have pleasant dreams. The dinghy is divided into two equal parts, connected by a waterproof slide fastener. She just unzips the halves and uses them for the end walls of the tent. A canvas sheet, attached to the two dinghy halves, forms the top, back and front of the shelter, as seen at right.

General Eisenhower Creates Uneasiness In Britain

By PHILIP VERNON

LONDON (OFNS)—Considerable disquiet has been caused in Britain by one passage of General Dwight Eisenhower's speech to the American Legion last week. This was his statement that America can "never recognise the slightest permanence in Russia's position in Eastern Europe and Asia. . . . We must tell the Soviets that never shall we rest content until the tidal mud of aggressive Communism has receded within its own borders." One would expect the extreme left-wing "New Statesman and Nation" to see this as "a dangerous declaration of policy," implying that "A-bases in Britain are to be part of a campaign to 'free' Tibet": but "The Times" was speaking for a wide range of opinion when, in a long leading article which needs reading between the lines, it concluded that General Eisenhower's experience "must tell him that the policy will need adaptation to the facts of power and possibility."

NEED NOT BE SERIOUS

General Eisenhower may not have wished to appear to accept any specific commitments, but this is the way in which the speech has been read in Britain and Europe. The disagreement—if it is a disagreement — or the misunderstanding—if it is a misunderstanding—reveals the real difference betwen the European and British approach to foreign policy and the kind of American approach exemplified by the Republicans generally by Mr. Foster Dulles and by General Eisenhower. The difference need never become serious, because the "facts of power and possibility" usually speak louder than any views held by nations or persons. Yet it is this difference of approach which accounts for most of the misunderstandings between America and Britain and particularly for the common British misunderstanding that the Americans are eager for war with Russia.

The British approach has been stated by Mr. Anthony Eden (British Foreign Secretary). It is to seek over a number of years small and local agreements on particular questions which, one by one, will lessen the points of tension between Russia and the West. Such agreements will not bring peace, and far from "liberating" the peoples of Eastern Europe will, indeed, accept the fact of their subjugation. By lessening the points of tension, a stage may be reached when Russia and the West can both live together without the everpresent threat of war. This, whether one agrees with it or not (and there are people in Britain who do not agree with it), is the view that is sufficiently widely held to be called the British view.

REPUGNANT TO WEST

It will be noticed, at once, that no moral overtones can be heard in such a statement of policy. The fact that the Soviet system is a dictatorship repugnant to the West, the fact that Soviet imperialism has subjugated so much of Eastern Europe—these are facts of power to be recognized and accepted, not facts posing a moral question. The line between East and West has been drawn in Europe. In Germany—in Berlin—is the one point where the line is still disputed. But if that problem could be settled, there would be not one serious British politician who would bother his head any more about the peoples "enslaved" beyond the line, beyond the Iron Curtain. Again, this may be an attitude one cannot accept, but it has to be recognized that it is the attitude commonly found in Britain.

It is, in fact, an attitude which has its roots deep in the history of British foreign policy. Britain has never yet gone to war in Europe to fight against an immoral system, merely on the grounds of its immorality. She accepted the challenge of Napoleon, as she accepted the challenge of the Kaiser and of Hitler, only when they were clearly bent on conquering Western Europe, thus threatening the British Isles and her communications with the outside world.

Against this, there apepars to the British to be a popular American belief that you can conduct foreign policy on strict moral principles; that you can separate the blacks from the whites, the devil from the saints, and make war on the blacks and the devil until right is vindicated. From this point of view, the "liberation" of Eastern Europe appears a sensible project; China can be happily included as one of the "enslaved" nations just because her rulers call themselves Communist, even though there is no evidence that she is "a captive nation" and not just an ally of Russia; Tibet can be regarded as a serious subject for moral indignation; and, if the principle was pushed even further, Portugal and Spain would be listed as enemy countries instead of being invited into the Western family of nations.

There is here a real difference of approach, which causes much misunderstanding and heartburning in Anglo-American relations—but it is doubtful whether the difference is of much practical importance, save in so far as it poisons these relations. The demarcation line is drawn between East and West: the British, solely out of self-interest, are as anxious to prevent Russia from crossing that line as are the Americans; the Americans, in spite of their moral indignation, will be as chary of provoking war east of that line as are the British. But still the British would prefer that General Eisenhower talked more as he did when he was at Shape (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe): they would sleep better at night if he did.

Psychologists Make Tests In Front Lines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Psychologists working in the front lines in Korea have gathered information that may aid in pre-determining combat effectiveness of untried troops, an army psychologist said Wednesday.

Dr. Joel T. Campbell said that while the data has not yet been fully analyzed, it represents the first "collection of on-the-spot criteria of combat performance."

Thus, he told a reporter, when it is fully analyzed it could conceivably be used in training areas to select men most likely to give high calibre performance under fire.

Campbell made the statements in an interview, amplifying a report made late yesterday to the 60th annual meeting of the American Psychological Association.

He reported that a team of eight researchers, including four army officers, had obtained information on 5,000 men in three infantry regiments in the Korean theatre, including one regiment on the front line, although in a "less active" area. The two other regiments were in reserve areas, but all men had been under fire at some time.

The researchers enlisted the aid of non-commissioned officers to get ratings on "aggressiveness and overall value in combat" of their men.

Biographical, personality and training - camp records of the same men also were acquired for purposes of possible relationship to their combat effectiveness as rated by the non-coms.

Also, certain physical proficiency tests — such as the motion of hurling a grenade — were given.

Finally, the men were subjected to experimental aptitude tests, designed to serve as "predictors of combat success."

The idea of the latter tests was to compare results with actual combat ratings in order to see whether such tests would be valid for use in predicting combat effectiveness of still untried troops.

Study Motion Have Judges Referee Road Disputes

BIGWIN INN (CP)—Resolutions calling for committees to study motions to have county judges referee road disputes between rural and urban members and reallocation of road costs sidetracked two contentious issues which threatened to split the final meeting of the Ontario Municipal Association yesterday.

City delegates, led by London, sought to have the convention approve a resolution for county judges to rule on disputes between rural and urban members over what roads should be acquired.

Delegates from towns and villages wanted reallocation of county road costs so that their contribution would be no greater than the one half mill which cities are required to pay to suburban commissions.

Reeve Oliver Crockford of Scarboro won a compromise over the objections of London, Hamilton and Brantford delegates with his resolution to set up a committee to study the London motion.

Dr. C. A. Curtis, Kingston mayor, achieved the second compromise with a resolution that the towns' and villages' motion also be referred to the committee.

Canada's Place Emphasized At Oil Parley

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—The convention of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, a meeting which signified Canada's entry as a major factor in the petroleum world, has ended.

More than 300 delegates from 20 states in the United States, two Canadian provinces and Latin American countries, attended the summer meeting of the U.S. conservation group, the first meeting cutside its home borders.

The three-day meeting, from the point of tangible achievement, was uneventful. The convention affords delegates the opportunity ot discussing mutual problems, but as one speaker put it on the convention floor, most of the policy work is done by standing committees of the Compact which meet frequently through the year.

The one fact which all speakers hit upon was the important place which Canada is assuming in the petroleum world.

A speech prepared by the U. S. Secretary of the Interior, Oscar L. Chapman, who was unable to attend, described Canada's expanding oil and gas industry as "tremendously important."

HIT INTERFERENCE

Only one resolution was put before the convention and was passed unanimously and without discussion. It condemned U. S. government interference in the regulation of oil and natural gas conservation.

It referred to a Federal Power Commission order which refused to recognize the validity of orders issued by the Kansas Corporation Commission, a state conservation group.

The resolution stated the F. P. C. action left Compact member states no alternative but to protect their jurisdiction over natural resources.

Closer Ties With University

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's largest music school, the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, in September will become more closely affiliated with the University of Toronto.

The old conservatory and the university's faculty of music will come under one administration. Degrees and diplomas in the conservatory's advanced full-time courses will be awarded by the University of Toronto.

The new plan is part of an expanded program of music education. Dr. Edward Johnson, chairman of the conservatory's board of directors and former manager of New York's Metropolitan Opera, will head the administration until a dean is appointed.

General music teaching at the conservatory and its 12 Toronto branches begins Sept. 2. Teachers from coast to coast also will begin tutoring young pupils planning to take conservatory examinations in their home-towns in February or June of next year.

Last year 30,000 Canadians wrote conservatory examinations.

Seek Thieves Who Took Bronze Statue

LONDON (CP)—Scotland Yard investigators are searching for thieves who carried off a 350-pound bronze statue of Mercury, the Greek god of speed, which for more than 20 years had stood at the main gate of a racing establishment operated by the former trainer, Felix Leach, near Newmarket.

The fixture, four feet high, is a copy of the original by Italy's master sculptor, Beneventuto Cellini. It was brought to England by the late Lord Wilton.

Police believe the thieves required hours to pry the statue from its pedestal and that several men were needed to trundle it to a waiting truck.

It is feared the thugs will disregard the artistic value of the figure and break it up for disposal. Bronze is in high demand in the scrap market.

Girls In RCAF Choir From Coast To Coast

TORONTO (CP) — Airwomen from across Canada are singing with the R.C.A.F. band which holds a featured spot as concert band this year at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Conductor of the band, Sqdn. Ldr. Edward Kirkwood chose the girls from the air station at St. Johns, Que.

"I was amazed how many girls had studied at conservatories," he said, "all had sung at one time or another in church choirs or in school musicals."

The chorus includes Airwoman Dinah Cole, Guelph; Dusty Taylor, Fort William, and Sally Adams, Midland.

FAMINE STRIKES IN INDIA — Apparently lost among the headlines about the political campaign, the cold war and the hot war, is the news that once again famine is taking its deadly toll in India. Commonplace are sights like that above—a woman lying in the street, dying of starvation, in the Uttar Pradesh Gorakhpur district. This is one of 11 districts in the famine area where crop failures have caused widespread misery and uncounted deaths.

Record Cattle Entries In Competitions At C.N.E.

By RON EVANS

TORONTO (CP)—The popularity of agricultural activities at the Canadian National Exhibition was well illustrated yesterday by the number of spectators on hand for the featured livestock champions' parade.

Some 2,000 persons sat in bleachers around the coliseum judging ring as hundreds of ribboned beef and dairy cattle plodded aroupd the circle. CBC television cameras recorded the colorful parade for homeviewers in the Toronto area.

There were few horses on parade this year. One exhibitor, showing at the "Ex" since 1910, said few breeders wish to bring their horses to the C.N.E. because of the low prize list. He noted that some 40 years ago he received $75 in first prize money and now the figure has dropped to $60 while shipping and stabling expenses have increased.

RECORD CATTLE ENTRIES

Cattle entries, however, were at their highest in the 73-year-history of the two-week fair. President J.A. Northey said the quality of entries also was at a peak.

Leading the cattle parade was the senior and grand champion holstein bull, Spring Farm Fond Hope, owned by J. M. Fraser of Streetsville.

Guests at the parade were Ontario's Agricultural Minister Kennedy and Defence Minister Claxton, a surprise visitor to the fair.

Beef cattle judging wound up yesterday with classes for fat cattle and red polls. Champion fat steer was an Aberdeen Angus, Angus, owned by Edwards Brothers of Watford, and the reserve title went to Watermead Norseman II, owned by G. E. Wiggins of Kemptville.

Senior and grand champion red poll bull was Mimesota Edgar II, owned by Leonard W. Coulson of Milton. Mr. Coulson also exhibited the reserve junior champion bull, Edgar 5th, reserve grand and reserve senior female, Hannah Blossom, and the reserve senior champion female, Lyle ueen 52.

At the directors' luncheon J.D. MacLachlan, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, told champion exhibitors of farm methods and production he saw during a recent trip through Great Britain, Denmark and The Netherlands.

Says Immigrants Need Translation Of Act

KITCHENER (CP)—Immigrants who cannot read the Highways Traffic Act should have a translation of it in their own language, Magistrate J.R.H. Kirkpatrick said yesterday.

He said he found it hard to understand why anyone should be allowed a driver's licence when he cannot read the act.

The magistrate made these comments when Arna Kromm of New Hamburg, formerly of Germany, was charged with careless driving and breach of the rules of the road following a collision.

The first charge was dismissed, but Kromm was fined $10 and costs or four days in jail on the second.

Public Utilities Facing Problem

GRAVENHURST (CP) — Delegates to the Georgian Bay Municipal Electrical Association annual meeting were told yesterday of the increasing demands public utilities in Ontario will face.

Ross Strike, vice-chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, told the municipal representatives to plan well ahead to accommodate the rapid growth of the province.

A. W. Manby, assistant general manager of the H.E.P.C., told the 250 delegates and their wives: "We expect to get over the coming heavy load season without any power cuts."

He called for continued co-operation among the eight electrical associations in the province to further the development of hydro.

Herbert Robertson of Barrie was elected president. Lt.-Col. A. A. Kennedy, Owen Sound, was elected first vice-president and Robert Butter, also of Owen Sound, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

200,000 Polish Teenagers To Take "Patriotic Oath" Against U.S.A.; Vote At 18

By JOHN MILLS

LONDON (OFNS)—The Warsaw regime is already preparing the Polish people for the general election in Poland on October 26. This will be conducted under a new electoral law recently passed by the Sejm (parliament) designed to consolidate the supremacy of the Communist Party in the country.

Apart from the introduction of certain devices which will have the effect of facilitating party control of the elections, the most important innovation is the lowering of the voting age to eighteen years. This adds to the register several million voters from the most indoctrinated section of the population.

Also by this stroke Communism is out to complete its seduction of the youth of Poland. For in no other satellite state is the drive to indoctrinate youth and impress it into Communist service so intense or more violent in its efforts to engender hatred of the West.

RALLY IN WARSAW

This was startlingly demonstrated only a few weeks ago in the immense "Young Shockworkers' Rally" for the National Day celebrations in Warsaw. Gathered together from all parts of the country, some two hundred thousand teen-agers in mass array were made to recite a long "patriotic oath." It included the words: "We vow to thee, our mother country, to devote all our strength to the sacred cause of peace and to the fight against the American and Nazi incendiarists and genocides."

There followed a four-hour parade with floats and monster cartoons caricaturing "American lackeys and imperialist gangsters engaged in germ warfare."

The emotional impact of this kind of thing on adolescents is obvious. All of the boys and girls assembled were activist members of the Zmp or Polish Komsomol (Communist youth organization) claimed to number three million. The declared object of the rally was to enlist youth in the cause of raising output, particularly on the farms, and as propagandists for the elections.

Resolutions to this end are now being passed by provincial Zmp "executives" meeting all over the country. The organization's paper "Sztandar Mlodych" (Banner of Youth) has declared that everyone who took part in the rally "must become a fighting agitator for the most active participation of young people in the Sejm election campaign and in every field of State and social life."

This will be the second election in Poland since the Communists took over the government in 1945. The first was in 1947 when Communist engineering of the election provoked protest notes from Western governments. Unlike the constitution of the Soviet Union which makes the Communist Party the sole legal party, the new Polish constitution still permits the existence of other political groups.

But these parties are now all in the pro-government bloc. There is no legal opposition as such. The fact that the Communist regime has got to work so early and so strenuously on the election campaign, however, suggests uneasiness and the fear that without the propaganda artillery smartly trained on them, many Poles will forget to vote.

Thousands of party "activists and agitators" are thus being despatched to all parts of the country "to prepare the nation for October 26." Warsaw is already being plastered with placards and slogans in a campaign which in its vilification of the United States and the West generally promises to beat all records.

Would Name Judges On Basis Of Merit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Appointment of Canadian judges on the "basis of merit" without "political association" was advocated here yesterday by J. A. Clark, president of the Canadian Bar Association.

In his presidential address before 1,600 delegates to the association's 34th annual meeting, the Vancouver barrister said there was no constitutional necessity for the federal cabinet to take part in the selection of judges.

Only the Minister of Justice should have a part in advising the Governor-General on such appointments.

SPEED HARVEST—Combine harvesters are tackling this year's estimated record crop of 1,455,000,000 bushels of grain expected to come off prairie province fields in the next few weeks. This machine, working near Portage la Prairie, Man., can harvest a crop in one operation, speeding up the harvest from a couple of months to a month or less. Size of crop and speed of harvesting are presenting Western Canadian farmers with a serious storage problem.

TIMES CHANGING — Threshing machines with a large crew such as this are gradually giving way to combine harvesters on Prairie wheat fields in the revolution under way in grain harvesting. The old method of cutting and drying grain in bundles, hauling to threshing machines and storing in granaries for leisurely transport to elevators — all of which took a couple of months — has been replaced by combine harvesters, tractors and trucks making fast delivery to elevators. Under favorable conditions, harvesting now takes less than a month.

Revolution In Grain Harvesting Big Factor In Storage

WINNIPEG (CP)—A revolution in grain harvesting, which has been under way for 25 years, is a major factor in the grain storage problem confronting western farmers now as they start bring in perhaps the biggest crop in history.

Agriculture officials here say the introduction of combine harvesters, tractors and trucks in place of threshing machines, horses and wagons has slashed the harvest season from an all-fall job to as little as two weeks.

Farm storage—an important part of the old, slow system—has been allowed to slide in favor of a speedy clean-up and fast delivery to elevators.

FLOOD OF GRAIN

Elevator and railway handling facilities, geared to an average crop, can not handle this year's estimated flood of 1,455,000,000 bushels of fall grain expected to come off the prairies in a few weeks. Third big crop in a row, it bumps against 405,000,000 bushels carried over from last year.

Manitoba farm officials say that under the old system harvest started early in August and ended when the first snow fell in October. Now, with favorable conditions it can be finished in less than a month.

Under the old method, grain was cut and tied in bundles; piled manually in "stooks" to dry, possibly for weeks; and later hauled to threshing machines for separation of grain and straw. Then the grain was stored in granaries for leisurely transport to elevators—until recent years in horse-drawn wagons.

This spread elevator deliveries over a long period.

ONE OPERATION

Under today's method, a combine harvester plods through the grain fields and takes off the crop in one operation. A grain truck, shuttling from combine to elevator, can keep pace and move as much as a carload of grain—1,800 bushels—to the elevator in one day.

The speed of this method and the high cost of building granaries deterred farmers from building and replacing old storage.

Even with Canadian wheat board delivery quotas, designed to control the flow of grain to market, only a limited amount was kept on farms. Handling facilities could cope with an average yield.

The swing to mechanized farming which has multiplied storage problems is illustrated in figures from the 1951 census.

In 1941, Western Canada had 18,081 combines. By 1951, the total had jumped to 79,117. In the same period, the number of threshing machines dropped from 44,218 to 43,414. Tractors increased from 112,624 to 236,930; trucks from 43,363 to 113,512.

New Zealand Pushes Tests To Develop More Electricity

By E.A.KENNER

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (Reuters)—New Zealand is pushing round-the-clock drilling tests in an intensified effort to find out whether she can develop enough electricity from underground steam sources to make up for her shortage of hydro-electric power.

Experts believe that the limit of hydro-electric capacity from North Island plants will be reached between 1960 and 1970, depending on the rate of increase of load and the speed at which power sources other than water can be developed.

At this stage, the installed generating kilowatt capacity of the North Island system would be approximately 1,500,000. After that, the probably hydro-electric developments might be not more than about 250,000 kilowatt in 10 or 12 stations.

As a consequence, every effort is being made to step up the drilling operations at Wairakei, in the centre of North Island, where the tests on the power possibilities of the island's underground natural steam deposits are being made.

Engineers are seeking enough steam for an experimental 20,000 kilowatt generating plant which the state proposes to build at a probable cost of $2,240,000.

All members of parliament joined readily in passing the Geothermal Steam Bill which vests in the crown the sole right to generate electric power from geothermal steam unless a licence is issued to a private applicant by the Governor-General.

Three weeks after round-the-clock drilling began at Wairakei, a six-inch geothermal bore, the first of a number which will drive the 20,000 kilowatts pilot experimental plant, was opened.

Plastic Lenses Being Put In Human Eyes

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP)—Little plastic lenses are being put into human eyes, replacing eye lenses lost through cataracts.

Dr. Harold Ridley of London reported this new step today to the International College of Surgeons.

Cataracts, a cloudiness over the eye lens, reduce vision.

The eye specialist takes out the clouded lens and substitutes a little disc of a clear, pure plastic.

The lightweight plastic almost floats in the eye, and the patient doesn't feel it there. It is held in place by the iris, which is a muscle and a membrane in back of the normal lens. The plastic lens does the job.

There is no distortion in vision and no need for thick cataract spectacles that magnify highly, Dr. Ridley said.

65 OPERATIONS

In three years Dr. Ridley has done 65 of the lens substitutions, and other doctors elsewhere have done some.

Describing 47 of his patients, Dr. Ridley said 13 have normal vision and 26 others nearly-normal vision. Vision is under par in the other eight. Three persons have plastic lenses in both eyes.

Plastic tubes can sometimes substitute for part of the human esophagus damaged by cancer or other disease, said Dr. Edgar F. Berman of Mt. Sinai Hospital, Baltimore.

Strips of tubing four to nine inches long have bridged sections of diseased gullets removed in operations on 30 persons in the last two years, he said. The plastic tube may remain in permanently, or be removed after being surrounded by growth of a fibrous sheath.

Primeval Man At Georgian Bay

KILLARNEY (CP)—Two arrowheads, discovered five miles northeast of here, are believed to be tangible evidence that primeval Sandia man once lived on the north shore of Georgian Bay.

Sandia man gets his name from the Sandia Mountains of New Mexico. He is the oldest form of human life found in the New Yorld and dates back 18,000 years.

The discovery was announced by Dr. Emerson F. Greenman of the museum of anthropology of the University of Michigan. He said the arrowheads had actually been found three years ago, but nothing had been said until sufficient research had been made.

The arrowheads, each measuring 3½ inches in length, are notched on one side only for fitting to arrow shafts instead of being notched on two sides as in less ancient times.

The area of the site is covered with boulders, some weighing up to 400 pounds which, Dr. Greenman said, could only have been deposited when the ice cap receded from the area almost 20,000 years

Miss Stella Pethick

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The funeral service for Miss Stella Caroline Pethick, 60, who died as the result of an accident on Saturday, was held Tuesday from the G. T. MacPherson funeral home. The Rev. A. M. Butler of St. Andrew's United Church conducted the service. Miss Pethick was a lifelong resident of Millbrook, having moved from a nearby farm as a small girl. Miss Pethick had been a regular blood donor to the Red Cross during the last war and since, and was a loyal supporter of St. Andrew's church.

Pallbearers were eight cousins: Stanford Brown and Fred Brown of Millbrook, J. A. Thorndyke of Wesleyville, George McCullough, of Newtonville, Norman McCullough, Byron Meadows, A. J. Meadows, and Cecil Meadows, all of Port Hope.

The rooms of the funeral home were filled to capacity with many standing on the verandah outside for the service.

Burial was in Zion Cemetery.

Demonstration Given Of Underwater TV

LONDON (CP)—Underwater television was demonstrated to the public for the first time in this country last week at the National Radio Show.

The television camera was similar to that used in salvage operations on the ill-fated submarine Affray which foundered in June, 1951.

The stand was built in the form of a tunnel embracing a water-filled tank, seven monitors and a control room. Through glass windows of the tank, visitors could see a model of the stern of a sunken ship amid weeds, gravel and fish.

Two model divers, one-fourth size, ascended and descended as the camera recorded operations.

Lucky Birthday

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A Campbellford resident, Mrs. Harold Stillman, who operates a snack bar here will no doubt remember Tuesday, September 2, for a long time.

Tuesday was her birthday (she won't say which one), and she was notified that she had won a $1,000 bill in the draw held at the Marmora Fair on Monday night.

Mrs. Stillman started her holidays the same day, and plans to make good use of the windfall.

NATO Will Meet In December To Patch Gaps In Defence Plan

PARIS (AP)The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is opening a meeting here Dec. 15 to patch gaps in the west's current defence program and nail down a rearmament schedule for 1953.

The permanent council of N.A.T.O., sitting here under Secretary-General Lord Ismay, called for a full-dress conference of Foreign Ministers of the 14 member countries. The whole pace of the alliance's defence effort will come up for review and readjustment.

The date was timed to follow the United States elections and still give European members a chance to fit their 1953 rearmament goals into budgets for that year. Most European countries operate their finances on a calendar year, instead of a fiscal year.

MET IN FEBRUARY

This will be the first session of N.A.T.O. ministers since the meeting in Lisbon last February which fixed 50 combat-ready divisions—active and reserve—and 4,000 planes as the minimum basis for its defence lines.

At that time, N.A.T.O. also laid down provisional goals for 1953, leading up to 96 divisions in 1954. The forthcoming conference will have to make the 1953 goals "permanent" and adopt a provisional schedule for 1954, while putting 1955 into the planning stage.

Since the Lisbon conference, however, the United States has suffered a steel strike, Britain has run into new financial difficulties. All of these factors may prevent complete fulfilment of the 1952 goals.

Anglican Bishops Deplore Services After King's Death

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The 18th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada opened on a subdued note today prior to discussion of a wide range of subjects during the 10-day meeting among 300 clergy and laity.

Highlight of the opening day is to be the charge by Most Rev. Walter Barfoot, Archbishop of Edmonton and Primate of All Canada. Archbishop Barfoot succeeded most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, who died since the last Triennial Synod was held at Halifax in 1949.

Prior to the opening of the General Synod, the House of Bishops of the Anglican Church held closed meetings and passed a resolution expressing concern over the lack of a "religious note" in services held by the Canadian government for the late King George VI.

SHOULD STRESS HERITAGE

In their only release following the meetings, the bishops said:

"Canada has been built upon a religious foundation, inheriting strains of Christian worship, outlook and teaching from many European countries. Today, when a materialistic philosophy is seeking, openly and deliberately, to undermine all religious influences and teaching, the bishops feel that upon great state occasions the government of Canada ought to express our heritage and our future hope by services in which the religious note is clear, definite and unmistakeable."

Delegates represent 28 dioceses from Newfoundland to British Columbia. Following a colorful procession at the opening of the General Synod, Very Rev. W. R. Matthews, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, will preach.

Scheduled for discussion are varied subjects including the name of the church, the possibility of a primatial see, a possible revision of the office of Holy Communion, and marriage laws.

2,000 YEARS OLD

The windmill is older than the Christian era and famous inventors, including Leonardo da Vinci, contributed improvements to it.

Painter Killed

DETROIT (CP)—One painter was killed and another critically injured yesterday when they fell 40 feet inside a water tank perched on a tower 120 feet above the Ford Motor Company tank plant. The dead man was John Davis, 35. Frank Pych, 25, was taken to hospital.

Fire Protection In Otonabee To Be Discussed

Otonabee township council will discuss fire protection at its meeting next Monday. The August 25 fire which destroyed the Elko house on the River Road south and another suburban fire in Otonabee township have again made fire protection a burning question.

Reeve Dick Stewart says that the council is prepared to continue its regular afternoon session in the evening for the convenience of township ratepayers who work in Peterborough and cannot attend the afternoon session.

In a letter to the Editor, printed on the editorial page, the township clerk James M. McCarthy, calls attention to the need for fire protection and the Council's willingness to proceed with it, if the ratepayers will attend the meeting and approve spending the money on equipment. He recalls that as long ago as 1948 the township council was prepared to take steps, but three-quarters of the ratepayers objected to extra costs for equipment.

Angry and bitter words were said by bystanders at the Elko fire about the lack of protection, some of them directed at the Otonabee council. The meeting next Monday in the township hall at Keene will give the ratepayers an opportunity to discuss the situation and do something to remedy it.

"KILLED" BY ARMY — Claiming that it might give parents of potential women recruits a wrong conception of life in the services, a U.S. Army major requested newspapers to "kill" this photo of screen actress Marilyn Monroe and two servicewomen. Marilyn had posed with YNSN Frances J. McDonald (left), of Longmont, Colo., and S/Sgt. Carol A. James (right), of Pittsburgh, as part of a "glamour" recruiting drive. In Atlantic City, N.J., where she is Grand Marshall of the 1952 "Miss America" contest Marilyn commented that she was "really very hurt."

Greenwood Airport Becomes Largest Training Unit

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

GREENWOOD, N.S. (CP)—The largest R.C.A.F. operational training unit in Canada is deep in Nova Scotia's famed Annapolis Valley at Greenwood airport.

The O.T.U. is designed for newly-commissioned officers who still have to be brought up to the required operational standards. This training is received mainly by everyday flying conditions, actual patrols and mock battles.

Greenwood airport is regarded as Canada's best for this purpose. Within striking distance of the far north, crew members are able to receive flight training in sub-zero weather conditions.

Down in their own valley they can undergo training in humid weather. The fog which often surrounds the Nova Scotia coast gives opportunity for blind and instrument flying.

MOCK BATTLES ON OCEAN

Only a few minutes by air from the North Atlantic, the trainees are able to stage mock bombing and gunnery raids. When the Atlantic is closed in by heavy weather, the planes can revert to the Bay of Fundy on the opposite side of the airport.

A big factor favoring Greenwood is its nearness to Halifax. From that old seaport ships of the Royal Canadian Navy, planes from the Shearwater naval air base and the Lancasters of the O.T.U. stage sea and air manoeuvres.

The O.T.U., like all other squadrons at the giant airbase, always stands by to assist "search and rescue" operations in a widespread search for aircraft or ships in distress.

60 MEN ON BASE

More than 60 men usually occupy the base at one time and the course takes upwards of four months to complete.

Commanding officer of the O.T.U. is Sqdn.-Ldr. J. W. Bellis, A.F.C., of Victoria, B.C. The chief flying instructor is Sqdn.-Ldr. S. S. Mitchell of Waterloo, Ont.

Other instructors are FO. W. P. Vradenberg of Toronto, radar; Flt.-Lt. D. E. Clarke of Fitzroy Harbor, Ont., radio; Flt.-Lt. L. Coburn, North Bay, bombing and gunnery.

Yugoslavs Open Major Port On Adriatic

By RONALD PRESTON

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Plans to give Yugoslavia a major part on the Adriatic other than disputed Trieste will be put into operation next year when Tito's government plans to begin work on the country's biggest post-war engineering project.

The plan calls for developing the resort town of Bar, on the southern Adriatic coast, into the country's second largest seaport, and connecting it to Belgrade with a 310-mile railroad through some of Yugoslavia's most backward and desolate territory.

Nearest point in Yugoslavia to overseas markets, the new port will cost over $4,000,000 and is scheduled to handle about 1,500,000 tons of commerce a year.

Already nearly 400 feet of breakwater have been constructed and plans call for the port of Bar to be able to handle ships of all sizes by 1954.

SIX YEAR PROJECT

Construction of the Belgrade to Bar railway is expected to take up to six years. It will have to be driven through the rugged mountainous terrain of south Serbia and Montenegro. Tunnels will cover about 50 miles, or 16 per cent, of the route, with the longest extending about five miles.

The new railway will cut the distance from Belgrade and the grain areas of the Vojvodina to the Adriatic by 84 miles, from eastern Serbia by 200 miles, from Macedonia and southwest Serbia by up to 264 miles.

Yugoslav experts estimate that the new railway will in a short time handle about 2,000,000 net tons in the direction of the sea and 1,000,000 tons net in the direction of Belgrade every year.

OPEN UP COUNTRY

The railway will open up thousands of square miles of wild Balkan country which now has not a single mile or railway and only the roughest of roads.

The railway will permit the full exploitation of rich timber areas and potentially-rich agricultural and fruit growing regions.

The coal basins in the Kolubara Valley and round Plevlje will also be opened up with the railway moving an estimated 500,000 tons of coal from there to Belgrade every year.

In Montenegro, there are substantial deposits of bauxite plus lead and zinc mines and large areas of virgin forests. Oil has been struck near the Bay of Bar.

Eventually, the Yugoslavs claim the new railway will make possible the building of 23 hydro-electric plants along the swift flowing river Lim, adding another annual 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours to the country's electric power resources.

Cattle Rustlers Busy In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—Cattle rustling with the gusto of a Hollywood western pitted against the conveniences of modern science has again hit the Quebec City district.

Lucien Roy, a farmer at St. Charles, awoke one morning to find several hundred dollars worth of fattened young cattle missing from his pasture. It was the same story next day for Farmer Caron of Laurierville.

Farmers near Laval each reported losses of more than $500 in cows, heifers and sheep.

Posses organized to search for the rustlers are a far cry from the garb and mode of Hollywood. These vigilantes wear the serviceable khaki of the Quebec Provincial Police, equipped with the latest instruments in crime detection.

The rustlers apparently use trucks to rush the cattle to large city markets.

Says Lieut. Conrad Giroux, chief of detectives:

"They wait for late August when the animals are fattened for market. We've usually been able to follow their tracks to big city markets, but they're too fast for us. The cattle usually have been sold by the time we reach the late stages of investigation."

Municipal Committee To Help Enforce Code

TORONTO (CP)—A municipal committee may assist in enforcement of the Criminal code provisions dealing with crime comics, but it cannot set its own rules, an official of the Attorney General's Department said yesterday.

He was commenting on the Windsor suburb of Riverside's action in setting up a local church committee to censor comic books.

Mayor Robert J. Bondy of Riverside said one of his children brought home a comic book which was a "doozer." One of the episodes showed a man eating his wife. He said if the committee does not do a thorough job, he will assign to the town's police force the job of deciding which books may be sold.

Split Ship Nears Lakes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 714-foot vessel, cut into two sections so that it can negotiate locks on the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers, reached St. Louis yesterday on its long trip from New Orleans to the Great Lakes. The two sections of the ship will be joined at Chicago and the ship, the Joseph H. Thompson of Cleveland, will be put into service as a Great Lakes ore carrier.

IMPORTANT FIND — Barbara Shaw, 20, second-year student of anthropology at the University of Toronto, is credited with bringing to light one of the most important archeological finds in Canada. The Toronto girl was shown what appeared to be a lump of black and bent copper, which she recognized as an Indian axe. Later it was identified by Professor J. Norman Emerson, head of the University's department of anthropology, as dating back to the Old Copper Culture of 5,000 years ago. She is shown with Jack Mangan, former prospector, who found the relics on the shore of Farquhar Lake, near Wilberforce, 60 miles north of Peterborough. Miss Shaw helped him uncover other relics including copper axes, awls, fish-hooks, flanged spear-tips, beads and several Chalcedony flint scrapers.

Boy, Girl Die Aflame

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A brother and sister were splashed with kerosene and set afire by a paper torch after a fight with an 11-year-old neighbor boy yesterday. The two burned to death, trapped and screaming in the attic of their home. The neighbor boy was arrested by juvenile authorities and taken to a home for boys.

Ottawa Ready Share Civil Defence Costs

Brig. Jefferson, addressing the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs, reported progress in civil defence co-ordination with federal government agencies and in training key organizers and instructors for provincial and local programs. Canada now had more than 1,500 instructors.

Aunt Advised Syntona

"I just couldn't seem to get any thing to help me until my aunt advised me to try Syntona and I want to say that since I've been using this medicine my digestion has so improved that I eat all my meals without distress afterwards and my nerves are quieted down allowing me to get my proper sleep. I am also free of the aches and pains and those dizzy feelings so I have gained more energy and do not feel all tired out as I did before."

Order New Trial For Canadians In Rape Case

OTTAWA (CP) — The army's court martial appeal board today ordered a new trial for two Canadian soldiers convicted and sentenced to lengthy jail terms for the alleged rape of a Korean girl.

Pte. Donald James Ferrier and Pte. Vincent Francis Carlisle, both of Toronto and both members of the Royal Canadian Regiment, were sentenced to 10 and 15 years respectively after a military court found them guilty of the rape charge last year. The attack took place in July, 1951, in Korea.

No date was set for the new trial. Army officials said it might be delayed because of the difficulty of rounding up witnesses.

Mr. Justice J.C.A. Cameron, chairman of the five-man appeal board, said the entire case was based on whether the Korean girl had consented to relations with the Canadian soldiers.

He ruled that there actually had been consent and said the judge advocate who presided at the court martial in Korea "did not put the theory of the defence to the court as fully as that of the prosecution."

Stubborn Fire

City firemen are still trying to put out a fire that started some time before 6 p.m. Wednesday night. The fire is burning under peat grass at McKellar and Erskine Ave., and is very difficult to put out. The sod almost has to be all turned over and doused with water before the smouldering fire can be put out. The fire, on city property, is not dangerous and could have been started by spontaneous combustion, say firemen. They tried to put it out from 6 p.m. to midnight and went back at eight o'clock today and were still at it at press time.

Accident Victim Burial Here Uncle In Coma

The funeral of Gordon Shevlin O'Brien of Toronto, who was fatally injured Tuesday in an automobile accident north of Maynooth, will take place Friday morning in Peterborough.

The body is resting at the F. Rosar funeral residence, 467 Sherbourne St., Toronto. The funeral at 8:30 a.m. Friday will proceed to the church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Toronto, for requiem mass at 9 a.m., and thence to St. Peter's cemetery here for burial at 12:30 o'clock.

Mr. O'Brien was a son of the late William J. O'Brien and Margaret Shevlin O'Brien, both formerly of Peterborough. He leaves his mother, his sister Margaret Mary and brother William Morgan O'Brien, of Edgar Ave., Toronto.

He was a nephew of J. Alphonse Shevlin and Miss Nora Shevlin, 303 Frederick Ave., Peterborough.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Mr. Shevlin was seriously injured in the automobile accident, Tuesday. At Civic Hospital this morning it was reported that he had not yet regained consciousness. He has been employed here for years in the baggage department at the C.P.R. station.

Mr. Shevlin was on his vacation, and was motoring toward Peterborough with his nephew, Gordon S. O'Brien, who was driving their car. On a hilltop curve three and a half miles north of Maynooth, their car was in collision with another driven by Clarence Thompson of St. Ola. The head-on crash occurred in heavy rain in the paved county road between Maynooth and Lake St. Peter. The two critically injured men were taken to Bancroft Red Cross Hospital, and were then rushed to Peterborough Civic Hospital. Mr. O'Brien was dead and Mr. Shevlin unconscious on their arrival at the hospital.

Clarence Thompson was only slightly injured, and did not require hospital treatment.

Kemptville Votes To Remain Dry

KEMPTVILLE (CP)—This little Ottawa Valley town, dry for 12 years, is going to remain that way.

More than 80 per cent of the town's 1,085 eligible voters turned out in the rain yesterday to vote on whether Kemptville should have beer and liquor stores and beer taverns and liquor lounges.

None of the proposals gained the required 60 per cent of the vote.

Little Demand For Workers But Fewer Claim Insurance

Demand for skilled workers continues light in this district, with a mere 38 vacancies offered at the National Employment Service. There is little or no demand for unskilled labor. Claims for August are down, on the other hand, to 1,031 from 1,160 in July. They represent an increase of 398 from August of 1951, when there were 633 claims entered.

Only chance for unskilled labor in the district this fall, said W. H. Mellis, NES manager, would come if construction were started on the new federal building at Charlotte and Louis Sts.

FITTERS, MECHANICS

Skilled laborers sought are mostly fitters and mechanics.

Jobs open at present are only one-third of those open in August of 1951, when there were 105 vacancies. For the 38 vacancies, there are 885 applicants, many of these unskilled workers. Applicants in August, 1951, totalled 747.

Layoffs have been few and far between in the past month, but production continues to overshadow sales in many plants, said Mr. Mellis. The result is that there is little demand for workers.

Make Stevenson 1 To 2 Favorite

LONDON (AP)—One of Britain's leading bandbooks made Democrat Adlai Stevenson a 1 to 2 favorite today to win the United States presidential race from Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The short price on the Illinois governor was quoted by Douglas Stuart, Ltd.

The current odds on Stevenson —shaved from 4 to 7 two days ago—mean his supporters must put up $2 of their own to win $1 from Stuart.

Meanwhile, Alistair Cooke, U.S. correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, predicted Stevenson will win 300 electoral votes in November—34 more than the necessary majority of 266.

Airport Could Be Built On Antarctica Says Expert

WASHINGTON.—The frequently contested claims of some 12 nations to segments of Antarctica can be traced in part to the strategic value of the continent's frozen wastes in the plans of global air transport.

This is the opinion of Dr. Juan Lagomarsino of the University of Uruguay's National Institute of Geographical Observations. Dr. Lagomarsino told the recent Seventeenth International Geographical Congress at Washington that Antarctica offers several possible way stations for future world air routes.

"If you will glance at the map," said Dr. Lagomarsino, "you will note that Antarctica lies just in the middle of the course between Australia and South America.

CLOSER THAN EUROPE

"In this regard, I should like to point out that the Australian cities of Sidney, Melbourne and Perth, as well as the capital, Canberra, are much nearer to Montevideo, Buenos Aires or Rio de Janeiro than are Rome, Paris, London, Moscow and other capitals of Europe.

"It is not hard to imagine the possibilities if we think in terms of the supersonic speed of the present jet planes," he said. "Is this the reason why Antarctica, as an aviation field, might be in the coming years a real treasure?"

Dr. Lagomarsino said that Admiral Richard E. Byrd probably has more general knowledge about Antarctica than any other man, and that the Admiral found in that land of everlasting ice at least two inexplicable areas of bare land, one of which held several unfrozen lakes suitable for seaplane landings.

VALUABLE MINERALS

The speaker referred to Admiral Byrd's article on Antarctica in the October, 1947, National Geographic Magazine, and quoted the explorer's contention that the southernmost continent possesses undoubted stores of coal, valuable minerals, and oil. It has present commercial significance for whaling and sealing.

The Antarctic is a vast wilderness of rugged topography and sparse unusual, animal life. Skua gulls viciously attack penguin eggs and young, and almost anything they consider edible. Men must keep out of the way of killer whales and leopard seals. There is one mountain peak of 20,000 feet. The Gilbert Grosvenor range averages 13,000 feet.

In the perpetual light of half the year, sunburn on the bottom of the chin and the palms of the hands is a real threat. "Antarctic white-out," caused by multiple reflections of sunlight, causes aircraft crashes and makes men disappear completely from the view of colleagues only a short distance away.

The interior of the continent is less well known than the sunlit side of the moon. Authorities, among them Admiral Byrd and Dr. Henry J. Warman of Clark University, have suggested that surplus human foods could be stored in the great Antarctic refrigerator against an emergency.

From Montreal By Water Since Saturday

Three Montrealers, Gaeton Robitaille, Yves Fleury and Raymond Lefevbre, arrived in Peterborough on Wednesday afternoon by outboard boat having travelled the entire water route since Saturday morning.

Four travellers started the trip —Gilles Leclair skippered the boat as far as Kingston—and they made the Ottawa River leg to the Capital in 12 hours. They left Ottawa and stayed overnight at Smiths Falls on the Rideau system and due to rain on Monday morning got no farther than Kingston that night. Mr. Leclair left the party at this point.

The following night spent at Poole Point on the Bay of Quinte was a restless one; the mosquitoes were very annoying, they said.

Campbellford was the next overnight stop on Tuesday. They said they would have come along west but the locks closed early—fall closing dates are in effect now—and on Wednesday afternoon arrived in Peterborough.

"We have been royally received in the city," said Mr. Lefevbre today. "We plan to visit several plants, if time permits, and leave for a return trip over the same route sometime on Friday."

Asked for comment on whether or not the Kawarthas had cast any spell over the first-time visitors, they generalized and said that the whole general trip was a beautiful one. They had special praise for the well-marked water route.

200 Veterans Docking Early

OTTAWA (CP)—A group of more than 200 Korean veterans returning to Canada, who had been scheduled to land at Seattle at noon tomorrow, local time, will land instead at 7.30 a.m. and most will reach their homes 24 hours ahead of previous schedule.

This was reported today by the army, which previously issued arrival times of the various troops in their home towns.

The earlier arrivals means getting home 24 hours earlier for all troops headed for Calgary and points east. Previously it had been planned to take the group first to Vancouver. Now the veterans will come east direct from Seattle.

Chamber Operates City's Date Book

Peterborough's date book located in the Chamber of Commerce begins its fourth year of service this fall.

The book was started and has been continued so that organizations in the city can have some place to check dates when planning activities. In this way overlapping can be avoided.

The information from the book is also available to any citizen of Peterborough.

This service is the only type of it kind in the city and the chamber officials believe that it can be very useful if it is used by all clubs and organizations.

Morrow Park Made Ready For Exhibition

Morrow Park is getting a face lifting in anticipation of the Peterborough Exhibition, Sept. 10-13.

Amar Butcher, superintendent of the Parks Department, said today that all available department men are on the grounds trimming the long grass, cutting down old trees and giving the grounds a general grooming.

This work started Wednesday and will continue until opening day of the exhibition.

The parks department is also setting up playground equipment in the tot lot, which is a popular feature for children attending the exhibition. The equipment for the lot was taken from the outlying playgrounds, where activity has stopped since school started.

Masonic Temple Opens On Friday

Peterborough's three masonic lodges, Corinthian, Peterborough and Royal Arthur will meet on Friday night, for the first time, in the new Masonic Temple on Rubidge St.

Purchased from Miss Margaret Hamilton the property was formerly owned by Charlotte Nicholls. The original stone house which has walls three feet thick, was built in 1847. To this centre section there was later added the two one-storey wings and the beautiful Colonial front.

To this spacious building centred in a city block the masons have added a lodge hall with dining room underneath, while the inside of the house has been fitted out as rooms for the temple.

The formal dedication is expected to take place the last Friday in October when the Grand Master of Grand Lodge or his representative will conduct the ceremony.

Customs Officer Takes Ban Seriously

WINNIPEG (CP)—The embargo on Canadian cattle entering the United States apparently applies even to an animal sandwiched between two slices of bread.

A Winnipeg family, just returned from a visit to the U.S., today reported the following conversation at the Neche, N.D., customs office:

Officer: "Have you any food with you:"

"Yes, we have our picnic lunch."

Officer: "Any meat sandwiches "Yes."

Officer: "I'm sorry, you'll have to leave them in Canada."

The Winnipeg family just backed their motor-car up to the border, opened the picnic lunch and ate the unsanctioned sandwiches, then drove on.

Question Department On Moose Season

SUDBURY (CP)—The Sudbury and district Chamber of Commerce last night decided to ask the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests why the dates Nov. 26 to Dec. 24 were chosen for Ontario's 1952 moose season.

Mike Bates, vice-chairman of the chamber's tourist committee, termed the dates "foolish and impractical." He said it will mean a concentrated slaughter of moose in areas close to railways and roads, since it will be impossible to get moose out of more remote sections of the bush at that time of year.

Police Arrest 3 Suspects In $3,000 Series Of Thefts Of Outboard Motors, Tackle

Thieves Ranged Whole District For Activities Stole Motors From Rented Boats; Three Toronto Men Brought Here On Charges

Arrest of three men Wednesday in Toronto is expected to bring an end to the epidemic of outboard motor thefts in the Kawartha district. Motors and fishing tackle to the value of more than $3,000 have been taken from tourists and residents of the district. Three Toronto men—Lawrence Howell, Herbert Halstead and Joseph Larocque — have been arrested and will be brought to Peterborough some time today by Provincial Constables Lyle Erskine and John Cawood.

The men, it is understood, have made statements to police, and will face "a number of charges of theft."

Area covered in the motor thefts this summer ranged from the northern part of the county to the Rice Lake and Cobourg districts.

CAMP HIDEOUT

Near Gooderham, provincial police have located a summer camp, partly owned by one of the three men, which has been used as a hideout this summer. Police here say there was obvious evidence that the shack, as they described it, was used for a hideout.

Largest single theft in the district was on July 28, when thieves stole more than $500 worth of fishing tackle and an outboard motor near Buckhorn.

Two U.S. tourists—E. T. Rowland, of West Virginia, and W. S. Gardiner, of New York—were the main victims. Theirs was the fishing tackle that was stolen. Joe Kelso, of Buckhorn, had an outboard motor stolen from his trailer.

The tourists offered rewards of $50 for return of the tackle and $50 for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.

RENTED BOATS

Technique used by the thieves in many cases was this: they would rent a boat and outboard motor, drive it out of sight of the owner and to a lake near where an accomplice would park a car. Then they would set the boat adrift, after removing the motor.

In other cases the thefts would be committed at night. Using a boat, the thieves would go to the dock of a tourist resort and remove any motors left on boats overnight. The boat they used for transporting themselves and the motors would invariably be a stolen one.

Using these and other methods not cited by police, thieves stole from 15 to 20 outboard motors and an unestimated amount of fishing tackle in the Kawarthas this summer.

Four of the motors were recovered in Toronto this week by the investigating constables, Cawood and Erskine. They will bring the three suspects to Peterborough today after a further search for stolen motors is made.

Memorial Plate To Be Unveiled

Ald. A. B. Burrows, chairman of the fire and light committee, said today that the bronze mural tablet at the city hall in memory of the four firemen who were killed in action last year would be unveiled Sunday, Sept. 14 at 4 p.m.

The event will not be generally announced. Because the plaque placement is in the general office at the City Hall, it has been decided to mail invitations as a necessity in adjusting assembly to the accommodation of the room.

An official of the Fire Marshal's department is being requested to perform the unveiling, and Rev. Ivan Morgan is being asked to make the address.

Stewart Foster Appointed Acting Chief

Temporary appointments in the fire department were proposed at the meeting of the fire and light committee Wednesday afternoon.

First Assistant Chief Stewart Foster is recommended for the responsibility of Acting Chief during the present absence of Chief George Smith.

Second Assistant Chief Virgil Carr to be First Assistant Chief.

Captain Albert Mason to be Second Assistant Chief; Victor Barry to be Acting Captain.

Some members of the committee were disposed to question the action of Ald. Herbert Young, as acting mayor, in authorizing a department pumper to respond to an urgent call from Keene Sunday morning.

The council had set up a policy which was supposed to be inflexible, rigid and so on, that the city department had too much territory within its own borders, with only a central station, and could not accept calls from the townships. The Lakefield and Smith volunteer departments create exceptions in their municipalities because they have joined the city in a mutual aid agreement.

SHORTAGE OF WATER

Lack of water at rural fires has been one of the obstacles to the department when it did send motor equipment. Domestic well supply of water was quickly exhausted, and department officers had found in their experience that when they did go into the townships they were too often there as helpless spectators.

At Keene, however, it was said that a hose line could be run to the Indian River, and because of the cluster of homes in the Otonabee hamlet, it is likely that Ald. Young decided to stretch a point. Mayor Waddell was supporting his deputy in this matter, which is being referred to the finance committee at its meeting subsequent to the city council session next Monday night.

Mining Exploration Conference Topic

TORONTO (CP)—The Society of Exploration Geophysicists, meeting here Oct. 27-28, will discuss mining exploration.

Raph B. Ross, chairman of the society's eastern region program committee, said yesterday increasing use of geophysical methods has prompted the society in the choice of its discussion topic.

Exploration scientists from many sections of the United States and Canada are expected to take part.

FLYING SAUCER? So you don't believe in flying saucers? Henry Tadenza, of Clova, Abitibi, didn't either—until he took this picture. "It was June 25 or 26, 1952, about 11 p.m., he wrote. "It had been raining. The rain stopped about 9 o'clock, but the sky was still overcast. I had just finished taking a night shot of Montreal when I saw a light in the sky. I quickly snapped a picture. The result is the enclosed photograph." He said the light was "travelling." The camera was stationary and the film was exposed for half a minute. Several objects, all similar to the large one, can be observed in the picture—possibly the result of the exposure. Are they flying saucers—or mushrooms, or collar buttons? Your guess is as good as ours.

Red China Builds New Dams With Forced Labor; Big Reconstruction Works

By O. M. GREEN

LONDON (OFNS) — "China Reconstructs" is a bi-monthly magazine in English recently founded by the Chinese government and now coming regularly to London. Its title explains itself; it is excellently produced on thick glazed paper, well written and copiously illustrated.

In it, for example, is a picture of the great dam which is an essential part of the conservancy of the HUAI River in Central China. This work was begun by the Nationalists, interrupted by the Japanese invasion, and is being pushed on by the Communists. When complete, it should save thousands of good acres from yearly flooding.

60,000 IN FORESTS

One article describes the lumber work in the Hsingan forests in Northeastern Manchuria, which is said to employ sixty thousand lumbermen. Another article tells how the peasants were mobilized to fight the drought which afflicted several provinces in Northern and Eastern China last spring. There is an illustrated article on the comforts of the clubs provided for workers, and two pages of pictures of workers disporting themselves at seaside resorts. These articles form the most patently propagandist side of "China Reconstructs."

On the other hand, there is no reason to question the achievements of the Communists in conservancy on the middle Yangtze as well as on the Huai; and in the building of the new railway in West China from Chungking to Chengtu and the recently announced extension of the Lung-Hai railway northwestwards through Sinkiang intended to link up with Russia's Central Asian Railways. In material things the Communists are unquestionably efficient.

JOYFUL WORKERS?

But whether the workers are as joyful under their new rulers as Peking would have us believe, is another question.

Light was thrown on this by a recent discussion by the State Administrative Council of the serious unemployment which, it was frankly admitted, still prevails.

The unemployed fall into three classes: intellectuals, army officers and officials of the Nanking government, who have "failed to reform themselves" or have no technical skill; workers in private luxury trades which ministered to the former "corrupt and pleasure-seeking landlords and bureaucrats" and which are now sternly discouraged; and the surplus peasants.

As regards the last class, there always was a large surplus of peasants who could find no regular work on the land; and it is in no way reduced by distributing the landlords' property among their tenants. In fact, the State Administrative Council admitted that it had been worsened by new mechanical farming and by the agricultural co-operative groups in which each member pools his land, labor and beasts—if he has any.

The managers of private trades were told that in no circumstances could they dismiss their staffs, but must keep them on and pay their wages in full, while they are trained to be a labor reserve which can be drawn upon for State needs.

"FUTILE" INTELLECTUALS

The impenitent or "futile" intellectuals and ex-officials must be sent to clear their heads and harden their muscles by open-air labor. It is up to them, they are told, to improve their position.

As for the surplus peasants, there must be planned mass migration to the sparsely populated regions of the northwest, west and southwest. Villagers must also be moved into the towns to help in the development of cities and various phases of national effort. A significant addendum to this last order is that "the peasants should be persuaded to overcome their reluctance to move to urban areas."

Whether they do or not, there is little doubt that they will have to go; and since the State Administrative Council has ordered a registration of every unemployed person, there seems no chance of escape.

MISSION DISCONCERTED

When the Indian Cultural Mission, headed by Mrs. Pandit (Mr. Nehru's sister) was in China in June, it was disconcerted to learn that the conservancy of the Yangtze was being done by forced labor. The explanation given was that the men were reactionaries — no doubt in process of re-education. But from many sources it is clear that the peasants are regarded by the Communists as beasts of burden to be moved about as required. The State Administrative Council's decision for mass migration of superfluous labor is but one evidence of this.

Another, and a still uglier, side of Red rule has lately been shown in the introduction of a nation-wide security system, in which everyone is called on to spy on his neighbor. In every factory, office and village there are to be security committees empowered not only to denounce suspected reactionaries and deviationists, but even to arrest them.

SNAPPED BY WINDSTORM—The tail section of a B-36 Superbomber lies torn from the fuselage after a 100-mile-an-hour windstorm roared over Carswell Air Force Base, near Fort Worth, Tex. Losses at the field were estimated to be more than $10,000,000. The gale caused one death in the Fort Worth area and nine injuries.

Forest Scientists Exchanging Ideas

OTTAWA (CP)—Forest scientists of the Commonwealth exchanged ideas yesterday on how best to make trees grow—all kinds of trees from the giant Canadian fir to the East Africa olive and in many countries around the globe

Delegates to the sixth British Commonwealth Forestry Conference heard how some trees are helped to grow and others are discouraged in Uganda, Africa, Tasmania, Pakistan, India and other countries.

The consensus among delegates about the tree-growing phase of the science of silviculture was that its usefulness depends on utilization of the trees encouraged. There was no use having one without the other.

New Industrial Era For Edmonton In 1953

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A new industrial era, based on Alberta's natural gas, will begin for Edmonton early in 1953 unless steel shortages and strikes cause further construction delays.

Completion of the Canadian Chemical Company's $55,000,000 plant on Edmonton's eastern outskirts will mark the opening of Western Canada's first large-scale chemical industry.

Utilizing the natural resources of Alberta—namely 40,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily—the new industry will provide basic chemical and textile materials which Canadian workers will turn into thousands of products for home use and export.

EXPECT MANY BENEFITS

Natural gas is easily accessible from Edmonton and the city expects to reap great benefits from its strategic location in Alberta's oil and gas fields.

Besides Canadian Chemical, Canadian Industries Ltd., and Sherritt-Gordon Mines Ltd. are constructing plants in the Edmonton area, and when in operation the three will consume 57,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily.

The C.I.L. plant, costing $13,000,000 and to use 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, will produce polythene, a plastic widely used in electrical and pharmaceutical industries. Sherritt-Gordon's $12,0000,000 plant at Fort Saskatchewan, 11 miles east of Edmonton, will produce 17,000,000 pounds of refined nickel annually and its daily gas consumption will reach 7,000,000 cubic feet.

Canadian Chemical, using butane and propane gases, by-products of oil refining, will produce acetic acid, acetone and 10 other chemicals, several of them not yet being made in Canada.

Acetic acid, combined with purified woodpulp to be brought in from Prince Rupert, B.C., makes cellulose acetate. This is the basic ingredient in making acetate filament yarn, staple fibre and acetate plastics.

HAS MANY USES

Cellulose acetate is processed with acetone to make the yarn and fibre and these are woven into fine fabrics used in wearing apparel, home furnishings and industrial items.

In full operation, the chemical plant's yearly production will reach 25,000,000 pounds of cellulose acetate, a flaky material similar to corn flakes. Of this, 10,000,000 pounds will be sold for export.

The Edmonton plant will turn 10,000,000 pounds into staple fibre and 5,000,000 pounds into acetate filament yarn.

An acid-claiming unit will produce formaldehyde, methanol, propylene glycol, pentaerythrial, isobutanol, n-propyl acetate, diproylene glycol, n-butanol and acetaldehyde.

Formaldehyde is used primarily in manufacture of plywood glue and the others are used in making antifreeze, brake fluids, solvents, resins and various other products.

WORK NOW SPEEDY

Construction of the manufacturing centre, covering 200 acres of a 430-acre site, was begun in June, 1951. Steel shortages and strikes have set back completion and thrown out company officials' hope that some of the equipment would be in operation late this year.

However, work is progressing steadily. More than 4,000 tons of steel have been erected and 30,000 cubic yards of cement poured. Complete waterworks and sewage systems and electrical lines have been laid underground with intricate piping networks between storage tanks and processing buildings.

Film Civic Records To Conserve Space

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton's civic records are being put on film to overcome a storage problem.

Already on celluloid are the minutes of city council and council committee meetings from 1907 to the end of 1951. All city by-laws from 1918 to the end of 1951 also have been filmed.

Officials now are filing commissioners' reports for the 1918-1951 period. Then they will tackle civic contracts.

Cancer Society Prepared To Give Information, Guidance

The Little Red Door, the friendly, intimate, drop-in centre for free cancer information and guidance will be located at the Peterborough Exhibition next week and the first three days of the following week at the Public Library. The Little Red Door is the newest project of the Canadian Cancer Society's Ontario Division and is to tour the various cities and towns throughout Ontario on the vital mission of cancer control.

When a bequest was left to the Toronto branch of the society as a memorial to one who died of the disease, it was Mrs. Egmont Frankel, the branch president, who suggested that the proceeds be put to this purpose and the vehicle turned over to the Ontario Division which is prepared to give it extensive use in areas not organized by units of the society and in areas where they have organized but have no Little Red Door.

Miss McEwen, the nurse chauffeur is a registered graduate with training and experience in social work and acts as confidante and lay advisor to all who come to the Little Red Door, free of charge.

LEARN ABOUT DISEASE

Here, people interested to learn of cancer's danger signals; haunted by the fear of cancer, or too timid or uninformed to seek information and advice from professional sources can talk in confidence with one who will understand and sympathize and tell them all a layman needs to know about the disease. And she suggests or directs them to the proper place for diagnosis and care in the necessary instances.

Interviews with the nurse can be varied in nature, due to the different needs of the visitor. In conducting an interview with a person who might have cancer, it is the nurse's primary duty to bring cases of this nature into the care of a doctor without delay so that treatment can be given as soon as possible. In the event of the visitor not having a doctor in mind to whom he or she can go for diagnosis, the nurse is equipped with the list of medical practitioners in the vicinity, as well as information regarding treatment centres from which the visitor may make a choice.

CARING FOR PATIENTS

While the main object of the Little Red Door is to direct those who may be suffering from cancer to the proper place for diagnosis and treatment, because, through apathy or ignorance many seek medical assistance only as a last resort, it is important also to be able to give helpful advice to those caring for cancer patients at home. It may be methods of applying dressings, cleaning and sterilization of the sick room and kindred problems. No matter, each enquirer receives help and direction.

The importance of the Little Red Door is well known in the four Ontario cities, Ottawa, London, Hamilton and Toronto, where permanent sites for their benevolent services have spelt renewed health for some and extension of life to many others.

WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED

To put the services into round figures: since the first of these information centres began to function in 1950, over 5,300 calls and visits have been made. Of those visitors advised to seek medical care approximately 120 are known to have been diagnosed, subsequently, as having cancer, through information coming back voluntarily to the information centre.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS

For many years it has been known that the greatest hope for the cure of cancer is through early diagnosis and adequate treatment. In 1932 the Canadian Medical Association set up a committee which later recommended the organization of a lay society to help combat cancer. In 1935 the first fund raising began through public subscription to commemorate the 25th Jubilee of King George V. It was the yearly interest on this fund that established the Canadian Cancer Society in 1938.

The Canadian Cancer Society entirely made up of volunteers with the exception of the comparatively small and necessary office staff, now functions with divisions in each of the 10 provinces. These 10 divisions are subdivided into about 120 units with a membership of approximately 400,000 people. The Ontario Division accounts for 30 of these units.

$400,000 RAISED THIS YEAR

Through the tireless efforts of the Ontario division approximately $400,00 was raised this year to enable it to carry on its educational and service programs and to contribute its share to the national efforts being made in scientific research on cancer.

As with any voluntary, charitable group of men and women, it is their responsibility to invest the public's donated dollar so that it will double or treble its value in the work it is to do. In extending the services of the Little Red Door to a mobile unit that will reach into new and needy territory, it is doing just that.

But the hopes and plans of the workers can only go so far. The whole-hearted interest and cooperation of the public to make use of this information centre is most necessary. It is up to every one of us to become acquainted with the facilities it has to offer, to talk about it to others and encourage their interest and so, pass the good word along.

Responsibility for early detection of cancer rests in a great measure on the individual's own recognition of the warning symptoms. Any unusual lump or swelling, especially in the breast; any unusual bleeding or discharge; any change in normal bowel habit; any sore which does not heal on skin or mouth, while not necessarily indicative of cancer, should be the cue to do something about it.

New Medical Marvel

Doctor Gives Three Humans Spare Artery To Aid Heart

CHICAGO (AP)—A surgeon told yesterday of giving three humans a spare or third artery to carry blood to the sick, damaged hearts.

Another man had the sick part of his heart—a pulsing bubble of muscle—cut out to strengthen his heart.

These new operations are experiments in a search for ways to save or help people stricken with coronary heart attacks.

They were described to the International College of Surgeons by Dr. D. W. Gordon Murray, associate professor of surgery, university of Toronto, and medical director of the Caven Research Institute, Toronto.

Coronaries come when blood clots block one of the two arteries nourishing the heart itself. Hardening of arteries has narrowed these arteries. The blockage weakens the heart muscle by shutting off blood supply. Bad clots may kill quickly or leave the heart severely damaged.

The spare artery possibly is one way of giving the heart extra nourishing blood and sidestepping danger from new clots in the hardened arteries.

For the spare, Dr. Murray used the internal mammary artery running through the chest, near the heart. He cut it, tying off the short end. The long end was inserted into a tunnel inside the heart muscle to deliver its blood there. Other blood vessels took over the job of supplying blood to the chest area once served by the mammary artery.

One man getting the spare had been having dozens of angina pain attacks daily, at the slightest exertion. For three years now he's been able to walk a mile daily.

Liquor For Sale Belmont Man Jailed 2 Months

Wilfred Radcliffe, a railway section hand who lives in Belmont township, on Wednesday was convicted of keeping liquor for sale and he was given the minimum of two months in jail. Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope also declared his home a public place.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Chief witness was Donald Wright, 19, of Belmont township who testified that he went to Radcliffe's home on March 15 and bought 24 pints of beer. The price was $8, set by Radcliffe himself.

Wright, who some time later was arrested by provincial police, said he bought beer from Radcliffe several times after that.

Radcliffe, acting as his own counsel, made no comment except to say that Wright was "lying."

KEPT WATCH

O.P.P. Sgt. Stanley Palmateer said that he kept a watch on Radcliffe's home for several days and with the exception of Wright had seen only male adults drive up and away again.

When Radcliffe's home was raided only three cases of beer were found. Three bottles were unaccounted for out of one case and all the bottles out of the other two cases were missing.

Radcliffe did not give any evidence on his own behalf.

As Radcliffe had no previous conviction on a bootlegging charge Magistrate Baxter gave him the minimum sentence of two months in jail.

"COOL CONTROL"

the "OVERLAPPING" GRIP

1 Allow club shaft to lie diagonally across the left hand.

2 Close fingers for firm but not tight grip on club, with left thumb running down outside of shaft. 'V' formed by thumb and forefinger should point to right shoulder.

This is considered finest grip for control of club.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

New Recess Called By Negotiators

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Korean armistice negotiators today ended one recess and called another after the United Nations Command suggested that the Communists really don't want to end the fighting.

The delegates met for 31 minutes at Panmunjom in their first session since Aug. 27. No progress was reported. The Reds agreed to a U. N. request for a recess until Sept. 12, the sixth straight recess.

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied negotiator, told the Communists: "There is a widely-held sucpicion that you do not desire an armistice and that your negotiations are mere camouflage to conceal your real purpose to continue the conflict."

CHARGES INDIFFERENCE

Harrison charged that the unyielding Communist stand on the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange shows "that you are cruelly indifferent to your people or that you are mere puppets of alien Communist rulers, obedient to your masters' commands."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator, retorted that Harrison was attempting to sow discord between the Chinese and Korean Communists.

The Communists demand return of 116,000 Allied-held prisoners, including all 20,000 Chinese. The U. N. has offered to return 83,000, including 6,400 Chinese, insisting that the 87,000 other prisoners don't want to rejoin Communism.

Flying Boxcars Work In North

EDMONTON (CP)—The R.C.A.F. is switching to bigger planes to do its northern transport work out of Edmonton.

The first of the "flying boxcars" which will ultimately be used exclusively have been delivered to the Edmonton-based 435 transport squadron. They are Fairchild planes and are known as C119s. Until the Fairchilds arrived, the 435 squadron had been using Dakotas.

The new transports can carry 10 to 12 tons, about five times as muc as a Dakota. Their range is 2,000 miles compared to a Dakota's 1,500. A Fairchild can do 220 miles an hour, 80 faster than a Dakota.

The "boxcars" can load individual items up to the size of a 2½-ton truck or a medium-sized tank. Used as a troop carrier, it can accommodate 62 soldiers with equipment. As an ambulance, it can carry 35 litters.

Charge Reduced Ability Impaired Man Fined $50

O.P.P. Constable Jack Ricard said he went to an accident at Highway 28 and Langton St. at 4:45 p.m. McLennan's car had apparently left the highway on the west side, sideswiped two mail boxes, plowed through a field and a raspberry patch and ended up in the south ditch on Langton St., 120 feet west of the highway.

He didn't think McLennan was injured but he seemed drunk. While being questioned McLennan mistook the police cruiser for his own car, said Constable Ricard.

FOUND BOTTLE

A short distance away he found a bottle of whiskey in some bushes. Ironically enough, McLennan had told Constable Ricard he would find a bottle of whiskey if he searched the car and the accused man was as surprised as the constable when it was not there.

Somebody else had removed it.

Constable Arthur Beardsmore of the city police corroborated Constable Ricard's statement that McLennan was drunk.

R. A. Gibson who lives by the side of the highway near the accident said McLennan wasn't steady on his feet, his eyes had a "peculiar shiny look;" moreover he was abusive, wanted to fight and repeatedly swore.

Defence Counsel James Dunn was critical of Gibson's testimony that McLennan was driving 48 to 55 miles an hour. Gibson was way out in his estimate of distances at the scene of the accident and distance enters into the computation of speed, said Mr. Dunn.

McLennan said he wasn't drunk; that he had only consumed three bottles of beer that afternoon. The whiskey was for a corn roast that night.

The accused man testified that a northbound car forced him over onto the west side of the highway; he sideswiped one mail box owned by Mr. Gibson then plowed into another. He struck his head on the door when he twisted his head violently to avoid the flying mail box that seemed to be coming through the windshield. After striking his head he recalled nothing until the car stopped.

Dr. Ralph Clark testified that when he examined McLennan two days after the accident he "showed all the signs of post-cerebral hemorrhage." McLennan had suffered severe concussion overseas and seemed to be suffering from headaches, dizziness and nervousness.

Place Strikers In Contempt

MONTREAL— (CP) — A petition to have 2,000 striking employees of Canadian Vickers Ltd., declared in contempt of court was presented Wednesday to Superior Court despite hints of a break in Quebec province shipyard strikes called two weeks ago.

Russel Thoman vice-president of Vickers, told Mr. Justice E. Fabre Surveyer, pickets threw stones at him and threatened him while he was at the controls of a donkey engine in the shipyards.

Mr. Thoman said he went to work on the yard engine because Vickers wanted to move a 30-ton piece of equipment from the yards

Charles Gauthier, an official of the National Metal Trade Workers Union (AFL) said members of his organization idle due to the strike in which they have not taken part also were threatened by strikers.

The petition seeks to have an estimate 2,000 members of the National Syndicate of Shipyard Workers (CCCL) declared in contempt of court.

The court extended until Sept. 17 the term of an order of prohibit intimidation by members of the striking union.

Before the court hearing Wednesday, officials of the Syndicate dropped hints that a settlement of shipyard strikes here and at Lauzon, near Quebec City, may be in the making.

The 2,000 Montreal workers and 4,000 more at Lauzon seek wage increases of 25 cents an hour.

Portable Classrooms Used In Vancouver

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Many of the thousands of Canadian children who trooped back to school this week found classrooms crowded.

A Canadian Press survey today shows that while crowding is the big problem in a number of fast growing communities, a teacher shortage is the main worry for other school boards.

Twenty-five to 30 teachers still are needed for Newfoundland schools with two or more class rooms, even more for one-room schools.

In Nova Scotia the shortage of teachers continues. Cape Breton officials may start correspondence courses for children in some grades.

Manitoba accommodation presents a few problems in the rural areas. The Alberta situation has improve during the last year.

In British Columbia prolonged strikes in the construction trades have affected schools along the lower mainland and on Vancouver Island. Work on needed additions and new schools was brought to a standstill for more than a month.

USE 'PORTABLES'

Vancouver school board has instituted "portable" one-room classrooms which can be moved on truck from one school to another.

In interior British Columbia, schools didn't open Tuesday as scheduled because of a poliomyelitis outbreak.

Seven hundred thousand children went back to school in Quebec which has more than 9,000 schools. Extensive building programs have been under way.

In Ontario, some 832,400 pupils are enrolled, an increase of 38,000 over last year.

At London, Ont., 500 public school teachers, 60 more than last year, prepared to teach the city's young. Basements and auditoriums have been used to catch the overflow from the record 18,000 boys and girls who have registered.

Eisenhower's Tour Of South Exceeds Highest Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, jubilant over his triumphant sweep through Dixie, formally opens his presidential campaign in Philadelphia tonight with an address outlining his views on foreign policy.

The Republican presidential nominee is expected to plunge into this major campaign issue by criticizing the Truman administration's conduct of foreign affairs in his talk (9:30 p.m. EDT, NBC radio television.)

The general returned to New York last night from a two-day, six-speech drive through the solid south—first ever made by a Republican presidential candidate—that drew about 300,000 persons in Atlanta, Jacksonville, Miami, Tampa, Birmingham and Little Rock.

PREDICTS SPLIT

Aides conceded that the enthusiastic reaction exceeded their "fondest expectations." One top adviser predicted a November split in the traditionally-Democratic south.

From Philadelphia, the general will push on to Chicago tomorrow, and then on Saturday to Kasson, Minn., where his path will cross that of the Democratic presidential candidate, Governor Adlai Stevenson.

Stevenson today was in his Springfield, Ill., headquarters, putting the finishing touches on speeches he will deliver on a western campaign beginning tomorrow in Denver. What he will discuss is a secret.

Meanwhile, there were reports that Stevenson's supporters were trying to drive a wedge between Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio in order to split Republican ranks.

Some said the Democrats may get a "major break" in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa as a result of the advice by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, to Republicans to ignore both party candidates and concentrate on a third party for 1956.

The belief in some circles is that many Republicans, still bitter over Taft's loss to Eisenhower in the July nomination struggle, would heed McCormick's advice.

Senator Richard M. Nixon of California, Republican vice-presidential nominee, speaks in Hartford, Conn., before a reception of women Republicans. He scheduled an afternoon press conference and another speech tonight.

Nixon said in Sanford, Me., yesterday that there are 10 uncovered cases of government corruption for every one the public knows about.

Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, heads for New Mexico on the second leg of his western tour.

He has been pounding hard at the theme that Eisenhower is conducting a me-too campaign.

Sounds Good

Russia Pushes Propaganda Against Oil Settlement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communists have mounted a major propaganda offensive to try to defeat the Truman-Churchill proposals for a settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

The voice of Soviet Communism beamed into Iran is a clandestine "Azerbaijan democratic" radio station which officials here believe to be on Russian territory. A record of broadcasts during the last few days shows a violent opposition to the oil deal offered Iran by Britain and the United States last Saturday.

The threepoint plan, sent to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh by President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill, is being denounced by the Reds as "plunderous proposals," a device for "American imperialists" to steal Iranian oil and a plan put forth by the "deadly enemies" of the Iranian people.

LEADERS BLASTED

The same broadcasts blast with equal heat Truman, Churchill and Mossadegh, despite the fact that Mossadegh has already turned down the plan.

Churchill and Truman proposed Saturday that the World Court determine compensation for British property in Iran which the Tehran government has nationalized, that Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Company arrange for sale of the Iranian oil in world markets, and that specific steps be taken to end promptly the Iranian government's financial distress.

The British and U. S. governments are concerned lest Iran's continued lack of oil revenues, cut off for more than a year, should throw the country into Communist control.

Mossadegh termed the proposals "unacceptable." American officials had felt that the plan was exactly what Mossadegh had said he wanted. It now appears that Mossadegh is afraid of a "trap" because the plan appeared to meet his requirements too completely.

More TV Stations For Canada - P.M.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Youth got top priority today as Prime Minister St. Laurent's let's-get-acquainted tour continued in British Columbia.

First call on today's schedule was at New Westminister junior high school, where the Prime Minister was to speak to students and do some tree-planting on the school grounds.

The second call was at Burnaby South high school to speak to assembled students.

And before leaving for Victoria at midnight tonight, the Prime Minister will sandwich in a batch of other calls. These include receiving an honorary degree at the University of British Columbia, speaking at the formal opening of the new U. B. C. law building and attending a dinner and a reception.

SPEAKS OF TV

Mr. St. Laurent arrived here yesterday with an announcement that set private radio broadcasters speculating.

In reporting that the government wants an additional loan for the CBC for construction of three new television stations, the Prime Minister noted:

"The part to be played by privately-owned stations in extending national television services in Canada is being actively considered by the government."

When reporters asked if this means that private radio might be allowed to operate television, Mr. St. Laurent said: "It is certainly not the intention to have television any more a monopoly than radio broadcasting."

He did not elaborate.

The Pacific coast will get one of the new stations, and the others will be located in the prairie provinces and in the Atlantic provinces.

USERS TO PAY

Mr. St. Laurent also spoke on the government's stand on obtaining revenue for the embryo television industry in Canada.

"As national television will, in the initial stages at least, cover only a part of Canada, the government considers that its cost ought not to be financed out of the general revenue of the country.

"National television services should be paid for by those who receive their benefits, not by the people at large. How payment for these services should be made is a question that is still under consideration."

Mr. St. Laurent said earlier he hopes to lead the Liberals into the next general election but he parried questions about the probable date of the balloting.

"I hope my health will continue to be such that it will be the right thing to do," he said when a reporter asked him if he will continue as leader when an election is called.

Labor Union Said Controlled By Red Agents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators today described a labor union as being "under the control of agents of the Kremlin," and urged the Justice Department to consider perjury action against its officers who signed non-Communist affidavits.

A tightening of the law to prevent Communists from holding union jobs or offices also was recommended by the Senate's internal security sub-committee in a report on its investigation of the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America, an independent union. The sub-committee made public sworn testimony in which the president of union, Arthur Osman of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a number of other top officials were described as Communists.

Osman refused to answer when asked if he ever had been a Communist. Other officers also balked at saying whether they are or ever were members of the Communist party.

The D. P. O. W. A., with some 65,000 members, was formed in October, 1950.

PERJURY INDICATED

The hearings showed that Osman and others identified in the testimony as Communists had signed the non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley law to make the union eligible for certification as a bargaining agent by the National Labor Relations Board.

The sub-committee recommended that Congress give prompt attention to a bill now before it to make it unlawful for a member of a Communist organization to hold office or any job with a labor organizations designated as subversive by the Attorney-General.

The largest unit of the D. P. O. W. A. is district 65, with about 35,000 members in the New York City area. The sub-committee received testimony that it has used "goon squads" and other terrorist tactics against small business concerns and their employees.

Harvey M. Matusow of Dayton, Ohio, a self-described former Communist who turned informer, testified that almost without exception the full-time employees of the union are Communist party members.

Mine Closes

BENONI, South Africa (CP)—Operations at New Modder, a gold mine near here, have come to an end after 57 years of active work. It yielded more than £70,000,000 worth of gold.

Busy Road-Building

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta (CP) Plans for the biggest road program in the district's history have been made by the county council. More than $150,000 has been earmarked for construction of more than 100 miles of road and surfacing of another 55 miles.

Helicopter Taxi Ottawa To Montreal

OTTAWA (CP)—You should be able to take a helicopter "taxi" between such places as Ottawa and Montreal within 10 years. And by that time you should be able to fly from Vancouver to Toronto in four hours.

These are some of the predictions of John R. Baldwin, chairman of the Air Transport Board, which controls civil aviation in Canada.

In a speech to an Ottawa service club he looked into aviation's crystal ball and predicted that "Helicabs" would be running a 45-minute taxi service over the 125-mile route from Ottawa to Montreal by 1962, and perhaps earlier than that.

For longer distances, he said a big part of air travel would be done in jet transport planes flying 500 miles an hour or more, at heights of eight or nine miles. Air travel would become cheaper and safer, and people would be able to get tourist-class seats.

Bette Davis Tries Hand At Broadway

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bette Davis was preparing to leave next week for New York, where she will begin rehearsals in a revue, "Two is Company." It will be her first Broadway show since she came to Hollywood for a distinguished career that has lasted more than two decades.

"Of course I'm nervous!" said the actress, who generaly speaks with exclamation marks. Who wouldn't be nervous? But I'm not worried. It's a fine show and I'll do my best to help make it a hit. Ogden Nash has written some wonderful material."

Will she sing in the show?

"Certainly I'll sing! It's a musical, isn't it?"

Is she practicing a time step for the dance numbers?

"Now, really, how long has it been since you've seen a time step in a revue. Jerome Robbins is doing the choreography, and he's the best in his field!"

NOT CONCERNED

Is she concerned about facing a live audience after all these years in movies?

"Of course not! Oh, the first night in New York may be tense. But there's no difference in the mediums. If you're an actor, you're an actor! It doesn't matter whether it's stage, pictures, television or radio. You're still acting.

"This matter of 'going back' to the stage is ridiculous! You don't 'go back' to the stage. It's merely a matter of geography; acting is acting in any medium."

Miss Davis added that she will stay with the show as long as she is needed. That could mean two years, if it's a hit. Is she worried about being off the screen that long?

"Not in the least! The only way to get good things done in this business is to take chances. That's the trouble with Hollywood—it forgot how to take chances."

Bette is certainly a gal who takes chances. She has gambled at many turns in her career. After playing ingenues, she took a flyer on the unattractive role of Mildred in "of Human Bondage." It started her on the road to being the screen's top dramatic actress.

She changed a secondary role in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" because she felt she needed a comedy. While most other top names shunned television, she did a comedy show with Jimmy Durante and even helped out on the commercials.

Right now she's finishing up "The Star," another example of her taking a chance. It's a bitter story of a Hollywood star who hits the downward trail. No connection with Bette Davis.

ONE KILLED — Eight-year-old Betty Worthington, of Freehold, N.J., whose cocker spaniel, "Paddy," was run over and killed by a speeding car in Gov. Adlai Stevenson's motor caravan, clutches her dog "Bumpy," a cocker spaniel and the only pet she has left. The U.S. Democratic presidential nominee was en route to a political rally in Neptune, N.J., when the dog was killed. Stevenson, when advised that "Paddy's" owner had been found, said he was "exceedingly concerned" about the accident and wanted to make amends.

New Left-Wing Party In India Has Outstanding Personalities

By ARRAN MOORE

NEW DELHI (OFNS) — The most interesting political event in India since the country's last general election is the merger just announced from Lucknow, of the Socialist Party with Acharya Kripalani's group known as K.M.-P.P. which is almost entirely composed of former Congressmen who have broken away from Congress, the ruling party.

This merger will make a party which, though not numerically strong in the legislatures, has some outstanding personalities, including Jaiprakash Narain, a Socialist leader of great influence among the railwaymen and postal workers, and Mrs. Sucheta Kripalani who won a New Delhi seat in the parliamentary election against intense Congress opposition.

K.M.P.P. members had, particularly in Madras, flirted with the Communists, but the new alliance is a clear sign that the flirtation is over, for the Socialists are uncompromisingly anti-Communist. The alliance may now well be joined by many other elements who have been unattached so far.

TRUE EXPONENT OF GANDHI

Kripalani has always claimed to be a true exponent of Gandhian doctrines and alleges that Mr. Nehru (Indian Premier and Congress leader) and his followers have strayed far from the path laid down by Congress by the Mahatma (Mr. Gandhi.) As all the leading Socialists were also once Congressmen, this new move represents a clear hint that the opposition to Congress may consolidate along Leftists and Gandhian lines.

In Parliament, the Communists have so far failed badly. Only one or two Communist members have shown ability and many moderates who were mildly sympathetic towards the Communists after the election results, were shocked by the unashamed devotion of India's Communists to China and Russia, a devotion they displayed far more clearly than any feeling for their own countrymen. This disillusionment cannot fail to strengthen the new party which may now succeed in securing official recognition as the main opposition party in the House of the People (Parliament) with all the opportunities that that brings.

The Rightists, that is the exprinces, Hindu fanatics, and big business have failed to combine. Thus the new organization which aims to stop the further fragmentation of political parties has a clear field in which to build up an alternative to Congress rule, an operation which is highly important for the successful working of democracy in India.

Board Reserve Decision In Row

TORONTO (CP)—The battle of the Ontario textile unions entered a new phase yesterday before the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

The board reserved decision on three applications by the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), to take away bargaining rights from the C.I.O.-C.C.L. textile workers. The applications affect Grout's Ltd., St. Catharines; Riverside Silk Mills, Galt; and Armstrong Dye Works, Hamilton.

The United Textile Workers claim to have signed up 141 members of the 224 employees affected in the three plants and have submitted receipts for initiation fees in each case. It is the first time the dispute has come before the board.

Glad To Be Back In Europe After 4 Mos. In Hollywood

By HAROLD SIEVE

PARIS (Reuters)—Ottawa-born Suzanne Cloutier is glad to be back in Europe after four idle months in Hollywood. She returned to Paris recently and already has a choice of three possible jobs.

"I'm trying to make up my mind whether to make a movie in France, a movie in Italy, or appear on the Paris stage," she said in an interview.

Daughter of Queen's Printer Edmond Cloutier of Ottawa, she first hit the headlines with her portrayal of Desdemona in Orson Welles' "Othello," joint winner of the 1951 Cannes International Film Festival.

Then came "Derby Day," an English picture in which she co-starred with Michael Wilding, followed by a Hollywood contract requiring her to spend four months a year on the Paramount lot.

She went to Hollywood, was lined up to star opposite Alan Ladd in "Persian Gulf" when things went wrong. Ladd couldn't be obtained, and there were script difficulties.

"And I found myself without anything to do," said Miss Cloutier, a green-eyed brunette.

Miss Cloutier was educated in a French convent and learned no English until she was 18. Before playing Desdemona, she spent hours every day perfecting her English with a teacher "who ruthlessly corrected every mistake."

She spoke proudly of the advantages of being a Canadian abroad.

"You feel you belong everywhere," she said.

"The British feel you are one of them. The French have a kinship with the French-Canadians. The Americans accept you, since you belong to the New World, and the Italians seem to have developed a fondness for Canadians during the war."

Angel Cake Takes Care

Buy cake flour and sift enough for 1 cup, then resift it 4 times. Sift 1¼ cups fine granulated sugar. Measure 1¼ cups chilled egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon each vanilla and almond extract. Sift half of the sugar and all of the 4-time sifted flour together. This makes the flour more granular and thus it folds into the whites more easily. Sift the salt and cream of tartar over the egg whites in a bowl or on a platter (I am not going to advise you about rotary or electric or flat wire beaters—for I alternated between all of them this week). Beat until the whites are stiff and will stay in peaks—but not until dry. Do not knock the beater on the sides of the bowl or platter, for this might knock some air out of the whites.

The important folding process now begins: Sift 2 tablespoons of the remaining sugar over the whites and fold this in. Repeat until all sugar is added using flat wire beater goes straight down, across, up, over and down again, with spoon parallel to bowl. Fold until each addition just barely disappears. Sift about 2 tablespoons of the flour and sugar mixture over the white and use same folding motion to incorporate them into the whites, until all is gone. Fold in flavourings during the folding of the flour and sugar mixture. Pour into ungreased angel food tube pan. Bake at 325 deg. F. for 1 hour. Do not be tempted to open oven door until last quarter hour. If you preheat your oven with both top and bottom burners on, turn off top burner at least 5 minutes before baking time, and stand cake one-third way up in the oven in centre on rack. Turn cake upside down on rack with air space beneath and let hang until cold, then coax from pan with spatula.

Frost with Lemon Butter Icing: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine are creamed very well, then add 1 teaspoon salt and gradually 2¼ cups sifted icing sugar. When sugar is half added and 1 egg yolk and 2 tablespoons lemon juice and mix until all is very creamy and light and all ingredients are added. Spread on cake, then drizzle over this 2 squares melted bitter chocolate, I think this is the best way to serve angle food cake.

MONTREAL, September 4th—Getting ready for happy indoor living this winter? Here's my suggestion:—Ask to see the colourful new DOMOLITE designs at your favourite department or variety store. Domolite is that famous vinylite plastic fabric that's so easy to sew. You can make dressing-table covers, kitchen and bathroom curtains and drapes that need no hemming—for Domolite won't fray. And it cleans like a dream—just wipe with a damp cloth—no ironing. It wears and wears—repels moisture, oil and dirt. Inexpensive, too! Ask for Domolite (made by Dominion Oilcloth and Linoleum Company). And write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for free, illustrated literature on what you can make with Domolite.

I Think Grape Jelly is one of the best-tasting jellies there is. So do the family! But you know, it's only the home-made kind made with those glorious, rich-purple grapes and CERTO FRUIT PECTIN, that they really beg for! Of course, made with Certo, jams and jellies always turn out perfectly ... yes, every time if you follow the recipes exactly. Beautifully set—full of the true fruit flavor ... a richer flavor, because unlike the old-days, with Certo you can "jell" fully-ripe fruits. And, I find I get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit ... while saving myself 2/3 of the time of the former long-boil method. All I do is follow the simple recipes in the booklet, under the label of each bottle of Certo.

Another Beautiful Woodbury Bride, Marianne Delacorte, was married recently. You see, the mild, creamy lather of Woodbury Facial Soap leaves skin radiantly smooth, younger-looking. While some soaps tend to dry sensitive skin, Woodbury Facial Soap actually softens it. Meat Dishes Are Planned For Economy

TOAD-IN-A-HOLE
(Yorkshire Pudding with Sausages)

In medium size bowl put ½ cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk and 2 eggs and start beating with rotary beater, and beat until thoroughly mixed. Let stand at least ½ hour. Melt 2 or 4 tablespoons dripping in hot oven of 475 deg. Fahr. and when pan is smoking hot pour into it the prepared Yorkshire pudding. Drop link sausages into the pudding and place in oven of 475 deg. Fahr. Bake at this heat throughout when pudding will puff up very high and brown quickly and sausages will be cooked through by the time pudding is puffed and set and brown. Cut into squares to serve, being sure a sausage is in each serving. One-half pound sausages may be made to go a long way in this dish—and with the use of 2 eggs and 1 cup milk this provides an adequate protein serving for a family dinner. This amount serves four.

If you like a stodgy Yorkshire pudding add 1 cup flour and 1½ cups milk.

✧ ✧ ✧

SPARE RIBS WITH SWEET AND SOUR SAUCE

Have the butcher cut 2 lbs. back ribs into pieces so that the rib bone is about 2 inches long and there is meat on both sides of it. This way he discards every other rib, but it is trimmed clean of meat. Serve about 4 of these pieces to each serving. (You may use thin slices of pork tenderloin instead of ribs.)

Combine ¼ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons each catsup and soy sauce, 1 teaspoon molasses, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon black pepper and ¼ up chicken stock or boiling water. Pour this over the raw ribs and let stand covered in refrigerator 7 or 8 hours, basting the meat with the sauce occasionally.

About 2 hours before serving time remove meat from refrigerator and place on broiling pan so that there is drip pan beneath, add 1 cup cold water to drip pan and roast ribs at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 1½ hours, turning after 45 minutes, and basting them frequently with the sauce left from marinating in refrigerator. Very thick back ribs may require a little longer than 1½ hours. Serve with the pan sauce and pass as an extra.

Sweet-Sous Sauce: ¼ cup spirit vinegar, ½ cup each pineapple juice and brown sugar, 1 tablespoon each cornstarch and cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon MSG (monosodium glutamate). (This latter ingredient may be bought in some Chinese supply stores or in large groceries.) Combine all ingredients in saucepan after blending the cornstarch with the cold water, and bring to boiling point, stirring, for 5 minutes. Cool. If too thick, thin with pineapple juice. The pineapple juice may be replaced with apricot puree or good quality chilisauce.

BROILED MEAT CAKES

To 1 lb. hamburg or ground stewing beef add ½ cup hot whole milk and salt and pepper and Worcestershire sauce to taste. Make into cakes about 1 inch thick by 3 inches in diameter. If desired wrap each meat cake with strips of side bacon around edge and fasten with toothpick. Have broiler as hot as you would have it for steak—about 500 deg. Fahr. if it is an electric burner. Place meat cakes on broiler pan and boil one side until medium brown, turn over, do same to other side and turn over twice again. This requires about 12 mins. if oven is very hot and meat cakes are thick —and leaves them moist and a delicate pink in centre. Serve very hot on hot plates, with oven-French-fried potatoes.

✧ ✧ ✧

POTTED MEAT

Jellied Veal (without gelatine) Order one veal knuckle and ask the butcher to saw it in 3 or 4 pieces; also order 1 lb veal shoulder. Remaining ingredients are 1 peeled sliced onion, 6 peppercorns, 2 bay leaves, 2¼ teaspoons salt, 3 quarts cold water, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, and, if desired, 2 or 4 stuffed olives, and 2 shelled hard-cooked eggs. Simmer the veal knuckle and shoulder meat, onion, peppercorns, bay leaves and salt starting them in the cold water, covered until veal is tender—about 2 to 3½ hours. Remove meat, and strain the broth and put meat through coarse knift of food chopper. (If stuffed olives and hard-cooked eggs are used they are placed in design in bottom of mould and barely covered with some broth which is allowed to set.) Cook the remaining veal broth until reduced to 2 cups and add the meat to it, and the Worcestershire sauce,—mix well. Pour into loaf pan, and press down to make broth rise to top. Chill until set.

NOTE: You may make more of this loaf by adding 1 tablespoon of gelatine to ½ cup cold water until soaked, then dissolving in the hot broth. In this case boil the broth down to 4 cups, then dissolve the soaked gelatine in it while it is still very hot. In all add 1 tablespoon salt if gelatine is used.

✧ ✧ ✧

ROAST FRESH HAM

Because I like the appearance of the scored rind when it is baked at high temperature I recommend the quick-searing method; 500 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes and 30 minutes to the pound for a ham weighing 12 to 14 lbs.

Wipe the ham all over with a damp cloth, and with sharp pointed knife score the rind (or take it off) into attractive diagonal design. Sprinkle with salt and paprika. Put on trivet in roasting pan. Do not addwater. Roast uncovered.

If desired rind may be left on for roasting, then sheared off with sharp knife. Surface of fat may be scored into squares and sprinkled with brown sugar, mixed with a few fine crumbs. Stick with cloves and brown in moderate oven for 15 or 20 minutes.

✧ ✧ ✧

CITY CHICKEN

You may use equal parts of veal or pork for this, but today we use all pork.

Cut a ½ or 1 inch slice of fresh pork into 1¼-inch squares. Push the pieces on a wooden meat skewer to resemble drumstick of chicken as closely as possible. Roll each "drumstick" in milk, then in crumbs twice, and fry in deep fat until brown. Prepare one or two drumsticks for each diner, and place on baking dish as they are finished. When all are done, add 1 cup hot water to pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover and coast slowly at 300 deg. Fahr. for 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. If necessary uncover during last 15 minutes to give them a crisp appearance.

✧ ✧ ✧

STUFFING FOR BONED FRESH HAM OR SHOULDER

Saute a chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter for 3 or 4 minutes. Remove from heat and add 3 or 4 cups soft breadcrumbs, 1 beaten egg, ¼ teaspoon each celery salt, crumbled sage, pepper and some salt. Add a little hot milk if you like it moist. Stuff into pocket made by butcher when he removed the bone. Roast as for roast fresh ham. This is especially appropriate for a fresh boned shoulder.

I think a little apple chutney and a lot of mayonnaise are good in combination with ground roast pork for sandwiches.

✧ ✧ ✧

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT BALLS

Delicious and highly recommended for dinner parties given by young mothers, whose time is at a premium all day.

Cook spaghetti or noodles in very large pot of boiling salted water until tender.

Sauce

Cook 2 medium sliced onions and 1 diced green pepper in 2 tablespoons cooking oil until tender. Add 1 large can tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, and cook slowly until it is a fairly thick sauce.

Drain spaghetti, arrange in centre of large platter, pour over hot sauce and surround with

Meat Balls

One pound ground beef or veal is mixed with ¼ cup finely chopped suet, 1 beaten egg, 2 tablespoons horseradish, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and if desired, 1 clove garlic chopped finely. Form into one-inch balls. Saute in hot fat in frying pan turning frequently, for about 10 minutes. If desired these meat balls may be added to sauce after sauteing.

✧ ✧ ✧

SWEET AND SOUR CHICKEN

One-half cup soy sauce, 3 tablespoons white or brown sugar, 3 tablespoons vinegar, ½ cup pineapple juice, 1 3-lb. chicken cut up in small serving pieces, 1 mashed clove garlic (this is optional), 1 tablespoon tomato catsup, flour, ½ cup water.

Combine the soy sauce, sugar, vinegar, pineapple juice, garlic and catsup and blend well. Measure out ¼ cup of this liquid and add 2 tablespoons flour to it to make a thick paste. Rub this paste over the pieces of chicken. Preheat the oven to 500 deg. Fahr. (very hot) and place chicken on buttered pan and sear in hot oven for 15 minutes. Meanwhile heat the remaining sauce with the water. This you use for basting. Reduce oven heat to 325 deg. Fahr. Bake chicken until tender, basting it often until all of the liquid is used up. If chicken is young this requires about 30 to 40 minutes.

CHICKEN ALMOND

Cut the breast of chicken into strips about ½-inch wide and 1½ inches long and fry until golden in 2 tablespoons olive or peanut oil. Mix together 1 cup blanched almonds (cut in halves if desired), and one-half pound cut up small mushrooms, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 2 teaspoons soy sauce and 1 stalk celery cut finely at an angle. Turn these into the chicken and over very low heat let them simmer for 30 minutes. While cooking a small amount of liquid will form in pan. When cooking is done thicken this with 1 tablespoon cornstarch stirred to a paste in 2 tablespoons cold water. Taste to see if this needs salt.

✧ ✧ ✧

From habit my mind turns to meat dishes for we all know that growing children must have it and we know it is one of the highest-priced items on our weekly food budget.

The recipes I am listing are suitable for children of any age over one and one-half years, and may be doubled if necessary to serve a large number.

✧ ✧ ✧

SCRAPPLE

(This is a time-honored favorite of the Pennsylvania Dutch.)

Boil 1½ lbs. pork or beef liver in water to barely cover and cook until liver is firm—this takes about 20 minutes. Cool enough to cut into strips and put through finest knife of food chopper twice. Make the broth in which the meat was cooked up to 6 cups, bring to boil, add 1½ teaspoons salt and ½ teaspoon pepper, and stir into it 1½ cups each yellow cornmeal and whole wheat flour, and stir until thick. Add ground liver. Cool slowly, preferably in big double boiler, covered for 30 minutes, or if you do not have a double boiler big enough, stand pan in large pan of boiling water and let the water boil around it for 30 minutes. Pour into loaf pans to chill overnight. Slice ¾-inch thick and fry in hot fat when ready to serve.

✧ ✧ ✧

SCALLOPED POTATOES WITH SMOKED JOWL

For six people use 6 medium large potatoes, 1 large Spanish onion, and at least 1 cup sliced outer celery stalks and 3 cups skim milk or milk made from powdered skim milk. Put the vegetables in a large casserole when pared and sliced, in layers, pour milk over, and top with slices from smoked pork jowl, which is an economical cut similar to side bacon in flavor, but a little fatter. Bake in oven of 350 deg. Fahr. until potatoes are tender and bacon is cooked and crisp.

✧ ✧ ✧

LIVER AND VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

One pound liver, ¼ cup flour, 4 tablespoons fat, 2 minced onions, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup diced celery, 2 cups diced carrots, 2 cups tomatoes canned or raw in summer, 1½ teaspoons salt. Slice the liver very thin and roll it in flour. Melt the fat in a hot pan and saute liver for about 2 minutes on each side. Transfer liver to buttered casserole. Brown the chopped onion, celery and carrots in the fat in pan and pour them and the fat over the liver. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour the tomatoes over. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 1½ hours. These amounts will serve six people.

For this you may use as little as one cup of canned pink salmon or 2 cups of it or any other canned or cooked fish. Make a white sauce by melting 3 tablespoons fat and stirring in first 2 tablespoons flour then 1 cup hot milk or milk made from powdered skim milk. Add 1 teaspoon salt and the flaked fish. Put mixture in buttered shallow pan. Mix together 1 cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, then stir in ¾ cup milk to make a wet baking-powder biscuit dough. Drop this soft dough by spoonfuls over salmon and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes. This also will serve six.

✧ ✧ ✧

Hospital Tries Rooming-In Unit For Babies

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—A "rooming-in" unit for babies now being tried at Kingston General Hospital means that a mother may have her new-born baby stay right at her bedside instead of being cared for in the hospital nursery.

The unit consists of a rectangular plastic bassinette, transparent and high enough to be level with the hospital-bed. The bassinette rests on a metal frame made mobile by a set of rubber wheels. Below the bassinette and inside the frame is a built-in metal linen supply cupboard, a soap and drug compartment and a bin for soiled linen.

All supplies are at hand for the mother to bathe and care for her baby. Cost of each rooming-in unit to the hospital is approximately $250.

STUDY ADVANTAGES

Margaret Grant, maternity supervisor at the hospital, said there are adantages and disadvantages in the use of rooming-in units.

"Use of the unit means that the mother can watch over her baby personally," she said. "It also enables the mother to determine her own nursing intervals."

Further, "if it is her first baby, she learns to care for him right in the hospital with assistance from the nurses."

On the other hand many mothers prefer to have their babies looked after in the central nursery because they want to rest themselves as much as possible while in hospital.

Use Variety In Preparing Dish Of Scalloped Potatoes

By MARY MOORE.

Some concessions to flavor have to be made if we Canadian women are going to establish a firm reputation.

For instance, dietetically speaking, I could not recommend the presoaking of potatoes before preparing them as scalloped potatoes (or mashed or French fried) for minerals and vitamins are lost in this soaking water. But to get the best results—that is flavor results—they should be soaked. (Do this for sure when the women's group at your church ask you for a dish of scalloped potatoes for the next church supper.)

I will give you some highly recommended methods for making scalloped potatoes. I am hoping that some of you inexperienced cooks will return the favor, sending me your treasured recipes unless they are household secrets.

✧ ✧ ✧

SCALLOPED POTATOES NO. 1

Scrub, pare, and cut into ⅛-inch slices about 6 medium-large potatoes. Drop immediately into cold water to soak out some of the starch and to keep them white. Drain when you are finished peeling, and arrange in generously buttered large shallow baking dish in layers, sprinkling between the layers 1 teaspoon of salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper, 2 tablespoons butter. Over all pour enough whole milk (or whole milk mixed with some top milk) to just show through top layer. Sprinkle top with extra salt and dots of butter and bake at 375 degrees Fahr. for about 1¼ to 1½ hours.

SCALLOPED POTATOES NO 2

Pare and slice potatoes wafer thin. Have hot milk in buttered casserole—about 2 cups. Drop half of the potatoes directly into this. Slice over them one medium sized mild onion and cover with remaining potatoes. Sprinkle generously with salt and pepper. Be sure potatoes are covered with the hot milk. Bake at low temperature—325 degrees Fahr.—for 1¾ hours.

✧ ✧ ✧

SCALLOPED POTATOES NO. 3

Make 2½ cups thin cheese sauce by melting 4 tablespoons butter, adding 2 tablespoons flour stirring until blended and then stirring in 2½ cups hot whole milk until thick. Add from ½ to 1 cup grated or sliced processed cheese, and let stand over boiling water until cheese is soft or melted. Have ready 4 large or 6 medium raw or undercooked potatoes. Slice or cube them. Add them to the cheese sauce and pour into buttered casserole. Cover with ¼ cup grated cheese mired with ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs. Sprinkle with salt and paprika. Bake at 40 degrees Fahr. for about 45 minutes if potatoes are partially cooked. If raw, this dish requires one hour at 400 degrees Fahr. Do not use leftover cold cooked potatoes for this.

I am including the next recipe because it is an excellent and delicious way of using up those outer stalks of celery that seem to collect in every vegetable crisper.

✧ ✧ ✧

SCALLOPED POTATOES AND CELERY

Wash, pare, cut in quarters 4 or 6 medium potatoes. Parboil to make them nearly tender. Cut up celery until you have 1 cup well packed. Cook in 1 cup water with ½ teaspoon salt for 5 minutes. Mix together 2 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons flour, and stir into the celery and water with ½ cup evaporated milk unil thick. Pour over the potatoes in butterer casserole. Add salt and pepper to taste. Sprinkle top with buttered crumbs (and cheese if desired) and bake at 375 degrees Fahr. until bubbly and brown.

✧ ✧ ✧

STEWED ONIONS

Peel 4 large mild onions and cut in ¼-inch slices. Add ½ cup boiling water and 2 tablespoons butter and simmer over low heat until onions are tender and water has evaporated. Add salt and pepper to taste and just before serving add 2 tablespoons of finely chopped parsley.

For your Green Salad improvise as much as you like, but do rub the bowl with garlic first, and do pull the lettuce apart with your fingers. I like lettuce salad if the garlic flavor is perceptible and if there is plenty of chopped parsley through. French dressing was invented for this salad.

✧ ✧ ✧

MINNESOTA BEAN POT

This one is not Erna's. It comes direct from my dear friend Garnie Groh. Notice its thrifty qualities.

One-half pound kidney beans, 1 sliced onion, ¼ to ½ cup chopped fat pork, ½ pound ground round steak or hamburg, 6 small red peppers, 1 quart canned tomatoes, 3 teaspoons salt. Wash the beans and soak overnight well covered with water. In the morning put on to cook in the soaking water, adding the onion which has been sauteed with the fat pork, for about 5 minutes. Add the beef, pepper, tomatoes, salt. Bring slowly to boiling point and simmer covered for about 2½ hours or until beans are tender. To serve, remove the peppers and pass crisp crackers at the table.

✧ ✧ ✧

BEET RING

To 1 cup cooked beets add 1 cup chopped cucumber, and arrange in moistened ring mould. Soak 1½ tablespoons gelatine in ¼ cup cold water, add ¾ cup hot beet juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, juice of 1 large lemon, salt and pepper to taste. Stir over hot water until gelatine dissolves, then pour over beets in mould. Chill to set. When turned out fill centre with cabbage slaw.

✧ ✧ ✧

POTATO NOODLE ROLLS

One cup each mashed potatoes and milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon fat, ½ teaspoon salt, about 4 cups flour (enough to make a stiff dough), 3½ teaspoons baking powder. Add beaten egg, melted fat and salt to mashed potatoes. Sift flour with baking powder, and add alternately with the milk. Mix dough thoroughly, knead it a few minutes on a floured board. Pinch off pieces of dough the size of a small egg and roll each piece between your palms until it is about the size of your middle finger. Fly in deep fat until golden, turning once. Drain a minute on paper towel, and serve immediately.

✧ ✧ ✧

CORN PUDDING

Two cups canned or fresh corn cut from cob, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon each butter and minced onion, 2 tablespoons of sugar, ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper, 1 chopped pimiento is optional, 1 teaspoon salt. Beat eggs slightly and add the milk, sugar, and salt. Combine corn with the other ingredients and add to the milk mixture, mixing well. Pour into buttered casserole and bake at 325 degrees Fahr. for one hour. This is very like a custard and is better if casserole stands in large dish containing water. Cheese Sauce or Tomato Sauce make a nice accompaniment if this is served at a meatless meal.

BACK TO SCHOOL—Checks are the thing this fall, and the young high school miss will be wearing suits like the Canadian-made glen check at left. The box jacket has a velveteen collar and pocket trim. Skirt has front pleats. The wool jersey for the younger set (centre) has a tucked bosom and a ribbon tabbed collar. Embroidery circles the slightly flared skirt. Textured fabrics are popular this year, and excellent for school wear is the all-Canadian wool shortie at right. The novelty buttons are miniature footballs.

Physical Ed. Ass't. From Latvia Joins YWCA Staff

The first European new Canadian to join the instructor staff of the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. is Miss Beatrice Pelsis, formerly of Riga, Latvia.

Miss Pelsis came this week as assistant director of physical education. She will teach some swimming and some gym and modern dancing classes. Because of her previous experience she will take most of the small children but she will also take the Thursday night business girls' class which is to have a varied program of activity.

This year's swim and gym program at the Y will be different than for many years with new department head Miss Roselyn Stone and Miss Pelsis combining their abilities. Both are competent to teach swimming but Miss Stone has majored in this field. Miss Pelsis will add a dash of European flavor and will give exercises to music and modern dancing. This training for grace and fluidity of body movement is the present trend and it is expected to have wide appeal here.

Though she has had some training in ballet, Miss Pelsis feels that it should only be taught by a professional, so there will be no ballet-classes. She has been teaching the exercises and dancing for the past four years at Strathallan Private School, Hamilton, and her displays at the close of each term have been highly acclaimed. She has spent the past three summers at Camp Oconto where her duties have included charge of the waterfront. In each case she has dealt with children from kindergarten to high school age.

She is a graduate of the Institute of Physical Education of Riga but until she began teaching in Hamilton she had little chance to practice her training. In 1944 she fled from her homeland just ahead of the Russians and got a boat to Germany, the only place the refugees could go. She had lived one year under Communists, while in school, and felt it was better to take the chance. She has known nothing of her family since she walked away from them, but hopes, for their sakes, that they are dead.

When the war's end closed the German work camps, Miss Pelsis became employed in the American section of IRO, assisting immigrants. Two years later she decided to immigrate herself. A number of countries were open to her, but she chose Canada and she believes now that it was a very wise choice. She was sent to the Ontario Hospital, Hamilton, and worked one year according to contract.

Seven years of English study at school in Latvia greatly lessened the language barrier for her. She had learned the broad "a" sounds of the British but has now polished them into a Canadian "twang" with only an interesting bit of Latvian coming out when she says a word with "th" or "w" in it. These sounds are not in her native language and her tongue still insists on giving them a "d" and "v" sound.

Coming to Peterborough has been a free-will choice also, though inspired by a former resident whom she met in Hamilton. Miss Pelsis has not seen much of the city yet but she appreciates its cleaner appearance. Her home city of Riga was classed as the second cleanest of Europe and a fine was imposed on anyone throwing paper or refuse on the street.

Gym classes will start on the 15th of this month and Miss Pelsis is looking forward to them. She thinks it will be more inspiring to teach girls who are in a class only because they want to be. The swimming may start this Friday if the newly decorated pool is ready. The complete Y program for this season will be available today and registrations will be taken all next week.

Meanwhile the new directors of physical health and development are busy interviewing prospective pianists and getting their office in shape after a complete redecorating.

THE PUMP and the opened-up, airy sandal dominate fall and winter shoes. Classic brown suede pump (left) has strip of beige calf swirled from heel to mid-vamp. This is a slender, elegant shoe. Open sandals in gold kid leather (upper centre) are simply two wide strips with elasticized inserts for smooth, clinging fit. Sling pump (centre) has heel with novel Florentine tooling for new back interest. Cuffed pump (lower centre) is in aniline-tanned calf with gleaming, transluscent finish. These pumps are ideal for suit wear. Banded sandal (upper right) is in brown suede for dressy daytime wear. Butterscotch calf (lower right) is used in these sling-back shoes with medium heel and lacing in dark brown leather. Though these are for street wear, they offer a delicate, airy look for lightweight woollens.

Shoe Silhouette High Cut

The new shoe silhouette for fall and winter is high cut, combined with instep and heel interest. It's a silhouette expressed in slender, lady-like elegance, the shoe poised in a narrow, delicate, needle-like heel..

The T-strap is newly important, newly flattering to the foot. It's done in suede, black velvet, bronze kid and the gold-tooled Florentine leathers that are inspired by the Italian Renaissance.

New, too, is the high-cut open-back shoe. It's coupled with closed toe, and shown in sandals and slings in black suede or lace.

The soft, unlined shoe is big this year. This is the shoe that's glove-soft, light and airy on the foot, totally lacking in lining or stiffening. It's poised on the new narrow heel or on the handsome Louis heel in the regular or baby height.

The band sandal and the stripping sandal are both good this fall. Toe openings permit all five toes will be seen, and sometimes this wide opening is paired with the new T-strap.

If the toes are not open, the heels frequently are. It's almost a rule that where the shoe is high-cut in front, the heel is completely exposed. Even though this means a mere wisp of a shoe, design takes care of anchoring shoe to foot.

Black leads off the color list, of course, but it's followed by the blonde to brown tones and by red, seen importantly in ready-to-wear for fall and winter.

Married Women Teachers Threaten To Quit Jobs

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — Married women teachers in Transvaal province are preparing to walk out of their jobs if the provincial education authorities do not accede to their demand for "equal pay for equal work."

There are about 2,200 married women teachers in the Transvaal, all employed on a temporary basis. Many have decided on mass resignations unless they are granteed the same salaries and working conditions as members of the permanent staff.

A walk-out would paralyze many schools which rely largely on temporary women teachers to maintain their staffs. The strike is planned for Sept. 10 unless the Transvaal Education Department indicates it is prepared to negotiate.

RESIGN ON MARRIAGE

Women teachers, when they marry, must resign their positions on the permanent staff. They may then be employed on a temporary, 24-hour basis, but for less pay—nine-tenths of the salary of permanent teachers.

This is reported to mean an average salary discrimination of £30 a year against married women teachers under 1947 salary scales, and as much as £160 a year under present-day scales.

OPPOSE WALK-OUT

While all married women teachers are united in the demand that there should be no salary discrimination, not all of them are in favor of such drastic action as a walk-out.

The Married Women Teachers' Association's membership is 50 per cent English-speaking and 50 per cent Afrikaans-speaking, but while nearly all English-speaking married women teachers belong to the association, many Afrikaans-speaking women teachers are members of the Transvaalse Onderwysersvereniging, whose members are mainly Afrikaans permanent teachers.

Married women members of this Afrikaans body have decided not to join the walk-out although they, too, are pressing for higher wages.

Dr. Theo Wassenaar, member of the Transvaal's executive committee which administers affairs on behalf of the provincial council, says that if the teachers carry out their threat of mass resignations, steps will be taken to fill their places. He says the shortage of teachers is most serious in English medium schools which would suffer most if the threat is carried out.

Monica Belanger Becomes Bride

The wedding of a former teacher at St. Anne's Roman Catholic School, Peterborough, Mary Monica Belanger, to Mr. Joseph Robert Martineau of Toronto, has taken place in the Sacred Heart Church, Port McNicoll. She is the daughter of Mrs. T. J. Belanger of Port McNicoll and the late Mr. Belanger and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martineau of Montreal.

Brothers of the bride, the Rev. Bernard Belanger and the Rev. Alphonse Belanger, officiated in the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

She was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Gerard Belanger and she wore a gown of nylon net and lace over taffeta with tiered skirt. Her veil was trimmed with lace and held by a crown of blue forget-me-nots and she carried a white prayer book trimmed with blue streamers and forget-me-nots. Her sister Miss Agnes Belanger was maid of honor and Miss Mary Moriarty was bridesmaid. They wore yellow and turquoise frocks and picture hats and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Find Washable Clothing Ideal For School Needs

It's fun to go to school in the kind of teen-age clothes you find available today. High style is the keynote — inexpensively priced and just right for your junior figure.

To make life a lot pleasanter, many of the back-to-school outfits are all-washable. Corduroy jumpers, vests, skirts and dresses are classic soap-and-water numbers.

A "grown-up" suit now comes in cotton that looks like tweed, worsted, or men's suiting—and washes like a summer frock. Blouses are blossoming in the synthetic fiber field, in acetate, orlon-nylon blends, and many other combinations. They all hand-wash easily and need practically no ironnig at very low heat.

The all-washable pleated skirt is here in an orlon blend. Imagine dropipng your sports skirt into lukewarm soapsuds, rinsing and clamping it on a hanger to dry overnight.

Sweaters have style these days, too. Polka dots, stripes, ribbed-round insets, sailor collars and colorful V's going from shoulder to shoulder, are some of the variations. Make a drying frame of cardboard—body and two sleeves—and keep it for the after-sweater sudsing.

Pick out two predominant colors to spark your wardrobe. Then, mix and match whenever and however you like, to create a variety of combinations. Such careful planning on your part will assure high marks for neatness and smart grooming habits.

Teen-agers will find wonderfully washable wardrobes this season. One all-washable costume features an orlon-and-rayon skirt with unpressed pleats, a tattersall check corduroy vest, a jersey blouse and a suds-spongeable handbag of sturdy neolite plastic (right). After you wash and thoroughly dry the corduroy vest, it is possible to restore the nap with a stiff brush (above).

Serving As Nurse-Doctor-Dentist Woman Retiring After 23 Years In North

HAY RIVER, N.W.T. (CP)—A woman who spent 23 years as nurse-doctor-dentist at this frontier post 500 miles north of Edmonton is retiring.

Miss Winnifred Neville has left for Strathmore, Alta., where she will visit a sister.

When the young English nurse arrived at Hay River in 1929, the Slave Indians gave her the name "Nutegoshon" which means "she knows medicine." Before she left they were calling her "Gomar"—their word for mother.

"The gratitude of the natives was wonderful," Miss Neville said in an interview at Edmonton.

"Many of them I had brought into the world and buried. Others I had seen grow up and their children after them."

When Miss Neville first arrived at Hay River while the hospital was being built, the natives insisted on continuing with their own operations and obstetrics. Miss Neville's work was largely a matter of education.

"But through the years, they soon learned the value of coming to the hospital," she said.

The nearest doctor was 70 miles away at Fort Resolution. He visited the 10-bed hospital once each winter and twice in the summer.

The nurse's work included anything from treating a chopped-off thumb to extracting teeth.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Canning Tomato Products For Your Own Use In Winter

The canners call September Tomato Month and this year there are dire predictions regarding the 1952 tomato pack.

Already orders are being placed by U.S. Mid-west brokers with Canadian tomato packers because the drought in the Middle Western States' tomato-growing areas has ruined their prospects of an adequate tomato pack.

Further—you know of the strike of canning plant workers in South Western Ontario's tomato-growing district.

So, you girls who are asking for tomato and tomato soup and tomato juice canning instructions are right on the beam.

I heard that the price of canned tomatoes was going to reach an all-time high—and worse, there won't be enough to meet the needs of Canadians.

A word to the wise . . . .

CANNED TOMATOES

Use fully ripened sound tomatoes to get best flavor and color. Blanch (dip in boiling water) for 15 to 60 seconds, immediately cold dip (dip in cold water), with a sharp knife remove core and peel. Quarter or leave whole. Pack into sterile jars with sterile rubber rings (boiled 20 minutes or use jars with dome lid with rubber under-rim). Pack down until tomatoes are covered with own juice—using sterile spoon or tamper for this. Be sure there are no air spaces, but do leave ½-inch headspace. Add ½teaspoon salt for each pint, 1 teaspoon for each quart. If pressure canner is used process 5 minutes at 5 pounds pressure for pints and quarts (and for tin cans if used). If boiling water bath is used allow 30 minutes for pints and 35 minutes for quarts.

CANNED TOMATO JUICE

Hot Pack: Use fully ripened tomatoes. Wash well, remove core, cut in pieces, but do not peel. Bring to boil and boil, covered for 5 or 6 minutes. Press through sieve or puree strainer. Bring juice to boiling point, pour into sterile jars, adding ½ teaspoon salt for each pint; 1 teaspoon for each quart. Leave ½-inch headspace. Process in hot water bath for 15 minutes for both pints and quarts. Never loosen seal. Cool as soon as possible out of draughts.

TOMATO CREAM SOUP

(With instructions for canning)

(Cut this recipe by four if you want to make it for one meal for 6.)

Ten well-packed cups well-washed but not peeled tomatoes, ¼ cup minced onion, 1 teaspoon celery seed or 4 chopped stalks celery, 1½ tablespons sugar, 1 bay leaf, 2 whole cloves, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup flour, 2½ tablespoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 8 cups milk OR 4 cups water and 4 cups evaporated milk. Cook together the tomatoes, onion, celery seed or stalks, 1 tablespoon of the salt, the sugar, bay leaf and clove for 15 minutes. Strain, then add the soda. Meanwhile melt the butter in top of the double boiler, stir in flour, the remaining 1½ tablespoons salt and the pepper and blend. Stir in the milk OR milk and water and continue stirring until thick. When ready to serve have both mixtures hot, and pour the tomato mixture into the milk mixture stirring.

To Can Tomato Cream Soup: Follow all of the above steps, BUT omit the milk, using only ONE-HALF THE QUANTITY OF WATER instead. Bottle boiling hot in sterile jars and seal. When ready to use dilute the soup by adding the soup to an equal quantity (or less) of milk (or dilute cream or evaporated). Do not pour the milk into the tomato mixture, or it may curdle.

CHILI SAUCE

Three quarts (measured after coring and peeling) chopped ripe tomatoes, 1½ cups each chopped onion, chopped sweet green pepper, chopped sweet red pepper, 2 cups chopped apple, 3 cups chopped celery (using outer stalks is alright), 2/3 cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoons each cinnamon, mustard, nutmeg, 2 cups vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt. Mix all ingredients except vinegar and boil gently 1½ hours. Then add vinegar and simmer 30 to 40 minutes longer, stirring frequently. Pour into sterile jars and seal. Bright color is retained if 4 sticks cinnamon bark are used instead of powdered cinnamon, and 4 drops oil of nutmeg are used instead of grated nutmeg.

DOROTHY DIX

What Time Curfew Hour? Big Question With Families

Extracts from three letters, culled from among hundreds received on the same subject, show the intensity of feeling on this timeworn problem.

"I am 16, a senior in high school, and I think that 12 or 12:30 on Saturday nights, and half an hour earlier on other nights, is the right time for me to be home. My parents insist that 11:30 is late enough."

"I am a girl of 16. My parents are very strict with me. When I go out on a date I have to be in by 11 o'clock, or I lose my dating privileges for two months. My friends tease me because their parents let them stay out until 12:30 or 1."

"I am a working girl of 17, and give part of my money to my mother for herself each week, though I do not pay board. I go out each night after I get home with my girl friend. I come home at 9; if I'm a half an hour late my mother yells and tells me that as long as I'm under her roof I must be in no later than 9 o'clock. She also insists that I tell her every single thing I do when I'm out, and, though I do nothing I can't tell her, I would like to keep some things to myself."

ANSWER: The hour at which parents want their children home is not an arbitrary subject that can be dismissed with a simple statement of time. Many things should go into the consideration of a proper hour for a teen-ager's homecoming, but the one reason I would not consider satisfactory is that "Anne's—or Polly's or Mary's—parents let her stay out much later."

STARTS VICIOUS CIRCLE

This is the start of a vicious circle. Trying to keep up with what the other youngsters in a neighborhood do is a futile race, and not to be accepted as an argument.

In the first two letters quoted, local custom permits far later dating privileges than I would consider wise. For 16-year-old girls to come home habitually from dates at 12:30 or 1 is too late. For exceptional outings, it could be permitted, but not every night, or even every weekend night. The parents who do let their daughters stay out so late do so, not because they believe in it, but because they are too easily coerced by their children, or by the argument that "everyone else does it." If parents stuck together on the question, the argument would cease to exist. When every child is due home by 11, there can be no tears because one must be home at that hour while the others stay out until 1.

Teen-agers need a minimum of nine hours sleep a night—some authorities prefer ten or eleven. This sleep should be well started before midnight, rather than running into the middle of the next morning.

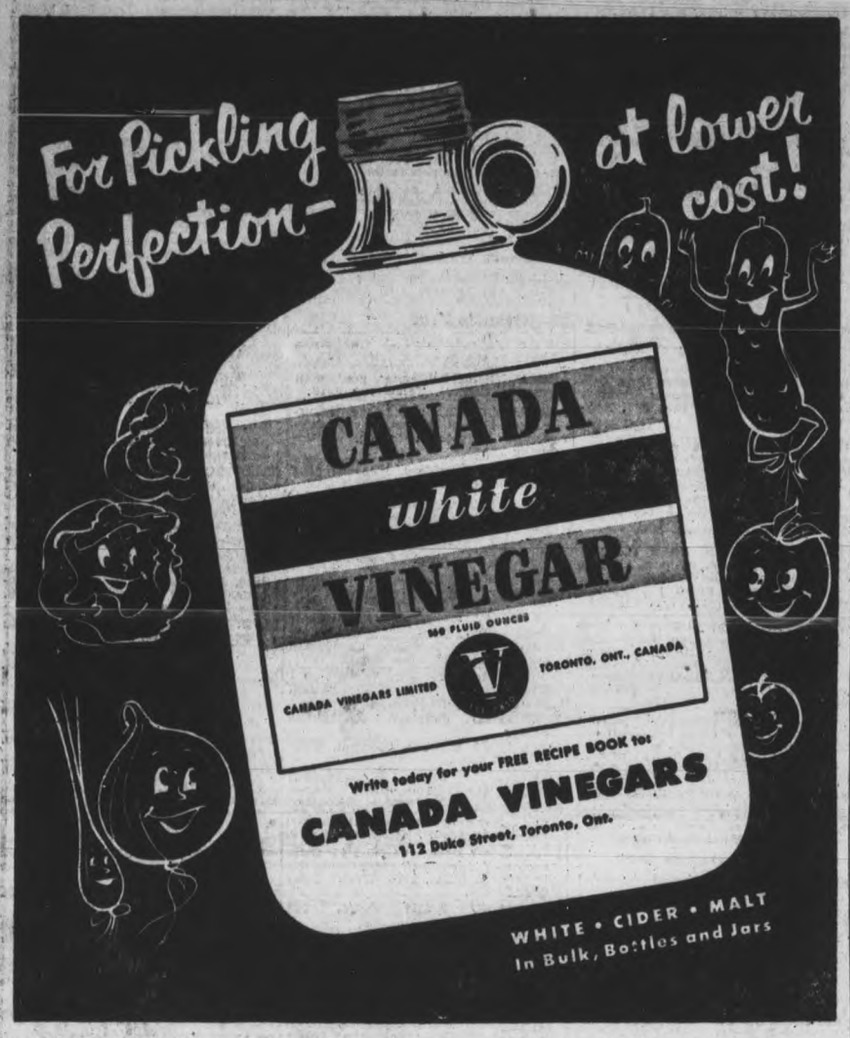
The third letter does quote what I consider an unreasonable attitude on the part of the parent. Apparently the girl doesn't date and her evenings out are only with girl friends. For a girl who doesn't have time for recreation during the day, 9:30 or even 10, is not an unreasonable curfew. Here again, however, the girl shouldn't be out every night. Some evenings should be spent at home for the sake of family unity as well as for the sake of her own health.

Parents certainly should know where their children go at night, should be acquainted with the company they are keeping, but I agree with my third correspondent that a teenster likes to keep some things to herself—if it's only the flavor soda she had.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After twenty years of marriage, my husband is seeing a married woman much younger than he. He insists he loves me and the children, has no wish for a divorce, but won't stop seeing the other woman. Do you think he will come to his senses.

D. W.



ANSWER: A waiting game is the only thing you can play in this triangle, unless you want to break up your home. Affairs of this type seem to be quite commonplace among men in middle age—it's the last fling, or so they excuse it. Actually, it's a lack of backbone when a woman with nothing else to do beckons. Your husband will undoubtedly come back, a sadder and wiser man.

Dad Wrote Music Bride's Wedding

EDMONTON (CP)—When the Marks family couldn't decide on the music for their daughter's wedding, A. L. Marks thought he would try a song of his own.

The result of his efforts, entitled "Bethrothal," has become popular here and is being introduced in Eastern Canada and the United States. It was played at this year's convention of the Canadian Authors' Association at London, Ont.

Lawyer and author, Marks had written the work as a poem, and it appeared destined to remain a poem. Then W. A. Halliwell, an Edmonton composer, studied the lyrics and fitted them to music.

Launch Balloon 18 Stories High As Experiment

NEW BRIGHTON, MINN. (AP) —The largest known unmanned balloon, intended to bear cosmic ray recording equipment aloft, was launched Wednesday.

However, the giant balloon, about the size of an 18-storey building developed several holes during inflation and the load of scientific instruments was removed before launching.

It was set free at 8:40 a.m. About two hours later, a timing device ripped out one panel of the balloon and it fell near Lake City, Minn., some 50 air miles southeast of the launching site. It had reached an estimated altitude of 35,000 feet.

Donald F. Melton, in charge of the launching, said a new giant balloon will be constructed, but it will take at least several months.

Melton said the balloon, made of strips of fragile polyethelene plastic with a total area of about two acres, was an experiment to determine if such a thing could be successfully handled. While holes appeared in the balloon as it was being inflated with helium and no instruments were carried he called the launching itself succuessful.

British Critics Acclaim Film

LONDON (CP) — "The Brave Don't Cry," a film based on a Scottish coal-mining disaster, opened here to enthusiastic reviews.

This is one of the first pictures produced by the Experimental Group 3, headed by documentary pioneer John Grierson. The purpose of the group, which has government backing, is to spend £250,000 a year on low-budget films with the object of training new stars and directors.

Critics agreed that "The Brave Don't Cry" is one of the best British pictures in a long time. The Manchester Guardian said it has a mawkish title, "but of all the films about Scotland so far made it is the one that rings truest."

In London, the Evening News called it a "first-class" picture.

Grierson was wartime head of Canada's National Film Board.

Search For Relatives Of Basic Sea Food

MONTREAL (CP)—Prof. Maxwell J. Dunbar of McGill University has left here on a year's "hunting trip," armed with a microscope.

He expects to find the relatives of Canadian plankton, the basic life of the sea which provides food for fish, seals and whales, and corresponds somewhat to plant and animal life on land.

Prof. Dunbar, through a fellowship, will do research work at the Danish marine biological station in Copenhagen.

Prof. Dunbar believes more food for a hungry world can be made available through better use of the sea's resources. While his main work will be at the Danish biological station, he also will study the whole set-up of marine research there, with a view to widening the fundamental marine research in Canada.

3,000-Year-Old Treatise Tells How To Build A Plane

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters). This 3,000-year-old treatise on "How to build an airplane" has been discovered by the directors of the International Academy of Sanskrit Research in Mysore, it was reported Wednesday.

The work is attributed to the great Hindu sage Bharadwaj, believed to have lived some time between 1000 and 3000 B.C. It was contained in a manuscript copy several hundred years old.

The treatise describes in eight chapters, complete with diagrams, the production of three types of plane, including planes which "cannot catch fire or be broken."

The manuscript mentions 31 parts essential to a plane and lists 16 metals considered suitable for plane manufacture.

An aviation expert who has seen one manuscript said that in a section dealing with plane wings, the curve needed to give the plane lift had been correctly described.

Other manuscripts found by the academy detail methods of obtaining artificial rain and the manufacture of artificial diamonds.

The Vienna telephone company already provides children with fairy tales, perplexed housewives with a daily menu selection including costs, musicians with the perfect "A"-pitch, sport fans with results, not to speak of weather forecasts and other information services.

Costs Soldiers Money To Forget Titles

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—It is costing Egyptian soldiers a lot of money to forget that titles have been abolished. Every time a soldier utters the forbidden words "bey" and "pasha" it costs him a fine of one piastre (about three cents). Gen. Mohamed Naguib said today: "I intend to go on doing this until the habit of giving titles is lost by everybody."

2 Gunmen Tie Up Staff Loot Bank Of $25,000

Would Ban Foreign Ships On Ont. Lakes

No Security Test For Foreigners, See Sabotage Menace

TORONTO (CP)—The Seafarers International Union, A.F.L. has joined the Great Lakes shipping owners in calling for a ban on foreign vessels operating on inland waters.

Hal Banks, S.I.U. Canadian vice-president, said last night foreign ships loading in Great Lakes ports menace the Canadian shipping industry and his union plans to bring the matter to the attention of the federal government. It will seek a heavy tax on foreign ships until a complete ban can be imposed.

Mr. Banks charged that vessels from Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Norway, Sweden and France are competing with Canadian shipping. They were allowed to pass through the Canadian canal systems paying only the same fees charged to Canadian shipping, he said, and while Canadian seamen had to pass a security test, this did not apply to men manning foreign vessels.

PAY POOR WAGES

"Some of these ships pay very poor wages in comparison with our ships and therefore they are able to compete on an unequal basis with Canadian vessels," he declared.

"We cannot expect Canadian shipping companies to operate this type of cheap cut-throat competition. Because of this our membership is at stake, and when that happens we draw the line."

The statement by Mr. Banks followed similar charges made more than a week ago by James Norris of Lake Forest, Ill., when a bulk carrier, the Gordon C. Leith, was launched at Midland.

The Canadian-born industrialist said he would like to see all foreign and British shipping banned from the Great Lakes. Foreign merchantmen could undercut North American operators by one-third at least because of their low wages and operational costs.

Mr. Norris said that if foreign tonnage is permitted to ply the Great Lakes after the building of the St. Lawrence Seaway, it will result in the spoiling of United States and Canadian business. He added:

"These waters are the heritage of the U.S. and Canada. Let's keep it that way."

160 Allied Warships In Special Manoeuvres

Exercise Off Scandinavia Warning to Russians West On Alert

OSLO (AP).—More than 160 Allied warships, including eight big aircraft carriers, begin manoeuvres off Scandinavia next week, warning Russia that the west is ready to defend the seas even up to the Arctic Circle.

Officially known as "Operation Mainbrace," the 13-day war games will be one of the largest displays of Allied naval might since the Second World War. Canada's aircraft carrier Magnificent will participate.

The ostensible purpose of the eight-country exercise is to give the participating navies an opportunity to co-operate in manoeuvres with their North Atlantic Treaty partners.

TWO POSSIBLE EFFECTS

Military sources said, however, that the games could have two important psychological effects:

1. Demonstrate to Norway, Denmark and Iceland that they can and will be defended, that they are an integral part of N.A.T.O. and not just an appendage to an organization centred in Europe's vital mid-section.

2. Serve notice on Russia that the western allies are fully prepared to resist attack anywhere, even in Arctic waters.

Allied Headquarters for Northern Europe, located in Oslo, announced today that the N.A.T.O. force will assemble off Scotland Monday and Tuesday. Actual manoeuvres will begin Saturday, Sept. 13, under command of Britain's Admiral Sir Patrick Brind, Commander-in-Chief of Allied forces in Northern Europe. They will end Sept. 25.

Participating will be ships and planes from Canada, the United States, Britain, Norway, Denmark, France, The Netherlands, and Belgium. The fleet will range from battleships such as the 45,000-ton U.S.S. Wisconsin and Britain's 42,500-ton Vanguard down to small but vital minesweepers.

Eight carriers from Canada, the U.S. and Britain will provide the task force's aerial punch.

TO APPROACH NARVIK

The task force will rendezvous at the Firths of Clyde and Forth in Scotland. Its manoeuvres will carry the fleet into waters off northern Norway, near the port of Narvik, and from there down off the coast of Denmark.

Small units from Denmark, Norway and Britain will conduct submarine and coastal-defence exercises off the Danish island of Bornholm in the Baltic Sea and along the Baltic approaches to Denmark.

Larger Allied ships, however, will stay out of the Baltic. The Russians are particularly sensitive about these waters—the outlet for ports in Soviet-occupied East Germany, satellite Poland and the Soviet homeland.

The Soviet press has, in recent weeks, laid down a heavy campaign against "Mainbrace," describing it as a deliberate provocation.

3 Employees Leave Door Open

Thugs Scoop Up Thousands In Fast Operation

TORONTO (CP)—A $25,000 bank robbery was staged today by two cool gunmen who called each other "Willie" and "George". Officials at the west-end Roncesvalles and Howard Park Ave. branch of the Dominion Bank first reported the loot as $25,000. Later they revised the figure.

The investigation also resulted in the police changing their report of how the bandits entered the bank.

LEFT DOOR UNLOCKED

They said three employees who arrived early for work left the bank door unlocked. The bandits, whose faces were pulled out of shape by transparent adhesive tape, just walked in about 8:30 a.m., police said.

The first report was that the thieves hid in the bank during the night. Then police said a janitor had admitted one of the robbers after seeing him with a bank employee and mistaking him for an early customer.

Noted Diplomat Count Sforza Dies In Italy

ROME (AP)—Count Carlo Sforza died in a Roman clinic last night. He would have been 79 years old Sept. 25.

Sforza served Italy in diplomacy for a half-century and twice was Foreign Minister. When the monarchy was replaced by the Republican government in 1946 he wanted to be known not as Count but simply as Mister.

COUNT SFORZA

He figured in making peace for Italy twice: In Allied victory over the central powers of the German Kaiser in the First World War and in defeat after the Mussolini debacle in the Second World War.

Then he lived to see Italy resurgent as a staunch ally of the west once more—largely through his ef-

Top Conciliator Sent To West

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal Labor Department's top conciliator has gone west in an attempt to settle a wage-hour dispute threatening a strike of Lakehead grain-handlers that would hold up the movement of Canada's record wheat crop.

Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, was in Winnipeg today holding talks with disputants and was expected to join in a new series of conferences opening Monday at the Lakehead.

The grain-handlers, engaged in negotiations for months with elevator companies, voted yesterday to go on strike for their demands. Information here was that a strike is planned between Sept. 15 and 18.

Labor Department officials said today Ronald Cooper of the department's Winnipeg office has been named conciliation officer in the dispute and will open meetings Monday with the companies and representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship clerks (A. F. L.-T. L. C.).

The deputy minister is expected to sit in on these meetings, officials said. He has been in Winnipeg for several days, quietly trying to patch up the differences between union and companies.

Urge Control Dam To Regulate Lake

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Construction of a control dam in the St. Lawrence River was urged today to provide "the most effective means" of regulating the water levels of Lake Ontario. The proposal was made to the International Joint Commission by William T. Field, a consulting engineer, who spoke for the Watertown Chamber of Commerce water resources committee, as a Watertown councillor, and as a representative of the Lewis county Chamber of Commerce.

He contended at an open hearing that construction of the Iroquois control dam, a part of the general development plan of the International rapids section of the St. Lawrence, would serve a dual purpose.

He said it would serve "first as an essential part of the St. Lawrence seaway and power development and second as a means of reducing the normal fluctuations of the water level of Lake Ontario." representing Canada and the U. S. governments, to give "serious consideration to recommending" such a plan.

The I. J. C. is considering the whole issue of high water levels in the Great Lakes.

Wednesday, Canada poured oil on the troubled waters of the controversy over water levels.

At an I. J. C. hearing in Albany, N. Y., Canadian counsel David Mundell said Gut Dam at Ogdensburg would be torn down as soon as a St. Lawrence River power project was approved.

Mundell's announcement was regarded as a move to win support for the $400,000,000 power project.

Laying Sewer Along Clonsilla

Laying of a sewer along the west side of Clonsilla Ave. from the west end of Charlotte St. at Victory Drive, in the Hatton housing area, to Western Ave. is proceeding along what once was known as the Gravel Road.

R. A. Blyth, Toronto, contractor, has already completed the shallower stretch northerly from the end of Western Ave.

The sewer on that street was built several years ago, from No. 7 Highway south to Chamberlain St. Eventually it will be projected south to Lansdowne St., presumably by petition.

It is understood that the present work was the object of a petition by the late J. A. Gibbs who was interested in the development of the property on the west side of Clonsilla southerly from Victory Crescent. Mr. Gibbs' plans dissolved with his sudden death more than a year ago on an automobile trip through the western provinces.

$250,000 Fire Razes Residential School

THE PAS, Man. (CP) — Fire of unknown origin yesterday destroyed the Indian residential school at Sturgeon Landing, 40 miles west of here. Loss was estimated at more than $250,000.

The three-storey wooden structure housed 150 Indian children, and a staff of two priests, three lay brothers and 14 sisters. None was injured.

A spokesman from the Department of Indian Affairs at The Pas said all the children, ranging from seven to 16 years, would be flown back to their reservations.

GM Gives Increase

OSHAWA (CP) — Some 10,000 hourly-rated and salaried employees of General Motors of Canada will receive an additional one-cent-an-hour cost-of-living allowance effective Sept. 13, the company has announced. The increase is to compensate for rises in the cost of living since June 1. Workers have been receiving a 17-cent hourly cost-of-living allowance which is now boosted to 18 cents.

Build Artificial Satellite To Earth Scientist Urges

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—A United States scientist urged today that someone build an artificial satellite to the earth.

Dr. S. F. Singer, scientific liaison officer to the U. S. Embassy in London, told the British Association for the Advancement of Science the project is technically feasible.

Cost is the main thing holding up the construction of such a satellite, Singer said, but he gave no estimate of how much cash he thought would be needed.

Singer was describing the results of cosmic ray and upper atmosphere research in the U. S. through the use of rockets. There are about four groups of researchers using V-2 Viking and Aerobee rockets for this purpose, he said, but because of the staggering cost each group can launch only four or five rockets a year and many of them are a total failure. The V-2, not originally designed as a research instrument, often fails to lift its instruments off the ground, he said.

Britain is studying ways of abolishing the modern airfield by belly-landing big jet airlines on taut wires, a British scientist said.

Sir Ben Lockspeiser, former chief scientific adviser to Britain's ministry of supply, said the principle now being tried out at the government's royal aircraft establishment in Farnborough is a revolutionary development of the way planes are trapped on the flight decks of carriers.

Modern airports, with their network of concrete runways, are an extensive nuisance, Lockspeiser said in his presidential address to the engineering section of the association.

Release Boy In Fire Deaths

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy was released yesterday after juvenile authorities said questioning indicated he was not responsible for the deaths of two children yesterday in an attic fire.

Justice of the peace B. B. Brotherman returned a verdict of accidental death for Mary Louise Cunningham, 12, and her brother, Lindsey, 8. A sister, Esther, 11, was burned critically when she tried to put out the blaze.

Brotherman and Detective Jack Jurney said that after exhaustive questioning, two witnesses said they had not actually seen the boy toss kerosene on the children and light it.

The boy steadfastly denied he threw the kerosene or set the fire, but he told police he had "feuded" with the two dead children.

Brotherman and Jurney said the investigation disclosed there had been a pan of paint thinner in the attic. They surmised that the children might have set the paint thinner on fire by accident.

Yacht Hits Island 3 People Drowned

MONTREAL (CP)—Three persons were drowned early today in Riviere des Prairies at Laval des Rapides when their yacht struck a small island.

Dead are Edmond Koussawa, 31, owner of the yacht; Jack Gareau, 25, and a man identified as S. Gold.

Two other persons in the yacht were rescued. They are Mrs. Laureen Koussawa, 23, and Pierre Decarie, 34.

Gareau's body was recovered shortly after. Laval des Rapides is about 15 miles from Montreal proper on the west end of the island.

Want Trade With Red Lands

MARGATE, England (AP)—Warring left- and right-wings of the mammoth Trades Congress today called a brief truce in their family strife to debate a resolution urging more trade with Communist countries. The debate was the wind-up event of the annual conference of the 8,000,000-member congress, which yesterday voted overwhelmingly to seek only moderate wage increases rather than the all-out lifting of the lid demanded by Communist members. Both factions of the party agreed on the east-west trade resolution, which said "extensive trading relations with China, Russia and other eastern countries would make a substantial contribution toward improving the present international situation."

ASK ACT AT ONCE

It called on the government to act at once to expand trade with the Red countries.

The wage resolutions adopted by the congress amounted to qualified approval of the Conservative government's hold-the-line policy of no major wage raises. The T. U. C.'s executive general council warned the members that Britain still faces a grave economic crisis, and that big pay increases might set off runaway inflation and cause national economic collapse.

The T. U. C. left up to the individual unions the decision on what are moderate wage increases.

The Communist defeat came on a resolution, offered by the Red-controlled Electrical Trades Union, calling for rejection of "the Tory government's policy of so-called restraint or moderation." With the 900 delegates voting for the congress' entire membership, the resolution was thrown out 4,914,000 to 2,262,000.

The conference approved a resolution urging restraint in wage demands by a vote of 7,771,000 to 39,000. The general council's report urging moderation in pay claims was adopted 6,586,000 to 504,000.

Reds Making Progress On Use Of Rockets

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Russians have made much progress in the development of rocket warfare and are firing off test missiles into the Baltic from the old Nazi bases in East Germany, Hans Egidi, West Germany's security commissioner, said today.

Egidi told an interviewer the Russians have strongly fortified the Baltic coast from East Germany aroond to the Soviet Union. These fortifications are often called the Stalin wall but details about them are lacking because of the strong security belt the Communists have imposed, he said.

Cyanide Gun Shoots Poison

VANCOUVER (AP)—A gun that shoots poison instead of bullets—a cyanide gun—is being used by the Game Commission in an offensive against marauding bears in North and West Vancouver.

Between 20 and 50 black bears have been raiding garbage cans and gardens of residents living in the two suburbs across the harbor from Vancouver proper.

More than 20 bears have been shot. No person has been attacked.

The cyanide guns—five are in use—comprise a pipe, a 38-calibre shell loaded with cyanide dust, a triggering device and a cotton pad soaked in decaying fish oil or other materials which bears find attractive.

When the bear chews the cotton, the shell fires and discharges poison directly into the animal's throat.

Bevanites Produce Plan For Economic Freedom

LONDON (Reuters)—Left-wing Bevanites yesterday produced a plan for British economic independence from the United States. Leader is Harold Wilson, one of three leading Bevanites who said the scale of British rearmament was too great when they resigned their posts in the late Labor government last year. Wilson, 36, former Board of Trade president, put forward his plan in a pamphlet, "In Place of Dollars," published by the Weekly Tribune, which speaks for Aneurin Bevan, leader of the left-wing Labor faction.

The plan is likely to provoke one of the main controversies at the forthcoming annual conference of the Labor party at Morecombe.

Bevan and his men say Britain faces a desperate economic crisis in which her independence and survival are at stake.

MUST BE FREE

Wilson, in his pamphlet, says Britain must free herself from U. S. aid involving acceptance of strategic decisions controlled by staff chiefs at Washington.

UN Troops Turn Back 8 Savage Attacks

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — United Nations infantrymen and artillery today beat back eight savage Chinese Communist attacks on bloody Bunker Hill. At the same time Allied fighter-bombers plastered a North Korean mining centre.

United States Eighth Army staff officers estimated 400 Reds were killed or wounded in the fierce two-hour fight which erupted before dawn on the western front. The Reds stormed through murderous defensive fire to within hand-grenade range before their columns were smashed.

At sun-up, two waves of fighter-bombers demolished 28 buildings in 300 strikes at the mining centre of Sinhung, the air force said.

Seven straight assaults hit the Allied ridge line frontally, while an eighth column tried to flank the position from the rear.

Ottawa Losing $59,000,000 Year

TORONTO (CP)—The federal government stands to lose about $59,000,000 this year through the new provincial-federal tax rental agreement, Ontario Treasury officials said yesterday.

On the basis of last year's corporation tax, Ontario corporations will gain about $30,000,000. This is made up of the reduction in actual tax, from 54 to 52 per cent through the new agreement, as well as the reduction in special taxes on capital and place of business.

Corporation revenues are dropping this year. The agreement was signed on the basis of Premier Frost's budget estimate of $89,000,000 in corporation tax revenue. Now it appears that corporations' revenues will be about 10 per cent below last year, a Treasury official said.

This would bring Ontario's revenue, if it had not entered the tax rental agreement, down by almost $9,000,000. Adding the $20,000,000 which the federal government has agreed to pay in personal income tax, the net gain appears to be rpughly $59,000,000.

Red Gunners Fire Into U.S. Sector

BERLIN (AP)—Two Russian tommygunners today fired several shots into the U. S. sector at a West Berliner who escaped from east-zone territory. He was not hit.

West Berlin police reported the man was challenged inside the Soviet zone by the Russians. The sentries opened fire when he broke away.

More Than Million Reds In Korean Army—Van Fleet

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United States Eighth Army commander, today said there now are more than 1,000,000 Communist soldiers in Korea—"a slight increase" in the last few months.

He told a press conference the Reds have "rather ample stocks" for an offensive. But he reiterated that he does not believe they will try one in the coming autumn.

The general said United Nations air attacks are "hurting the Communists badly.

Van Fleet made these other points in what he called "a public accounting to the free world" on U. N. ground action in Korea in June, July and August:

1. "Our front-line positions have been handily improved the past three months, providing us a strong coast-to-coast installation."

2. U. N. troops have inflicted more than 30,000 casualties on the Communists.

3. Body armor has proved practical and an adequate supply "has been assured in the very near future" or all units wanting the extra protection.

4. "The brilliant progress of the army of the republic of Korea," is responsible for much of the U.N. success on the battle front.

Van Fleet said air attacks alone can not decide the war.

"You'll always need the ground force," he declared. "There is no substitute for the rifleman."

Delegation Head Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Lord Robinson, vice-president of the 6th British Commonwealth forestry conference and chairman of the Forestry Commission of Great Britain, died suddenly in hospital early today of pneumonia.

As head of the 14-man United Kingdom delegation, Lord Robinson had participated actively in a strenuous, 3,000-mile tour of Ontario and Quebec forests made by the conference during extensive meetings in this country which began last month.

This included outdoor sleeping, boat, plane and bus trips and younger delegates had been impressed by the way he apparently thrived on the rigors of the trip.

The 69-year-old British forestry chief went to hospital Wednesday—two days after the conference settled down for Ottawa meetings.

Former Dictator Leads Balloting

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Former dictator Carlos Ibanez Del Campo came out far ahead today in Chile's presidential election. But with the vote count nearly complete, the 75-year-old strong man fell just short of the 50-per-cent-plus-one vote required to seat him.

The latest official tally gave Ibanez—a close friend of Argentine President Juan D. Peron—46.7 per cent of the popular vote with only 3,009 ballots still out. It was generally agreed, however, that Congress would acknowledge his big lead over the three other candidates and put him into office when it meets Oct. 24.

The legislative branch chooses between the two highest candidates when none captures a majority.

Official returns issued by the ministry of the interior showed Ibanez so far had won 432,920 out of the 921,430 votes counted.

Henry Fowler Named Mobilization Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today named Henry H. Fowler, Washington and Virginia lawyer, as director of the office of defence mobilization.

Fowler, now defence production administrator, thus moves up to the top job in the government's civilian agencies connected with the preparedness effort.

His new job was formerly held by Charles E. Wilson, one-time president of the General Electric Company. Wilson resigned last March 31 after a dispute with the administration over methods of handling the steel strike.

John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, has been acting as the defence mobilizer since Wilson quit.

Grain Handlers Have Voted To Strike Sept. 15

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—The Lakehead's 1,500 grain handlers last night voted to strike Sept. 15 to support wage demands. A strike could tie up grain shipments from Western Canada. Charles Hardick, district chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, told a cheering meeting of more than 1,400 union members that 99.17% of the 1,435 ballots cast favored strike action to support their demands on 15 grain elevator companies. However, he also told the meeting: "We are hopeful that a settlement can be reached before the date set for the strike."

TALKS DEADLOCKED

The negotiations between the union and the 15 companies became deadlocked when the operators and workers failed to agree on union requests for a basic wage rate of $1.47 an hour, a 40-hour week and other considerations. Employers accepted a conciliation-board recommendation of $1.32 an hour with a 44-hour week, but the union refused. Present basic pay scale is $1.17 an hour.

The 15 elevator companies involved said they cannot afford to meet union demands unless they are granted higher rates by the Board of Grain Commissioners.

They can ask the board to hear argument for higher rates to meet added costs, or they can appeal to Ottawa to order the board to hear the applications on an emergency basis.

A strike of Fort William and Port Arthur elevator workers would create a "vital problem" for the grain industry, a local terminal elevator superintendent said.

The effect of a strike cannot be accurately evaluated now since it would be the first complete shutdown of operations, he said.

YARDS JAMMED

Railway officials reported 5,500 cars of grain in lakehead yards today waiting to be unloaded.

If a strike occurs, W. F. Trimble, Canadian Pacific Railway superintendent, said he believes that cars in the west en route to the Lakehead would probably continue to arrive here until storage space for about 3,000 is filled. After that, they probably would be stored at yards west of here.

It is likely, if a strike is called, that loading operations in the west will be stopped, he said.

If a strike occurs, F. G. Nelson, Canadian National Railways superintendent, said he felt it would create a "mess" as far as grain cars were concerned, since efficiency depends on a "fluid situation" in which loadings are balanced against return of empty cars.

An official of the Grain Trimmers Association said that in the event of a strike, there couldn't possibly be any grain loaded to ships. "There wouldn't be a pound of grain leave the harbor," he added.

Dog Bit Two Owner Fined Must Control It

A Scotch collie dog that bit two women and chased after a number of other Lakefield residents was the cause of a court case today before Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope.

It was alleged that the female collie, owned by Mrs. Shirley Rae of Lakefield, bit Mrs. Isabel Preston on July 25 and Mrs. Mary Lawrence on August 2. Both women live in the village.

The charge against Mrs. Rae was laid under the Vicious Dog Act that permits the magistrate to order the dog destroyed if he sees fit.

Magistrate Baxter found Mrs. Rae guilty of being the owner of a vicious dog and he placed her under suspended sentence with a $100 bond posted. Conditions of the bond:

1. The dog is to be kept out of Lakefield if possible.
2. If in Lakefield the dog must be kept under Mrs. Rae's close control; chained or securely on leash if allowed out of doors in the village.
3. Chains purchased by the village to tie up the dog must be returned.

Mrs. Rae was also ordered to pay the witness fees of $27.

Mrs. Preston said she was walking along the sidewalk in Lakefield on July 25 when a brown and white collie, that she identified as belonging to Mrs. Rae, came from behind and bit her on the leg. She said that she had difficulty getting to the office of Dr. Hugh Gastle because the dog tried to get at her again.

CHECKED FOR RABIES

Dr. Gastle, Lakefield M.O.H., treated her for the dog bite and then phoned Sanitary Inspector Harry Hill to have Chief Leslie Foster shut the dog up for 14 days pending observation for rabies.

The dog was not tied up, said Dr. Gastle, and several times he observed it chasing pedestrians and barking at them.

An August 2 Mrs. Lawrence was bitten by the dog that had whelped sometime in late July. It had a kennel in a vacant lot, near a trailer parked there by Mrs. Rae.

The dog was finally tied up on August 7 by Chief Foster and a 13-year-old girl who Mrs. Rae, away from Lakefield at the time, had entrusted with feeding it. The dog did not have rabies.

Beef Program Changes Hinted

WINNIPEG (CP)—Western agricultural sources said yesterday the federal government may consider changes in the present beef support price program.

This was indicated following a conference here Wednesday attended by Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Manitoba agriculture and livestock officials.

Although no official statement was forthcoming from the closed session, there was general agreement the present policy needs bolstering if it is to prove effective during the heavy fall marketing months.

Mr. Gardiner said the present program will remain in effect until Sept. 30 "at least," and if any changes are to be made these will be announced within "two or three weeks."

Will Stand Trial For Traffic Deaths

TORONTO (CP)—William Fleming yesterday was committed for trial on charges of manslaughter, dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The charges arose from an accident in suburban Port Credit June 28 in which William Green and Anne Vanderheul, both 16, were killed when struck by an automobile while walking home from a movie. Their companion, Donald Fogg, also 16, escaped injury.

Fleming, chauffeur for newspaper publisher Roy Thomson, was arrested after driving a guest home from Mr. Thomson's estate.

C-O-L FALLS—The cost-of-living index declined by four-tenths of a point during July to 187.6 from 188.0, the Bureau of Statistics reports. The index rose during June and May following a four-month drop from the peak of 191.5 last December. Lower prices for some foods was the main factor in the decline. The dotted line shows the United States' consumers' price index which reached an all-time high of 190.8 July 15. These indices measure percentage changes in prices in each country but should not be used to compare actual levels of prices between the two countries.

Report Cost-of-Living Index Drops Slightly During July

OTTAWA (CP)—Lower summer prices for some foods figured in a slight reduction of Canadian living costs in July. The cost-of-living index dropped four-tenths of a point during the month, to 187.6 from 188.0, after a two-month increase, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Some credit for the decline was given to seasonal low prices for potatoes and other fresh vegetables.

The index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, had increased a total of 1.3 points in May and June from the 186.7 level in April. Previously the index had steadily declined from the peak of 191.5 last December.

Along with lower fresh vegetable prices, there were slightly lower prices for men's wear, piece goods, footwear, rugs, wool blankets and soap.

EGG PRICES HIGHER

These more than offset price increases for eggs, lemons, oranges, coal and coke, health care and magazines.

Two other price indices also dropped. The bureau's wholesale price index for 30 industrial material prices declined to 242.5 on Aug. 22 from 248.2 on July 25. The index for farm prices slipped to 235.2 from 244.0.

Iron ore, bleached wood pulp, raw sugar, raw rubber, raw wool, steers, wheat, lead, zinc, potatoes and western grains all found lower levels.

Three of the sub-groups in the general cost-of-living index showed July declines. Two showed increases. The sixth, rents, was not surveyed and remained at the peak of 147.9 reached last May.

The food sub-index dropped 1.5 points to 238.0 from 239.5, well below the June, 1950, record high of 251.4.

The clothing sub-index eased a half point to 208.6 from 209.1. Its highest level was 215.5 last November. Home furnishings and services were also down to 196.0 from 196.7, below the peak of 201.1 last December.

Seasonal increases for coal and coke pushed the fuel and light subindex to 150.1 from 149.8. It now is close to last February's record of 152.5.

The miscellaneous column, including items ranging from transportation to recreation, was pushed to a near-record by the higher prices for health care and magazines. It climbed to 147.8 from 147.4 just nudging the record high of 147.9 last March.

Mild Support Rallies Base Metals And Oils

TORONTO (CP) — Sporadic selling today depressed selected leading stock market issues in early afternoon dealings but mild support rallied lower-priced base metals and western oils.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,283,000 shares.

Papers posted a widely-scattered list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest section. Agricultures, foods, liquors, textiles, manufacturing companies, retail stores and miscellaneous issues eased.

Western oil losses ranged from pennies to about 25 cents. Central-Explorers, Devon-Leduc, Federated Petroleum, Pacific Petroleum and Consolidated Allenbee showed the heaviest losses.

Base metals dipped as Barvue, Falconbridge, International Nickel Labrador and Sherritt-Gordon turned downward.

Dome, Kerr Addison and Sigma led a ragged senior gold decline. Secondary issues eased.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials down 1.04 at 329.50, golds down .41 at 91.99, base metals down .32 at 196.86 and western oils down .32 at 137.99.

Bandits Grab $29,000

Morning Glories Put On Show

Cliff Chapman, at 513 Park Hill Road, near the Jackson Park turn, has a grand blooming of Heavenly Blue morning glories climbing up and over the east side of his verandah. A friend gave him 40 seeds and advised him to file lightly the side of each from which growth stemmed, to assist germination.

"I thought I'd just leave it to nature, and 38 of the seeds broke above ground. My friend could count no more than seven in spite of the facility of filing the outer shell. In fact, I thinned mine out to 18 vines."

Mr. Chapman read a little note in the Examiner recently about apparent decline hereabouts in interest in the big blues. Reference to his own rewarding flowers that reflect the blue of the sky was suggested merely to encourage other home owners not to abandon them. Mr. Chapman has a row of just about the tallest salvias to be seen in Peterborough.

forts as Foreign Minister. He took the job the second time on Feb. 2, 1947, and had to give up in poor health four years and five months later.

STILL IN CABINET

At the time of his death, Sforza still held membership in the Italian cabinet as minister without portfolio in charge of European Union affairs.

Between his two post-war periods of influence, Sforza, a convinced liberal and anti-Fascist, spent 17 years in voluntary exile to protest the seizure of power by Benito Mussolini.

The cause of his death was not announced, but he was reported to have been under treatment for phlebitis. He was said to have suffered a blood clot yesterday morning.

His funeral will be tomorrow. Premier Alcide de Gasperi cut short his vacation to attend the services.

Abroad, Sforza's fellow-statesmen voiced their regrets. In Washington, State Secretary Dean Acheson described his Italian colleague as "a great statesman and a distinguished scholar" who "staunchly supported throughout his lifetime the principles of freedom and justice for which he worked untiringly."

Sforza, said De Gasperi in a tribute, "served his country and its cause to the last and always was a loyal fighter for democracy and peace."

His blueprint for British freedom said Britain and other western countries struggling for solvency and independence would have their task lightened if the United States played its part in four ways:

1. By opening her doors to world imports and cutting import duties.
2. By joining other countries in international action to plan and allocate raw materials and scarce foodstuffs instead of relying on competitive buying.
3. By realizing the need for fair shares in the distribution of the arms burden.
4. By making a full-dress effort in the war against world poverty.

Any developments of U.S. economic policy which forced Britain to seek salvation outside the dollar area would destroy the great trading links between Britain and Canada and face both countries with some ugly decisions, Wilson said.

DISCRIMINATION

On the worst assumption about U.S. action, Britain's program would have to be pushed to a point that meant a siege economy and outright discrimination against dollar trade.

Britain would have to reshape the whole of her national economic policies in accordance with these four principles:

1. An all-out drive to develop sources of food and raw material supplies in areas which do not require payments in dollars.
2. Insistence on greater freedom to develop trade with the non-dollar areas. This means greater freedom to trade with the sterling area Commonwealth on one hand and with Eastern Europe and the eastern world on the other.
3. Britain's rearmament program should be reduced to a level her economy could bear.
4. Britain would need a far more objective direction of national economic life and must economize to the utmost on dollar expenditure.

85% Of Workers Vote To Have Strike

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Eighty-five per cent of employees at the English Electric Company of Canada plant have voted in favor of strike action in their four-month dispute with the company over wage scales, an official of the United Steelworkers of America (C. I. O.-C. C. L.) said today.

Negotiations between company and union have continued since early May and involve the St. Catharines plant of English Electric, the John Inglis plant at Toronto and the new English Electric plant at Scarboro. Union meetings will be held Sunday at Toronto and Scarboro when it is expected a strike vote will be taken. Fifteen hundred employees are involved in the Toronto and Scarboro plants. There are 650 in St. Catharines.

J. Bacon, union organizer, said 91 per cent of those attending the meeting here last night voted in favor of strike action. He estimated turnout to the meeting, when a secret ballot was taken, at about 85 per cent of the membership.

Mr. Bacon said that the union wanted to avoid a strike if at all possible, adding that "the vote empowers the executive to call the strike at any time it wishes during the course of the dispute."

OPP Inspector A.H. Palmer Dies

TIMAGAMI (CP)—Arthur Herbert Palmer, 56, retired inspector of the Ontario Provincial Police, died Wednesday night. He spent almost 32 years on the force.

Born in England, he joined the force Oct. 20, 1920. He became a sergeant Feb. 8, 1923, and was promoted to district inspector March 2, 1926. His final promotion was to an inspector of the criminal investigation branch June 1,1940. He retired in June, 1945, due to ill health.

He was absent from service with the force from December, 1942, to December, 1943, while with the R.C.A.F.

He served in Provincial Police detachments at London, Whitby, Niagara Falls, Cornwall and Ottawa and with the C.I.B. at general headquarters in Toronto.

The final version was that the bandits tied up the early-bird employees and janitor Arthur Marsden, then trussed up several other members of the staff as they reported one by one for work. They left the bank less than an hour before its normal 10 o'clock opening for public business.

Later police found a dark blue automobile, reported stolen, a few blocks south of the robbery scene. They expressed belief it had been used as a getaway car.

WORE RUBBER GLOVES

E. W. McGrindle, manager of the bank, said the men, who wore rubber gloves to foil fingerprint experts, "worked like lightning."

McGrindle was one of the first to be tied up. However, the bandits released him temporarily and forced him at gunpoint to unlock the vault and the safe inside it.

The holdup, first here since March, was the fifth in the Toronto district this year. Total loot since New Year's exceeds $164,000.

With their hands tied behind their backs, all the staff members were compelled to lie on the floor behind the counters at the rear of the main floor. They could not be seen from the street, nor could they see the bandits leave.

SCOOPED UP THOUSANDS

When the two gunmen were satisfied they had the entire staff under their control, they scooped up thousands of dollars in bills and a small amount of silver.

Both bandits were heavily built. One appeared about 25 and wore glasses. The other was between 18 and 25, with dark curly hair.

Marsden, the watchman, was the first to struggle free of the ropes. He said he managed to telephone police while still partly bound.

Mrs. Lai-liss Ronimois, machine operator at the bank, said she was tied as soon as she entered the bank.

"I closed my eyes so I wouldn't have to look," she said. "They kept talking to each other all the time but I don't remember what they said. They were very gentle. They kept saying they wouldn't hurt us unless someone forced them to."

Synod Approves Primatial See

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The 18th general synod of the Church of England in Canada today voted to form a "small primatial see" to reduce the diocesan duties of the Primate of All Canada. Ratification of the decision of the lower house by the upper house or House of Bishops was considered a certainty.

The resolution for formation of the new diocese was moved by Chancellor R. V. Harris of Halifax and seconded by Mr. Justice W. H. Harrison of Saint John, N. B. In his address to the synod Chancellor Harris said "we have already killed two primates" by overwork.

The action merely approves the principle of creating a new see for the primate who traditionally has also been archbishop of a major diocese. It does not go into detail of where the see will be.

At yesterday's opening meetings the synod heard pleas for church unity and increased zeal.

Eisenhower Gets New Plaudits On Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thundering ovations echoed behind Dwight D. Eisenhower today as the Republican presidential candidate carried his "crusade" for world peace into the midwest.

And Governor Adlai Stevenson was to fly to Denver to hit back at the Republican theme that it is time for a change.

Fresh from a triumphant two-day air tour of the south, Eisenhower won new plaudits last night from a wildly cheering crowd of 17,500 in Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

They howled approval when he said the United States can lead the world to peace and that "it is a cause for every American."

LET'S GET GOING

"Well, then, let's get going," he said. "Don't wait for tomorrow. Let's get going tonight."

Peace, Eisenhower said, can be achieved only by throwing the "wasters, the bunglers and the incompetents" out of office in Washington.

Charging the administration "has bungled us perilously close to world war three," he said, "we will dedicate ourselves to a program for peace aimed to prevent future Koreas and the honorable end of this Korean War."

SPARKMAN RAPS IKE

Stevenson's running mate, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, last night accused Eisenhower of lacking both hindsight and foresight as far as Russian-U.S. relations are concerned.

He quoted the general as saying at a Moscow press conference in 1945: "I see nothing in the future to prevent the U.S. and Russia from becoming the closest of friends."

The same year, he said, Eisenhower told a congressional committee that "nothing guides Russian policy so much as a desire for friendship with the U.S." Sparkman was campaigning in New Mexico.

His Republican opponent for the vice-presidency, Senator Richard Nixon of California, told a convention at Hartford, Conn., last night that Eisenhower must be elected to "clean up the mess in Washington." Election of Stevenson would meas "bossism in the White House."

Seven Pupils Win Bursaries

Dominion-Provincial bursaries for student-aid have been awarded to four P.C.V.S. students and three St. Peter's High School students to help them continue their education in universities, normal schools and high schools.

P.C.V.S. students, Ronald Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Buck, 223 London St., Roderick D. Delaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Delaney, 467 King St., and Sandy K. Dewar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dewar, 143 Brock St., received type "A" university bursaries amounting to $400 each.

A fourth P.C.V.S. boy, William Nicholls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nicholls, 2 Benson Ave., was awarded a normal school bursary valued at $135.

St. Peter's High School students swept the bursaries for high school help. These students were Rosemary J. DeNoble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred DeNoble, 140 Robinson St., Teresa Gordon, daughter of Mrs. M. A. Gordon, Gananoque, and Paul J. Hickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hickson, 1 Stewart St. These students are attending St. Peter's High this year.

On Thursday Ronald Buck received one of 26 provincial scholarships, awarded by the provincial command of the Canadian Legion. It was valued at $300. Another P.C.V.S. student, Gail Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Craig, R.R. 3, Peterborough, received the Canadian Legion's Dominion command scholarship, valued at $400.

C. S. Browne, principal at P.C.V.S., said that university scholarship results should be announced shortly. In previous years St. Peter's and P.C.V.S. students have won several scholarships.

Refuse To Give Milk Producers 35-Cent Hike

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—The Sault Ste. Marie Milk Distributors Association last night turned down a request from producers for an increase of 35 cents a hundredweight.

Producers are now paid $5.20 a hundredweight for milk used in producing fluid milk products and $3.50 for secondary milk.

The distributors said producers should present their request to the Ontario Milk Control Board, or seek arbitration.

Both groups said any increase decided on must be borne by consumers. Present retail prices for milk are 23 cents a quart for standard and 25 cents for special.

An official of the Algoma Milk Producers Association said the price increase was needed because of increased labor costs, a poor fodder crop and a milk surplus due to the United States embargo on Canadian cattle.

Distributors said a two-cent increase in retail prices last year had cut consumption of fresh milk by four per cent. If the price went up again, they said, more condensed and dried milk would be used.

Girl Sailor Crashes Palace Attends Sultan's Party

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Mrs. Ann Davison, who wants to become the first woman to cross the Atlantic in a yacht alone, has become the second woman to attend a reception given by the Sultan of Morocco.

Mrs. Davison, a 38-year-old widow, is staying in Morocco pending favorable weather next month for her voyage. She left Plymouth, England, May 18.

Wednesday she was visiting the Sultan's palace. She found herself in the throne room, where the reception was taking place. She curtsied to the Sultan, who was seated on the throne, and he acknowledged it with a nod.

Residents here said the only other woman known to have attended a sultan's reception was an unnamed American who disguised herself in an army officer's uniform and slipped by the guards during the war. Moslem protocol forbids the presence of women at a sultan's reception.

Mrs. Davison's vessel is a two-ton, 23-foot Bermudan-rigged yacht. She will sail for Florida as soon as the present hurricane season is over.

Scantily Clad Art Models Find Schoolroom Too Cold

TORONTO (CP)—Models, posing scantily clad for high school art classes, complained yesterday that one schoolroom is so cold the artists themselves have to wear sweaters and jackets.

Furthermore, some dressing rooms afford little privacy. They are also used as storerooms.

And on top of that, they add, a redhead was chosen by one instructor to pose because she was the daughter of another teacher, not a professional model.

All these complaints were brought before the Board of Education's advisory vocational committee by Mrs. Isabel Lucas, secretary of the Models' Guild of Canada.

The Guild has a one-year contract with the school board which ends this month. The models have no complaints about their salaries—$2 an hour for daytime work and $3 for evening work—but they would like to see conditions improved.

Pt. Hope Talks Of Secession

COBOURG (ENS)—The talk in Port Hope of seceding from Northumberland and Durham Counties recalls the time back in the 1930's when Cobourg contemplated the same action.

In Port Hope this week, Reeve William Roche told the council that the counties council had gone back on its promise to spend $11,000 this year on Cavan street in Port Hope by deciding to lay it over until next year. Reeve Roche said that Port Hope this year paid more than $30,000 into the counties in the form of the counties rate and "got nothing in return."

When Cobourg toyed with the same idea of withdrawing from the counties, the town learned unofficially that it was doubtful if the necessary legislation would ever be passed and when the various county services enjoyed by the town were checked over it was decided that it would be poor business to withdraw, and the idea died.

TV Horror Programs Said Danger To Child Health

CHICAGO (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association took a swipe today at some of television's crime-and-horror programs, saying they could endanger the health of children.

"Unfortunately, astonishingly little research has been done on the medical and psychological impact of television on children," the Journal said in an editorial.

It said that "for its own interest" the television industry should acknowledge the "adverse medical and psychological implications" found in many such programs, and added:

"It should foster research on the impact of television on mind and body, and should make a sustained effort to avoid programming shows potentially dangerous to the health of the nation's children.

'DO IT NOW'

"Indeed, the television industry would be well advised to accomplish this voluntarily and as rapidly as possible in order to neutralize the growing hue and cry for government regulation and its attendant evils of censorship."

The Journal cited two studies in its conclusions, a survey made by TV Magazine of television programs on Los Angeles stations the week of May 24-30, and a survey made by Dr. M. I. Preston in 1941 on the effects of movie horror and radio crime shows on children.

It said the TV Magazine survey showed that in one week Los Angeles stations carried 852 major crime incidents, in addition to innumerable saloon brawls, sluggings and assaults and other "minor" acts of violence. Seventy-five per cent of the crime deluge was on programs for children.

The editorial said Preston's study showed that in the group of 153 children subject to horror movies and radio shows, 76 per cent showed increased nervousness, 85 per cent suffered from sleeping disturbances, fears were increased five-fold in 94 per cent, and 51 per cent were found to be nail-biters.

No Magic For Smith Ratepayers

If some alchemy of taxation or some benign god could remove the problems which their own presence in the township creates, the objections of Smith township residents to annexation might be realistic. As there is no such chemistry and so such deity, we feel that the objectors might as well wail at the moon or the atom bomb. They are facing one fact: higher taxation, but they are ignoring others which make that taxation inevitable, whether they are brought into the city of Peterborough or remain part of the township of Smith. It is not a bad thing that they have met in a protest meeting; this shows that they have some public and municipal conscience; and it shows township, county and city councillors that they have democrats to deal with. But useful democratic action depends on the tool of democracies: adequate information.

* * *

Vehemence of protest does not do away with the need to consider the factors affecting the situation. At Tuesday night's meeting of 120 protesting ratepayers, no township councillor was present. Township officials have been studying the matter, as have city officials. The Municipal Board is not foisting annexation on anybody willy-nilly. The councillors know what the problems are; they should be heard, to get the facts straight and in perspective. Tonight city and township officials are again going over the situation, and tomorrow night the special group of protestors will have the opportunity to discuss it with the full council.

* * *

These facts should then become clear. Much of Smith township is suburban, not rural. It requires, now, many of the facilities for public health, education and household service which are needed in a city. Whether they are provided by the township or the city, they must be paid for. The city is not crying out for annexation. Every suburban annexation it has had since the war has cost all the city ratepayers large sums of money.

* * *

Many taxpayers in Peterborough are as strongly opposed to annexing any part of Smith township as the township residents are. The reason is that Smith requires expensive public services, enlarged schools and new schools, now and in the next few years. If the territory comes into the city these additional expenses on behalf of the Smith residents becomes an additional burden on the city's purse, on every citizen's taxrate. If the area remains outside the city limits, then the township and the county and the school areas will have to foot all the bills.

* * *

Some residents of Smith, particularly those in the annexable thousand-acre area farthest from the city limits, would like to have the city take only the hundred or so most populated acres closest to the city. Thus the rest of Smith would be relieved of the chief expenses and pains of suburban building in the township. This might be a good thing for Smith township, but it would be bad for the city.

* * *

If the city has to annex the suburban area, it should not have to take only the problems, pains and expenses, leaving the rest of the land for other Smith township landowners to subdivide (often very badly), make large profits thereby, and then, in another ten years, to foist the problems and expenses of another hundred acres on the city tax rates. We very strongly believe that annexation should be of all the thousand acres, or none. If the city takes it all, building can be controlled, the school areas planned, the streets laid out with regard to convenience and economy, and the area methodically (and without exploitation) developed. One reason that the city's tax rate is high is that it has been forced to provide services for ill-equipped areas previously annexed, and to remedy the mistakes of commission and ommission of the previous township authorities and property owners.

* * *

If, after all aspects of the situation have been thoroughly examined, Smith residents continue to feel that the city is a big bad wolf trying to swallow them, then, for the sake of good neighbourliness and the city tax rates, let the city stay out of the affair completely. Let Smith township go its own way, while the city watches from the sidelines as a big bad wolf of its township residents' own breeding creep into their fold. Toronto township has undergone the experience.

Should Gambling Be Legal?

Some sharp criticism has been directed at Mr. Justice Caron, who has said that an amendment to the Criminal Code which made gambling and betting legal would save Montreal from "the cancer eating at it." Those who disagree with the judge write as if he were wantonly seeking to destroy the moral fibre of Canada. We think that there is a great deal of wisdom in what Mr. Caron says; he has had an unusual opportunity to find out how gambling works in one big Canadian city, and a judge of his experience has doubtless seen much elsewhere of the trouble that gambling brings in its train. He suggests that bringing gambling into the open would kill the racketeering associated with it, and we must not brush his opinion aside lightly.

Everybody likes to gamble in some sense or other, and if they did not virtually all trade and industry would come to a standstill; taking risks is the essence of all monetary progress. Undoubtedly gambling brings misery to those who cannot control their instinct to take a chance, and it is a well-known fact that most professional gamblers make a poor living from it. But laws cannot be designed for the weak or the unbalanced; they must meet the needs of the ordinary citizen, and the ordinary citizen likes to take a chance, and knows very well when he has lost enough of his money. Gambling, like drinking, is something which most people like to do within reason; legislation to control those who cannot control themselves brings trouble with it.

A lot of gambling is done at present under the existing laws which is illegal, but which is associated with charity or good causes which throw a rather thin cloak of sanctity over what is being done. Charity bingos, and "draws" to raise money are winked at; the police are not likely to enter a church hall and arrest the occupants, or to charge the officials of a service club with illegal activities. But the existence of these sanctified gambles merely brings the law into disrepute, and encourages the crooked-minded notion that it is all right to gamble for charity but wrong to gamble for personal gain. It is time that the laws respecting gambling were either enforced without distinction of persons, or liberalized.

Many countries which have more liberal gambling laws than Canada find that they work well. Some mild forms of gambling are permitted and are regulated by law; all other forms of gambling are severely punished. Canadian laws should be liberalized to recognize the fact that most people like to gamble mildly, and in order to get a little unexpected money for themselves. Then it would be possible for the police to put serious effort into the suppression of gambling which was tied up with rackets and underworld activities.

Taxing Into Idleness

The Montreal Gazette had this title over one of its editorials: "Nations Today Are Taxing Themselves Into Idleness." Well, what is wrong with that—if they can afford it? We work to live, not live to work. Work has no virtue; it is a necessity thrust upon most of us. If through some sort of taxation magic a nation can secure the privilege of idleness for its people, so much the better. Is it not a beautiful goal to be able to return to the state of idleness of Adam and Eve before they were expelled from the Garden of Eden? Is not the aim of most people to be able, through their labour, to acquire enough wealth to live without working, and just to do the things they want to do?

The Gazette was writing about a specific instance. Sir Arthur Munnings, fashionable and skilled British painter, refused a commission to paint the Aga Khan's horse which won this year's Derby. It was hard enough to paint a horse, he said, but it was even harder to avoid the surtax. He said that if he undertook the Aga Khan's commission, he wouldn't get enough out of it to make it worth his effort.

It seems to us that this result of the surtax is not altogether bad. Sir Alfred had not been burdened with a job of painting a horse; he is left free to do other things which he may really want to do. Had he wanted to paint the horse, he could and would have done so, regardless of how much money he got out of it. Sir Arthur is in the fortunate position, apparently, of being able to live without working at jobs for which he had no compelling passion. Happy would thousands of other people be if they, too, could refuse work.

The world has lost a painting of a horse by Sir Alfred Munnings, but is the loss great or irreparable? If Sir Alfred is quite content to leave the work undone, because of a surtax, the world can reasonably assume that it has not lost a masterpiece. And yet, if Rembrandt had not been able to get an adequate commission, tax-free, from the rich Dutch burghers, would the world have had his great Night Watch?

Inside Hungary:

Getting Ill From Own Eggs

By G. E. R. GEDGE

THE HUNGARIAN COMMUNISTS have recently invited delegations of Austrian and German Communists and fellow-travellers, especially peasants, young "Pioneers" and trade unionists, to admire the achievements of the "People's Democracy".

While their comments as published in Budapest have been everything that their hosts could wish, statements which some of the more observant of them have since made privately accord much more closely with accounts given by the latest fugitives to arrive here. From the two together it is possible to give a very fair picture of life in town and country in Hungary today.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE AVERAGE CITIZEN of Budapest strikes the visitor as being shabby, suspicious of strangers, and always on edge for fear of becoming involved in any kind of argument with Communist Party officials or the police. The dread of deportation is never wholly absent and becomes more acute as winter again draws near. Then, for all but the very tough, it means death from starvation, hardship and exposure before the spring. Young deportees can by hard agricultural labour earn enough to keep alive, but no more. There is little chance of ex-bourgeois or ex-aristocrats being allowed to take anything but manual labour, in the country as in the towns.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOOD IN BUDAPEST just now is plentiful, and of good quality. But comparatively little can be bought by any but the new plutocracy—the "Stakhaonvite" shock-workers and so forth—owing to the steady rise in prices since rationing was generally abolished last year. The shopping quarters look dingy and patchy owing to the repeated and successful assaults on private trading. Even in such trades as hairdressing, formerly passed over in Communist confiscations, the number of traders is falling owing to the deliberate policy of cutting supplies and of arbitrary taxation. Many of the shops in each street are left dusty and empty. Into some of them the ever-increasing bureaucracy has swarmed to use them as offices.

✧ ✧ ✧

COMPARED to the country towns and villages, however, Budapest is a display city. Superficially it still presents a normal appearance. A few restaurants can still provide a decent meal—at a price; although plays and films rarely give anything but the dreary pro-Soviet and pro-Communist propaganda, the opera is still good, and there are occasionally excellent concerts.

Once outside the capital, it is not difficult to detect the hardships of the population, which lie behind the banners, arches, decorations and good food and wine displayed to visitors. The once-colourful village scene is drab. The usual shops have gone. In one typical village, six unattractive co-operative stores have replaced thirty-five shops; of sixteen cafes and inns, only two are now open.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE NIGHTMARE of co-operative members, "Kulaks" (well-to-do peasants) and of labourers on the state farms is how to attain the irreducible "delivery quota" or to fulfil the "norm", usually calculated with little regard to the real capacity of the land or livestock. Not only "kulaks", but even peasants viewed with favour by the State, have to sacrifice their own rations and seed corn, and must buy at high black market prices, to make up the surrender total. If detected, they are imprisoned. At the same time the press tells them: "There is no such thing as a 'right' to rations; surrender quotas must be fulfilled at all costs." The peasants have definitely less to eat than before Communism; their primitive housing conditions remain, and they have to work much harder. Of course, they recognise that this is a state of war against their class and that every chance of deceiving the enemy by cunning must be taken.

"I daresay," a poultry-keeper in Northern Hubgary told an Austrian visitor, "that I shall get ill pretty soon from the number of my own eggs I swallow daily, But once inside, they can't be found by the food collector."

✧ ✧ ✧

COMMUNISM has done something for the countryside. There are now many village creches; but their purpose is to deprive the mother of the right to bring up her own children, so that she can be forced to work all day in the fields. The pleasant-looking little village libraries and "Culture Houses" are purely centres for Communist propaganda.

The one positive achievement which strikes visitors to the countryside is that —due to the Communists' intensive industrialisation — agricultural unemployment under which millions suffered in the days of the vast feudal estates has quite vanished. Despite their defects, State farms are less dreary places than the "cooperatives". They now embrace—the Communists claim—nine per cent. of the total arable land, as against nineteen per cent. included in the various types of cooperatives. Many are well-equipped with new machinery and tractors (although the inefficiency of managers and drivers frequently ruins these). Their employees are the best-treated of agricultural workers—they have more pay, more and cheaper food, and small supplies of fodder for the few pigs and chicken they are permitted to raise privately. But the "norms" set them and their families are unreasonably high.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEIR MANAGERS are nearly always former labourers with no qualifications for the task, who are choked with red tape restrictions. The consequent muddle and waste is deplorable. Manure and fodder are often ordered from far away, when both may be found rotting on the next farm. Qualified persons, such as former large farmers, estate-owners and managers, are all excluded, because of their "social origins", from these comfortable jobs.

Sometimes the courts throw light on conditions. In July, at the trial of Gabor Cseri, manager of the Tajo state farms, it was revealed that nearly half of the 1,150 hectolitres of wine produced last autumn, as well as furnishings and equipment, had unaccountably vanished; horses had died from negligence and grain had been wasted; in the labourers' living quarters, there was only one wash-basin for thirty-five people, the sheets were filthy, and large quantities of bacon provided for the workers' meals had been allowed to putrefy.

MEMBERSHIP of the three types of "co-operatives", unlike work on the state farms, is supposed to be voluntary, but the methods of "persuasion" adopted are frequently indistinguishable from compulsion. The cooperatives are a by-word for inefficiency and are constantly hectored and bullied about their methods. The Ministry of Agriculture, for example, announced on July 21 that a number of named cooperatives would be closed down for having failed to observe instructions on common ploughing of stubble land. A speech of the Communist leader, Marton Horvath, on July 28 seems to have been aimed at them. He complained of the "decline of class-war enthusiasm" and the growing alienation between the managing and the land-working classes in the countryside.

The most wretched people, of course, are the outcast "kulaks". No secret is made of the fact that they are to be taxed and starved out of existence. They and their families have to slave in a hopeless effort to fulfil their quotas. They are not allowed to join co-operatives. They and their children can take only menial jobs; even if they become part of the city proletariat, they are banned for ever from entering the Communist Party —in the unlikely event of their wanting to join the ranks of their tormentors.

A Wife's Share of The Family Estate

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

A RECOMMENDATION that the Succession Duty Act be amended to allow a wife possession of one-half of her husband's estate, thereby exempting that half from succession duties, will be presented to the minister of finance by the Canadian Federation of University Women. In this campaign, the Federation probably has the support of other women's organizations. The National Council of Women, for example, has also protested against government taxation policies in which they find no recognition of the services Canadian women perform for the family and state.

The Canadian women's contention that half of the husband's income should be regarded as belonging to his wife is shared by federal taxation authorities in the United States. An American married couple is permitted to divide the family income for taxation purposes; moreover, only half of the value of a gift made or an estate bequeathed by a husband to his wife is taxable.

Canadian taxation authorities, however, have frowned on the idea of a division of incomes or estates. Under the Succession Duty Act, as amended some time ago, estates up to $50,000 are exempted, but at that point taxes are levied on the amount of the estate left after payment of certain debts, and deductions.

There are several reasons for the federal government's preference for this system over the American. The most obvious is the possible loss of public revenue. Estates of up to $100,000 would no longer be taxable if the wife were allowed possession of one-half. A further complication which has caused some controversy in the United States arises out of the fact that well-to-do citizens gain the real relief from the division of estates and incomes. But this could, of course, be remedied by adjusting the rates of taxation upward with the value of the estate.

In view of the change in women's status during recent years, the whole subject of taxation policies, as they affect the economic interest of wives and widows, needs investigation. This need will surely be acknowledged by the minister of finance in his reply to the university women's recommendation.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech. And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there. And they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them thoroughly. And they had brick for stone, and slime had they for mortar. And they said, go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth. . .

And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they began to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do. Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech . . . Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth. (Gen. 11:1-4, 6, 7, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols. But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end. (Isa. 45:16, 17.)

Letter To The Editor

BUCKHORN ROAD WORSE THAN EVER

Sir: For some weeks past a number of letters have appeared in your paper with regard to Buckhorn Road, not only from taxpayers but from a number of American visitors to the camps and cottages in this district. Of course the remarks in these letters are mild to the comments so frequently expressed by these people who are forced to use the road. A large number of Americans not only refuse to come back again, but many of them cancelled their engagement after coming here this year and went to camps in other districts rather than be forced to drive on this road.

In view of the fact that a large percentage of the people in this area depend upon these visitors for most of their yearly income, this means a great loss to them, and in the aggregate runs into large figures, especially when you consider the number of hotels, restaurants, rooming houses, cottages, the work lost to guides, the renting of boats and the selling of bait.

It takes many years of hard work for the people to establish a steady, permanent clientele and it is little short of scandalous to have the results of all this effort wiped out by the callous indifference and inefficiency of an engineer, County Council, Township Council and Roads Commission. I have grouped all these purposely as I feel that they are all responsible. Last spring when the gravel was put on the road I wrote a letter to the engineer pointing out how futile it was to treat the road in such a manner, but he did not have the common courtesy to acknowledge the receipt of it.

According to a statement from the council in the Examiner a week or so ago the engineer is supposed to have spent $11,000 on the road this year and he expected to spend $2,000 more on it before the end of the year. Well, for all the good this money has done for this road, it might just as well have been dumped into Chemong Lake.

Last week a committee is supposed to have inspected the road. The day before they came along a crew was sent up to put calcium chloride in front of each dwelling, but on the rest of the road the dust was so bad you could not see a car length ahead of you.

After this inspection the surface was torn off the road from the eighth line to Coon's Hill, but the worst part of the road is from Selwyn to Buckhorn and nothing is being done there.

This year I have had to have two new leaves put in the rear springs of my car, costing $24 and only travel at between fifteen and twenty miles per hour (my car is a Cadillac) but don't suppose the council will pay for it.

In view of the handling of this road this year the engineer and the council must feel very proud of their efforts. Why such people are allowed to hold a public office is beyond all comprehension.

It is now over four years since this road was started and it is in a worse condition right now than the old road ever was, and when taxpayers complain about it all they ever get is insults and abuse and if I could only confirm some of the talk that is going the rounds, it could be made pretty hot for some of them.

Respectfully yours,
J. EDWARD FERGUSON.

No Hoopla Conventions When Britons Elect Gov't

Editor's Note: No matter who is elected President this fall, one thing seems certain as the aftermath of the 1952 presidential conventions: There'll be some changes made before the next conventions are held four years hence. One way to select candidates without convention hoopla is the British way, which might not be the answer for the U.S., but serves as a good example. This is the first of two dispatches which tells how they do it.

By N.E.A. FOREIGN SERVICE

LONDON — (NEA). — An American correspondent was sent to London just before Britain's general election last year, with orders to find out how the British electoral system ticked. He dug into the facts industriously, but he soon got baffled.

"You mean to tell me," he asked a British parliamentary expert, "that you have no primaries, no conventions, no registering of party affiliations, no county committees, no voting machines and no Electoral College?"

"That's right," said the Briton.

"Then how in heaven's name can the people vote?"

"My dear chap," said the Briton. "We just vote. Usually over 80 per cent of the electorate." (In the United States it's only slightly over 50 per cent.)

✦ ✦ ✦

The American tried again. "You say that the whole election process, from nomination to voting, takes only three weeks, that the British people don't elect their Prime Minister direct? And a month after they have voted the Government may fall and they have to vote all over again?"

"That's right," said the Briton.

"Well, where's your stability?"

"I don't know," said the Briton. "I only know we've been stable for quite a few centuries."

The interview ended in mutual bewilderment. It was not till the American had seen the full extent of Britain's long-tried electoral procedure that he came to realize the end result of both the American and the British systems was a good expression of the people's will.

✦ ✦ ✦

The two systems start off on the same foot. Every man and woman of full age is entitled to vote, provided they were residents in the voting area on the qualifying date, and their names are listed on the electoral register.

The only people who are not allowed to vote in Britain are peers, the insane, convicted criminals under sentence (though these are allowed to vote in Scotland), and anybody found guilty of corrupt practices in connection with elections—they're disqualified for five years.

From then on, the British system varies widely from the American. The U.S. votes for President by States, which in turn vote in the Electoral College. In Britain the electors vote direct for their local members of Parliament, knowing that the head of the party which wins will become Prime Minister.

Any British man or woman over the age of 21 may become a candidate for election in any constituency—even if they have never visited that particular area of the country in their life. Britain has had a Canadian Prime Minister—Bonar Law—and at least one Cabinet Minister from Australia — Richard Casey.

✦ ✦ ✦

INSPECTED

Prespective candidates often have to appear before the members of the local party in a sort of eliminating competition. They are quizzed mercilessly and usually have to give a speech. Then the members vote to pick their final choice.

At every general election there are always a few Dear Old Ladies who say to the officer at the polls, "But Mr. Churchill's name is not on the list!" (or whoever is their choice for Prime Minister).

The name of Churchill and leaders of the other parties do not appear on the ballot papers (voting machines are not used), except in their own particular constituencies.

Under the Parliamentary system the Government can be dismissed from office at any time at the will of the people. If defeated in a vote in the House of Commons on an issue of importance the Government resigns. A new general election is then held.

The money which each candidate is allowed to spend for election purposes is very strictly controlled and audited.

• • •

For the day of election, cars to transport the voters to the polls must be loaned and never hired. Each candidate is limited to one car for every 2,500 voters in borough constituencies, and to one car for every 1,500 voters in country areas.

There is no restriction, however, on other forms of conveyance. During the last election one candidate in the Midlands used pony carts, and a llama from a local zoo, to take his constituents to the polls. Another candidate used oxen as a publicity stunt.

The most effective safeguard against corrupt and illegal practices is through an election "petition" which may be filed by any eligible voter or any person claiming to be a candidate, if he believes that malpractices have occurred. Such cases are decided by an "Election Court" composed of two Judges of the King's Bench Division of the High Court, and confirmed by a vote of the House of Commons.

After going through the ordeal of election the Member of Parliament is paid £1,000 ($2,800) a year on which he must pay income tax. He is also allowed special vouchers for commuting to his constituency by railroad.

That is all. Not a cent more. There are no pork-barrel projects in Britain, no patronage machines. All Civil Service and local government are completely free of Parliamentary influence. Yet there is an endless supply of Parliamentary candidates and nearly everybody who can votes.

HECKLING

Heckling is a phase of British election campaigning which is seldom seen in such spirited form outside Britain itself.

In fact, Webster defines heckling as a Scottish word meaning "to badger with questions, comments or gibes, as a candidate for Parliament."

A candidate who wishes to win election to Parliament has to submit to several weeks of verbal artillery. His opponents bombard him with questions at every public meeting at which he appears, and the "neutrals" demand to know where he stands on everything from bingo games to the situation on Mars.

He is expected to answer cogently — with facts, good humor and grace. If he loses his temper, or says he doesn't know, he's a goner.

The candidate doesn't often have to put up with physical assault, though the ripe egg and tomato have their role even in tightly-rationed Britain. In Glasgow, where passions run high at election times the stink-bomb and flour-bomb often play persuasive parts at meetings. In some university towns candidates have on occasions been temporarily "kidnapped" by hilarious students.

• • •

Heckling finds its height at the street-corner political meetings, another tradition of British politics. Here the candidate has to answer questions, often rude and pointed, from electors who are practically breathing in his face.

Speaking on Tower Hill, London, last year, one of Churchill's supporters, Hugh Slesser, was heckled by a group of men, apparently Communists. "How do you know you're sane?" one of them kept shouting.

PROOF

After half an hour of this, Slesser retorted, "I dont. How do you know you're sane?"

"Me?" said the Communist indignantly, "here's my discharge card"—and he flourished a document from an insane asylum.

In the interval between public meetings, the candidate is expected to go around ringing doorbells, offering to answer householders' questions.

• • •

All this adds up to an intimacy of contact between candidates and electors. By the time polling day comes around, most electors know everything there is to know about the views, looks and manners of the rival candidates.

Interest is high. Everybody votes who possibly can. At the last General Election, 28,555,492 British voters went to the polls, out of a total electorate of 34,914,922 or 82 per cent. This percentage stacks up favorably against any nation in the free world.

Radio and TV viewers in Britain aren't treated to any party conventions. There aren't any. Each local branch of the parties picks its own candidate, and that's all there is to it. The parties do hold annual conferences, but these are devoted entirely to national policy, and preparing a party platform.

The importance which women play in British politics is indicated by the fact that women voters outnumber the men by more than one million in Britain. Over 18½ million women were eligible to vote in last year's General Election, compared with a little over 17 million men voters.

The trade unions also play a powerful part in British General Elections. Because of their close tie-up with the Labor party they are probably able to swing more votes than the American trade unions in U.S. elections.

There are some 9,000,000 trade unionists in Britain, representing nearly a quarter of the 35,000,000 men and women eligible to vote in the British General Election.

British voters have a sense of personal contact with their Member of Parliament through the intimacy and face-to-face methods of the electoral campaign. When Britain's John Doe gets mad about anything, his first reaction is often to write to his Member of Parliament or to go and see him. Any elector has the right to march into the House of Commons when the House is sitting, tell the policeman his name and ask for his M.P. to come and talk to him.

M.P.'s have to put up with a lot of crackpots, of course, so there is an unofficial screening system. One of the greatest social delights is to have tea with one's M.P. on the famous terrace overlooking the River Thames.

There have been several cases in recent years of M.P.'s switching from one party to another, after their election. They usually resigned, in order to let their constituents vote on their actions. Several of them were re-elected. British electors don't go for rubber stamp Members of Parliament.

INTIMACY OF CONTACT between candidate and electors features British campaigns. Here's Churchill in action with voters.

BRITISH VOTERS on horseback. Candidates are limited in the use of cars, but not in any other form of conveyance.

Russia Claims Citizens Now Live Longer

LONDON (AP)—In Russia, where everything is firstest and fastest and biggest and best—you have the word of Moscow Radio—the people live longer than anywhere in the world.

"Soviet statistics show that Khoja, a peasant in the Georgian republic, was the oldest man in the world—he lived to be 155," Moscow claimed in a broadcast last night.

But this wasn't anything unusual, the radio insisted.

"There now are some 30,000 centenarians in the Soviet Union."

Average Wage $53.90

OTTAWA (CP)—Weekly earnings in Canada's major industries at July 1 were higher than a year earlier but down from June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. The average pay envelope on July 1 contained $53.90. This compared with $54.08 at June 1 and $50.17 on July 1, 1951.

Long-Haired Africans

JOHANNESBURG (CP)—South African barbers are worried by the long-haired fashion that has started among their male customers since an increase in haircutting prices three months ago. "They look like long-haired primitives," grumbled one barber.

Not Going To Toronto

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Manning said yesterday he has no plans to visit Toronto in connection with the Social Credit party activities in Ontario. Neil Carmichael, Toronto district Social Credit organizer, had said the Premier would help line up party organizations.

Polio Toll Mounts

EDMONTON (CP) — Western Canada's 1952 polio toll yesterday increased to 87 deaths and 1,269 cases. Two more deaths were recorded in Alberta and British Columbia. Alberta's death toll now is 30, two more than in the record year of 1948. There have been 21 fatal victims in B. C. this year.

Eisenhower Gets Papers' Support

NEW YORK (AP)—Editor and Publisher reported yesterday that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has the greatest newspaper support of any Republican Presidential candidate in recent history.

The newspaper trade publication announced this on the basis of questionnaires returned by 918 dailies, or 51.78 per cent of 1,773 dailies polled.

The survey shows Eisenhower is being supported by 75.16 per cent of the daily newspapers answering the questionnaire. These represent 81.25 per cent of total daily circulation among those answering.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, has the backing of 15.47 per cent of the responding dailies and 9.54 per cent of the circulation.

Seabrooke's Capture Title And The Taylor Trophy Over U.E.W. In City Loop

Seabrooke Motors' colorful and dynamic band of East City softball stars won the Taylor Trophy, emblematic of the city championship Thursday night at the Bowl, when they took the nightcap of a twin set against U.E.W. 13-2 after dropping a sizzling opening duel 9-7, in their best-of-seven clash for supremacy. Prior to the games, Seabrookes held a 3-1 edge and thus, despite a gallant stand by Buck Legrow's sturdy shop lads, edged out a 4-2 margin on the series after six hectic games that held hundreds of fans spellbound to the finish. It was a sparkling series all through — packed with drama and replete with thrills of every description.

DING-DONG BATTLE

Howie Dalton, mainstay of U.E.'s mound corps, toed the slab for the Legrow boys in the opener, opposing skilful Lefty Doris of the Sullivan brigade, and it was a ding-dong battle—always in doubt—till Jack White poled a long homer to left in the 11th frame with Dalton aboard to give his team the much-needed victory margin.

The teams struggled over the regular route with the lead changing thrice before the homesters tied it up in the eighth with a two-run blast. Then came the payoff after two scoreless innings each way, when Jake Wade reached first on a bobble, died on Dalton's fielder's choice and the latter came around ahead of his fence-busting left-field partner who socked one on the button. Dalton allowed 11 hits including Spencer's double and Red Sullivan's 10th homer of the season; struck out four and walked but two. Doris gave up 13 bingles, with a double and homer by White to drive in three runs, the pay off smashes; a double by Taylor and triples by Leether and Legrow. He fanned one and issued five passes.

GOOD FIELDING

Despite heavy clouting, there were several fielding features by Skeeter O'Heron, ace centre-fielder for Seabrooke's, Reg Leether, Tony Giardino, Jack White, Neil Thompson and Speed Curry. Leading hitters in addition, included: O'Heron, Curry and Lewis for Seabrooke's and Leether, Legrow and Robson for U.E.W. each with two safe bingles.

In the rather one-sided afterpiece that saw Red Sullivan's crew run riot with the hickory, the winners chalked up 13 safe bingles and as many runs to win easily behind the four-hit twirling of the veteran Terry Woods. Dalton opposed Woody to start but ill-fortune struck him and the Legrow cause simultaneously, early in the first, when a terrific throw from Curry to head him at the base struck Dalton on the face accidently and forced his immediate retirement from action. Following a short delay, Jimmy Driscoll assumed the U.E. mound duties and his was a legacy of woe as Seabrooke's uncorked an offensive that proved unbeatable.

Led by Russ Scriver, whose double in the seventh with the bases plugged netted three runs; Speed Curry who played well at the keystone as usual, Skeeter O'Heron and Bob Wyatt and every man giving his level best, the yellow and black crew hit hard and timely, fielded faultlessly (save for one excusable bobble) and earned a decisive triumph. U.E. fought hard to the finish; but minus their ace Dalton were unable to stem the tide, despite a good effort.

SWELL CONTROL

Woods struck out four and passed but one in a fine control display, to further reclaim his earlier season form. Driscoll also fanned four but walked five as his form lapsed slightly below standard in spite of his noble stand against odds.

Neil Thompson and Bobby Wyatt cracked long homers in the nightcap; Scriver, Sullivan and Wade had doubles while the irrepressable Skeeter O'Heron had a two for four show and ran around like Minnie Mouse to snare flies far and near. Likewise Jake Wade for the losers. Wyatt hit three for five, Curry two for five, Thompson two for four and skipper Sullivan three for four. For U.E., Bruce Taylor two for four at bat and Wade and Giardino each with a bingle led. Other fine fielding was supplied by Spinner Spencer, Speed Curry, Sullivan and Reg. Leether.

Omemee Drubs Lindsay 13-4 Leads Series 3-1

WINNING PILOT — George (Red) Sullivan's Seabrooke squad came through at the Bowl last night to capture the men's City Softball League crown, and Red helped the cause with his 10th home of the season. He will be leaving shortly to rejoin Boston Bruins when they commence N.H.L. workouts.

OMEMEE (ENS) — A record crowd of softball fans saw Omemee Combines wallop Lindsay Combines 13-4 in the fourth of the best of seven play-off series in Lindsay Thursday night. Omemee has won three games to one and another victory will give them the Town League softball crown for '52.

Lindsay's game was spotted with seven errors while on the other hand the O's displayed some brilliant fielding. Ray Craig, always dependable behind the plate, turned in an even-better-than-usual effort. In the scoring section, Omemee said it with home runs—three in the first and one in the fourth.

Reg. Gordon on the mound for the village crew struck out four, walked one and gave up 12 hits. He connected with a two-run homer in the first to bring in the fifth and sixth runs of the game. For Lindsay Kean went the distance and allowed 10 hits, passed four and breezed eight.

Richards led at bat for the losers with three for five, one a two-run homer—he was credited with three RBI's. Engeland had two for four and Plumpton and Deyell each made two for five.

For the O's Ken Bryans bingled twice in four tries, one a circuit clout for his second run batted in. In five trips to the plate Ross Jamelson collected two safeties, one a four bagger. The fourth homer was walloped out by Gerry Bryans with one of his mates on board.

Glen Dracup, Omemee's three star third baseman, waited out three walks, and in two official trips to bat, collected one safe hit. Roy and Orlie Crawford each had one safety. Tom Parsons, going officially hitless, nevertheless brought in three runs.

The fifth game in the series will be played on Monday evening in Lindsay.

BEAVERS DOWN DEVILS

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia Beavers took a 2-1 lead in the Canadian-American Lacrosse Association best-of-seven game final by swamping Wallaceburg Red Devils 15-4 here last night. Paul Soper paced the Beavers to victory with four goals. The winner of the series advances into Ontario Lacrosse Association intermediate A playoff action.

Cobourg C.G.E. Whips Foundry

COBOURG — C.G.E. continued their march toward the Cobourg district softball league title here Wednesday night, when they pushed the foundry moulders out of the competition for this year by winning the second game of the semi-final series, 13-6. The electricians thus capped their league winning streak of five games with two more in the play-offs.

Don Platt went the route for the winners and held the "Ironmen" to six hits, walked four and fanned six.

Jack Bevan led both teams with the stick, having three for five, while Bob Crewe, Art Jones and Buzz Cavanaugh came up with two hits each. No moulder collected more than one blow.

Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts, in our grid group, have a real experienced end this autumn in Bruce Richardson. An interesting chap. We ran into him the other day and had a chat on this and that. He played for Argos a couple of years after the war and then he and Royal Copeland left the Grey Cup champs and went to Southern California. Turned pro boxer and also played college football while going to university down there, but came back with Cope to the Calgary Stampeders in 1950. He boxed Jackie Dugan here along about '47. While in California he played a few bit parts in movies and then did the villain's role in a prize-fight picture "Flesh and Fury." Bruce plans a boxing show in Cobourg on Sept. 18, and might stage some mitt cards here during the winter.

As mentioned yesterday, Frank Buckland of the O.H.A. said that the executive had lifted suspensions on all the Eagles' players and gave Junior Milne permission to play in Scotland. But Eagles' officials still have to pay Kingston $75 expenses and then apply to the O.H.A. for re-instatement. Meantime, representatives of Peterborough, Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa, Stouffville and Orillia are asked to meet Sunday in Oshawa to discuss possibilities of a grouping in senior "B" hockey for this coming winter. Eagles may be represented, though club officials are still under suspension. They could at least sit in and observe proceedings.

Why Not Get Together ?

Haven't talked hockey all during the hot summer with either local club, but apparently both intend to ice teams again. We'll make the suggestion once more, for what it may be worth, that they combine forces. They haven't been able to agree to this in the past, and we doubt if they will now. But it's worthy of real consideration by both parties. Call them the McGillis Petes or some such, have some of each club on the executive, and take the pick of the Petes' and Eagles' players. Then the one club would have the support of all local puck fans. But first the Eagles' officials apparently have to make their peace with the O.H.A. That's the latest we have on it.

With the Timbermen getting set for their big one in St. Kitts on the morrow—and possibly back here Monday—Bunny Morganson of the Tely is guessing as to the O.L.A. all-star squad this year. It is voted upon by the coaches. Bun likes Moon Wootton for goal, and names three ace defencemen, Chuck Simpson of Mimico, Merv McKenzie of Hamilton and Petes' Nit O'Hearn. Either Leo Teatro of Toronto or Ken Dixon of Mimico for centre. Other nifty forwards he picks are: Jack Dorney and Blain McDonald of Hamilton; Jim McNulty and Don McPhail of Toronto; Bob Dobbie and Don Gear of Fergus; Russ Slater, Curly Mason, Don Ashbee and Ike Hildebrand of Petes; Fred Sandford and Denny Peterson of Mimico; Lumley of Owen Sound, and St. Kitts' Max Woolley.

The Moon Shines Bright

Milt Dunnell writes a column in the Toronto Star and last eve he dealt at some length with Chuck Davidson, coach of Mimico Mounties in the O.L.A., and former starry amateur and pro player in both field and box lacrosse. One item in the column of interest to us was this: "Among players of today, Davidson rates Peterborough's Moon Wootton with the best goalies he ever saw. Wootton, he insists, is as smart at his own game as the top netminders in hockey are at their game." High praise but deserved. Like every athlete, the Moon may have the odd off night, but they're very rare. And when he is right—which is most of the time—he is definitely tops in Canada.

It could be that C.O.B.L. finals will commence here Saturday eve with Belleville vs. the Petes, but we rather expect it'll be here Monday to begin the loop sawoffs. And either Kingston or Belleville will be the locals' opposition. We hear that the K's protested Belleville's 7-6 win in the opener of the semi-finals this week, objecting to some ruling on the part of Umpire Pat Calladine of Peterborough. Haven't got the details. Scribe Mike Rodden of Kingston twitted us last spring o'er a local puck protest against Kingston, saying tch, tch, teams shouldn't protest games but should settle them on the field of play," or some such. Hadn't Don Miguel better direct his advice closer to home, huh?

Toronto Drops Twin Bill 7-4 To Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The four International League teams which will start the post-season playoffs next week have been decided, but it will take a few more days to pick the first-round opponents.

Toronto's Maple Leafs completed the foursome last night when Buffalo Bisons dropped a doubleheader to the last-place Springfield Cubs and lost whatever chance they had of taking fourth place.

The pennant-winning Montreal Royals and second-place Syracuse Chiefs are sure of their positions, but the Leafs still have a fighting chance to oust Rochester Red Wings from the third spot. Two games separated them today. The season ends Sunday.

The Leafs also dropped a twin bill last night, losing to the Royals twice by a 7-4 margins. But Bisons needed victories to remain in the running. Instead they bowed to the Cubs, 6-2 and 5-1.

Lefty Hal Mallette picked up his 13th victory in the Royals' first-game victory, although he needed help from Jim Hughes in the sixth. In the second the Royals came from behind with a five-run eighth inning, featured by Don Thompson's three-run pinch homer.

PITCHER AIDS CAUSE

Tom Simpson pitched his best game of the season and helped his own cause with a double as Cubs beat the Bisons in the first game. Bill Padget pitched shutout ball for seven innings in the nightcap.

Hank Workman's home run and a two-run double by Charley Bell in the second inning provided all the runs necessary to give Syracuse a 4-2 victory over Baltimore.

Ottawa and Rochester split a doubleheader, the Wings taking a 5-4 decision in the extra-inning opener, and the Athletics winning the second 6-3. The Wings scored their winning run in the first game on two errors and a sacrifice. Two three-run homers, one by Earl Watlington and the other by Lou Limmer, gave the As all their runs in the second.

Monarchs Edge Redmen 5-4

KINGSTON — "Babe" Stinson's three-hit pitching offset faulty support in Megaffin Memorial Stadium last night as Kingston Monarchs edged Belleville Redmen, 5-4, to square the Central Ontario Baseball League senior semi-finals at one victory each.

The small crowd in attendance was treated to one of the keenest duels of the campaign.

In direct contrast to the riotous goings-on that marred the game waged by the same teams in Belleville the previous evening, quiet reigned on the Kingston front, broken only when first baseman Al Kelleher of the visitors departed after Manager Vern Goyer had allegedly reprimanded him for his indifferent attitude and refusal to pursue in haste a ball thrown wildly by Jack Wardhaugh in the seventh inning. Lorne Ferguson, who had beaten out an infield single, raced all the way to third base before the ball was retrieved and later scored on Don Gilmour's force-out.

Announce Draw Of City Tennis

Two club champions, R. Fletcher of Kawartha and M. Charlton of Quaker, will meet in the ladies' singles for the city championship when that tournament commences shortly. Mrs. Fletcher is last year's city champion, and Mrs. Charlton the runner-up. In ladies' doubles, M. Charlton and V. Rose of Quaker will meet Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Sullivan of Kawartha. Last year Mrs. Charlton was a winner, and Mrs. Fletcher runner-up.

Mixed doubles has four entries, Rose and Langhorne, Elmsley and Johnston, the Charltons — all of Quaker — and the Fletchers of Kawartha, Rose and Langhorne play the Fletchers, and the other duets meet. Rose was a winner last year and the Charltons were runners-up.

Five entries go in men's doubles, Clarke and Lindberg of Kawartha play Lye and Mercer of Kawartha, the winners meeting MacPherson and Charlton of Quaker last year's winners. Johnston and Langhorne of Quaker play Elmsley and Fletcher of Kawartha. Men's singles has nine in, Gung of Quakers plays Mercer of Kawartha, the winner to play Charlton. Lindberg plays MacPherson, Elmsley meets Lye, Langhorne playing Fetcher. The atter was runner-up in 1951.

Rays Capture First

Raybestos defeated Outboard Marines 6-1 to open their Industrial Fastball League finals at Quaker Park. They broke loose for five runs in a big fourth frame, adding one next time up, to ruin for the losers an otherwise tight tilt. The losers got their lone marker in the fourth. The fielding was snappy in this encounter, with Nichols pitching nifty ball for the victors, and Doris strong on the slab but for the one frame for the other squad. Teams:

Rays— Crampton cf, Caccavella ss, Greenlaw 2b, Crary 3b, Giles c, Fennell 1b, Batley lf, Maudsley rf, Nichols p.

Marines—Plumpton rf, Downer 3b, Gordonier 1b, Corrigan cf, Halliday 2b, Wellwood ss, Broadhurst lf, Mongraw c, Doris p.

AMATEUR CHAMPION—Big Larry Bouchey, of Inglewood, Calif., hugs his caddie, Bobby MacAndrews, after winning the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at Vancouver. Bouchey defeated Bill Campbell, of Huntingdon, W. Va., on the 37th hole to win the title. Caddie Bobby carried a toad and two four-leaf clovers for luck in the match.

Big Four Season Opens In East As Western Teams Lope Along

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The football season, in high gear in the west with a quarter of the 16-game schedule completed, steps up its pace in the east with the opening of the Big Four season at Toronto and Ottawa tomorrow.

Ottawa's Rough Riders, last season's Grey Cup champions, open their home schedule against Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts will engage Montreal Alouettes at Toronto.

They are two of the eight games down for decision between Saturday and Monday night with four in the east and four in the west.

ORFU IN ACTION

The other action in the east sends Toronto Balmy Beach and Brantford Redskins against each other for the second time this season in the Ontario Rugby Football Union while Windsor Royals open their schedule against Sarnia Imperials.

Double action is slated for the four western teams who already have played four games each this year. The first-place Calgary Stampeders, tail-enders for the last two years and the surprise of the western race this season, meet Saskatchewan roughriders Saturday and Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday.

The Bombers, with two straight victories under their belts after losing their first game and tying the second, play a Saturday game against Edmonton Eskimos and the last-place Riders move into Calgary to take on the Stampeders Monday.

CLASH IN EAST

Back in the east the Tiger-Cats and Alouettes will be seeking their first victories as they invade Ottawa and Toronto. The Tiger-Cats, walloped 33-13 in a big upset by Argos last Saturday at Hamilton, will shoot a revamped line-up against the Rough Riders.

Coach Carl Voyles, disappointed with his line in the Argo game, intends using five of his eight imports on the frontwall against Ottawa. Middle Dick Fugler and Snap Ed (Buckets) Hirsch, who played last week, will be benched and their places taken by Vince Scott and Joel Williams. Outside Vince Mazza is being shifted from outside to tackle and newcomer Frank Cahill, cut by New York Giants this week, is slated to start at outside. The other import lineman is Joe Shinn, starry pass-catching outside.

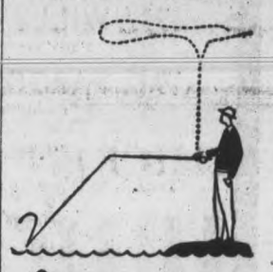
The Argo-Alouette game is expected to be a passing duel between Nobby Wirkowski and Sam Etcheverry. Wirkowski's passing was the deciding factor in Argos' win over Hamilton and Etcheverry, from the University of Denver and playing his first season of Canadian football, showed that he can hold his own in the air when the Als lost 32-28 to Ottawa last week.

STAMPS HOT

Calgary's showing against Winnipeg and Regina will be watched closely this week-end to see whether the Stampeders can maintain their hot pace. Led by Johnny Bright, the former Drake University halfback, the Stamps have won three of four games and hold a one-point margin over the Bombers.

Edmonton, in third place two points behind with one victory and a tie, haven't hit the stride expected of them, but with playing coach Frankie Filchock just about ready for full-time action again they should be dangerous from now on.

Glenn Dobbs is expected to be at quarter for the Riders after having missed their first three games completely and most of the fourth. The Riders, Grey Cup finalists in 1951, won their first game but dropped three straight since then.



"COOL CONTROL"

1 Begin with basic grip — thumb on back of rod checks the back cast, gives essential control. With rod extended, clear line and leader from water by tensing rod upward slightly.

2 When fly is surfaced, snap rod upwards sharply — this sends line smoothly behind you. This pick-up should be swift and snappy. Movement is done with wrist and forearm. Check movement of rod when it is straight up.

3 When rod is perpendicular, wait for line to straighten out behind. When tip bows with back pull snap rod forward to horizontal position. Do not use force—a smart snapping movement with wrist and forearm will give proper control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Seabrooke's Capture Title And The Taylor Trophy Over U.E.W. In City Loop

Seabrooke Motors' colorful and dynamic band of East City softball stars won the Taylor Trophy, emblematic of the city championship Thursday night at the Bowl, when they took the nightcap of a twin set against U.E.W. 13-2 after dropping a sizzling opening duel 9-7, in their best-of-seven clash for supremacy. Prior to the games, Seabrookes held a 3-1 edge and thus, despite a gallant stand by Buck Legrow's sturdy shop lads, edged out a 4-2 margin on the series after six hectic games that held hundreds of fans spellbound to the finish. It was a sparkling series all through — packed with drama and replete with thrills of every description.

DING-DONG BATTLE

Howie Dalton, mainstay of U.E.'s mound corps, toed the slab for the Legrow boys in the opener, opposing skilful Lefty Doris of the Sullivan brigade, and it was a ding-dong battle—always in doubt—till Jack White poled a long homer to left in the 11th frame with Dalton aboard to give his team the much-needed victory margin.

The teams struggled over the regular route with the lead changing thrice before the homesters tied it up in the eighth with a two-run blast. Then came the payoff after two scoreless innings each way, when Jake Wade reached first on a bobble, died on Dalton's fielder's choice and the latter came around ahead of his fence-busting left-field partner who socked one on the button. Dalton allowed 11 hits including Spencer's double and Red Sullivan's 10th homer of the season; struck out four and walked but two. Doris gave up 13 bingles, with a double and homer by White to drive in three runs, the pay off smashes; a double by Taylor and triples by Leether and Legrow. He fanned one and issued five passes.

GOOD FIELDING

Despite heavy clouting, there were several fielding features by Skeeter O'Heron, ace centre-fielder for Seabrooke's, Reg Leether, Tony Giardino, Jack White, Neil Thompson and Speed Curry. Leading hitters in addition, included: O'Heron, Curry and Lewis for Seabrooke's and Leether, Legrow and Robson for U.E.W. each with two safe bingles.

In the rather one-sided afterpiece that saw Red Sullivan's crew run riot with the hickory, the winners chalked up 13 safe bingles and as many runs to win easily behind the four-hit twirling of the veteran Terry Woods. Dalton opposed Woody to start but ill-fortune struck him and the Legrow cause simultaneously, early in the first, when a terrific throw from Curry to head him at the base struck Dalton on the face accidently and forced his immediate retirement from action. Following a short delay, Jimmy Driscoll assumed the U.E. mound duties and his was a legacy of woe as Seabrooke's uncorked an offensive that proved unbeatable.

Led by Russ Scriver, whose double in the seventh with the bases plugged netted three runs; Speed Curry who played well at the keystone as usual, Skeeter O'Heron and Bob Wyatt and every man giving his level best, the yellow and black crew hit hard and timely, fielded faultlessly (save for one excusable bobble) and earned a decisive triumph. U.E. fought hard to the finish; but minus their ace Dalton were unable to stem the tide, despite a good effort.

SWELL CONTROL

Woods struck out four and passed but one in a fine control display, to further reclaim his earlier season form. Driscoll also fanned four but walked five as his form lapsed slightly below standard in spite of his noble stand against odds.

Neil Thompson and Bobby Wyatt cracked long homers in the nightcap; Scriver, Sullivan and Wade had doubles while the irrepressable Skeeter O'Heron had a two for four show and ran around like Minnie Mouse to snare flies far and near. Likewise Jake Wade for the losers. Wyatt hit three for five, Curry two for five, Thompson two for four and skipper Sullivan three for four. For U.E., Bruce Taylor two for four at bat and Wade and Giardino each with a bingle led. Other fine fielding was supplied by Spinner Spencer, Speed Curry, Sullivan and Reg. Leether.

U.E.W.—Leether, ss; Taylor, 3b; Legrow, 1b; Wade, 3b; Dalton, p; White, lf; Giardino, rf; Robson, 2b; Walton, c.

Omemee Drubs Lindsay 13-4 Leads Series 3-1

OMEMEE (ENS) — A record crowd of softball fans saw Omemee Combines wallop Lindsay Combines 13-4 in the fourth of the best of seven play-off series in Lindsay Thursday night. Omemee has won three games to one and another victory will give them the Town League softball crown for '52.

Lindsay's game was spotted with seven errors while on the other hand the O's displayed some brilliant fielding. Ray Craig, always dependable behind the plate, turned in an even-better-than-usual effort. In the scoring section, Omemee said it with home runs—three in the first and one in the fourth.

Reg. Gordon on the mound for the village crew struck out four, walked one and gave up 12 hits. He connected with a two-run homer in the first to bring in the fifth and sixth runs of the game. For Lindsay Kean went the distance and allowed 10 hits, passed four and breezed eight.

Richards led at bat for the losers with three for five, one a two-run homer—he was credited with three RBI's. Engeland had two for four and Plumpton and Deyell each made two for five.

For the O's Ken Bryans bingled twice in four tries, one a circuit clout for his second run batted in. In five trips to the plate Ross Jameison collected two safeties, one a four bagger. The fourth homer was walloped out by Gerry Bryans with one of his mates on board.

Glen Dracup, Omemee's three star third baseman, waited out three walks, and in two official trips to bat, collected one safe hit. Roy and Orlie Crawford each had one safety. Tom Parsons, going officially hitless, nevertheless brought in three runs.

The fifth game in the series will be played on Monday evening in Lindsay.

Lineups:

Omemee Combines—Dracup 3b, G. Bryans lf, Jameison 2b, O. Crawford cf, R. Crawford ss, T. Parsons rf, Gordon p, K. Bryans 1b, Craig c.

BEAVERS DOWN DEVILS

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia Beavers took a 2-1 lead in the Canadian-American Lacrosse Association best-of-seven game final by swamping Wallaceburg Red Devils 15-4 here last night. Paul Soper paced the Beavers to victory with four goals. The winner of the series advances into Ontario Lacrosse Association intermediate A playoff action.

Cobourg C.G.E. Whips Foundry

COBOURG — C.G.E. continued their march toward the Cobourg district softball league title here Wednesday night, when they pushed the foundry moulders out of the competition for this year by winning the second game of the semi-final series, 13-6. The electricians thus capped their league winning streak of five games with two more in the play-offs.

Don Platt went the route for the winners and held the "Ironmen" to six hits, walked four and fanned six.

Jack Bevan led both teams with the stick, having three for five, while Bob Crewe, Art Jones and Buzz Cavanaugh came up with two hits each. No moulder collected more than one blow.

Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts, in our grid group, have a real experienced end this autumn in Bruce Richardson. An interesting chap. We ran into him the other day and had a chat on this and that. He played for Argos a couple of years after the war and then he and Royal Copeland left the Grey Cup champs and went to Southern California. Turned pro boxer and also played college football while going to university down there, but came back with Cope to the Calgary Stampeders in 1950. He boxed Jackie Dugan here along about '47. While in California he played a few bit parts in movies and then did the villain's role in a prize-fight picture "Flesh and Fury." Bruce plans a boxing show in Cobourg on Sept. 18, and might stage some mitt cards here during the winter.

As mentioned yesterday, Frank Buckland of the O.H.A. said that the executive had lifted suspensions on all the Eagles' players and gave Junior Milne permission to play in Scotland. But Eagles' officials still have to pay Kingston $75 expenses and then apply to the O.H.A. for re-instatement. Meantime, representatives of Peterborough, Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa, Stouffville and Orillia are asked to meet Sunday in Oshawa to discuss possibilities of a grouping in senior "B" hockey for this coming winter. Eagles may be represented, though club officials are still under suspension. They could at least sit in and observe proceedings.

Why Not Get Together ?

Haven't talked hockey all during the hot summer with either local club, but apparently both intend to ice teams again. We'll make the suggestion once more, for what it may be worth, that they combine forces. They haven't been able to agree to this in the past, and we doubt if they will now. But it's worthy of real consideration by both parties. Call them the McGillis Petes or some such, have some of each club on the executive, and take the pick of the Petes' and Eagles' players. Then the one club would have the support of all local puck fans. But first the Eagles' officials apparently have to make their peace with the O.H.A. That's the latest we have on it.

With the Timbermen setting set for their big one in St. Kitts on the morrow—and possibly back here Monday—Bunny Morganson of the Tely is guessing as to the O.L.A. all-star squad this year. It is voted upon by the coaches. Bun likes Moon Wootton for goal, and names three ace defencemen, Chuck Simpson of Mimico, Merv McKenzie of Hamilton and Petes' Nit O'Hearn. Either Leo Teatro of Toronto or Ken Dixon of Mimico for centre. Other nifty forwards he picks are: Jack Dorney and Blain McDonald of Hamilton; Jim McNulty and Don McPhail of Toronto; Bob Dobbie and Don Gear of Fergus; Russ Slater, Curly Mason, Don Ashbee and Ike Hildebrand of Petes; Fred Sandford and Denny Peterson of Mimico; Lumley of Owen Sound, and St. Kitts' Max Woolley.

The Moon Shines Bright

Milt Dunnell writes a column in the Toronto Star and last eve he dealt at some length with Chuck Davidson, coach of Mimico Mounties in the O.L.A., and former starry amateur and pro player in both field and box lacrosse. One item in the column of interest to us was this: "Among players of today, Davidson rates Peterborough's Moon Wootton with the best goalies he ever saw. Wootton, he insists, is as smart at his own game as the top netminders in hockey are at their game." High praise but deserved. Like every athlete, the Moon may have the odd off night, but they're very rare. And when he is right—which is most of the time—he is definitely tops in Canada.

It could be that C.O.B.L. finals will commence here Saturday eve with Belleville vs. the Petes, but we rather expect it'll be here Monday to begin the loop sawoffs. And either Kingston or Belleville will be the locals' opposition. We hear that the K's protested Belleville's 7-6 win in the opener of the semi-finals this week, objecting to some ruling on the part of Umpire Pat Calladine of Peterborough. Haven't got the details. Scribe Mike Rodden of Kingston twitted us last spring o'er a local puck protest against Kingston, saying tch, tch, teams shouldn't protest games but should settle them on the field of play," or some such. Hadn't Don Miguel better direct his advice closer to home, huh?

Toronto Drops Twin Bill 7-4 To Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The four International League teams which will start the post-season playoffs next week have been decided, but it will take a few more days to pick the first-round opponents.

Toronto's Maple Leafs completed the foursome last night when Buffalo Bisons dropped a doubleheader to the last-place Springfield Cubs and lost whatever chance they had of taking fourth place.

The pennant-winning Montreal Royals and second-place Syracuse Chiefs are sure of their positions, but the Leafs still have a fighting chance to oust Rochester Red Wings from the third spot. Two games separated them today. The season ends Sunday.

The Leafs also dropped a twin bill last night, losing to the Royals twice by a 7-4 margins. But Bisons needed victories to remain in the running. Instead they bowed to the Cubs, 6-2 and 5-1.

Lefty Hal Mallette picked up his 13th victory in the Royals' first-game victory, although he needed help from Jim Hughes in the sixth. In the second the Royals came from behind with a five-run eighth inning, featured by Don Thompson's three-run pinch homer.

PITCHER AIDS CAUSE

Tom Simpson pitched his best game of the season and helped his own cause with a double as Cubs beat the Bisons in the first game. Bill Padget pitched shutout ball for seven innings in the nightcap.

Hank Workman's home run and a two-run double by Charley Bell in the second inning provided all the runs necessary to give Syracuse a 4-2 victory over Baltimore.

Ottawa and Rochester split a doubleheader, the Wings taking a 5-4 decision in the extra-inning opener, and the Athletics winning the second 6-3. The Wings scored their winning run in the first game on two errors and a sacrifice. Two three-run homers, one by Earl Watlington and the other by Lou Limmer, gave the As all their runs in the second.

Monarchs Edge Redmen 5-4

KINGSTON — "Babe" Stinson's three-hit pitching offset faulty support in Megaffin Memorial Stadium last night as Kingston Monarchs edged Belleville Redmen, 5-4, to square the Central Ontario Baseball League senior semi-finals at one victory each.

The small crowd in attendance was treated to one of the keenest duels of the campaign.

In direct contrast to the riotous goings-on that marred the game waged by the same teams in Belleville the previous evening, quiet reigned on the Kingston front, broken only when first baseman Al Kelleher of the visitors departed after Manager Vern Goyer had allegedly reprimanded him for his indifferent attitude and refusal to pursue in haste a ball thrown wildly by Jack Wardhaugh in the seventh inning. Lorne Ferguson, who had beaten out an infield single, raced all the way to third base before the ball was retrieved and later scored on Don Gilmour's force-out.

Announce Draw Of City Tennis

Two club champions, R. Fletcher of Kawartha and M. Charlton of Quaker, will meet in the ladies' singles for the city championship when that tournament commences shortly. Mrs. Fletcher is last year's city champion, and Mrs. Charlton the runner-up. In ladies' doubles, M. Charlton and V. Rose of Quaker will meet Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Sullivan of Kawartha. Last year Mrs. Charlton was a winner, and Mrs. Fletcher runner-up.

Mixed doubles has four entries, Rose and Langhorne, Elmsley and Johnston, the Charltons — all of Quaker — and the Fletchers of Kawartha, Rose and Langhorne play the Fletchers, and the other duets meet. Rose was a winner last year and the Charltons were runners-up.

Five entries go in men's doubles, Clarke and Lindberg of Kawartha play Lye and Mercer of Kawartha, the winners meeting MacPherson and Charlton of Quaker last year's winners. Johnston and Langhorne of Quaker play Elmsley and Fletcher of Kawartha. Men's singles has nine in, Gung of Quakers plays Mercer of Kawartha, the winner to play Charlton. Lindberg plays MacPherson, Elmsley meets Lye, Langhorne playing Fetcher. The atter was runner-up in 1951.

Rays Capture First

Raybestos defeated Outboard Marines 6-1 to open their Industrial Fastball League finals at Quaker Park. They broke loose for five runs in a big fourth frame, adding one next time up, to ruin for the losers an otherwise tight tilt. The losers got their lone marker in the fourth. The fielding was snappy in this encounter, with Nichols pitching nifty ball for the victors, and Doris strong on the slab but for the one frame for the other squad. Teams:

Rays— Crampton cf, Caccavella ss, Greenlaw 2b, Crary 3b, Giles c, Fennell 1b, Batley lf, Maudsley rf, Nichols p.

Marines—Plumpton rf, Downer 3b, Gordonier 1b, Corrigan cf, Halliday 2b, Wellwood ss, Broadhurst lf, Mongraw c, Doris p.

AMATEUR CHAMPION—Big Larry Bouchey, of Inglewood, Calif., hugs his caddie, Bobby MacAndrews, after winning the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at Vancouver. Bouchey defeated Bill Campbell, of Huntingdon, W. Va., on the 37th hole to win the title. Caddie Bobby carried a toad and two four-leaf clovers for luck in the match.

Big Four Season Opens In East As Western Teams Lope Along

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The football season, in high gear in the west with a quarter of the 16-game schedule completed, steps up its pace in the east with the opening of the Big Four season at Toronto and Ottawa tomorrow.

Ottawa's Rough Riders, last season's Grey Cup champions, open their home schedule against Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts will engage Montreal Alouettes at Toronto.

They are two of the eight games down for decision between Saturday and Monday night with four in the east and four in the west.

ORFU IN ACTION

The other action in the east sends Toronto Balmy Beach and Brantford Redskins against each other for the second time this season in the Ontario Rugby Football Union while Windsor Royals open their schedule against Sarnia Imperials.

Double action is slated for the four western teams who already have played four games each this year. The first-place Calgary Stampeders, tail-enders for the last two years and the surprise of the western race this season, meet Saskatchewan roughriders Saturday and Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday.

The Bombers, with two straight victories under their belts after losing their first game and tying the second, play a Saturday game against Edmonton Eskimos and the last-place Riders move into Calgary to take on the Stampeders Monday.

CLASH IN EAST

Back in the east the Tiger-Cats and Alouettes will be seeking their first victories as they invade Ottawa and Toronto. The Tiger-Cats, walloped 33-13 in a big upset by Argos last Saturday at Hamilton, will shoot a revamped line-up against the Rough Riders.

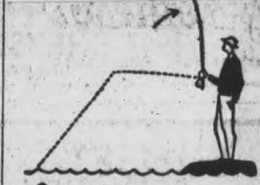
Coach Carl Voyles, disappointed with his line in the Argo game, intends using five of his eight imports on the frontwall against Ottawa. Middle Dick Fugler and Snap Ed (Buckets) Hirsch, who played last week, will be benched and their places taken by Vince Scott and Joel Williams. Outside Vince Mazza is being shifted from outside to tackle and newcomer Frank Cahill, cut by New York Giants this week, is slated to start at outside. The other import lineman is Joe Shinn, starry pass-catching outside.

The Argo-Alouette game is expected to be a passing duel between Nobby Wirkowski and Sam Etcheverry. Wirkowski's passing was the deciding factor in Argos' win over Hamilton and Etcheverry, from the University of Denver and playing his first season of Canadian football, showed that he can hold his own in the air when the Als lost 32-28 to Ottawa last week.

STAMPS HOT

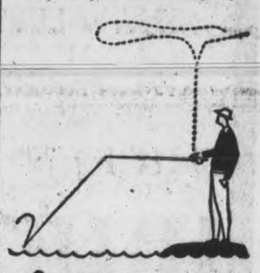
Calgary's showing against Winnipeg and Regina will be watched closely this week-end to see whether the Stampeders can maintain their hot pace. Led by Johnny Bright, the former Drake University halfback, the Stamps have won three of four games and hold a one-point margin over the Bombers.

Edmonton, in third place two points behind with one victory and a tie, haven't hit the stride expected of them, but with playing coach Frankie Filchock just about ready for full-time action again they should be dangerous from now on.



Glenn Dobbs is expected to be at quarter for the Riders after having missed their first three games completely and most of the fourth. The Riders, Grey Cup finalists in 1951, won their first game but dropped three straight since then.

"COOL CONTROL"



FLY CASTING

1 Begin with basic grip — thumb on back of rod checks the back cast, gives essential control. With rod extended, clear line and leader from water by tensing rod upward slightly.

2 When fly is surfaced, snap rod upwards sharply — this sends line smoothly behind you. This pick-up should be swift and snappy. Movement is done with wrist and forearm. Check movement of rod when it is straight up.

3 When rod is perpendicular, wait for line to straighten out behind. When tip bows with back pull snap rod forward to horizontal position. Do not use force—a smart snapping movement with wrist and forearm will give proper control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Yanks Crush Athletics 12-2 To Protect Lead; Indians Turn Back Tigers

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Allie Reynolds has achieved two of three feats a pitcher dreams about—a no-hit game and World Series victory. The 33-year-old New York Yankee righthander stands a good chance of realizing the third—a 20-victory season. Reynolds, one of the game's best "money pitchers," last night turned in his 17th victory of the season as the Bombers crushed Philadelphia Athletics 12-2. This enabled the Yanks to protect their 3½-game American League lead over Cleveland Indians.

The Indians, behind Mike Garcia, turned back Detroit Tigers 2-0. In other games, Washington defeated Boston 4-2 for the Senators' fifth successive win and St. Louis trounced Chicago 8-0.

Brooklyn's National League advantage was sliced to seven games as the Dodgers dropped a 6-5, 11-inning decision to Boston while the runner-up New York Giants disposed of Philadelphia 4-3, also in 11 innings. St. Louis turned back Chicago 1-0 and Cincinnati humiliated Pittsburgh 7-2.

Reynolds and little Bobby Shantz were hooked up in a tight duel for five innings. The Yanks scored twice in the second on Gil McDougald's homer and the A's countered with one run in the fourth, an inning in which they blew a fine chance to rack up Reynolds. The A's loaded the bases with none out but Reynolds was equal to the occasion.

The chief struck out Gus Zernial, the circuit's runs batted in leader, for the first out. He then tossed out Dave Philley while Ed Joost scored. Cass Michaels walked to fill the sacks again but Billy Hitchcock flied out to end the threat.

Shantz got a taste of what was to come in the sixth when the Yanks shoved three runs home on Yogi Berra's two-run double and Gene Woodling's single. The seventh was a nightmare as the Yanks rammed home seven runs McDougald climaxed the fireworks with a three-run homer off Ed Wright. It marked the third time that Shantz has failed to gain his 23rd victory.

Garcia recorded his 18th victory for Cleveland in blanking Detroit on five hits. Luke Easter's 25th home run of the season in the fourth inning off Bill Wight was all Mike needed.

Vic Wertz led the Browns to their first victory of the year in Chicago by driving in four runs on his 22nd and 23rd homers.

The Dodgers suffered their first defeat in 15 meetings with the Braves in losing a night game at Boston. Brooklyn-born Sid Gordon singled home Johnny Logan from third with two out in the 11th to break up the contest.

Monte Irvin singled with the bases loaded and one out to give the Giants the nod over the Phils. Relief pitcher Al Corwin's single launched the winning rally. The triumph was Corwin's fourth without a loss.

Stu Miller, sensational Cardinal rookie righthander, turned in his second shutout over Chicago in three weeks under the lights at St. Louis. The Cards nicked Warren Hacker for the game's only run in the first inning on singles by Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter.

Black Receives Threat On Life

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Black, Brooklyn's ace relief pitcher, is the latest ballplayer to receive a crackpot letter threatening his life. The Negro righthander was warned not to appear on the mound against the Giants Saturday, Sunday or Monday.

"I have bet my life savings on the Giants," read the unsigned neatly-printed letter which arrived here yesterday with a Bronx postmark. "They are eight games behind mainly because of you."

"If you take the mound at the Polo Grounds it will be your last time. I live in the project overlooking the ballpark and you would be an easy target on the mound."

Within the last few weeks threatening letters have been received by Warren Spahn of Boston Braves; Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia Athletics' ace hurler, and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh Pirates.

Canadian Girl Gold Medalist Figure Skater

EDMONTON (CP)—Sonja Currie, 15-year-old figure skating champion of Western Canada, has returned to her Edmonton home from Denver, Colo., where she recently won the American gold medal, highest U. S. award to amateur skaters.

Sonja took the test with five American girls and was the only one to achieve the medal. She was awarded the Canadian gold medal a year ago.

Her tutor at Denver, Eugene Turner, former North American figure skating champion and once a skating partner for Sonja Henie in the star's ice shows, said he had never taught anyone with so few bad skating habits.

Sonja Currie is named for her mother's old friend, Sonja Henie. Both were ice stars in their native Norway. Mrs. Currie married Frank Currie, former defenceman of Montreal's senior hockey Royals and more recently coach of Edmonton's senior Flyers for five years.

Sonja Currie was fitted with her first pair of skates when she was three. Her mother schooled Sonja in her figures. Until she went to Denver after school closed in June, Sonja had never studied with anyone but her mother.

Split Grade 1 Class As 333 Pupils Enrol

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — Enrolment at Lakefield Public School this year is 333, compared to 294 in 1951. Largest single class is the kindergarten, with 70 beginners.

In other years there has been a combined primer-kindergarten class; this year Miss Elsie Kidd will teach Grade I only in the class. Because of the number of pupils, it has been necessary to split the class in two so that half attend in the morning and half in the afternoon.

Teen-Age Rider Wins Junior Jumping Stakes

TORONTO (CP)—Heather Ann McLean of Ottawa, riding her own entry, By Goom, last night won the junior jumping stakes at the Canadian National Exhibition horse show.

It was the second win in two days for the teen-age rider and her nine-year-old chestnut gelding. Wednesday they took the qualified hunters open class.

The pair of harness horses event was won by Frinia Smiles and Golden Charm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barden of Hillsburgh, while W. S. Munro of Embro won the light matched trotters class with Yankee Doodle and Dominion Todd.

Racing Car Up For Sale

LONDON (AP)—The B.R.M.—the racing car designed to bring Britain the same supremacy on the race track that the Comet jet has brought in the air—is up for sale.

Branded a gigantic flop, the British racing motor has cost £250,000 since work started on it shortly after the Second World War.

The car started an unhappy racing career two years ago in attempt to wrest the track crown from the Italian Ferraris, but finished in only five of 15 races.

Now that the formula for Grand Prix racers has been changed from 1½ litres to two litres, the B.R.M. is out of date.

If no offers are received within a month the sponsoring organization will be dissolved.

PARIS (Reuters)—Paris police today were trying to identify a middle-aged woman, believed to be a Czech, found battered to death in the shadow of the North Atlantic Council's headquarters in Paris yesterday. The woman's face had been smashed in and her head almost severed from the body.

Toronto Police Win Annual Team Shoot

FORT ERIE (CP)—The Toronto Police revolver team yesterday won the team shoot at the third annual tournament of the Fort Erie Revolver Club with a total of 677 points.

Guelph placed second with 669 and an Ontario Provincial Police team third with 655.

E. Barkley of Toronto came first in the master class with 233, B. Clarke of Toronto second with 226 and W. Slack of Hamilton third with 223. R. McCarron of Guelph won the grand aggregate prize.

In the expert class, H. Connolly of Hamilton was first with 230, McCarron coming second with 226 and R. Richardson of St. Catharines third with 222.

TOTAL OF 222

A total of 222 won the sharpshooter division for J. Wilkinson of Guelph. H. Armstrong placed second with 221 and K. McGivern third with 216. Both marksmen come from St. Catharines.

In the tyro class, H. C. Dibbley, O.P.P., was first with 228, H Howting, O.P.P., second with 215 and J. Newton of St. Catharines third with 214.

McCarron took the moving target trophy with 202 and the highest non-winner of the day was R. Taylor of Merritton with 409. The highest deliberate score was Barkley's 116.

Appeal Fails

SOCCER TITLE TO EAST

WINNIPEG (CP)—Montreal Stelcos last night won the Canadian soccer championship, defeating New Westminster Royals 2-0 in the third game of a best-of-three series.

Both goals came on corner kicks.

After two minutes of the second half Jim McLachlan, outside left, booted one to Bob McKenna who headed it into the B. C. goal.

The second goal was scored with three minutes remaining. McLachlan booted another corner kick to John Sinclair, right half, for an identical play.

The first half was scoreless. The crowd was about 1,400.

New Westminster took the first game Monday 4-2. Stelcos tied the series Wednesday night 3-1.

Sam Davidson of Winnipeg, treasurer of the Dominion Football Association, presented the Football Association of Canada trophy to Andy Bell, Stelcos president.

It was the first time in 16 years of competition that Stelcos had won the trophy.

The victory, almost an upset, was due more than anything else to excellent goal-tending by Stelcos' Bill Gill. Royals had at least four good scoring chances in the first half and another two in the last half.

Gill, bouncing on rubber knees, pushed all New Westminster drives over the bar.

Final tie of the Kawartha District Tennis League—The Kawartha Club team playing at home last night won the first half of the home and home matches against Port Hope by a narrow margin of 4 points to 3. An exciting finish was provided when in the last event of the evening Kawartha's first men's doubles team was behind at one set all and 2-5 in games in the final set. In the exciting rallies that followed, Ron Lye and Roy Lindbergh pulled level and finally took the set at 7-5, to give Kawartha Club the extra point. The Kawartha Club team will travel to Port Hope on Saturday for the other half of this final tie and another close match is expected. Million Dollar Income Falls To Those Around 80

WASHINGTON (AP)—The best chances of having an annual $1,000,000 income fall to those between 80 and 89 years old, an Ohio University psychologist reported today.

Dr. H.C. Lehman presented statistics to the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association showing that in general, persons who become big shots in politics, diplomacy, administration, military life, industry, commerce and the high courts usually are at least 50 years old.

But he also reported, a man's best years for producing creative work—such as writing, painting, or doing big things in science—are usually in the 30s or early 40s.

NO EXPLANATION

Dr. Lehman failed to state the attributes of the folks who received the $1,000,000 incomes. All he said was that oldsters between 80 and 89 without necessarily working—are the folks who most usually receive them.

On the age differences between the "creativity" and "leadership" fields, Dr. Lehman offered this view:

"It appears that the conditions essential for creativity and originality, which can be displayed in private achievement, come earlier than those social skills which contribute to leadership and eminence and which inevitably must wait, not upon the insight of the leader himself, but upon the insight of society about him."

34,000 To Strike

POONA, India (Reuters) — Almost 34,000 civilian employees of defence establishments in Poona will go on strike Sept. 15 in protest against the retrenchment policy of the defence ministry, the workers' strike committee chairman said yesterday. About 2,000 workers of the central armored fighting vehicles depot have been on strike since Aug. 29.

Start Big Campaign

BERLIN (Reuters)—East Germany has started a big campaign to increase her heavy industry production for defence purposes, reports of the official news agency A. D. N. indicated yesterday.

Scores Major Upset

Aussie 17 Whips Top US Player Vic Seixas

FOREST HILLS (AP) — Ken Rosewall, a 17-year-old Australian with one of the finest tennis brains ever turned out, made his first appearance in the United States championships a memorable one yesterday by whipping the U. S.' top-ranked player, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, in a tingling fourth-round match before 10,000 cheering fans.

In producing the first major upset of the title event and severely scrambling America's immediate tennis future, the dark-haired 135-pounder from Sydney displayed a remarkable all-court game for which neither the crowd nor Seixas was fully prepared. The scores were 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3.

Seixas, a member of the last American Davis Cup team and, until yesterday at least, an outstanding candidate to help challenge the Aussies again next winter, played to the limit of his ability every point of the way. But he could never reach the net consistently against the sharp-shooting kid from Down Under.

In today's quarter-final round the amazing youngster faces a fading American player more than twice his age, 38-year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla.

The defending champion, Frank Sedgman of Australia, and Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., the only remaining American who appears capable of slowing the Aussie push, scored routine three-set victories.

Sedgman was never extended in turning back Billy Talbert of New York 6-1, 6-3, 6-3 and Savitt broke down and disheartened the little Filipino favorite, Felicissimo Ampon, 8-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Mervin Rose, the Australian lefthander, made short work of Sgt. Bernard Bartzen from Fort Sill, Okla., 6-0, 6-2, 6-1, and will face Savitt today.

Lewis Hoad, the other Aussie 17-year-old, looked almost as good as Rosewall in trouncing Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif. 6-3, 6-4, 6-4. Though he was seeded third on the domestic list, Larsen looked little like the player who won the title only two years ago.

Enrolment 140 Pupils At Hastings School

HASTINGS (ENS). — Hastings public school opened Tuesday with an enrolment of 140 pupils. Until contractor Walter Mortlock finishes the new four-room $90,000 school, Grade I is being taught in the Sunday school room of Trinity United Church.

Grade I has an enrolment of 34 pupils this year.

Lose Knack Of Getting Homers

NEW YORK (AP)—Whether it's more effective pitching, the dearth of long-ball sluggers or the deadening of the lively ball, one thing is certain—they aren't hitting home runs the way they used to.

Last season there were 1,863 homers hit in the major leagues—1,024 in the National and 829 in the American. Indications are that the 1952 campaign will fall several hundred short of that.

Through Wednesday's games, Associated Press figures reveal that major league batsmen have compiled only 1,457 roundtrippers. The National League accounted for 763 and the American for 694.

Cleveland Indians lead the American League with 130, followed by New York Yankees, 110, and Boston Red Sox, 95.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers are on top with 129, just a step ahead of New York Giants' 121. Chicago Cubs are third with 95.

Washington Senators, having to contend with spacious Griffith Stadium, are lowest in the majors with only 45 home runs.

When days are hot and sticky, there's nothing like a quick cooling dip in one of the many swimming pools in and around the city. Take a minute and cool off... and you'll be ready to work again, refreshed.

British Labor Hands Reds Sound Defeat

MARGATE, England (Reuters) —British organized labor today handed the Communists a resounding defeat by refusing to elect even one of their nominees to the general council of the Trades Union Congress.

The Communists' best performer was Arthur Horner, dynamic secetary of the Mineworkers' union. He was supported by union branches mustering a total of 1,650,000 votes. That was about 5,000,000 votes short of the amount needed for victory.

NOT ENOUGH

Most of the other Communists got votes below 500,000 from the delegates assembled in the conference of the T. U. C., a federation of 183 trade unions, including all the big ones.

All 33 members elected to the general council are members of the Labor party.

Among them was Arthur Deakin, present congress chairman and the most militant anti-Communist in the British union world. Deakin was re-elected to the council unopposed.

TO TOUR CANADA — The United Church of Canada's "Exposition Van" will tour major centres in Canada during the next two years with what is called the largest exhibition any church has ever put "on the road." Opening in Hamilton September 12, to coincide with Church General Council meeting there, the exposition, which took a year to prepare, will feature movies, exhibits, speakers and a 2½-hour pageant. It is coming to Peterborough in November. The van carries a team of five under the Rev. Arthur Kewley, of Toronto. Aim of the exposition is to "take the church to the people, wherever they are," with a supplementary goal of recruiting 1,000 volunteers for full-time missionary work in Canada and abroad.

Bar Association Discusses Contempt Law

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Bar Association plans a study of Canada's contempt of court laws.

A panel discussion at the association's annual meeting in session here yesterday dealt with Canadian newspapers' rights in contempt cases.

"Contempt is historically criminal character and courts have always had the power to punish summarily for this offence," said E.C. Leslie, Q. C., of Regina.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

Newspapers convicted of contempt should have the right to appeal, he said.

Mr. Leslie said, however, that the press lately has acquired the idea that it has privileges different from and greater than those of individual persons.

"If this misconception is prevalent among publishers and editors," he said, "it should be dispelled."

Synod Decides Keep Church Name Same

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The 18th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada heard pleas for church unity and increased zeal at its opening meeting yesterday.

The triennial synod also voted 119 to 106 to retain the name of the church unchanged, defeating a proposal to change the name to "The Anglican Church in Canada."

Both Anglican and United Church dignitaries sounded a note of urgency for what one speaker termed a "united affirmation of our faith" to strengthen Christians in these unsettled times.

In his charge to the synod, Most Rev. Walter Barfoot, archbishop of Edmonton and Primate of all Canada, appealed for a return "in love and obedience to the faith of the gospel. . .for the world must find its way back to the faith of the gospel or perish."

He told the 300 clerical and lay delegates that "all the conflicts of the 20th century seem to be moving rapidly towards a climax."

ASKS CO-OPERATION

Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon, first moderator of the United Church of Canada when it was formed in 1925, asked for "close co-operation in every way possible among the churches."

Archbishop Barfoot and Dr. Pidgeon both pleaded need for proper education, which the primate described as a "concerted intensive educational program in Christian stewardship."

Very Rev. W. R. Matthews, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, said at an opening devotional service that Christianity "in our generation depends on the success or failure of the movement toward unity."

PATIENT EXPLORATION

Archbishop Barfoot spoke of "patient exploration" into the possibilities of reunion between he United and Anglican churches and added that "the Anglican communion in its world-wide scope is an indispensable factor in the ecumenical movement."

The first sharp debate of the meeting came on the question of the church name, which also was a topic of heated discussion at the last general synod in Halifax in 1949.

Despite statements by several speakers—including Rev. L. F. Wilmot of Winnipeg—that the name of the church was a "barrier," the proposal for change was defeated in a standing vote by a narrow margin.

Flying Anglers Visit Chubb Crater

MONTREAL (CP) — Seven ardent anglers and the pilots of two aircraft have just completed what is believed to be the most extensive fishing and sightseeing trip ever attempted in Quebec.

The party took off Aug. 10 and covered 3,500 miles in straight flying, in addition to short hops to lakes and streams of interest.

It was more than a fishing trip, however, as the tour included a three-day stop at the famous Chubb Crater in Ungava, living among the Indians and Eskimos, visits to various mission posts on the east coast of Hudson Bay as well as to the northernmost coast of Quebec, Ungava Bay and the northern Labrador coast.

Wets Maintain Edge In Official Vote Count

HAVELOCK — (ENS). — The official count of the ballots for the liquor vote taken on September 3 was made Thursday afternoon and was as follows:

For the liquor store 393 "yes," and 240 "no," giving the wets 13 votes over the required 60 per cent. For the beer warehouse—395 "yes" and 231 "no," 19 votes over the 60 per cent.

There were 34 spoiled ballots. Only one poll out of five had all the ballots marked correctly. It was in the East Ward, and the other poll for that section reported 14 spoiled. Poll A to M in the West Ward had 1 spoiled, and Poll N to Z eight spoiled. The advance poll reported one spoiled.

Civil Engineers Earn $3,500-$8,400 Year

OTTAWA (CP)—In case you've ever wondered how much those fellows get for peeking through transits and putting down lines on drawing boards, most Canadian civil engineers earn between $3,500 and $8,400 a year.

The Labor Department yesterday said 77 per cent of Canada's civil engineers are in this salary range.

A few of the 3,596 engineers reporting—13 of them—fall into the $1,500-$2,400 bracket. Another few —38—make more than $25,000.

Names Made Famous By War Enliven New Maps

WASHINGTON.—Asiatic place names once little more than fodder for crossword puzzles, but now household words, enliven a new 10-color wall map of the Far East distributed this month by the National Geographic Society.

The map portrays the earth from Semipalatinsk in Russia to Netherlands New Guinea, from the Sea of Okhotsk off Siberia to the Indian Ocean west of Sumatra.

An inset of Korea shows in great detail the peninsula upon which U. S. soldiers are fighting in the United Nations army. Such spots at Heartbreak Ridge, the Punch Bowl and the Iron Triangle are clearly marked.

Also easily found are Panmunjom, the village of the protracted truce talks, Seoul, Korea's capital, and the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Manchuria, whose Communist-operated hydro-electric plants were targets for the greatest mass air bombings since the Second World War.

Peiping, the ancient capital of China, remains the capital of Red China. Not unused to conquerors Peiping saw Mongol and Manchu invaders centuries before the upsurge of its present Communist overlords.

Off the China coast lies Formosa, whose capital of Taipei is also the capital of the Nationalist Chinese government, recognized by many nations, including the United States.

The Communist overlordship in China is matched by the freedom of other lands on the Far East map. Burma, Indo-China, Indonesia and the Philippines all have graduated since the Second World War from colonial or dependent status to become free nations in the world community.

On the northeast section of the map is Japan, conquered in 1945 but once again a free, self-governing nation with a new constitution.

American forces, however, are permitted by the Japanese peace treaty to maintain many installations they formerly occupied by right of conquest.

A small and precarious free spot on the map of the Chinese mainland is Hong Kong, the 32-square-mile British colony off the southeast China coast.

A trading centre living on the exchange of Chinese and imported goods, Hong Kong has suffered because of curtailment of trade between the Communist and free worlds.

Tuition Cost High

CBC Stepping Up Plans For TV Station Opening

MONTREAL (CP)—The CBC today stepped up preparations for the launching tomorrow night of Canada's first TV station.

CBFT, a bilingual station that will serve an estimated 2,500,000 persons in Montreal and district, will go on the air officially after more than a month of experimental programs including sports, music, drama and children's shows.

A second TV outlet, station CBLT will open in Toronto Monday night.

PROGRAM COSTLY

Those two stations will be the product of an $8,000,000 CBC program to develop Canadian television and will serve as the nucleus for a TV service that eventually will stretch from coast to coast.

Today, the CBC takes newspaper men on a behind-the-scenes tour of its TV production studios and workshop in downtown Montreal and through its transmitting station atop Mount Royal.

Dr. Thomas T. Goldsmith, president of Du Mont Television and Electronics, Ltd., told a press conference here yesterday a contract is expected to be signed shortly between CBC and Du Mont to bring United States programs into Canada over a microwave relay network now being built between Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto and Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Goldsmith, here for the opening ceremonies, said the CBC has expressed satisfaction with the terms of the contract but added that U.S. sponsors feel the CBC should make some adjustments in its rate structure. CBC rates for air time and production were considerably higher than those in the U.S.

A.D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of Governors, said recently negotiations with two other U. S. TV networks have broken down over the question of payments.

TO EXPAND SERVICE

Yesterday, CBC spokesmen said they welcomed a statement by Prime Minister St. Laurent in Vancouver that the government plans to recommend a further loan to the CBC for television development.

This will enable the CBC to embark on the second phase of its program—establishment of other stations in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Halifax in addition to an outlet opening in Ottawa next year. This stage of the program may not be completed for another year or two.

Shelter Given Weary Travellers

SPRINGFIELD, N. S. (CP)—Roadhouses have come a long way since weary travellers in the early 1800s stopped for food and lodging at "Half-Way House" on the now forgotten road between Albany Cross in Annapolis county and Liverpool, on the south shore.

The inn was established by Nova Scotia's Lieutenant - Governor strictly on a non-profit basis. Footsore travellers could pay for their bed and board or not—depending on their pocket books. It was a haven for farmers who used the rugged, 40-mile forest road to drive their cattle to market at Liverpool.

A recent visitor to the now abandoned roadhouse was 93-year-old Mrs. William Acker, a one-time hostess there. For many years she made a home for her daughters and five sons in the isolated spot.

She was remunerated by the provincial government for the expenses incurred in sheltering and feeding travellers.

Millbrook Guild Plans Fall Bazaar, Dinner

MILLBROOK — (ENS) —Miss Anna Fair was hostess to the guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church for the opening meeting of the fall on Wednesday evening. In her report the treasurer, Mrs. T. A. Campbell, told that there had been a profit of $47.55 from the home baking sale held in June. After $200 had been turned over to the wardens for church purposes there was still a balance in the bank.

It was decided to show an educational film sponsored by the Durham film board in the parish hall, with the tentative date of September 18 being set for the showing. A rummage sale is planned for September 24, and the annual bazaar is to be held on Saturday afternoon, October 25. Members of the congregation are being asked to contribute saleable goods for the bazaar.

It was decided also that next guild meeting should open with a pot luck supper for the members. This meeting is to be held at the house of Mrs. T. A. Campbell on October 1.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. William Hutchinson and Mrs. Percy Hamilton. A pleasant social hour followed.

Screech Of 2-Ton Siren Scares Prairie Wild Ducks

OTTAWA (CP)—The screech of a two-ton siren is scaring the dickens out of the prairie wild duck, just as the scientists predicted.

The Resources Department jubilantly announced yesterday that with the use of the powerful siren it may have found a way of ridding western grain fields of damage by migrating waterfowl.

Federal scientists, conducting experiments in the Kindersley area of Saskatchewan, have erected the siren on a truck.

Powered by 180-horsepower motor, the siren produces a high continuous screech—about middle "C" on the piano—that an be heard within a four-mile radius. The noise is so intense that siren operators must plug their ears.

DON'T LIKE IT

The ducks don't like it.

"They were not only frightened," said the department, "but continued to be so uneasy that they would not feed although they had been without food for two or three days."

Huge flocks of the wild ducks were seen to rise from prairie sloughs whenever the big noisemaker was set in motion.

Scientists are continuing the experiments. When they are absolutely convinced that the siren will do the trick, they plan to pass the results of the experiments along to farmers and to other groups interested in wildlife management.

T.C.A. Planning Replace Planes

LONDON (CP)—Plans for early replacement of aircraft operating on the short- and medium-range passenger services in Canada were announced here last night by Gordon R. McGregor, president of Trans-Canada Air Lines.

McGregor, who with a group of his technicians and administrative officers has been attending Britain's annual air display at Farnborough, Hants., announced at a press conference that four new types of aircraft are undergoing tests. A final decision on replacements will be made by the end of October.

Among the favored competitors is the highly-rated Vickers-Armstrong "Viscount," one of the largest and fastest turbo-prop airliners in service. It can accommodate up to 56 passengers compared with 21 carried by the present DC-3s on T.C.A's Canadian internal service.

T.C.A. plans also provide for eight new super-Constellation airliners for the company's trans-Atlantic service. The first of these liners, which will replace the present fleet of North Stars, is expected to be in service by December, 1953.

SQUELCHING THE LAST SPARK in a fire in a sawdust pile and dump Thursday afternoon, neighbors saved a barn owned by Melford A. Steenburgh, R.R. 6, Peterborough. Mr. Steenburgh noticed the flames leaping 100 feet into the air from the dump shortly after 12:30 p.m. A borrowed hose and pump, a 400-foot garden hose, a nearby pond, a bulldozer and 30 neighbors turned back the fire away from the barn which was only 100 feet away, filled with baled hay and eight brood sows.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

High School Turns Out Douro Pupils

Parents Protest To Department Overcrowding Blamed

LAKEFIELD (ENS).—Thirteen pupils from Douro township have been told they cannot attend Lakefield district high school. Reason given by the school board is overcrowding.

Except for a small section the north end of the township, Douro has never been a part of the Lakefield High School district. Pupils from Douro have attended high school in Peterborough, Norwood and Lakefield.

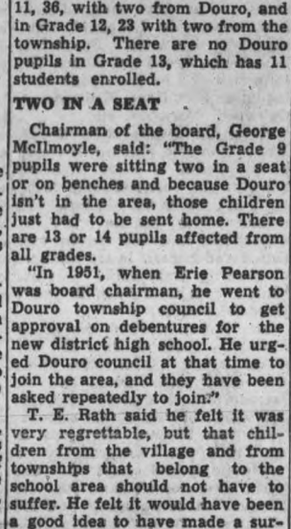
A deputation of four parents went to Toronto today to interview officials of the Department of Education and another deputation is seeking out township council members to have a section of the township declared within the high school district.

It is difficult for pupils from the northern section of the township to attend any school but the one at Lakefield, said spokesman Gerald Staples. Swamps and roads impassable in winter separate the two parts of the township.

Mr. Staples quoted figures showing the number of pupils in each class at the high school and the number of Douro pupils.

"These are the straws that broke the camel's back," he said.

In Grade 9 there are 80 pupils, six from Douro; in Grade 10, 45 with three from Douro; in Grade 11, 36, with two from Douro, and in Grade 12, 23 with two from the township. There are no Douro pupils in Grade 13, which has 11 students enrolled.



TWO IN A SEAT

Chairman of the board, George McIlmoyle, said: "The Grade 9 pupils were sitting two in a seat or on benches and because Douro isn't in the area, those children just had to be sent home. There are 13 or 14 pupils affected from all grades.

"In 1951, when Erie Pearson was board chairman, he went to Douro township council to get approval on debentures for the new district high school. He urged Douro council at that time to join the area, and they have been asked repeatedly to join."

T. E. Rath said he felt it was very regrettable, but that children from the village and from townships that belong to the school area should not have to suffer. He felt it would have been a good idea to have made a survey beforehand to have some idea how many pupils would be present.

Mr. Rath also felt that pressure could have been brought on the contractors for the new high school to have it ready at the beginning of the new school term. At present, the school is not expected to open until the first of the year.

DR. ARCHIBALD MOIR died today at the age of 80 in his daughter's home in Whitby. He was one of the founder's of the Peterborough Clinic.

Dr. A. Moir, 80 Clinic Founder Dies In Whitby

One of the founders of the Peterborough Clinic and a surgeon in Peterborough for more than 30 years, Dr. Archibald Moir, 80, died today at his daughter's home in Whitby.

Dr. Moir, one of the city's best-known and best-liked doctors, had not been in the best of health since before his retirement in November, 1949. At that time, he and his wife moved to Whitby to be with their daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Edward Cuddy.

First trained as a pharmacist, Dr. Moir took his initial studies in medicine at the University of Toronto, later doing post-graduate work in New York and London, England.

BOYHOOD DREAM

Born on a farm in Wellington County, near Fergus, Dr. Moir had a boyhood dream of being a doctor. He held on to his dream through the years of school that followed, and finally graduated as a doctor in 1903.

Before that he graduated as a pharmacist in 1898 from the Ontario College of Pharmacy, where he was gold medallist. On his graduation as a doctor, he won a silver medal and a scholarship which gave him a year's additional tuition at the university.

For some years after his graduation, Dr. Moir practised in Dunnville, concentrating a good deal of his time on work with children. Then he decided to specialize in surgery, and went to the London Hospital in Whitechapel, where he took his surgical degree.

CAME HERE IN 1812

After continuing his post-graduate studies in New York, he moved to Peterborough in 1912. In that step he may have been influenced by his wife, who came from South Monaghan, the former Edna Byers. He met her while she was a nurse at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, where he was doing dispensary work and studying medicine at the same time.

In his new practice, as many of his former patients will recall, he worked all hours and never hesitated to respond to a sudden night call.

Shortly after the end of the First World War, in 1919, he and five other doctors founded the Peterborough Clinic. His associates at that time were Dr. G. S. Cameron, Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, Dr. Frank C. Neal and Dr. J. H. Eastwood.

His active practice virtually ended in the spring of 1949, when he was taken suddenly ill in his office. He made his decision to retire at that time, and fulfilled it in November of that year.

Dr. Moir left Peterborough not long before the opening of the new Civic Hospital and the new annex to St. Joseph's Hospital. He had served on the boards of both hospitals.

Dr. Moir served for many years on the Board of Education and was its chairman in 1935 and 1936. He was a member of the special committee which planned the Vocational School which was added in 1928 to the Collegiate.

For many years Dr. Moir was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and was an elder. Following church union, he went to St. Andrew's and served as a member of the session. In politics Dr. Moir was a Liberal and in 1929 was his party's nominee for the Ontario Legislature.

Surviving him are his widow and their only child, Mrs. (Dr.) Edward Cuddy, both of Whitby.

Funeral service will be held at his former residence in Whitby at 2.30 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Mount Lawn cemetery, Oshawa.

ERNEST H. HOWSON, the man who has been largely responsible for the growth of the Peterborough Lock Co. from a very small organization until today it is one of the largest in its field in Canada, has retired. Mr. Howson started with the company in 1903.

Ernest H. Howson Retires Served Company 40 Years

Ernest H. Howson, president of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., has retired after almost 50 years of service to the company it was announced here today. Mr. Howson will become chairman of the board, succeeding R. Hosken Damon. Mr. Damon is chairman of the board and president of Bowser Inc., Chicago, and will remain a member of the Peterborough board. This company is one of the 19 companies comprising the Bowser chain.

JOINED COMPANY IN 1903

Mr. Howson first joined the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Co. in 1903. He later left and became associated with W. H. Hill of the Sun Life Assurance Company; only to return to the Peterborough Lock Co. in 1906 as secretary-treasurer. Four years later he was appointed managing director and in 1929 was elected vice-president. Mr. Howson was elected president in 1939 on the death of W. G. Morrow, and held that office up to the present time.

During his years with the company he was mainly responsible for its growth from a very small organization until today it is one of the largest in its field in Canada. In late 1951 the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company took over the stock control of the Belleville Lock Company, making the combined companies the largest organization of this type in Canada. The Belleville Lock Company, while a wholly owned subsidiary of Peterborough, operates as an independent unit.

BORN IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr. Howson was born in Peterborough and educated at the Central and North Ward Public Schools and the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. After leaving Collegiate he entered the newspaper business, working for the Peterborough Times and the Peterborough Review. In 1901 he left this work to attend Peterborough Business College prior to joining the Lock Company.

Last year the Canadian Builders Hardware Manufacturing Group, at a banquet in Toronto, presented Mr. Howson with a silver rose bowl on completing forty-eight years in the business. He is recognized as a leader in his field throughout Canada and has many admirers and friends from coast to coast.

Mr. Howson, a Scottish Rite Mason, is a member of the Little Lake Cemetery Board, the Peterborough Club, Peterborough Golf and Country Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Howson are members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and have one daughter, Jean of Toronto, and a son, Captain Donald Howson, at present padre of the Canadian Forces in Korea.

If City Will Pay Utilities Will Install Hydrants

The hot potato of hospital hydrants was thrown back to city council Thursday by the Utilities Commission.

A letter was read from hospital superintendent, John Hornal, asking what action the commission proposed to take about putting more hydrants at Civic Hospital.

Net result was that the commission authorized manager Ross Dobbin to go ahead with the work as soon as the city indicates it will pay the costs of installation. The commission's feeling was that they were perfectly willing to do the work; all they wanted to know was who was going to pay for it?

LOCKING BARN LATE

Dr. Gordon R. Langley, newest member of the commission, said the request for hydrants outside the hospital was like locking the barn after the horse is gone.

"Why is Civic Hospital neglecting other fire prevention measures and asking only for hydrants?" he queried.

There is no hose to be seen inside the hospital, and there are no fire extinguishers, he said. "Why doesn't the fire marshal urge them to do something about it?"

Mr. Dobbin brought the problem back to the original question of who will pay for the hydrants. "That's what we want to know."

Chairman Gordon S. Matthews framed the resolution giving the manager authority to go ahead with the work as soon as the city council indicated it would pay the shot.

File Company Buys More Land

PORT HOPE —(ENS) — The Nicholson File Company has purchased 12 acres of land just east of here as a site for a new Canadian branch factory, Paul C. Nicholson, Jr., the president, announced Thursday.

The site is several miles from the company's present Port Hope plant, which has been established for a number of years as one of the town's main firms.

Purchase of the land, officials of the Canadian company say, is insurance for future expansion. It is not likely that construction will start within a year, but sometime within the next five years.

The property was purchased for an unnamed price from Hector Inch.

Mr. Whan will start at his new charge Oct. 1.

One Of 3 Pleads Guilty In Outboard Case

Three Toronto men appeared in police court today—two of them charged with the theft of eight outboard motors from the Peterborough district, and the third charged with retaining a stolen outboard motor.

They are Lawrence Howell, 43, Herbert Halstead, 38, and Joseph Larocque, 39. Howell and Halstead did not plead but Larocque pleaded guilty to the charge of retaining. A charge of theft against Larocque was then withdrawn by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, Q.C.

All three were remanded in custody to Sept. 8. Bail was set at $3,000.

They were arrested Wednesday in Toronto and police expect this will bring to an end a series of outboard motor thefts.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Howell and Halstead are charged with stealing two motors from Russell Brooks in Smith township; others from John Shearer, Rolly Montgomery, Clair Maurer, Mary Graham and Ernest Graham all in Harvey township; and one from George Davey in Lakefield.

Larocque pleaded guilty to retaining a motor owned by Lloyd Lee during March of this year. The charge of stealing the motor was dropped.

The men were brought to Peterborough Thursday by O.P.P. Constables Lyle Erskine and John Cawood.

This summer thieves have stolen from 15 to 20 outboard motors and a quantity of fishing tackle — valued at more than $3,000—from the Kawarthas.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

TALK NEW CONTRACT

Utilities commissioners Thursday discussed a new propane contract with Superior Propane Ltd., a Toronto firm. No decision was reached. Present contracts are with Harding and Hayes, and Shell Oil.

REEVE ON EXECUTIVE

Lindsay's Reeve Richard Butler was elected to the executive of the Ontario Municipal Association at its 54th annual convention, Bigwin Inn in the Muskokas.

RETURNING SOLDIER

Pte. M. M. Martin, 68 Sophia St., is among 57 veterans of Korean fighting who are arriving home Tuesday. Most will get off the train in Toronto. A Trenton man, Pte. W. E. Greene is among the group.

FOSTER HOMES

Seven foster homes for children ranging in age from three to 14 are urgently needed, Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society said today. All enquiries can be made at the society's office on Sheridan St.

RECORD CIRCULATION

A record summer circulation was reported by William Graff, librarian, at the Peterborough Public Library Board meeting, Thursday night. The total increase for June, July and August as compared with this same period in 1951 was 20,132. The total circulation for the three summer months was 193,130.

SUMMER'S LAST MOON

That last moon of summer was in the first stage of waning last night in a sky that was clear and only the major stars stood out in the golden light of the sky. Jupiter is gradually rising higher over the east before midnight, and down below the horizon is the great winter constellation of Orion.

HOW TO SPOIL A DAY

A hefty fellow who arrived the other morning at 6:30 at the Churchill restaurant to begin the day right with ample sustenace under his belt, apparently settled for a cup of coffee. An acquaintance remarked to him: "Man, you've put on a lot of weight this summer. You ought to do something about it; you know what the doctors warn about the waist line." The conversation carried along on that serious note of eating too much, and, as reported, the Churchill till rang up only a dime.

County Councillors Visit Lindsay, Victoria County

Peterborough county council and other county officials —35 in all—were guests Thursday afternoon of their neighbors, the Victoria county council. Activities included the inspection of county buildings in Lindsay, a tour through the Visking plant there, a visit to the Victoria County Home for the Aged, and a bus trip through the heart of Victoria county.

The chartered bus left Peterborough shortly before 10 a.m. and the junketers returned at midnight.

Ray Webster, warden of Victoria, said the invitation was primarily social but there was a utilitarian purpose as well: the reeves, deputy reeves and county officials in both Peterborough and Victoria could exchange ideas and see how their opposite numbers ran municipal affairs. Most of the Victoria councillors were present.

CONVERSATION

Conversation ranged through the social pleasantries (weather, crops, etc.) to larger problems of assessment and the bete noire of the moment: the annexation of rural lands.

As officials from the two counties, both elective and appointive, had just returned from the Ontario Municipal Association Convention at Bigwin Inn, the subject of annexation was a popular one.

Only Reeves Clive Hoard, Norris Whitney, Rork Ferguson and Peter Pearson were unable to attend. The bus was met at the Lindsay courthouse by Warden Webster of Victoria, and the party began immediately to inspect the courthouse buildings.

The Peterborough visitors were particularly impressed by the new registrar's building, still not completed. The room is bright and airy, radiant heated from the ceiling, and the files are all within reaching height.

"One of the best in Ontario," commented Registrar Dan McQuarrie, of Victoria.

NEW INDUSTRY

Most of the morning was spent in inspecting Lindsay's showpiece industry—the new Visking plant where non-edible meat casings are manufactured. Split into groups of 10, the visitors were taken on a tour that revealed the complete manufacturing process —from the sheet of cellulose pulp to the final product: the transparent casing ready for the packing company.

Noon dinner was in the Benson Hotel with head table guests including Barney Schenk, manager of Visking, and several other plant officials, Warden Dick

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Norwood Fair Board Plans Three Swine Clubs . . . Saskatchewan Expecting Record Crop of 400 Million Bushels of Wheat . . . Strong Junior Section of Peterborough Exhibition, Next Week . . . Huron Federation Changes Scholarship Plan.

With a background of top quality breeding stock, Norwood Fair directors are organizing three bacon hog clubs.

"For the most beneficial effect in our district," G. A. Brethen said this week, "we are distributing them in three townships. We already have the 30 English Yorkshires which the Fair board bought from Canada Packers, allotting them to junior farmers, each of whom received two of the gilts when they arrived at Norwood Fair grounds.

The next step in this policy of improving swine stock in East Peterborough is being carried out with the assistance of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, who are selecting three boars for the breeding program.

That arrangement suggests the nucleus of our clubs which will be in Asphodel, Dummer and Otonabee. These boars will be assigned to James Crowley on the 7th line of Asphodel; John Cranford in South Dummer and James Hope at Villiers in Otonabee.

The Department will charge a fee of ten dollars for each boar, for the first year, and five dollars for the second year. This money is being paid by Norwood Fair board as a means of retaining control of this improvement policy.

Each club is required to have a minimum of six members, but we are increasing that to ten."

Norwood directors promised this breeding extension of their purchase of gilts. The details were explained at time of the dispersal of 30 weanlings which were trucked to Norwood from the C.P.C. farm.

FAIR DAY AUCTION

The 15 young farmers who shared in that distribution agreed to take care of the pigs and show them at Norwood Fair, on Thanksgiving Day. These club members have full possession of one pig. The other is turned over to the fair board. That means 15, at least, will be sold by auction on fair day.

"The 15 junior farmers whom we chose are all keenly interested in the program of management. Just recently," Mr. Brethen said, "Gordon Marshall, buyer at C.P.C. here in Peterborough, suggested that he would like to make the round of the 15 farms and see what the boys were accomplishing. I went with him on that inspection, and since then Mr. Marshall has made another trip to each of the farms.

We found that the pigs had all made fine progress, except two. What was wrong with them was that they were a bit hefty; had been fed too much, but with exercise and a little change in care and feeding, I think they will be in good shape for Fair Day."

Mr. Brethen said the 15 East Peterborough juniors would probably keep their pigs after displaying them at the fair.

"At least they have not been talking about putting them up at the auction. They appear to be more interested in getting one or more of the fair board's pigs that will be offered for sale."

So far, Mr. Brethen said, the English Yorkshire project is turning out very promisingly. He said there was no question about the quality of these foundation females, and with the further advantage of the selected boars the Department was providing, the offspring should be a real asset to the district breeders.

MANY ARE INTERESTED

"This plan of developing swine has created a great deal of interest throughout the county, and quite a number of Peterborough business men have been asking me about it.

Our juniors are still enthusiastic, and then we have had the Norwood Lions Club ask about how they could help. We had to tell them it was too late for this season, but I think they will be heard from early in 1953."

"Norwood Fair policy is not confined to the fair itself," Mr. Brethen said. "To justify our agricultural association our directors feel that something should be undertaken to promote better farming in our community. So we have had the Beaver oats "Derby" two years ago, and fertilizer program last year, and now we are into the English Yorkshire pigs, which are from imported stock."

AIMING AT PROSPERITY

Mr. Brethen said these efforts were all aimed at trying to increase farm prosperity. They meant, respectively, improved quality of seed, better fertility of the soil by the use of fertilizer, and, this year, introducing a better type of bacon hog.

"I've had a pleasant surprise for our directors his week in being able to report to them that Prof. R. G. Knex of O.A.C. will be the judge of the English Yorkshires on Thanksgiving Day. He volunteered to come. When Prof. Knox is in Norwood he is close to the home of his boyhood. We are hoping too, that Wm. J. O'Neill of Denfield will be available for the swine auction."

Sire of Big Milkers Is Quebec Holstein

Very few Holstein cows produce 150,000 lbs. of milk in their lifetime, but a Quebec bull has sired no less than four daughters, each with 150,000 lbs. milk in their lifetime. No other bull in Canada has duplicated this feat.

These cows all made their records in the herd of William Bousquet, La Presentation, Que. Their sire is Bijou Dad Tensen, whose worth was recognized by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada when he was awarded a class "Extra" rating in Selective Registration, thus making him one of the few bulls of the breed to receive this honor.

Of the four sisters, the largest lifetime record is that of Finette Reina Tensen who produced 167,534 lbs. milk containing 6,157 lbs. fat, average test 3.68 percent butterfat in eight lactations. She was followed by Elegante Bijou Tensen with an eight lactation lifetime record of 159,736 lbs. milk containing 6,086 lbs. fat, average test 3.81 percent butterfat.

The third sister is Lisotte De La Presentation with a nine lactation lifetime total of 5,457 lbs. fat from 152,353 lbs. milk. To complete the group is Gloutonne De Pres Tensen with a nine lactation total of 5,459 lbs. fat from 151,247 lbs. milk.

The four sisters are not only persistent producers but they have made exceptionally large individual yearly records as well. As an eleven-year-old Lisotte produced in 365 days on twice-a-day milking, 30,062 lbs. milk containing 1,061 lbs. fat, while both Finette and Elegante produced better than 26,000 lbs. milk in their latest lactations. Gloutonne has twice passed the 20,000 lb. mark. Lisotte's 30,000 lb. record is the third highest for milk and the fifth highest for fat ever completed in Canada in 365 days on twice-a-day milking. She is also the champion of Quebec for milk and fat on twice-a-day milking.

Light Horse Entries Heavy for Next Week

Light horses will be one of the feature departments of Peterborough Exhibition next week, Burritt Mann, chairman of that comimttee, said yesterday. Associated with him are: Art Douglas, Keith Kelly and Frank Baldwin.

This division comprises hackneys, roadsters, saddle horses and ponies.

"According to the promise of the entries, we should have the largest exhibit of ponies in central Ontario this season," Mr. Mann said. "They will be judged Wednesday afternoon and evening.

"There is a special class for western saddle horses Wednesday evening that should be of special interest. They are to be shown in their western tack, and should contribute a colorful note to the saddle class.

"We have a big show of hackneys and roadsters in prospect. Five road teams are entered in the double speed class, that is the roadster team race under the lights Thursday night.

"Then for Friday evening we have eight entries in the gentlemen's half mile road race. This is for single horse turnouts. It is sponsored by a group of Peterborough automobile dealers. These two speed events will present trotters drawing four-wheeled buggies just as fast as their pacing cousins of the two-wheeled sulkies. First prize for the single horse trot is $50, second is $25, and so on. The drivers should be all out trying for that money.

"I feel confident in promising the public an exceptionally fine horse show. The specials for saddle horses include two half-mile heats that are always interesting."

Has 700 Beef Cattle

Robert McCubbin, M.P., parliamentary assistant to the Hon. James Gardiner, has about 700 head of beef cattle on his farm in East Williams township, Middlesex county.

"And doesn't appear to be worrying about the future," particularly the continuing U.S. embargo. He has built up a herd of Herefords and a feed production program that should eliminate western freight charges.

His purebred calves will be stabled in the fall, but the cows stay out in shed shelter. Last winter it was until February. He also has a herd of Herefords crossed with an Angus sire whose calves will be pushed along to seven or eight hundred pounds.

2,145 Animals Entered

Livestock entries for London Exhibition next week total 2,145, of which 811 are dairy cattle, 250 beef cattle, 246 light horses, 120 heavy horses, 542 sheep and 176 swine. Value of the stock is estimated at more than one million dollars. Total number of animals is a new record for Western Fair.

230 Boys and Girls Enter Junior "Ex."

Some 230 boys and girls of the Central Ontario counties are coming to Peterborough next Thursday for the junior branch of the Exhibition.

Miss Jean Noble, home economist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, suggested yesterday that transfer of the Exhibition to the school term, from the former holiday period in August, has affected her group comprising members of girls' home-making clubs.

However, she has a list of 100 names of girls who have written their applications to take part in the day's proceedings in the market hall, at George and Charlotte Streets.

The corresponding number of girls last year was 121 on the nominal roll, but only 85 took part in the judging program.

Miss Evelyn Scott, of F. C. Paterson's office, reported yesterday that 130 boys and girls, the big majority being boys, have notified her that they will report for the day's work in judging and other tests at Morrow Park. The prospective total of these two groups is 230. The girls in the home-making department are from Hastings, Prince Edward, Peterborough, Northumberland, Victoria and Durham.

The Morrow Park group, boys and girls, are from these counties and Ontario county, but there are evidently none from Prince Edward.

Canada Packers will again be hosts at dinner, and the juniors will have grandstand places in the evening.

Saskatchewan Wheat

For the first time in history, Saskatchewan's wheat crop may exceed 400,000,000 bushels. If that prospect is fulfilled, the wheat crop of that province will amount to $600,000,000 after the freight charges have been paid, according to grain company officials in Saskatoon. The barley crop was better than last year, and oats were also excellent. Estimates look with increasing certainty this week on excess of one billion dollars from this year's grain production.

Split Scholarship

Huron County Federation of Agriculture is substituting ten $10 grants for their $100 O.A.C. scholarship. The grants are to encourage and assist ten boys of the county to attend the farm economics short course at the College.

Details of the $10 grants are left to the executive. Sentiment favored having each township nominate a candidate, with the successful ten to be chosen from that list.

Peterborough County Council has been offering a $100 scholarship to assist one boy a year at an Agricultural School, but the agricultural committee has found few who were in a position to accept it.

MORE FAILURES

Crop failures occur more often in India than elsewhere because of its dependence on the monsoon rains.

Harry Jackson First In Wheat Club

Three top prizes in the Peterborough County 50 Bushel Wheat competition have been won by grain farmers in Victoria and Durham Counties.

They are: Harry L. Jackson, of Emily township in Victoria, collecting $20; Robert Armstrong, of Cavan, $15, and R. Bonner, also of Cavan, in Durham, received the third prize of $12.

First Peterborough County man in the winners' list is Alex Huston, of Otonabee, fourth for $10.

Mr. Jackson was first both for yield per acre and standing field crop for a total of 213.6 points, and Robert Armstrong was second in both columns with 205.4 points.

Details of the score sheet for the club this year, quoting yield first (the figure multiplied by two) and field crop second, and total points third, follow:

Harry Jackson, 60.8-92; 213.6. Robert Armstrong, 59.2-86; 205.4. R. Bonner, 49.2-86; 184.4. Alex Huston, 50.4-82; 182.8.

Archie Davidson, Otonabee, 39.6-77; 156.2. The others in order were: Charlie Whittington, North Monaghan; Ralph Drummond, Otonabee; Neal Whitfield, Fraserville; E. T. Kimball, Smith; E. VanVolkenburg, Asphodel.

The field score is two points per bushel of yield. And the points comprising the field score are: purity of variety, possible 15; freedom from other grains and grasses, 10; freedom from disease, rust 10 points, smut 10. Freedom from weeds, 20 points; stand of grain, uniformity, maturity, height, strength of straw, etc., 25 points; management, condition of soil, straightness of rows, etc., 10 points. Total for field score, 100.

The three high competitors in each county contest, throughout the province have the option of forwarding one bushel for chemical tests and for the Inter-County Competition at the Royal Winter Fair, to the Maple Leaf Milling Co., not later than October 1.

First prize in the Inter-County Competition is $75, 2nd $60, 3rd $50, and the 9th and 10th are $10 each.

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, hopes the 50-Bushel Club will attract more members this year. It is sponsored by the Ontario Crop Improvement Association through its county branches.

County boundary lines are no barrier to the membership of the Crop Improvement Association of Peterborough from the neighboring townships of Cavan and Emily. Robert Armstrong, of Ida, is president of the Peterborough club this season, and Mr. Jackson and Mr. Bonner are regulars in its personnel.

Wesley Wilson Of Emily Field Crop Judge Advocates Quality Seed

A neighbor's gift of a bag of certified Irish Cobbler potatoes was an incident in Wesley Wilson's agricultural progress that confirmed his faith and practice in sowing good seed.

"I took a bag of ordinary potatoes I had grown myself and planted them in a plot alongside the bag of Irish Cobbler seed which my neighbor had given me for a trial," Mr. Wilson recalled this week at his farm home in Emily township, one mile and a half north of Omemee.

"When I dug these two lots at the end of the season, I had eleven bags from my own seed and 25 bags from certified Cobblers.

That experience was just another lesson to me in the value of good seed. The difference in returns and income was fourteen bags of a lot better potatoes than I would have used from my own seed. It was not my first lesson in that way of farming, but it was one I have never forgotten."

Mr. Wilson is widely known throughout Central Ontario as a judge of grain at fall fairs and in county field crop competitions. By the way, he is president this year of the Emily Agricultural Society and of the Omemee Horticultural Society. He has exhibited grain at the Canadian National Exhibition, Royal Winter Fair, Ottawa Central Exhibition, Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope, Lakefield and others. His interest in crops and their improvement is as lively as when 30 years ago he first exhibited sheaves of grain at Lindsay.

"Our Emily Agricultural Society used to carry on a fair at Omemee," Mr. Wilson said. "The directors years ago decided to drop the fair and put their efforts into other means of helping their farm community. They bought purebred bulls and boars to improve the quality of the livestock, and they organized field crop competitions in wheat and oats.

AN EARLY WINNER

They got me to join the society, and I became a member of the field crop competition in wheat. Maybe it was a good year or I was lucky, but anyhow my very first score was more than 90 points. That made me eligible to show grain at the Toronto and Ottawa Exhibitions, and I went to both of them. The end result is that I have been greatly interested in good seed ever since.

I have always grown registered seed, and I have had it cleaned and treated against smut. Maybe I have missed some years, but at the most or worst it would be only a two-year gap.

The wheat I planted this morning (Wednesday) was registered seed I bought from Robert Armstrong of Cavan. It was cleaned and treated in Peterborough. There are some people who would think it was terrible to spend 50c a bushel for better seed. Instead of paying $2.50 a bushel they would feel a lot happier paying $1.75 for unregistered seed. But, they wouldn't know what they were getting, whether it was free of weeds, and so on.

"As I say, I learned the worth of good seed years ago, and I know it pays to sow the best. In general experience, you get just about what you pay for."

JUDGE FOR NORWOOD

Mr. Wilson was judge this year of the 50 bushels of wheat competition of the Norwood Agricultural Society. The winner was Robert Armstrong of Cavan.

"The Norwood Fair directors opened up their competition to a larger area. Mr. Armstrong took advantage of that invitation, and I can say that his Cornell wheat was one of the grandest crops I ever saw."

Between the lines, obviously, Mr. Wilson is recommending these field crop competitions to other farmers, together with his gospel of good seed.

His showing of sheaves of grain at Lindsay 30 years ago induced Mr. Wilson into the broader field of exhibiting grain. He had no ambitions to be a judge. He just kept on farming as thoroughly as he could, and showing some of his products at fairs.

Ten years ago, however, his brother, John H. Wilson, then president of Port Hope Agricultural Society, proposed that he accept the job of judging the grain and vegetable classes at the Port Hope Fair.

"I didn't hear of any complaints, and they asked me back three or four years, so I guess my work there was satisfactory."

FIELD CROP JUDGE

"In the meantime I had been attending the provincial plowing matches. There and at exhibitions I had met John A. Carroll of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. About seven years ago he wrote me that he was short of judges for field crop competitions, and told me he wanted me to do some.

"There are many good experienced farmers who are well qualified to do that work, if they had the time or felt like it."

So, Wesley Wilson became a departmental judge of standing field crops, and has been assigned from time to time to Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Norwood, Beaverton, Port Perry, Orono and others. The fairs at which he was judge have included: Port Hope, Bobcaygeon, Oakwood, Norwood, etc.

As to this year's observations, Mr. Wilson said that in his round of the dozen or more fields of wheat in the Norwood competition he didn't see "a bit of smut." His comment was that he could not understand how any farmer who considered himself in the business of growing grain could tolerate smut, and its ill effect on the year's financial income.

Mr. Wilson showed the grand champion sheaf of oats at the C.N.E. last year, a reflection of his first exhibit at Lindsay and his introduction to a phase of farming which broadened his outlook.

"If you become interested in exhibiting, you know you have to put some special effort into your work. One doesn't farm just to produce exhibits, but if you are inclined to show at a fair or join a field crop competition, it is in your thoughts that you have to give some extra attention to the product you are interested in. I believe that it is a help to better farming. That is one reason why I am happy to be still a member of Emily Agricultural Society, and because I know it produces good results in a community I feel it is an honor to be president.

There are many calf clubs and junior grain clubs in the province today. They bring the young people together in projects connected with farming, and I think they are well worth the support of farmers generally."

Blame 2 Shrubs For Causing Of Cereal Rust

The serious losses resulting from rust on cereal grains could be virtually eliminated by the eradication of the two shrubs—Common Barberry and Buckthorn. J. W. MacRae, Fieldman for the Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, says these two offenders are necessary for rust to complete its life cycle.

Common Barberry is the worst offender as it is the host to stem rust on all cereal grains. This shrub should not be confused with the ornamental Japanese Barberry which is harmless. They are easily distinguished. The offending Common Barberry is a tall, graceful shrub, which grows from 6 to 12 feet high. The leaves are saw-toothed on the edge and carry three or more spines on the underside of the leaf stem. The flowers and seeds of the Common Barberry are carried in clusters with the seed remaining on the stem over winter. The harmless Japanese Barberry is a low spreading shrub. The leaf edges are plain and there is a single spine under the leaf. In addition the flowers and seeds appear singly, rather than in clusters.

On the other hand, Mr. MacRae advises that European Buckthorn spreads crown or leaf rust of oats. It is a small tree or shrub growing some 6 to 15 feet high. The green leaves are ovate in shape and have sharp thorns on the stems or at the top of most branches. The flowers are green, and the glossy black, bitter-tasting seeds stay on the shrub over the winter.

Mr. MacRae says eradication of these shrubs is essential because, and this is a phenomenon perplexing to the layman, "new races of rust are constantly appearing, which affect varieties of cereal developed for resistance to known races of rust."

This raises the problem of the best method of killing these villains. He agrees that any method suggested involves some work, and recommends the basal bark treatment. This treatment is given when the plants are dormant — from January to April—and involves the painting or spraying of the trunk or lower branches with a 2-4-5,T in oil. Sodium chlorate and ammate also provide a means of killing these shrubs.

HIS CONCRETE WALK from house to barn was one of Wesley Wilson's minor investments that has paid dividends in farmyard convenience. He laid the cement 16 feet at a time, "the length of narrow form between two scantlings." It extends from the rear entrance to the house across the yard and along the barn from one end to the other. This photograph also shows another Wilson facility, the concrete front of his loading ramp, about the height of a truck floor. "It simplifies the loading of livestock," Mr. Wilson said. "I wouldn't have been without either, and they didn't cost much; did the work myself." The Wilson farm in Emily township is 1½ miles north of Omemee on the Bobcaygeon Road.

Social Credit Party To Make Election Bid

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said yesterday his party will make a bid to win the next federal election.

"Our aim will be to have enough candidates to be able to form the next government," said Mr. Low in an interview.

Activities of the party in the federal field have largely been confined to Alberta. Ten of that province's 17 seats in the Commons now are held by Social Crediters.

However, election of a Social Credit government in British Columbia and re-election of the party in Alberta has spurred organizations in various parts of the country.

Mr. Low said organizations are "stirring" in all provinces except the Maritimes. Invitations have been received to form organizations in the Maritimes. The invitations have been accepted and will be acted on by party organizers.

AT ANGLICAN SYNOD — Some 300 clergy and laity are attending the 10-day 18th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada at London, Ont. Prior to the opening of the General Synod, the House of Bishops of the Anglican Church passed a resolution expressing concern over the lack of a "religious note" in services held by the Canadian government for the late King George VI. Attending, left to right, are: Rt. Rev. G. N. Luxton, Bishop of Huron; Rt. Rev. Michael H. Yashiro, Bishop of Kobe, Japan; Most Rev. Walter Barfoot, Archbishop of Edmonton and Primate of all Canada; and Rt. Rev. W. L. Wright, Bishop of Algoma, secretary of the House.

Report Pipeline To Be Finished 3 Months Early

VANCOUVER (CP)—When the "Big-Inchers" strike their tents this fall, they will have completed 350 of the 715 miles between Edmonton and Vancouver.

They are putting down the pipe so fast, in fact, that Trans Mountain's $82,000,000 crude oil pipe line from Edmonton to the coast will be completed in August, 1953, three months ahead of the original schedule.

The company announced this week that a third "spread" will begin laying pipe in the 42-mile stretch between Sumas and Hope in the Fraser Valley about Sept. 13.

The contractors will have two other spreads going at the same time, one at Jasper and the other at Valemont, on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

WELD 150 MILES OF PIPE

About 150 miles of pipe have been welded. The United States steel strike failed to hold up operations. Most of the pipe comes from California mills not affected by the strike.

Materials for the new spread are being assembled at Chilliwack, 60 miles east of here. Twenty-one cars of steel pipe arrived his week and another two miles of pipe are arriving daily. Ten cars of enamel have arrived there as well as a number of cars of fibre-glass matting, 10 tractors, a wheel-ditcher, seven backhoes and three clamshell diggers.

At the same time, oil companies here are busy expanding their refineries in anticipation of the pipe line's arrival next year. About $50,000,000 will be spent on expansion and new construction.

QUINTS' SCHOOL—The world's most famous sisters, the Dionne quintuplets, will enter the Nicolet Convent at Nicolet, Que., near Three Rivers, to study the art of homemaking. Their father, Oliva, said he wants them to get the finishing touches on growing up, just like other girls. The 60-pupil family institute, devoted to preparing girls to be good mothers and home-makers, is different from the near-cloistered life the girls had on the Dionne estate at Callander, near North Bay, where they attended a private school. Convent life will not be too strict, said Sister Marie-Ange, of the Sisters of the Assumption, who run the school. The girls will be allowed to play and see something of the village.

Aid For Separate Schools Issue Raised Again In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—An issue dormant in British Columbia since the June 12 provincial election—public aid for separate schools—was raised again here yesterday before the Canadian Bar Association.

Ulric G. Laurencelle, Montreal lawyer, told the association's civil liberties committee that Canadian provinces should provide an equitable share of public funds for separate schools operated by Roman Catholics and other religious denominations.

He quoted the charter of the United Nations to support his stand. He said Canada had not opposed any of the articles in the U. N. charter and had pledged herself to assure effective safeguards for human rights. One of these rights was freedom of parents to select the school their children will attend.

This is the same argument which has been used by the Roman Catholic church in B. C. in efforts to obtain provincial financial aid for their separate schools.

Since she joined Confederation, B.C. has maintained that parents are free to send their children to any school but only public schools will receive state aid.

The issue was a minor one in the B.C. election. Eight Roman Catholic candidates campaigning for "minority rights" under the banner of the Christian Democratic Party were defeated.

Two Roman Catholic schools in nearby Maillardville which closed at Easter, 1951, in protest against the provincial government's refusal to pay for the students' bus transportation, re-opened this week.

The University of British Columbia later conferred honorary doctorates of law on eight distinguished jurists from four countries.

They were: Prime Minister St. Laurent; Georges Chrestell, batonnier of the Order of Advocates of Paris; Howard Barkdull of Cleveland, president of the American Bar Association; Brig. Clark; Rt. Hon. Sir John Morris, British Lord Justice of Appeal; Chief Justice Gordon Sloan of the British Columbia Appeal Court; W. B. Farris, Vancouver; and R. H. Tupper, Vancouver, who helped found the law faculty at U.B.C.

Laval Planning To Drop Greek

QUEBEC (CP)—Laval University is thinking of dropping Greek as a pre-requisite for a bachelor of arts degree, though it still considers a knowledge of Greek language and culture the soundest basis of free culture, Msgr. Ferdinand Vandry, rector of Laval, said yesterday.

He told the opening session of a symposium on secondary education that Laval cannot "resist the tide (of science) sweeping us along." The Greek-Latin curriculum followed in classical colleges affiliated with Laval would be modified to a Latin-science course.

The university, which always had believed the best formula for education was the Greek-Latin formula, planned to emphasize the teaching of Greek among students who learned the language easily.

Give Amalgamation Ruling In 3 Weeks

TORONTO (CP)—A decision on Toronto's application for amalgamation with its 12 suburbs probably will be given by the Ontario Municipal Board within three weeks.

It is believed the board will reject the application and recommend instead that essential civic services be unified under a metropolitan area board.

Beauty Queen Chosen

WINDSOR (CP)—Dorothy Jobin, Miss Windsor of 1952, last night was chosen Miss Western Ontario at the firemen's festival. Some 18,000 spectators saw the 20-year-old brunette chosen over 19 other contestants. Contestants came from an area bounded by Niagara Falls, Goderich and Hamilton.

Fur Production Will Decline

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian fur production will decline this year, but dealers here say there still will be plenty of luxurious fur coats and neckpieces.

The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday a reduction in the Canadian fur farm population of fox and mink, particularly fox.

As a result the bureau estimates production of standard, silver and new type fox pelts will be down by more than 40 per cent from last year. And standard and other mink pelt production will be lower by more than five per cent.

The bureau didn't give the reason for the big reduction in the fox population. But one prominent fur dealer said fox is not so much in demand and he presumed lack of demand resulted in a cutdown in fox breeding.

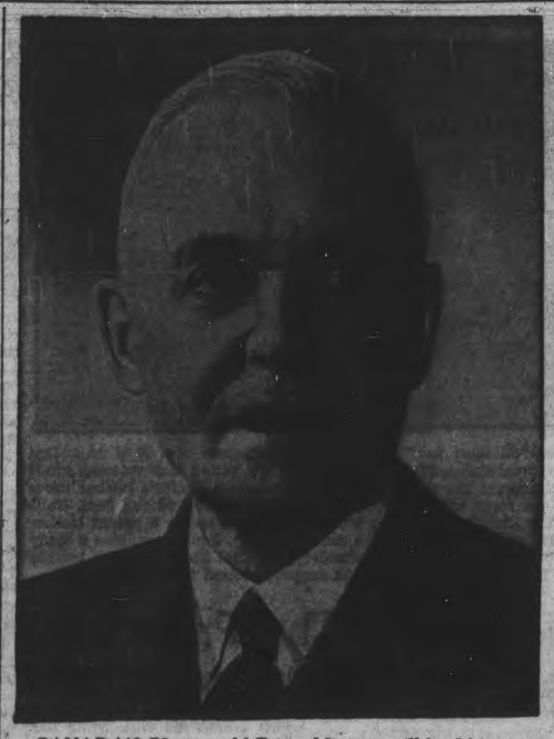
India Hands Snub To Reds, Return $84,000



NEW DELHI (AP) — India Thursday returned Red China's famine relief donation of 400,000 rupees ($84,000) because it had political strings attached. The government acted to head off a similar gift from the Soviet Union.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the Chinese presented the gift 10 weeks ago to the Indian Red Cross Society with the kicker that the funds should be distributed through the Communist-sponsored Famine Relief Committee in Andhra Region, Madras State, a Communist stronghold.

The government thus rebuffed what was tantamount to Peiping's underwriting of a political movement seeking to overthrow Prime Minister Nehru's regime.

When the Chinese Embassy in New Delhi insisted that the aid must be channelled via the Andhra group, the government returned the money with slightly less ceremony than that which marked the presentation of the funds to Health Minister Rajkumari Amrit Kaur in June.

As the Chinese episode ended, the government started negotiations with the Soviet Embassy in the hopes of heading off another embarrassing situation.

CANADA'S 70-year-old Prime Minister will lead his party in the next general election if his health co-operates. Mr. St. Laurent made this statement to the press as his "meet the people caravan" rolled into Vancouver.

Four Buildings Destroyed Despite Bucket Brigade

BARRIE.—Although more than 150 neighbors came to the scene to form a bucket brigade, a service station, a five-room house and two garages were gutted by fire about 10 miles north of here on Thursday.

The blaze is believed to have started in a double garage owned by Walter Murdock on Highway No. 11 and housing his school bus and a car. Murdock owned all the burned property except for one of the garages.

His daughter, Mrs. George Pearson, who lives nearby, alerted to the blaze by the honking of a car horn. She ran to her father's home, attached to the service station, where he was having lunch with the rest of the family.

Mr. Murdcok attempted to reach the bus to drive it to safety, but a burst of flame drove him back when he tried to open the door of the vehicle.

An alarm was put in by the Oro Township telephone exchange and neighbors responded quickly. They tried to set up a bucket brigade, but the only close source of water was a pump located between two of the burning buildings. The flames spread by a shifting wind, foiled all attempts to reach it.

$50,000 DAMAGE

Although no accurate estimate of the damage is available, the total loss was thought to be over $50,000. In addition to most of the Murdock's furniture and belongings, both the 33-seat bus operated by Mr. Murdock for 20 years and the car were destroyed.

Also burned were a quantity of tools, fuel oil, two gasoline pumps and $200 in cash. The money was in a box in the service station and was to have been picked up by a gasoline company representative later in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdock have taken up residence temporarily with their son-in-law. The fire was the fourth in Simcoe County in less than 48 hours.

Wounds 3 Prisoners

SEOUL (AP)—A guard wounded three Communist prisoners with one shot on Cheju Island Thursday, the Allied prisoner-of-war command said yesterday. None of the Reds was seriously injured. The guard fired after a prisoner threw a sanitation bucket at him, the report said. The shot hit the bucket-thrower and two other prisoners.

Arrest Youth 17 After Fatal Beating

HALIFAX (CP)—Police early today arrested a 17-year-old Africville youth after a fatal beating in the suburban community last night.

Police said Peter Raymond Dixon had been charged with murder in connection with the death of George Dixon, 22, believed to be his step-brother.

Dixon died early this morning, an hour after being admitted to Victoria General hospital with severe head injuries which hospital authorities said had been caused by a baseball bat.

Detectives said the beating followed an argument between the pair near the Africville post office.

All three appeared Wednesday before Magistrate R. C. Jackson.

Radar Screens Fail To Pick Up Icebergs

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—A British radar expert has been working in this northern Manitoba port to determine why radar screens sometimes don't pick up icebergs.

Ship captains have reported radar screens clear and suddenly an iceberg has showed close by. Rex Perry of London says it is believed the phenomenon is caused by refraction of radar waves when cool air lies over warm water.

The same thing can happen when warm air flows over cool water. Masts of ships leaving here have appeared stretching into the sky. Some have been seen upside down while others seem two vessels.

Mr. Perry, working for a private company, will share research data with the British Ministry of Transport.

Cattle Rustlers Active In Western Ontario

SARNIA (CP)—Cattle rustlers are again active in western Ontario, Provincial Police say.

Two cows stolen from farms of A. Hughes and W. Lockhart at nearby Ailsa Craig were found in a seldom-used slaughter house in Moore township south of here.

First Day Of Non-Smoking Wins Half Battle Doctor Says

LONDON (Reuters)—Half the battle is over after the first day and night of non-smoking, according to an article in the new issue of the British medical magazine, Lancet.

The author, Dr. Lennox Johnston, questioned 10,000 cured smokers and experimented on himself with 200 doses of nicotine. He offered the following advice on how to stop smoking.

1. It is best to stop suddenly and completely.

2. The smoker must follow his purpose without regard to his feelings. "Detoxication" and improvement in health begin immediately when smoking is discontinued, no matter how the smoker may feel, he said.

3. All thoughts about smoking should be avoided because craving precludes, for a time, objective thinking on the subject.

4. It may help if he treats the craving contemptuously from the start, by carrying smoking paraphernalia with him while his resolution is still strong.

5. It is well to stop smoking without a show. Being kidded about it might undermine resolution.

Dr. Johnston said tobacco addiction is a disease, the symptoms of which only become apparent after the disease has been arrested. An accession of high spirits, energy, appetite and sexual potency makes the chief symptoms of tobacco-smoking plain, he said.

Don't Overdo Office Dress

Glamor has its place—but the office is not it. Many a competent secretary has been rejected at a job interview because she dressed as if she were attending a party rather than seeking a position.

The ideal office worker does not allow her wardrobe to overpower the surroundings. Sleek-fitting, low-necked dresses may suit your social life perfectly, but they will definitely mark you as a poor business risk.

Simplicity should be the keynote to your wardrobe selections. Choose several basic colors—like brown, navy and black—and build your accessories around them.

Your shoes should also have straight, classic lines. The pump always looks neat and smart. Wear hats that subtly complement your costumes.

For best overall wearability, suits seem to be ideal. Business-like in appearance, they can be dressed up or down with blouses, scarves and jewelry.

Give some thought to your make-up, too. Fragile, subtle tones are absolutely essential. And don't wear your hair in a complicated manner. The simpler the better.

Correct office procedure incorporates every one of these points. They are absolutely essential to your success in the business world.

To keep your youngsters "on their toes" throughout each school day, it is important hat you check their footwear carefully. Pictured at the left is a young Miss wearing smart sandals whose double straps prevent the shoe from slipping. Gallant Junior's leather shoes allow three-fourths inch of toe room while providing snug support around the heel. Ball-room dancing lessons find the little lady putting her best foot forward in a patent leather pump, while her beau uses his regular leather dress shoes (center). Junior explains a study problem to his friend while he is wearing his new oxford-type school shoes and she leather moccasins which have been fitted carefully to provide support around the heels (right).

Young Feet Need Good Start Have Shoes That Protect

Running, walking, jumping, skipping—your youngsters each take about 30,000 steps a day. It's no wonder their feet need your constant attention.

Because of playing and school-attending on unyielding cement sidewalks, asphalt roads and hardwood floors, most foot trouble begins early in life.

The only real protection is given by shoes that offer the flexible firmness of all-leather footwear, adequate support for instep and arch, and a fit that prevents tender heels from twisting and chafing.

It is up to you to see that your children get new shoes as often as their feet need them. Young feet grow so fast that they reach a new shoes size every one to six months until about the age of 15.

Get into the habit of examining their old shoes. You can tell from the way they are worn down whether the youngsters are walking properly. If the heel of the shoe is unevenly worn, and the toe turned up, the fit is wrong and the shoe may be too short.

Orthopedists and pediatrists, specializing in the treatment of the feet, say that the best school shoes are laced oxfords made of light-weight upper leather, with flexible leather soles that bend freely at the ball of the foot.

When you and your children go shoeshopping, always patronize a reliable store, and never buy shoes without a fitting.

Feet should be measured individually for length, width and thickness through the arch. The correct length allows three-quarters to one inch between the longest toe and the end of the shoe.

You'll know the width is correct if you can pinch the leather together tightly between your fingers, when the shoe is on the foot. The heel must fit snugly, too. Always select shoes in a size that fits the larger of the child's feet.

Take your time examining the shoes. The important thing is that the construction and shoe materials insure maximum flexible support, proper ventilation and freedom from pressure and irritation.

Discourage your youngsters from wearing sneakers any more than is absoluetly necessary. They don't give enough support through the instep. School children who overdo the sneaker habit often develop a bulge under the instep, with the foot swinging its weight inward instead of balancing evenly over the heel and toes. Such a condition is a forerunner of flat feet.

Loafer shoes also lack support through the instep for younger children. Remember, the muscles of the instep do not develop real strength before youngsters are 12 years old.

Give some thought to the fit of the children's stockings, too. They should have about half an inch of space beyond the end of the longest toe. This allows for growing. Stockings which are too short cramp the toes, while long stockings will bunch and may cause blisters.

Nine out of 10 babies have perfect feet when they are born, yet, according to statistics, eight out of every 10 adults have foot troubles. Watch and care for your children's feet NOW so they will be perfectly formed and healthy in later years.

Cut Fancy Cookies On Aluminum Foil

When cutting cookies in fancy shapes, the delicate outlines can easily be lost when the cookies are transferred to the baking sheet. Here's a way that not only preserves the outlines distinctly but permits rolling the dough as thin as you like, since you don't have to pick up the cut-out cookie.

Roll out the dough on a sheet of aluminum foil and cut the cookies, carefully removing each time any dough that clings to the cutter. Then slip the sheet of aluminum foil holding the cookies into the oven and bake as usual. A second sheet of cookies can be made ready while the first one bakes.

Normal Waistline In Western Mode

LOS ANGELES — Waistlines may wander in other fashion centres, but in this designing capital they seem perfectly content to stay at the normal placement.

The fall collections of leading California houses, previewed recently for the press by the California Fashion Creators, occasionally reflected the influence of the middy look, the long torso and the high molded midriff. But the vast majority of dresses and suits played up the normal waist, emphasized as much as ever.

There was a strong feeling, however, for soft fluid lines instead of the crisp "paper doll" look of last year, and this softness was achieved chiefly through the use of malleable fabrics. Jersey in wool or Orlon, patterned, frosted, or in solid colors, was the overwhelming favorite and is certainly California's candidate for the fashion fabric of the year.

Dad's Favorite Cookie Recipe

Dad can have favorite recipes as well as the womenfolk, and here's one that he thinks is tops, Oatmeal Cookies. Probably the key to Dad's preference is the chewy raisins which help so much to make these cookies taste unusually good.

OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup prunes, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 6 tablespoons milk, 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups rolled oats, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Cover prunes with water and boil 20 minutes. Drain, and cut from pits into small pieces. Cream shortening and sugar and stir in well-beaten eggs and milk. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Combine with oats and stir into creamed mixture. Mix in vanilla, nuts and prunes blending thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Makes about 2½ dozen cookies.

24 New Teachers Are Welcomed To City Staff

Peterborough has 24 new teachers on the city staff. They were officially welcomed Tuesday afternoon at a tea given by the Teacher-Board Relationship committee, and held in the Mayor's parlor at the City Hall.

Women members of the board, Mrs. Paige Rowell and Mrs. Blake Bell were in charge of the tea room arrangements. Mrs. W. B. Gordon and Mrs. S. R. Adamson, wives of the chairman and vice-chairman, poured the tea, and committee members assisted in serving.

Striking bouquets of gladioli graced the tea room and an attractive arrangement on the table was of yellow roses and mauve sweet peas with contrasting gladioli florets.

Threat To Quit Trump Card With Overattentive Boss

DEAR MISS DIX: What can be done in a case where a boss is very sweet, kind and affectionate to his secretary. His secretary is a girl who does not wish to hurt anyone—her husband, her boss's wife, nor the boss. She has told her employer that she does not wish to carry on this affair, but it goes in one ear and out the other. She has threatened to seek other employment, but she is a competent, trustworty person and the boss does not wish her to leave.—TESSIE N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The fact that the girl is a competent, trustworthy secretary is her trump card. If she threatens to leave, and lets the boss know that she really means it, he will undoubtedly cease his unpleasant attentions. Since the girl has a husband, she probably isn't completely dependent on that job, surely not to the extent where she has to take the amorous advances of an office wolf to keep it.

✧ ✧ ✧

VICTIM OF HEEL

DEAR MISS DIX: About two years ago I fell in love with a man who said he loved me, too. On several occasions he asked me for money, saying he was going back to work and was broke. I gave him what I had, but the last time I had no cash, and gave him an expensive watch that had belonged to a dead brother. The man went away to work and, though he has passed through my home town many times since, he has never even called me up. The injustice of it has broken my heart. Should I ask him to return the watch, or try to forget the whole thing?—MARGARET.

ANSWER: You have been a victim of the lowest form of man extant—a man who protests love for a girl only for the sake of the measly amount of cash he can get from her, then goes on to work the same tactics on some other innocent lamb. Asking for the watch back is futile; he has undoubtedly sold it long ago. Since you have no witnesses or other proof that you ever gave it to him, you have no chance of getting anything back. Your only profit is the experience you can glean from a treacherous heel. I hope you learned the lesson well.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have two children by a former marriage—a boy 11 and a girl 13. I have lately married a fine man whom the children adore, except for the fact that he is a strict disciplinarian. On the slightest pretext he will spank the children with a paddle or strap and the girl, especially, feels deeply humiliated at being put over his knee for a whipping. He insists that strict discipline will keep the children from becoming delinquents later. —R. A.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The sort of discipline your husband metes out is not nearly so much for the protection of the children as it is an outlet for a streak of sadism in him. If your youngsters have come to the ages of 11 and 13 and are well behaved, obedient children, there is no necessity for drastic discipline. You, as the children's mother, should put a definite stop to it before the youngsters hate their stepfather, and you as well. Your husband probably has had no previous experience with children and, since you are the person who has reared your son and daughter to this point, he should be willing to accept your decisions on their upbringing from now on.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend and I had a fall wedding planned, but our engagement has been broken due to many quarrels we have had on the following matter: He insists upon giving money and clothes to his sister's children. They do not need help, as their father is able to take care of his family. I maintain we need all the extra money for our home.—P. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If the matter has become so serious to you that it has led to constant quarreling, you were right to break the engagement. If your friend's attachment to his family could cause so much trouble now, it would be a much greater source of friction after your marriage.

The fact that he lavishes gifts on his nieces and nephews is due more to the fact that he is fond of children, and devoted to his young relatives, than to the fact that he is alleviating financial want. If you could accept his generosity in the spirit in which he gives it, you would realize that it is a good omen for a happy marriage. He loves children and, as his own come along, he will naturally adjust the value and quantity of the gifts he now makes to his sister's family. Apparently you resent the attention, as well as the money, with which he shows his affection. Make a true analysis of your position and try to separate his good characteristics from the bad.

Scottish Girls Want To Find Canadian Jobs

LONDON (CP)—Canadian officials here receive many letters from Scottish girls inquiring about the possibility of starting a new career overseas.

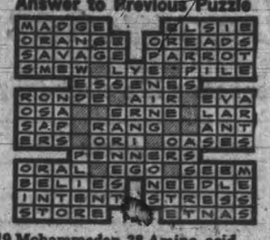
The rush started after the Dundee Weekly News published a story in July telling of high wages for shorthand-typists in Canada, and of many Scottish girls who have found jobs there.

Most of the letters to the Canadian Labor Department offices at Sackville House, Piccadilly, are brief and business-like, asking for particulars about emigration westward.

NEED PERMISSION

The majority of applicants are between 18 and 22 years of age. Permission of parents is required for girls under 21.

Some would like to fly across the Atlantic, but air bookings to Canada are filled for months ahead. The same applies to shipping, because the United Kingdom and Europe had a record influx of visitors this summer and these now are returning.



There is no government assistance with the travelling costs of the girl applicants, but information compiled in London is forwarded to the Canadian cities most interested.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Lion's Gate Pancakes Said Distinctive Western Dish

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Anyone want any "Lion's Gate Pancakes?"

These are described as a distinctive dish of British Columbia in a cross-country book of recipes published by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The recipe: Two cups sifted pastry flour; one-half teaspoon salt; four teaspoons baking-powder two eggs; 1½ cups milk; three tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift dry ingredients into bowl and add beaten eggs, milk and melted shortening. Mix well and drop by spoonfuls onto a hot greased griddle. When bubbles appear, turn cakes and brown on other side. Serve immediately on hot plates.

Serve with hot applesauce and whipped cream instead of the usual syrup. Sweeten the cream with brown sugar or ground-up maple sugar. Put hot applesauce and whipped cream into separate large bowls, sprinkle both with grated nutmeg and let each person help himself.

Yield: Four servings.

LAURENTIAN SOUP

From Quebec where "the French Canadian cuisine is the result of a dozen generations of good cooks," there comes a recipe for Laurentian family soup.

Ingredients: One small cabbage; one carrot; one-half small turnip; two onions; four tablespoons butter or margarine; salt and pepper; two cloves; two quarts beef stock; one tablespoon chopped parsley; french bread; grated cheese.

Method: Wash cabbage, peel carrot, turnip and onions; cut in small cubes. Melt the butter in sauce-pan and add the vegetables, stir. Season with salt and pepper and add cloves. Cover and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Add the stock and simmer for 30 minutes. Add parsley and a little grated nutmeg. Brown thin slices of french bread. Sprinkle with cheese. Place on top of each serving of soup or put in bowls then fill bowls with soup.

Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

RECIPE RHYME

The St. Thomas Times-Journal recently published several rhyming recipes printed for housewives of 100 years ago. Here's one for bread pudding:

Get a dish deep and wide
And rub round the inside
With a little fresh butter or lard,
That the pudding may be,
To a certain degree,
Good in form, when turned out, but not hard.
Then of stale bread procure
Half a pound, and be sure
To reduce it to crumbs:
next obtain
Four-sixteenths of a pound
Of loaf-sugar well ground
And some lemon-peel cut up. Again
Beat to cream five or six
New-laid eggs, to which mix
Two half pints of pure milk
by degrees;
Pop it into the pot
When the water is hot,
Boil one hour, and then it will please.

(Wonder if the housewives sang at their work 100 years ago?)

What's Right

A girl is saying goodnight to a young man with whom she has had a first date, and she hopes he will call her again.

WRONG: She says, "Be sure to call me soon," or "When will I see you again?"

RIGHT: She lets him know that she had a good time and enjoyed his company—but waits for him to bring up the subject of a next time.

SURPRISE!

WINNIPEG (CP)—A woman gave birth to a boy yesterday, just hours before she was due for a medical examination for what she thought was a tumor. The unidentified mother's surprised sister said there had been no signs of pregnancy. "She had no idea she was having a baby," the sister said. "She has nothing prepared in the way of baby things."

Readers' Friday Column

Talk about a Christmas rush. It has nothing—absolutely nothing—on the pickle rush of 1952. Pickles and uranium are what Canadians seem to be rushing around about this month!

Questions from Mrs. R. G. who wants beet pickles; from Helen G. who wants a certain commercial brand of catsup; from Mrs. A. S. who would like mustard beans—and many more are on my desk. I will give you as many as this s ace will hold today.

PICKLED BEETS (For Mrs. R. G.)

Select small beets of uniform size, cut off tops, allowing 1-inch of stems to remain. Wash well and cook in water to cover until tender. Plunge into cold water and slip off skins. Pack in sterile jars. Make a vinegar syrup in proportions of 1 cup water to each 3 cups vinegar and 2 or 3 cups sugar. Amount of sugar depends on your sweet tooth. Add to the vinegar syrup 1 teaspoon cloves and 2 4-inch sticks of cinnamon bark. Boil syrup 5 minutes and pour over beets in jar boiling hot, filling to overflowing. Seal at once.

The commercial brand of catsup that Helen G. refers to is made from a secret formula that has been perfected over the years and is not available to anyone. But the following recipe is a good one for

TOMATO CATSUP (for Helen G.)

Cook 16 cups washed and cut up tomatoes (do not peel but pack cups full) with 5 hot red peppers, 2 cups chopped onion, 2 large cut-up cloves garlic until tomatoes are very tender—about ½ hour. Press through sieve. Add 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups vinegar, 3 tablespoons prepared pickling spices, and boil rapidly for about 35 to 45 minutes or until of thin catsup consistency. Pour into hot sterile jars and seal. This thickens slightly after it has stood for 2 weeks.

MUSTARD BEANS (No. 1) (for Mrs. A. S.)

Two quarts green beans (or yellow if you prefer) are cooked in salt water until barely tender—about 15 minutes. Use very little water—for it should be done by the time the beans are cooked. Add 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup water, 3 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1½ teaspoon salt. Bring to boil. If these are to be served cold as a relish keep covered in refrigerator. If to be bottled boil 5 minutes and pour into sterile jars and seal.

MUSTARD BEANS (No. 2)

Wash and cut into 1½ inch pieces 8 quarts (measured after cutting) yellow pencil beans. Cook in salt water for 10 minutes. Drain. Mix together 4 lbs. sugar, ½ cup flour, 2 teaspoons turmeric, 4 or 6 tablespoons mustard, 2 tabelspoon mustard seed, 2 quarts mild vinegar. Bring to boil stirring and cook until slightly thickened. Add drained beans, boil 5 minutes and pour into sterile jars and seal.

PICKLED WHITE ONIONS (for Mrs. R. K. L.)

One-half peck small silver-skin onions, ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1 stick cinnamon, 2 teaspoons chopped horseradish, 2 teaspoons whole cloves. Peel the onions (Sounds deceivingly simple doesn't it?—takes hours though). Place in cold brine allowing ¼ cup salt to every quart of water, and let stand 24 hours. Drain and pack in clean sterile jars, with thin layers of the seasonings between layers of onion. (An odd small hot red pepper adds to the flavor and appearance.) Fill the jars with boiling syrup made by cooking vinegar and brown sugar together until dissolved, in the proportions of 1 gallon vinegar to 4 cups brown sugar. Boil 5 minutes. Fill to overflowing and seal.

SANDWICH SPREAD (for Mrs. R. K. L.)

Grind together through coarse blade of food chopper 6 cups cucumbers (measured after grinding), 4 cups onions, 3 red sweet peppers, 3 green peppers. Add ½ cup salt and let stand 2 hours. Dilute enough vinegar by half with water to cover them and bring to boil, then drain very well. Discard this weak vinegar. Mix together ½ cup soft butter, 3 cups sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, 4 beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon each mustard and celery seeds, then stir in 1 pint vinegar. Stir this into the vegetables and boil, stirring, for 5 minutes. Add one cup thick cream, bring to boil and pour into sterile jars and seal. Ground meat may be added to this when it is made up into sandwiches if desired.

Joe Rosenburgh Railroader 38 Years

Joe Rosenburgh, 114 Morrow St. has been riding the rails for 38 years covering during that time about 1,824,000 miles across Ontario. An expressman with the C.P.R., Mr. Rosenburgh was retired this week.

He started his express work in August of 1914 driving a horse and wagon and still recalls the stiff 60-hour weeks he worked. Not until June, 1916, did he begin work on trains and he's been expressing ever since.

Mr. Rosenburgh first worked on the Lindsay to Toronto run and in the 38 years has travelled practically every C.P.R. run in the province. For a time he was on the Toronto-Peterborough line.

Mr. Rosenburgh estimated that he travelled on an average about 4,000 miles a month, roughly covering about 2,000,000 miles in the 38 years.

Despite all these years of railroading, Mr. Rosenburgh still favors the train for transportation.

"I had a car once for a week; won it, then sold it. All the travelling I'll do is on a train," he said.

Fellow railroaders met Mr. Rosenburgh when he stepped off his last work train and gave him the customary celebration.

County Councillors

Stewart, of Peterborough County, Warden Ray Webster, of Victoria County, Mayor Hugh Waddell, of Peterborough (only able to be present for the dinner), Mayor Charles Lamb, of Lindsay, Mrs. J. A. Spurway, Peterborough County clerk and treasurer, and Frank Weldon, Victoria County clerk and treasurer.

In the afternoon, the two busloads of Victoria and Peterborough junketers toured the Victoria County Home for the Aged.

This 140-acre farm accommodates 93 old people from the county and has a capacity of more than 100. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Cross, superintendent and matron, escorted the visitors through the spotlessly clean building.

There are seven permanent employees—six helping in the home itself and the other managing the farm with the help of able-bodied inmates. Warden Webster explained that the account books for the farm are kept separate from those of the home proper. Produce is "sold" to the Home and the excess is sold outside, the farm showing a profit.

Among the interested Peterborough visitors were John and Margaret Butterworth, superintendent and matron of the Peterborough County Old People's Home.

SIGHT-SEEING TOUR

The remainder of the afternoon was a sight-seeing tour of the county. It included the Ontario Department of Agriculture beef-pasture demonstration farm owned by Ray Weldon, of Eldon township.

The pasture is divided into three strips. One, the land has been torn up, fertilized and re-seeded. Two, the land was left as it was. And three, the land was fertilized and reseeded but not torn up.

Even after the first year's experiment, the success of the first was clearly visible. Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, said that the success must be measured against the cost over a five-year period. How many beef cattle will each of the strips maintain compared to their relative cost of upkeep?

Other stops on the tour: the liftlock at Kirkfield and the nearby limestone quarry operated by Kirkfield Crushed Stone Ltd.

County officials also stopped for a brief inspection of the oldest house in this part of Ontario: Blythe House, near Fenelon Falls, built in 1837 by John Langton. Most of the original log exterior has been covered over but some of the original panelling is still in use inside. One of Victoria's most treasured landmarks, it is now occupied by Oscar Graham.

Supper was served at Gil-Mar Lodge on Sturgeon Lake. The rest of the evening was entertainment provided by Zena Cheevers and her company from Toronto.

Three Accidents Damage Cars

Three minor accidents, including an alleged hit-and-run, were investigated Thursday by city police.

About $100 damage was caused when the cars of Mrs. Alice Leach, 137 Stanley Ave., and Fred Conroy, 472 Park St., collided at 9:25 p.m. at Rubidge and Hall Sts.

Conroy told Constable Robert Menzies that he had been driving north on Rubidge St., and just as he was about to turn west onto Hall he was struck on the rear left fender by an eastbound car.

He said the car went south on Rubidge, stopped momentarily at Hunter St., and then went east on Simcoe. He got the numerals on the licence plate and Constable Menzies and Eldon McDonald went to Mrs. Leach's home and found the damaged car there.

It had a shattered left front headlight and a bent left front fender. Damage is estimated at $25. Mr. Conroy's car received a damaged left rear fender and wheel guard. Damage $75.

At 5.25 p.m. $40 damage resulted when a car driven by Henry Stevens of Melbourne St., Lindsay, collided with the right front fender of a car driven by John Outram of 728 Stewart St. The accident was at Reid and Stewart Sts., when Stevens thought Outram would drive north to Highway 7 and instead he drove directly across the intersection to his home at 728 Stewart.

About $15 damage was caused to a car driven by James P. McGrath, 117 James St., at Reid and Stewart Sts. when he was struck by a truck driven by George Fleming of Royal Drive, Toronto.

Constable Menzies investigated all three accidents.

Macken Refuses Play In Tourney

TORONTO (CP)—Brendan Macken, 29-year-old Montrealer considered Canada's top tennis artist, today tossed a hot potato into the hands of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association by refusing to play in the Toronto Cricket Club invitation tournament because of the allotment of expense money during the Canadian championship matches here last week.

Macken said he and two other Davis Cup team members, Henri Rochon of Montreal and Lorne Main of Toronto, were given only $75 expense money for the week-long stay while the committee gave Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., singles winner, $625, Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., $565 and Denmark's Kurt Neilson $225.

Lawrence Barclay of Vancouver will be flown in to replace Macken.

Family Hatred Alleged To Stepmother

TORONTO—Judge Barton reserved judgment Thursday on the National Trust Company's accounts of the estate of Mordon Neilson, millionaire chocolate magnate.

The closing minutes of the two-day hearing produced a searching cross-examination of Graham Neilson, 32, by David Walker, the trust company's lawyer.

Mr. Neilson, his brother, and two married sisters contested the $147,000 fee charged by National Trust for handling their father's $4,300,000 estate for four years.

He was called to the stand by his own counsel, Nelles Starr, after William O'Connor, former president of National Trust, testified that on the day before it was decided to sell the estate's holdings in the William Neilson Ltd. to Garfield Weston, he could recall no objections being raised by the sons or daughters.

OPPOSED SALE

Mr. Neilson said he had opposed the sale at the meeting, at which he believed Mr. O'Connor was present.

He testified that the trust company, on most matters, had actually done little work, leaving the decisions to the family. "They had a suggestion or two to make, but it was up to us to make up our minds on what we wanted done."

Mr. Walker cross-examined. "You initiated these proceedings?" he asked. "No," was the answer.

"Who started them, then?" "That depends on what you mean by started. I might have seen Mr. Hill (another lawyer) first."

"Then you induced your brother and sister to join you.?"

"No. My brother and I decided something should be done."

Questioned further, Mr. Neilson admitted he had never made any investigation himself to find out if the trust company's work and charges were in line. Then why were the fees challenged?

"Isn't it a result of the general hatred of you and your brother and sisters toward your poor stepmother that we have had all this trouble?" Mr. Walker demanded, leaning toward the witness.

"What trouble?" Neilson shot back.

"You forced her to sue the estate under the Dependents' Relief Act, isn't that so?" "No. We didn't force her," Mr. Neilson replied.

As a result of Mr. Neilson's suit, the trust fund, provided for in her husband's will, was increased from $250,000 to $360,000.

Mr. Walker asked whether he (Neilson) or the trust company had worked out the disposal of the family's summer home at Dorset. The company had done it, the witness said.

"To get rid of your stepmother you had to pay her $8,000 for her interest in the summer home."

Mr. Neilson said it had been decided that something would have to be done.

"It wasn't your idea that you pay her $2,000 apiece was it?" "No."

"Then the trust company worked that out and brought it to you?" "Yes," the witness replied.

SAYS WITNESS LYING

"He's lying right and left," Mr. Walker said to Judge Barton. "I've never met a person who changed his evidence so much."

Mr. Neilson smiled. He replied "No" when asked if he had taken any part in settling the matter of his stepmother's trust fund.

"It is because of your insistence in forcing your stepmother to sue in the Supreme Court that necessitated all the dirty linen of your family being washed in public," Mr. Walker declared.

Both Mr. Neilson's daughters Mrs. Audrey Shields and Mrs. Shirley Pellowe, testified that they had been opposed to sale of the family's 39,000 shares in the company.

Mr. O'Connor testified earlier in the day that he still considered it "very fortunate" that the trust company had accepted Weston's offer of $45 a share.

"We could have taken the responsibility of accepting it even if the brothers (Charles and Allan Neilson) had not recommended it," Mr. O'Connor said. He said the trust company was in no way bound to discuss such matters with the Neilson children, but had done so freely.

QUESTIONED — James A. Mullally, former Justice Department attorney, who was suspended two weeks ago and then resigned, testifies before the House Judiciary Sub-committee in Washington. It was charged that Mullally was paid a fee in 1947 for refrring a client involved in legal troubles with the government to a law firm of former Justice Department attorneys.

Nepal King Asks Nehru's Counsel

NEW DELHI (AP)—Nearly two years after he fled into exile in India, King Tribhuvana of Nepal returned Thursday, seeking the counsel and assistance of Premier Nehru.

This time the king bore the full weight of ruling responsibility on his shoulders. The small, worried monarch took complete charge of his mountain kingdom's government three weeks ago after two brothers leading its Congress Party fought over the spoils of political victory, causing collapse of their administration.

The king will remain here three days.

Although his visit has been officially billed as a private one to visit his ailing daughter, who has been under treatment at an Indian mountain resort, the Nepalese ruler and Nehru arranged an immediate conference after the formal welcome at the airport.

It was understood Tribhuvana would lay Nepal's political ills before Nehru — whose intervention two years ago paved the way for Nepal's Popular Government—and ask India's leader how to solve the political muddle.

Curlers Begin Canvass For Rink

LAKEFIELD (ENS).—A canvas of Lakefield residents will be made for money to help construct the new curling rink for the village, it was decided at a meeting held Tuesday evening in Memorial Hall. Objective will be $8,000 of which the Club have $2,000 on hand now.

William C. Grant, president of the Club, was in the chair, and the Ladies' Club was represented by Mrs. Clarence Coons and Mrs. Eric Anderson.

It was proposed that all prospective curlers should make a donation of at least $100 towards the rink. This may be paid in instalments over a considerable period of time. Those appointed to canvas were W. C. Grant, Clarence Coons, William Fairbairn, H. V. Hopkins, Dr. R. H. Campbell and Stanley Burger.

Forms showing the various types of construction that would be practical, and forms for payment of donations were submitted by Mr. Grant, who has done a great deal of work towards the venture.

The type decided upon was a three-ice rink of frame construction.

Province Must Pay Relocating Douks

VANCOUVER (CP) —Justice Minister Garson said here Thursday that the cost of relocation of B.C. Doukhobors must be borne by the province.

It has been estimated it will cost about $1,000,000 to relocate the radical Sons of Freedom now living in the West Kootenay.

The Sons of Freedom, blamed for 50 years of strife in the Doukhobor colonies, seek new farmlands as recommended by a B.C. consultative committee.

Mr. Garson said the Federal Government would co-operate in every way, within constitutional limits, with the B.C. Government to find a final solution to the problem.

The plan is to relocate the Doukhobors within the province or in a foreign land. Other countries, however, have offered no encouragement to Doukhobor settlement.

Seven Clubs Remain In Title Running

TORONTO (CP)—Seven clubs remained in the running last night for the women's world softball championship at the Canadian National Exhibition after three afternoon games sent three more teams to the sidelines.

The week-long tournament opened Monday with three Canadian clubs and 15 from the United States.

Allentown, Pa., claimed its third victory, downing Dallas 4-2 in the first game.

One of the two Toronto teams, Kalyx Cubs, was whipped 11-1 by Peoria, Ill. The Illinois club exploded for 10 runs in the fifth inning.

In the third game Fresno, Calif., edged Buena Park, Calif., 1-0.

Killed Dog, Jailed

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Cordell Corley was sentenced to three months in jail yesterday for killing his dog. Corley admitted beating the dog to death with a shovel because it whined after his wife kicked it downstairs when it begged for food.

Suit Against Comedians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Casablanca hotel of Miami Beach, Fla., filed suit yesterday against comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis charging that they owed the hotel $8,086.46. The hotel's lawyer said the bills were for food, beverages, plane tickets, telephone tolls and other charges incurred by the Martin and Lewis troupe from Jan. 17 to Feb. 6, 1951.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Starting Sunday, adults must pay more for token fares of the Niagara frontier transit system. Tokens will be seven for a dollar. Now they are eight for a dollar in Buffalo, and five for 60 cents in Niagara Falls, N.Y. There will be no change in the company's present 15-cent cash fare for adults, or in children's or school rates.

Will o' The Wisp Followed For Fifty Years

TORONTO.—For the six O.P.P. officers who spent much of one night this week chasing it, the mysterious light along the north shore of Lake Simcoe is a baffling nuisance. But for many of the old-timers of the Brechin district, it was like the return of an old friend.

Fifty years or more ago, according to Mrs. J. B. Running of Harshaw Ave., Toronto, the mystery light was an accepted phenomenon.

"They didn't make so much fuss about it then as they do now," Mrs. Running recalled. "But then they saw it so often they became used to it."

One of the light's favorite pranks was to appear on the Grand Trunk Railway tracks and stop trains. When the crew climbed down to investigate, the light, which gave off a reddish glow much like a lantern, had disappeared into the swamp.

HE SAW LIGHT

Henry Thompson, a game warden long since dead, chased the light several times as it preceded him down a trail to his lonely lakeside cabin.

He used to laugh about the light and claimed it couldn't frighten him. But one morning he appeared at the Brechin Hotel, white-faced and shaking. He had wakened during the night to hear a loud buzzing outside the cabin window. His dog was running around looking for a place to hide; his cat was climbing the wall. And Thompson hid his head under the covers when he found "a ball of fire—as big as a football"—outside the window.

Mrs. Running said she could remember as a girl watching the light for several night in succession and seeing it pull the train-stopping stunt.

"Some people thought it was a giant firefly; others were sure it was unnatural," she said. Some people were terribly afraid of it, but they had no reason to be and shouldn't be now. The light has never done any real harm."

DETECTIVE STORY

PULLS POLITICAL UPSET—Thomas W. Mechling receives a congratulatory kiss from his wife in Reno, Nev., as returns in the Nevada primary election gave him a narrow lead in the Democratic senatorial race. With 90 per cent of the vote counted, Mechling was leading former State Attorney General Alan Bible, who was backed by Sen. Pat McCarran, in one of the biggest political upsets in Nevada history.

Hot Labor Feud Said Due To Explode This Month

OTTAWA (CP)—The hottest feud in Canadian labor is due to explode for a couple of rough rounds this month.

The mauling scrap touches on the dual jobs of 71-year-old A. R. Mosher, president of the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor and president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.), Canada's biggest rail union.

The veteran labor chief is embroiled in a fight within his own union—meeting in triennial convention here Sept. 15—and that battle will inevitably spill over into the C.C.L. annual convention in Toronto a week later.

The C.B.R.E. tussle is between Mosher, founder of the union and its president for about 40 years, and James McGuire, long-time national secretary-treasurer, fired out of his office and out of the union on insubordination charges in March.

DROPPED BY TWO

At the time the C.B.R.E. dropped him, McGuire was a member of the policy-directing executive committee of the Congress. The Congress promptly dropped him, too, on the ground he no longer was a union member.

McGuire now is carrying an appeal to the C.B.R.E.'s "Grand Division," which meets every three years. His formal appeal calls only for his reinstatement, but he said yesterday he will renew at the convention a series of accusations against Mosher which he made public March 28.

The president has a slander suit lodged against McGuire concerning these charges.

Cattle Rustlers Leave Animals With Evaluator

BRANTFORD—James Smeaton, livestock evaluator for Brantford Township, is holding what he believes are "hot" cattle dropped by a ring of cattle rustlers who have been running stolen stock into Brant and other counties. The cattle, two bulls and a heifer about 6 months old, may have come from Middlesex or Essex counties, where large-scale thefts have occurred, Smeaton believes. He has had them for two weeks and, though he has advertised that he has impounded them, no owner has claimed them. They are worth about $105, at the current price of $35 per calf.

It is costing the township about $1.50 a day to feed them and it appears that they will remain free boarders for some time yet, Smeaton said.

Provincial police have been notified of the impounding of the cattle. The animals were found in a tobacco field on a farm near Smeaton's place on the Pleasant Ridge road.

Smeaton said they were not wild cattle though the miles-long Burford swamp, in which cattle could breed unmolested, is not far from the farm where the cattle were found.

In the past six months provincial police throughout Western Ontario have received reports from farmers that their stock was being run off by what appeared to be an organized ring.

Announce Staff Cuts In British Plants

LONDON (Reuters)—Massey Harris Ltd., Canadian manufacturers of agricultural machinery who employ more than 2,000 workers in and Kilmarnock, today "regretfully announced" staff cuts and short-time.

The firm issued a statement explaining that because of a reduction in their manufacturing program, full employment would not be maintained. It added: "reductions in personnel, and short-time in some departments will be unavoidable."

A spokesman of the firm said the reduction was due to import restrictions abroad, and to customers no longer wishing to buy machines out of season.

Six Children In Hospital With Polio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—With six children in the polio isolation ward of a San Antonio hospital, farmer Paul Pehl said today he will not return to the farm where they apparently contracted the disease.

Yesterday, Pehl walked wearily away from the ward where he had just left his sixth child, six-year-old Dorothy.

Dayton, 14, was admitted Aug. 26. Last Tuesday four more of the Pehl children—Daniel, 15; Paul Jr. 11; George, 10; and Elaine Frances 9—were admitted to the polio ward.

Pehl said he wasn't suspicious of the clear, cool waters of the Pedernales River where his children swam this summer or the family's well where they got their drinking water.

He said he just wanted "the place examined, and besides if I leave it alone just like it was when the children left there, it might mean something to the research team they say will come up here."

The parents and three other Pehl children were being watched for any signs of illness.

Number 15 Down The List

Canada Loses 41 Babies Daily In 1st Year

Fort ybabies under one year of age will die today in Canada.

During 1952, 15,000 babies less than 12 months of age will have died.

These statistics and their implications for every citizen in this country and for the country itself weer presented in a forcible address Thursday by the Rev. H. L. Troyer, national director rof the Canadian Child Health Association. Mr. Troyer was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

CAN WE AFFORD IT?

"Can Canada, at the present time, afford to lose its potential citizens at this staggering rate? It was the challenge of this question that brought the Canadian Child Health Association into being," Mr. Troyer said.

The speaker explained that the association had a spontaneous beginning three years ago after the mortality rate statistics of children under one year in this country was reported during a radio broadcast. The purpose of the organization is to reduce the high mortality rate of babies.

"In 1950 Canada had an infant mortality rate of 41," Mr. Troyer said. "This means that out of 1,000 live births in Canada, 41 died before they reached their first birthday. In this respect, Canada comes 15th on a list of classified countries. Sweden tops the list with a mortality rate of 20; United States has a rate of 29, and England and Wales 31.

"When you consider that the productivity potential of each Canadian citien is $50,000, you can realize the tremendous loss these deaths mean to the country in terms of dollars and cents. In addition, there is the potential leadership that may be lost to say nothing of the heartbreaks to the parents.

STRESS EDUCATION

"At present the association is trying to fight this high mortality rate by stressing the need for education in motherhood. It is felt that the greatest cause of this appalling situation is the widespread ignoranrce of prenatal and postnatal care."

Dr. Troyer explained that literature on this subject is available free for the asking, but unfortunately people don't know about it. Books and pamphlets can be obtained from both the Department of National Health and Welfare in Ottawa and the Department of Public Health in Toronto.

"What the association is working for now," the speaker concluded, "is the union of organizations on a co-operative basis on the national, provincial and local levels to arrange for the distribution of this literature. Already the association has gained the support of several national organizations and groups, but more help is needed if Canada is going to lower its high mortality rate."

The speaker was introduced by Ralph Standish and thanked by Dr. Charles Scott.

Movie Column

John Gielgud Lured To Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—John Gielgud, one of the world's two greatest Shakespearean actors, has been lured to Hollywood. To his own surprise, he likes the town.

Gielgud and Sir Laurence Olivier are the top exponents of Shakespeare. The difference between them is that Gielgud has limited his emoting to the stage, whereas Olivier's has also been canned on film. That may or may not account for Gielgud's decision to take an offer to play Cassius in the film version of "Julius Caesar."

At any rate, he is here. And apparently Hollywood turned out to be not the wacky place he expected.

"I find the climate unusually pleasant, the people congenial and the work enjoyable," he remarked on the movie set. "What's more, I have found a house to rent and I don't have to pay a fortune for it."

RESISTANCE DOWN

The actor explained his reluctance to try movies: "I had a previous experience of doing films in England back in the '30s. I was in five or six and they were dismal. I decided that films were not for me.

"But then I had the offer to play Cassius. It was a part I had played before and was therefore familiar with. Since it was Shakespeare, I presumed that they could not do too much tampering with the script.

"And I also had faith in Joe Mankiewicz, the director. I had seen his 'All About Eve' and 'Five Fingers' and liked them.

"One other factor helped me decide—the international market. No matter how accomplished an actor is, he does not have an international market unless he is in films. I saw that happen with Olivier."

His experience here has whetted his appetite for more films. He said he would like to try his hand at writing pictures, as well as acting in them. But he has no ambition to direct, a function he performs in the theatre.

"It's all right for Larry, who has always been a hard worker, and likes it. I guess I'm too lazy."

Garson Loses Case At Parley

VANCOUVER (CP)—Justice Minister Garson lost a case yesterday before a sectional meeting of the Canadian Bar Association now in annual conference here.

The question was: Who should appoint members of the judiciary?

Mr. Garson wanted to maintain the status quo in the appointment of judges—now made by the Cabinet.

Brig. J. A. Clark of Vancouver, president of the Bar Association, at the opening session had advocated a change—the appointments to be made by the Justice Minister.

At a meeting of the civil justice section yesterday about 100 lawyers supported Brig. Clark, voting 2 to 1 against Mr. Garson's "no change" proposal.

A resolution will be prepared for presentation to a general meeting Saturday.

Find Drew Suffers Two Cracked Ribs

OTTAWA (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, has found out why a bruise suffered during a swim in Georgian Bay recently was causing him so much discomfort.

A doctor's examination disclosed two cracked ribs.

The injury wasn't sufficient to prevent him from participating Wednesday night in a square dance arranged to raise funds for the Minto Skating Club.

Arctic Expert Flt. Lt. Alexander Named New C.O.

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the top Arctic experts of the R. C. A. F., Flt. Lt. Scott Alexander of Vancouver, has been named Officer Commanding the service's survival training school with headquarters at Edmonton, it was announced yesterday.

The school has been expanded to take in the R. C. A. F.'s para rescue school, and Flt. Lt. Alexander will take charge of the combined unit.

Flt. Lt. Alexander has spent most of his 40 years in the outdoors, particularly in the far north. He qualified as a coastwise skipper at an early age but never practised as he joined the R.C.M.P. in 1932. In 1934, he and his brother won the Pacific Northwest Canoe championship in a Victoria-to-Port Angelese, Wash., race.

With the R.C.M.P. vessel St. Roch from 1934 to 1938, he made many trips into the Arctic and spent six months in the barren area south of Bathurst inlet, later commanding he detachment at Cambridge Bay.

He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1942.

Wants Education Under Provinces

VANCOUVER (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent last night reaffirmed his stand that education should remain within provincial jurisdiction in Canada.

In a speech at the opening of a new building at Canada's youngest school of law, the Prime Minister said:

"Legal education, like other forms of education, is and should remain within provincial jurisdiction.

"But that does not mean that lawyers should have a provincial outlook. Nor does it mean that it is a good thing for lawyers, or for the administration of justice in Canada, to raise too high the boundary walls that divide the practice of the profession between the various provincial jurisdictions."

The occasion for Mr. St. Laurent's speech was the formal opening of the new building of the faculty of law at the University of British Columbia. The faculty was established at the university in 1945.

Dr. Claude Bissell Named Vice-President

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Claude T. Bissell, 36, has been appointed to the new post of vice-president of the University of Toronto, Dr. Sidney Smith announced last night.

Dr. Bissell was born at Meaford, and is a graduate of the University of Toronto and Cornell University where he was instructor in English from 1940 to 1941. He served overseas in the Second World War with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada.

37 Victims

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thirty-seven persons have died in California from sleeping sickness (encephalitis) this summer, the State Department of Health reported yesterday. New figures represent an increase of four deaths in a week.

Dies of Bad Habit

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Samuel Panton, interviewed two years ago on his 100th birthday, described pipe smoking as his only bad habit. He said he was too old to stop. Panton died Wednesday of burns suffered when sparks from his pipe ignited his bathrobe.

6 Dead, 11 Others Injured In Two Highway Accidents

Say 350 Pilgrims Perish In India Storm

NEW DELHI (AP)—Newspapers reported today that at least 350 pilgrims perished and many others are missing in a fierce storm that caught them on a trek toward the sacred seat of the Hindu gods on the high, glacial slopes of the Himalayas. A spokesman for the Indian government said he doubted if an accurate count of the dead was possible, however, because the pilgrims scattered over many miles of mountain trails when the post-monsoon snows overtook them.

They were struggling toward the headwater region of the holy Ganges River for the annual Mani Mahesh festival. The storm whipped across the highest passes — 18,000 feet above sea level—at Shangarajot, 65 miles from Chamba in Himachal Pradesh state.

Survivors were quoted by New Delhi's papers as saying many sought refuge in caves. Their fate was unknown. Others died of exhaustion on the return journey to the plains.

Indian officials seeking confirmation of the reported death toll were handicapped by the fact that the surviving pilgrims were scattered in many small bands. The only sources for news were the survivors or rescue workers, since the highlands are beyond the reach of telegraph service.

One rescuer, a junior government official, was credited with saving 150 suffering pilgrims before he himself collapsed and died from cold and exhaustion.

It was reported that many of the pilgrims taking shelter in caves paid guides 10 rupees ($2.10) a head for supplying tiny fires.

As reports of deaths from the storm poured from foothill towns, officials acknowledged that there had been a major disaster. But India has little organized relief on a national scale, and the reports of mass deaths caused slight stir in the national capital.

One reason for the high death list was that most of those making the difficult journey are aged and infirm persons seeking a dip in the Ganges or other holy waters before dying.

For the Mani Mahesh festival, Hindus must make their way on foot over more than 200 miles of trails. They carry scant food supplies.

The versatile actress died shortly after 8 a.m. EDT. She was admitted to hospital Aug. 16 with yellow jaundice.

Miss Lawrence, English-born and a star of the stage in both England and the United States for many years, was on leave from the starring role in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The King and I," based on the book "Anna and the King of Siam."

Fists, Bayonets Halt Attack

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — United States infantrymen today hammered back a Communist attack with fists and bayonets on "Sand-Bag Hill," an Allied outpost in eastern Korea.

The pre-dawn flare-up of bitter ground fighting followed a triple attack on Communist war stockpiles on Korea's east coast Friday by American bombers and carrier-based navy planes.

Although the Communists pulled back after three hours of bruising battle on Sand Bag, Brig.-Gen. Samuel Williams, assistant commander of the 25th Division, said it appeared that the entire Red force "stayed, because they were dead."

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING

Forty North Koreans supported by artillery attacked the outpost shortly after midnight. Red reinforcements were thrown in the fight as infantrymen came together in furious hand-to-hand fighting.

The Communist force withdrew three hours later, but Red artillery continued to bombard Sand Bag.

During the battle, four United Nations fighter-bombers swooped over the hill and knocked out one Communist artillery nest.

Pilots said chain explosions rippled across a Red supply centre at the port of Hungnam last night as 11 Superforts from Okinawa hurled 100 tons of bombs. The air force said the B-29s had no opposition.

Health Service Called Blunder

CHICAGO (AP)—Britain's National Health Service has been a "blunder" that lowered efficiency in medical care, Lord Horder, prominent British physician, told the International College of Surgeons last night.

Speaking at the convocation of the college, when 800 surgeons were admitted as Fellows, Lord Horder said the medical care plan experiment "has largely failed." He said:

1. It was begun too hastily, with "too much attempted in too short a time."

2. It was based primarily upon the hospital, not upon the family physician. None of the proposed health centres has been set up; there is less close relations between the doctor and patient; much less post-graduate instruction of doctors.

3. Doctors are not adequately represented on key boards and committees. Laymen are coming more and more into control of medical care.

Premier Reshuffles Egyptian Cabinet

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Aly Maher reshuffled his army-backed cabinet yesterday, ousting two cabinet ministers and bringing in five new men. He retained for himself the key posts of Foreign Affairs, Interior, War and Navy.

Two new cabinet ministries emerged from the shake-up. These are Reconstruction, expected to have a strong hand in the government's disputed land-reform program, and Rural Affairs, which formerly functioned under the Municipalities Ministry.

Maher had wanted to shed all duties except the premiership, informants said. But Maj.-Gen. Mohammed Naguib, the army's strong man, prevailed upon him to keep the other four posts until Egypt's domestic affairs are untangled.

It was Naguib who boosted Maher to power July 24 and two days later forced King Farouk I to abdicate in favor of Farouk's infant son, Fuad.

New British Jet Breaks In Air

FARNBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—One of Britain's new jet fighters, a de Havilland 110 aircraft, broke up in mid-air today while travelling at more than 700 miles an hour over the airfield here where Britain's latest aircraft are on show.

Crash tenders and ambulances raced to the wreckage of the black, twin boom, all-weather plane, which had completely disintegrated.

Pilot John Derry, one of Britain's leading test pilots, was believed killed.

Some spectators were believed to have been injured.

A crowd of more than 120,000 watching the display of Britain's air might saw pieces of the swept-back-wing plane hurtle across the field in a vivid cascade. Some pieces crashed into a hill side and some landed among the crowd.

Large Tanker Breaks In Two

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Honduran tanker Foundation Star broke in two today in the stormy waters 120 miles east of Charleston, S.C., but the Coast Guard reported a Norwegian vessel is standing by and has picked up survivors.

The Coast Guard here said the rescue vessel Emu reported she picked up one lifeboat load of survivors and radioed later she had spotted a second lifeboat.

The Coast Guard cutter Travis was steaming to the rescue scene to lend what rescue or salvage aid possible to survivors of the 5,500-ton Foundation Star.

Soldier Returns To Korea To Find Faithful Friend

WITH U.S. 45TH DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A soldier who returned to Korea to find and adopt his faithful friend—a young Korean orphan—has ended his long search.

Cpl. Thomas Fairthorne, Willowdale, Ont., a truck driver in the 45th division, was rotated home in March only to volunteer for further Korean service.

His reason: Hong Sung Un and a promise to return and take him back to America.

Their friendship began in June, 1951, when Fairthorne was a truck driver with the 24th division.

When the 24th division went to Japan, Fairthorne tried to take Hong with him. "I rolled him in a blanket and tied him with the rest of the gear on top of the truck. Everything went fine until we reached Seoul where he was found.

"So I had to leave him with no address, and we were closer than brothers. I promised Hong I'd come back and take him to America."

Last July, Fairthorne was assigned to the 45th division and began his search.

Finally, he ran into a Korean who knew where Hong was. Now Fairthorne has his hands full of red tape he must go through to take Hong home with him.

Fairthorne, 25, was born in Detroit, but moved to Canada in 1930. He retained his United States citizenship and in 1950, enlisted in the U. S. army.

4 Soldiers Killed At Meaford

Three-Car Collision Near Guelph Kills 2, Injures 7

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The weekend death toll reached six this morning following accidents at Meaford and Guelph, which also left eleven injured. At Meaford, four soldiers were killed when the truck in which they were riding left the road and crashed into the bush. Four other men were injured and taken to hospital in Owen Sound.

Two persons were killed and seven injured early today in a three-car collision on Highway 24, three miles from Guelph.

Army authorities withheld names of the dead pending notification of next-of-kin.

Critically injured are W.J. Smith, T G. McKenna and John Lauder. Less severely hurt was Charles Cheveri. Home towns of the men were not immediately available. The names of the injured were released by the hospital.

ON WAY TO BASE

The truck was on the way from the tank range five miles west of here to the big army base at Camp Borden. It was reported they had completed a training exercise at the tank range.

Police said two large trees were broken by the truck before it came to rest.

One theory is that the driver swerved to avoid a dog on the roadway and lost control of the truck.

The men in the truck are believed to have been officer training cadets.

GUELPH CASUALTIES

Muriel Quirke, 37, of Galt, died in the Guelph crash. Jack Foster, also of Galt, died in hospital there five hours later.

William Spira of Guelph, described by police as the driver of one of the other cars, was injured.

Police said the third car was driven by W.G. Stremble of Guelph who was injured, along with his wife.

Other passengers in the Stremble car who were injured were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kelly of Guelph; Desmond Kelly, 28; and Dick Egan, 30, also of Guelph. All were admitted to hospital.

Police said the Spira car, bound for Guelph, was in a sideswiping collision with the Foster car. The impact swung the Foster car around on the highway and into a collision with the Stremble vehicle.

In the Spira car but uninjured were Laura Howe, Ethel Stewart and Marcel Meloncon, all of Guelph.

An inquest has been ordered.

Commonwealth Div. Orders Armored Vests

WITH THE COMMONWEALTH DIVISION IN KOREA (Reuters)—The 1st Commonwealth Division has ordered several thousand nylon armored vests from the United States for its front-line infantrymen, a spokesman said today.

The spokesman said tests with a few dozen armored vests had proved successful and troops were willing to carry the extra eight pounds for the added protection.

The vests, covered with plastic plate, will stop shrapnel and deflect bullets, but will not stop a bullet fired at close range.

The division plans to distribute the armor to every front-line infantryman and to supporting troops doing front-line jobs.

Massey Visit Causes Row

WINNIPEG (CP)—The first official visit of Governor-General Massey to Winnipeg Oct. 27 has Mayor Garnet Coulter's "dander up."

Mayor Coulter yesterday showed two letters, written by Mr. Massey's secretary, to the finance committee. The first asked the city to arrange a civic reception for the Governor-General's visit; the second, dated a few days later, requested that details of the reception be sent promptly to Ottawa.

Some aldermen said they didn't like the wording of the first letter any more than the mayor did, but there wasn't much they could do about it.

The committee asked the mayor to arrange a "suitable reception."

In Ottawa, an official of the Governor-General's staff said the letters to Winnipeg "follow pretty much the pattern observed for many years." He was sorry if the letters had given offence.

Decide To Continue Watering Of Liquor

TORONTO (CP) — Provincial liquor boards will continue the practice of watering liquor to reduce the strength of the proof spirits by 30 per cent for another year at least, a Toronto paper says today.

The newspaper says this decision was made at the annual conference of the provincial liquor commissioners at Bigwin Inn this week.

Air Vice-Marshal From Lindsay Dies In Car

MERRITT, B. C. (CP) — The body of Air Vice-Marshal A. B. Shearer of Vancouver and a native of Lindsay, was found in his car today near this interior city He was 58.

Death was believed due to a heart attack. Air Vice-Marshal Shearer left his home Thursday for a fishing trip.

A veteran of two world wars, he joined the Royal Naval Air service in 1914 and was one of the first military-trained pilots in Canada.

He served overseas in the First World War in France, Albania and Italy. In 1919 he was with the British expeditionary force sent to aid the White Russians.

Between the wars, he commanded various R. C. A. F. stations across Canada, including Halifax, Vancouver and Rockcliffe, Ont.

TOOK COMMAND

At the outbreak of the Second World War, he was director of works and buildings at Ottawa and later took over command of No. 2 training command under the British Commonwealth air training program with headquarters at Winnipeg.

In 1943 he was appointed director general of economy. He retired March 15, 1944.

He was decorated 13 times. One of his awards was the Croix de Guerre.

He moved at an early age to Neepawa, Man., from Lindsay.

$1,000 Won't Buy $4 Bill Says Owner

It'll take about $1,000 to make Mrs. D. W. Johnson, 694 Water St., part with her Canadian $4 bill. Stories circulating around Ontario indicate that holders of the few old-time bills have been offered as much as $150 by collectors. But it'll take a lot more than that to encourage Mrs. Johnson to sell. In a news report Thursday, a Mrs. Evelyn Miller, Port Colborne, was offered $150 for a $4 Canadian bill given her some time ago by a United States citizen. She received calls from throughout Southern Ontario but turned down all bids to sell.

Canadian banks withdrew the bills from circulation 20 years ago, but a few are still out, mostly in collectors' hands. Since then their value has increased year after year.

ALMOST TWICE AS BIG

Similar in color to the $1 Canadian bill, the rare $4 bill is about twice the size. Both Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Johnson are holding bills dated July 2, 1900.

Mrs. Johnson's husband obtained the bill in Fraserville about 25 years ago. For a time it was folded and now is beginning to crack in various places.

Her husband received the bill by mistake. In a store a clerk gave him the bill, thinking it was a $1 bill. Not until later did he realize what it was and then he paid the storekeeper the difference in order to keep the bill.

But Mrs. Johnson's and Mrs. Miller's bills are not the oldest of the $4 variety, or its French-Canadian counterpart. Lou Elmhirst, R.R. 3, Hastings, has a Quatre Piastres bill dated January 2, 1873, from the bank, La Banque Ville-Marie.

Thirty-five years ago R. B. Lobb was tearing a hole in Mr. Elmhirst's 100-year-old stone house and just before the rubbish went into the fire, the French bill was noticed and kept. Mr. Elmhirst said that he would sell the bill if he got the right price for it, but he thought $150 wouldn't be enough.

Old Military Trick Gives French Victory

SAIGON, Indo-China (Reuters)—An old military trick was responsible for the success of operation "Caiman"—biggest French success in Indo-China in six months—a French Army spokesman said today.

The aim of the operation was to clean the 101st Communist Vietminh regiment out of the central Viet Nam area around Hue before the rainy season ends. The French reported that more than 1,000 enemy troops were knocked out—380 killed and 755 captured.

The spokesman said French forces pretended they were pulling out of the Hue region and heading north to the Tonkin delta. A French military communique was issued saying the Vietminh regiment had escaped to the hills.

Actually the French were planning new landings.

Vietminh forces were taken by surprise when the assault landings were made Thursday morning.

O'Leary was taken to hospital at Dickinson, N.D. His condition was reported critical. His wife suffered cuts and bruises but was not detained in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary were married Saturday, Aug. 23 and were on their honeymoon trip to Vancouver. Mrs. O'Leary was the former Pauline O'Donnell of Downeyville whose father, George O'Donnell, a storekeeper died in his sleep the night of Aug. 21

"He is one of my key men," said Mr. Towle, adding that he had worked for him about seven years.

Family Party

Family court is no place to have a party. A city man found that out Friday and left the court facing a charge of drunkenness. Constable Dennis Smith said he noticed something odd about the man's actions; later he saw, he said, that the man was intoxicated and becoming more so. Constable Smith searched the man, found a bottle of gin two-thirds gone, and placed him under arrest.

U.S. Jet Pirates Steal British Thunder At Show

FARNBOROUGH, England (CP) Ten jet "pirates" which flew over the airfield here just before an air display began yesterday were identified today as United States Sabre fighters.

Air-show authorities had called for the sternest disciplinary action to be taken against the pilots, who, they said, endangered the safety of Britain's ace test pilots and £30,000,000 worth of planes.

A statement issued at the United States Air Force headquarters at Ruislip said: "The flight had been practising for its part in the Battle of Britain celebrations and passed over the air show at 3,000 feet.

LEADER REPRIMANDED

"The flight leader is being officially reprimanded.

"I do not think the pilots will be punished. After all, the flight leader was in charge."

British officials had been outraged when they found unidentified planes stealing their thunder at the annual aircraft constructors' show. The mystery planes had refused to identify themselves to the Farnborough air control tower.

The machines flew over Farnborough at 2:30 p.m. yesterday. From 1.30 p.m. to 4 p.m. there was a total embargo on flying within a three-mile radius of Farnborough anywhere from ground level to 40,000 feet.

The Daily Mail says today: "...After giving a dazzling display of formation flying they disappeared into a cloud."

41 Bus Passengers Injured In Turnpike Crash

BORDENTOWN, N.J. (AP)—A night express bus running from New York to Washington collided with the rear of a truck today on the New Jersey turnpike, injuring all 41 aboard as well as two persons in the truck. Police said the bus left the road after the collision, rolled down a 10-foot embankment and into a field. The front of the bus was rammed back to the third row of seats. Twenty-two of the injured were taken to hospital and at least one was listed as "very critical."

The bus driver, Joseph W. Fox, of Philadelphia, was among those injured. Police said he was not in condition to tell them what happened.

TRUCK TURNS OVER

William P. James Jr., 41, of Congers, N.Y., was listed as driver of the truck. James and his wife, May, were treated for minor injuries. The truck turned over in a field.

It was the third bus crash in five weeks to result in a high casualty list.

Last Aug. 4 two Greyhound buses collided head-on near Waco, Tex., killing 28 persons. On Aug. 25, a bus went off a bridge in Edgewater, N. J., killing one passenger and injuring 16.

Have 19 Winners In Quinella

WINNIPEG (CP)—Nineteen winning tickets were sold yesterday at Winnipeg Polo Park on what racing officials said probably was the largest quinella return in prairie racing history.

The holders shared a pool of $21,816 or $930.05 a ticket.

One punter, who preferred to remain anonymous, won $2,042.70 for an $8 investment when Last Osiris and Hi Meadowland ran one-two in the last race.

He spent $4 on two quinella tickets on the Winnipeg quinella combination, collecting a total of $1,860.10. He also had two place tickets on the winner Last Osiris, worth $91.30 each or a total of $182.60.

Says Red Movement Weaker In Asia

CALCUTTA, India (Reuters) — Chester Bowles, United States ambassador to India, said today he thinks the Communist movement is getting weaker in every country he has visited in southeast Asia.

In a roundup of his impressions during a three-week tour of Burma, Thailand, Indo-China, the Philippines and Malaya, he told reporters that in the countries where fighting is going on the number of guerrillas has decreased, though the "hard core" of Communist guerrillas remains.

Pearson Returns From Washington

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson returned to Ottawa by air yesterday from Washington where he held a round of discussion with Dean Acheson, U.S. Secretary of State, and other officials.

Mr. Pearson said his discussions concerned "a number of North Atlantic Treaty matters."

He takes off Tuesday for London and talks with Foreign Secretary Eden, also on N.A.T.O. subjects.

Cobourg Lad, 6, Drowns In Lake Falls Off Pier

COBOURG (ENS)—Mistaking a stranger in the dusk for his father, six-year-old Gordon Jenkins hurried forward to his death last night, by drowning, at the east pier. The little fellow stumbled after he broke away from his mother, tripped and fell off the dock.

Hundreds of people had been out on the pier last night, watching the salvaging of the dredge which sank last week in the harbour mouth. Young Jenkins and his mother, Mrs. Ed. Jenkins, had been out on the pier earlier in the evening watching the dredge being pumped out. They were out again later.

About 8:45 p.m. Gordon thought that he spotted his dad and rushed forward. Then he fell in and before the agonized eyes of his mother failed to reach the surface.

Her screams attracted the attention of others. Two hundred yards out the pier dredge workmen Don Brind and Mervin Locking heard the shouts for help. They jumped in a punt, threw in a pike pole and headed around the pier to the scene.

Don probed only a few minutes with the pike pole in about seven feet of water and caught the body of the lad and hauled in the unconscious boy. Mert Geraldi of the public utilities staff and Jack Crossen of the Hydro Electric Power Company who left a ball game in the nearby park when they noticed a crowd clustered, took turns applying artificial respiration until the fire department arrived with the respirator.

Then the boy was taken to the hospital while respiration efforts continued but he showed no spark of life and efforts to revive him were given up two hours later. He is survived by his parents, a brother and sister. No inquest will be held.

Will Carry Out Man's Death Sentence

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters) — A 24-year-old clerk, self-proclaimed leader of the Kafr el Dawr textile strike last month, will be hanged at dawn tomorrow inside the walls of Alexandria's civil prison.

A communique from the headquarters of Gen. Mohammed Naguib, Egyptian commander-in-chief today confirmed that the death sentence on young Mustafa Khamis will be carried out.

Khamis was convicted by a military tribunal set up on the spot after the Aug. 12 riots, in which 10 men were killed and the modern factory near Alexandria, heavily damaged.

Hundreds of the strikers were released by the military tribunal for lack of evidence, but 28 workers still face a possible death sentence.

Orient Trade Can Avert War, PM Says

Will Help Contain Communism On Both Fronts

VICTORIA (CP)—In stepped-up trade with the Orient and all-out support of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Prime Minister St. Laurent believes, Canada can best help contain Communism on both the European and Pacific fronts.

And, providing the result is "peace with honor," Canada favors a negotiated truce along the present battle lines in Korea.

UNIFICATION RISKY

The Prime Minister does not believe the United Nations should demand unification of Korea if it means the risk of touching off a global war.

These points were hammered home yesterday by Mr. St. Laurent as he sped from function to function in a one-day visit to Victoria.

Today, the Prime Minister began barnstorming northward on Vancouver Island. Stops at seven communities will be sandwiched in an eight-hour period.

Korea and trade with the Orient were discussed at length yesterday as Mr. St. Laurent addressed a public meeting at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Canada, he said, must be prepared to buy "her share" of manufactured goods from the Orient providing they are not "dumped" on the markets in this country.

NO MORE DUMPING

While Japan has been accused in the past of unfair trade practices there was "good reason for believing" this will not be the case in the future.

Speaking on the Colombo plan and Oriental trade in general, Mr. St. Laurent said this plan may turn out to be one of the greatest factors in keeping the people of south and southeast Asia out of the clutches of Communism.

"Communism," he said, "is a malignancy that thrives on diseased tissues and the Colombo plan by working to eliminate the diseases of poverty and starvation is endeavoring to keep one-quarter of the world's population in the free world."

Importance of N.A.T.O. was stressed in talks at the opening of a new federal building here and when Mr. St. Laurent visited the Esquimalt naval base.

N.A.T.O. was described as the "best insurance policy to maintain peace."

PEACE ESSENTIAL

"Everything else we hold dear depends on the maintenance of peace," he said. "Fourteen nations have pledged support, so that an aggressor is warned that, once embarked on war, he must overcome us all."

The Prime Minister described Japan's need for trade this way:

"Our foreign trade is vital but we could maintain life, granted at a lower standard, without it. Deprived of trade, many of the island's 83,000,000 population would be condemned to death by starvation."

Mr. St. Laurent was seen talking in the lobby of the Empress Hotel yesterday with Byron Johnson, B.C. Premier until the Liberals were crushed in the June 12 provincial election, but it was not known what they discussed.

The Prime Minister's Victoria visit started with the city bathed in sunshine but by late afternoon, when his party was visiting aboard the cruiser Ontario, clouds moved in with a sprinkling of rain.

VISITS SEVEN TOWNS

His motor caravan will make brief visits today to Duncan, Chemainus, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Parksville, Qualicum and Courtenay.

In the evening Mr. St. Laurent will go by steamship to Powell River, on the mainland. Sunday he will leave for Prince Rupert and the northern lap of what he says is a non-political trip.

SATURDAY NIGHT—The crew of this U.S. Marine Corps T46 tank take time out during a lull in the bitter Korean fighting to give their charge a quick wash and enjoy the coolin, refreshing water themselves. At right members of a tank retriever crew look on as they eagerly await the "ole swimmin hole," a luxury which presents itself too seldom to be turned down lightly.

Wants Union Curb To Protect Public

ALGONQUIN PARK (CP)—A Queen's University professor said yesterday that trade unions have legal protection against unfair action by employers, but the public has little recourse against irresponsible action by unions. Professor J. A. Cameron, head of the department of industrial relations, was addressing the summer conference of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada. In advocating an overhaul of the Ontario Labor Relations Act and a review of the legal immunities enjoyed by unions "in the light of their greatly increased power and pretensions," Professor Cameron said:

"It should not be beyond the wit of man to devise legislation which will maintain free collective bargaining, protect labor against discrimination and at the same time ensure that both management and trade unions act responsibly within the community. Then, the need for compulsory arbitration will be far less than it is today."

Canadian Television Service Started In Montreal By CBC

MONTREAL (CP) — The CBC launches its Canadian television service tonight.

Canada's first TV station—CBFT—goes officially on the air with a series of variety shows, drama, a newsreel summary of the summer's news highlights, inauguration speeches and ceremonies and a tour behind the scenes of TV.

A feature will be a televised salute to the Montreal station from CBLT, the Toronto TV outlet which opens Monday.

Actually, CBFT has been in operation for more than a month, telecasting daily a series of test programs which have included sports events, films and studio programs.

BILINGUAL STATION

Until the CBC opens a purely English-language TV station here, CBFT will operate as a bilingual station. Its programs will be almost evenly divided between French and English.

Today's first program will be a two-hour showing of films from 4 to 6 p.m.—for children of both languages. The adult entertainment, including inauguration ceremonies, begins at 7:30 p.m. and continues to 11:15 p.m.

The inauguration ceremonies will include filmed greetings from Prime Minister St. Laurent and speeches by A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, Revenue Minister McCann, the cabinet minister responsible for the CBC, and Dr. Thomas T. Goldsmith, president of Du Mont Television Corporation, one of the United States networks with which CBC eventually will be affiliated.

To launch Canadian television, the CBC borrowed $8,000,000 from the federal government. With the assistance of a further government loan, CBC officials plan to launch the second phase of the TV program, establishment of TV stations in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Halifax. These stations would be serviced with kinescope recordings from the production centres here and in Toronto.

OWNERS TO PAY

The TV licence fee for set owners, not yet announced, is expected to be $15 a year. It probably will be collected next year.

Present plans call for a program schedule of at least three hours a day for the Montreal station. This may be increased next year when completion of a micro-wave link with Toronto permits the chanelling of American TV shows into the Montreal area.

CBFT, with its transmitter atop Montreal's Mount Royal, will have a potential audience of 2,500,000 in Montreal and district.

Market Produce Found Plentiful

Early morning sales on the Saturday market were light today as buyers stayed away until mid-morning due to threatening skies. But farmers and jobbers were out in full force, mostly before the thunder storm hit Peterborough; they stayed on for sales between 10 a.m. and noon.

Fresh vegetables, fruit and flowers were plentiful as all stalls were packed. But the market lacked buyers.

Carrots and beets in large quantities started and remained firm at two bunches for 25c while yellow and green beens went at 50c a six-quart basket.

POTATOES

Potatoes dotted a few stalls, selling at 60 and 65c a six-quart or $4.25 a 75-pound bag. Corn was plentiful and went fairly quickly at 35c a dozen while others asking 40c and 45c a dozen were slow.

Cauliflower went well at 20c to 35c each while cabbages were general at 10 and 15c each for green and 20 and 25c for red. A few turnips varied between 10c and three for 25c. Tomatoes were practically sold by every booth, generally at 40c a six-quart basket. Some home-grown celery went at 10c and 15c a stalk.

A varied assortment of apples was offered for sale, all remaining firm at 50c for some types and 60c for others, both six-quart baskets.

Will Visit Turkey

BELGRADE (Reuters)—A Yugoslav Army delegation, headed by Colonel General Pavke Jaksic, will visit Turkey this month after its one-week goodwill trip to Greece, Radio Belgrade announced yesterday. The visits are officially said to be only "informative," but it is regarded as almost certain that they will lead to some sort of broad military understanding between Yugoslavia and the two other countries for common action in the event of agression.

He added, however, that such weapons "were not immediately available."

C.G.E. To Build New Plant On Guelph Site

Guelph has been chosen as the site for the new Canadian General Electric Co. plant, which will produce large power transformers, high voltage bushings and instrument transformers.

The new plant will cost several million dollars to build and will provide employment for approximately 1,000 workers.

In making the announcement this week, Archie M. Doyle, general manager of C.G.E. apparatus division explained that work is to be started on the plant within a few days, but it is expected that it will not be into production until 1954.

The 200-acre plant site in Guelph township is located on No. 7 highway in an area which is expected to be annexed by the city.

DECENTRALIZATION

Transfer to Guelph of this division is a further development of the C.G.E. long-range decentralization program. The factory will be one of the largest and best equipped engineering and production centres of its kind in the world. Some key personnel will be brought to Guelph from C.G.E.'s heavy electrical equipment plant in Toronto, but workers, in the main, will be drawn from this district.

The new plant will represent a substantial boost to the economy of this busy industrial centre and will be the biggest individual industry in the muncipality.

The new plant was made necessary because of the great expansion of electrical utilities across Canada since the Second World War. Toronto Davenport works will continue to manufacture the present volume of power transformers until 1954. Until then preparation will be made for expanded production in that plant of other products such as distribution transformers, Cochrane equipment and industrial heating equipment.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG — (CP). — A continuation of overseas export business in barley was reported Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with nearly 1,000,000 bushels involved. Germany was top buyer with two cargoes. Trade reports also said oats had been sold overseas.

All this export business was not reflected in trade here, although some shipper demand appeared in both oats and barley. Prices moved narrowly. Trading generally was dull, with buyers eyeing developments at the Lakehead where grain-handlers threaten to strike. Prices for Class 2 wheat were up one cent. I.W.A. prices were unchanged.

Europe Told Candidates Agree On Foreign Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The voice of America is telling Western Europe that — despite hot words on the home front — Republican and Democratic presidential contenders actually give evidence of agreeing on the main points of United States foreign policy.

The State Department radio beamed this message abroad this week after the sharpest foreign policy-argument of the campaign had developed over the U. S. attitude toward liberation for Russian-controlled satellite peoples.

A weekly summary of Voice programs released at the State Department disclosed the line the international radio is taking.

The Russian newspaper Pravda was quoted in the State Department report as saying Republican candidate Dwight Eisenhower's desire was to conquer Eastern Europe and Asia for "The American Empire." Newspapers in Western Europe were described as expressing concern over what Eisenhower's words might mean in terms of American action.

DENIES STATEMENT

Actually, the Voice told Western Europe, Eisenhower has said nothing about using U. S. armed power to liberate the Soviet satellites.

The broadcast quoted Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson in support of its contention of fundamental agreement between the candidates on basic principles of foreign policy.

It said Stevenson in a recent speech had commended Eisenhower's foreign-policy views and had said specifically on the liberation issue: "We (meaning the U. S.) will continue to work for the day when all people will be free to choose their own government and walk again erect and unafraid."

The broadcast also reminded European listeners that President Truman, speaking at Parkersburg, W. Va., had declared that in various "positive ways" the U. S. is demonstrating that it "has not forgotten the people whom the Soviets enslave."

The summary made no reference to another part of the President's Parkersburg speech in which he said there is no way to do more than is now being done for the satellite peoples "without using force."

AFTER 22 YEARS — Mrs. Catherine Moroney (right) greets Mrs. Mary Beck McClelland, believed to be her daughter who was kidnapped 22 years ago in Chicago, Ill. The meeting climaxed a series of events touched off by a newspaper story. The story included a picture of one of Mrs. Moroney's daughters which led Mrs. McClelland's husband to investigate. Scientific tests indicated that Mrs. McClelland might be the kidnapped girl so she left her Oakland, Cal., home to visit her long-lost mother.

Entertainers Accept Canadian Funds

WINDSOR (CP) — For years, United States entertainers at the firemen's field day here have stipulated they be paid in U. S currency.

This year the entertainers demanded they be paid in Canadian funds, despite a U. S. money clause in their guild contracts.

Proud of this recognition of Canadian money, field day officials happily made the switch.

The current premium on Canadian money is four per cent.

Toronto Mayor In Wrangle After Robbery

TORONTO (CP)—A $25,000 robbery at a west-end branch of the Dominion Bank yesterday revived a wrangle between Mayor Allan Lamport and the banks over the way the banks look after their cash.

Two young gunmen who had followed three employees through an unlocked door and tied up other staff members one by one as they reported for work, walked out of the bank about 9 a. m. with their loot in banknotes and silver.

The raid, first since March but the fifth in the Toronto district this year, brought the underworld's total haul since New Year's to $164,000.

WANTS BANKS LICENSED

The mayor said he will move to have all banks in Toronto licensed by the city to pay for police protection.

He suggested some time ago that security guards be placed on all banks. At that time, bank officials said it would cost too much.

"How in the world could there be $25,000 lying around like that?" the mayor asked. "I was advised they were keeping less money on hand."

F. F. Hull, assistant general manager of the Dominion Bank, said the bank has tightened security precautions at all its branches. He denied the money was "lying around" at the west-end branch.

"It was in a vault and was obtained at gunpoint."

Western Powers Propose New Austrian Treaty Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Britain, the United States and France last night handed Russia Austrian peace-treaty proposals that they claimed met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact. The western allies suggested four-power talks in London Sept. 29 to complete the accord.

In identical notes, the three western powers told the Soviets that they are willing—however reluctantly—to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they also are willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free elections, basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

The notes contended that these proposals meet "the only points of objection" Russia has raised to the west's previous recommendations for the treaty and thus cleared the way for a settlement.

AGREEMENT REMOTE

But the final agreement that would end the post-war occupation of Austria loked about as remote as ever today. The western notes contained provisions which the Russians are not likely to agree to immediately, if ever.

The London meeting proposed by the west would be on the level of deputies to the Foreign Ministers and would be under a U.S. chairman.

If agreed to, such a meeting would open another round in a squabble that has been dragging on since 1943. Attempts to agree on a draft of an Austrian treaty bogged down last spring after 259 meetings over the last six years in London.

In effect, the western Big Three now go on record in favor of a demilitarized Austria. Its land forces, including police, would be restricted to 53,000 men. It would be allowed only 90 planes and no bombers. Military installations which were destroyed by the Western allies could not be rebuilt.

U. S. officials in Washington told reporters the State Department had agreed to restrict Austria's armed forces after consulting with the pro-western Austrian government. The officials explained the move was aimed at forcing Russia to agree to a treaty and withdraw its occupation army from eastern Austria.

EXPECT REJECTION

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said the western powers had called a Soviet bluff by agreeing to the Reds' four main treaty conditions. He said a Russian rejection of the western notes is expected because the Soviets do not want to pull out of occupied Austria.

New Treatment Curing Bladder Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)—A new radium-needle treatment is saving many persons with bladder cancer, Dr. Raymond Darget of Bordeaux, France, reported yesterday.

Radium-filled needles are put into the cancerous part of the bladder, to kill cancer with X-rays. A balloon inside the bladder, filled with lead solution, keeps the rays from damaging the healthy tissue of the bladder. This damage has been a serious drawback before in using radium.

The needles are left in place four to six days, then are pulled out, he told the International College of Surgeons.

RECORDS GOOD

Half of 200 patients given this treatment are alive five years later, with their bladders kept intact, Dr. Darget said. Cancer is usually considered cured if it doesn't recur within five years.

Bladder cancer causes about three per cent of all cancer deaths.

The usual treatment today is to remove the entire bladder. The tubes leading from the kidneys then are made to empty into the colon.

Gold Prices Sag On Toronto Market Exchange's Index Drops 3 Points

By DICK BAIDEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Gold prices sagged this week on Toronto's stock market as steady selling dropped the exchange's index more than three points.

Repeated United States opposition at the International Monetary Fund's Mexico City meeting to any change in the world gold price was credited by Bay Street brokers for the decline.

(Under terms of the I.M.F. agreement, Canadian producers receive $35 an ounce in U.S. funds. The Canadian government also awards a cost-aid bonus to companies not selling on the "open market." Many producers, principally marginal operators, claim the $35 ceiling does not permit adequate profit.)

NICKEL SHARES UP

United States interest also played a major part in the movements of three other Canadian issues. Falconbridge Nickel, an issue long regarded as possessing a promising future, climbed steadily in active trading. Simpson shares also pushed upwards following the recent announcement of a new Simpson-Sears Roebuck enterprise Gunnar, a uranium prospect with holdings in northern Saskatchewan, also drew U.S. interest.

For the list generally—industrials, base metals and western oils—it was an uneventful week. Industrials and metals managed a slim index advance but oils edged lower.

Toronto opened the week Tuesday following the Labor Day holiday with an early flurry in western oils. Interest waned, however, and the section joined industrials and golds in a ragged decline. In Montreal, papers and industrials pushed upward.

Prices recovered slightly in Toronto Wednesday except for a steady decline in golds. Papers and industrials maintained a slow advance in Montreal. Toronto industrials pushed a slow gain through the second consecutive session Thursday but golds continued to weaken. Western oils eased. Industrials and papers reversed direction in Montreal.

Toronto prices edged slowly lower in dull trading yesterday. Metals, however, showed strength in a late rally. Montreal prices turned slowly upward.

STEELS LEAD N.Y.

Steels led a slow rise in New York Tuesday. Selected issues joined the trend Wednesday but prices turned mixed Thursday. Losses spotted major areas yesterday.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto stock exchange indices showed industrials up .32 at 329.51, golds down 3.12 at 91.97, base metals up .77 at 197.26 and western oils down .33 at 137.63.

In the Montreal averages banks were up .01 at 31.45, utilities up .4 at 87.8, industrials up 1.5 at 218.7 combined up 1.1 at 175.0, papers up 6.45 at 724.48 and golds down 1.43 at 70.27.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $108.40.

It was announced that the sectional rally would be held on October 7 in Trinity United Church, Hastings, morning and afternoon sessions. A special collection will be taken at the October meeting to send an overseas food parcel.

Mrs. John Davidson took charge of the program which opened with a Biblical quiz. The new study book, "Along African Trails," was introduced by Mrs. Davidson, who gave an interesting narrative on Africa. A reading, "The Water of Life," was read by Mrs. William Breckenridge.

Catholic Church Makes Appeal Help Persecuted

A special appeal for funds of charity is being made to the Roman Catholic people of Canada for the relief of persecuted and displaced persons of various races and creeds.

It is known as the Papal Charities for the aid of victims of war, and has been authorized by the bishops of Canada. In the diocese of Peterborough, as announced by Most Reverend Gerald Berry, contributions will be received on Sunday, September 7. Help for refugees from behind the Iron Curtain is a major objective of this appeal to the goodwill of Canadians.

It is understood that contributions throughout Canada to this fund amounted last year to more than one-quarter of a million dollars. The diocese of Peterborough gave $4,500. The request is renewed to the people of the parishes with fresh emphasis on increasing need of displaced peoples and in the hope that there will be as generous a response as possible.

The greater part of this fund collected in Canada remains in this country by its expenditure here for food and clothing and other necessities of life. These materials are placed at the disposal of the Papal Charities for distribution in foreign countries. Money is also spent on medical supplies, shelter and other forms of assistance.

Rains Delay Western Harvest

Heavy rains early this week in southern Saskatchewan and western Manitoba temporarily delayed harvesting operations, as reported by Canadian National Railways.

Rain in the Rivers area of Manitoba was 5.8 inches. In southern Manitoba some sections have already finished the harvest. Progress varies elsewhere. From Belmont to Virden about 75 per cent of the harvesting is done, and with the exception of flax, ten days more will complete the harvest providing good weather prevails.

In central Saskatchewan 30 to 60 per cent of the wheat has been cut or swathed, and 15 to 20 per cent is already threshed. A large part of the wheat is top grades, and earlier forecast of yields is being exceeded. At Elrose, for example, the crop is 35 to 45 bushels of No. 1 grade. In northern Saskatchewan harvesting is general; grades are mostly No. 2 and 3 northern, and with favorable weather the crops should be cleaned up in two or three weeks.

Alberta reports wheat yielding 20 to 40 bushels per acre, oats 35 to 60, barley 25 to 50, rye 20 to 35, and flax 12 to 15.

Forty per cent of all crops in the Edmonton district are either cut, stooked or swathed.

BBC Under Fire For Using So Much Land

LONDON (CP) — The British Broadcasting Corporation has come under mild fire by the Commons Committee on Estimates because of its "eaves-dropping" department.

It seems the BBC owns 624 acres of land in exclusive Berkshire for the purpose of monitoring the world's radio in about 30 languages.

A staff of 485 do this semi-secret job of listening-in and most of their reports go to the intelligence department of the Foreign Office. The annual cost of maintaining this operation is £485,000, a member of the Estimates Committee said.

The question raised by the investigating group was if the land was being used to its economical best.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express remarked: "Among the landed gentry of Berkshire there stands today the BBC—with enough acres to qualify it for an exclusive register and enough acres to qualify it for an inquiry."

Of the 200,000 words recorded daily from this monitoring system, about one tenth is used for news bulletins and the balance for political information.

2 Presidential Candidates Cause Furore In Minnesota

KASSON-DODGE CENTRE Minn. (AP) — The rolling farm country of southern Minnesota today was turning into probably the greatest political arena of the 1952 presidential campaign.

The greensward of an 18-acre natural amphitheatre, ordinarily a quiet pasture, was transformed into a bustling anthill of humans. Advance estimates said upwards of 100,000 persons would swarm on to the open field—today a sounding board for major farm talks by the two would-be successors to President Truman.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was to present the Republican case at noon, with Democrat Adlai Stevenson, the Illinois Governor, following him four hours later from the same rough-plank platform.

HIGHWAYS JAMMED

Caravans bearing adherents of both parties clogged the highways as they converged, from many neighboring states as well as Minnesota, at the scene of what basically is the national plowing contest.

Almost incidentally, it seemed, farmers from 15 states mounted their tractors to compete for prizes in the care and tilling of the soil.

The heavy campaign overtones, bringing what amounts to the first almost direct verbal tilt between the opposing candidates, impelled several Minnesota newspapers to blossom with headlines calling it a "PLOWLITICAL" DAY.

Mrs. Henry Snow, on whose husband's farm a billowing tent city of farm exhibits and eating concessions has been raised, showed her first hint of worry.

"Oh my, they didn't fluff out like other times," she said of the apple pies she will serve the two candidates, along with chicken and other trimmings.

WHAT TO SAY?

Her husband, too, was excited. He was still wondering what to say in introducing Stevenson. Farmer Snow was tapped for the chore as somewhat of a neutral when too many Minnesota Democrats started vying for that post of honor.

Eisenhower was to be introduced by Minnesota's Republican Governor, C. Elmer Anderson.

The candidates are not expected to meet.

McLaughlin Wins With Holsteins In Port Perry

George R. McLaughlin continues winning with his Elmcroft Holsteins. At the Ontario county Black and White Day show at Port Perry, Labor Day, his entries captured both the male and female grand championships. He collected seven firsts and the Premier Breeder award. His grand champion bull was Elmcroft Rag Apple Champion, which was the grand champion at the Central Ontario regional show at Peterborough last October.

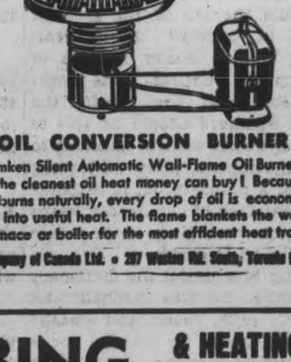
Roy Ormiston, of Brooklin, won six firsts; Harold W. Honey and Orvan Chambers, two each; Harold A. Werry and Robert Flett, of Oshawa, and G. H. Walker, of Port Perry, one each.

Mr. Ormiston was awarded both junior championships.

Fifteen Holstein breeders of Ontario County paraded 89 animals, eight more than last year.

Roy Ormiston made his debut as judge at the Kent County Black and White Day at Dresden Fair, August 28, and is reported as having earned the praise of the 18 exhibitors for the splendid job he did in placing the awards. It was a big show of 145 head.

At Port Perry, Norman McConkey, of Lifloc Farm, Peterborough, was prominent in the distribution of prizes in the strong Guernsey cattle division.



His McDonald Farms Le Phelan, imported from New York State, won the two-year and over male class and was awarded the grand championship. Other firsts to Lifloc Farm entries were: senior bull calf, senior yearling heifer; other females, two-year-old dry, four-year-old in milk, and two-year-old in milk; and the special for the best bull under one year.

The grand champion female was from the herd of R. Batty, of Brooklin, the mature cow Donalda Victor's Judy II, first in the class for four-year-olds and over.

Mr. McConkey took the reserve senior and grand championship ribbons in the female section. His second prizes included junior herd, junior get of sire, and graded herd.

A Black Mark For the Peterborough District

In the tabulation of motor accidents for the first six months of this year the Peterborough district has a black mark as one of the areas which has a greater increase than the general increase of 10.1 per cent. over the same time last year. The increase in this district was 12.4 over last year, or 745 accidents against 663. This is not good news, and the only thing that will reduce this bad record is greater care on the part of every driver.

* * *

There is no simple explanation for the occurrence of traffic accidents. Drunken driving, while an evil things, does not account for a large proportion of accidents. Of 42,158 drivers involved in accidents during the first six months of this year, 562 were intoxicated; by far the greatest proportion of drivers involved in accidents had more than five years of driving experience, and the largest number were between 25 and 40 years of age. Most of the cars involved in accidents were in good condition, most of the drivers had licenses, most of the accidents happened when driving apparently straight ahead. The very detailed statistics provided by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles give little clue to the real causes of accidents. By far the majority of drivers involved appear to be mature, experienced, sober, in efficient machines, and driving straight ahead. But two facts are significant: a large number of them were driving too fast and did not have the right of way.

With such facts to work on, what advice can be given to drivers except to be more careful and more considerate?

Academy of Tourism

This city is annually pretty heavily engaged in the tourist business, tourist trade, tourism, catering to visitors, angling for Americans, or whatever the term is. It is one of those complicated operations in which the profit and loss are impossible to compute, and the social, aesthetic, historic and international aspects difficult to assess. People say that the tourist business is important, but how important? Worth this city spending tens of thousands of dollars annually, or only a few hundred? Worth the hundreds of thousands the Province and the Dominion with their separate government branches spend on it?

This district has been in the tourist business for about half a century. It is little enough time in which to make definite judgements. We may consider with confidence, however, the experience of areas that have been catering to tourists for a long while, and to whole towns which subsist on it. Chamonix, for instance, has capitalized on its nearness to Mont Blanc and its fine view of other hills for five hundred years. Monte Carlo has had tourists for as long, and has made big money (at the expense of some visitors' losses) for seventy-five years, since the then-reigning Prince of Monaco found an easy way to raise revenue for himself and his Principality by chemin-de-fer. So highly regarded are tourists in Monte Carlo that the policemen wear white gloves to grandly direct youth hostelers on bicycles, and the Prince of Monaco last year founded an International Academy of Tourism. The Academy has just been holding a session in Monte Carlo.

The members of the Academy are engaged in a monumental work, the compilation of a dictionary, intended to become the International Tourist Code. The French newspaper Le Monde, commenting on the academicians' meetings says: "Tourism, even more than sport, many words of which — such as football, skating, rally, round, smash—have the same meaning in all languages, needs words that can be used everywhere."

Is not ours the era of the greatest migrations in history? Every year, during the holiday season, millions of tourists pass the frontiers. It is therefore desirable that the Swede, the Briton, the Spaniard should be able to express their wishes without resorting to the often incomplete, often misleading expedient of a phrase-book. It is therefore the great task of our Academicians to compile this vocabulary of the future applicable in all latitudes.

We wonder how useful the dictionary will be which bundles football and skating with rally, round and smash? However, we should be grateful for a universal definition of the subject of the whole thing: tourism. The Academy has just awarded a prize to Monsieur de Meyer of Brussels, joint director of the Tourist Office of the Belgian Congo, for his definition of tourism. Here it is: The entirety of human displacements and of the resulting activities provoked by the exteriorization and the desire for escape which slumbers at varying degrees in every individual. Now that is something for the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber, the hotel chambermaid and even the curator of Fort Henry to ponder on.

With this definition firmly in our grasp (presumably in the pages of the International Academy of Tourism's dictionary) we should all be able to understand the inner nature of the tourist trade, how best to cater to the whims and accents of our visitors, and to assess what tangible value the whole business has. For surely, having got the name and nature of the trade defined, all other vagueness shall melt away. Knowing what the business is all about, we could determine how much it is worth. Yet is it not odd that Monte Carlo did not bother with the definition until after it made its pile?

Freedom of the Seas and the St. Lawrence

Canada cannot talk free trade and commerce as it is now doing at the world monetary conference in Mexico and as it will at the London conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers this autumn, and at the same time continue to protect and mollycoddle business and industry at home. Canada wants trade freed so as to have ready access to foreign markets for her surplus goods. At the same time much Canadian business wants absolute protection from foreign competition, the kind the automobile industry has from American and even British cars. A vigorous plea for special protection has been made by the Great Lakes shipping owners and by the union to which Great Lakes seamen belong. They want foreign shipping banned. To prevent foreign vessels from plying our inland waters is logically indefensible, in view of Canada's campaign for removing restrictions on Canadian business and trade abroad; and is, we think, unsound. It would defeat half the purpose of the Great Lakes seaway before a cubic yard of it was dug.

* * *

A country which pretends to the adulthood Canada now professes should be able to stand up to foreign competition, without getting behind protective tariffs and outright embargoes. The time has come when the special protection some industries get should be lessened, and not to give further protection. As cars in Canada cost more money than they need to because of the protective tariff, so every cargo of goods shipped overseas and from overseas by way of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence seaway would cost more than it should, if competition is prevented by a ban on foreign ships. True, European seamen do not get the high wage rates that Canadian seamen get; but our own shipping could be made so efficient, superior and safe that Canadian ship owners and ship workers would not suffer unduly from foreign competition. Canadian Pacific and Canadian National ships on the Atlantic seem to do quite well, even against competition of European shipping. Do the companies and the union want a complete monopoly of the Great Lakes shipping on seagoing vessels so as to charge as high rates and get as high wages as they care to take?

The only special extra levies made on foreign ships using the new inland seaway should be fees to help pay for it and maintain its operation. To ban the foreign crews entirely would be iniquitous; out-samming Uncle Sam in his worst, most high-blown protectionist days. All in all, Canada does not and never has thrived on protection. It increases the cost of living and restricts our own foreign trade — for this country cannot impose tariff walls and bans without having other countries raise theirs against her. Canada lives by trade. The way to continue that livelihood is not by restricting trade, as a ban on foreign ships would do.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The trouble with many a "ranch-type" house is that it sits cheek by jowl with three other 33-foot ranches.

A goat in Arkansas has eaten a roll of cap-pistol ammunition. The next hiccup should begin the chain reaction.

"If your child becomes unmanageable," says a newspaper psychiatrist, "switch his attention." If you call it by that name.

"It is a mistake to display most of your merchandise in the show window," states the editor of a merchandising journal. Some modern young women might do well to make a note of this.

It is proposed by a small group of Egyptians that the large cowboy hat should replace the traditional fez as sun protection in that country. And what will the Shriners have to say about that?

The Moscow Literary Gazette complains that many Russian babies are given foreign names which are "strange and even comic" and gives Arthur and Alfred as examples. A simple law could decree that in future all should be named Josef and Josefina.

King George The Fifth

By WALTER ELLIOT, M.P.

THIS IS the official biography of King George the Fifth, whose seventy years of life covered such very momentous periods in history. Much of it he saw in the greatest detail, from the centre. But his first and most formative view was from the circumference. He did not become immediate Heir to the Throne till 1892 (he was born in 1865), when his elder brother died. By that time he had, amongst other things, spent fifteen years, in many ships and many seas, as a serving officer in the Navy; whose outlook and discipline henceforward stamped all his thought.

At the centre he saw, from the Throne, the German bid for world supremacy in the First World War. He saw it succeed—almost; then he saw Germany overthrown. He saw the dynasties end, and the dictators appear. At home he saw nineteenth-century England dissolve and twentieth-century England replace it. During all these events he held a cardinal post. He played his part for a quarter of a century in the novel and very trying convention of the British Monarchy, where the King has become the Greek dramatists' Chorus, whose duty also was "to advise, to encourage, and to warn"; and the chorus has undertaken the responsibility of action.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. HAROLD NICOLSON'S book sets itself to cover the King's public life, and the great political issues of his reign—his private life having already been dealt with in the "Personal Memoir," by Mr. John Gore.

The mere catalouge of the Archives of Windsor, thrown open for the purpose of this work, is sufficient testimony to what the wrestle must have been. Imagine any historian, or still more any commentator, with the following papers, to mention no others, spread before him—the documents on the King's childhood and education, the King's own diaries running consecutively for fifty-six years, the Royal correspondence overseas, the Official correspondence, with the records of audiences and interviews, and all the Cabinet papers over the whole reign —to say nothing of the daily confidential House of Commons report by the Prime Minister of the day, or his deputy. This last was discontinued, alas, in 1936 by order of Edward VIII—conceive the wrath of future generations at having lost a daily confidential report by Mr. Churchill on everything from 1940 to 1945—which would have been running again to-day.

The earlier pages describe how King George, from being, as a youth, "inclined to self-approval" and "easily discouraged," developed the categorical sense of duty which became "the fly-wheel of his life." This enables the biography to concentrate thereafter on the contrast between the simple straightness of King George's character and the intricate political fluctuations with which he had to cope.

✧ ✧ ✧

TWO EXAMPLES, both drawn from the earlier years of his reign, must be enough. The King was plunged, from the very hour of his accession, into a constitutional problem which had baffled King Edward VII. and had caused the deepest rift known between the parties for generations. It exposed him to a flood of contradictory advice from every source, reaching down even to that from his Private Secretaries. The first thing was the problem of the Parliament Bill, and whether, if necessary, 500 new Peers should be created to put it through, for which no constitutional precedent existed at all.

But that was only its first aspect. Behind the Parliament Bill was the Home Rule Bill —and there, too, the conflict of opinion was far deeper and graver than that upon the usual party issues. The conflict was at bottom whether Ulsters—or to be blunt, the Loyalists of Northern Ireland—should be included in the jurisdiction of the proposed Irish Parliament. It was useless to talk to the Ulstermen of constitutional safeguards. There was only one safeguard which they recognised: a frontier, and, behind that, rifles. Any other safeguard could be swept away by the same instruments which had created them, namely, pen and ink.

"Who can set limits," Parnell said, "to the march of a nation?" The Ulstermen believed that he meant what he said. Only, this was a nation with which they did not desire to march. Rather, if necessary, they would shoot; and it became horribly probable as the hour of decision came nearer, that they, too, meant what they said.

These were desperate dilemmas for a new King; especially for a King whose constitutional function, as has been quoted above, was to advise, to encourage and to warn — but to go no further.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE KING applied to the various aspects of this problem, in turn, the straight edge of his conception of duty. He agreed to give the Cabinet an understanding that, in the event of the Government obtaining a majority at the forthcoming (the second) General Election, Peers would be created if asked for. He further agreed that this understanding should be kept secret. Lord Knollys, one of his Joint Private Secretaries strongly supported this course. Sir Arthur Bigge, the other, vehemently opposed it. The fact that the pledge was to be kept secret was, in particular, the aspect which caused the King most disquiet. But he thought the general line of action was right. He did not falter. His attitude was decisive.

In the event the Parliament Bill was passed by the Lords by a majority of seventeen, and the forfeit was not exacted. But the effort cost Mr. Balfour, the Conservative leader, his political head. It rent and split his party from top to bottom. But for the outbreak of the First World War no one can say what would have befallen.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE WHOLE Home Rule controversy was shelved by the war. When the question came up again for decision, the Six Counties of Northern Ireland were, almost automatically, given completely separate treatment. But this approach, in turn, split Ireland from end to end. Another war, no trifling affair, was soon in progress there.

The King sought hard for the line of his duty, and at last found it. He had to go to Northern Ireland to open its new Parliament. In his conversations with General Smuts, the idea arose that an attempt should there be made at an appeal for peace to the whole of Ireland. The Prime Minister agreed; the draft Speeches prepared by the Irish Office were put aside, a new Speech was written and spoken. It was well received. The occasion was pressed; the London Conference between British and Irish plenipotentiaries was brought into existence; and before the year was out the Irish Free State was agreed to, by majority vote, both in the British Parliament and in the Irish Dail.

✧ ✧ ✧

THESE TWO examples show that advice, encouragement and warning from the Head of the State may play a part in the life of a people comparable in importance to that of other Estates of the Realm. Mr. Nicolson has thus answered one, at least, of the two questions which he put before himself at the beginning of his book.

The other—"How far did the influence of the Monarchy increase or diminish?"—is more difficult to answer, because it is still in such active flux. During all the period that this book covers, the influence of the Monarchy, as an active participant in affairs, steadily diminished. The influence of the Monarchy as a rallying point steadily increased. The relative importance, in chess, of the King and the other pieces can be the subject of almost theological subtlety of argument. The fact however, remains that without the King the game comes to an end. This might, or might not, be true of the United Kingdom. It certainly holds for the Commonwealth and Empire.

✧ ✧ ✧

THAT, AS THE recent Debates on the Civil List have most clearly shown, has brought the Crown again to a position of the utmost constitutional importance. Its actual influence will be determined by its holder. But, by the end of King George V's long reign, the advice of the Crown was welcomed, its encouragement desired, and its warnings respected in circles far outside those to whom its original authority had appealed.

Mr. Nicolson has traced this progress during twenty-five most troubled years. The landmarks are easy to recognise. The Crown stands, not by cleverness, but by simplicity. For the King is not Superman; the King is Everyman. This was King George's task. Its accomplishment was his strength.

Economic Flexibility

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

THE ABILITY of the flexible economic system of the United States to adjust itself to changing conditions is vividly indicated by the recent experience of the northern textile industry. At the very moment when wages in many industries, notably steel, are rising, wages have been reduced in the textile industry, with the consent of the labour unions.

Some months ago the textile industry found its sales falling off, it was compelled to reduce its operations and some unemployment developed. Highly-priced textiles had priced themselves partially out of the market and some workers out of jobs.

The industry thus faced two alternatives —to maintain its costs and prices and thus to hold down its sales and its employment; or to reduce its costs and prices, sell more goods and create more jobs. The same alternatives undoubtedly will face other industries not long hence. In the case of textiles the wise course was followed, the essential downward readjustment of costs was accepted both by management and labour. About the time when the United States Government was forcing wage and price increase on the steel industry and Mr. Lewis was proposing the same process in the coal industry, the wages of 15,000 northern textile workers were being reduced by 8½ cents an hour, after arbitration proceedings had been accepted by management and labour unions.

Thus within an economy distended and distorted by inflation it is still possible for one segment to accommodate itself peaceably to changed conditions, to deflate its costs when they threaten disaster to owners and workers alike. The northern textile industry has not waited for inflation to run its course into destructive deflation, when goods no longer can be sold because their price is too high. Instead of falling, as it were, out of a tenth-storey window, it has quietly descended the stairs to a level where it can operate successfully, without serious casualties to anyone.

When they face similar conditions later on other industries in North America can wisely observe this example of good sense in management and in labour. If policies of orderly readjustment are not allowed when they become necessary, the end of inflation, as always, will not be an orderly descent but a leap from the rooftop.

Bible Message

From the Authorized Version)

I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last. . . .

And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks; and in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle. . . .

And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not: I am the first and the last: I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amén. (Rev. 1:9-11, 12, 13, 17, 18.)

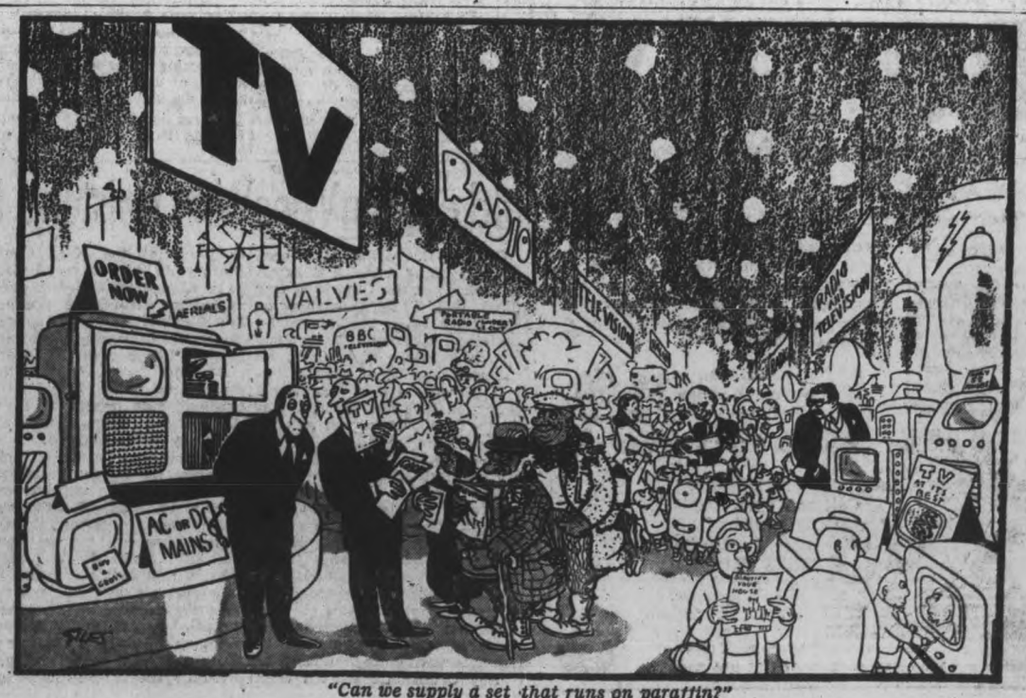
Letter To The Editor

HIGH COST OF SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

Sir.—I believe that the time has come to bring to the front a situation that has become a bugbear.



I and a great many other people have children attending our seat of learning, namely, P.C.V.S., and are subjected from year to year with a growing list of new books to buy. We have, as you undoubtedly know, a very high tax rate to cover, amongst other items, these schools and the supposed education of our children. Should we then have to also shell out $12.00 to $20.00 each year, so that book firms, stationery stores, etc., can also realize a profit?

There are a few examples that I wish to bring to your attention to clarify my dissatisfaction: Grade X Commercial have a "special" geography book to buy which costs, I believe, $1.80. This book has approximately 350 pages. And I'll bet that Grade XI will have to buy another one next year. Perhaps our present day teachers can actually teach 350 pages a year, but I doubt it. Then there is the special penmanship pen costing $3.95. This pen is unique in the fact that it has various nibs that can be used. I might point out that an ordinary pen-holder also uses various nibs and is a lot cheaper and not so easy to lose as the $3.95 sample. Can you imagine over a period of one school term how many of these pens will be lost or mysteriously disappear? I can.

I could list various other examples; but feel that others should also contribute their "beefs."

Thanking you, I am

DISGUSTED PARENT.

A-F-I-E-L-D with NICK NICKELS

THE FALL HARVEST SCENE in the Kawarthas would not be complete without a survey of the wild rice situation. There are two main districts, Rice Lake and Pigeon which, according to on-the-spot reports, show poor and excellent crops, respectively.

Former Chief Norman Marsden of Alnwick, says the beds are very sparse and tribesmen who would gather the grain will find their best chances around Trent Bridge and Healey Falls.

Even if there had been a bumper crop of rice at Rice this year living conditions have changed so at the Alnwick Indian Reservation that wild fowl would have had a feast. Most of the men are employed full time in Toronto, Cobourg and the U.S.A. Consequently, there is steady income at home cabins—electrified with all the gadgets; in addition there are baby bonuses, old age pensions and many natives have become enfranchised.

At Curve Lake Reservation things are not so lush and, besides, the crop is excellent. While watching the annual regatta up there on Labour Day one of the guides told me he had already been out and gathered a bit. It is turning black and will be in picking prime in about a week's time.

The native theory that the growing season must be accompanied by sufficient rainfall didn't work out that way this year. The summer has been dry and yet the yield looks splendid.

Curve Lake rice will bring about $1.25 a pound, storekeeper Cliff Whetung thinks, while Norman Marsden and storekeeper M. D. Brown of Roseneath think the Rice Lake product will bring an even dollar.

Boiled rice with maple syrup and roast black duck with wild rice dressing makes a fellow drool at the very thought of it. Those fortunate tourists who have tasted these luscious Canadian concoctions know that the Kawarthas, as least, can produce typical national dishes. I hope this comes to the attention of spellbinder Leo Dolan of the Dominion Travel Bureau.

WEEKEND WATER TRAVELLERS will have their last chance to use the locking-through service this Sunday from 9 till 5. Following this locks will only be operated during these hours on week days until the general closing of the system for the season around Oct. 15 or shortly after.

One of the FEW COMPENSATIONS that parents can find as the summer play season ends and the school routine starts is a surprise supply of cast-off garments and footwear that their teen-age children thought they had worn out or had become tired of. A bonus of sorts on some of those large clothing bills.

Try as I might I still haven't found any beat-up plastic wallets with a tired old dollar bill or two tucked away in it. But I can dream, can't I?

Firsthand NEWS OF THE SUNSHINE STATE came this week from my swimmin' daughter who arrived home—and down to earth—this week. Her description of where she and her pals stayed at "the world's largest family resort," Ellinor Village at Ormond Beach, showed how an ultra modern tourist resort is operated these days in a very highly-competitive field. That the place is successful business enterprise could be seen by browsing through its 30-page attractive monthly magazine.

Would that our Kawartha resort owners realized the power of advertising,—not in this grand manner but much better than they do now — was as plain as the nose on your face.

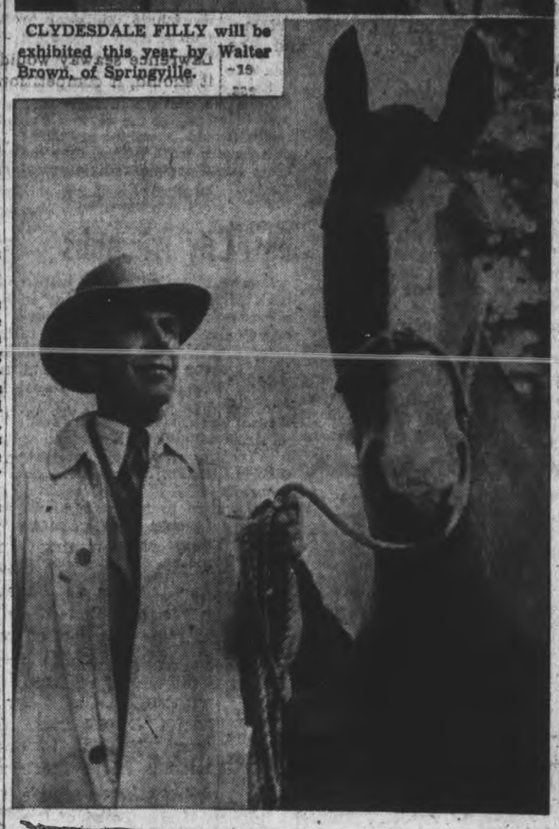
A couple of ancient tall white pines near our house are taking a beating these days from the squirrels. Each morning the grass is covered with hundreds of green cones that the animals have clipped off for winter food. The squirrels spend their days scampering off with them to their private granaries and from the quantities lying about each day the harvest must run well into bushels. It is the pine seeds that are finally stored, of course; it would take a small barn to accommodate the cones as well.

MR. FALL FAIR HIMSELF, Wesley Wilson, of R.R. 4, Omemee, president of both the Emily Agricultural Society and Omemee Horticultural Society, has been exhibiting grain and vegetables at country and national fairs for the past 30 years. Shown this week at his driving shed bench, Mr. Wilson is preparing a fancy sheaf of Cornell wheat for exhibit at more than one show; he will also have entries for timothy hay, oats, barley and some vegetables. His prize squash last year weighed 127 pounds.—(Examiner Staff Photo).



PHLOX FIT FOR A FAIR are being carefully chosen this week by Marion Zufelt, of Omemee (above), from her father's fine garden selection.

BLACKWELL'S GOLDEN LASS (below), a Junior Calf Club calf in 1950, will be shown at fairs this year by owner Carl Sargent, of Ida. — (Examiner Staff Photos).

Hurrah! Fall Fair Time: Preening For Peterborough Ex.

In country kitchens, driving sheds, cattle barns and horse paddocks farmers' wives, their husbands and sons and daughters eye the products of a fruitful harvest.

Did the cucumber pickles turn out well?

If the mare and foal took first place in the Clysdale class at the Millbrook spring livestock show why not enter them again at the fall fair at Warkworth, Norwood, Lakefield, Peterborough?

The fall wheat was exceptionally well-headed and of sturdy stalk. Why not dress up a few sheaves for exhibit? Sleek cattle, sturdy porkers and straight-backed sheep come under strict home criticism.

Yes, they will most certainly enter a few worthy exhibits and pay their entry fees to fair board secretaries on Saturday in the community of their choosing.

Without the enthusiasm of these people who take pride in producing the best, and who feel that theirs is just a little bit better than their neighbours, fall fairs would be nothing but manufacturing exhibits and carnivals.

Many of the people have already been at the mammoth Toronto show covering its hundreds of acres with the latest exhibits. But they found it so vast and tiring, and impersonal.

Small country fairs are social events where old friends meet, where recipes are exchanged, where a man can slap his neighbour on the back and congratulate him on beating him out on a small money prize. Their children gather in groups and race all over the small fair grounds at will without fear of getting lost.

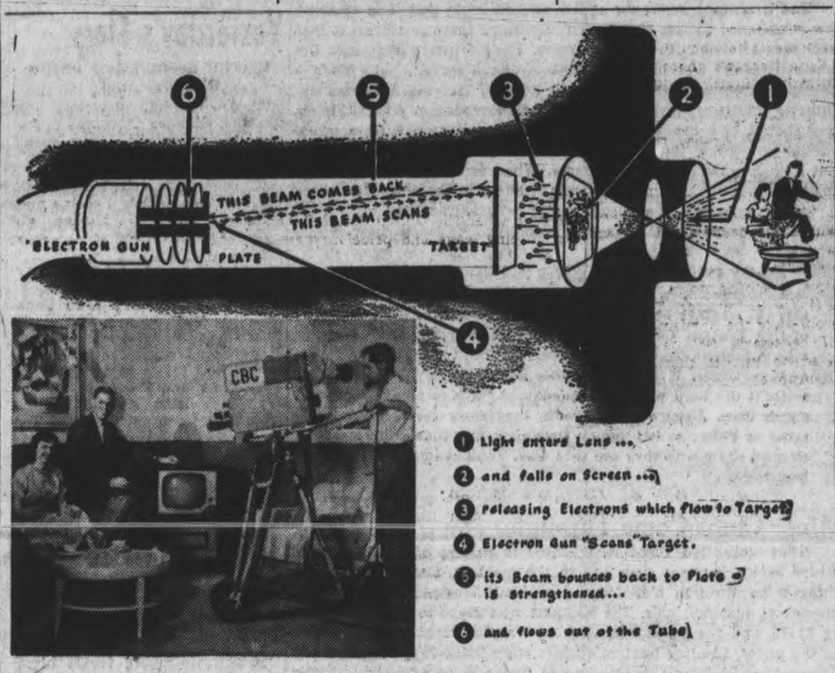
There is none of the anxiety of "meet-me-at-the-fountain". Time is not that important. Folks come early, eat in church tents from heaping plates of home-cooked food and spend the evening on hard seats of rickety grandstands to watch vaudeville turns on quickly-erected stages.

Succulent smells and raucous cries from the midways. The steady drumming of hooves on harness race tracks. Gabbling fowl. Lowing cattle and nickering horses. Judges with canes walking about importantly and conferring mysteriously together. The brilliant display of fireworks that momentarily thrills the sleepy-eyed children, and their elders.

Country fall fairs are just as much part-pattern of the Canadian way of life as death and taxes. And much more fun.

The countrys' biggest Fall Fair, so big and urban that it has been called in other years an Industria Exhibition, is the Peterborough Exhibition, which opens on Wednesday. There is considerable emphasis on commercial and industrial exhibits, as befits a city fair and a big midway and big grandstand performance. But the Peterborough Exhibition continues to stem from the grass roots from which it sprang in the last century.

The 1952 committee names show this: Heavy Horses, Light Horses, Race Horses, Ringmaster, Dairy Cattle, Beef Cattle, Sheep and Swine, Poultry, Agriculture, Honey, Home Department, Horticulture. These form the bulk of the committees; the others are Finance, Executive and Property, Publicity, Amusement, Manufacturers, Concessions and Midway, Junior Department, Health and Sanitation, Parking, Education.



The Prize List offers premiums of $17,000.

So the Peterborough Fair is both an Exhibition, not vying with Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition, but of similar features; and it is also a Fall Fair, with the flavor that smaller Fall Fairs in the county and district offer so well during these two months.

DIE BUT ONCE

Men that look no further than their outsides, think health an appurtenance unto life, and quarrel with their constitutions for being sick; but I that have examined the parts of man, and know upon what tender filaments that Fabric hangs, do wonder that we are not always so; and considering the thousand doors that lead to death, do thank my God that we can die but once.

Sir Thomas Browne.

THE TV CAMERA works something like the human eye. Light from the studio scene is focussed on a sensitized surface in the tube. When the light strikes this photo-electric surface, it sends millions of electrons flowing to the target plate. The electrical components of the picture image are scanned or picked off one by one by the electron gun. Thirty complete elctronic images or pictures are released from the tube each second—a pace much too rapid for the human eye to separate on the television screen when the image is received. In the above photo the camera scans a scene in the new CBC studios.

And Now TV: Here's How It Works

With television broadcasting scheduled to begin in Montreal today and Toronto on Monday, thousands of Canadians are interested in what makes TV tick.

Exactly how, they ask, can an actor's voice and image be carried instantaneously through space to be heard and seen clearly in thousands of homes?

The process may be likened to the function performed by the human eye, according to John D. Campbell, Appliance-Electronics general manager, Canadian Westinghouse Company Limited.

Let's imagine ourselves as spectators in a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation studio at either Montreal of Toronto. A play is in progress and the camera focuses on the scene.

TUBE LIKE EYE

In this camera is a tube which works something like the human eye. Light from the scene is focused on a sensitized surface in the tube as your eye focuses light on its retina.

The television image falls on millions of electrons of the sensitized surface which, because it is photoelectric, throws off electric charges whenever light strikes it.

Shaded portions of the image produce but little electrical energy on this surface, while lighter portions produce a greater energy.

The potential or "charge" over the surface varies exactly as do the gradations of light which form the image.

Thus the electrical image is broken down into some 300,000 parts by scanning. The electrical components of the image are scanned or picked off one by one, just as your eye is scanning this article—a letter or word at a time.

30 IMAGES A SECOND

So rapidly does electricity travel—186,000 miles a second—that the scanning takes place almost instantaneously, points out Mr. Campbell. Thirty complete electronic images, or pictures, a second, are released from the tube and transmitted by the television station.

Each image is a single-file parade of electrons that form the same electronic pattern somewhere else.

Between the studio and your home, the visual signal travels by one path, the audio by another, usually going by cable from the studio to the transmitter where it is broadcast.

When the television electrons reach the antenna of your set, the process of reconverting them into the original light impulses resumes.

This is accomplished with a long-stemmed tube shaped like a funnel. It is the cathode ray tube commonly referred to as a picture tube.

CATHODE RAY TUBE

This tube uses the camera tube process in reverse. It receives millions of electrons in the same order as sent from the camera pickup tube.

The electrons enter the receiving tube at its narrow end, where an "electron gun" sprays out a stream of electrons representing the dissected pieces as they left the camera.

Mr. Campbell said, "These electrons shoot from the gun toward the large, flat end of the tube, which is covered with a fluorescent material."

The nature of this material is such that, when the electrons strike it, a pin point of light appears—a bright dot where they strike with great power, a darker one where they strike with less power.

Coils of wire, carrying electrical current circle the cathode ray tube too. Just as coils create magnetic force to control the scanning in the camera tube, so they control and aim the electrons shot from the gun in the receiving tube.

DOT AFTER DOT

Synchronized with the scanning in the camera tube, the gun's stream of electrons projects dot after dot, row after row (525 to each picture) on the fluorescent end of the tube so that the picture appearing on your set's screen is identical with the scene in the studio.

A series of 30 pictures is reproduced every second.

Since your eyes work far too slowly to distinguish 30 pictures in one second, what you see on the face of the receiving tube is a smooth, continuous action—clear in outline, details and motion.

Television appears fairly simple today, especially when a person may sit comfortably in his home and see an event taking place hundreds of miles away. Almost forgotten now are the decades of research performed by pioneer groups, which made television possible.

Your Garden:

Critical Time For Roses: Fungi, Suckers, Cutting

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

This is a critical time of the year when rose plants need protection. Heat and humidity are prime factors for the rapid development of black-spot and mildew.

It would not be unusual to have your rose garden looking in top condition when you left on vacation and come home in two or three weeks and find it almost defoliated.

Much has been written before that Bordeaux is a highly effecient fungicide but the chief drawback against its use is the discoloration it leaves on the foliage. The old gardner suggests that before you leave on vacation you change to Fermate and give your plants a thorough spraying.

"Would you know how to tell a sucker rose if you saw one?" asks Paul R. Bosley, the noted rose specialist. From now on, writes Bosley, you will find your rose plants throwing up strong, heavy canes from the base of the plant. These will frequently top all others in height and look somewhat different from the other canes.

This is very desirable growth that means the plant renews itself. The foliage will very often have a red bronzy appearance; there may not be the same number of leaflets and the distance between leaf joints is greater than on the balance of the plant, but all of these things are characteristic of these new basal breaks. Don't cut this cane off because from it you will get some of the finest blooms of the season.

Should you have true sucker (understock) growth, you will find that the stem will be small and willow-like and the leaves will be light green in color, fine in texture and entirely different from the other foliage.

If you examine the plant you will find that a true sucker growth would come from a point distinctly below where the plant was originally budded or grafted. If you do have a sucker, then clean the ground away from the plant, so that it will be easy to break or tear this core-like base growth out of the base. Cutting off this growth just encourages more suckers.

The problem of keeping cut roses fresh looking for several days is well answered by Bosley. Rule No. 1 is to go into the garden with a pan of fresh water and cut the stems in water immediately after cutting them. Carry your pan with you and put each rose in as it is cut.

It is a good practice to cut your roses in the cool of the morning and always far enough in advance of when you wish to use them to allow them to stand for a couple of hours in deep, cool water (a few ice cubes will stiffen them up quickly if you are in a hurry). Putting cut coses in the refrigerator in water at night will lengthen the life of the flowers.

...before leaving on vacation to reduce spread of black spot and mildew.

Gardening Questions

Q—How late in the season should roses be sprayed?

A—Continue dusting or spraying roses against insects and diseases until cold weather sets in. Use an all-purpose mixture containing fermate. It is especially effective against black spot, a troublesome fungus disease nearly everywhere.

Q—Why are some trees more attractive to bolts of lightning than others?

A—The following trees are most likely to be struck by lightning because of the nature of their bark surface, the apparent water content in their internal structure, and their height: oak, elms, locusts, hickory, tulip tree, poplar, spruce and pine. The large tree least likely to be struck is the beech.

Q—Does sawdust provide a good fertilizer for a planting of rhododendrons?

A—Sawdust has virtually no fertilizing value. Fresh sawdust contains about 10 pounds unavailable plant nutrients per ton of air-dry materials. However its use as a mulch or adding to the soil as recommended—but a fertilizer strong in nitrogen should be mixed with it.

Q—How can we get rid of crickets and ants in the house?

A—DDT will control household crickets. Spray with a 5 per cent solution around the baseboards, door sills and along the edges of the rugs. If ants are causing annoyance use a 2 per cent chlordane solution.

Peterborough Boys Take Two Lacrosse Series From Brampton Squads

Peterborough bantam and juvenile "A" lacrosse teams downed Brampton squads here last night to win their O.L.A. series and advance in provincial playdowns. It is not known yet whether these were Ontario quarter-finals or semi-finals. The local bantams, coached by Gary Robinson and managed by Ed Woodcock, won 21-10 to take the round by a 31-15 score. The juveniles, under Coach Doug Miller Jr., with Bert Chapman the manager, trimmed the B's by 16-7 to take their series by a 30-16 count. The home bantam crew took a 2-1 margin in the first quarter, made it 9-3 at the half and led 16-6 going into the fourth quarter. They dished up some smart lacrosse in a clean fray, the winners drawing three of the four penalties in the game. The goaltending was good, and the victors checked well, besides passing the ball around, with the scoring being well divided.

LED THE WAY

Four goals each were notched for the Petes by Fergy Ferguson, Ron Jay and Dicky Pace, with Larry Lawrence getting three and Paul Parnell two. Singles went to Gord Perry, Ricky Atkinson, Cyril Coombes and Les Scharf. Ferguson also had three assists, Bill Mahoney two, and Pat Baker, Perry and Jay one each. For the losers, Dave Foster and Ken Richardson notched three each, and Bill Carter and Gen Mamada two apiece, the latter and John Cobean getting one assist, and Foster and Bert Naylor two each. Teams:

Brampton: Savage, Morris, Rawson, Foster, Naylor, Mullis, Core, Cobean, Carter, Hamada, Thompson, Shaw, Gills, Garbutt.

Petes: Baker, Perry, Atkinson, Lawrence, English, Pace, Jay, Coombes, Scharf, Parnell, Ferguson, Mahoney, Hawthorne Robinson, Strano.

Referees: B. Hill and F. Dalzell.

JUVENILE GAME

It was 4-1 for the local juves in the initial innnig, 10-3 for them at the half and 13-5 to wind up the third quarter. This game was rougher, with the winners drawing eight of the 15 penalties, which included a major to Brampton and a misconduct to the same side. With a few seconds left to play, a free-for-all broke out as several players tangled, and the refs broke it up and called the game. Peterborough earned the win handily all the way. Sean Rea was hurt in the final fray and had to be helped off.

Bob Curtis and Bob Allan sparked the home attack with five-point efforts, the former scoring four and aiding on one, and the latter notching a pair and helping on three. Two goals each went to Jim Sutherland, Bob Hobart and Doug Hunt, and one apiece to Don Scriver, Jack Ferran, Lionel Blom and Jack Chapman. The latter did some neat checking too. Bloom had two assists, Hunt two, with Sutherland, Jack Hobart and Art Batley—who showed some nifty running—getting one apiece.

Husky Ted Robinson shone for the losers with four goals, as Mac Island, Bob Morris and Dean Reid got the others, Sean Rea having an assist. Teams:

Brampton: J. Thompson, G. Thompson, Robinson, Cannons, Reid, Inscoe, Sheffield, Finnegan, Griffith, Page, Carter, Morris, Rea, Island.

Petes: Simmons, Chapman, Batley, J. Hobart, Sutherland, Allan, Braniff, Bloom, Mongraw, R. Hobart, Ferran, Curtis, Hunt, Scriver.

Referees: F. Dalzell and B. Hill.

Fergus Gives Canadians Pattern In Swimming Pool

By NANCY CLEAVER

"FERGUS GIRL, 16, CAPTURES TITLE IN FIRST PROFESSIONAL SWIM — HER PRIZE $1,650!"

The headlines announced on the front page of the newspaper the day after the annual C.N.E. Womens' Swim Contest. Shirley Campbell led all other competitors in this three-mile swim with her fast 66 strokes-a-minute style.

Fergus is our "home town" and we have watched this new women's champion, who has suddenly become famous practising her strokes under the direction of her coach, Bert Crockett.

The Pool at Fergus, Ontario, provides a pattern which is worth a "second look"—not only for sports lovers, but for public-minded citizens who are interested in the training and the safety of boys and girls.

It is very interesting to see that the Fergus Pool this summer has not concentrated on just one top-notch swimmer. When Shirley Campbell showed her calibre on the first Saturday of the "Ex." by winning the one-mile women's senior amateur swim and the Ross Gold Trophy, second place in this contest was also won by a Fergus swimmer.

Doreen Howatt scored first in the Junior Mile C.N.E. race. In the Olympic trials earlier in the season four second places were won by swimmers from Fergus.

SERVES RURAL AREA ALSO

The Fergus Pool serves not only the town of Fergus but the surrounding area as well. Many rural parents have the good sense to see to it that their youngsters get in regularly to the pool for fun and instruction. Just two weeks ago a friend on a farm five miles out of the town wrote me:

"It has been blistering hot but we have taken the truck, filled it up with kids, and all had a refreshing swim in the Fergus Pool."

This Pool is centrally located, just one block from the Main Street. If you are motoring through Fergus, ask any man, woman or child "Where is the Swimming Pool?" and you will receive immediate, clear directions. A great many tourists park just beyond the bridge over the Grand River, near the Groves Memorial Hospital, and watch the tiny tots in the Beginners' Pool, in the Beginners' Pool, or the swimmers and divers in the Big Pool have the time of their lives. Quite a few vacationists pause long enough for a swim themselves. The Fergus Pool is a friendly place and folk have happy memories of their visit there.

Not long ago the proud claim was made that every ablebodied school-age child in Fergus, because of the excellent system of swimming instruction at the Pool, could swim. This certainly is an achievement. What proportion of the boys and girls in your district can swim? Have you any idea if it is anywhere near this record? Just think how many swimming fatalities would be avoided if more Community Pools would aim at this amazing goal. Do you know that in a recent twelve-month period in Canada there were over one thousand lives lost in swimming accidents?

DESERVES CREDIT

In producing not one champion, but several prize winners, in serving not just the town but the countryside as well, in being a real tourist attraction, and last but perhaps most important of all, in being the training ground for a whole generation of young water-lovers, the Fergus Pool deserves real credit. What about the swimming facilities in your community? It may or may not be coaching champions, but does your pool attract swimmers from a distance, and do all the able-bodied youngsters in your area receive instruction in swimming?

"Every Canadian child at home in the water!" is a slogan worth your adopting. The efficiency of the swimming program and the swimming facilities of a town or city concern every public-minded citizen. This is not just the concern of athletes and sports lovers, but it is every person's business.

Your pool may not become famous as the training ground for a national champion. But, if enough men and women believe that every child should learn to swim, it can do a grand job by teaching boys and girls this essential skill for happy and safe vacation days.

How many human "fish" are there in your community?

African Invitation Refused By Teams

TORONTO (CP)—An invitation for a Canadian girls' softball team to visit South Africa is going begging.

Rhoda Barry of Pretoria, South Africa, arrived here this week to try to line up a team to journey to her native land for an exhibition tour.

So far none of the softballers here has accepted. Miss Barry says lack of money is the reason. The teams would have to pay their own fare to South Africa, then the hosts would pay the remaining expenses.

East City Triumphs

Immaculate Conception turned back St. John's 7-1 Thursday in a Parish Softball League encounter. Guerin held the Saints to three hits in the five frames and fanned seven in a fine showing, issuing four walks. The losers' lone run was a homer by Prindible in the fifth. The winners scored six in a big first frame aided by four walks, and they got their other in the third. Snape Sr. got two hits to lead them, as they were limited to four safe blows, but drew seven walks, as six fanned. Teams:

I.C.: Snape Sr., c; Donoghue, 1b; Bacon, lf; Sullivan, 3b; Snape Jr., ss; Deal, cf; Heffernan, rf; Towns, 2b; Guerin, p.

St. John's: Buckley, 2b; Drummond, c; Prindible, 3b; Corbett, lf; Woodhouse, p,c; Phillips, ss, p; Loucks, rf; Moher, cf; Allen, 1b.

Last-Minute Touch Gives Sarnia Victory

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia Wild Cats came through with an unconverted touchdown in the dying minutes here last night to edge Kitchener-Waterloo Rams 17-13 in the opening game of the intermediate Ontario Rugby Football Union western conference.

Sarnia quarter Tom Harris returned a Karl Lotzke kick from the Rams' 50-yard line and when Lotzke tried to boot the ball out Sarnia recovered on the Rams' one yard line. Harris plunged over for the winning major.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Football has a great many autumn followers, it being a colorful, tricky and hard-hitting game. A real man's game. Yet a great many fans actually know very little of the fine points of football. The whole setup is based on deception and surprise. If an opposing team doesn't know what you're doing, then how can John P. Phan up in the stands understand? However, anyone can enjoy the thrill of a swell piece of broken-field running, a long completed forward pass, a hefty hoof or a smashing tackle. Phooey to the fundamentals, most folks think, as they settle back to see the big-shouldered boys start pounding away at each other.

* * * * * *

As Al Rose remarked the other day: "The main thing is to watch the officials. They give signals to tell the announcer why the official picks up the ball and takes a stroll that looks like he is on a constitutional ordered by the physician. Boldly he plops the ball down and, after his peregrination, makes some movements with his arms. The perspiring athletes catch up with him again and kneel down for another impasse. This is as clear as mud to the average fan and, when it rains before or during the game, is much muddier. We had to tell one fan why those officials wore striped shirts and white pants. She was surprised to learn they were not participants. 'They had the ball more than the players, didn't they?' she asked. Was she ever right. 'They were the best ground-gainers on the field,' she added, with some decibels."

How Those Figures Differ!

The Brantford scrivener added as a footnote that it is amazing how attendance figures change. The Redskins there broadcast it that 3,000 fans attended the opening game. Park officials later said the paid attendance was just over 1,700. Quite a spread, huh? Such a discrepancy occurs at times, too, in hockey, lacrosse and baseball. Clubs do not always give out with the paid attendance. When they do, they should give exact figures. After all, players on a team might wonder how come their cut is rather small when 'twas announced that a huge crowd viewed the game. When a club is in the red, officials make it out to some thousands of bucks in the hole. When they do well in a season, they usually say: "It was tough going but we made it this year—broke even, or a bit better." Vague, y'know.

Petes' Timbermen have girded their loins, ate their honey and promised to wind it up tonight. They're off to St. Kitts this aft, weather being oke, for the fourth fray of their best-of-five Eastern Canada senior lacrosse playdowns. If they take it tonight, that's it. They can rest then for a bye into E. Canada finals. If they drop this decision, they'll have to settle it the hard way here Monday. A "win or else" proposition then. Mimico and Toronto lead their series by 2-1, same as Petes, so it's money time now, the time when real champs show why they are that way. Tonight's game will be broadcast.

Minor Clubs Come Through

That well-oiled P.M.L.A. machine is paying off, and a lot of future senior lacrosse stars are in the making. Two of our minor clubs came through o'er lacrosse-minded Brampton last p.m. in provincial quarter-finals. The bantams won 21-10 to take the round by 31-15, and the juves banked a 16-7 victory into a 30-16 payoff on the series. Leading bantam snipers were Pace, Jay, Ferguson and Lawrence, with Fergy outstanding to figure in on seven goals. Best for the juvenile lads were Allan, Curtis, Hunt and Sutherland, but several more were close behind. Both goalies went good, and the teams appeared well coached. The boys are coming right along.

There was no C.O.B.L. semi-final playoff last eve, the clubs agreeing to take a night off to rest from their rather strenuous series. Kingston Monarchs took the last one 8-2 for a 2-1 edge in the best-of-five sawoffs, and they resume tonight in the Limestone City, barring rain. A fifth, if needed, will be held Monday. So that means, regardless of tonight's outcome, the loop finals with the idle Petes won't commence here before Tuesday night next week. That's the word we get from Secretary George Carver of Bella Villa. No word yet on our next O.B.A. junior joust with Oshawa, and nothing to hand on P.M.B.A. playoffs. Oshawa Merchants held a farewell party the other night ere they left for their U.S.A. homes.

Belleville Redmen Downed 8-2 By Kingston

BELLEVILLE — The Kingston Monarchs took a 2-1 lead in their best-of-five Central Ontario Baseball League semi-final with Belleville Redmen Thursday night on an 8-2 victory at Exhibition Park.

Monarchs took advantage of seven walks and three hits in the second and third innings to pile up a commanding 6-0 lead. Norm Harry went all the way on the hill for the winners and kept his hits well scattered. He struck out five. Playing-coach Joe Levandoski rapped out two singles for the winners, while every player with exception of catcher Clarke Carnegie had at least one hit. Tony Pettitt and Dick Fitzpatrick each had a pair of singles for the Redmen, while Sam Mulholland doubled. Fourth game will be in Kingston Saturday night.

Boxing Assoc. Has Conference In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Boxing Association opens its 33rd annual convention here tomorrow.

It is expected that at least part of the discussions during the Sept. 7-10 meeting will revolve around the setting up of a uniform scoring system and a possible international agreement with the British Boxing Board of Control on championship ratings.

Another angle in the minds of many of the delegates will undoubtedly be the split of the United States boxing world into two segments.

On one side is the N.B.A. with its affiliated states and on the other the New York State Athletic Commission, the only important state that doesn't belong to the national association.

New York may recognize a "world champion" not recognized anywhere else, or recognize a boxer suspended in the rest of the U. S.

Apart from the open differences between the two bodies there are also differences within the N.B.A. itself.

This is a result of the use of different scoring systems and will probably get lots of consideration at the convention.

STUKUS EXPLAINS ALL

TORONTO (CP)—Annis Stukus, football writer who used to play and coach the game, has an explanation for some almost incredible forward-pass statistics that appeared in accounts of early-season football games.

The trouble, Stukus wrote in the Toronto Star yesterday, is that some statisticians are improperly counting the new screen pass as a forward—which it isn't.

At the Big Four opener at Montreal Aug. 27 between Alouettes and Ottawa Rough Riders, the official statistician reported 102 forward passes attempted and 65 completed. Other observers offered more credible statistics (there are about 125 plays in an average football game such as 41 passes and completions.

Stukus, who coached Edmonton Eskimos for three seasons, notes that in the western union's opener between Edmonton and Regina Aug. 23 the official figure-keeper showed Edmonton with 24 completions in 33 passes. Then someone discovered that 18 of the completions were actually screen passes.

The screen pass has two similarities with the forward: It is thrown overhand to the receiver and if it is incomplete it costs a down like an incomplete forward.

There the similarity ends. The screen pass is an offside pass behind the line of scrimmage. Stukus describes it as an overhand pitch-out, a legal offside pass. If incomplete, the ball is scrimmaged from the point at which the pass was thrown providing the attacking side recovers possession. If the behind-the-line pass is complete, blocking is permitted for 10 yards—but the gain is properly credited to rushing, not passing.

TWO DODGERS FINED

BOSTON (AP)—Warren Giles, president of the National League, yesterday fined Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn Dodgers and warned manager Charley Dressen to take steps to protect himself and his players from serious entanglements with umpires. Campanella was fined $100 for an argument with umpire Frank Secory that resulted in his ejection from Thursday night's game with Boston Braves. Robinson was fined $75 for having words with Larry Goetz after the game.

3 UP IN GOLF TOURNEY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Jim Ferrier fired a 67 yesterday to lead the $15,000 Empire State Open golf tournament with a 10-under-par 130 at the halfway mark. The former Australian was three-up on his nearest competitors — Sam Snead, Armand Farina and Mike Turnesa.

Dykes Awarded Split Decision Over Gil Turner

NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp-shooting Bobby Dykes of Miami blazed from behind last night to squeeze out a split decision over Gil Turner of Philadelphia in a rip-roaring 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Dykes, an 8-to-5 underdog, weighed 151 to Turner's 150¼.

Floored in the fifth round for a count of eight, Dykes came on to chop out his victory in a thunderous finish.

Referee Petey Scalzo and Judge Harold Barnes each voted for Dykes, 5-4-1. Judge Jack Gordon scored for Turner 5-4-1. The Associated Press scorecard had Dykes in front 6-4.

The southerner, in scoring his seventh straight victory since he was outpointed by welterweight champion Kid Gavilan last February, took all Turner had to offer and replied with short, accurate punches that took its toll of the sturdy, 21-year-old Negro.

Dykes opened a cut over Turner's left eye in the third round, tore a gash over Gil's right cheekbone in the fifth, and had him bleeding from the mouth in the last two rounds.

Good Season Or Fold Prospect For Ghosts

COBOURG — Potentially this is the greatest team Cobourg ever fielded. Barring accidents, we'll go a long, long way," declared Cobourg Galloping Ghost president Fred Dutton today as the Gallopers gathered for the final time before the big game here today with Oshawa Red Raiders.

Dutton, anxious to see the answer to the problem of keeping football in Cobourg, did not mince words when he spoke of the team strength. Pointing to the new lineup and coach, Art West, he declared, "It's a good team, a strong team, and we will win."

Reason behind the president's anxiety, and the all along the line strengthening of the Ghosts this year, is said to be the sure knowledge that a "bad season" will close football up in Cobourg.

Art West was not as optimistic as President Dutton in his statement on today's game. He declared, "I am most anxious to win the Oshawa game and get the club started off on the right track." Further West would not go, but admitted that the team would likely be at full strength.

Meanwhile, the Ghosts heard good news from two important members of the squad who are playing baseball with Port Hope Ontarios in the O.B.A. Intermediate B playoffs. The two, star end Bill Douglas and half Karl Lenahan, declared they would play with the Ghosts and miss the Saturday playoff at Milton. It was good news to Coach West, since Douglas, a big, burly, fast-moving end, is an important cog in the Ghost aerial offensive, and last year came through with important touchdowns in Cobourg's crucial games.

Lenahan has been prominent in all backfield strategy during the month-long practice sessions.

Demand for tickets indicates a sellout crowd of 2,000 will watch the Ghosts start the season.

Durocher's Enthused Giants Edge Phillies 5-4; Brooklyn Bows To Braves

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

They laughed in Brooklyn the other day when Leo Durocher said: "If we win it again 100,000 people will commit suicide." Today Dodger fans are alarmed but nobody's thinking of jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge yet. The Dodgers, who blew a 13½-game National League lead to the Giants last year, led by six games. The margin could be reduced to one game by Tuesday morning, but the Giants would have to sweep a five-game series opening at the Polo Grounds today with a doubleheader. They clash in a single game Sunday and close out the vital series with a day-night twin bill Monday.

GIANTS TRIM PHILS

Durocher's enthused Giants beat Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 yesterday as Brooklyn suffered a 3-1 beating at the hands of Boston Braves. In the loop's only night game, Wilmer Mizell pitched St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

While Giant fans were dreaming of another miracle run for the pennant, rooters in Cleveland were getting excited over the Indians' chances of ending New York's three-year reign as American League champions.

Early Wynn and Luke Easter teamed up to lead the pennant-hungry Indians to a 3-0 victory over Chicago White Sox in the circuit's only night activity. The win clashed the Yanks' lead to 2½ games as the bombers dropped a 3-2 squeaker to Philadelphia Athletics.

Washington defeated punchless Boston 2-0 to run its winning streak to six games and extend the Red Sox' losing skein to seven.

SAME NOW AS '51

Just a year ago the Dodgers and Giants were in the same spot as today. Both had played 130 games and had 24 to play with Brooklyn holding a six-game lead.

Rookie Bill Connelly (3-0) and Max Lanier (7-11) or Jim Hearn (12-6) will pitch for the Giants today against Carl Erskine (11-5) and Johnny Rutherford (5-5).

Eight inning home runs by Bob Thomson and pinch-hitter Clint Hartung off Jim Konstanty were the deciding factors in the Giants' conquest of the Phils. Hartung connected with two out and Wes Westrum aboard to win the game.

The veteran battery of Jim Wilson and Walker Cooper spoiled the major league debut of Dodger lefty Ken Lehman. Wilson limited the Brooks to six hits in gaining his 12th victory and also contributed two singles to Boston's attack. Cooper won the game with a two-run double in the third inning.

WYNN STARS

Wynn turned in a sparkling four-hitter in besting the White Sox and Billy Pierce before 20,307 fans at Cleveland. Pierce allowed only four hits in the seven innings he toiled but he surrendered them all in the fourth inning which Easter climaxed with his three-run homer. The homer was the first of big Luke's major league career off Pierce.

Wildness on the part of Bob Kuzava and Johnny Sain ruined the Yanks at Philadelphia. Kuzava walked the first three A's he faced in the sixth inning with the score tied, 1-1. Sain took over and Billy Hitchcock beat out an infield hit to drive in the tie-breaking run.

Red Wings Clip Ottawa In Twin Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rochester Red Wings are guaranteed at least a tie for third place in the International League, thanks partly to the no-hit, no-run game hurled by little Jackie Collum against Ottawa.

The five-foot, 7½-inch southpaw last night turned in the circuit's fourth no-hitter of the season, in blanking the Athletics 9-0 after the Wings had taken the opener 11-6.

Other no-hitters this year were pitched by Charlie Bishop of Ottawa, now with Philadelphia Athletics, and Wayne McLeland and Duke Marlowe of Buffalo.

Collum set down 22 straight batters before passing Nel Watlington. The only other member of the Ottawa team to reach first was pinch-hitter Bill Hockenbury in the ninth. He got there on an error.

LEAFS TWO BEHIND

With only one game remaining, the Wings lead fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs by two games. The Leafs, who whipped the pennant-winning Montreal Royals twice, 2-1 and 7-4 in 15 innings, have three games left to play. The regular season ends Sunday.

Syracuse's Chiefs, with second place clinched, scored their 19th shutout of the season when Bobo Holloman limited Baltimore Orioles to three hits for a 1-0 victory.

In the league's other games, the cellar-dwelling Springfield Cubs received two neat pitching jobs from young Don Vike and veteran Wes Carr to post a pair of 1-0 victories.

Yorks Eliminate Hamilton 15-7

HAMILTON (CP)—Toronto West Yorks last night eliminated Hamilton from the Ontario Lacrosse Association's senior playoffs by defeating the Tigers 15-7. The victory gave the Yorkers a 3-1 edge in games in the best-of-five series.

Nick Ferrie sparked the West Yorkers' attack with four goals. Leo Teatero and Don McPhail each scored three with Jim McNulty, Stew Scott, Jack Kapasky, Bruce Webster and Frank Facto netting one each.

High scorer for Hamilton was Doug Davidson with three. Jack Dorney scored twice with Elmer and Bill Rankin each netting one.

Stengel Reads Riot Act First Time In Four Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Casey Stengel read the riot act to his players last night for the first time in his four-year tenure as manager of New York Yankees.

Stengel gave the players a tongue lashing in a railroad dining car en route here after dropping a 3-2 decision to Philadelphia Athletics.

"Who won today?" he thundered. "If you want to play any quiz games, I've got a game for you. Each one of you asks himself: 'Who am I. What did I do to earn my salary today?'

"You can't depend on the White Sox, the Browns or some other club to win the pennant for you. A game like today's is going to cost each man $6,000. Cut out the nonsense and start thinking seriously about baseball."

Stengel sat down and resumed eating. Then, silently, players finished their meal and trooped out of the car without a word.

Mulloy Stops Rosewall In Tough Duel

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy yesterday kept alive the hopes of the United States in the U. S. men's singles tennis championships by turning back Australia's wonder boy, Ken Rosewall, in a marathon duel 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

The 17-year-old Rosewall, who Thursday scored an upset over the No. 1 U. S. player, Vic Seixas, found his fine game slowed to a walk by the cagey, smooth-stroking Mulloy.

Two Australians, defending champion Frank Sedgman and Mervyn Rose, pounded their way into the semi-finals.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Sedgman, who has not yet come even close to losing a set in five matches, smacked out another convincing victory over the Australians' other fine 17-year-old, Lewis Hoad, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3. Rose also claimed a straight-set victim in big Dick Savitt, No. 2 U. S. star, 6-3, 8-6, 8-6, in a stadium duel between two of the world's hardest hitters.

In the mixed doubles the Aussie pair of Mrs. Thelma Long and Hoad eliminated Mrs. Lucile Davidson, Lee's Summit, Mo., and Brendan Macken of Montreal in the third round 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Was David Saint or Sinner?

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The answer to the question: "Was King David of Israel saint or sinner?" is, obviously, that he was both.

That David was a sinner is certainly obvious. The adulterous affair with Bathsheba was sordid enough. It involved also the virtual murder of Uriah in getting rid of her wronged husband.

And that involvement with Bathsheba, despite the "glory of Solomon" as a child of that union, had sordid and tragic consesequences. There was violence and tragedy in the family of David, apart from the ultimate tragedy of the rebellion on the death of Solomon, and the division of the kingdom.

Bathsheba apparently had no responsibility for the rebellion of Absolom against his father, nor does she seem to have been responsible for Absolom's murder of his half-brother Amnon, in revenge for the latter's dishonoring of Absolom's sister, Tamar. But there were evidently intrigues at court and in the family, in which Bathsheba was involved.

She seems to have been responsible for the killing of Adonijah, who after the death of Absolom was the rightful heir to the throne (I. Kings 2: 15). She seems to have planned Adonijah's death, or at least to have consented to it to make sure of her son Solomon's ascendancy.

If some of the earlier Psalms attributed to David were actually written by him, they show a sincerely worshipful spirit and a zeal for righteousness as well as contrition.

Only a man with a deeply reverential and worshipful feeling could have poured out on the ground as an oblation to the Lord, the water from the well of Bethlehem which three of his mighty men risked their lives to bring him (II. Samuel 23: 13-17).

A casual wish for a drink from the well of his boyhood, such as anybody might have expressed on a hot day, sent these three loyal followers, unknown to David, upon that dangerous mission. He was appalled with deep humility at their deed. The water was as their very life-blood, and he could think of it only as something holy.

The other greatly noble aspect of David as in his attitude toward the prophet Nathan who, with great boldness and courage, brought home to him his sin, "thou art the man!" (II. Samuel 12: 7).

These and similar incidents reveal the dual character of David and the goodness dominant over the evil. That a warrior and "man of blood"" should have had such elements of goodness and gentleness does not mark him as exceptional. Nelson, Britain's indomitable, fighting admiral would encourage a timid midshipman by racing him to the top of the masthead, and showing him there was nothing to fear.

Though no evil such as was in David stained their lives, Lincoln and Lee who bore beyond others the tragedy of the Civil War, were men of inherent goodness and gentleness. So, in David, despite his sin, was a fineness of quality that underlies his place in history and religion.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CV. No. 56 SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1952 PRICE TEN CENTS

MAIN STREET TOPICS

STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Condition of Clare Keown, 23, of Woodville, who was critically injured July 26 in a motor crash on Highway 28, remains unchanged. Keown has not yet regained consciousness after 42 days. Three others were seriously hurt and two women were killed in the crash, which took place near Springville.

HIT-RUN DAMAGE

A 1951 car owned by Murray Manley of Bewdley was damaged Friday night by a hit-and-run driver. Manley parked his car on the east side of Park St. just south of Brock St., went out later to find a dent on the left rear door and fender. Constable Dennis Traynor investigated.

CONDITION IMPROVES

John Alphonse Shevlin, 55, of 303 Frederick Ave., injured Tuesday in a two-car crash north of Maynooth, is said today to be in a satisfactory condition. Unconscious for some time after the crash, Shevlin has regained consciousness and was able to be up for a short time Friday. His nephew, Gordon O'Brien, 25, died of injuries received in the crash.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

Bruce Cooke of Havelock, 17, a last year's student at Campbellford high school, has been accepted by the Royal Military College at Kingston and awarded a scholarship of $580 by the Ontario Canteen Fund. In his Grade XIII subjects he obtained honors in all papers with four firsts.

PLAYER INJURED

Sean Rea, 17-year-old forward for the Brampton Juvenile lacrosse team received an injured back Friday night in the fourth quarter of the O.L.A. playoff game here in Peterborough. He was injured when checked by the Peterborough goalie, Carl Sim-Joseph's hospital and he report-Joseph's hospital and he is reported to be resting comfortably.

POLIO SUSPECTS

Two more poliomyelitis suspects were admitted to Civic Hospital during the week. A Millbrook man was admitted Friday and a woman from Peterborough earlier in the week. This brings the total of suspects admitted this summer to nine. Six of them had polio or a disease closely recembling it in its early stages, and three were later found not to have it.

Many Smith Ratepayers Are Satisfied

Meiklejohn Quoted Assessment Figures For His 140-Acre Farm

Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis said Friday night that he had given a large number of Smith ratepayers spot assessments on their property about to be annexed by the city. Most of them were pleased that their assessment would be so little increased, he said.

"You can't base the assessment for small home owners on the assessment figures given for the farm of R. S. Meiklejohn."

Mr. Davis was speaking to a joint meeting of the Peterborough city council and the Smith township council who Friday night were ironing out any differences of opinion on the problems raised by annexation.

Tonight at 8 p.m. the Smith council will hear a deputation of Smith ratepayers who are protesting the annexation of 1,000 acres of so of the township. The protesters nave circulated a petition and claim 98 per cent of the signatures of the ratepayers in the affected area. The meeting will be in the county courthouse.

Monday afternoon all parties will get a hearing when the Ontario Municipal Board meets here in Peterborough.

WRONG IMPRESSION

"An erroneous impression about the amount of taxes people in the annexed area would have to pay arose because of the Meiklejohn farm assessment," said Alderman Dewart.

Mr. Davis said that he made a tentative assessment on Meiklejohn's farm at the latter's request. He raised the assessment from $5,800 to $14,000. This would mean an increase in yearly taxes from about $400 to $960.

The Meiklejohn farm of 140 acres has two houses, two barns, outhouses, city water. Heating in the house is hot water. He assessed Mr. Meiklejohn $75 an acre.

SOLD AT $1,250 AN ACRE

He pointed out that Mr. Meiklejohn recently sold four acres at $1,250 an acre, a total of $5,000.

"Seventy-five dollars an acre is very low even on farm land when you consider that the sales value is $1,250 an acre," said Mr. Davis.

E. A. Outram, city clerk, said that when annexation in North Monaghan township took place in the south end of the city the value of lots multiplied immediately.

COULD BENEFIT MOST

"Meiklejohn could be one of those who benefits most," observed Mayor Hugh Waddell. "In the south end we found that people wanted to sell their land rather than farm. They benefited in the long run."

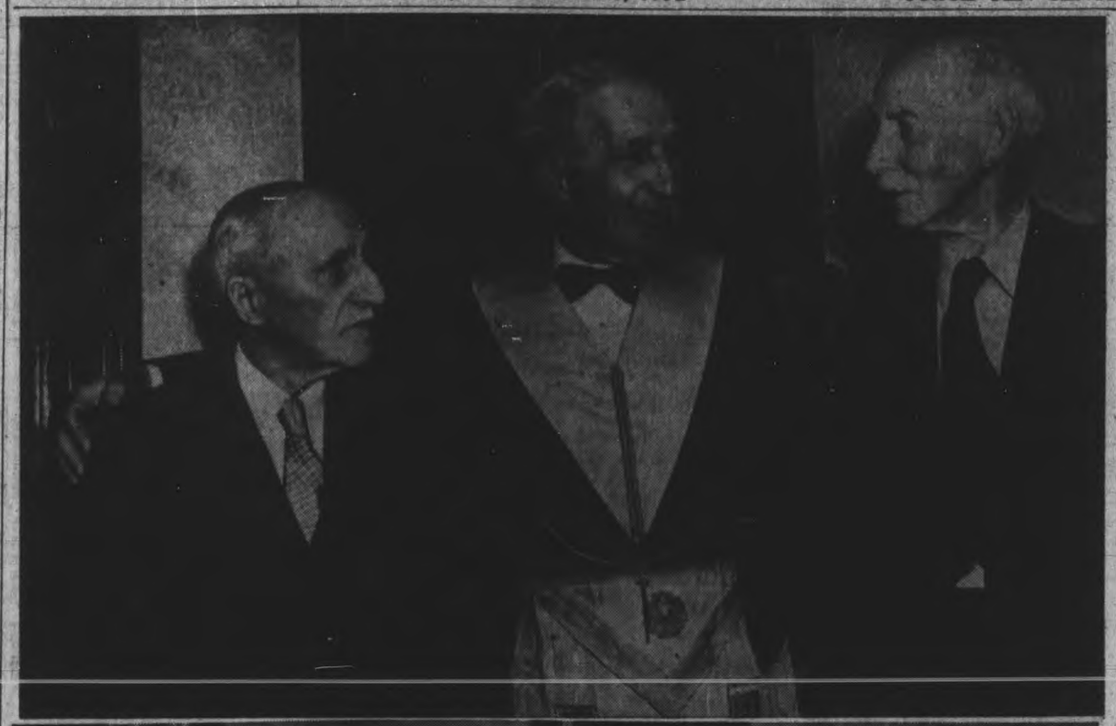
"But a man could hardly live on the property if it was assessed at $14,000," said Deputy Reeve Robert McAdam.

"If all the property doesn't get services the city will have to lower the taxes under the amendment to the Assessment Act," said Mr. Outram. "The levy might be 40 mills instead of 59."

"Do you intend developing the Land Assembly property right away?" asked Reeve Gordon Fitzgerald.

PRESENT DETAILED PLAN

Mr. Outram said that when Mr. Scott (who was in charge of the project) comes to the Municipal Board meeting on Monday he will present a detailed layout showing the street plan, lots and other data on the development.



"If they didn't intend to go ahead and develop it they would not have made a costly two-foot contour map of the property," said Mr. Outram.

He said that the average need every year in Peterborough is about 250 houses. And the city has already used up almost all the free land for development. The Smith area is the only one open for development.

Masonic Craft Introduced To Its New Temple 500 Attend First Meeting

Peterborough's Three Craft Lodges Hold Joint Session In Temple; Seven New Chairs Are Dedicated

Free Masonry in Peterborough was introduced to its new home on Friday night when the three Craft lodges, Corinthian, Peterborough and Royal Arthur, held a joint meeting. It was the largest turnout of Masons to ever be held in this city and 500 crowded the new temple on Reid St., filling every available chair in the building. While it was entering a new home for the present generation of Masons it was a return to one of its first homes for Corinthian lodge. This senior lodge of Peterborough district met in the same place soon after it was founded in 1848. But now a new lodge room has been added to the old part of one of the finest old colonial stone houses in the city. It was in the original two-storey part of the old house where the Masons met in 1849. Then the master was the late W. Bro. Robert Dennistoun and his grandson today, W. Bro. R. Maxwell Dennistoun of Winnipeg, is the oldest past master of the same lodge.

MASONRY HAS FLOURISHED

In those intervening years Masonry has grown and flourished in Peterborough. First came Peterborough Lodge, only a few years Corinthian's junior, and then in 1914 Royal Arthur Lodge. Today a fourth lodge is in the process of organization.

Wor. Bro. John D. Fanning of Corinthian presided and he was ably assisted by the masters of the other two lodges, W. Bro. B. Duder of Peterborough and W. Bro. Gordon Maniece of Royal Arthur. The chairs were occupied by men taken from the officers of the three lodges, with W. Bro. Alex. Ellis of Peterborough acting as immediate past master.

The first meeting, which is to be followed by the official dedication by Most W. Bro. James Maher, a past grand master of Grand Lodge on October 31, was quite informal. Rt. W. Bro. L. H. Ingram, the present district deputy grand master, spoke for Royal Arthur, W. Bro. C. V. Elliott for Peterborough and Rt. W. Bro. R. F. Downey for Corinthian.

SEVEN CHAIRS DEDICATED

In a beautiful ceremony conducted by W. Bro. William McDonald seven officers' chairs, presented in memory of former Masons, were dedicated. W. Bro. Carl Browne presented the chair which was a gift to the lodges in memory of Rt. W. Bro. E. B. Fowler by his family; Bro. Ray Best, the chair which was in memory of Rt. W. Bro. W. D. Campbell, and given by his sister; Bro. Jack Richardson, the chair which was in memory of W. Bro. W. A. Richardson and given by the Richardson family; Bro. James Hamilton, the chair in memory of W. Bro. Fred Roy and given by the Roy family; Bro. Gordon Dobbin, the chair in memory of Bro. Frank Dobbin, the gift from his son; W. Bro. Mel Turner, which was his gift in memory of his brother, W. Bro. W. F. Turner, Jr., and Bro. Doug. Smith the chair in memory of Rt. W. Bro. John Comstock by the Comstock family.

Rt. W. Bro. L. H. Ingram, on behalf of Royal Arthur Lodge, thanked the directors of the Masonic Hall Ltd. and all who had worked to bring the new temple into being. W. Bro. C. V. Elliott brought the thanks of Peterborough Lodge and paid tribute to the efforts of the late W. Bro. W. A. Richardson who was for many

City Beyond 60 Mile Limit Of Toronto TV

Peterborough is outside the television pale according to a TV map released by the CBC's Toronto television station CBLT.

The television transmission on Channel 9 will spread out from Toronto in a circle with about a 60-mile radius. Thus Buffalo and other American cities will be able to see Canada's first TV broadcasts but Peterborough will miss out.

The experience of television set owners in the district bear out the indications of the CBLT map: Peterborough is outside the area for even fair reception.

Lindsay and Port Hope are just inside the "fair reception" area, and Cobourg is just on the outside fringe.

GOOD IN NEWCASTLE

The best area where inside antennaes could be used with good results stretches as far out as Oakville on the west side of Toronto and nearly as far as Whitby on the east. For about another 20 miles out the reception will be good. Oshawa is in the centre of this area and Newcastle is on the fringe between the good and the fair area.

Also included in the good area are St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Grimsby, Hamilton, Georgetown, Aurora, Newmarket and Uxbridge.

Television fans in Kitchener, Preston, Galt, Paris, Brantford, Welland and Buffalo can expect to get fair reception.

But Peterborough, from all indications so far will have its best chance of seeing Canadian television if programs are sold to American networks and transmitted from Rochester.

There is a chance that reception here will be better than expected when CBLT's new 500-foot transmitting aerial is completed and the station officially opens Sept. 8. Peterborough citizens are keeping their fingers crossed.

City Mentioned As Possible Site For Anglican See

LONDON, Ont. (CP).—Peterborough was one of four Ontario cities mentioned Friday as a possible site for a new primatial see of the Church of England.

Others mentioned were Ottawa, Brantford and Toronto.

Purpose of the new see would be to provide a small diocese and relieve the primate of over-onerous duties. Present primate is Most Rev. Walter F. Barfoot, also Archbishop of Edmonton.

The primate told the 18th synod of the Church of England in Canada that no one person could do both jobs without sacrificing the interests of one or the other. He felt there was a place for a primate free from most of the duties of the diocesan, to act, among other things, as an ambassador of goodwill.

Col. Cyril G. F. Stone, principal Church of England chaplain in the Canadian armed forces, said yesterday 85 per cent of recruits had no normal church life before joining the military.

In a report to the 18th synod of the Church of England in Canada, Col. Stone said large numbers of officers and men enter the service with no philosophy of life except "eat, drink and be merry."

Col. Stone's report came after the synod acted on a proposal to appoint a bishop—Rt. Rev I. A. Norris of Brandon—to be in charge of Anglican chaplains. The need of bringing spiritual guidance to the "large Anglican constituency" in the armed forces was stressed.

SMALL SECTS HIT

In the second day of synod sittings, the some 300 delegates were asked to seek provincial action against the leaders of "small sects or bodies of Christians" who, though aliens, solemnize marriages.

Most Rev. W. E. Adams, retired Archbishop of Yukon and metropolitan of British Columbia, said there has been a considerable increase in the membership of such small sects in the last 10 years.

The synod voted down a proposal that the general meetings be held every four years instead of three as is the practice. Delegates said any money saved by the change would not be justified by the danger of harm to the church.

All Exhibition Space Filled As Fair Prospects Bright

Prospects for the Peterborough Exhibition are excellent, secretary G. A. Gillespie said today. He was taking a happy look at clear skies and warm air, and hoping for the same medicine next week. Dates for the fair are September 10-11-12-13. As far as the physical aspects of the fair go, entries in the cattle classes are well above last year, and in other classes up to all of last year's final entry totals.

All available ground and floor space at the exhibition has been sold, and that, Mr. Gillespie felt, was an indication of the prospects.

EXPECT GOOD WEATHER

Chances for good weather continuing are good, says the weatherman, and there should be excellent exhibition weather.

Admission prices have been held at the level of 1951's fair: 50 cents for adults, 15 cents for children. Grandstand prices are also unchanged: reserved $1, adults 50 cents and children 25 cents.

Among the many exhibits will be a display by the R.C.A.F. of technical training equipment, centred around the F-86 Sabre jet fighter. Actual training panels in operation will describe the undercarriage retraction system, the power control system, and the jet engine. There will also be an information booth.

GRANDSTAND

Eight individual acts, plus harness racing, will be features of the grandstand performance. Ray Samuels will be master of ceremonies.

Harness racing will be at 1.30 and 7 p.m. each day, and on Saturday afternoon.

Feature acts include two clowns, Al Rose doing a comedy balancing act, Samuel and Madeline and their impersonations, the six Sparklette Girls, El Toro, the pocket-size trained bull, the cowboy act of Frank and Joe, and Pinto, the Hollywood wonder horse.

One of the top acts at the show will be Kayletta, termed "the Sky Princess," whose balancing act is done at the height of 110 feet.

No Time To Be Lost Starting Federal Bldg.

Work on the new postal-customs building in Peterborough should begin soon after the contract has received the approval and authority of Cabinet council, Senator J. J. Duffus commented Friday to The Examiner.

He said he was particularly interested in this government building.

"The Department of Public Works has first to receive authority from the council of the Cabinet to award the contract, and Deputy Minister has informed me that once that has been done there should be no time lost in making a start, as the contractor would wish to take advantage of every day at this time of the year," Senator Duffus said.

Proposed Airline To Take In City

BELLEVILLE (CP)—The Belleville Chamber of Commerce suggested yesterday that an airline service be established to link cities between Toronto and Montreal.

Letters have been sent out to Chamber of Commerce groups in a number of cities, including Oshawa, Peterborough, Trenton, Kingston, Brockville and Cornwall, calling for a meeting to discuss the possibilities of making an application to Transport Minister Chevrier.

James Davis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here, suggested that Canadian Pacific Airlines service the route. Such a route, he said, could become the third side of a triangle in the Toronto - Earlton - Rouyn-Montreal schedule recently brought into operation by C.P.A.

Italy Harnesses Volcanic Forces To Power Plants

By JACK BRUSINI

ROME (AP)—Volcanic forces harnessed to electric power plants are helping Italy cut her coal and oil imports.

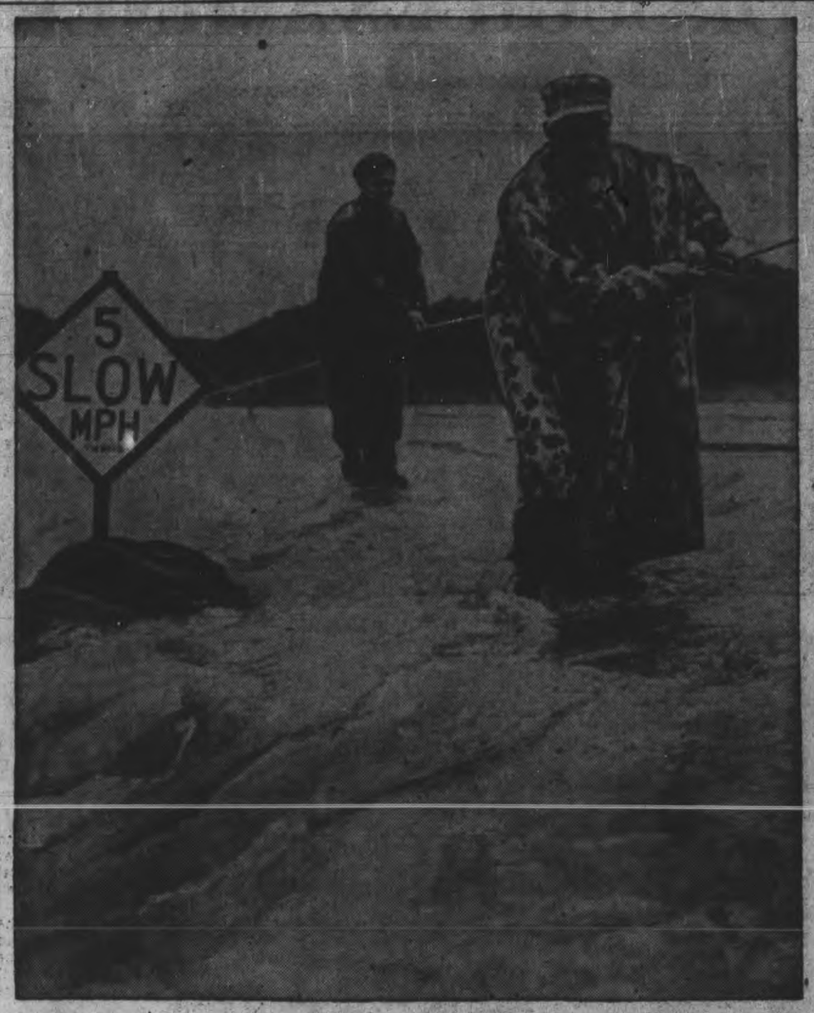
For the first time in recent history, Italian imports of coal fell from 12,000,000 tons last year to barely 6,000,000 in 1952. For the last 50 years, Italy has had to import two-thirds of its fuel needs.

The cut in imports is the result of extensive research and use of methane gas and volcanic steam to drive powerful turbines for Italy's state-owned electric railroad system.

A special plant in the so-called "Valley of Hell," at Larderello near Pisa, restored after the war with United States money, now has an output of 1,800,000,000 kilowatt hours a year.

EXTENSIVE DRILLING

Extensive drilling also is going on in the area northwest of Naples to get steam from 6,000 feet below sea level for more electric power.



Natural steam is found in large quantities anywhere from 300 to 6,000 feet down, in the Campi Flegrei area northwest of Naples.

This is only the start for more ambitious projects which spread as far south as the Stromboli Islands and the Etna volcano in Sicily. Italians think they have in reach the most powerful power stations in the western world.

LATENT POWER

Italy's volcanic forces are practically inexhaustible. Apart from the chemical products they can yield—sulphur, boracic acid, and their composites—the energy and heat they get out of the earth can be easily turned into electric power, experts say.

Some experts believe a destitute southern Italy could become the richest country in Europe, if its powerful volcanic energies could be made to serve industrial progress.

KOREA FLOOD—Two United Nations troopers are forced to use a highline to navigate a road in the U.N. peace camp site at Musan, Korea, as rains preceding the typhoon "Karan" turned the camp area into a virtual lake. Both men and equipment had little trouble obeying the traffic sign at left, especially after the typhoon hit and turned the water into a fast-flowing stream.

Official Says Gut Dam Must Be Razed

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—The controversial Gut Dam "has to be removed immediately" from the St. Lawrence River, the head of the International Joint Commission's American section said yesterday.

The dam, near Ogdensburg, was described as "an intolerable nuisance" by Augustus O. Stanley at an I.J.C. hearing on high water levels in Lake Ontario.

Canadian counsel David Mundell said at a hearing in Albany Wednesday that Gut Dam will be removed as soon as the St. Lawrence River power project is approved.

TESTIFY ABOUT LOSSES

At yesterday's session several witnesses testified about property losses and agreed that a drop in the water level through removal of the dam would ease damage on lake front property.

Stanley said that he favors a power installation "but I will not be in favor of it if it means making a burnt offering of New York state and Lake Ontario front property owners."

Stanley said he believes power interests are against removal of Gut Dam because such action would lower the power potential of the river.

Wants Trucks Pay Higher Gas Tax

TORONTO (CP)—A statement that trucks did most to wear out highways, yet paid little for the convenience provided them except a small gas tax, was described as "away off base" yesterday by John Magee, executive secretary of the Canadian Automotive Transportation Association.

He was commenting on a speech Thursday by Col. C. E. Reynolds, president of the Ontario Northland Railway, at a Canadian National Exhibition directors' luncheon. Mr. Magee said the trucking industry pays its fair share of highway costs and the report of the Royal Commission on Transportation proved it.

Deny Officials Disparage Canadian Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—James Thomson, deputy High Commissioner for the United Kingdom, said yesterday it is "unthinkable" that any British official would say that "Canada hasn't even the guts to demand conscription."

Mr. Thomson was commenting on an article in the Sept. 8 Canadian edition of Time, United States weekly magazine.

The article, dealing with the Comonwealth economic conference to be held in London next November, quoted unidentified "British officials in Ottawa" as saying:

"Let (Canadians) look at our domestic policies. We might look at theirs too, and conclude that one reason Canada is doing so well is that it isn't pulling its weight. It hasn't even the guts to demand conscription."

Mr. Thomson said he "repudiates" the quotation. If it had actually come from some British official, that official had not been authorized to make the statement.

"It does not represent what we think or our official policy."

Ontario And BC Take Honors

ST. ANDREWS, N. B. (CP)—British Columbia and Ontario papers gained the lion's share of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association awards announced last night. The C.W.N.A. annual meeting is being held here.

The Powell River, B.C., News led the winners by taking all three first places in the competitions for papers with a circulation between 2,000 and 3,000.

The winners included:

Circulation over 3,000—Best all-round paper, Barrie, Ont., Examiner; Best front page, Chilliwack, B.C., Progress; best editorial page, Newmarket, Ont., Era and Express.

Circulation between 1,000 and 2,000—Best all-round paper, Gananoque, Ont., Reporter; best front page, Dryden, Ont., Observer; Best editorial page, Gananoque Reporter.

Reds Slightly Out Of Date

VIENNA (AP)—The Communist party organ in Hungary has just published what it calls a new method of increasing butterfat production.

The paper, Szabad Nep, said the method, used at the state farm of Saribesnyoe, increases butterfat production by 55 pounds for each cow which nurses a calf.

This is the method:

"Keep the calf from drinking its mother's milk. Instead, milk the cow, skim the milk and feed the skimmed milk to the calf."

If the Communists intend to patent this one as a new invention they will have to date it back some, since the method has been standard practice in North America for some time.

Inflatable Falsies Approved In Britain

LONDON (AP)—The trade journal Tailor and Cutter stamped an approval yesterday on the latest United States gadget to hit the British Isles—the inflatable falsie.

In a bouncy essay titled "all Hands to the Pumps," the bible of Bond Street hailed the new aid to allure as the greatest advance of its kind since the pantie girdle.

John Taylor, 30-year-old editor of the journal, wrote with unrestrained enthusiasm:

"We applaud an invention which can well promise happiness to more than one extant wallflower. Who knows how many young girls, to whom the door of romance has hitherto remained bolted, may yet discover that their air is their crowning glory?"

Social Security Means "Work"

ALGONQUIN PARK (CP)—Health Minister Martin said last night that when Canadians "think of social security we should always think also of work."

"Work is the only source of social security that we have yet discovered," he told the annual summer conference for Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada.

Possibly referring to recent requests of some provinces and some organizations for a national health insurance plan, Mr. Martin said:

"Everyone who asks that Canada's expenditures on social security should be raised beyond present levels must realize that each addition will have to be paid for—just as present measures are paid for—out of the efforts of our working force."

Won't Accept Plan For African Republic

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP)—A South African member of Parliament said last night his country would not peacefully accept proclamation of a republic, a venture threatened by Prime Minister Daniel Malan.

John Christie, member of the Opposition Labor party, said a referendum on formation of a South African republic would be defeated by the people.

"If Malan goes to the people on the question, as he has said he would, he will lose," predicted Mr. Christie, one of about 90 members of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association now touring Canada.

Navy Gives Contracts For Steam Catapults

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Navy has awarded contracts to build steam catapults for aircraft carriers.

The catapult, nicknamed the "Steam Slingshot," is a British invention.

The navy said Anglo-American tests early this year proved so successful that naval engineers of both countries regard the invention as one of the most important developments for naval aviation since the Second World War.

The steam-powered mechanism can hurl jet fighters into the air even when the carrier is headed downwind or is alongside a pier.

Japanese Bride Reaches Canada

VANCOUVER (CP) — A shyly-smiling, bewildered Japanese girl flew into the western world Friday with her young Canadian soldier husband.

Pte. E. R. MacMillan of Medicine Hat, Alta., put a protective arm around his wife as they came down the ramp from the big Tokyo plane into flashes of kleig lights and cameras which split the predawn darkness.

Mrs. MacMillan, tiny and cute, is the first Japanese bride of a Canadian serviceman to reach Canada.

Won't Order Restitution

KITCHENER (CP)—Magistrate G.R. Kirkpatrick yesterday refused to order restitution for damage done to a hotel after he convicted two men of fighting inside the building. "I am not here to assist hotels which deliberately make men drunk," the magistrate said. He fined the men $15 and costs each or four days. Both men said they had been served a "fairly large quantity" of beer.

Big Refinery for Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—A mammoth oil refinery will be built in this British territory at a cost of about $110,000,000 by oil companies operating in East Africa, it was announced yesterday. The government has acquired a 2,200-acre site on the south mainland for the new installation. A government official said most of the money will be put up by the Shell Oil Company.

Second Crop Of Alfalfa

"Second-cut alfalfa of excellent quality is being harvested" in Grey county, and generally throughout the province as reported in the weekly review of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Cultivation of the land for wheat, and also actual seeding are other widespread activities. "Pastures are lush and green in Norfolk" and elsewhere. A good average crop of ensilage corn is nearing maturity. Livestock are in fine condition, and Grenville enlarges that comment: "Crops of all kinds have been good, and barns, granaries and silos will be well filled."

Acreage of fall wheat is likely to be considerably larger than last year. Hog prices are a disturbing weak spot in most of the counties.

Doctor's Will Cancels All Outstanding Debts

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Manitoba doctor who died last spring in Vancouver has specified in his will that any outstanding professional debts are to be forgotten.

Dr. Henry Gibb of Selkirk said in his will, filed yesterday for probate, that his estate is not to collect the bills. There is no estimate of the amount. The will disposes of an estate of $139,805.

Langton Stays Dry

LANGTON (CP)—A vote on the establishment of licenced premises for the sale of beer in North Walsingham township gave the drys a victory, official figures released yesterday showed. Township clerk Mrs. Inez Hodson said the vote was 442 to 419. A 60-per-cent majority is needed. There were 1,142 eligible voters. Langton is 25 miles southwest of Brantford.

Workers Accept New Agreement

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Workers at the Maple Leaf Milling Company yesterday approved an agreement reached between the company and the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), at the fourth meeting with a conciliation board.

The agreement provides for a 3½-cent hourly wage increase effective Aug. 22 and retroactive to Jan. 22.

A bulk settlement of $80 for each full-time employee will look after the retroactive portion of the increase. A 40-hour work week, effective Jan. 22, 1953, is included as are additional holiday benefits.

By the agreement the basic pay is increased to $1.26½ an hour and the average rate to $1.37½ an hour.

Hear Application For Extra Transmitter

MONTREAL (CP) — The CBC Board of Governors at a public session Friday heard an application from CHNO, bilingual radio station at Sudbury, Ont., for a supplementary transmitter.

Representatives of the station said CHNO wants to have separate French and English transmission for programs now broadcast alternately by one transmitter.

The board took into consideration the CHNO application, opposed by Sudbury station CKSO. It also considered and likewise will rule later on an unopposed application from CJEM at Edmundston, N.B., for a change of frequency.

CHNO was represented before the board by F.B. Ricard and Rene Riel, both of Sudbury. They said CHNO now has alternate French and English programs during the daytime but mostly CBC English programs at night.

The CHNO representatives said the separate French and English programs could be broadcast at the same time from the station's present transmission tower.

Wilf Woodill said CKSO was Sudbury's first station and it originally broadcast brief programs in French. It had facilities for broadcasting on a second frequency.

He said CHNO's application raised the question whether his own station should not put a similar application before the board.

24 New Polio Cases In Western Canada

EDMONTON (CP)—One death and 24 new cases were reported in Western Canada yesterday as the late-summer polio epidemic continued.

The west's number of cases jumped to 1,293 yesterday. Alberta reported 12, bringing its total to 377; British Columbia had 11 boosting its total to 248, and Manitoba three, increasing its total of confirmed cases to 160. Saskatchewan's total remained stationary at 508.

Creditors Bilked Of $51,000 In Visa Racket

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Repercussions of a border visa racket that has obtained entry to the United States for at least 100 persons came yesterday in a meeting of creditors, who said they had been bilked of $51,000 by Mrs. Margaret Prest, Windsor visa agent.

Mrs. Prest was named in Detroit hearings as the woman who had obtained fraudulent bank statements for at least 100 clients in order to get their visas approved by the U. S. consulate here.

More than 100 angry creditors, claiming that they had lost money on Mrs. Prest's agency, met at a downtown hotel. They appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of a quick sale of assets to escape the cost of bankruptcy proceedings. There was, however, scant hope held out that deposits held by Mrs. Prest for foreign-born visa clients could be recovered.

Duplessis Indicates Quebec Won't Sign Tax Agreement

QUEBEC (CP)—An attack by Premier Duplessis of Quebec against "federal propaganda. . . directed by centralizing bureaucrats" indicates he will not sign temporary tax agreements with the federal government.

Speculation that he might arose last week-end when Ontario became the ninth province to sign such agreements.

At his press conference yesterday, Mr. Duplessis said "the government will never sign the death warrant of the province of Quebec."

Under the Ontario agreement, that province will rent personal income and corporation tax fields for five years to the federal government in return for annual payments. The agreement differed from agreements with eight other provinces which include inheritance taxes.

Mr. Duplessis' statement made no reference to Ontario or tax agreements and did not say directly that his government will never sign an agreement. He has on occasions spoken against "temporary tax agreements" that become "permanent tax agreements." He said:

"Many persons unfortunately forget that Canadian Confederation is not the result of an agreement between the four pioneer provinces but that it is the result of a convention between two great races, the French and English, whose culture and traditions constitute for the country a precious and indispensable asset."

Mr. Duplessis said the province of Quebec, under Confederation, not only represented a provincial entity but also an ethnic entity. As such it "holds undeniable and natural constitutional rights." These rights would be discussed at the November session of the Legislature.

Prepare Heating System For Comfort Next Winter

Now is the ideal time in which to prepare the heating system for the coming winter. The services of heating men are more readily available now than they will be later when the annual deluge of service calls begins to pour in from home owners.

It pays in increased heating efficiency and less waste of fuel to have your warm air heating system cleaned periodically. Soot deposits in the smoke pipe or chimney can be a fire hazard. Soot in the furnace itself acts as a heating insulating agent, thus preventing proper heating.

It is wise to have the jacket of your furnace removed occasionally and the combustion chamber checked every few years to make certain that all joints are tight. This is particularly true in a coal-fired furnace. If furnace joints or pipe connections are not properly sealed, heat and fuel are wasted, dirt and fumes can escape into your home endangering the health of the family.

CLEAN FILTERS

If yours is a warm air winter air conditioning system, be sure to either clean or replace the filters. This will aid in the circulation of clean, dust-free air throughout the house. Don't forget to oil the blower motor and check the motor belt tension.

Make sure to see that the humidifier unit in the furnace is free of lime and scale and in first-class operating condition. Proper humidification of indoor air is important to health and comfort.

If your heating system is fired by an automatic fuel burning device such as a coal stoker, an oil burner or a gas burner, make it a point to see that your unit is thoroughly inspected and necessary repairs made. This work should be done by an individual who is thoroughly skilled in servicing the particular type of fuel burner which you own.

You'll be thankful for your foresightedness when the mercury makes its first dip this winter and your heating plant goes into faultless action to provide comfort and warmth for you and your family.

Lanza Feud Talk Of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Talk of the town this week was the continuing feud between Mario Lanza and M-G-M.

Such hassles are always good fuel for conversation in Hollywood, which dearly loves a fight.

Commented Humphrey Bogart: "Lanza's working it all wrong. He should have decided long ago whether or not he wanted to do the picture ('The Student Prince'.) But its not a good idea to walk out on a picture after it has started. fight with 'em first."

Bogart should know. His running battle with Warner Brothers has enlivened the town for more than a decade, and he is tops as a tactician in studio battles. But despite a dozen or more suspensions, he still retains a contract with Warners.

JUDY TOO

M-G-M has had more than its share of temperamental stars. A notable case was Judy Garland. The studio put up with her outbursts during the lush days, but took a firmer stand when times began to get tough. One day she failed to show up after lunch on the "Annie Get Your Gun" set. She was replaced with Betty Hutton.

The studio also tussled with her over her excess poundage when she made "Summer Stock." The picture was a headache from start to finish, and Miss Garland was given her freedom when it was over.

James Cagney was a prime battler in his heyday at Warners. Once he left the studio and sought work elsewhere. No other major studio would hire him, since they feared legal complications. So Cagney aligned with a small company named Grand National. After the firm became defunct, he drifted back to Warners.

TIFFED WITH WARNERS

Among the others who have tiffed with Warners are Olivia Dehavilland, Bette Davis and Lauren Bacall. Miss Dehavilland fought a long court duel which ended in her favor and established a precedent that has helped other stars. After a series of bad pictures, Miss Davis and the studio called it quits, ending one of the longest studio-star associations in Hollywood.

Lauren Bacall nearly matched husband Bogart's record for suspensions, since she refused to do such films as "The Girl From Jones Beach."

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis staged a sit-down strike this year. They wouldn't work until they got a bigger share of the profits. They got the way.

Britain Hopes Launch Planes With Catapults

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (CP)—Britain hopes to launch her air liners of the future from catapults and land them on their bellies on sheets of taut wire.

The British Association for the Advancement of Science was told yesterday of experiments with this apparatus, designed to free civil aviation from the mounting cost of big airports.

The experiments are going on at Farnborough, the government's chief aviation research centre.

Sir Ben Lockspeiser, one of the government's leading scientific advisers, told the association the apparatus has been used successfully for fighter planes. The ultimate aim is to extend it to jet liners.

COULD BE CATAPULTED

He suggested that, instead of using a runway for taking off, even a big plane could be catapulted into the air.

For landing, the plane is flown level a few feet from the ground, caught on a hook by arrester tear and dropped on the taut sheet, which allows a good landing without a bounce.

The landing rigging was reported based on apparatus long used on aircraft carriers with "radical, indeed revolutionary, modifications."

Need 1,000,000 Volunteers For Civil Defence Corps

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—An intensive campaign to bolster Britain's undermanned Civil Defence Corps by more than 1,000,000 new volunteers will be launched this fall.

The drive is prompted by public apathy to previous appeals for part-time recruits, a situation government spokesmen attribute to widespread misunderstanding that the advent of the atom bomb has made civil defence useless.

Since the country's "fourth arm of defence" was revived in November, 1949, approximately 265,000 volunteers have enrolled in all branches of the service, a number regarded as inadequate to meet a major emergency.

Newcastle, with 66 per cent, is the only centre to reach the halfway mark of its enrolment target. Bristol is next with 48 per cent, while London and Liverpool, priority targets of enemy raiders in the Second World War, are trailing far behind with 21 per cent.

STARTS OCT. 1

The new approach will be initiated Oct. 1 under a special Home Office committee. A country-wide appeal will be sent to civil defence authorities urging house-to-house canvasses for new members. Later a letter will be sent to all eligible for service, followed by a personal interview.

It is planned to broaden part-time enlistment qualifications to take in men not likely to be required for service in the armed forces in the early stages of an emergency, provided they are not already performing similar wholetime duties.

Women between 18 and 30 will also be allowed to volunteer for service with headquarters and wardens' sections of the Civil Defence Corps, as well as the special constabulary, irrespective of previous service.

Coinciding with the campaign announcement, Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe said his department is supervising operational research to assist in evaluating effects of possible air attacks in terms of damage and casualties.

WRONG IMPRESSION

"There was at one time a wrong feeling that the advent of the atom bomb made all civil defence useless," he said. "We do not believe this, but it doesn't follow that we underestimate its potentialities."

The Minister admitted that if an atom bomb were exploded over a British city damage would be great, the fires resulting from heat flash would be numerous and difficult to cope with, while gamma rays would be a new cause of casualties. But the danger of lingering radio-activity had been greatly exaggerated.

Sir David said arangements have been made for establishment of an experimental column, to be manned by army and R.A.F. personnel, for an initial 12-months' period. It was hoped this plan would be ready for practical operation by next January.

In conjunction with this plan 11 food convoys have been stationed at strategic centres throughout the country and teams are being trained to operate them. It is also planned to set up mobile columns for regional emergency service.

Pair Drive Jeep Through Jungle

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (Reuters)—A Canadian and an American drove a jeep 85 miles through the dense, trackless Guiana jungles just to prove it could be done.

Both men, P. K. Harlen of Sarnia, Ont., and M. W. Ideman of Buffalo, N. Y., are mechanical engineers with the Demerara Bauxite Company. They piled into the jeep at their company's headquarters in Mackenzie last Saturday and arrived at Atkinson Field airport Monday.

During the 26-hour trip they used a compass for direction. The jeep was equipped with a winch, which pulled the vehicle out of swamps more than a dozen times and removed fallen trees blocking the way.

At journey's end the jeep was a wreck.

Anson Moorehouse whose father ministered in Peterborough. Mrs. Mesley reported 47 homes and three hospital calls were made during the summer. Treasurer Mrs. J. Allen advised of a cash balance of $50 more than at this date last year.

THE PIANO IN A HOME, played by someone who loves it forms only part of a child's musical background. Singing, music on the radio and gramaphone also stimulate a child's interest in music.

FOR PARENTS ONLY:

Have Musical Background For Your Child In The Home

By NANCY CLEAVER

"When music sounds, gone is the earth I know,
And all her lovely things even lovelier grow;
Her flowers in vision flame, her forest trees,
Like burdened branches, stilled with ectasies."
—From Music, by Walter de la Mare.

What happens "when music sounds" in your child's presence? Any kind of music — singing, a band, an orchestra, a piano or another musical instrument? Does he suddenly pause in whatever he is doing and listen? What expression is there on his face? Does it reflect rapt attention and enjoyment? or a fleeting interest? or is he indifferent?

Some parents make the mistake of judging their child as "not a bit musical." Undoubtedly children inherit various degrees of musical ability. But every normal child has within him the capacity to enjoy music. The little boy's or girl's pleasure in hearing Mother sing a nursery rhyme or lullaby is quite apparent. Memories of a parent's singing form one of the happiest recollections of many a child's early life.

The radio forms a musical background in many homes. It can be good, bad or indifferent according to the programs which the child hears. Sometimes the plan to have Sunday supper on trays in the living room is followed so that the family can listen to the radio music. The CBC "Times" is an excellent guide to the special musical treats on our Canadian nation-wide network. Other families find the "small fry" are especially fond of band music, others of opera or instrumental pieces. Consideration is given to the different tastes of different members of the home circle.

Years ago in a Parents' Forum on "What to do on a rainy day," one mother mentioned that she had bought a large, old-fashioned gramaphone, in excellent condition and forty records for five dollars at an auction sale. She placed it in the attic in the "rumpus room" and planned before long to invest in a number of children's records. But before she did this her son and daughter discovered several Gilbert and Sullivan records. These they immediately "froze" to and played over and over again with the greatest pleasure.

The various phonograph companies are constantly producing excellent musical records, especially for children. Parents should ask for the free descriptive booklets. These include a wide variety of songs and other types of music. Quite a number of these are suitable, not only for marches but also as an accompaniment for rhythmic movement and dramatic play. If mother shows a little interest and provides a few "props" as a paper hat for the "Little Toy Soldier" or a bouquet for the bride in "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," these can add greatly to the child's fun.

The piano in a home, played by someone who loves music, also provides a musical background for the children in the home. In "Sing, Swing, Play" by Martha Stockton Russell (Viking Press) she describes her conviction as a child about rhythm and motion—and it is one a great many little folk share. She says quite simply

"Once upon a time there was a little girl who had the notion that everything that moved, sang, and that everything that sang, moved; and she had a happy time moving to the things that sang and singing to the things that moved."

A wonderful help for mothers who can play the piano and want to encourage this kind of creative activity is found in a new book on the market, "Dancing Time," by Satis N. Coleman, illustrated by Vana Earle (John Day Co.). The author of this book has recently retired from the staff of Teachers' College, Columbia University, and her choice of songs comes from her own experiments in music education in the Lincoln School.

Some of the titles of the pieces in "Dancing Time" are, Indians Creeping Through the Forest, Cowboys on Ponies, Daffodils Waving in the Breeze, Tiptoe Music, and Airplanes. There are three animal pieces: Rabbits, High-Stepping Ponies and Elephant Walk. "I Clap My Hands" follows the folk-dance type of music. "The Farmer Boy at Rest" is a listening piece, and the little child can lie down on the floor and enjoy this music in a completely relaxed state.

The number of people who are sufficiently gifted to become outstanding performers in music are comporatively few, but the number who obtain great pleasure from listening are legion. Appreciation of "the organization of sound towards beauty" begins in childhood. Shakespeare revealed his knowledge of people when he wrote:

"The man who hath no music in himself,
Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils."

MISS HELENE WESTRAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Westran of Peterborough, whose engagement to Mr. William Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pratt of Kingston, is announced. The wedding will take place on September 27th in the George St. United Church.

Friends Provide Shower For Havelock Couple

HAVELOCK (ENS) — A very enjoyable surprise party was held in the Orange Hall on Friday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dafoe of Oshawa, whose marriage took place recently.

The bride was formerly Joan McAlvela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAlvela of Campbellford and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dafoe of Havelock.

During the evening the bride and groom were presented with a miscellaneous shower. The attractively wrapped gifts were arranged on a table and the presentation was made by Phil Lowry of Stony Lake.

Square and round dancing was enjoyed with the music being supplied by Mrs. Elva Waldon of Stony Lake at the piano and Mr. and Mrs. David Nixon of Norwood district playing the violin and guitar respectively. Mr. Nixon who is 87 years of ago also took part in the square dancing. Mr. Lowry, Sr., of Stony Lake gave a demonstration of step dancing.

The event was arranged by Mrs. Clarence Wellman, Mrs. J. R. Mack, Mrs. Stanley Miles and Mrs. Archie McArthur. About 40 guests attended including the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Brad Simpson, 84, of Havelock. Refreshments were served.

Adult Styles Set Trend For Back-To-School Wear

High fashion in wearable ways is making such a forcible impression in young styling that the biggest trends in adult ready-to-wear are the significant style-setters for girls and teens, according to a review of fall fashions for girls. Keynote of this back-to-school season is the use of beautiful, high novelty fabrics in simple young silhouettes with a minimum of applied trimming, all adding up to a handsome look in both school and party clothes.

Silhouettes stress the shaped figure in feminine hourglass effects, molded middles, and flattering full skirts. The snug middle expresses the new high-waisted lines, as well as modification of the low-waisted middy. In between are a variety of fitted princess lines and nipped waists with rounded hips. Almost always, skirts are full.

UNUSUAL FABRICS USED

Simplicity of silhouette and detail, with a brand new choice of beautiful fabrics, combine for the fall 1952 look in young dress fashions. Even simple cotton dress styles designed for classroom wear express the trend to a simple but dressier look.

The shaped silhouette, combined with flattering full skirts gives a pretty, feminine hourglass look to fall dress fashions for girls of all ages. This brings in high-waisted lines expressed in Empire cuts and in princess lines combined with cover-up spencers. On the other hand, low-waisted effects are achieved in modified middy styles with skirt fulness below smooth hip lines. These are often designed to wear belted or unbelted in a more extreme middy fashion. Shaped waists in princess effects with rounded hips, corded or pleted midriffs, or wide crushed cummerbunds, complete the trend to waist accent.

In line with the need for dressy fashions, and with the youngsters' love of fashions that lead dual lives, double-duty dresses in many guises will be shown. Favorite interpretation of this double-duty trend is the teen dress with deep scoop neck and above-elbow sleeves, that is worn with a dickey or sleeveless blouse for school, and worn open-necked for parties. Sleeveless jumper-dresses that double for parties and dates are another variation on this theme. They go to school with a blouse to cover bare arms.

COTTON IS QUEEN

Cotton is queen in fall dress fashions, but cotton with a difference. New types of cotton offer a much wider variety of fashions. For season-bridging cottons, manufacturers stress glazed fabrics in new types. Dark Roman striped glazed cotton, dark glazed chambrays, and embossed glazed fabrics are lightweight for late summer wardrobe-freshening, yet perfect for back-to-school and into-holiday season wear.

Heavier cottons that resemble woollens include glazed denim, flannel-backed denim used inside out for a yarn-dye fuzzy effect, and, of course, the cotton tweeds. Whether in beautiful and expensive cottons that look like fine hand-loomed wortsed tweeds, or in the lower-priced tweed denims and yarn-dye piques, these cotton tweeds are certainly the fabrics that will form the bulk of back-to-school dresses. Dark subtle colors or bright-with-black are the favored combinations for cotton tweeds.

Corduroy in its new guises is strong for dsesses, too. Tweed corduroy, dressy tie-prints, stripes, plaids and cross-stitch patterns all look young and fresh in back-to-school fashions. Wide-wale corduroy is favored for dresses that double for party wear.

TWO COAT SILHOUETTES

In coats, two silhouettes are standouts for fall. The princess coat with nipped waist (and its new version with belted waist) appears in a variety of dressy fabrics. But the favorite casual or dressy-casual full coat is in the new pendulum silhouette. Smooth, rounded shoulders and wide fulness from under the arm are characteristic of this shape, which is flatter at front and back than last year. Deep-textured thick fabrics give a luxury air to these young coat fashions. Hairy surface fabrics are newest of the textured coatings. Zibeline and long-haired fleeces, as well as hairy tweeds are the high-fashion translation of these, and represent the newest types.

SPORTSWEAR GOES DRESSY

A new dressy air achieved through beautiful fabrics in simple, understated styles keys sportswear fashions for fall, 1952. Both girls and teens are offered a selection of simple separates that change their mood from school to party or date-time with the switching of a companion skirt or the subtraction of a blouse or dickey.

Jackets go to any length to appear on the fashion scene. Tiny above-waist boxy jackets are newly important. Fitted waist-length jackets with deep scoop necklines offer a dressy air for teenagers. Hip-length boxy, middy and barrel jackets are among the types that makes the classic take a back seat.

Skirts go full and fuller. Many accordion and fishlike pleated skirts are designed to accommodate petticoats and crinolines for dress-up or just to whirl by themselves for school. Full pleats or shirring from a smooth hip yoke give many full skirts a middy look.

Sweaters and jerseys have a new look, too. Pleating, tucking and ribbing add a Parisian air to these items. Blouses go to two extremes — full sleeved Gibson Girl styles, and strictly tailored separates. Tucked sleeves, pleated bosoms, drop shoulders are important details.

COLORS MORE SUBTLE

Subtle colors characterize fall fashions. The bright blues that promise to be the most popular group of the season are often subtle brights with overtones of black, green, purple or grey. Subdued reds replace the fire-engine variety. Soft coral red at one extreme, pretty raspberry tones at the other end are the fall red tones.

Half-Paralyzed Regina Woman Wins Garden Cup

REGINA (CP)—Six years ago Mrs. L. L. Rasmussen suffered a stroke which paralyzed her left side.

This summer Mrs. Rasmussen won the prize for Regina's most beautiful home grounds.

She says her physician told her she had saved her life by working in the garden.

"I ventured out gradually at first," she said in an interview. "Now I do everything but cut the lawn. I can't move fast enough for that."

Mrs. Rasmussen's success in the competition this year was her second in a row. Last year she also won two trophies in a contest conducted annually by the Regina Horticultural Society.

"I don't like formal gardens," Mrs. Rasmussen commented. "I have 300 gladioli but I don't like them in rows. Formal gardens are all right for places like the Parliament Buildings."

Doris Edwards Wed At Cordova

MARMORA (ENS). — A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Free Methodist parsonage, Cordova Mines, when Doris Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards, of Cordova Mines, became the bride of Cyril Radcliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Radcliffe of Campbellford. The Rev. N. F. Perry officiated.

DOROTHY DIX

Expects Expensive Gifts From Student Boy Friend

DEAR MISS DIX: My girl friend and I have decided to consult you on a matter of gift-giving, namely, the giving of gifts by a boy to his girl friend. I am 20, working two jobs to pay for an education, and having a hard time showing my affection for my girl friend in a material way. She and I have everything in common, including a desire to complete our college educations before getting married. However, she thinks that I should show my affection with a continual display of presents. I have not been stingy with entertainment, have given her nice gifts for birthday and Christmas as well as flowers and other small items in between, but I think she is wrong to expect me to bestow expensive gifts constantly. We are not engaged. How can I make my little pal see that I'm not really a mean old tightwad, but am saving for our future together?

JOE D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: In my youth girls such as yours were called gold-diggers; what they are known as today I don't know, but your girl is it! Perhaps she's been spoiled by her family, and expects everyone to pay constant—and preferably expensive—homage to her. Perhaps she's just too young to realize that many things take precedence over material evidence in the display of affection. Perhaps she's too impractical and inexperienced to have any conception of the value of a dollar. It is even possible that she is too mercenary to be interested in being just "pals" though that contingency I am inclined to doubt. Let's put her failing as lack of understanding rather than a deliberate misunderstanding.

GIVE HER THE FACTS

Since you are certainly doing all you can to keep the scale of friendship on an even balance, try to evaluate the reason for your girl's excessive demands, then present her with the economic facts of life. Show her that it is impossible for you to live, acquire an education, save for the future and purchase expensive gifts—even though you are valiantly holding down two jobs. A sudden rude awakening to the never had to face, will give her an appreciation of your own generosity.

You are an admirably ambitious young man, and I hope your little pal is truly worthy of you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My sister is two years older than I am. She has more clothes than I, but she insists on borrowing mine without even asking permission. I have gone to my parents but, because Junie is so cute, they just laugh at me.

JANIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Cut or not, your sister should be taught to respect the rights and property of others, beginning with your clothes. Your parents are wrong to withhold this lesson from her. You should, if necessary, have a locked closet or chest in which you could keep your clothes from her marauding hands. You, in turn, of course, should exercise due consideration for her property.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: When I'm around boys I flirt with them, since flirting comes as natural to me as breathing. The boy I am going with at present is very jealous because I pay attention to other boys. I'm afraid if I keep flirting we will break up soon. I don't want him to think that he is my "one and only", yet I'd hate to lose him.

WORRIED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: In other words, you would like to have your cake and eat it, too! Well, that's one of the privileges of the teens. Since you are obviously more fond of the boy's attentions than you are of the boy himself, you are being a wee bit cruel to keep him dangling. Since you are very young, who not give up the idea of going steady with any one boy, and be friendly with all of them. When you find the real "one and only," the flirting will stop.

What's Right

You'd like to be considered a "good listener" by those you meet socially.

WRONG: Say as little as possible—and simply listen while others talk.

RIGHT: Realize that a "good listener" is one who talks enough to introduce interesting topics of conversation and to draw others out. One who does nothing but listen isn't a stimulating companion.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: I never miss your column . . . you certainly seem proud of Marianne . . . just hope I can raise my three in good humor, pleasant home, just as you have done . . . my husband does not care much for pastry, only turnovers in the French line . . . how does one make French pastry with apple and jam in them . . . I haven't turned out one yet that was light and flaky.—J. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Thank you for the subtle compliment: "good humor, pleasant home"... as for my pride in Marianne . . . actually I'm using admirable restraint in my comments about her, for if I ever pulled out all of the stops you'd get the impression that she is an angel — come to think of it, by golly, she is too.

French pastry will be a push-over for anyone like you.

FRENCH OR FLAKY PASTRY

Two cups pastry flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 cup best quality shortening—preferably half butter. Mix and sift flour and salt. Cut in 2 tablespoons of the shortening with a knife or pastry blender, add just enough cold water to bind it and knead it on very lightly floured board for 5 full minutes. Cover tightly and chill thoroughly. Roll on lightly floured board to ⅛ inch thickness in a rectangle with square corners. Remaining shortening should be room temperature. Shape into circular pat and place it in centre of bottom half of rectangle of dough. Fold other half over it. Press edges tightly together to hlod in air. Fold right side over left side under enclosed shortening. Chill through. Roll out again in rectangle. Fold ends toward centre making 3 layers. Chill. Pastry should be made at least 24 hours before baking and should be ice cold all of the time.

Turnovers—Roll out cold puff (or plain) pastry and cut into 5 or 6-inch squares. On half arrange thin slices of apple (or mound of any preferred jam) and sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon, and a little salt. Dot with butter. Moisten rim of pastry with water. Fold over uncovered half of pastry and press edges together with a fork. Prick top. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes then reduce heat to 400 deg. Fahr. until apples are tender—about 20 to 25 minutes in all.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I would appreciate very much if you would repeat Wacky Cake.—(Signed) "Fan of Your Column."

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Thanks for being a fan. I do not mind repeating anything but space is scarce and if you had given me your name and address I could have mailed this to you.

WACKY CAKE

Grease well a 9-inch pan. Sift into pan 1½ cups flour, 1 cup white sugar, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon each baking powder and soda, ¼ teaspoon salt. Make 3 depressions in them. In one put 1 teaspoon vinegar, in the next 1 teaspoon vanilla, and in the last 5 tablespoons melted butter. Over all pour 1 cup warm water and stir until all ingredients are blended. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for about 30 to 35 minutes.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Will you send me information about weddings . . . if you have anything at all to benefit me I would appreciate it as my daughter is getting married next month.—Mrs. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

and for The Holy Father We Ask YOUR Help for Papal Charities and RELIEF of War Victims

Over 1,000 requests for material or financial aid still pour into the Vatican, daily . . . from individuals, from groups, from terror-stricken people of all creeds, of many nations . . . from those who look with desperate hope to Our Holy Father for relief from misery.

The needs of the helpless are great . . . in Korea, among refugees from China, in the Near East, Lebanon, Syria, Palestine, in Germany and Austria . . . where wars and revolutions uproot people from their homes and force them to join the vast hordes of displaced persons . . . in Turkey, in Italy and Greece, in India, and in North and South America . . . where famines and natural calamaties cause national and local emergencies.

With growing tension and new violence in the world, more refugees are seeking safety from behind the Iron Curtain . . . it becomes increasingly difficult to care for the "hard core" of old abandoned refugees whose re-settlement has not been possible, the unwanted victims of displacement.

Rehabilitating the persecuted, caring for the destitute, giving medical aid to the sick and disabled, finding shelter for the homeless and aged, providing for the countless orphans . . . becomes each year a more difficult task as political enmities leave the Holy See as the only hope of millions.

Papal Charities depend upon YOUR charity. The Holy Father has only your generosity to meet the many, many and increasing demands for help. Whatever you give will help him relieve the sufferings of others. Send your donation to your bishop or give it at the collection for Papal Charities at your Church.
